BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 7 DATED OCTOBER 22 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of November 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our September 30, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes; and
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering")

Portfolio Update

For the month ended September 30, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.65 and Class I total return was 0.1% (not annualized).[1]

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, BREIT deployed $9.1 billion (at BREIT's share) into the development of data centers through its QTS platform. This represents a 129% increase over the $4.0 billion deployed during the nine months ended September 30, 2025. These data center developments are 100% pre-leased, in substantially all cases to investment grade tenants.

On or around November 3, 2026, the Company expects to publish its Q3 2026 Update for stockholders, which will be available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

November 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of November 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of October 31, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.6488
Class S-2	$	14.6361
Class D-2	$	14.2684
Class T-2	$	14.3804

The November 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of September 30, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.64, Class D-2 NAV per share was $14.27, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.38. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 0.1%, Class D-2 total return was 0.1%, and Class T-2 total return was 0.1% for September 2026.

September 30, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since September 30, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for September 30, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

Components of NAV	September 30, 2026
Investments in real estate[(1)]	$ 88,636,059
Investments in real estate debt	4,942,203
Investments in unconsolidated entities[(2)]	23,189,872
Cash and cash equivalents	1,409,420
Restricted cash	785,758
Other assets	3,647,952
Mortgage notes, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(52,847,102)
Secured financings on investments in real estate debt	(2,855,117)
Subscriptions received in advance	(209,848)
Other liabilities	(3,022,675)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(163,016)
Management fee payable	(60,562)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[(3)]	(12,562)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries[(4)]	(5,698,257)
Net asset value	$ 57,742,125
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,938,430

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $77.9 billion allocable to us and $10.7 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of September 30, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of September 30, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $48.2 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of September 30, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.6 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

(4) Includes $265.2 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of September 30, 2026.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of September 30, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of September 30, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 32,265,815	2,202,624	$ 14.6488
Class S Shares	16,120,096	1,101,393	14.6361
Class S-2 Shares	991,112	67,717	14.6361
Class D Shares	1,279,472	89,672	14.2684
Class D-2 Shares	119,123	8,349	14.2684
Class T Shares	379,754	26,408	14.3804

Third Party Operating Partnership Units[(1)]	5,687,291	388,243	14.6488
Total	$ 57,742,125	3,938,430

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the September 30, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.9%	5.7%
Hospitality	10.9%	9.3%
Data Centers	8.9%	6.5%
Office	8.1%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.6%	+0.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.6)%	(0.7)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+2.9%	+3.4%	+2.6%	+1.4%	+0.9%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.6)%	(3.1)%	(2.4)%	(1.3)%	(0.8)%	(2.9)%	(2.2)%

Our total NAV presented in the following tables includes the NAV of our Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, and Class C common stockholders, as well as partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by parties other than the Company. The following table provides a breakdown of the major components of our total NAV as of August 31, 2026 ($ and shares in thousands):

BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 6 DATED SEPTEMBER 16, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of October 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our August 31, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes;
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering"); and
- to otherwise update the Prospectus

Portfolio Update

For the month ended August 31, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.69 and Class I total return was 0.6% (not annualized).[1]

On July 23, 2026, the Company published its Q2 2026 Update for stockholders, which is available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

October 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of October 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of September 30, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.6850
Class S-2	$	14.6722
Class T-2	$	14.4170

The October 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of August 31, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.67, Class D-2 NAV per share was $14.31, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.42. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 0.6%, Class D-2 total return was 0.6%, and Class T-2 total return was 0.6% for August 2026.

August 31, 2026 NAV per Share

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $80.1 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of July 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of July 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $46.9 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of July 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.6 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

(4) Includes $156.3 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of July 31, 2026.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of July 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Status of our Current Public Offering

We are currently offering on a continuous basis up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in shares in our primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. As of the date of this Supplement, we had issued and sold in the Offering (i) 151,135,023 shares of our common stock (consisting of 98,433,672 Class I Shares, 43,810,071 Class S-2 Shares, 8,187,528 Class D-2 Shares, and 703,752 Class T-2 Shares) in the primary offering for total proceeds of $2.1 billion and (ii) 56,326,527 shares of our common stock (consisting of 33,230,334 Class I Shares, 19,483,618 Class S Shares, 256,133 Class S-2 Shares, 2,335,054 Class D Shares, 78,169 Class D-2 Shares, 936,669 Class T Shares, and 6,550 Class T-2 Shares) pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan for a total value of $0.8 billion. As of August 31, 2026, our aggregate NAV was $57.7 billion. We intend to continue selling shares in the Offering on a monthly basis.

Updates to the Prospectus

On September 8, 2026, Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. announced the appointment of David Levine and Giovanni Cutaia as Global Co-Heads of Blackstone Real Estate. Nadeem Meghji, the former Global Head has stepped down and is departing Blackstone at year-end after 19 years with the firm.

BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 5 DATED AUGUST 17, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of September 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our July 31, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes;
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering");
- to otherwise update the Prospectus; and
- to include our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2026

Portfolio Update

For the month ended July 31, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.65 and Class I total return was 1.2% (not annualized).[1]

On July 23, 2026, the Company published its Q2 2026 Update for stockholders, which is available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

September 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of September 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of August 31, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.6479
Class S-2	$	14.6353
Class T-2	$	14.3813

The September 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of July 31, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

July 31, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since July 31, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for July 31, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $80.1 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of July 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of July 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $46.9 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of July 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.6 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

(4) Includes $156.3 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of July 31, 2026.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of July 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of July 31, 2026

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the July 31, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.8%	5.6%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.2%
Data Centers	8.7%	6.4%
Office	7.9%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.6)%	(0.6)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+2.9%	+3.4%	+2.7%	+1.4%	+0.9%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.6)%	(3.1)%	(2.4)%	(1.3)%	(0.8)%	(2.9)%	(2.2)%

Components of NAV	June 30, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 92,221,975
Investments in real estate debt	4,379,704
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	20,545,135

Other liabilities	(2,660,688)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(243,066)
Management fee payable	(59,437)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(12,666)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries[4]	(5,923,526)
Net asset value	$ 56,567,757

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $81.2 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of June 30, 2026.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of June 30, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

(4) Includes $111.2 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of June 30, 2026.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of June 30, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Status of our Current Public Offering

We are currently offering on a continuous basis up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in shares in our primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. As of the date of this Supplement, we had issued and sold in the Offering (i) 141,601,620 shares of our common stock (consisting of 91,928,415 Class I Shares, 41,288,717 Class S-2 Shares, 7,815,812 Class D-2 Shares, and 568,676 Class T-2 Shares) in the primary offering for total proceeds of $2.0 billion and (ii) 52,897,737 shares of our common stock (consisting of 30,990,434 Class I Shares, 18,567,256 Class S Shares, 218,607 Class S-2 Shares, 2,174,143 Class D Shares, 64,221 Class D-2 Shares, 877,739 Class T Shares, and 5,337 Class T-2 Shares) pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan for a total value of $0.7 billion. As of July 31, 2026, our aggregate NAV was $57.4 billion. We intend to continue selling shares in the Offering on a monthly basis.

NET ASSET VALUE CALCULATION AND VALUATION GUIDELINES

The following supersedes and replaces the disclosure under "No readily available market quotations" in the "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" section of the Prospectus and all similar disclosure in the Prospectus.

No readily available market quotations

If market quotations are not readily available (or are otherwise not reliable for a particular investment), the fair value will be determined in good faith by the Adviser. Due to the inherent uncertainty of these estimates, estimates of fair value may differ from the values that would have been used had a ready market for these investments existed and the differences could be material. Market quotes are considered not readily available in circumstances where there is an absence of current or reliable market-based data (e.g., trade information, bid/ask information, or broker-dealer quotations).

Certain investments, such as mortgages, mezzanine loans, preferred equity or private company investments, are unlikely to have market quotations.

In the case of loans and other securities acquired by us, such initial value will generally be the acquisition price of such loan. In the case of loans originated by us, such initial value will generally be the par value of such loan. Each such investment will then be valued by the Adviser within the first three full months after we make such investment and no less frequently than quarterly thereafter in accordance with the procedures set forth in the immediately following paragraph.

To conduct its initial quarterly valuation and subsequent quarterly revaluations of such loan investments and other securities, the Adviser will initially determine if there is adequate collateral real estate value supporting such investments and whether the investment's yield approximates market yield. If the market yield is estimated to approximate the investment's yield, then such investment is valued at its par value. If the market yield is not estimated to approximate the investment's yield, the Adviser will project the expected cash flows of the investment based on its contractual terms and discount such cash flows back to the valuation date based on an estimated market yield.

Market yield is estimated as of each quarterly valuation date based on a variety of inputs regarding the collateral asset(s) performance, local/macro real estate performance, and capital market conditions, in each case as determined in good faith by the Adviser. These factors may include, but are not limited to: purchase price/par value of such real estate debt or other difficult to value securities; debt yield, capitalization rates, loan-to-value ratio, and replacement cost of the collateral asset(s); borrower financial condition, reputation, and indications of intent (e.g., pending repayments, extensions, defaults, etc.); and known transactions or other price discovery for comparable debt investments. In the absence of collateral real estate value supporting such securities, the Adviser will consider the residual value to its securities, following repayment of any senior debt or other obligations of the collateral asset(s). For each month that the Adviser does not perform a valuation of such investments, it will review such investment to confirm that there have been no significant events that would cause a material change in value of such investment. Our independent valuation advisor will generally review the reasonableness of the valuation of our real estate debt investments without readily available market quotations upon the Adviser's initial quarterly valuation of such investment and each month thereafter. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Adviser may engage a third-party valuation service provider to provide valuations of loan investments and other securities, which valuations will not be reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. State Street will incorporate such valuations into our NAV, which will be reviewed and confirmed by the Adviser.

Our board of directors has delegated to the Adviser the responsibility for monitoring significant events that may materially affect the values of our real estate debt and other securities investments and for determining whether the value of the applicable investments should be re-evaluated in light of such significant events. Except as otherwise provided in our valuation guidelines, the valuation of our real estate debt and other securities will not be reviewed by our independent valuation advisor or appraised.

The initial value of preferred equity and private company investments will generally be the acquisition price of such investment. Each such investment will then be valued by the Adviser within the first three full months after we make such investment and no less frequently than quarterly thereafter. The Adviser may utilize generally accepted valuation methodologies, which may include, but are not limited to, the market approach, cost approach and income approach, to value such preferred equity or private company investments. These methodologies generally include inputs such as the multiples of comparable companies, the value and performance of underlying assets, select financial statement metrics, the stock price of the investment, volatility, strike price, risk-free interest rate, dividend yield and expected term, as applicable. For each month that the Adviser does not perform a valuation of such investments, it will review such investment to confirm that there have been no significant events that would cause a material change in value of such investment. Our independent valuation advisor will generally review the reasonableness of the valuation of our private company investments without readily available market quotations upon the Adviser's initial quarterly valuation of such investment and each month thereafter. However, such reviews by the independent valuation adviser of the valuation of our real estate debt investments without readily available market quotations described above and our private company investments are based on information provided by the Adviser, which information will not be verified by the independent valuation advisor.

1. Organization and Business Purpose

Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. ("BREIT" or the "Company") invests primarily in stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate in the United States and, to a lesser extent, outside the United States. The Company to a lesser extent invests in real estate debt investments. The Company is the sole general partner and majority limited partner of BREIT Operating Partnership L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("BREIT OP"). BREIT Special Limited Partner L.P. (the "Special Limited Partner"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Blackstone Inc. (together with its affiliates, "Blackstone"), owns a special limited partner interest in BREIT OP. Substantially all of the Company's business is conducted through BREIT OP. The Company and BREIT OP are externally managed by BX REIT Advisors L.L.C. (the "Adviser"). The Adviser is part of the real estate group of Blackstone, a leading global investment manager. The Company was formed on November 16, 2015 as a Maryland corporation and qualifies as a real estate investment trust ("REIT") for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The Company registered an offering with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") of up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, and Class T-2 shares in its primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T and Class T-2 shares pursuant to its distribution reinvestment plan, which the Company began using to offer shares of its common stock in September 2025 (the "Current Offering"). The share classes have different upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees. Class S, D, and T shares of the Company's common stock are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan. In addition to the Current Offering, the Company is conducting private offerings of Class I, Class C and Class F shares to certain feeder or other vehicles that hold the Company's shares and other assets, which in turn sell interests in themselves to other investors as described in the Company's prospectus. Further, the Company is conducting private offerings of Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class L, and Class L-2 shares to certain accredited investors through certain participating broker dealers. All such private offerings are or will be, as applicable, exempt from the registration provisions of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), by virtue of Section 4(a)(2) and/or Regulation D or Regulation S promulgated thereunder. The Company intends to continue selling shares in the Current Offering and private offerings on a monthly basis.

As of June 30, 2026, the Company owned, in whole or in part, 4,530 properties and 63,081 single family rental homes. The Company currently operates in eight reportable segments: Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers, Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, and Investments in Real Estate Debt. Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing. Net Lease includes the real estate assets of The Bellagio Las Vegas, The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas, and the Company's unconsolidated investment in a Net Lease platform. Financial results by segment are reported in Note 16 — Segment Reporting.

The Company previously had nine reportable segments. In May 2026, the Company completed the disposition of all properties in its Self Storage segment. The Company determined that the disposition did not represent a strategic shift that has had, or is expected to have, a major effect on the Company's operations or financial results, and therefore, did not meet the criteria to be classified as discontinued operations. Accordingly, the results of the Self Storage segment are included in continuing operations for all periods presented.

In November 2025, the Company, through BREIT OP, commenced a program (the "DST Program") to issue and sell beneficial interests ("DST Interests") in specific Delaware statutory trusts (the "DSTs") holding real properties (the "DST Properties") through private offerings (the "DST Program"). These private offerings are exempt from registration under the Securities Act. As of June 30, 2026, $111.2 million in net offering proceeds were raised through the DST Program, which are included in Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Under the DST Program, each DST Property may be sourced from our real properties or acquired from third parties, will be held in a separate DST, and will be leased by the DST to a wholly-owned subsidiary of BREIT OP under a master lease agreement. In accordance with the master lease, we are responsible for subleasing the DST Properties and for covering all costs associated with operating the underlying DST Properties. Each master lease agreement will be guaranteed by BREIT OP, which will retain a fair market value purchase option (the "FMV Option"), giving BREIT OP the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests in the applicable DST from the DST investors any time during a defined period in exchange for BREIT OP units or, in certain cases, a combination of BREIT OP units and cash. After a one-year holding period, investors who acquire BREIT OP units pursuant to the FMV Option have a right to cause BREIT OP to redeem all or a portion of their OP units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") for interim financial information and the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. The condensed consolidated financial statements, including the condensed notes thereto, are unaudited and exclude some of the disclosures required in audited financial statements. Management believes it has made all necessary adjustments, consisting of only normal recurring items, so that the condensed consolidated financial statements are presented fairly and that estimates made in preparing the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements are reasonable and prudent. The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, filed with the SEC.

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, the Company's subsidiaries, and joint ventures in which the Company has a controlling financial interest. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Certain amounts in the Company's prior period Condensed Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation. The Company aggregated the par value of each share class previously reported as separate financial statement line items into a single financial statement line item for par value of all share classes. Such reclassifications had no effect on previously reported totals or subtotals in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Equity.

Additionally, certain amounts in the Company's prior period Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation. Specifically, payments of withholding taxes upon the delivery of equity-based awards, which were previously included in proceeds from the issuance of common stock, are now presented separately. Such reclassifications had no effect on previously reported totals or subtotals in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Principles of Consolidation

The Company consolidates all entities in which it has a controlling financial interest through majority ownership or voting rights and variable interest entities ("VIEs") whereby the Company is the primary beneficiary. In determining whether the Company has a controlling financial interest in a partially owned entity and the requirement to consolidate the accounts of that entity, the Company considers whether the entity is a VIE and whether the Company is the primary beneficiary. The Company is the primary beneficiary of a VIE when it has (i) the power to direct the most significant activities impacting the economic performance of the VIE, and (ii) the obligation to absorb losses or receive benefits significant to the VIE. Entities that do not qualify as VIEs are generally considered voting interest entities ("VOEs") and are evaluated for consolidation under the voting interest model. VOEs are consolidated when the Company controls the entity through a majority voting interest or other means.

For consolidated subsidiaries, the non-controlling interest's share of the assets, liabilities, and operations is included in non-controlling interests as equity of the Company. The non-controlling interest is generally computed as the non-controlling interest's ownership percentage. Certain of the subsidiaries formed by the Company provide the non-controlling interest a profits interest based on certain internal rate of return hurdles being achieved. Any profits interest due to the non-controlling interest is also reported within non-controlling interests.

The Company considers the DSTs to be VIEs due to the master lease structure, the FMV Option, and the guarantee of the master lease payments by BREIT OP. The Company determined it was the primary beneficiary of the DSTs and has consolidated them in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. All of the rental revenues and operating property expenses of the DST Properties are included in their respective line items on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The DST Interests are presented as Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and are allocated their share of the DST Properties' income or loss based on the master lease payments they receive. The DST Interest's share of income and loss is reported in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations as Net Loss Attributable to Non-controlling Interests in Consolidated Subsidiaries. Amounts paid to the investors of each DST, which are based on the guaranteed master lease payments, may be greater or less than the net amount of the revenues and expenses from the underlying DST Properties, and may fluctuate over time.

When the requirements for consolidation are not met and the Company has significant influence over the operations of the entity, the investment is accounted for under the equity method of accounting. Investments in unconsolidated entities for which the Company has not elected the fair value option ("FVO") are initially recorded at cost and subsequently adjusted for the Company's pro-rata share of net income, contributions and distributions. When the Company elects the FVO, the Company records its share of net asset value of the entity and any related unrealized gains and losses.

The Company owns certain subordinate securities in CMBS securitizations that give the Company certain rights with respect to the underlying loans that serve as collateral for the CMBS securitization. In particular, these subordinate securities typically give the holder the right to direct certain activities of the securitization on behalf of all securityholders, which could impact the securitization's overall economic performance. Such rights, along with the obligation to absorb losses and receive benefits from the ownership of the subordinate securities, require consolidation of these securitizations, which are considered VIEs under GAAP.

As of June 30, 2026, the total assets and liabilities of the Company's consolidated VIEs, excluding BREIT OP, were $31.7 billion and $22.3 billion, respectively, compared to $36.1 billion and $26.3 billion, respectively, as of December 31, 2025. Such amounts are included on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may ultimately differ materially from those estimates.

Fair Value Measurements

Under normal market conditions, the fair value of an investment is the amount that would be received to sell an asset or transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e., the exit price). The Company uses a hierarchical framework that prioritizes and ranks the level of market price observability used in measuring investments at fair value. Market price observability is impacted by a number of factors, including the type of investment and the characteristics specific to the investment, and the state of the marketplace, including the existence and transparency of transactions between market participants. Investments with readily available actively quoted prices or for which fair value can be measured from actively quoted prices generally will have a higher degree of market price observability and a lesser degree of judgment used in measuring fair value.

Investments measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following levels within the fair value hierarchy:

Level 1 — quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the measurement date. The Company does not adjust the quoted price for these investments.

Level 2 — quoted prices are available in markets that are not active or model inputs are based on inputs that are either directly or indirectly observable as of the measurement date.

Level 3 — pricing inputs are unobservable and include instances where there is minimal, if any, market activity for the investment. These inputs require significant judgment or estimation by management or third parties when determining fair value and generally represent anything that does not meet the criteria of Levels 1 and 2. Due to the inherent uncertainty of these estimates, these values may differ materially from the values that would have been used had a ready market for these investments existed.

Valuation of assets and liabilities measured at fair value

The Company's investments in real estate debt are reported at fair value. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's investments in real estate debt, directly or indirectly, consisted of commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS") and residential mortgage-backed securities ("RMBS"), which are securities backed by one or more mortgage loans secured by real estate assets, as well as corporate bonds, term loans, mezzanine loans, and other investments in debt issued by real estate-related companies or secured by real estate assets. The Company generally determines the fair value of its investments in real estate debt by utilizing third party pricing service providers whenever available.

In determining the fair value of a particular investment, pricing service providers may use broker-dealer quotations, reported trades or valuation estimates from their internal pricing models. The pricing service providers' internal models for securities such as real estate debt generally consider the attributes applicable to a particular class of the security (e.g., credit rating, seniority), current market data, and estimated cash flows for each security, and incorporate specific collateral performance, as applicable.

Certain of the Company's investments in real estate debt, such as mezzanine loans and other investments, are unlikely to have readily available market quotations. In such cases, the Company will generally determine the initial value based on the acquisition price of such investment if acquired by the Company or the par value of such investment if originated by the Company. Following the initial measurement, the Company generally engages third party service providers to perform valuations for such investments. The third party service provider will determine fair value by utilizing or reviewing certain of the following (i) market yield data, (ii) discounted cash flow modeling, (iii) collateral asset performance, (iv) local or macro real estate performance, (v) capital market conditions, (vi) debt yield or loan-to-value ("LTV") ratios, and (vii) borrower financial condition and performance. Refer to Note 5 for additional details on the Company's investments in real estate debt.

For CMBS securitizations the Company consolidates, it has elected to apply the measurement alternative under GAAP and measures both the financial assets and financial liabilities of the securitizations using the fair value of such financial liabilities, which it considers more observable than the fair value of such financial assets.

The Company has elected the FVO for certain of its investments in unconsolidated entities and therefore, reports these investments at fair value. The Company separately values the assets and liabilities of the investments in unconsolidated entities. To determine the fair value of the real estate assets of the investments in unconsolidated entities, the Company utilizes a discounted cash flow methodology, taking into consideration various factors including discount rate and exit capitalization rate. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform valuations of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities. The fair value of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities is determined by modeling the cash flows and discounting them back to the present value using the weighted average cost of debt. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable LTV ratios and credit profiles. After the fair value of the assets and liabilities are determined, the Company applies its ownership interest to the net asset value and reflects this amount as its investments in unconsolidated entities at fair value. The inputs used in determining the Company's investments in unconsolidated entities carried at fair value are considered Level 3. The Company discloses the weighted average cost of capital, which combines the discount rate on the fair value of real estate and the weighted average cost of debt on the fair value of the indebtedness, and the exit capitalization rate as key Level 3 inputs.

The Company's derivative financial instruments are reported at fair value and consist of foreign currency and interest rate contracts. The Company determines the fair values of its foreign currency and interest rate contracts by utilizing a third party derivative specialist. The fair values for foreign currency and interest rate contracts were based on contractual cash flows and observable inputs comprising yield curves, foreign currency rates and credit spreads (Level 2 inputs).

Valuation of assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis

Certain of the Company's assets are not measured at fair value on an ongoing basis but are subject to fair value adjustments, such as when there is evidence of impairment, and therefore measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. The Company reviews its real estate properties for impairment each quarter or when there is an event or change in circumstances that indicates the carrying amount of the real estate may not be recoverable. If the GAAP depreciated cost basis of a real estate investment exceeds the undiscounted cash flows of such real estate investment, the investment is considered impaired and the GAAP depreciated cost basis is reduced to the fair value of the investment. The impairment loss is recognized based on the excess of the carrying amount of the asset over its fair value. The evaluation of anticipated future cash flows is highly subjective and is based in part on assumptions regarding future occupancy, rental rates, capital requirements and anticipated holding periods that could differ materially from actual results. Since cash flows on real estate properties considered to be "long-lived assets to be held and used" are considered on an undiscounted basis to determine whether an asset has been impaired, the Company's strategy of holding properties over the long term decreases the likelihood of recording an impairment loss. If the Company's strategy changes or market conditions otherwise dictate an earlier sale date, an impairment loss may be recognized and such loss could be material to the Company's results.

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the Company recognized $80.0 million of impairment charges related to held and used real estate investments, which were the result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions. The cumulative fair value of such real estate investments at the time of impairment was $95.7 million, and was estimated utilizing a discounted cash flow method. The significant unobservable inputs utilized in the analysis were the discount rate (Level 3), which ranged from 7.2% to 11.4%, and the exit capitalization rate (Level 3), which ranged from 4.9% to 10.5%.

Additionally, during the three months ended June 30, 2026, the Company recognized $19.3 million, of impairment charges related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs. The fair value, less estimated costs to sell, of such real estate investments at the time of impairment was $173.7 million as of June 30, 2026. The significant input utilized in the analysis was the purchase price, which is considered a Level 2 input. Refer to Note 3 for additional details of the impairments.

Valuation of liabilities not measured at fair value

As of both June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the fair value of the Company's mortgage loans, secured term loans, secured revolving credit facilities, secured financings on investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities was $0.5 billion below carrying value. Fair value of the Company's indebtedness is estimated by modeling the cash flows required by the Company's debt agreements and discounting them back to the present value using its equity discount rate. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable loan-to-value ratios and credit profiles. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform these valuations. The significant inputs used in determining the fair value of the Company's indebtedness are considered Level 3.

Earnings Per Share

Basic net loss per share of common stock is determined by dividing net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. All classes of common stock receive the same gross distribution per share. All classes of common stock are allocated net income or loss before management fees and performance participation allocation at the same rate per share, and are then adjusted to reflect class-specific management fees and performance participation allocations.

The restricted stock grants of Class I shares held by our directors and incentive compensation awards of Class I shares to certain employees of portfolio company service providers and certain employees of indirect, wholly-owned subsidiaries of BREIT are considered to be participating securities because they contain non-forfeitable rights to distributions. The impact of these restricted stock grants and incentive compensation awards on basic and diluted earnings per common share ("EPS") has been calculated using the two-class method whereby earnings are allocated to the restricted stock grants and incentive compensation awards based on dividends declared and the restricted stocks' and incentive compensation awards' participation rights in undistributed earnings. As of June 30, 2026 and 2025, the effects of using the two-class method for these restricted stock grants and incentive compensation awards were not material to the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company's stock-based compensation consists of incentive compensation awards issued to certain employees of April Housing and American Campus Communities ("ACC"), all of which are consolidated subsidiaries of BREIT, and certain employees of portfolio company service providers owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. Such awards vest over time and stock-based compensation expense is recognized for these awards using a graded vesting attribution method over the applicable vesting period of each award, based on the value of the awards on their grant date, as adjusted for forfeitures. The awards are subject to service periods ranging from three to four years. The vesting conditions that are based on the Company achieving certain returns, or other key performance metrics, over a stated hurdle amount are considered market conditions. The achievement of returns, or other key performance metrics, over the stated hurdle amounts, which affect the quantity of awards that vest, is considered a performance condition. If the Company determines it is probable that the performance conditions will be met, the value of the award will be amortized over the service periods, as adjusted for forfeitures. If the Company determines it is not probable that the performance conditions will be met, the value of the award is considered zero and any previous amortization will be reversed. The number of awards expected to vest is evaluated each reporting period and compensation expense is recognized for those awards for which achievement of the performance criteria is considered probable.

Refer to Note 10 for additional information on the awards issued to certain employees of portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. The following table details the incentive compensation awards issued to certain employees of April Housing and ACC ($ in thousands):

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2025, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2025-11, "Interim Reporting (Topic 270): Narrow Scope Improvements," which amends the guidance in ASC 270, Interim Reporting. The update enhances interim disclosure requirements by clarifying the information that must be presented in quarterly periods, including improved transparency regarding significant events, accounting policy updates, and material developments that occur between annual reporting dates. ASU 2025-11 also aligns certain interim reporting requirements more closely with annual disclosure objectives to promote consistency and comparability. The amendments are effective for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2027, and early adoption is permitted. The Company did not early adopt ASU 2025-11 and is still evaluating the impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In December 2025, the FASB issued ASU 2025-09, "Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Hedge Accounting Improvements," which amends the guidance in ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging. The update refines certain hedge accounting requirements, including clarifications to the designation and documentation criteria for hedge relationships, improvements to the assessment of hedge effectiveness, and enhanced disclosures intended to provide greater transparency into an entity's risk management activities involving derivatives. ASU 2025-09 is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2026, including interim periods within those annual periods, and early adoption is permitted. The Company did not early adopt ASU 2025-09 and is still evaluating the impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03 "Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses" ("ASU 2024-03"). ASU 2024-03 requires disclosures in the notes to the financial statements on specified information about certain costs and expenses for each interim and annual reporting period. ASU 2024-03 is effective on a prospective basis, with the option for retrospective application, for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2026 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted. The Company did not early adopt ASU 2024-03 and is still evaluating the impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

The Company acquired such CMBS from third parties on market terms negotiated by the majority third party investors. The Company has forgone all non-economic rights under these CMBS, including voting rights, so long as the Blackstone-advised investment vehicles either own the properties collateralizing the underlying loans, or have an interest in a different part of the capital structure of such CMBS.

The Company acquired commercial real estate loans to borrowers that are owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. The Company has forgone all non-economic rights under these loans, including voting rights, so long as the Blackstone-advised investment vehicle controls the borrowers. These loans were negotiated by third parties without the Company's involvement.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's investments in real estate debt also included $1.6 billion and $1.6 billion, respectively, of CMBS collateralized, in part, by certain of the Company's mortgage loans. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company recognized $37.0 million and $64.7 million of income, respectively, related to CMBS collateralized, in part, by certain of the Company's mortgage loans. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company recognized $38.8 million and $76.4 million of income, respectively, related to such CMBS collateralized, in part, by certain of the Company's mortgage loans.

6. Consolidated Securitization Vehicles

The Company has acquired the controlling class securities of certain CMBS securitizations resulting in the consolidation of such securitizations on its Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The consolidation of these securitizations results in a gross presentation of the underlying collateral loans as discrete assets, as well as inclusion of the senior CMBS positions owned by third parties, which are presented as liabilities on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The assets of any particular consolidated securitization can only be used to satisfy the liabilities of that securitization and such assets are not available to the Company for any other purpose. Similarly, the senior CMBS obligations of these securitizations can only be satisfied through repayment of the underlying collateral loans, as they do not have any recourse to the Company or its assets, nor has the Company provided any guarantees with respect to the performance or repayment of the senior CMBS obligations.

The following tables detail the real estate loans held by the consolidated securitization vehicles and the related senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles ($ in thousands):

(1) The weighted-average yield and cost represent the all-in rate, which includes both fixed and floating rates, as applicable to each securitization vehicle.

(2) Repayments of senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles are tied to timing of the related collateral loan asset repayments. The term of these obligations represents the rated final distribution date of the securitizations.

7. Mortgage Loans, Secured Term Loans, and Secured Revolving Credit Facilities, Net

The following table details the mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities secured by the Company's real estate ($ in thousands):

(1) "+" means that the figure represents a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, as applicable to each loan. As of June 30, 2026, the Company had outstanding interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional balance of $26.2 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate notional balance of $19.8 billion that mitigate its exposure to potential future interest rate increases under its floating-rate debt. Total weighted average interest rate does not include the impact of derivatives.

(2) Weighted average maturity assumes maximum maturity date, including any extensions, where the Company, at its sole discretion, has one or more extension options.

(3) The majority of the Company's mortgages contain yield or spread maintenance provisions.

(4) Includes $174.8 million and $201.9 million of loans related to investments in affordable housing properties as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. Such loans are generally from municipalities, housing authorities, and other third parties administered through government sponsored affordable housing programs. Certain of these loans may be forgiven if specific affordable housing conditions are maintained.

(5) Additional borrowings under the Company's variable rate warehouse facilities require additional collateral, which are subject to lender approval.

The following table details the future principal payments due under the Company's mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities as of June 30, 2026 ($ in thousands):

Year	Amount
2026 (remaining)	$ 5,844,538
2027	7,602,716
2028	4,052,175
2029	12,437,523
2030	4,661,472
2031	10,760,785
Thereafter	7,609,000

The Company repaid certain of its loans in conjunction with the sale or refinancing of the underlying properties and incurred an aggregate realized net loss on extinguishment of debt of $24.5 million and $37.3 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, respectively. The Company incurred realized net loss on extinguishment of debt of $25.4 million and $36.9 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. Such losses primarily resulted from the acceleration of related deferred financing costs, prepayment penalties, and transaction costs.

The Company is subject to various financial and operational covenants under certain of its mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities. These covenants require the Company to maintain certain financial ratios, which include leverage, debt yield, and debt service coverage, among others. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company was in compliance with all of its loan covenants.

8. Secured Financings of Investments in Real Estate Debt

The Company has entered into master repurchase agreements and other financing agreements secured by certain of its investments in real estate debt. The terms of the master repurchase agreements and other financing agreements provide the lenders the ability to determine the size and terms of the financing provided based upon the particular collateral pledged by the Company from time to time, and may require the Company to provide additional collateral in the form of cash, securities, or other assets if the market value of such financed investments declines.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's secured financings of investments in real estate debt was $2.7 billion and $2.9 billion, respectively. As of June 30, 2026, the secured financings had a weighted average maturity date of June 15, 2027, and a weighted average interest rate of 1.3% over the relevant floating benchmark rates of the applicable financings, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had interest rate swaps outstanding with a notional value of $0.5 billion and $0.3 billion, respectively, that effectively convert a portion of its fixed rate investments in real estate debt to floating rates to mitigate its exposure to potential future interest rate increases under its floating-rate debt. The weighted average interest rate does not include the impact of such interest rate swaps or other derivatives.

9. Unsecured Revolving Credit Facilities and Term Loans

The Company is party to unsecured credit facilities with multiple banks. The credit facilities have a weighted average maturity date of September 8, 2028, which assumes the exercise of a one-year extension option at the Company's sole discretion, and an interest rate of SOFR +2.5%. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the maximum capacity of the credit facilities was $6.3 billion and $6.2 billion, respectively. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the aggregate outstanding balance of borrowings under these unsecured credit facilities was $0.1 billion and $1.2 billion, respectively.

The Company is party to unsecured term loans with multiple banks. The term loans have a weighted average maturity date of February 21, 2029 and an interest rate of SOFR +2.5%. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the aggregate outstanding balance of the unsecured term loans was $1.4 billion and $1.3 billion, respectively.

The Company is party to an unsecured, uncommitted line of credit (the "Line of Credit") up to a maximum amount of $75.0 million with an affiliate of Blackstone (the "Affiliate Lender"). The Line of Credit expires on December 15, 2026, and may be extended for up to 12 months, subject to Affiliate Lender approval. The interest rate is equivalent to the then-current rate offered to the Company by a third party lender, or, if no such rate is available, SOFR +2.5%. Each advance under the Line of Credit is repayable on the earliest of (i) the expiration of the Line of Credit, (ii) Affiliate Lender's demand, and (iii) the date on which the Adviser no longer acts as the Company's external manager, provided that the Company will have 180 days to make such repayment in the cases of clauses (i) and (ii) and 45 days to make such repayment in the case of clause (iii). As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had no outstanding borrowings under the Line of Credit.

10. Related Party and Other Transactions

Due to Affiliates

The following table details the components of due to affiliates ($ in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Accrued stockholder servicing fee	$ 656,169	$ 724,771
Performance participation allocation	243,066	—
Accrued management fee	59,437	56,818
Other	8,852	10,152
Total	$ 967,524	$ 791,741

Accrued Stockholder Servicing Fee

The Company accrues for future stockholder servicing fees payable to Blackstone Securities Partners L.P., the dealer manager, a registered broker-dealer affiliated with the Adviser (the "Dealer Manager") at the time such shares are sold. For Class S-2, Class D-2, and Class T-2 shares, the Company accrues the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders of such share classes. For Class S, Class D, and Class T shares, the Company accrues the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation. The Dealer Manager has entered, and may in the future enter, into agreements with the selected dealers distributing the Company's shares as part of its continuous public and private offerings, that provide, among other things, for the payment of the full amount of the selling commissions and dealer manager fee, and all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees received by the Dealer Manager to such selected dealers.

Performance Participation Allocation

The Special Limited Partner holds a performance participation interest in BREIT OP that entitles it to receive an allocation of BREIT OP's total return. Total return is defined as distributions paid or accrued plus the change in the Company's net asset value ("NAV"), adjusted for subscriptions and repurchases. Under the BREIT OP agreement, the annual total return with regard to Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, and Class C units will be allocated solely to the Special Limited Partner only after such BREIT OP unitholders have received a total return of 5% (after recouping any loss carryforward amount) and such allocation will continue until the allocation between the Special Limited Partner and such BREIT OP unitholders is equal to 12.5% and 87.5%, respectively. Thereafter, the Special Limited Partner will receive an allocation of 12.5% of the annual total return of such BREIT OP unitholders. Under the BREIT OP agreement, the annual total return with regard to Class L and Class L-2 units will be allocated solely to the Special Limited Partner only after such BREIT OP unitholders have received a total return of 5% (after recouping any loss carryforward amount) and such allocation will continue until the allocation between the Special Limited Partner and such BREIT OP unitholders is equal to 10% and 90%, respectively. Thereafter, the Special Limited Partner will receive an allocation of 10% of the annual total return of such BREIT OP unitholders. The allocation of the performance participation interest is ultimately measured on a calendar year basis and will be paid quarterly in certain classes of units of BREIT OP or cash, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. To date, the Special Limited Partner has always elected to be paid in units of BREIT OP, resulting in a non-cash expense.

At the end of each calendar quarter that is not also the end of a calendar year, the Special Limited Partner is entitled to a performance participation allocation as described above calculated in respect of the portion of the year to date, less any performance participation allocation received with respect to prior quarters in that year (the "Quarterly Allocation"). The performance participation allocation that the Special Limited Partner is entitled to receive at the end of each calendar year will be reduced by the cumulative amount of Quarterly Allocations that year. If a Quarterly Allocation is made and at the end of a subsequent calendar quarter in the same calendar year the Special Limited Partner is entitled to less than the previously received Quarterly Allocation(s) (a "Quarterly Shortfall"), then subsequent distributions of any Quarterly Allocations or year-end performance allocations in that calendar year will be reduced by an amount equal to such Quarterly Shortfall, until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall remains. If all or any portion of a Quarterly Shortfall remains at the end of a calendar year following the application described in the previous sentence, distributions of any Quarterly Allocations and year-end performance allocations in the subsequent four calendar years will be reduced by (i) the remaining Quarterly Shortfall plus (ii) an annual rate of 5% on the remaining Quarterly Shortfall measured from the first day of the calendar year following the year in which the Quarterly Shortfall arose and compounded quarterly (collectively, the "Quarterly Shortfall Obligation") until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains; provided, that the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) may make a full or partial cash payment to reduce the Quarterly Shortfall Obligation at any time; provided, further, that if any Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains following such subsequent four calendar years, then the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) will promptly pay BREIT OP the remaining Quarterly Shortfall Obligation in cash.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company's total return exceeded the current period hurdle amount, resulting in $243.1 million and $399.8 million, respectively, of Performance Participation Allocation expense in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company's total return exceeded the current period hurdle amount, resulting in $88.8 million and $231.0 million, respectively, of performance participation allocation expense.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company's total return did not exceed the year-to-date hurdle amount, resulting in a Quarterly Shortfall with respect to the $105.0 million performance participation allocation recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2024 (the "2024 Shortfall Obligation"). Beginning January 1, 2025, interest on the 2024 Shortfall Obligation, net of $9.9 million of performance participation allocation previously earned by the Special Limited Partner but not paid by the Company, began accruing at a 5% annual rate, compounded quarterly. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company accrued interest income of $1.1 million related to such net 2024 Shortfall Obligations. The net 2024 Shortfall Obligation and related $1.1 million of interest accrued was satisfied with the $142.2 million performance participation accrual for the three months ended March 31, 2025.

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the Company issued 10.9 million units of BREIT OP to the Special Limited Partner as payment for the $156.7 million of net performance participation allocation previously accrued. The remaining $243.1 million of the performance participation allocation expense relating to the six month period ended June 30, 2026 is recorded as a liability within Due to Affiliates on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Subsequent to June 30, 2026, the Company issued 16.7 million units of BREIT OP to the Special Limited Partner as payment for the remaining $243.1 million of performance participation allocation.

Blackstone did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for the performance participation allocation during the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025.

As of August 7, 2026, Blackstone owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $5.6 billion. In addition, Blackstone employees, including the Company's executive officers, owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $1.3 billion.

Accrued Management Fee

The Adviser is entitled to an annual management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, and Class C shares, corresponding BREIT OP units and Class B units, (ii) 1.0% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L shares and Class L units, and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L-2 shares and Class L-2 units, payable monthly, as compensation for the services it provides to the Company. The management fee can be paid, at the Adviser's election, in cash, certain classes of shares of the Company's common stock, or certain classes of BREIT OP units. To date, the Adviser has always elected to be paid the management fee in shares of the Company's common stock and units of BREIT OP, resulting in a non-cash expense. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company incurred management fees of $176.6 million and $348.8 million, respectively. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company incurred management fees of $166.9 million and $335.3 million, respectively.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company issued BREIT OP units of 12.2 million and 24.3 million, respectively, to the Adviser as payment for management fees. The Company also had a payable of $59.4 million and $56.8 million related to the management fees as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. During July 2026, the Adviser was issued 4.1 million units of BREIT OP as payment for the management fees accrued as of June 30, 2026. The shares and units issued to the Adviser for payment of the management fee were issued at the applicable NAV per share/unit at the end of each month for which the fee was earned. The Adviser did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for management fees during the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025.

Other

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had an outstanding balance due to the Adviser of $8.9 million and $10.2 million, respectively, primarily related to general corporate expenses provided by unaffiliated third parties that the Adviser paid on the Company's behalf. Such expenses are reimbursed by the Company to the Adviser in the ordinary course of business.

DST Program

The Adviser provides asset management services to the DSTs and is entitled to an asset management fee equal to 1.0% of the gross rents received by the DSTs under their respective master lease agreements. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company incurred asset management fees of $34 thousand and $52 thousand, respectively, which are included in Other Expense on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, no asset management fees were incurred.

The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive an investor servicing fee from the DST Investors, equal to up to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate net asset value of the DST Properties underlying certain DST Interests in the applicable DST Offering. The Company accrues the future investor servicing fee payable to the Dealer Manager based on the estimated life of the DST Interests at the time such DST Interests are sold. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had accrued $468 thousand and $15 thousand, respectively, of investor servicing fees related to DST Interests sold and recorded such amount as a component of Due to Affiliates on the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.

The Dealer Manager is also entitled to receive an upfront selling commission of up to 3.5% of the amount of gross proceeds paid for DST Interests. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company recorded $386 thousand and $29 thousand, respectively, of upfront selling commissions and are included within the Other line of the Due to Affiliates table above. The upfront selling commissions are included as a reduction to offering proceeds in Contributions from Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $25 thousand and $15 thousand, respectively, was outstanding and included as a component of Due to Affiliates on the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.

Affiliate Title Service Provider

Blackstone owns Lexington National Land Services (“LNLS”), a title agent company. LNLS acts as an agent for one or more underwriters in issuing title policies and/or providing support services in connection with investments by the Company, Blackstone and their affiliates and related parties, and third parties. LNLS focuses on transactions in rate-regulated states where the cost of title insurance is non-negotiable. LNLS will not perform services in non-regulated states for the Company, except (i) in the context of a portfolio transaction that includes properties in rate-regulated states, (ii) as part of a syndicate of title insurance companies where the rate is negotiated by other insurers or their agents, (iii) when a third party is paying all or a material portion of the premium, or (iv) when providing only support services to the underwriter. LNLS earns fees, which would have otherwise been paid to third parties, by providing title agency services and facilitating placement of title insurance with underwriters. Blackstone receives distributions from LNLS in connection with investments by the Company based on its equity interest in LNLS. In each case, there will be no related expense offset to the Company.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company paid LNLS $14.3 million and $23.1 million, respectively, for title services related to certain investments. Amounts paid to LNLS were either (i) included in calculating Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations, or (ii) recorded as deferred financing costs, which is a reduction to Mortgage Loans, Secured Term Loans, and Secured Revolving Credit Facilities, Net on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Captive Insurance Company

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the Company contributed $0.3 million of capital to the captive insurance company owned by it and other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles (the "Captive"). Of this amount, less than $0.1 million was attributable to the fee paid to a Blackstone affiliate to provide oversight and management services of the Captive.

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company received a net refund of $0.3 million of insurance premiums previously paid to the Captive. The net refund was attributable to dispositions of real estate and represented the pro-rata unused period of the annual premiums incurred to insure such dispositions.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company received a net refund of $0.4 million and $0.5 million, respectively, of insurance premiums previously paid to the Captive. The net refund was attributable to dispositions of real estate and represented the pro-rata unused period of the annual premiums incurred to insure such dispositions.

Other Transactions

Accrued service provider expenses, incentive compensation awards, and guaranty

The Company has engaged certain portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, operational services (including, without limitation, construction and project management), management services, loan management services, corporate support services (including, without limitation, accounting, information technology, legal, tax and human resources) and transaction support services for certain of the Company’s properties, and any such arrangements will be at or below market rates. The Company also engaged such portfolio companies for transaction support services related to acquisitions, capital expenditures and dispositions, and such costs were either (i) capitalized to Investments in Real Estate, Net on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets or (ii) included as part of the Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate in the Company's Consolidated Statements of Operations. For further details on the Company’s relationships with these service providers, see Note 10 to the consolidated financial statements in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

The expenses related to these providers, including incentive compensation awards, are included as a component of Rental Property Operating expense and Hospitality Operating expense, as applicable, in the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. Transaction support service fees were capitalized to Investments in Real Estate on the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Neither Blackstone nor the Adviser receives any fees from these arrangements.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, certain portfolio companies owned by the Company earned revenue of $3.3 million and $6.7 million, respectively, from certain other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles in relation to management services and corporate support services. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, certain portfolio companies owned by the Company earned revenue of $1.3 million and $2.4 million, respectively, from certain other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles in relation to corporate service fees and property management services.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had a receivable of $50.9 million and $50.9 million, respectively, from certain portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles related to the prepayment of certain corporate service fees and incentive compensation awards. Such amounts are included in Other Assets on the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

In March 2026, the Company entered into an agreement with another Blackstone-advised investment vehicle to fund its pro rata share of any payments required under a guaranty agreement with a lending institution. The guaranty relates to a revolving credit facility with a portfolio company that provides services to the Company, and the Company's participation reflects its share of the associated costs based on services rendered. As of June 30, 2026, the Company’s maximum potential obligation under the arrangement was $8.0 million. No events through the date of these condensed consolidated financial statements required performance under the guaranty, and no liability was recorded as of June 30, 2026.

13. Derivatives

The Company uses derivative financial instruments to minimize the risks and/or costs associated with the Company's investments and financing transactions. These derivatives may or may not qualify as net investment, cash flow, or fair value hedges under the hedge accounting requirements of Accounting Standards Codification Topic 815 - "Derivatives and Hedging". Derivatives not designated as hedges are not speculative and are used to manage the Company's exposure to interest rate movements, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, and other identified risks.

The use of derivative financial instruments involves certain risks, including the risk that the counterparties to these contractual arrangements do not perform as agreed. To mitigate this risk, the Company enters into derivative financial instruments with counterparties it believes to have appropriate credit ratings and that are major financial institutions with which the Company and its affiliates may also have other financial relationships.

Interest Rate Contracts

Certain of the Company's transactions expose the Company to interest rate risks, which include exposure to variable interest rates on certain loans secured by the Company's real estate in addition to its secured financings of investments in real estate debt. The Company uses derivative financial instruments, which includes interest rate swaps and caps, and may also include options, floors, and other interest rate derivative contracts, to limit the Company's exposure to the future variability of interest rates. The Company has the right of offset for certain derivatives, and presents them net on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

The following tables detail the Company's outstanding interest rate derivatives (notional amount in thousands):

Share and Unit Repurchases

The Company has adopted a Share Repurchase Plan (the "Repurchase Plan"), which is approved and administered by the Company's board of directors, whereby, subject to certain limitations, stockholders may request on a monthly basis that the Company repurchases all or any portion of their shares. The Repurchase Plan will be limited to no more than 2% of the Company's aggregate NAV per month (measured using the aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and no more than 5% of the Company's aggregate NAV per calendar quarter (measured using the average aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed during each month in a calendar quarter. Certain stockholders are subject to certain restrictions, including a minimum holding period and certain repurchase limitations, in addition to the Company's existing monthly and quarterly limitations. The Company has in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under the Repurchase Plan, and the Company has in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis.

Should repurchase requests, in the board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on its liquidity, adversely affect its operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company as a whole, or should the board of directors otherwise determine that investing its liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing its shares is in the best interests of the Company as a whole, the Company's board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased (including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under the Repurchase Plan), or none at all. Further, the Company's board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in the Repurchase Plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend the Repurchase Plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in the Company's best interest and the best interest of its stockholders. In the event that the Company receives repurchase requests in excess of the 2% or 5% limits, then repurchase requests will be satisfied on a pro rata basis after the Company has repurchased all shares for which repurchase has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of the Repurchase Plan, as applicable.

For the six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company repurchased 148.1 million shares of common stock and 1.0 million units of BREIT OP for a total of $2.1 billion, satisfying all repurchase requests for the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Distributions

The Company considers a variety of factors when determining its distributions, including cash flows from operations, Funds Available for Distribution, NAV, and total return, and in any case, generally intends to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its stockholders each year to comply with the REIT provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. Taxable income does not equal net income as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

Each class of common stock receives the same monthly gross distribution per share. The net distribution varies for each class based on the applicable stockholder servicing fee, which is deducted from the monthly distribution per share and paid directly to the applicable distributor. Class C shares currently have no distribution amount presented as the class is generally an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV.

The following tables detail the aggregate distributions declared for each applicable class of common stock:

Redeemable Non-controlling Interests

Certain non-controlling interests are presented as redeemable non-controlling interests due to redemption rights that are not solely within the control of the Company, including put options and redemption provisions that become exercisable upon specified crystallization events. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $111.4 million and $141.1 million, respectively, related to certain consolidated subsidiaries was included in Redeemable Non-controlling Interests on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

The redeemable non-controlling interests are recorded at the greater of (i) their carrying amount, adjusted for their share of the allocation of GAAP net income (loss) and distributions, or (ii) their redemption value, which is equivalent to the fair value of such interests at the end of each measurement period. Accordingly, the Company recorded allocation adjustments between Additional Paid-in Capital and Redeemable Non-controlling Interests of $10.4 million and $12.3 million during the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, respectively and $2.6 million and $3.4 million, during the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively, to reflect the greater of their carrying value, adjusted for their share of the allocation of GAAP net income (loss) and distributions, or their redemption value.

15. Leases

Lessor

The Company’s rental revenue primarily consists of rent earned from operating leases at the Company’s rental housing, industrial, data centers, net lease, office and retail properties. The Company's rental revenue also includes rent earned from operating leases at the Company's self storage properties prior to their sale in May 2026. Leases at the Company’s industrial, data centers, office and retail properties generally include a fixed base rent, and certain leases also contain a variable rent component. The variable component of the Company’s operating leases at its industrial, data centers, office and retail properties primarily consist of the reimbursement of operating expenses such as real estate taxes, insurance, and common area maintenance costs. Rental revenue earned from leases at the Company’s rental housing properties primarily consist of a fixed base rent, and certain leases contain a variable component that allows for the pass-through of certain operating expenses such as utilities. Rental revenue earned from leases at the Company’s self storage properties primarily consist of a fixed base rent only.

Rental revenue from leases at the Company’s net lease properties consists of a fixed annual rent that escalates annually throughout the term of the applicable leases, and the tenant is generally responsible for all property-related expenses, including taxes, insurance, and maintenance. The Company’s net lease properties are leased to a single tenant. The Company assessed the lease classification of the net lease properties and determined the leases were each operating leases. The Company’s assessment included the consideration of the present value of the applicable lease payments over the lease terms and the residual value of the leased assets.

Leases at the Company’s industrial, data centers, net lease, office and retail properties are generally longer term (greater than 12 months in length), and may contain extension and termination options at the lessee’s election. Often, these leases have annual escalations that are tied to the consumer price index. Leases at the Company’s rental housing properties are short term, generally not greater than 12 months in length.

The following table details the components of operating lease income from leases in which the Company is the lessor ($ in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Fixed lease payments	$ 1,504,457	$ 1,637,212	$ 3,086,130	$ 3,325,392

Rental revenue	$ 1,629,105	$ 1,770,660	$ 3,350,359	$ 3,603,049

The following table presents the undiscounted future minimum rents the Company expects to receive for its industrial, data centers, net lease, retail, and office properties as of June 30, 2026 ($ in thousands). Leases at the Company’s rental housing properties are short term, generally 12 months or less, and are therefore not included.

Year	Future Minimum Rents
2027	1,624,579

Lessee

Certain of the Company's investments in real estate are subject to ground leases. The Company's ground leases are classified as either operating leases or financing leases based on the characteristics of each lease. As of June 30, 2026, the Company had 86 ground leases classified as operating and three ground leases classified as financing. Each of the Company's ground leases was acquired as part of the acquisition of real estate, and no incremental costs were incurred for such ground leases. The Company's ground leases are non-cancelable and certain operating leases contain renewal options.

The following table details the future lease payments due under the Company's ground leases as of June 30, 2026 ($ in thousands):

	Operating Leases	Financing Leases
2026 (remaining)	$ 20,182	$ 2,283
2027	36,454	4,633
2028	36,739	4,763

Thereafter	1,997,821	544,292
Total undiscounted future lease payments	2,202,159	571,073
Difference between undiscounted cash flows and discounted cash flows	(1,593,593)	(489,796)
Total lease liability	$ 608,566	$ 81,277

The Company utilized its incremental borrowing rate at the time of entering such leases, which was between 5% and 7%, to determine its lease liabilities. As of June 30, 2026, the weighted average remaining lease term of the Company's operating leases and financing leases were 58 years and 75 years, respectively.

Payments under the Company's ground leases primarily contain fixed payment components that may include periodic increases based on an index or periodic fixed percentage escalations. Three of the Company's ground leases contain a variable component based on a percentage of revenue.

The following table details the fixed and variable components of the Company's operating leases ($ in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,

16. Segment Reporting

The Company operates in eight reportable segments: Rental Housing, Industrial, Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, Data Centers, and Investments in Real Estate Debt. The Company allocates resources and evaluates results based on the performance of each segment individually. The Company believes that GAAP Segment Income (Loss) is the key performance metric that is most consistent with the amounts included in its condensed consolidated financial statements and captures the unique operating characteristics of each segment to enable its chief operating decision maker to assess performance and allocate resources.

Prior to May 2026, the Company operated in nine reportable segments, including Self Storage. Following the sale of all remaining Self Storage properties in May 2026, the segment was removed from reportable segments, with results included in continuing operations for all periods presented. Please refer to Note 1 for additional information.

The following table details the total assets by segment ($ in thousands):

17. Commitments and Contingencies

Litigation

From time to time, the Company may be involved in various claims and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company accrues a liability for legal proceedings only when those matters present loss contingencies that are both probable and reasonably estimable. In such cases, there may be an exposure to loss in excess of any amounts accrued. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company was not involved in any material legal proceedings.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may," "will," "expect," "intend," "anticipate," "estimate," "believe," "continue," "identify" or other similar words or the negatives thereof. These may include our financial estimates and their underlying assumptions, statements about plans, objectives, intentions and expectations with respect to positioning, including the impact of macroeconomic trends and market forces, future operations, repurchases, acquisitions, future performance, and statements about identified but not yet disclosed acquisitions. Such forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Accordingly, there are or will be important factors that could cause actual outcomes or results to differ materially from those indicated in such statements. We believe these factors include but are not limited to those described under the section entitled "Risk Factors" in our prospectus and our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, as such factors may be updated from time to time in our periodic filings with the SEC, which are accessible on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. These factors should not be construed as exhaustive and should be read in conjunction with the other cautionary statements that are included in this document (or our prospectus and other filings). Except as otherwise required by federal securities laws, we undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.

Overview

We invest primarily in stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate in the United States and to a lesser extent, outside the United States. We also, to a lesser extent, invest in real estate debt investments. We are the sole general partner and majority limited partner of BREIT Operating Partnership L.P. ("BREIT OP"), a Delaware limited partnership, and we own substantially all of our assets through BREIT OP. We are externally managed by BX REIT Advisors L.L.C. (the "Adviser"). The Adviser is part of the real estate group of Blackstone Inc. ("Blackstone"), a leading investment manager. We currently operate our business in eight reportable segments: Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers, Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, and Investments in Real Estate Debt. Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as manufactured, student, affordable, and single family rental housing. Net Lease includes the real estate assets of The Bellagio Las Vegas, The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas, and our unconsolidated investment in a Net Lease platform. Unconsolidated interests are included in the respective property segment.

We previously had nine reportable segments. In May 2026, we completed the disposition of all properties in the Self Storage segment. We determined that the disposition did not represent a strategic shift that has had, or is expected to have, a major effect on our operations or financial results, and therefore, did not meet the criteria to be classified as discontinued operations. Accordingly, the results of the Self Storage segment are included in continuing operations for all periods presented.

BREIT is a non-listed, perpetual life real estate investment trust ("REIT") that qualifies as a REIT under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), for U.S. federal income tax. We generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxes on our taxable income to the extent we annually distribute all of our net taxable income to stockholders and maintain our qualification as a REIT.

As of August 7, 2026, we had received cumulative net proceeds of $82.4 billion from the sale of 6.4 billion shares of our Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, Class C, and Class L common stock in our continuous public offering and private offerings, and units of BREIT OP. We contributed the net proceeds from the sale of shares to BREIT OP in exchange for a corresponding number of Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, Class C, and Class L units. As of August 7, 2026, there are no Class L-2 shares, Class F shares, Class L-2 units or Class F units outstanding. BREIT OP has primarily used the net proceeds to make investments in real estate and real estate debt and for other general corporate purposes (including to fund repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan (the "Share Repurchase Plan") from time to time) as further described below under "Investment Portfolio." We intend to continue selling shares of our common stock on a monthly basis through our continuous public offering and private offerings.

In November 2025, BREIT and BREIT OP commenced the DST Program to issue and sell DST Interests in DSTs holding DST Properties through private offerings. These DST Interests will be issued and sold to "accredited investors" as that term is defined under Regulation D promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act in private placements exempt from registration pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act (the "DST Offerings"). As of June 30, 2026, $111.2 million in net offering proceeds were raised through the DST Program, which are included in Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Under the DST Program, each DST Property may be sourced from our real properties or acquired from third parties, will be held in a separate DST, and will be leased by the DST to a wholly-owned subsidiary of BREIT OP under a master lease agreement. In accordance with the master lease, we are responsible for subleasing the DST Properties and for covering all costs associated with operating the underlying DST Properties. Each master lease agreement will be guaranteed by BREIT OP, which will retain the FMV Option, giving BREIT OP the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests in the applicable DST from the DST investors any time during a defined period in exchange for BREIT OP units or, in certain cases, a combination of BREIT OP units and cash. After a one-year holding period, investors who acquire BREIT OP units pursuant to the FMV Option have a right to cause BREIT OP to redeem all or a portion of their OP units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both.

Q2 2026 Highlights

Operating Results:

- Declared monthly net distributions totaling $597.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026. The details of the average annualized distribution rates and total returns are shown in the following table:

Investments:

- Sold 20 rental housing properties[3], 79 self storage properties and 27 industrial properties, for total net proceeds of $2.1 billion. We recognized a net realized gain of $294.0 million related to the disposition of such properties, net of the impairments recorded during the quarter. The sale of 79 self storage properties, for net proceeds of $852.3 million, represents our exit from the self storage segment.
- During the three months ended June 30, 2026, deployed $3.3 billion (at BREIT's share) into the development of data centers through our QTS platform. These data center developments are 100% pre-leased, in substantially all cases to investment grade tenants.
- Acquired 48 net lease properties for a total purchase price of $44.3 million (at BREIT's share) through our Reliant Net Lease Platform.

Capital and Financing Activity:

- Raised $1.1 billion from the sale of shares of our common stock and units of BREIT OP during the three months ended June 30, 2026. Repurchased $0.9 billion of our shares and units from investors during the three months ended June 30, 2026.
- Raised $0.1 billion in net offering proceeds through the DST Program during the three months ended June 30, 2026.
- Decreased financings by a net $2.1 billion during the three months ended June 30, 2026.

Current Portfolio:

- Our portfolio as of June 30, 2026 consisted of investments in real estate (97% based on fair value) and investments in real estate debt (3%).
- Our 4,530 properties[4] as of June 30, 2026 consisted primarily of Rental Housing (42% based on fair value), Data Centers (27%) and Industrial (20%), and our real estate portfolio was primarily concentrated in the following regions: South (35%), West (28%) and East (20%).
- Our investments in real estate debt as of June 30, 2026 consisted of a diversified portfolio of commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS"), residential-backed securities ("RMBS"), mortgage and mezzanine loans, and other real estate-related debt. For further details on credit rating and underlying real estate collateral, refer to "Investment Portfolio – Investments in Real Estate Debt" below.

(1) The annualized distribution rate is calculated by averaging each of the three months' annualized distribution rates, which are calculated as the net distribution per share, divided by the prior month's net asset value per share. We believe the annualized distribution rate is a useful measure of our overall investment performance. Class C is an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV instead of receiving a distribution. Therefore, no annualized distribution rate is presented above for Class C shares.

(2) Total return is calculated as the change in NAV per share during the respective periods plus any distributions per share declared in the period, and assumes any distributions are reinvested under our distribution reinvestment plan. Total return for periods greater than one year is annualized. We began selling Class S-2, D-2 and T-2 shares on September 1, 2025. Class L shares were first outstanding as of January 1, 2026. Inception-to-date total returns for Class S-2, D-2, T-2, and Class L shares will be disclosed once these shares have been outstanding for more than one year. We believe total return is a useful measure of our overall investment performance.

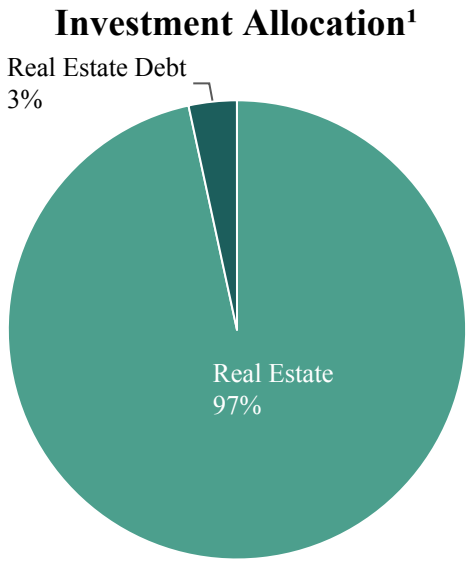

(3) Excludes the number of single family rental homes sold.

(4) Excludes 63,081 single family rental homes. Such single family rental homes are included in the fair value amounts.

Investment Portfolio

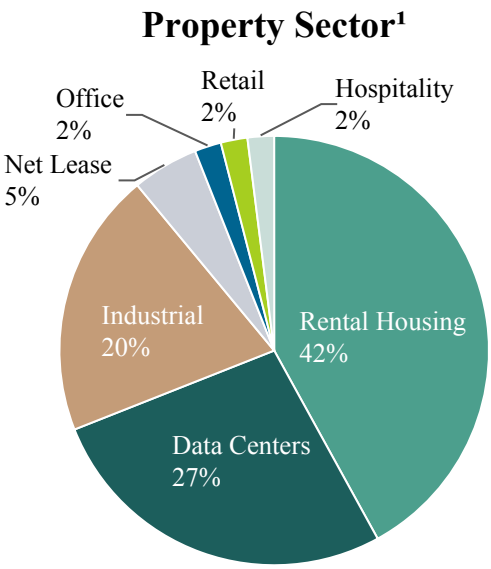

Portfolio Summary

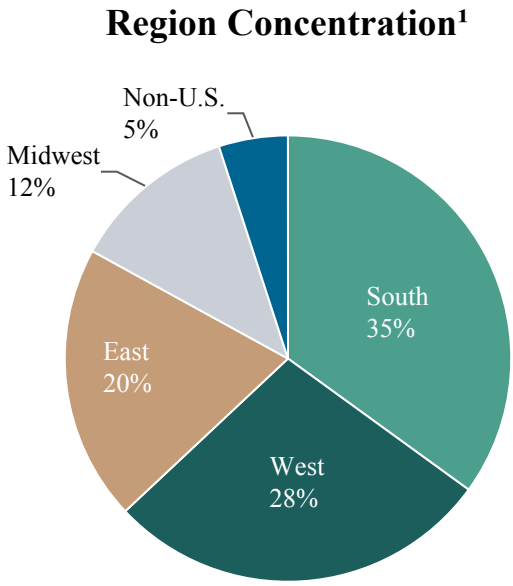

The following chart shows the allocation of our investments between real estate and real estate debt based on fair value as of June 30, 2026:

Real Estate Investments

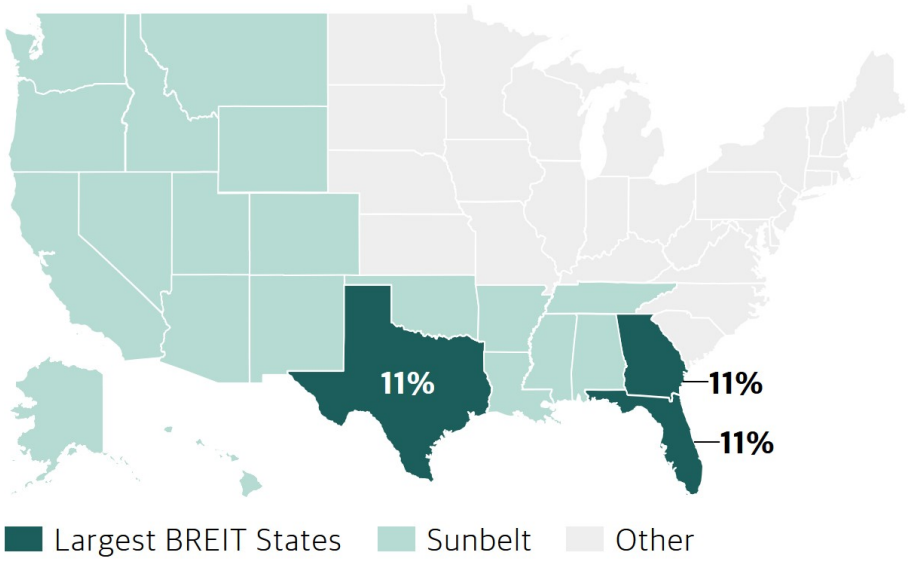

The following charts further describe the diversification of our investments in real estate based on fair value as of June 30, 2026:

(1) "Real estate investments" include wholly owned property investments, BREIT's share of property investments held through joint ventures and equity in public and private real estate-related companies. "Real estate debt" includes BREIT's investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage and mezzanine loans, and other debt secured by real estate and real estate related assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Condensed Consolidated Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") Balance Sheets. "Property Sector" weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate investments for each sector category divided by the asset value of all real estate investments, excluding the value of any third party interests in such real estate investments. "Region Concentration" represents regions as defined by the National Council of Real Estate Investment Fiduciaries ("NCREIF") and the weighting is measured as the asset value of our real estate properties for each regional category divided by the asset value of all real estate properties, excluding the value of any third party interests in such real estate properties. "Non-U.S." reflects investments in Europe and Canada.

The following map identifies the top markets of our real estate portfolio composition based on fair value as of June 30, 2026:

The select states highlighted represent BREIT's top three states by portfolio weighting. Portfolio weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate properties for each state divided by the total asset value of all real estate properties, excluding the value of any third party interests in such real estate investments. Sunbelt refers to ~65% concentration in the South and West regions of the U.S. as defined by NCREIF. BREIT is invested in additional states that are not highlighted above.

As of June 30, 2026, we owned, in whole or in part, a diversified portfolio of income producing assets comprising 4,530 properties and 63,081 single family rental homes concentrated in growth markets primarily focused in Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers properties, and to a lesser extent Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, and Retail properties.

The following table provides a summary of our portfolio by property sector as of June 30, 2026:

Property Sector	Number of Properties[1][2]	Sq. Total	4,530		94%		$ 125,539,262	$ 4,533,500	$ 4,392,025

(1) Single family rental homes are included in rental housing units and are not reflected in the number of properties.
(2) Includes properties owned by unconsolidated entities.
(3) Excludes land under development related to our rental housing, industrial and data center investments.
(4) For our data centers, industrial, net lease, office and retail investments, occupancy includes all leased square footage as of June 30, 2026. For our multifamily, student housing and affordable housing investments, occupancy is defined as the percentage of actual rent divided by gross potential rent (defined as actual rent for occupied units and market rent for vacant units) for the three months ended June 30, 2026. For our single family rental housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied homes for the month ended June 30, 2026. For our manufactured housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied sites as of June 30, 2026. The average occupancy rate for our hospitality investments includes paid occupied rooms for the 12 months ended June 30, 2026. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the average occupancy rate calculation. Total occupancy is weighted by the total value of all consolidated real estate properties, excluding our hospitality investments, and any third party interests in such properties. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from occupancy rate calculations.
(5) For multifamily and rental housing properties other than manufactured housing, average effective annual base rent represents the base rent for the three months ended June 30, 2026 per leased unit, and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization. For manufactured housing, data centers, industrial, net lease, office, and retail properties, average effective annual base rent represents the annualized June 30, 2026 base rent per leased square foot or unit and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization. For hospitality properties, average effective annual base rent represents average daily rate ("ADR") and revenue per available Room ("RevPAR"), respectively, for the 12 months ended June 30, 2026. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the ADR and RevPAR calculations. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from average effective annual base rent calculations.
(6) Gross Asset Value consists of our $81.2 billion allocable share of consolidated real estate properties and our $44.3 billion allocable share of the gross real estate value held by unconsolidated entities, in each case excluding the value of any third-party interests in such real estate investments. Such amounts are measured on a fair value basis.
(7) Includes the revenues from our consolidated real estate properties and our allocable share of revenues from properties held by unconsolidated entities. See the Property Sector Revenue disclosure immediately following this table for certain Non-GAAP disclosures and reconciliations.
(8) Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing. Rental Housing units include multifamily units, student housing units, affordable housing units, manufactured housing sites and single family rental homes.
(9) During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the Company exited the self storage segment as a result of the sale of all remaining properties in May 2026. Property Sector Revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2026 includes activity through the date of sale.

Property Sector Revenue

Property Sector Revenue is a supplemental non-GAAP measure of revenue that includes our allocable share of the revenues from all consolidated and unconsolidated properties in our portfolio, which we believe is meaningful for management, investors, and other users of our financial statements to assess the scale of our exposure to different property sectors. We define Property Sector Revenue as our allocable share of the revenues from our consolidated properties plus our allocable share of revenues from unconsolidated entities. Property Sector Revenue may not be comparable to that of other companies and should not be considered to be more relevant or accurate in evaluating our operating performance than GAAP total revenues.

The following table provides a reconciliation of GAAP total revenues to Property Sector Revenue ($ in thousands):

	Six Months Ended June 30,
	2026	2025
Total revenues[(1)]	$ 3,798,293	$ 4,053,553
Less: revenues allocable to non-controlling interests	(397,822)	(411,655)
Allocable share of revenues from unconsolidated entities	1,133,029	750,127
Property Sector Revenue	$ 4,533,500	$ 4,392,025

(1) Reflects total revenues determined in accordance with GAAP. See Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations for details of revenue components.

(1) Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing. Rental Housing units include multifamily units, student housing units, affordable housing units, manufactured housing sites and single family rental homes. Single family rental homes are accounted for in rental housing units and are not reflected in the number of properties.
(2) Includes properties owned by unconsolidated entities.
(3) Certain of our joint venture agreements provide the seller or the other partner a profits interest based on achieving certain internal rate of return hurdles. Such investments are consolidated by us and any profits interest due to the other partners is reported within non-controlling interests.
(4) Excludes land under development related to our rental housing, industrial and data centers investments.
(5) For our data centers, industrial, net lease, office and retail investments, occupancy includes all leased square footage as of June 30, 2026. For our multifamily, student housing and affordable housing investments, occupancy is defined as the percentage of actual rent divided by gross potential rent (defined as actual rent for occupied units and market rent for vacant units) for the three months ended June 30, 2026. For our single family rental housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied homes for the month ended June 30, 2026. For our manufactured housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied sites as of June 30, 2026. The average occupancy rate for our hospitality investments includes paid occupied rooms for the 12 months ended June 30, 2026. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the average occupancy rate calculation. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from occupancy rate calculations.
(6) Represents Preferred Apartment Communities.
(7) Includes various ownership interests in 12 unconsolidated multifamily properties.
(8) Includes a 100% interest in 13,308 consolidated single family rental homes, a 44% interest in 8,002 unconsolidated single family rental homes, and a 12% interest in 1,296 unconsolidated single family rental homes.
(9) Includes various ownership interests in 40,475 unconsolidated single family rental homes.
(10) Includes various ownership interests in 325 consolidated affordable housing properties and four unconsolidated affordable housing properties.
(11) Investment is unconsolidated.
(12) Includes various ownership interests in 87 consolidated industrial properties and 19 unconsolidated industrial properties.
(13) Includes 28 wholly owned retail properties and a 50% interest in one unconsolidated retail property.
(14) Includes properties held by DSTs as of June 30, 2026.

Lease Expirations

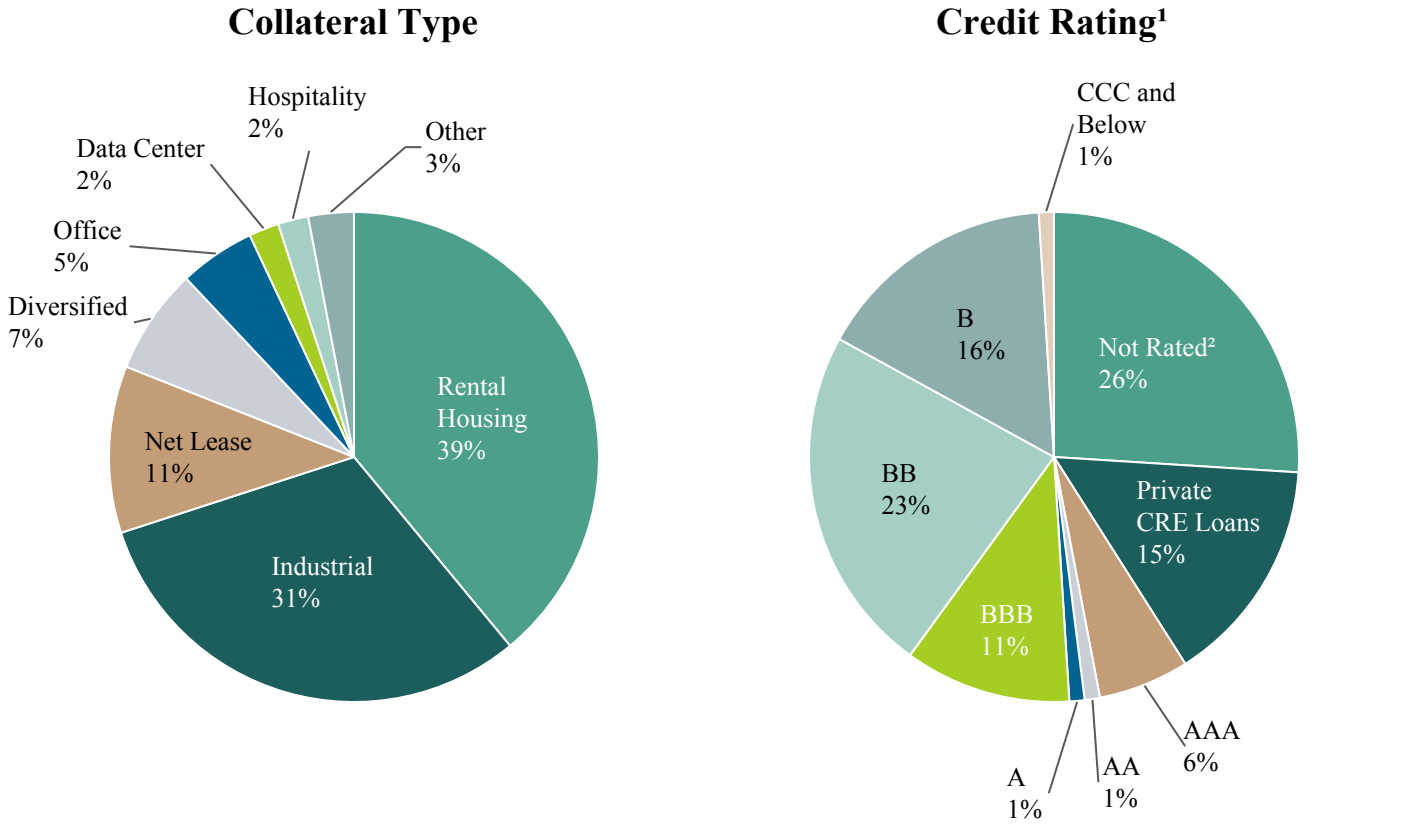

The following schedule details the expiring leases at our consolidated data centers, industrial, net lease, office and retail properties by annualized base rent and square footage as of June 30, 2026 ($ and square feet data in thousands). The table below excludes our rental housing properties as substantially all leases at such properties expire within 12 months:

(1) Annualized base rent is determined from the annualized base rent per leased square foot as of June 30, 2026 and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization.

Investments in Real Estate Debt

The following charts further describe the diversification of our investments in real estate debt by credit rating and collateral type, and includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage loans, and other debt secured by real estate assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated GAAP Balance Sheets, based on fair value as of June 30, 2026:

(1) "AA" represents credit ratings of AA+, AA, and AA-, "A" represents credit ratings of A+, A, and A-, "BBB" represents credit ratings of BBB+, BBB, and BBB-, "BB" represents credit ratings of BB+, BB, and BB-, "B" represents credit ratings of B+, B, and B-, and "CCC" and below represents credit ratings of CCC+ and below.

(2) Not rated positions have a weighted-average LTV at origination of 64% and are primarily composed of industrial (51%) and rental housing (42%) assets.

The following table details our investments in real estate debt as of June 30, 2026 ($ in thousands):

	June 30, 2026

Total investments in real estate debt	7.1%	1/15/2035	$ 4,578,019	$ 4,557,201	$ 4,379,704

(1) Includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage loans, and other debt secured by real estate assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated GAAP Balance Sheets.

(2) The symbol "+" means that the figure represents a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates, which include Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Sterling Overnight Index Average ("SONIA"), and Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("EURIBOR"), as applicable to each security and loan. Fixed rate CMBS and commercial real estate loans are reflected as a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates as of June 30, 2026 for purposes of the weighted averages. Weighted average coupon for CMBS does not include zero-coupon securities. As of June 30, 2026, we have interest rate swaps outstanding with a notional value of $0.5 billion that effectively convert a portion of our fixed rate investments in real estate debt to floating rates. Total weighted average coupon does not include the impact of such interest rate swaps or other derivatives.

(3) Weighted average maturity date is based on the fully extended maturity date of the instrument.

(4) Face amount excludes interest-only securities with a notional amount of $0.2 billion as of June 30, 2026. In addition, CMBS includes zero-coupon securities of less than $0.1 billion as of June 30, 2026.

(5) Represents an investment in an unconsolidated joint venture with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation that holds investments in real estate debt. Weighted average coupon and weighted average maturity date excludes this joint venture.

Rental Revenue

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, rental revenue decreased $141.6 million as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $166.6 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from April 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026, partially offset by a $25.0 million increase in Same Property revenues. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Hospitality Revenue

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, hospitality revenue increased $6.3 million as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase can primarily be attributed to a $9.5 million increase in Same Property revenues, partially offset by a $3.2 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from April 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Other Revenue

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, other revenue decreased $2.5 million as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $1.9 million decrease in Same Property revenues and a $0.6 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from April 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the decrease in Same Property revenues.

Rental Property Operating Expenses

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, rental property operating expenses decreased $64.9 million as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $68.3 million decrease in Non-Same Property operating expenses, due to the real estate dispositions we made from April 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026, partially offset by a $3.4 million increase in Same Property operating expenses. See "Same Property NOI" section for further details of the increase in Same Property operating expenses.

Hospitality Operating Expenses

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, hospitality operating expenses decreased $0.3 million as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $5.4 million decrease in Non-Same Property operating expenses, due to the real estate dispositions we made from April 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026, partially offset by a $5.1 million increase in Same Property operating expenses. See "Same Property NOI" section for further details of the increase in Same Property operating expenses.

General and Administrative Expenses

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, general and administrative expenses increased $1.2 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was due to increases in various corporate level expenses during the three months ended June 30, 2026 as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025.

Management Fee

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the management fee increased $9.7 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was due to a higher average NAV during the three months ended June 30, 2026 as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025.

Performance Participation Allocation

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the performance participation allocation expense increased $154.2 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was the result of a higher total return for the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025.

Impairment of Investments in Real Estate

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, impairments of investments in real estate decreased $71.9 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we recognized an aggregate $99.3 million of impairment charges including (i) $80.0 million related to certain properties as a result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions, primarily to account for a shorter hold period, and (ii) $19.3 million related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs.

During the three months ended June 30, 2025, we recognized an aggregate $171.1 million of impairment charges including (i) $125.3 million related to certain properties as a result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions, primarily to account for a shorter hold period, and (ii) $45.8 million related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs.

Depreciation and Amortization

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, depreciation and amortization decreased $66.1 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily driven by the impact of disposition activity from April 1, 2025 through June 30, 2026.

Income from Unconsolidated Entities

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, income from unconsolidated entities decreased $1.3 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily driven by decreases in unrealized gains in the fair value of unconsolidated entities carried at fair value of $99.7 million and increases in interest expense of $56.8 million, offset by increases in the fair value of interest rate derivatives of $152.0 million.

Income from Investments in Real Estate Debt

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, income from investments in real estate debt decreased $50.9 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a decrease of $48.7 million in interest income as a result of sales and repayments of loans and other investments in real estate debt.

Change in Net Assets of Consolidated Securitization Vehicles

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the change in net assets of consolidated securitization vehicles decreased $29.0 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a decrease of $20.1 million in net unrealized/realized losses and a decrease of $8.9 million in interest income as a result of sales of our investments in such securitization vehicles and repayments of the underlying loans within such securitization vehicles.

Loss from Interest Rate Derivatives

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, the loss from interest rate derivatives decreased $179.8 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a decrease in net unrealized losses in fair value of interest rate derivatives.

Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, net gain on dispositions of real estate decreased $71.1 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we recorded $393.3 million of net gains from the disposition of 20 rental housing properties, 79 self storage properties and 27 industrial properties. During the three months ended June 30, 2025, we recorded $464.4 million of net gains from the disposition of 18 rental housing properties, 42 industrial properties, one hospitality property and one retail property.

Interest Expense, Net

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, net interest expense decreased $173.1 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to lower outstanding borrowings, primarily resulting from real estate dispositions and the corresponding payoff of debt related to such dispositions from April 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026.

Loss on Extinguishment of Debt

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, loss on extinguishment of debt decreased $0.9 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to the impact of refinancing and disposition activity during the three months ended June 30, 2026 as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025.

Other Expense

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, other expense decreased $1.0 million compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to a decrease in portfolio-level corporate costs.

Rental Revenue

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, rental revenue decreased $252.7 million as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $301.1 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026, partially offset by a $48.4 million increase in Same Property revenues. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Hospitality Revenue

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, hospitality revenue increased $8.3 million as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase can primarily be attributed to a $13.6 million increase in Same Property revenues, partially offset by a $5.3 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Other Revenue

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, other revenue decreased $10.9 million as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $10.4 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026 and a $0.5 million decrease in Same Property revenues. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the decrease in Same Property revenues.

Rental Property Operating Expenses

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, rental property operating expenses decreased $127.7 million as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $141.1 million decrease in Non-Same Property operating expenses due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026, partially offset by a $13.4 million increase in Same Property operating expenses. See "Same Property NOI" section for further details of the increase in Same Property operating expenses.

Hospitality Operating Expenses

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, hospitality operating expenses increased $21.0 thousand as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase can primarily be attributed to a $9.9 million increase in Same Property hospitality operating expenses, partially offset by a $9.9 million decrease in Non-Same Property hospitality operating expenses due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026. See "Same Property NOI" section for further details of the increase in Same Property hospitality operating expenses.

General and Administrative Expenses

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, general and administrative expenses decreased $0.4 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was due to a decrease in various corporate level expenses during the six months ended June 30, 2026 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Management Fee

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, the management fee increased $13.5 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was due to a higher average NAV during the six months ended June 30, 2026 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Performance Participation Allocation

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, the performance participation allocation expense increased $168.8 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was the result of a higher total return for the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Impairment of Investments in Real Estate

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, impairments of investments in real estate decreased $106.9 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. During the six months ended June 30, 2026, we recognized an aggregate $234.5 million of impairment charges including (i) $168.4 million related to certain properties as a result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions, and (ii) $66.1 million related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs.

During the six months ended June 30, 2025, we recognized an aggregate $341.4 million of impairment charges including (i) $272.1 million related to certain properties as a result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions, primarily to account for a shorter hold period, and (ii) $69.3 million related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs.

Depreciation and Amortization

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, depreciation and amortization decreased $132.8 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily driven by the impact of disposition activity from January 1, 2025 through June 30, 2026.

Loss from Unconsolidated Entities

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, we had a net loss from unconsolidated entities of $16.5 million, primarily driven by interest, depreciation and amortization at such unconsolidated entities. During the six months ended June 30, 2025, we had a net loss from unconsolidated entities of $738.0 million, driven by our QTS Data Centers investment, attributable to unrealized losses related to the change in the fair value of interest rate derivatives, depreciation and amortization, and one-time buyout costs.

Income from Investments in Real Estate Debt

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, income from investments in real estate debt decreased $106.1 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a decrease of $80.0 million in interest income as a result of sales and repayments of loans and other investments in real estate debt and a decrease of $29.7 million in net unrealized/realized gains on our investments in real estate debt and related derivatives.

Change in Net Assets of Consolidated Securitization Vehicles

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, the change in net assets of consolidated securitization vehicles decreased $44.1 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a decrease of $37.3 million in interest income as a result of sales of our investments in such securitization vehicles and repayments of the underlying loans with such securitization vehicles and a decrease in net unrealized/realized gains of $6.8 million.

Loss from Interest Rate Derivatives

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, loss from interest rate derivatives decreased $552.7 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to an increase in the fair value of our interest rate derivatives.

Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, net gain on dispositions of real estate increased $255.5 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. During the six months ended June 30, 2026, we recorded $855.8 million of net gains from the disposition of 46 rental housing properties, 79 self storage properties, 62 industrial properties, two office properties, and one retail property. During the six months ended June 30, 2025, we recorded $600.3 million of net gains from the disposition of 37 rental housing properties, 50 industrial properties, one hospitality property and three retail properties.

Interest Expense, Net

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, net interest expense decreased $243.5 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to lower outstanding borrowings, primarily resulting from real estate dispositions from January 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026.

Loss on Extinguishment of Debt

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, loss on extinguishment of debt increased $0.5 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily due to the impact of refinancing and disposition activity during the six months ended June 30, 2026 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Other Expense

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, other expense decreased $4.3 million compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to decreases in portfolio-level corporate costs.

Same Property NOI

Net Operating Income ("NOI") is a supplemental non-GAAP measure of our property operating results that we believe is meaningful because it enables management to evaluate the impact of occupancy, rents, leasing activity, and other controllable property operating results at our real estate. We define NOI as operating revenues less operating expenses, which exclude (i) impairment of investments in real estate, (ii) depreciation and amortization, (iii) straight-line rental income and expense, (iv) amortization of above- and below-market lease intangibles, (v) amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income, (vi) lease termination fees, (vii) portfolio-level corporate costs, (viii) other non-property related revenue and expense items such as (a) general and administrative expenses, (b) management fee, (c) performance participation allocation, (d) incentive compensation awards, (e) income (loss) from investments in real estate debt, (f) change in net assets of consolidated securitization vehicles, (g) income (loss) from interest rate derivatives, (h) net gain on dispositions of real estate, (i) interest expense, net, (j) loss on extinguishment of debt, (k) other income (expense), and (l) buyout costs and (ix) similar adjustments for NOI attributable to non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We evaluate our consolidated results of operations on a Same Property basis, which allows us to analyze our property operating results excluding acquisitions and dispositions during the periods under comparison. Properties in our portfolio are considered Same Property if they were owned for the full periods presented, otherwise they are considered Non-Same Property. Recently developed properties are not included in Same Property results until the properties have achieved stabilization for both full periods presented. We define stabilization for a property as the earlier of (i) achieving 90% occupancy, (ii) 12 months after receiving a certificate of occupancy, or (iii) for Data Centers, 12 months after receiving a certificate of occupancy and greater than 50% of its critical IT capacity has been built. Certain assets are excluded from Same Property results and are considered Non-Same Property, including (i) properties held-for-sale, (ii) properties that are being redeveloped, (iii) properties identified for future sale, and (iv) interests in unconsolidated entities under contract for sale with a hard deposit or other factors ensuring the buyer's performance. We do not consider our investments in the real estate debt segment to be Same Property.

Same Property NOI assists in eliminating disparities in net income due to the acquisition, disposition, development, or redevelopment of properties during the periods presented, and therefore we believe it provides a meaningful performance measure for the comparison of the operating performance of our properties, which we believe is useful to investors. Our Same Property NOI may not be comparable to that of other companies and should not be considered to be more relevant or accurate in evaluating our operating performance than our GAAP net income (loss).

For the three months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, our Same Property portfolio consisted of 676 rental housing, 2,864 industrial, 27 net lease, 53 data center, 240 hospitality, 59 retail, and 11 office properties. The following table reconciles GAAP net loss to Same Property NOI for the three months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025 ($ in thousands):

Same Property – Rental Revenue

Same Property rental revenue increased $25.0 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was due to a $19.6 million increase in base rental revenue, a $4.9 million increase in tenant reimbursement income as a result of higher operating expenses, and a $0.5 million decrease in our bad debt reserve. Our bad debt reserve represents the amount of rental revenue we anticipate we will not be able to collect from our tenants.

The following table details the changes in base rental revenue period over period ($ in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Change
	2026	2025	Change in Base Rental Revenue	Change in Occupancy Rate	Change in Average Effective Annual Base Rent Per Leased Square Foot/Unit

Total base rental revenue	$ 1,382,466	$ 1,362,862	$ 19,604

Same Property – Hospitality Revenue

Same Property hospitality revenue increased $9.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in hospitality revenue was primarily due to increases in average daily rate and occupancy and an increase in food and beverage revenue at our hotels during three months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property – Other Revenue

Same Property other revenue decreased $1.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to decreased ancillary and other income at our rental housing properties during the three months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property – Rental Property Operating Expenses

Same Property rental property operating expenses increased $3.4 million during the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in rental property operating expenses was primarily the result of increased real estate taxes, insurance, and general operating expenses at our rental housing and industrial properties during the three months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property – Hospitality Operating Expenses

Same Property hospitality operating expenses increased $5.1 million during the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in hospitality operating expenses was primarily the result of increased general operating expenses at our hotels during the three months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property NOI from Unconsolidated Entities

Same Property NOI from unconsolidated entities increased $13.7 million during the three months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase is primarily due to additional base rent associated with increased occupancy at our QTS Data Centers investment.

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, our Same Property portfolio consisted of 676 rental housing, 2,861 industrial, 53 data center, two net lease, 240 hospitality, 59 retail, and 11 office properties. The following table reconciles GAAP net loss to Same Property NOI for the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025 ($ in thousands):

Same Property – Rental Revenue

Same Property rental revenue increased $48.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was due to a $36.6 million increase in base rental revenue, a $9.6 million increase in tenant reimbursement income as a result of higher operating expenses, and a $2.2 million decrease in our bad debt reserve. Our bad debt reserve represents the amount of rental revenue we anticipate we will not be able to collect from our tenants.

The following table details the changes in base rental revenue period over period ($ in thousands):[1]

	Six Months Ended June 30,		Change
	2026	2025	Change in Base Rental Revenue	Change in Occupancy Rate	Change in Average Effective Annual Base Rent Per Leased Square Foot/Unit
Rental Housing	$ 1,962,417	$ 1,962,682	$ (265)	(1)%	+1%

Total base rental revenue	$ 2,788,447	$ 2,751,868	$ 36,579

(1) Excludes our investments in unconsolidated entities.

Same Property – Hospitality Revenue

Same Property hospitality revenue increased $13.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in hospitality revenue was primarily due to increases in average daily rate and occupancy and an increase in food and beverage revenue at our hotels during the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property – Other Revenue

Same Property other revenue decreased $0.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to decreased ancillary income at our rental housing properties during the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property – Rental Property Operating Expenses

Same Property rental property operating expenses increased $13.4 million during the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in rental property operating expenses was primarily the result of increased real estate taxes, insurance, and general operating expenses at our rental housing and industrial properties during the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property – Hospitality Operating Expenses

Same Property hospitality operating expenses increased $9.9 million during the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in hospitality operating expenses was primarily the result of increased real estate taxes, insurance, food and beverage expense, and other operating expenses at our hotels during the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Same Property NOI from Unconsolidated Entities

Same Property NOI from unconsolidated entities increased $37.1 million during the six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase is primarily due to additional base rent associated with increased occupancy at our QTS Data Centers investment.

Funds from Operations, Adjusted Funds from Operations and Funds Available for Distribution

We believe Funds from Operations ("FFO") is a meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. Our condensed consolidated financial statements are presented using historical cost accounting which, among other things, requires depreciation of real estate investments. As a result, our operating results imply that the value of our real estate investments have decreased over time. However, we believe that the value of our real estate investments will fluctuate over time based on market conditions and, as such, depreciation under historical cost accounting may be less informative as a measure of our performance. FFO is an operating measure defined by the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts ("NAREIT") that is broadly used in the REIT industry. FFO, as defined by NAREIT and presented below, is calculated as net income or loss (computed in accordance with GAAP), excluding (i) depreciation and amortization, (ii) impairment of investments in real estate, (iii) net gains or losses from sales of real estate, (iv) net gains or losses from change in control, and (v) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We also believe that Adjusted FFO ("AFFO") is an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. AFFO further adjusts FFO to reflect the performance of our portfolio by adjusting for items we believe are not directly attributable to our operations. Our adjustments to FFO to arrive at AFFO include removing the impact of (i) the performance participation allocation to our Special Limited Partner or other incentive compensation awards that are based on our Net Asset Value, which includes unrealized gains and losses not recorded in GAAP net income (loss), and that are paid in shares or BREIT OP units, even if subsequently repurchased by us, (ii) gains or losses on extinguishment of debt, (iii) unrealized gains or losses on investments in real estate debt and other investments, (iv) unrealized gains or losses on derivatives, (v) amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income, (vi) straight-line rental income and expense, (vii) amortization of deferred financing costs, (viii) amortization of restricted stock awards, (ix) amortization of mortgage premium/discount, (x) organization costs, (xi) severance costs, (xii) buyout costs, (xiii) net forfeited investment deposits, (xiv) amortization of above- and below-market lease intangibles, (xv) gain or loss on involuntary conversion, (xvi) settlement costs, (xvii) amortization of non-real estate assets, and adding (xviii) proceeds from interest rate contract receivables, and (xix) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We also believe that Funds Available for Distribution ("FAD") is an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. FAD provides useful information for considering our operating results and certain other items relative to the amount of our distributions, and we believe is therefore meaningful to stockholders. FAD is calculated as AFFO adjusted for (i) management fees paid in shares or BREIT OP units, even if subsequently repurchased by us, (ii) recurring tenant improvements, leasing commissions, and other capital expenditures, (iii) stockholder servicing fees paid during the period, (iv) realized gains or losses on investments in real estate debt and other investments, and (v) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities. FAD is not indicative of cash available to fund our cash needs and does not represent cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP, as FAD is adjusted for stockholder servicing fees and recurring tenant improvements, leasing commissions, and other capital expenditures, which are not considered when determining cash flows from operations. Furthermore, FAD excludes (i) adjustments for working capital items and (ii) amortization of discounts and premiums on investments in real estate debt. Cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP would generally be adjusted for such items.

FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered more relevant or accurate than GAAP net income (loss) in evaluating our operating performance. In addition, FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered as alternatives to net income (loss) as indications of our performance or as alternatives to cash flows from operating activities as indications of our liquidity, but rather should be reviewed in conjunction with these and other GAAP measurements. Further, FFO, AFFO, and FAD are not intended to be used as liquidity measures indicative of cash flow available to fund our cash needs, including our ability to make distributions to our stockholders. In addition, our methodology for calculating AFFO and FAD may differ from the methodologies employed by other companies to calculate the same or similar supplemental performance measures, and accordingly, our reported AFFO and FAD may not be comparable to the AFFO and FAD reported by other companies.

The following table presents a reconciliation of net loss attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders to FFO, AFFO and FAD attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders ($ in thousands):

(1) The prior period has been recast to present unrealized gains on investments in real estate debt and other investments and unrealized losses on derivatives in a consistent manner with the current period presentation.

(2) Other adjustments to arrive at AFFO for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025 primarily include severance costs, organization costs, amortization of above-and-below market lease intangibles, and amortization of mortgage premium/discount, and to a lesser extent, amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income.

(3) Recurring tenant improvements and leasing commissions are generally related to second-generation leases and other capital expenditures required to maintain our investments. Other capital expenditures exclude projects that we believe will enhance the value of our investments.

Net Asset Value

Our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, has adopted valuation guidelines that contain a comprehensive set of methodologies to be used by our Adviser in connection with our NAV calculation. These guidelines are designed to produce a fair and accurate estimate of the price that would be received for our investments in an arm's-length transaction between a willing buyer and a willing seller in possession of all material information about our investments.

The calculation of our NAV is intended to be a calculation of the fair value of our assets less our outstanding liabilities as described below and differs materially from the book value of our equity reflected in our financial statements. As a public company, we are required to issue financial statements based on historical cost determined in accordance with GAAP. To calculate our NAV for the purpose of establishing a purchase and repurchase price for our shares, we have adopted a model, as explained below, that adjusts the value of our assets and liabilities from historical cost to fair value generally in accordance with the GAAP principles set forth in FASB Accounting Standards Codification Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements. Our Adviser calculates the fair value of our real estate properties monthly based in part on values provided by third party independent appraisers, and such calculations are reviewed by an independent valuation advisor as further discussed below.

Because these fair value calculations involve significant professional judgment in the application of both observable and unobservable attributes, the calculated fair value of our assets may differ from their actual realizable value or future fair value. While we believe our NAV calculation methodologies are consistent with standard industry practices, there is no rule or regulation that requires us to calculate NAV in a certain way. As a result, other REITs and other real estate investors may use different methodologies or assumptions to determine NAV. In addition, NAV is not a measure determined under GAAP and the valuations of, and certain adjustments made to, our assets and liabilities used in the determination of NAV differs materially from comparable historical cost amounts determined in accordance with GAAP. You should not consider NAV to be equivalent to stockholders' equity or any other measure determined in accordance with GAAP.

The following valuation methods are used for purposes of calculating the significant components of our NAV:

- Consolidated properties are initially valued at cost, which we expect to represent fair value at the time of acquisition. Subsequently, consolidated properties are primarily valued using the discounted cash flow methodology (the "Income Approach"), whereby a property's value is calculated by discounting the estimated cash flows and the anticipated terminal value of the subject property by the assumed new buyer's normalized weighted average cost of capital for the subject property. Consistent with industry practices, the Income Approach also incorporates subjective judgments regarding comparable rental and operating expense data, capitalization or discount rate, and projections of future rent and expenses based on appropriate evidence as well as the residual value of the asset as components in determining value. Other methodologies that may also be used to value properties include Sales Comparisons and the Replacement Cost Approaches. We believe the discount rate and exit capitalization rate are the key assumptions utilized in discounted cash flow methodology (the Income Approach). Below the tables that set forth our NAV calculation is a sensitivity analysis of the weighted average discount rates and exit capitalization rates for our property investments.

- Investments in real estate debt consist of CMBS and RMBS, which are securities backed by one or more mortgage loans secured by real estate assets, as well as corporate bonds, term loans, mortgage loans, mezzanine loans, and other investments in debt issued by real estate-related companies or secured by real estate assets. The Company generally determines the fair value of its investments in real estate debt by utilizing third party pricing service providers whenever available. In determining the fair value of a particular investment, pricing service providers may use broker-dealer quotations, reported trades or valuation estimates from their internal pricing models. The pricing service providers' internal models for securities such as real estate debt generally consider the attributes applicable to a particular class of the security (e.g., credit rating, seniority), current market data, and estimated cash flows for each security, and incorporate specific collateral performance, as applicable. Certain of the Company's investments in real estate debt, such as mortgage loans, mezzanine loans and other investments, are unlikely to have readily available market quotations. In such cases, the Company will generally determine the initial value based on the acquisition price of such investment if acquired by the Company or the par value of such investment if originated by the Company. Following the initial measurements, the Company engages third party service providers to perform valuations for such investments. The service providers will determine fair value by utilizing or reviewing certain of the following (i) market yield data, (ii) discounted cash flow modeling, (iii) collateral asset performance, (iv) local or macro real estate performance, (v) capital market conditions, (vi) debt yield or loan-to-value ratios, and (vii) borrower financial condition and performance. Refer to the "Fair Value Measurements" section of Note 2 to our condensed consolidated financial statements for additional details on the Company's investments in real estate debt.

- The values of our mortgage loans, secured term loans, secured revolving credit facilities, secured financings on investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities (collectively, "Debt") are estimated by modeling the cash flows required by the Company's debt agreements and discounting them back to the present value using an estimated market yield. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable loan-to-value ratios and credit profiles. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform these valuations.
- The Company separately values the assets and liabilities of the investments in unconsolidated entities. To determine the fair value of the real estate assets of the investments in unconsolidated entities, the Company utilizes a discounted cash flow methodology or market comparable methodology, taking into consideration various factors including discount rate, exit capitalization rate and multiples of comparable companies. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform valuations of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities. The fair value of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities is determined by modeling the cash flows required by the debt agreements and discounting them back to the present value using weighted average cost of capital. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable loan-to-value ratios and credit profiles. After the fair value of the assets and liabilities are determined, the Company applies its ownership interest to the net asset value and reflects this amount as its investments in unconsolidated entities at fair value.

NAV and NAV Per Share Calculation

Each share class has an undivided interest in our assets and liabilities, other than class-specific liabilities (including the management fee paid to the Adviser, stockholder servicing fees paid to the Dealer Manager and the performance participation allocation paid to the Special Limited Partner). In accordance with the valuation guidelines, our NAV per share for each share class as of the last calendar day of each month is calculated using a process that reflects several components, including the estimated fair value of (1) each of our properties (including the DST Properties), (2) our investments in real estate debt, (3) our investments in unconsolidated entities, (4) our mortgage loans, secured term loans, secured revolving credit facilities, secured financings on investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities, and (5) our other assets and liabilities.

At the end of each month, our change in NAV for each share class is calculated as follows:

- Shares are issued for subscriptions received and distribution reinvestments to each respective share class, as applicable, and are effective on the first day of each month. The proceeds received through subscriptions and distribution reinvestments for each share class are additions to the prior month ending aggregate NAV for each respective share class (including OP units). Additionally, the NAV of each share class is reduced by the respective repurchases for such month. The result represents the aggregate NAV per share class effective as of the first calendar day of the current month.

- Any change in our aggregate NAV (whether an increase or decrease), excluding management fees paid to the Adviser and the performance participation allocation paid to the Special Limited Partner, is allocated among each class of shares (including OP units) based on each class's relative percentage of the previous aggregate NAV adjusted for issuances of shares that were effective on the first calendar day of such month and repurchases that were effective on the last calendar day of such month. For the purposes of allocating any change in our aggregate NAV, Class S will be combined with Class S-2, Class T will be combined with T-2, and Class D will be combined with D-2 when allocating changes on a relative percentage of the aggregate NAV. Changes in our aggregate NAV include, but are not limited to, accruals of our net portfolio income, interest expense, distributions, unrealized/realized gains and losses on assets, any applicable organization and offering costs and any expense reimbursements, debt appreciation and depreciation and general and administrative expenses. Unrealized net real estate and debt appreciation includes any change in the fair market value of our investments in real estate, investments in real estate debt, investments in unconsolidated entities, and Debt.

- For each applicable class of shares, the management fee is calculated as a percentage of the aggregate NAV for such class of shares and any accrued performance participation allocation is calculated as a percentage of Total Return, subject to a Hurdle amount and a High Water mark, with a Catch-Up (each term as defined in the prospectus), with respect to such class of shares.

- Net distributions are typically declared on the last day of each month and are a reduction to the NAV of each respective share class. As a result of the allocation of stockholder servicing fees, the net distributions per share will differ by share class. The monthly stockholder servicing fee is calculated as a percentage of each applicable class of shares' NAV (Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2). Class I, Class C, Class L, Class L-2, and Class F shares are not subject to the stockholder servicing fee.

- NAV per share for each class is calculated by dividing such class's NAV at the end of each month by the number of shares outstanding for that class at the end of such month.

Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the prospectus for the Current Offering (as defined below) for further details on how our NAV is determined.

Components of NAV	June 30, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 92,221,975
Investments in real estate debt	4,379,704
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	20,545,135

Other liabilities	(2,660,688)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(243,066)
Management fee payable	(59,437)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(12,666)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries[4]	(5,923,526)
Net Asset Value	$ 56,567,757
Number of outstanding shares/units[5]	3,891,652

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $81.2 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third party joint venture interests in such investments as of June 30, 2026.
(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of June 30, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $44.3 billion.
(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV, we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue (i) the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation, for Class S, Class D and Class T shares and (ii) the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders for Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class T-2 as an offering cost, in each case, at the time we sell the applicable shares. As of June 30, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.
(4) Includes $111.2 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of June 30, 2026.
(5) As of June 30, 2026, no Class L-2 or Class F shares were outstanding.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of June 30, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units[1]	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of June 30, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 31,520,822	2,170,024	$ 14.5256
Class S Shares	16,453,691	1,133,691	14.5134

(1) As of June 30, 2026, no Class L-2 or Class F shares were outstanding.

(2) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT OP held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unitholders, and other BREIT OP interests held by parties other than the Company.

The following table details the weighted average discount rate and exit capitalization rate by property type, which are the key assumptions used in the discounted cash flow valuations as of June 30, 2026:

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.6%	6.4%
Office	7.8%	5.7%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by our Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all else equal, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Center Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.9%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.7)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%

The following table reconciles stockholders' equity and BREIT OP partners' capital per our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets to our NAV ($ in thousands):

	June 30, 2026
Stockholders' equity	$ 17,614,169
Non-controlling interests attributable to BREIT OP	3,861,855
Total BREIT stockholders' equity and BREIT OP partners' capital under GAAP	21,476,024
Adjustments:
Accrued stockholder servicing fees	643,503
Accrued affiliated service provider incentive compensation awards	(45,074)
Accumulated depreciation and amortization under GAAP	16,352,219
Unrealized net real estate and real estate debt appreciation	18,141,085
NAV	$ 56,567,757

The following details the adjustments to reconcile total GAAP stockholders' equity of BREIT and partners' capital of BREIT OP to our NAV:

- Accrued stockholder servicing fees represent the accrual for the cost of the stockholder servicing fees for Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. Under GAAP, we accrue (i) the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation, for Class S, Class D and Class T shares and (ii) the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders for Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class T-2 shares, in each case, as an offering cost at the time we sell the applicable share. Refer to Note 10 to our condensed consolidated financial statements for further details of the GAAP treatment regarding the stockholder servicing fees. For purposes of calculating NAV, we recognize the stockholder servicing fees as a reduction to NAV on a monthly basis when such fees are paid.

- Under GAAP, the affiliated incentive compensation awards are valued as of grant date and compensation expense is recognized over the service period on a straight-line basis with an offset to equity, resulting in no impact to Stockholders' Equity. For purposes of calculating NAV, we value the awards based on performance in the applicable period and deduct such value from NAV.

- We depreciate our investments in real estate and amortize certain other assets and liabilities in accordance with GAAP. Such depreciation and amortization are not recorded for purposes of calculating our NAV.

- Our investments in real estate are presented at their depreciated cost basis in our condensed consolidated GAAP financial statements. Additionally, Debt is presented at its amortized cost basis in our condensed consolidated GAAP financial statements. As such, any increases or decreases in the fair market value of our investments in real estate or our Debt are not included in our GAAP results. For purposes of calculating our NAV, our investments in real estate and our Debt are recorded at fair value.

Distributions

Beginning in March 2017, we have declared monthly distributions for each class of our common stock and OP units, which are generally paid 20 days after month-end. We have paid distributions consecutively each month since that time. Each class of our common stock and OP units received the same aggregate gross distribution of $0.3311 per share/unit for the six months ended June 30, 2026. Class C shares currently have no distribution amount presented as the class is generally an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV. As of June 30, 2026, there were no Class L-2 shares or Class F shares outstanding. The net distribution varies for each class based on the applicable stockholder servicing fee, which is deducted from the monthly distribution per share/unit and paid directly to the applicable distributor.

(1) Excludes cash paid to third party joint venture partners of consolidated subsidiaries classified as non-controlling interests under GAAP.

(2) Our inception to date cash flows from operating activities, along with inception to date net gains from investment realizations, have funded 100% of our distributions to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders through June 30, 2026.

(3) Year-to-date net gains from investment realizations includes (i) net gains and losses on dispositions of real estate, (ii) net realized gains and losses on sale of investments in real estate debt, and (iii) impairments of investments in real estate, which amounts are not included in cash flows from operating activities.

(4) Reflects amounts allocable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders. See “Funds from Operations, Adjusted Funds from Operations and Funds Available for Distribution” below for descriptions of FFO, AFFO, and FAD, for reconciliations of these items to GAAP net loss attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders, and for considerations on how to review these metrics.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Liquidity

We believe we have sufficient liquidity to operate our business, with $8.6 billion of liquidity as of August 6, 2026. When we refer to our liquidity, this includes amounts available under our undrawn revolving credit facilities of $7.4 billion as well as unrestricted cash and cash equivalents of $1.2 billion. We also expect $0.6 billion of net proceeds from dispositions under contract where we have received a non-refundable deposit as of August 6, 2026. We also generate incremental liquidity through our operating cash flows, which were $1.2 billion for the six months ended June 30, 2026. We may also generate incremental liquidity through the sale of our real estate debt investments, which were carried at their estimated fair value of $4.4 billion as of June 30, 2026.

In addition, we remain moderately leveraged (44% as of June 30, 2026) and can generate additional liquidity through incurring additional indebtedness secured by our real estate and real estate debt investments, unsecured financings, and other forms of indebtedness. Our leverage ratio is measured by dividing (i) consolidated property-level and entity-level debt net of cash and debt-related restricted cash, by (ii) the asset value of real estate investments (measured using the greater of fair market value and cost) plus the equity in our settled real estate debt investments. Indebtedness incurred (i) in connection with funding a deposit in advance of the closing of an investment or (ii) as other working capital advances will not be included as part of the calculation above. Our leverage ratio would be higher if the indebtedness on our real estate debt investments and pro rata share of debt within our unconsolidated investments were taken into account.

In addition to our current liquidity, we obtain incremental liquidity through the sale of shares of our common stock in our continuous public offering and private offerings, and units of BREIT OP, from which we have received cumulative net proceeds of $82.4 billion as of August 6, 2026.

Capital Resources

As of June 30, 2026, our indebtedness included loans secured by our properties, secured financings of our investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities and term loans.

The following table is a summary of our indebtedness as of June 30, 2026 ($ in thousands):

	June 30, 2026			Principal Balance as of

(1) "+" refers to the relevant floating benchmark rates, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, as applicable to each loan or secured financing. As of June 30, 2026, we had outstanding interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional balance of $26.7 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate notional balance of $19.8 billion that mitigate our exposure to potential future interest rate increases under our floating-rate debt.

(2) Weighted average maturity assumes maximum maturity date, including any extensions, where the Company, at its sole discretion, has one or more extension options.

(3) Includes $174.8 million and $201.9 million of loans related to investments in affordable housing properties as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. Such loans are generally from municipalities, housing authorities, and other third parties administered through government sponsored affordable housing programs. Certain of these loans may be forgiven if specific affordable housing conditions are maintained.

(4) Additional borrowings under the Company's variable rate warehouse facilities require additional collateral, which are subject to lender approval.

The table above excludes consolidated senior CMBS positions owned by third parties, which are reflected in our condensed consolidated GAAP balance sheets, as these liabilities are non-recourse to us and can only be satisfied by repayment of the collateral loans underlying such securitizations.

The following table is a summary of the impact of interest rate derivatives on our weighted average interest rate as of June 30, 2026:

Weighted average interest rate of loans secured by our properties	5.0%
Impact of interest rate swaps, caps and other interest rate derivatives	(0.9)%
Net weighted average interest rate of loans secured by our properties	4.1%

Public and Private Offerings

For the six months ended June 30, 2026, we have received proceeds of $2.3 billion from the sale of shares of common stock in our continuous public and private offerings, and units of BREIT OP.

We registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), an offering of up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S-2, Class T-2 and Class D-2 shares in our primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class T, Class T-2, Class D and Class D-2 shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan, which we began using to offer shares of our common stock in September 2025 (the "Current Offering").

As of August 7, 2026, we have received cumulative net proceeds of $2.7 billion from selling an aggregate of 194.4 million shares of our common stock in the Current Offering (consisting of 122.9 million Class I shares, 18.6 million Class S shares, 41.5 million Class S-2 shares, 2.2 million Class D shares, 7.9 million Class D-2 shares, 0.7 million Class T shares, and 0.6 million Class T-2 shares).

Additionally, we have and may continue to conduct private offerings of Class I, Class S-2, Class T-2, Class D-2, Class C, Class L, and Class L-2 shares to accredited investors or other vehicles that hold our shares and other assets, as described in our prospectus. All such private offerings are or will be exempt from the registration provisions of the Securities Act.

Capital Uses

During periods when we are selling more shares than we are repurchasing, we primarily use our capital to acquire our investments, which we also fund with other capital resources. During periods when we are repurchasing more shares than we are selling, we primarily use our capital to fund repurchases. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, we fulfilled $2.1 billion of repurchases requested, which represents all repurchase requests received for the six months ended June 30, 2026. We continue to believe that our current liquidity position is sufficient to meet the needs of our business.

In addition, we may have other funding obligations, which we expect to satisfy with the cash flows generated from our investments and our capital resources described above. Such obligations may include distributions to our stockholders, operating expenses, capital expenditures, repayment of indebtedness, and debt service on our outstanding indebtedness. Our operating expenses include, among other things, the management fee we pay to the Adviser and the performance participation allocation that BREIT OP pays to the Special Limited Partner, both of which will impact our liquidity to the extent the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner elects to receive such payments in cash, or subsequently redeem shares or OP units previously issued to them. To date, the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner have both always elected to be paid in a combination of shares and OP units, resulting in a non-cash expense.

Contractual Obligations

The following table aggregates our contractual obligations and commitments with payments due subsequent to June 30, 2026 ($ in thousands):

Obligations	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 years	3-5 years	More than 5 years
Indebtedness[1]	$ 65,717,907	$ 13,412,006	$ 19,315,308	$ 23,864,133	$ 9,126,460
Ground leases	2,773,232	40,759	83,011	85,609	2,563,853
Total	$ 68,491,139	$ 13,452,765	$ 19,398,319	$ 23,949,742	$ 11,690,313

(1) The allocation of our indebtedness includes both principal and interest payments based on the fully extended maturity date and interest rates in effect at June 30, 2026. The table above excludes consolidated senior CMBS positions owned by third parties, as these liabilities are non-recourse to us and can only be satisfied by repayment of the collateral loans underlying such securitizations.

Cash Flows

The following table provides a breakdown of the net change in our cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash ($ in thousands):

	Six Months Ended June 30,
	2026	2025
Cash flows provided by operating activities	$ 1,213,888	$ 1,181,577
Cash flows provided by investing activities	7,136,238	4,456,795
Cash flows used in financing activities	(8,455,010)	(5,554,390)
Net (decrease) increase in cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash	$ (104,884)	$ 83,982

Cash flows provided by operating activities increased $32.3 million during the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily due to increased cash flows from distributions of earnings from unconsolidated entities.

Cash flows provided by investing activities increased $2.7 billion during the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily due to (i) an increase of $1.6 billion in proceeds from sales and repayments of investments in real estate debt, (ii) an increase of $1.4 billion in repayments of real estate loans held by consolidated securitization vehicles, (iii) an increase of $1.1 billion in proceeds from disposition of real estate and (iv) a decrease of $0.2 billion in investment in unconsolidated entities. This was partially offset by an increase of $1.7 billion in purchases of investments in real estate debt.

Cash flows used in financing activities increased $2.9 billion for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily due to a net increase in the repayment of borrowings of $3.7 billion and an increase of $1.3 billion in repayments of senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles. This was offset by a decrease of $1.4 billion in repurchases of common stock and an increase of $0.6 billion in proceeds from issuance of common stock.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

See Note 2 — “Summary of Significant Accounting Policies” to our consolidated financial statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-K for a discussion concerning recent accounting pronouncements.

Critical Accounting Estimates

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based upon our condensed consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with GAAP. The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with GAAP involves significant judgments and assumptions and require estimates about matters that are inherently uncertain. There have been no material changes to our Critical Accounting Policies, including significant accounting policies that we believe are the most affected by our judgments, estimates, and assumptions, which are described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk with respect to our variable rate indebtedness such that an increase in interest rates would result in higher net interest expense. We seek to manage our exposure to interest rate risk by utilizing a mix of fixed and floating rate financings with staggered maturities, and through interest rate hedging agreements to fix or cap a majority of our variable rate debt. As of June 30, 2026, the outstanding principal balance of our variable rate indebtedness was $38.2 billion and consisted of mortgage loans, secured and unsecured term loans, secured and unsecured revolving credit facilities, and secured financings on investments in real estate debt.

Certain of our mortgage loans, secured and unsecured term loans, secured and unsecured revolving credit facilities, and secured financings are variable rate and indexed primarily to SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, and other similar benchmark rates (collectively, the "Reference Rates"). We have executed interest rate swaps with an aggregate net notional amount of $26.7 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate net notional balance of $19.8 billion as of June 30, 2026 to hedge the risk of increasing interest rates. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of 25 basis points in each of the Reference Rates would have resulted in increased interest expense of $7.1 million and $14.2 million, respectively, net of the impact of our interest rate swaps and caps. Our exposure to interest rate risk may vary in future periods as the amount and terms of our interest rate hedging agreements change over time as we implement our hedging program. See "Part I. Item 1A. Risk Factors — Risks Related to Investments in Real Estate Debt — We utilize derivatives, which involve numerous risks" and "Failure to hedge effectively against interest rate changes may materially adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition" and "Part I. Item 1A. Risk Factors — General Risk Factors — We will face risks associated with hedging transactions" of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for more information on risks associated with our use of interest rate derivatives and hedging transactions.

Investments in Real Estate Debt, at Fair Value

As of June 30, 2026, we held $4.4 billion of investments in real estate debt, which excludes the impact of consolidating the underlying loans that serve as collateral for certain securitizations on our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Our investments in real estate debt are primarily floating-rate and indexed to the Reference Rates, and as such, exposed to interest rate risk. Our net income will increase or decrease depending on interest rate movements. While we cannot predict factors that may or may not affect interest rates, a decrease of 25 basis points in the Reference Rates would have resulted in a decrease to income from investments in real estate debt of $2.1 million and $4.1 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026.

We may also be exposed to market risk with respect to our investments in real estate debt due to changes in the fair value of our investments. We seek to manage our exposure to market risk with respect to our investments in real estate debt by making investments in real estate debt backed by different types of collateral and varying credit ratings. The fair value of our investments may fluctuate, therefore the amount we will realize upon any sale of our investments in real estate debt is unknown.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company maintains disclosure controls and procedures (as that term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the Company's reports under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, and summarized and reported within the time periods specified in SEC rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. Any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives. An evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report was made under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer. Based upon this evaluation, the Company's principal executive officer and chief financial officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (a) are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is timely recorded, processed, summarized and reported and (b) include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in the Company's "internal control over financial reporting" (as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that occurred during the most recent quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

From time to time, we may be involved in various claims and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. As of June 30, 2026, we were not involved in any material legal proceedings.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

For information regarding factors that could affect our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, see the risk factors discussed in Part I, Item 1A. There have been no material changes to the risk factors discussed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

ITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, we issued equity securities that were not registered under the Securities Act. As described in Note 10 to our condensed consolidated financial statements, the Adviser is entitled to an annual management fee payable monthly in cash, shares of common stock, or BREIT OP units, in each case at the Adviser's election. For the three months ended June 30, 2026, the Adviser elected to receive its management fee in Class B units of BREIT OP, and we issued 12.2 million Class B units of BREIT OP to the Adviser in satisfaction of the management fees through May 2026. Additionally, we issued 4.1 million Class B units of BREIT OP to the Adviser in July 2026 in satisfaction of the June 2026 management fee.

The Special Limited Partner is entitled to a quarterly performance participation allocation, less any performance participation allocation received with respect to prior quarters in that year. During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we issued 10.9 million Class B units of BREIT OP to the Special Limited Partner as payment of the performance participation allocation earned by the Special Limited Partner during the three months ended March 31, 2026. Additionally, we issued 16.7 million Class B units of BREIT OP to the Special Limited Partner in July 2026 in satisfaction of the performance participation allocation earned by the Special Limited Partner during the three months ended June 30, 2026.

We have also sold Class I and Class C shares to feeder vehicles created primarily to hold Class I and Class C shares and offer indirect interests in such shares to other investors. During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we received $114.1 million from selling 8.0 million unregistered Class I shares and $10.0 million from selling 0.6 million unregistered Class C shares to such vehicles, in each case, including shares issued pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan.

We have also sold Class I and Class S-2 shares to certain accredited investors through certain participating broker-dealers. During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we received $96.2 million from selling 6.7 million unregistered Class I shares and $137.9 million from selling 9.7 million unregistered Class S-2 shares, in each case, including shares issued pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan.

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we have also issued 3.3 million Class S and D shares for $47.7 million, pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan to certain investors that previously purchased shares in the public offering and are clients of certain participating broker-dealers.

Each of the foregoing transactions was exempt from the registration provisions of the Securities Act, by virtue of Section 4(a)(2) and/or Regulation D or Regulation S promulgated thereunder.

Share Repurchases

Under our Share Repurchase Plan, to the extent we choose to repurchase shares in any particular month, we will only repurchase shares as of the opening of the last calendar day of that month (each such date, a "Repurchase Date"). Repurchases will be made at the transaction price in effect on the Repurchase Date (which will generally be equal to our prior month's NAV per share), except that shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of the transaction price (the "Early Repurchase Deduction") subject to certain limited exceptions. Settlements of share repurchases will generally be made within three business days of the Repurchase Date. The Early Repurchase Deduction will not apply to shares acquired through our distribution reinvestment plan.

The aggregate NAV of total repurchases of all share classes, excluding OP units held by investors other than the Company, (including repurchases at certain non-U.S. investor access funds primarily created to hold shares of the Company, but excluding any Early Repurchase Deduction applicable to the repurchased shares) is limited to no more than 2% of our aggregate NAV per month (measured using the aggregate NAV attributable to stockholders as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and no more than 5% of our aggregate NAV per calendar quarter (measured using the average aggregate NAV attributable to stockholders as of the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed during each month in a calendar quarter. Certain stockholders are subject to certain restrictions, including a minimum holding period and certain repurchase limitations, in addition to the Company's existing monthly and quarterly limitations. We have in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under our Share Repurchase Plan, and we have in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, we fulfilled $2.1 billion of share and unit repurchases requested, which represents all repurchase requests received for the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Should repurchase requests, in our board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company as a whole, or should our board of directors otherwise determine that investing our liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing our shares is in the best interests of the Company as a whole, our board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased

(including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under our Share Repurchase Plan), or none at all. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our Share Repurchase Plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our Share Repurchase Plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. In the event that we determine to repurchase some but not all of the shares submitted for repurchase during any month, shares repurchased at the end of the month will be repurchased on a pro rata basis after we have repurchased all shares for which repurchase has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of the Share Repurchase Plan, as applicable.

If the transaction price for the applicable month is not made available by the tenth business day prior to the last business day of the month (or is changed after such date), then no repurchase requests will be accepted for such month and stockholders who wish to have their shares repurchased the following month must resubmit their repurchase requests.

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, we repurchased shares of our common stock in the following amounts:

Month of:	Total Number of Shares Repurchased	Average Price Paid per Share	Total Number of Shares Repurchased as Part of Publicly Announced Plans or Programs	Repurchases as a Percentage of NAV[1]	Maximum Number of Shares Pending Repurchase Pursuant to Publicly Announced Plans or Program[2]
April 2026	19,336,546	$ 14.23	19,336,546	0.6 %	—
May 2026	19,961,735	$ 14.33	19,961,735	0.6 %	—
June 2026	20,015,049	$ 14.40	20,015,049	0.6 %	—
Total	59,313,330	$ 14.32	59,313,330	1.8 %	—

(1) Represents aggregate NAV of the shares repurchased under our Share Repurchase Plan over aggregate NAV of all shares outstanding, in each case, based on the NAV as of the last calendar day of the prior month.

(2) All repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan were satisfied.

As of June 30, 2026, Blackstone owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $5.3 billion. Blackstone did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for management fees or the performance participation allocation during the three months ended June 30, 2026.

BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 4 DATED JULY 22, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of August 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our June 30, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes;
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering"); and
- to otherwise update the Prospectus

Portfolio Update

For the month ended June 30, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.53 and Class I total return was 1.1% (not annualized).[1]

During the six months ended June 30, 2026, BREIT deployed $5.7 billion (at BREIT's share) into the development of data centers through its QTS platform. This represents a 126% increase over the $2.5 billion deployed during the six months ended June 30, 2025. These data center developments are 100% pre-leased, in substantially all cases to investment grade tenants.

On or around July 24, 2026, the Company expects to publish its Q2 2026 Update for stockholders, which will be available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

August 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of August 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of July 31, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.5256
Class S-2	$	14.5134
Class D-2	$	14.1525
Class T-2	$	14.2621

The August 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of June 30, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.51, Class D-2 NAV per share was $14.15, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.26. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 1.0%, Class D-2 total return was 1.1%, and Class T-2 total return was 1.0% for June 2026.

June 30, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since June 30, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for June 30, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

Components of NAV	June 30, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 92,221,975
Investments in real estate debt	4,379,704
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	20,545,135
Cash and cash equivalents	1,405,134
Restricted cash	835,097
Other assets	3,149,786
Mortgage notes, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(54,215,726)
Secured financings on investments in real estate debt	(2,655,650)
Subscriptions received in advance	(198,315)
Other liabilities	(2,660,688)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(243,066)
Management fee payable	(59,437)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(12,666)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries[4]	(5,923,526)
Net asset value	$ 56,567,757
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,891,652

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $81.2 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of June 30, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of June 30, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $44.3 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of June 30, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

(4) Includes $111.2 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of June 30, 2026.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of June 30, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of June 30, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 31,520,822	2,170,024	$ 14.5256
Class S Shares	16,453,691	1,133,691	14.5134
Class S-2 Shares	779,030	53,677	14.5134
Class D Shares	1,313,357	92,800	14.1525
Class D-2 Shares	106,807	7,547	14.1525
Class T Shares	403,621	28,300	14.2621
Class T-2 Shares	6,959	488	14.2621
Class C Shares	661,893	38,788	17.0646
Class L Shares	118,090	8,107	14.5658
Third Party Operating Partnership Units[(1)]	5,203,487	358,230	14.5256
Total	$ 56,567,757	3,891,652

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the June 30, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.6%	6.4%
Office	7.8%	5.7%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.9%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.7)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+2.9%	+3.4%	+2.7%	+1.5%	+1.0%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.6)%	(3.1)%	(2.5)%	(1.4)%	(0.9)%	(2.9)%	(2.2)%

Components of NAV	May 31, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 92,817,161
Investments in real estate debt	3,966,561
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	19,657,948

Other liabilities	(2,497,775)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(156,496)
Management fee payable	(58,833)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(13,051)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries[4]	(5,872,842)
Net asset value	$ 56,074,274
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,884,712

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $81.9 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of May 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of May 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $42.7 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of May 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

(4) Includes $74.2 million of net offering proceeds raised through the DST Program as of May 31, 2026.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of May 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partnership, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Status of our Current Public Offering

We are currently offering on a continuous basis up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in shares in our primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. As of the date of this Supplement, we had issued and sold in the Offering (i) 130,557,946 shares of our common stock (consisting of 83,948,879 Class I Shares, 38,569,017 Class S-2 Shares, 7,518,810 Class D-2 Shares, and 521,240 Class T-2 Shares) in the primary offering for total proceeds of $1.8 billion and (ii) 52,897,691 shares of our common stock (consisting of 30,990,388 Class I Shares, 18,567,256 Class S Shares, 218,607 Class S-2 Shares, 2,174,143 Class D Shares, 64,221 Class D-2 Shares, 877,739 Class T Shares, and 5,337 Class T-2 Shares) pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan for a total value of $0.7 billion. As of June 30, 2026, our aggregate NAV was $56.6 billion. We intend to continue selling shares in the Offering on a monthly basis.

Updates to the Prospectus

Suitability Standards

The following paragraph updates the suitability standard for Idaho investors in the offering, including under the "Suitability Standards" section of the Prospectus and in "Appendix B: Form of Subscription Agreement."

Idaho Investors. Purchasers residing in Idaho must have either (a) a minimum annual gross income of $100,000 and a minimum net worth of $100,000; or (b) a minimum net worth of $350,000. Net worth shall be determined exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles.

The following paragraph supersedes and replaces the paragraph entitled "Pennsylvania Investors" in the "Suitability Standards" section of the Prospectus.

Pennsylvania Investors. The offer and sale of our common stock to persons in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is governed by Pennsylvania law.

The heightened suitability standard for Pennsylvania investors included in Section 8.b. of "Appendix B: Form of Subscription Agreement" in the Prospectus is hereby removed in its entirety.

BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 3 DATED JUNE 15, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of July 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our May 31, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes;
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering"); and
- to otherwise update the Prospectus

Portfolio Update

For the month ended May 31, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.43 and Class I total return was 0.9% (not annualized).[1]

On May 20, 2026, the Company published its Q1 2026 Update for stockholders, which is available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

July 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of July 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of June 30, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.4253
Class S-2	$	14.4136
Class D-2	$	14.0569
Class T-2	$	14.1649

The July 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of May 31, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.41, Class D-2 NAV per share was $14.06, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.16. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 0.8%, Class D-2 total return was 0.9%, and Class T-2 total return was 0.8% for May 2026.

May 31, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since May 31, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for May 31, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $81.9 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of May 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of May 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $42.7 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of May 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of May 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the May 31, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.4%	6.1%
Office	7.8%	5.7%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.6)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+2.9%	+3.4%	+2.8%	+1.5%	+1.0%	+3.2%	+2.4%

Previously, he served on the boards of Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. (NYSE: GAP), the Apollo Theater Foundation, the Boys and Girls Clubs of America and the Economic Club of New York. He also served as chairman of the Magazine Publishers of America from 1997 to 1999, becoming the first African American to hold this position in the 75-year history of the organization. Mr. Lewis received a BA and MA in Political Science and International Affairs from the University of New Mexico. Mr. Lewis is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive business experience as founder and chairman of Essence Communications, as well as the skills he gained during his active board service to a number of diverse organizations.

Although most of the services provided to us by the individuals who are executive officers are in their respective roles as executive officers of the Adviser, they have certain duties as executive officers of our company arising from Maryland law, our charter and our bylaws. These duties include executing contracts and other instruments in our name and on our behalf and such other duties as may be prescribed by our board of directors from time to time.

Our executive officers will act as our agents, execute contracts and other instruments in our name and on our behalf, and in general perform all duties incident to their offices and such other duties as may be prescribed by our board of directors from time to time. Our officers will devote such portion of their time to our affairs as is required for the performance of their duties, but they are not required to devote all of their time to us.

Suitability Standards

The following paragraph is included in the Prospectus as the applicable suitability standard for Minnesota investors in the offering, including under the "Suitability Standards" section of the Prospectus and in "Appendix B: Form of Subscription Agreement".

Minnesota Investors: Purchasers residing in Minnesota must have either (a) a minimum annual gross income of $100,000 and a minimum net worth of $100,000, or (b) a minimum net worth of $350,000. In addition, the total investment in us and other non-traded direct participation programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs, and commodity pools, but excluding federal and state exempt private offerings and any investment company registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940) may not exceed 10% of a purchaser's liquid net worth at the time of the purchaser's investment in us. This 10% liquid net worth limit does not apply to (i) distributions reinvested through the distribution reinvestment plan and (ii) a purchaser who is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D of the Securities Act, as amended.

SUPPLEMENT NO. 3 DATED JUNE 15, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of July 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our May 31, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes;
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering"); and
- to otherwise update the Prospectus

Portfolio Update

For the month ended May 31, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.43 and Class I total return was 0.9% (not annualized).[1]

On May 20, 2026, the Company published its Q1 2026 Update for stockholders, which is available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

July 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of July 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of June 30, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.4253
Class S-2	$	14.4136
Class D-2	$	14.0569
Class T-2	$	14.1649

The July 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of May 31, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.41, Class D-2 NAV per share was $14.06, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.16. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 0.8%, Class D-2 total return was 0.9%, and Class T-2 total return was 0.8% for May 2026.

May 31, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since May 31, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for May 31, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

Investments in real estate[(1)]	$ 92,817,161
Investments in real estate debt	3,966,561
Investments in unconsolidated entities[(2)]	19,657,948
Cash and cash equivalents	1,279,298
Restricted cash	740,900
Other assets	3,199,179
Mortgage notes, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(54,487,708)
Secured financings on investments in real estate debt	(2,326,219)
Subscriptions received in advance	(173,849)
Other liabilities	(2,497,775)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(156,496)
Management fee payable	(58,833)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[(3)]	(13,051)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,872,842)
Net asset value	$ 56,074,274
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,884,712

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $81.9 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of May 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of May 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $42.7 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of May 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of May 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the May 31, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.4%	6.1%
Office	7.8%	5.7%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.6)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+2.9%	+3.4%	+2.8%	+1.5%	+1.0%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.7)%	(3.1)%	(2.5)%	(1.4)%	(0.9)%	(2.9)%	(2.2)%

Our total NAV presented in the following tables includes the NAV of our Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, and Class C common stockholders, as well as partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by parties other than the Company. The following table provides a breakdown of the major components of our total NAV as of April 30, 2026 ($ and shares in thousands):

Richard I. Gilchrist has been a director of the Company since July 2016. He served as Senior Advisor for acquisitions and investments at The Irvine Company, a privately-held real estate investment company, a position he held from July 2011 until July 2018, after having served as President of its Investment Properties Group from 2006 to 2011. He served as President and Co-Chief Executive Officer and on the board of directors of Maguire Properties, Inc., a publicly-held REIT, from 2002 to 2006. From 1997 to 2001, Mr. Gilchrist served as Chief Executive Officer, President and member of the board of directors of Commonwealth Atlantic Properties, a privately-held REIT. From 1995 to 1997, he served as the Co-Chairman and Managing Partner of CommonWealth Partners, a private real estate company he co-founded. He served as chairman of the board and on the compensation committee of Spirit Realty Capital, Inc. (NYSE: SRC) from 2012 to January 2024, when Spirit was acquired by Realty Income (NYSE: O). He has previously served as a director of Ventas (NYSE: VTR) from 2011 to August 2021 and was a chairman of both its compensation and investment committees. He has also previously served as a director of BioMed Realty Trust, Inc. (NYSE: BMR) from 2007 to 2014, Nationwide Health Properties, Inc. from 2008 to 2011, and TIER REIT, Inc. (NYSE: TIER) from 2013 to August 2019, and as chairman from 2016 to August 2019 until TIER REIT, Inc. was acquired by Cousins Properties Inc. (NYSE: CUZ). Mr. Gilchrist is a member of the Whittier College board of trustees, where he earned his BA in 1968. He rejoined the board in May 2023 and previously served as chairman from 2003 to 2011. He is also a member of the advisory board of the University of California, Los Angeles Law School, where he earned a JD in 1971. Mr. Gilchrist is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive experience in the real estate industry, including having served as an executive officer of several REITs, his knowledge and experience in internal and external risk oversight, and his experience as a member of the board of directors of five public REITs, including as chairman of two.

Field Griffith has been a director of the Company since July 2016. He also currently serves as a non-executive director for the Prime Property Fund LLC, a position he has held since February 2018. Mr. Griffith was most recently employed full time as the Director of Real Assets Investments for the Virginia Retirement System from 2004 to 2016 where he was responsible for managing all aspects of the System's global real estate, infrastructure and natural resource portfolios. The global real estate portfolio consisted of publicly- and privately-traded equity and debt investments in the form of separate accounts, joint ventures, closed-end funds and open-end funds. Mr. Griffith was also a member of the management committee of the Virginia Retirement System. From 1999 to 2004, he was a senior executive at Gemini Rosemont Commercial Real Estate where he was engaged in real estate portfolio management activities. From 1985 to 1999, Mr. Griffith was employed in the real estate investment group for UNUM Life Insurance Company engaged in mortgage and equity underwriting, structuring, property acquisitions/dispositions and portfolio management of the commercial real estate equity group. From 1983 to 1985, he worked in the real estate investment group at Phoenix Home Life Insurance Company. Mr. Griffith is a Chartered Financial Analyst and received a BA from Beloit College and an MBA from the University of Washington. From 2007 to 2013, he served as a board member of the Pension Real Estate Association. From August 2017 to March 2021, he served on the board of directors of Tedford Housing, Inc., a non-profit organization focused on serving the regional homeless population. From March 2017 through December 2025, he served as a non-executive director for The Forest Company (registered in Guernsey, UK). Mr. Griffith is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive experience with real estate investments.

Edward Lewis has been a director of the Company since July 2016. From 2000 until February 2017, he was Senior Advisor to Solera Capital, a private equity firm. In 1969, he co-founded Essence Communications Partners, a multimedia company targeting African American women, serving as Chief Executive Officer, publisher and chairman for 35 years. Previously, he served on the boards of Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. (NYSE: GAP), the Apollo Theater Foundation, the Boys and Girls Clubs of America and the Economic Club of New York. He also served as chairman of the Magazine Publishers of America from 1997 to 1999, becoming the first African American to hold this position in the 75-year history of the organization. Mr. Lewis received a BA and MA in Political Science and International Affairs from the University of New Mexico. Mr. Lewis is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive business experience as founder and chairman of Essence Communications, as well as the skills he gained during his active board service to a number of diverse organizations.

Although most of the services provided to us by the individuals who are executive officers are in their respective roles as executive officers of the Adviser, they have certain duties as executive officers of our company arising from Maryland law, our charter and our bylaws. These duties include executing contracts and other instruments in our name and on our behalf and such other duties as may be prescribed by our board of directors from time to time.

Our executive officers will act as our agents, execute contracts and other instruments in our name and on our behalf, and in general perform all duties incident to their offices and such other duties as may be prescribed by our board of directors from time to time. Our officers will devote such portion of their time to our affairs as is required for the performance of their duties, but they are not required to devote all of their time to us.

Suitability Standards

The following paragraph is included in the Prospectus as the applicable suitability standard for Minnesota investors in the offering, including under the "Suitability Standards" section of the Prospectus and in "Appendix B: Form of Subscription Agreement".

Minnesota Investors: Purchasers residing in Minnesota must have either (a) a minimum annual gross income of $100,000 and a minimum net worth of $100,000, or (b) a minimum net worth of $350,000. In addition, the total investment in us and other non-traded direct participation programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs, and commodity pools, but excluding federal and state exempt private offerings and any investment company registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940) may not exceed 10% of a purchaser's liquid net worth at the time of the purchaser's investment in us. This 10% liquid net worth limit does not apply to (i) distributions reinvested through the distribution reinvestment plan and (ii) a purchaser who is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D of the Securities Act, as amended.

BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 2 DATED MAY 15, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of June 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our April 30, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes;
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering"); and
- to include our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2026

Portfolio Update

For the month ended April 30, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.35 and Class I total return was 1.1% (not annualized).[1]

On or around May 18, 2026, the Company expects to publish its Q1 2026 Update for stockholders, which will be available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

June 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of June 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of May 31, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.3527
Class S-2	$	14.3413
Class T-2	$	14.0944

The June 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of April 30, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.34, Class D-2 NAV per share was $13.99, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.09. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 1.0%, Class D-2 total return was 1.1%, and Class T-2 total return was 1.0% for April 2026.

April 30, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since April 30, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for April 30, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

Components of NAV	April 30, 2026
Investments in real estate[(1)]	$ 94,108,007
Investments in real estate debt	4,134,272
Investments in unconsolidated entities[(2)]	18,914,874
Cash and cash equivalents	1,413,323
Restricted cash	748,936
Other assets	3,205,063
Mortgage notes, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(55,653,650)
Secured financings on investments in real estate debt	(2,410,458)
Subscriptions received in advance	(189,427)
Other liabilities	(2,531,924)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(241,941)
Management fee payable	(58,345)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[(3)]	(12,663)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,902,721)
Net asset value	$ 55,523,346
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,866,182

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $83.2 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of April 30, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of April 30, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $41.2 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of April 30, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of April 30, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of April 30, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 30,874,027	2,151,093	$ 14.3527
Class S Shares	16,594,762	1,157,135	14.3413
Class S-2 Shares	616,515	42,989	14.3413
Class D Shares	1,326,484	94,830	13.9880
Class D-2 Shares	84,727	6,057	13.9880
Class T Shares	424,122	30,092	14.0944
Class T-2 Shares	5,342	379	14.0944

Third Party Operating Partnership Units[(1)]	4,839,102	337,156	14.3527
Total	$ 55,523,346	3,866,182

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the April 30, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.5%	6.1%
Self Storage	8.5%	6.5%
Office	7.8%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Self Storage Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.8%	+1.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.6)%	(1.7)%	(1.9)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+3.0%	+3.4%	+2.8%	+1.5%	+1.0%	+2.2%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.7)%	(3.1)%	(2.6)%	(1.4)%	(0.9)%	(2.2)%	(2.9)%	(2.3)%

Components of NAV	March 31, 2026

Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,867,590)
Net asset value	$ 54,928,181
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,851,559

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $83.7 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of March 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of March 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $39.5 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of March 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

1. Organization and Business Purpose

Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. ("BREIT" or the "Company") invests primarily in stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate in the United States and, to a lesser extent, outside the United States. The Company to a lesser extent invests in real estate debt investments. The Company is the sole general partner and majority limited partner of BREIT Operating Partnership L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("BREIT OP"). BREIT Special Limited Partner L.P. (the "Special Limited Partner"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Blackstone Inc. (together with its affiliates, "Blackstone"), owns a special limited partner interest in BREIT OP. Substantially all of the Company's business is conducted through BREIT OP. The Company and BREIT OP are externally managed by BX REIT Advisors L.L.C. (the "Adviser"). The Adviser is part of the real estate group of Blackstone, a leading global investment manager. The Company was formed on November 16, 2015 as a Maryland corporation and qualifies as a real estate investment trust ("REIT") for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The Company registered an offering with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") of up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, and Class T-2 shares in its primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T and Class T-2 shares pursuant to its distribution reinvestment plan, which the Company began using to offer shares of its common stock in September 2025 (the "Current Offering"). The share classes have different upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees. Class S, D, and T shares of the Company's common stock are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan. In addition to the Current Offering, the Company is conducting private offerings of Class I, Class C and Class F shares to certain feeder or other vehicles that hold the Company's shares and other assets, which in turn sell interests in themselves to other investors as described in the Company's prospectus. Further, the Company is conducting private offerings of Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class L, and Class L-2 shares to certain accredited investors through certain participating broker dealers. All such private offerings are or will be, as applicable, exempt from the registration provisions of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), by virtue of Section 4(a)(2) and/or Regulation D or Regulation S promulgated thereunder. The Company intends to continue selling shares in the Current Offering and private offerings on a monthly basis.

As of March 31, 2026, the Company owned, in whole or in part, 4,512 properties and 63,578 single family rental homes. The Company currently operates in nine reportable segments: Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers, Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, Self Storage, and Investments in Real Estate Debt. Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing. Net Lease includes the real estate assets of The Bellagio Las Vegas, The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas, and the Company's unconsolidated investment in a Net Lease platform. Financial results by segment are reported in Note 16 — Segment Reporting.

In November 2025, the Company, through BREIT OP, commenced a program (the "DST Program") to issue and sell beneficial interests ("DST Interests") in specific Delaware statutory trusts (the "DSTs") holding real properties (the "DST Properties") through private offerings (the "DST Program"). These private offerings are exempt from registration under the Securities Act.

Under the DST Program, each DST Property may be sourced from our real properties or acquired from third parties, will be held in a separate DST, and will be leased by the DST to a wholly-owned subsidiary of BREIT OP under a master lease agreement. In accordance with the master lease, we are responsible for subleasing the DST Properties and for covering all costs associated with operating the underlying DST Properties. Each master lease agreement will be guaranteed by BREIT OP, which will retain a fair market value purchase option (the "FMV Option"), giving BREIT OP the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests in the applicable DST from the DST investors any time during a defined period in exchange for BREIT OP units or, in certain cases, a combination of BREIT OP units and cash. After a one-year holding period, investors who acquire BREIT OP units pursuant to the FMV Option have a right to cause BREIT OP to redeem all or a portion of their OP units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") for interim financial information and the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. The condensed consolidated financial statements, including the condensed notes thereto, are unaudited and exclude some of the disclosures required in audited financial statements. Management believes it has made all necessary adjustments, consisting of only normal recurring items, so that the condensed consolidated financial statements are presented fairly and that estimates made in preparing the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements are reasonable and prudent. The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, filed with the SEC.

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, the Company's subsidiaries, and joint ventures in which the Company has a controlling financial interest. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Certain amounts in the Company's prior period Condensed Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation. The Company aggregated the par value of each share class previously reported as separate financial statement line items into a single financial statement line item for par value of all share classes. Such reclassifications had no effect on previously reported totals or subtotals in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Equity.

Additionally, certain amounts in the Company's prior period Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation. Specifically, payments of withholding taxes upon the delivery of equity-based awards, which were previously included in proceeds from the issuance of common stock, are now presented separately. Such reclassifications had no effect on previously reported totals or subtotals in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Principles of Consolidation

The Company consolidates all entities in which it has a controlling financial interest through majority ownership or voting rights and variable interest entities ("VIEs") whereby the Company is the primary beneficiary. In determining whether the Company has a controlling financial interest in a partially owned entity and the requirement to consolidate the accounts of that entity, the Company considers whether the entity is a VIE and whether the Company is the primary beneficiary. The Company is the primary beneficiary of a VIE when it has (i) the power to direct the most significant activities impacting the economic performance of the VIE, and (ii) the obligation to absorb losses or receive benefits significant to the VIE. Entities that do not qualify as VIEs are generally considered voting interest entities ("VOEs") and are evaluated for consolidation under the voting interest model. VOEs are consolidated when the Company controls the entity through a majority voting interest or other means.

For consolidated subsidiaries, the non-controlling interest's share of the assets, liabilities, and operations is included in non-controlling interests as equity of the Company. The non-controlling interest is generally computed as the non-controlling interest's ownership percentage. Certain of the subsidiaries formed by the Company provide the non-controlling interest a profits interest based on certain internal rate of return hurdles being achieved. Any profits interest due to the non-controlling interest is also reported within non-controlling interests.

The Company considers the DSTs to be VIEs due to the master lease structure, the FMV Option, and the guarantee of the master lease payments by BREIT OP. The Company determined it was the primary beneficiary of the DSTs and has consolidated them in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. All of the rental revenues and operating property expenses of the DST Properties are included in their respective line items on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The DST Interests are presented as Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and are allocated their share of the DST Properties' income or loss based on the master lease payments they receive. The DST Interest's share of income and loss is reported in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations as Net Loss Attributable to Non-controlling Interests in Consolidated Subsidiaries. Amounts paid to the investors of each DST, which are based on the guaranteed master lease payments, may be greater or less than the net amount of the revenues and expenses from the underlying DST Properties, and may fluctuate over time.

When the requirements for consolidation are not met and the Company has significant influence over the operations of the entity, the investment is accounted for under the equity method of accounting. Investments in unconsolidated entities for which the Company has not elected the fair value option ("FVO") are initially recorded at cost and subsequently adjusted for the Company's pro-rata share of net income, contributions and distributions. When the Company elects the FVO, the Company records its share of net asset value of the entity and any related unrealized gains and losses.

The Company owns certain subordinate securities in CMBS securitizations that give the Company certain rights with respect to the underlying loans that serve as collateral for the CMBS securitization. In particular, these subordinate securities typically give the holder the right to direct certain activities of the securitization on behalf of all securityholders, which could impact the securitization's overall economic performance. Such rights, along with the obligation to absorb losses and receive benefits from the ownership of the subordinate securities, require consolidation of these securitizations, which are considered VIEs under GAAP.

As of March 31, 2026, the total assets and liabilities of the Company's consolidated VIEs, excluding BREIT OP, were $33.4 billion and $24.0 billion, respectively, compared to $36.1 billion and $26.3 billion, respectively, as of December 31, 2025. Such amounts are included on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may ultimately differ materially from those estimates.

Fair Value Measurements

Under normal market conditions, the fair value of an investment is the amount that would be received to sell an asset or transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e., the exit price). The Company uses a hierarchical framework that prioritizes and ranks the level of market price observability used in measuring investments at fair value. Market price observability is impacted by a number of factors, including the type of investment and the characteristics specific to the investment, and the state of the marketplace, including the existence and transparency of transactions between market participants. Investments with readily available actively quoted prices or for which fair value can be measured from actively quoted prices generally will have a higher degree of market price observability and a lesser degree of judgment used in measuring fair value.

Investments measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following levels within the fair value hierarchy:

Level 1 — quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the measurement date. The Company does not adjust the quoted price for these investments.

Level 2 — quoted prices are available in markets that are not active or model inputs are based on inputs that are either directly or indirectly observable as of the measurement date.

Level 3 — pricing inputs are unobservable and include instances where there is minimal, if any, market activity for the investment. These inputs require significant judgment or estimation by management or third parties when determining fair value and generally represent anything that does not meet the criteria of Levels 1 and 2. Due to the inherent uncertainty of these estimates, these values may differ materially from the values that would have been used had a ready market for these investments existed.

Valuation of assets and liabilities measured at fair value

The Company's investments in real estate debt are reported at fair value. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's investments in real estate debt, directly or indirectly, consisted of commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS") and residential mortgage-backed securities ("RMBS"), which are securities backed by one or more mortgage loans secured by real estate assets, as well as corporate bonds, term loans, mezzanine loans, and other investments in debt issued by real estate-related companies or secured by real estate assets. The Company generally determines the fair value of its investments in real estate debt by utilizing third party pricing service providers whenever available.

In determining the fair value of a particular investment, pricing service providers may use broker-dealer quotations, reported trades or valuation estimates from their internal pricing models. The pricing service providers' internal models for securities such as real estate debt generally consider the attributes applicable to a particular class of the security (e.g., credit rating, seniority), current market data, and estimated cash flows for each security, and incorporate specific collateral performance, as applicable.

Certain of the Company's investments in real estate debt, such as mezzanine loans and other investments, are unlikely to have readily available market quotations. In such cases, the Company will generally determine the initial value based on the acquisition price of such investment if acquired by the Company or the par value of such investment if originated by the Company. Following the initial measurement, the Company generally engages third party service providers to perform valuations for such investments. The third party service provider will determine fair value by utilizing or reviewing certain of the following (i) market yield data, (ii) discounted cash flow modeling, (iii) collateral asset performance, (iv) local or macro real estate performance, (v) capital market conditions, (vi) debt yield or loan-to-value ("LTV") ratios, and (vii) borrower financial condition and performance. Refer to Note 5 for additional details on the Company's investments in real estate debt.

For CMBS securitizations the Company consolidates, it has elected to apply the measurement alternative under GAAP and measures both the financial assets and financial liabilities of the securitizations using the fair value of such financial liabilities, which it considers more observable than the fair value of such financial assets.

The Company has elected the FVO for certain of its investments in unconsolidated entities and therefore, reports these investments at fair value. The Company separately values the assets and liabilities of the investments in unconsolidated entities. To determine the fair value of the real estate assets of the investments in unconsolidated entities, the Company utilizes a discounted cash flow methodology, taking into consideration various factors including discount rate and exit capitalization rate. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform valuations of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities. The fair value of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities is determined by modeling the cash flows and discounting them back to the present value using the weighted average cost of debt. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable LTV ratios and credit profiles. After the fair value of the assets and liabilities are determined, the Company applies its ownership interest to the net asset value and reflects this amount as its investments in unconsolidated entities at fair value. The inputs used in determining the Company's investments in unconsolidated entities carried at fair value are considered Level 3. The Company discloses the weighted average cost of capital, which combines the discount rate on the fair value of real estate and the weighted average cost of debt on the fair value of the indebtedness, and the exit capitalization rate as key Level 3 inputs.

The Company's derivative financial instruments are reported at fair value and consist of foreign currency and interest rate contracts. The Company determines the fair values of its foreign currency and interest rate contracts by utilizing a third party derivative specialist. The fair values were based on contractual cash flows and observable inputs comprising yield curves, foreign currency rates and credit spreads (Level 2 inputs).

The following table details the Company's assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis ($ in thousands):

Valuation of assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis

Certain of the Company's assets are not measured at fair value on an ongoing basis but are subject to fair value adjustments, such as when there is evidence of impairment, and therefore measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. The Company reviews its real estate properties for impairment each quarter or when there is an event or change in circumstances that indicates the carrying amount of the real estate may not be recoverable. If the GAAP depreciated cost basis of a real estate investment exceeds the undiscounted cash flows of such real estate investment, the investment is considered impaired and the GAAP depreciated cost basis is reduced to the fair value of the investment. The impairment loss is recognized based on the excess of the carrying amount of the asset over its fair value. The evaluation of anticipated future cash flows is highly subjective and is based in part on assumptions regarding future occupancy, rental rates, capital requirements and anticipated holding periods that could differ materially from actual results. Since cash flows on real estate properties considered to be "long-lived assets to be held and used" are considered on an undiscounted basis to determine whether an asset has been impaired, the Company's strategy of holding properties over the long term decreases the likelihood of recording an impairment loss. If the Company's strategy changes or market conditions otherwise dictate an earlier sale date, an impairment loss may be recognized and such loss could be material to the Company's results.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company recognized $88.4 million of impairment charges related to held and used real estate investments, which were the result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions. The cumulative fair value of such real estate investments at the time of impairment was $117.5 million, and was estimated utilizing a discounted cash flow method. The significant unobservable inputs utilized in the analysis were the discount rate (Level 3), which ranged from 7.1% to 11.8%, and the exit capitalization rate (Level 3), which ranged from 5.0% to 11.5%.

Additionally, during the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company recognized $46.8 million, of impairment charges related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs. The fair value, less estimated costs to sell, of such real estate investments at the time of impairment was $317.0 million as of March 31, 2026. The significant input utilized in the analysis was the purchase price, which is considered a Level 2 input. Refer to Note 3 for additional details of the impairments.

Valuation of liabilities not measured at fair value

As of both March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the fair value of the Company's mortgage loans, secured term loans, secured revolving credit facilities, secured financings on investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities was $0.5 billion below carrying value. Fair value of the Company's indebtedness is estimated by modeling the cash flows required by the Company's debt agreements and discounting them back to the present value using its equity discount rate. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable loan-to-value ratios and credit profiles. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform these valuations. The significant inputs used in determining the fair value of the Company's indebtedness are considered Level 3.

Earnings Per Share

Basic net loss per share of common stock is determined by dividing net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. All classes of common stock receive the same gross distribution per share. All classes of common stock are allocated net income or loss before management fees and performance participation allocation at the same rate per share, and are then adjusted to reflect class-specific management fees and performance participation allocations.

The restricted stock grants of Class I shares held by our directors and incentive compensation awards of Class I shares to certain employees of portfolio company service providers and certain employees of indirect, wholly-owned subsidiaries of BREIT are considered to be participating securities because they contain non-forfeitable rights to distributions. The impact of these restricted stock grants and incentive compensation awards on basic and diluted earnings per common share ("EPS") has been calculated using the two-class method whereby earnings are allocated to the restricted stock grants and incentive compensation awards based on dividends declared and the restricted stocks' and incentive compensation awards' participation rights in undistributed earnings. As of March 31, 2026 and 2025, the effects of using the two-class method for these restricted stock grants and incentive compensation awards were not material to the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company's stock-based compensation consists of incentive compensation awards issued to certain employees of April Housing and American Campus Communities ("ACC"), all of which are consolidated subsidiaries of BREIT, and certain employees of portfolio company service providers owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. Such awards vest over time and stock-based compensation expense is recognized for these awards using a graded vesting attribution method over the applicable vesting period of each award, based on the value of the awards on their grant date, as adjusted for forfeitures. The awards are subject to service periods ranging from three to four years. The vesting conditions that are based on the Company achieving certain returns, or other key performance metrics, over a stated hurdle amount are considered market conditions. The achievement of returns, or other key performance metrics, over the stated hurdle amounts, which affect the quantity of awards that vest, is considered a performance condition. If the Company determines it is probable that the performance conditions will be met, the value of the award will be amortized over the service periods, as adjusted for forfeitures. If the Company determines it is not probable that the performance conditions will be met, the value of the award is considered zero and any previous amortization will be reversed. The number of awards expected to vest is evaluated each reporting period and compensation expense is recognized for those awards for which achievement of the performance criteria is considered probable.

Refer to Note 10 for additional information on the awards issued to certain employees of portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. The following table details the incentive compensation awards issued to certain employees of April Housing and ACC ($ in thousands):

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2025, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2025-11, "Interim Reporting (Topic 270): Narrow Scope Improvements," which amends the guidance in ASC 270, Interim Reporting. The update enhances interim disclosure requirements by clarifying the information that must be presented in quarterly periods, including improved transparency regarding significant events, accounting policy updates, and material developments that occur between annual reporting dates. ASU 2025-11 also aligns certain interim reporting requirements more closely with annual disclosure objectives to promote consistency and comparability. The amendments are effective for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2027, and early adoption is permitted. The Company did not early adopt ASU 2025-11 and is still evaluating the impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In December 2025, the FASB issued ASU 2025-09, "Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Hedge Accounting Improvements," which amends the guidance in ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging. The update refines certain hedge accounting requirements, including clarifications to the designation and documentation criteria for hedge relationships, improvements to the assessment of hedge effectiveness, and enhanced disclosures intended to provide greater transparency into an entity's risk management activities involving derivatives. ASU 2025-09 is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2026, including interim periods within those annual periods, and early adoption is permitted. The Company did not early adopt ASU 2025-09 and is still evaluating the impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03 "Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses" ("ASU 2024-03"). ASU 2024-03 requires disclosures in the notes to the financial statements on specified information about certain costs and expenses for each interim and annual reporting period. ASU 2024-03 is effective on a prospective basis, with the option for retrospective application, for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2026 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted. The Company did not early adopt ASU 2024-03 and is still evaluating the impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

(2) The number of properties excludes single family rental homes sold.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company disposed of 23 properties alongside other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles for a total sale price attributable to BREIT of $653.2 million. These transactions were conducted as either single or joint transactions alongside other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles and the terms for the Company and the other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles were substantially similar and the prices of each property were negotiated with a third-party buyer. A portion of these dispositions were structured as combined portfolio transactions where the Company and one or more other Blackstone advised investment vehicles were disposing of like-kind assets to a single buyer. For the three months ended March 31, 2025, there were no dispositions alongside other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles.

Properties Held-for-Sale

As of March 31, 2026, 16 properties in the rental housing segment, 10 properties in the industrial segment and various single family rental homes were classified as held-for-sale. The held-for-sale assets and related liabilities are included as components of Other Assets and Other Liabilities, respectively, on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

(1) This table does not include the Company's Controlling Class Securities in certain CMBS securitizations that have been consolidated on the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements. The underlying collateral loans and the senior CMBS positions owned by third parties of such securitizations are presented separately on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. See Note 6 to the condensed consolidated financial statements.

(2) The symbol "+" means that the figure represents a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates, which include Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Sterling Overnight Index Average ("SONIA"), and Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("EURIBOR"), as applicable to each security and loan. Fixed rate CMBS, corporate bonds and commercial real estate loans represent a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates for purposes of the weighted-averages. Weighted Average Coupon for CMBS does not include zero-coupon securities.

(3) Weighted average maturity date is based on the fully extended maturity date of the instrument.

(4) Face amount excludes interest-only securities with a notional amount of $0.1 billion and $0.1 billion as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

(5) Includes an interest in an unconsolidated joint venture with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation that holds investments in real estate debt. Weighted average coupon and weighted average maturity date exclude the Company's joint venture investment.

The Company's investments in real estate debt included certain CMBS and loans collateralized by properties owned by other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. The following table details the Company's investments in such real estate debt ($ in thousands):

	Fair Value		Income
			Three Months Ended March 31,
	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025	2026	2025
CMBS	$ 570,219	$ 484,935	$ 9,314	$ 20,409

Total	$ 947,023	$ 767,872	$ 10,279	$ 27,243

The Company acquired such CMBS from third parties on market terms negotiated by the majority third party investors. The Company has forgone all non-economic rights under these CMBS, including voting rights, so long as the Blackstone-advised investment vehicles either own the properties collateralizing the underlying loans, or have an interest in a different part of the capital structure of such CMBS.

The Company acquired commercial real estate loans to borrowers that are owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. The Company has forgone all non-economic rights under these loans, including voting rights, so long as the Blackstone-advised investment vehicle controls the borrowers. These loans were negotiated by third parties without the Company's involvement.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's investments in real estate debt also included $1.9 billion and $1.6 billion, respectively, of CMBS collateralized, in part, by certain of the Company's mortgage loans. During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025 the Company recognized $27.7 million and $37.6 million of income, respectively, related to CMBS collateralized, in part, by certain of the Company's mortgage loans.

6. Consolidated Securitization Vehicles

The Company has acquired the controlling class securities of certain CMBS securitizations resulting in the consolidation of such securitizations on its Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The consolidation of these securitizations results in a gross presentation of the underlying collateral loans as discrete assets, as well as inclusion of the senior CMBS positions owned by third parties, which are presented as liabilities on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The assets of any particular consolidated securitization can only be used to satisfy the liabilities of that securitization and such assets are not available to the Company for any other purpose. Similarly, the senior CMBS obligations of these securitizations can only be satisfied through repayment of the underlying collateral loans, as they do not have any recourse to the Company or its assets, nor has the Company provided any guarantees with respect to the performance or repayment of the senior CMBS obligations.

The following tables detail the real estate loans held by the consolidated securitization vehicles and the related senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles ($ in thousands):

	March 31, 2026
	Count	Principal Value	Fair Value	Wtd. Avg. Yield/ Cost[1]	Wtd. Avg. Term[2]
Real estate loans held by consolidated securitization vehicles	87	$ 4,157,638	$ 4,710,849	6.3 %	4/28/2027

Senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles	11	5,769,088	6,284,112	6.0 %	3/03/2027
Real estate loans held by consolidated securitization vehicles in excess of senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles	11	$ 707,368	$ 691,348	8.0 %	12/6/2026

(1) The weighted-average yield and cost represent the all-in rate, which includes both fixed and floating rates, as applicable to each securitization vehicle.

(2) Repayments of senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles are tied to timing of the related collateral loan asset repayments. The term of these obligations represents the rated final distribution date of the securitizations.

7. Mortgage Loans, Secured Term Loans, and Secured Revolving Credit Facilities

The following table details the mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities secured by the Company's real estate ($ in thousands):

	March 31, 2026			Principal Balance Outstanding

Mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities, net				$ 54,355,038	$ 55,540,761

(1) "+" means that the figure represents a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, as applicable to each loan. As of March 31, 2026, the Company had outstanding interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional balance of $32.2 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate notional balance of $20.1 billion that mitigate its exposure to potential future interest rate increases under its floating-rate debt. Total weighted average interest rate does not include the impact of derivatives.

(2) Weighted average maturity assumes maximum maturity date, including any extensions, where the Company, at its sole discretion, has one or more extension options.

(3) The majority of the Company's mortgages contain yield or spread maintenance provisions.

(4) Includes $189.6 million and $201.9 million of loans related to investments in affordable housing properties as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. Such loans are generally from municipalities, housing authorities, and other third parties administered through government sponsored affordable housing programs. Certain of these loans may be forgiven if specific affordable housing conditions are maintained.

(5) Additional borrowings under the Company's variable rate warehouse facilities require additional collateral, which are subject to lender approval.

The following table details the future principal payments due under the Company's mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities as of March 31, 2026 ($ in thousands):

Year	Amount
2026 (remaining)	$ 10,473,297
2027	10,712,363
2028	4,232,802
2029	13,261,576
2030	4,768,222
2031	4,394,214
Thereafter	6,926,051
Total	$ 54,768,525

The Company repaid certain of its loans in conjunction with the sale or refinancing of the underlying properties and incurred an aggregate realized net loss on extinguishment of debt of $12.9 million and $11.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively. Such losses primarily resulted from the acceleration of related deferred financing costs, prepayment penalties, and transaction costs.

The Company is subject to various financial and operational covenants under certain of its mortgage loans, secured term loans, and secured revolving credit facilities. These covenants require the Company to maintain certain financial ratios, which include leverage, debt yield, and debt service coverage, among others. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company was in compliance with all of its loan covenants.

8. Secured Financings of Investments in Real Estate Debt

The Company has entered into master repurchase agreements and other financing agreements secured by certain of its investments in real estate debt. The terms of the master repurchase agreements and other financing agreements provide the lenders the ability to determine the size and terms of the financing provided based upon the particular collateral pledged by the Company from time to time, and may require the Company to provide additional collateral in the form of cash, securities, or other assets if the market value of such financed investments declines.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's secured financings of investments in real estate debt was $2.6 billion and $2.9 billion, respectively. As of March 31, 2026, the secured financings had a weighted average maturity date of March 15, 2027, and a weighted average interest rate of 1.5% over the relevant floating benchmark rates of the applicable financings, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities.

As of both March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had interest rate swaps outstanding with a notional value of $0.3 billion that effectively convert a portion of its fixed rate investments in real estate debt to floating rates to mitigate its exposure to potential future interest rate increases under its floating-rate debt. The weighted average interest rate does not include the impact of such interest rate swaps or other derivatives.

9. Unsecured Revolving Credit Facilities and Term Loans

The Company is party to unsecured credit facilities with multiple banks. The credit facilities have a weighted average maturity date of November 18, 2027, which may be extended for one year, and an interest rate of SOFR +2.5%. As of both March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the maximum capacity of the credit facilities was $6.2 billion. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the aggregate outstanding balance of borrowings under these unsecured credit facilities was $0.5 billion and $1.2 billion, respectively.

The Company is party to unsecured term loans with multiple banks. The term loans have a weighted average maturity date of February 21, 2029 and an interest rate of SOFR +2.5%. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the aggregate outstanding balance of the unsecured term loans was $1.4 billion and $1.3 billion, respectively.

The Company is party to an unsecured, uncommitted line of credit (the "Line of Credit") up to a maximum amount of $75.0 million with an affiliate of Blackstone (the "Affiliate Lender"). The Line of Credit expires on December 15, 2026, and may be extended for up to 12 months, subject to Affiliate Lender approval. The interest rate is equivalent to the then-current rate offered to the Company by a third party lender, or, if no such rate is available, SOFR +2.5%. Each advance under the Line of Credit is repayable on the earliest of (i) the expiration of the Line of Credit, (ii) Affiliate Lender's demand, and (iii) the date on which the Adviser no longer acts as the Company's external manager, provided that the Company will have 180 days to make such repayment in the cases of clauses (i) and (ii) and 45 days to make such repayment in the case of clause (iii). As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had no outstanding borrowings under the Line of Credit.

10. Related Party and Other Transactions

Due to Affiliates

The following table details the components of due to affiliates ($ in thousands):

	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025
Accrued stockholder servicing fee	$ 689,297	$ 724,771
Performance participation allocation	156,706	—
Accrued management fee	57,647	56,818
Other	8,772	10,152
Total	$ 912,422	$ 791,741

Accrued Stockholder Servicing Fee

The Company accrues for future stockholder servicing fees payable to Blackstone Securities Partners L.P., the dealer manager, a registered broker-dealer affiliated with the Adviser (the "Dealer Manager") at the time such shares are sold. For Class S-2, Class D-2, and Class T-2 shares, the Company accrues the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders of such share classes. For Class S, Class D, and Class T shares, the Company accrues the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation. The Dealer Manager has entered, and may in the future enter, into agreements with the selected dealers distributing the Company's shares as part of its continuous public and private offerings, that provide, among other things, for the payment of the full amount of the selling commissions and dealer manager fee, and all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees received by the Dealer Manager to such selected dealers.

Performance Participation Allocation

The Special Limited Partner holds a performance participation interest in BREIT OP that entitles it to receive an allocation of BREIT OP's total return. Total return is defined as distributions paid or accrued plus the change in the Company's net asset value ("NAV"), adjusted for subscriptions and repurchases. Under the BREIT OP agreement, the annual total return with regard to Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, and Class C units will be allocated solely to the Special Limited Partner only after such BREIT OP unitholders have received a total return of 5% (after recouping any loss carryforward amount) and such allocation will continue until the allocation between the Special Limited Partner and such BREIT OP unitholders is equal to 12.5% and 87.5%, respectively. Thereafter, the Special Limited Partner will receive an allocation of 12.5% of the annual total return of such BREIT OP unitholders. The annual total return with regard to Class L and Class L-2 units will be allocated solely to the Special Limited Partner only after such BREIT OP unitholders have received a total return of 5% (after recouping any loss carryforward amount) and such allocation will continue until the allocation between the Special Limited Partner and such BREIT OP unitholders is equal to 10% and 90%, respectively. Thereafter, the Special Limited Partner will receive an allocation of 10% of the annual total return of such BREIT OP unitholders. The allocation of the performance participation interest is ultimately measured on a calendar year basis and will be paid quarterly in certain classes of units of BREIT OP or cash, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. To date, the Special Limited Partner has always elected to be paid in units of BREIT OP, resulting in a non-cash expense.

At the end of each calendar quarter that is not also the end of a calendar year, the Special Limited Partner is entitled to a performance participation allocation as described above calculated in respect of the portion of the year to date, less any performance participation allocation received with respect to prior quarters in that year (the "Quarterly Allocation"). The performance participation allocation that the Special Limited Partner is entitled to receive at the end of each calendar year will be reduced by the cumulative amount of Quarterly Allocations that year. If a Quarterly Allocation is made and at the end of a subsequent calendar quarter in the same calendar year the Special Limited Partner is entitled to less than the previously received Quarterly Allocation(s) (a "Quarterly Shortfall"), then subsequent distributions of any Quarterly Allocations or year-end performance allocations in that calendar year will be reduced by an amount equal to such Quarterly Shortfall, until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall remains. If all or any portion of a Quarterly Shortfall remains at the end of a calendar year following the application described in the previous sentence, distributions of any Quarterly Allocations and year-end performance allocations in the subsequent four calendar years will be reduced by (i) the remaining Quarterly Shortfall plus (ii) an annual rate of 5% on the remaining Quarterly Shortfall measured from the first day of the calendar year following the year in which the Quarterly Shortfall arose and compounded quarterly (collectively, the "Quarterly Shortfall Obligation") until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains; provided, that the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) may make a full or partial cash payment to reduce the Quarterly Shortfall Obligation at any time; provided, further, that if any Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains following such subsequent four calendar years, then the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) will promptly pay BREIT OP the remaining Quarterly Shortfall Obligation in cash.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company's total return exceeded the current period hurdle amount, resulting in $156.7 million and $142.2 million, respectively, of Performance Participation Allocation expense in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company's total return did not exceed the year-to-date hurdle amount, resulting in a Quarterly Shortfall with respect to the $105.0 million performance participation allocation recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2024 (the "2024 Shortfall Obligation"). Beginning January 1, 2025, interest on the 2024 Shortfall Obligation, net of $9.9 million of performance participation allocation previously earned by the Special Limited Partner but not paid by the Company, began accruing at a 5% annual rate, compounded quarterly. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company accrued interest income of $1.1 million related to such net 2024 Shortfall Obligations. The net 2024 Shortfall Obligation and related $1.1 million of interest accrued was satisfied with the $142.2 million performance participation accrual for the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Blackstone did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for the performance participation allocation during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

As of May 8, 2026, Blackstone owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $4.9 billion. In addition, Blackstone employees, including the Company's executive officers, owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $1.3 billion.

Accrued Management Fee

The Adviser is entitled to an annual management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, and Class C shares, corresponding BREIT OP units and Class B units, (ii) 1.0% of the NAV of the company attributable to Class L shares and Class L units, and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV of the company attributable to Class L-2 shares and Class L-2 units, payable monthly, as compensation for the services it provides to the Company. The management fee can be paid, at the Adviser's election, in cash, certain classes of shares of the Company's common stock, or certain classes of BREIT OP units. To date, the Adviser has always elected to be paid the management fee in shares of the Company's common stock and units of BREIT OP, resulting in a non-cash expense. During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company incurred management fees of $172.2 million and $168.4 million, respectively.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company issued BREIT OP units of 12.1 million and 12.3 million, respectively, to the Adviser as payment for management fees. The Company also had a payable of $57.6 million and $56.8 million related to the management fees as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. During April 2026, the Adviser was issued 4.0 million units of BREIT OP as payment for the management fees accrued as of March 31, 2026. The shares and units issued to the Adviser for payment of the management fee were issued at the applicable NAV per share/unit at the end of each month for which the fee was earned. The Adviser did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for management fees during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

Other

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had an outstanding balance due to the Adviser of $8.8 million and $10.2 million, respectively, primarily related to general corporate expenses provided by unaffiliated third parties that the Adviser paid on the Company's behalf. Such expenses are reimbursed by the Company to the Adviser in the ordinary course of business.

DST Program

The Adviser provides asset management services to the DSTs and is entitled to an asset management fee equal to 1.0% of the gross rents received by the DSTs under their respective master lease agreements. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company incurred asset management fees of $18 thousand, which are included in Other Expense on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, no asset management fees were incurred.

The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive an investor servicing fee from the DST Investors, equal to up to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate net asset value of the DST Properties underlying certain DST Interests in the applicable DST Offering. The Company accrues the future investor servicing fee payable to the Dealer Manager based on the estimated life of the DST Interests at the time such DST Interests are sold. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had accrued $36 thousand and $15 thousand, respectively, of investor servicing fees related to DST Interests sold and recorded such amount as a component of Due to Affiliates on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.

The Dealer Manager is also entitled to receive an upfront selling commission of up to 3.5% of the amount of gross proceeds paid for DST Interests. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company recorded $19 thousand and $29 thousand, respectively, of upfront selling commissions and are included within the Other line of the Due to Affiliates table above. The upfront selling commissions are included as a reduction to offering proceeds in Contributions from Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity. As of March 31, 2026, no such amounts were outstanding. As of December 31, 2025, $15 thousand was outstanding and included as a component of Due to Affiliates on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.

Affiliate Title Service Provider

Blackstone owns Lexington National Land Services ("LNLS"), a title agent company. LNLS acts as an agent for one or more underwriters in issuing title policies and/or providing support services in connection with investments by the Company, Blackstone and their affiliates and related parties, and third parties. LNLS focuses on transactions in rate-regulated states where the cost of title insurance is non-negotiable. LNLS will not perform services in non-regulated states for the Company, except (i) in the context of a portfolio transaction that includes properties in rate-regulated states, (ii) as part of a syndicate of title insurance companies where the rate is negotiated by other insurers or their agents, (iii) when a third party is paying all or a material portion of the premium, or (iv) when providing only support services to the underwriter. LNLS earns fees, which would have otherwise been paid to third parties, by providing title agency services and facilitating placement of title insurance with underwriters. Blackstone receives distributions from LNLS in connection with investments by the Company based on its equity interest in LNLS. In each case, there will be no related expense offset to the Company.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company paid LNLS $8.8 million and $10.7 million, respectively, for title services related to certain investments. Amounts paid to LNLS were either (i) included in calculating Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations, or (ii) recorded as deferred financing costs, which is a reduction to Mortgage Loans, Secured Term Loans, and Secured Revolving Credit Facilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Captive Insurance Company

During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company received a net refund of $0.6 million and $0.1 million, respectively, of insurance premiums previously paid to a captive insurance company owned by us and other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles. The net refund was attributable to dispositions of real estate and represented the pro-rata unused period of the annual premiums incurred to insure such dispositions.

Other Transactions

Accrued service provider expenses, incentive compensation awards, and guaranty

The Company has engaged certain portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, operational services (including, without limitation, construction and project management), management services, loan management services, corporate support services (including, without limitation, accounting, information technology, legal, tax and human resources) and transaction support services for certain of the Company's properties, and any such arrangements will be at or below market rates. The Company also engaged such portfolio companies for transaction support services related to acquisitions and dispositions, and such costs were either (i) capitalized to Investments in Real Estate or (ii) included as part of the Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate. For further details on the Company's relationships with these service providers, see Note 10 to the consolidated financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

The expenses related to these providers, including incentive compensation awards, are included as a component of Rental Property Operating expense and Hospitality Operating expense, as applicable, in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. Transaction support service fees were capitalized to Investments in Real Estate on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Neither Blackstone nor the Adviser receives any fees from these arrangements.

The following tables detail the amounts incurred for portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles ($ in thousands):

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, certain portfolio companies owned by the Company earned revenue of $3.4 million and $1.1 million, respectively, from certain other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles in relation to management services and corporate support services.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had a receivable of $50.9 million and $50.9 million, respectively, from certain portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles related to the prepayment of certain corporate service fees and incentive compensation awards. Such amounts are included in Other Assets on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

In March 2026, the Company entered into an agreement with another Blackstone-advised investment vehicle to fund its pro rata share of any payments required under a guaranty agreement with a lending institution. The guaranty relates to a revolving credit facility with a portfolio company that provides services to the Company, and the Company's participation reflects its share of the associated costs based on services rendered. As of March 31, 2026, the Company's maximum potential obligation under the arrangement was $3.5 million. No events through the date of these condensed consolidated financial statements required performance under the guaranty, and no liability was recorded as of March 31, 2026.

13. Derivatives

The Company uses derivative financial instruments to minimize the risks and/or costs associated with the Company's investments and financing transactions. These derivatives may or may not qualify as net investment, cash flow, or fair value hedges under the hedge accounting requirements of Accounting Standards Codification Topic 815 - "Derivatives and Hedging." Derivatives not designated as hedges are not speculative and are used to manage the Company's exposure to interest rate movements, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, and other identified risks.

The use of derivative financial instruments involves certain risks, including the risk that the counterparties to these contractual arrangements do not perform as agreed. To mitigate this risk, the Company enters into derivative financial instruments with counterparties it believes to have appropriate credit ratings and that are major financial institutions with which the Company and its affiliates may also have other financial relationships.

Interest Rate Contracts

Certain of the Company's transactions expose the Company to interest rate risks, which include exposure to variable interest rates on certain loans secured by the Company's real estate in addition to its secured financings of investments in real estate debt. The Company uses derivative financial instruments, which includes interest rate swaps and caps, and may also include options, floors, and other interest rate derivative contracts, to limit the Company's exposure to the future variability of interest rates. The Company has the right of offset for certain derivatives, and presents them net on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

The following tables detail the Company's outstanding interest rate derivatives (notional amount in thousands):

(1) Includes interest rate caps presented on a net basis with an aggregate notional amount of $9.0 billion and $7.9 billion as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Foreign Currency Forward Contracts

Certain of the Company's international investments expose it to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. These fluctuations may impact the value of the Company's cash receipts and payments in terms of its functional currency, the U.S. dollar. The Company uses foreign currency forward contracts to protect the value or fix the amount of certain investments or cash flows in terms of the U.S. dollar.

The following table details the Company's outstanding foreign currency forward contracts that were non-designated hedges of foreign currency risk (notional amount in thousands):

Credit-Risk Related Contingent Features

The Company has entered into agreements with certain of its derivative counterparties that contain provisions whereby if the Company were to default on any of its indebtedness, including default where repayment of the indebtedness has not been accelerated by the lender, the Company may also be declared in default under its derivative obligations. In addition, certain of the Company's agreements with its derivative counterparties require the Company to post collateral based on a percentage of derivative notional amounts and/or to secure net liability positions.

As of March 31, 2026, the Company was in a net liability position and posted collateral of $9.9 million with one of its counterparties as required under the derivative contracts. As of December 31, 2025, the Company was in a net liability position and posted collateral of $14.9 million with one of its counterparties as required under the derivatives contracts.

Share and Unit Repurchases

The Company has adopted a Share Repurchase Plan (the "Repurchase Plan"), which is approved and administered by the Company's board of directors, whereby, subject to certain limitations, stockholders may request on a monthly basis that the Company repurchases all or any portion of their shares. The Repurchase Plan will be limited to no more than 2% of the Company's aggregate NAV per month (measured using the aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and no more than 5% of the Company's aggregate NAV per calendar quarter (measured using the average aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed during each month in a calendar quarter. Certain stockholders are subject to certain restrictions, including a minimum holding period and certain repurchase limitations, in addition to the Company's existing monthly and quarterly limitations. The Company has in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under the Repurchase Plan, and the Company has in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis.

Should repurchase requests, in the board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on its liquidity, adversely affect its operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company as a whole, or should the board of directors otherwise determine that investing its liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing its shares is in the best interests of the Company as a whole, the Company's board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased (including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under the Repurchase Plan), or none at all. Further, the Company's board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in the Repurchase Plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend the Repurchase Plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in the Company's best interest and the best interest of its stockholders. In the event that the Company receives repurchase requests in excess of the 2% or 5% limits, then repurchase requests will be satisfied on a pro rata basis after the Company has repurchased all shares for which repurchase has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of the Repurchase Plan, as applicable.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company repurchased 88.8 million shares of common stock and 0.7 million units of BREIT OP for a total of $1.3 billion, satisfying all repurchase requests for the three months ended March 31, 2026.

(1) For the three months ended March 31, 2025, no Class L shares were issued and outstanding.

Distributions

The Company considers a variety of factors when determining its distributions, including cash flows from operations, Funds Available for Distribution, NAV, and total return, and in any case, generally intends to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its stockholders each year to comply with the REIT provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. Taxable income does not equal net income as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

Each class of common stock receives the same monthly gross distribution per share. The net distribution varies for each class based on the applicable stockholder servicing fee, which is deducted from the monthly distribution per share and paid directly to the applicable distributor. Class C shares currently have no distribution amount presented as the class is generally an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV.

The following tables detail the aggregate distributions declared for each applicable class of common stock:

	Class I	Class S	Class S-2	Class D	Class D-2	Class T	Class T-2	Class L
Aggregate gross distributions declared per share of common stock	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1652

Net distributions declared per share of common stock	$ 0.1652	$ 0.1353	$ 0.1354	$ 0.1565	$ 0.1566	$ 0.1359	$ 0.1359	$ 0.1652

Redeemable Non-controlling Interests

Certain non-controlling interests are presented as redeemable non-controlling interests due to redemption rights that are not solely within the control of the Company, including put options and redemption provisions that become exercisable upon specified crystallization events. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $140.6 million and $141.1 million, respectively, related to certain consolidated subsidiaries was included in Redeemable Non-controlling Interests on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

The redeemable non-controlling interests are recorded at the greater of (i) their carrying amount, adjusted for their share of the allocation of GAAP net income (loss) and distributions, or (ii) their redemption value, which is equivalent to the fair value of such interests at the end of each measurement period. Accordingly, the Company recorded allocation adjustments between Additional Paid-in Capital and Redeemable Non-controlling Interests of $1.9 million and $0.8 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively, to reflect the greater of their carrying value, adjusted for their share of the allocation of GAAP net income (loss) and distributions, or their redemption value.

15. Leases

Lessor

The Company's rental revenue primarily consists of rent earned from operating leases at the Company's rental housing, industrial, data centers, net lease, office, hospitality, retail and self storage properties. Leases at the Company's industrial, data centers, office and retail properties generally include a fixed base rent, and certain leases also contain a variable rent component. The variable component of the Company's operating leases at its industrial, data centers, office and retail properties primarily consist of the reimbursement of operating expenses such as real estate taxes, insurance, and common area maintenance costs. Rental revenue earned from leases at the Company's rental housing properties primarily consist of a fixed base rent, and certain leases contain a variable component that allows for the pass-through of certain operating expenses such as utilities. Rental revenue earned from leases at the Company's self storage properties primarily consist of a fixed base rent only.

Rental revenue from leases at the Company's net lease properties consists of a fixed annual rent that escalates annually throughout the term of the applicable leases, and the tenant is generally responsible for all property-related expenses, including taxes, insurance, and maintenance. The Company's net lease properties are leased to a single tenant. The Company assessed the lease classification of the net lease properties and determined the leases were each operating leases. The Company's assessment included the consideration of the present value of the applicable lease payments over the lease terms and the residual value of the leased assets.

Leases at the Company's industrial, data centers, net lease, office and retail properties are generally longer term (greater than 12 months in length), and may contain extension and termination options at the lessee's election. Often, these leases have annual escalations that are tied to the consumer price index. Leases at the Company's rental housing and self storage properties are short term, generally not greater than 12 months in length.

The following table details the components of operating lease income from leases in which the Company is the lessor ($ in thousands):

	2026	2025
Fixed lease payments	$ 1,581,673	$ 1,688,180
Variable lease payments	139,581	144,209
Rental revenue	$ 1,721,254	$ 1,832,389

The following table presents the undiscounted future minimum rents the Company expects to receive for its industrial, data centers, net lease, retail, and office properties as of March 31, 2026 ($ in thousands). Leases at the Company's rental housing and self storage properties are short term, generally 12 months or less, and are therefore not included.

Year	Future Minimum Rents
2027	1,601,482
2028	1,454,174
2029	1,276,820
2030	1,104,229
2031	485,887
Thereafter	14,063,245
Total	$ 21,242,075

Lessee

Certain of the Company's investments in real estate are subject to ground leases. The Company's ground leases are classified as either operating leases or financing leases based on the characteristics of each lease. As of March 31, 2026, the Company had 89 ground leases classified as operating and three ground leases classified as financing. Each of the Company's ground leases was acquired as part of the acquisition of real estate, and no incremental costs were incurred for such ground leases. The Company's ground leases are non-cancelable and certain operating leases contain renewal options.

The following table details the future lease payments due under the Company's ground leases as of March 31, 2026 ($ in thousands):

	Operating Leases	Financing Leases
2026 (remaining)	$ 28,058	$ 3,395
2027	36,454	4,633
2028	36,739	4,763
2029	36,861	4,896
2030	37,037	5,033
2031	37,065	5,173
Thereafter	1,997,822	544,292
Total undiscounted future lease payments	2,210,036	572,185
Difference between undiscounted cash flows and discounted cash flows	(1,602,687)	(491,208)
Total lease liability	$ 607,349	$ 80,977

The Company utilized its incremental borrowing rate at the time of entering such leases, which was between 5% and 7%, to determine its lease liabilities. As of March 31, 2026, the weighted average remaining lease term of the Company's operating leases and financing leases were 58 years and 75 years, respectively.

Payments under the Company's ground leases primarily contain fixed payment components that may include periodic increases based on an index or periodic fixed percentage escalations. Three of the Company's ground leases contain a variable component based on a percentage of revenue.

The following table details the fixed and variable components of the Company's operating leases ($ in thousands):

	2026	2025
Fixed ground rent expense	$ 3,565	$ 3,634
Variable ground rent expense	9,738	9,005
Total cash portion of ground rent expense	13,303	12,639
Straight-line ground rent expense	4,098	4,870
Total operating lease costs	$ 17,401	$ 17,509

The following table details the fixed and variable components of the Company's financing leases ($ in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Interest on lease liabilities	$ 1,121	$ 1,087
Amortization of right-of-use assets	336	304
Total financing lease costs	$ 1,457	$ 1,391

16. Segment Reporting

The Company operates in nine reportable segments: Rental Housing, Industrial, Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, Data Centers, Self Storage properties, and Investments in Real Estate Debt. The Company allocates resources and evaluates results based on the performance of each segment individually. The Company believes that GAAP Segment Income (Loss) is the key performance metric that is most consistent with the amounts included in its condensed consolidated financial statements and captures the unique operating characteristics of each segment to enable its chief operating decision maker to assess performance and allocate resources.

The following table details the total assets by segment ($ in thousands):

17. Commitments and Contingencies

Litigation

From time to time, the Company may be involved in various claims and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company accrues a liability for legal proceedings only when those matters present loss contingencies that are both probable and reasonably estimable. In such cases, there may be an exposure to loss in excess of any amounts accrued. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company was not involved in any material legal proceedings.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

References herein to "Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust," "BREIT," the "Company," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and notes thereto appearing elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may," "will," "expect," "intend," "anticipate," "estimate," "believe," "continue," "identify" or other similar words or the negatives thereof. These may include our financial estimates and their underlying assumptions, statements about plans, objectives, intentions and expectations with respect to positioning, including the impact of macroeconomic trends and market forces, future operations, repurchases, acquisitions, future performance, and statements about identified but not yet disclosed acquisitions. Such forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Accordingly, there are or will be important factors that could cause actual outcomes or results to differ materially from those indicated in such statements. We believe these factors include but are not limited to those described under the section entitled "Risk Factors" in our prospectus and our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, as such factors may be updated from time to time in our periodic filings with the SEC, which are accessible on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. These factors should not be construed as exhaustive and should be read in conjunction with the other cautionary statements that are included in this document (or our prospectus and other filings). Except as otherwise required by federal securities laws, we undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.

Website Disclosure

We use our website (www.breit.com) as a channel of distribution of company information. The information we post through this channel may be deemed material. Accordingly, investors should monitor this channel, in addition to following our press releases and SEC filings. The contents of our website are not, however, a part of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

Overview

We invest primarily in stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate in the United States and to a lesser extent, outside the United States. We also, to a lesser extent, invest in real estate debt investments. We are the sole general partner and majority limited partner of BREIT Operating Partnership L.P. ("BREIT OP"), a Delaware limited partnership, and we own substantially all of our assets through BREIT OP. We are externally managed by BX REIT Advisors L.L.C. (the "Adviser"). The Adviser is part of the real estate group of Blackstone Inc. ("Blackstone"), a leading investment manager. We currently operate our business in nine reportable segments: Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers, Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, Self Storage, and Investments in Real Estate Debt. Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as manufactured, student, affordable, and single family rental housing. Net Lease includes the real estate assets of The Bellagio Las Vegas, The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas, and our unconsolidated investment in a Net Lease platform. Unconsolidated interests are included in the respective property segment.

BREIT is a non-listed, perpetual life real estate investment trust ("REIT") that qualifies as a REIT under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), for U.S. federal income tax. We generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxes on our taxable income to the extent we annually distribute all of our net taxable income to stockholders and maintain our qualification as a REIT.

As of May 8, 2026, we had received cumulative net proceeds of $81.4 billion from the sale of 6.3 billion shares of our Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, Class C, and Class L common stock in our continuous public offering and private offerings, and units of BREIT OP. We contributed the net proceeds from the sale of shares to BREIT OP in exchange for a corresponding number of Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, Class T-2, Class C, and Class L units. As of May 8, 2026, there are no Class L-2 shares, Class F shares, Class L-2 units or Class F units outstanding. BREIT OP has primarily used the net proceeds to make investments in real estate and real estate debt and for other general corporate purposes (including to fund repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan (the "Share Repurchase Plan") from time to time) as further described below under "Investment Portfolio." We intend to continue selling shares of our common stock on a monthly basis through our continuous public offering and private offerings.

In November 2025, BREIT and BREIT OP commenced the DST Program to issue and sell DST Interests in DSTs holding DST Properties through private offerings. These DST Interests will be issued and sold to "accredited investors" as that term is defined under Regulation D promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act in private placements exempt from registration pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act (the "DST Offerings").

Under the DST Program, each DST Property may be sourced from our real properties or acquired from third parties, will be held in a separate DST, and will be leased by the DST to a wholly-owned subsidiary of BREIT OP under a master lease agreement. In accordance with the master lease, we are responsible for subleasing the DST Properties and for covering all costs associated with operating the underlying DST Properties. Each master lease agreement will be guaranteed by BREIT OP, which will retain the FMV Option, giving BREIT OP the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests in the applicable DST from the DST investors any time during a defined period in exchange for BREIT OP units or, in certain cases, a combination of BREIT OP units and cash. After a one-year holding period, investors who acquire BREIT OP units pursuant to the FMV Option have a right to cause BREIT OP to redeem all or a portion of their OP units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both.

Q1 2026 Highlights

Operating Results:

- Declared monthly net distributions totaling $590.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026. The details of the average annualized distribution rates and total returns are shown in the following table:

Investments:

- Sold 35 industrial properties, 26 rental housing properties[3], two office properties, and one retail property for total net proceeds of $2.0 billion. We recognized a net realized gain of $327.3 million related to the disposition of such properties, net of the impairments recorded during the quarter.
- During the three months ended March 31, 2026, deployed $2.4 billion (at BREIT's share) into the development of data centers through our QTS platform. These data center developments are 100% pre-leased, in substantially all cases to investment grade tenants.
- Acquired 82 net lease properties for a total purchase price of $65.8 million (at BREIT's share) through our Reliant Net Lease Platform.

Capital and Financing Activity:

- Raised $1.2 billion from the sale of shares of our common stock and units of BREIT OP during the three months ended March 31, 2026. Repurchased $1.3 billion of our shares and units from investors during the three months ended March 31, 2026.
- Decreased financings by a net $2.1 billion during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

Current Portfolio:

- Our portfolio as of March 31, 2026 consisted of investments in real estate (97% based on fair value) and investments in real estate debt (3%).
- Our 4,512 properties[4] as of March 31, 2026 consisted primarily of Rental Housing (43% based on fair value), Data Centers (23%) and Industrial (21%), and our real estate portfolio was primarily concentrated in the following regions: South (36%), West (28%) and East (21%).
- Our investments in real estate debt as of March 31, 2026 consisted of a diversified portfolio of commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS"), residential-backed securities ("RMBS"), mortgage and mezzanine loans, and other real estate-related debt. For further details on credit rating and underlying real estate collateral, refer to "Investment Portfolio – Investments in Real Estate Debt" below.

(1) The annualized distribution rate is calculated by averaging each of the three months' annualized distribution rates, which are calculated as the net distribution per share, divided by the prior month's net asset value per share. We believe the annualized distribution rate is a useful measure of our overall investment performance. Class C is an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV instead of receiving a distribution. Therefore, no annualized distribution rate is presented above for Class C shares.

(2) Total return is calculated as the change in NAV per share during the respective periods plus any distributions per share declared in the period, and assumes any distributions are reinvested under our distribution reinvestment plan. Total return for periods greater than one year is annualized. We began selling Class S-2, D-2 and T-2 shares on September 1, 2025. Class L shares were first outstanding as of January 1, 2026. Inception-to-date total returns for Class S-2, D-2, T-2, and Class L shares will be disclosed once these shares have been outstanding for more than one year. We believe total return is a useful measure of our overall investment performance.

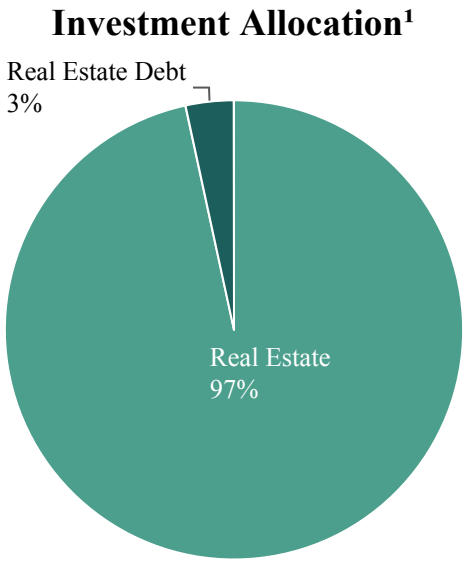

(3) Excludes the number of single family rental homes sold.

(4) Excludes 63,578 single family rental homes. Such single family rental homes are included in the fair value amounts.

The following chart shows the allocation of our investments between real estate and real estate debt based on fair value as of March 31, 2026:

Real Estate Investments

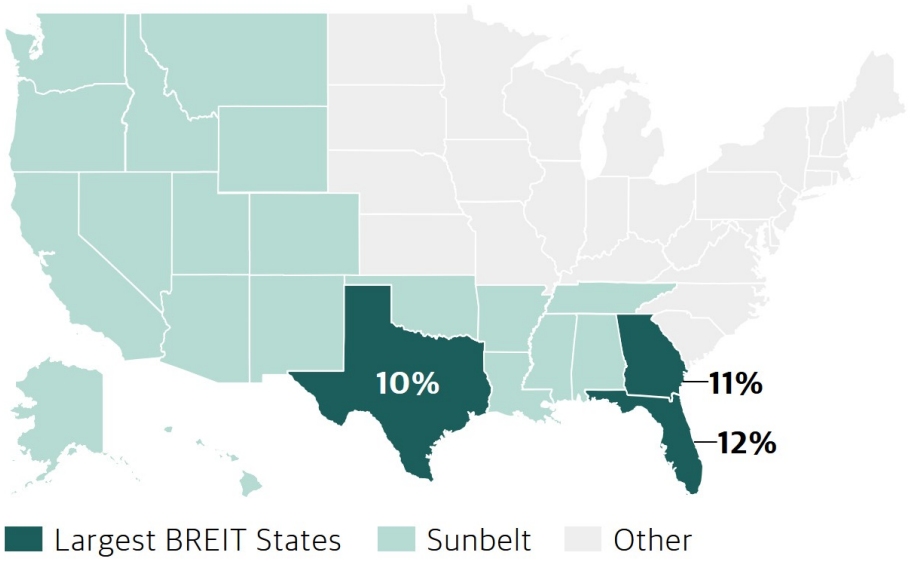

The following charts further describe the diversification of our investments in real estate based on fair value as of March 31, 2026:

(1) "Real estate investments" include wholly owned property investments, BREIT's share of property investments held through joint ventures and equity in public and private real estate-related companies. "Real estate debt" includes BREIT's investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage and mezzanine loans, and other debt secured by real estate and real estate related assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Condensed Consolidated Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") Balance Sheets. "Property Sector" weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate investments for each sector category divided by the asset value of all real estate investments, excluding the value of any third party interests in such real estate investments. "Region Concentration" represents regions as defined by the National Council of Real Estate Investment Fiduciaries ("NCREIF") and the weighting is measured as the asset value of our real estate properties for each regional category divided by the asset value of all real estate properties, excluding the value of any third party interests in such real estate properties. "Non-U.S." reflects investments in Europe and Canada.

The following map identifies the top markets of our real estate portfolio composition based on fair value as of March 31, 2026:

The select states highlighted represent BREIT's top three states by portfolio weighting. Portfolio weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate properties for each state divided by the total asset value of all real estate properties, excluding the value of any third party interests in such real estate investments. Sunbelt refers to ~65% concentration in the South and West regions of the U.S. as defined by NCREIF. BREIT is invested in additional states that are not highlighted above.

As of March 31, 2026, we owned, in whole or in part, a diversified portfolio of income producing assets comprising 4,512 properties and 63,578 single family rental homes concentrated in growth markets primarily focused in Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers properties, and to a lesser extent Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, and Self Storage properties.

The following table provides a summary of our portfolio by property sector as of March 31, 2026:

Property Sector	Number of Properties[1][2]	Sq. (1) Single family rental homes are included in rental housing units and are not reflected in the number of properties.
(2) Includes properties owned by unconsolidated entities.
(3) Excludes land under development related to our rental housing, industrial and data center investments.
(4) For our industrial, data centers, net lease, retail and office investments, occupancy includes all leased square footage as of March 31, 2026. For our multifamily, student housing and affordable housing investments, occupancy is defined as the percentage of actual rent divided by gross potential rent (defined as actual rent for occupied units and market rent for vacant units) for the three months ended March 31, 2026. For our single family rental housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied homes for the month ended March 31, 2026. For our self storage and manufactured housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied square footage, occupied sites and occupied units, respectively, as of March 31, 2026. The average occupancy rate for our hospitality investments includes paid occupied rooms for the 12 months ended March 31, 2026. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the average occupancy rate calculation. Total occupancy is weighted by the total value of all consolidated real estate properties, excluding our hospitality investments, and any third party interests in such properties. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from occupancy rate calculations.
(5) For multifamily and rental housing properties other than manufactured housing, average effective annual base rent represents the base rent for the three months ended March 31, 2026 per leased unit, and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization. For manufactured housing, industrial, data centers, net lease, self storage, office, and retail properties, average effective annual base rent represents the annualized March 31, 2026 base rent per leased square foot or unit and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization. For hospitality properties, average effective annual base rent represents average daily rate (“ADR”) and revenue per available Room (“RevPAR”), respectively, for the 12 months ended March 31, 2026. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the ADR and RevPAR calculations. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from average effective annual base rent calculations.
(6) Gross Asset Value consists of our $83.7 billion allocable share of consolidated real estate properties and our $39.5 billion allocable share of the gross real estate value held by unconsolidated entities, in each case excluding the value of any third-party interests in such real estate investments. Such amounts are measured on a fair value basis.
(7) Includes the revenues from our consolidated real estate properties and our allocable share of revenues from properties held by unconsolidated entities. The prior period has been recast to exclude the non-controlling interest's allocable share of revenue to be consistent with the current period presentation. See the Property Sector Revenue disclosure immediately following this table for certain Non-GAAP disclosures and reconciliations.
(8) Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing. Rental Housing units include multifamily units, student housing units, affordable housing units, manufactured housing sites and single family rental homes.

Property Sector Revenue

Property Sector Revenue is a supplemental non-GAAP measure of revenue that includes our allocable share of the revenues from all consolidated and unconsolidated properties in our portfolio, which we believe is meaningful for management, investors, and other users of our financial statements to assess the scale of our exposure to different property sectors. We define Property Sector Revenue as our allocable share of the revenues from our consolidated properties plus our allocable share of revenues from unconsolidated entities. Property Sector Revenue may not be comparable to that of other companies and should not be considered to be more relevant or accurate in evaluating our operating performance than GAAP total revenues.

The following table provides a reconciliation of GAAP total revenues to Property Sector Revenue ($ in thousands):

	2026	2025
Total revenues[(1)]	$ 1,937,666	$ 2,055,172
Less: revenues allocable to non-controlling interests	(206,495)	(208,714)
Allocable share of revenues from unconsolidated entities	567,991	405,568
Property Sector Revenue	$ 2,299,162	$ 2,252,026

(1) Reflects total revenues determined in accordance with GAAP. See Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations for details of revenue components.

(1) Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing. Rental Housing units include multifamily units, student housing units, affordable housing units, manufactured housing sites and single family rental homes. Single family rental homes are accounted for in rental housing units and are not reflected in the number of properties.

(2) Includes properties owned by unconsolidated entities.

(3) Certain of our joint venture agreements provide the seller or the other partner a profits interest based on achieving certain internal rate of return hurdles. Such investments are consolidated by us and any profits interest due to the other partners is reported within non-controlling interests.

(4) Excludes land under development related to our rental housing, industrial and data centers investments.

(5) For our industrial, data centers, net lease, retail and office investments, occupancy includes all leased square footage as of March 31, 2026. For our multifamily, student housing and affordable housing investments, occupancy is defined as the percentage of actual rent divided by gross potential rent (defined as actual rent for occupied units and market rent for vacant units) for the three months ended March 31, 2026. For our single family rental housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied homes for the month ended March 31, 2026. For our self storage and manufactured housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied square footage, occupied sites and occupied units, respectively, as of March 31, 2026. The average occupancy rate for our hospitality investments includes paid occupied rooms for the 12 months ended March 31, 2026. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the average occupancy rate calculation. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from occupancy rate calculations.

(6) Represents acquisition of Preferred Apartment Communities.

(7) Includes various ownership interests in 10 unconsolidated multifamily properties.

(8) Includes a 100% interest in 13,570 consolidated single family rental homes, a 44% interest in 8,148 unconsolidated single family rental homes, and a 12% interest in 1,349 unconsolidated single family rental homes.
(9) Includes various ownership interests in 40,511 unconsolidated single family rental homes.
(10) Includes various ownership interests in 326 consolidated affordable housing properties and four unconsolidated affordable housing properties.
(11) Investment is unconsolidated.
(12) Includes various ownership interests in 86 consolidated industrial properties and 19 unconsolidated industrial properties.
(13) Includes 28 wholly owned retail properties and a 50% interest in one unconsolidated retail property.
(14) Includes properties held by DSTs as of March 31, 2026.

Lease Expirations

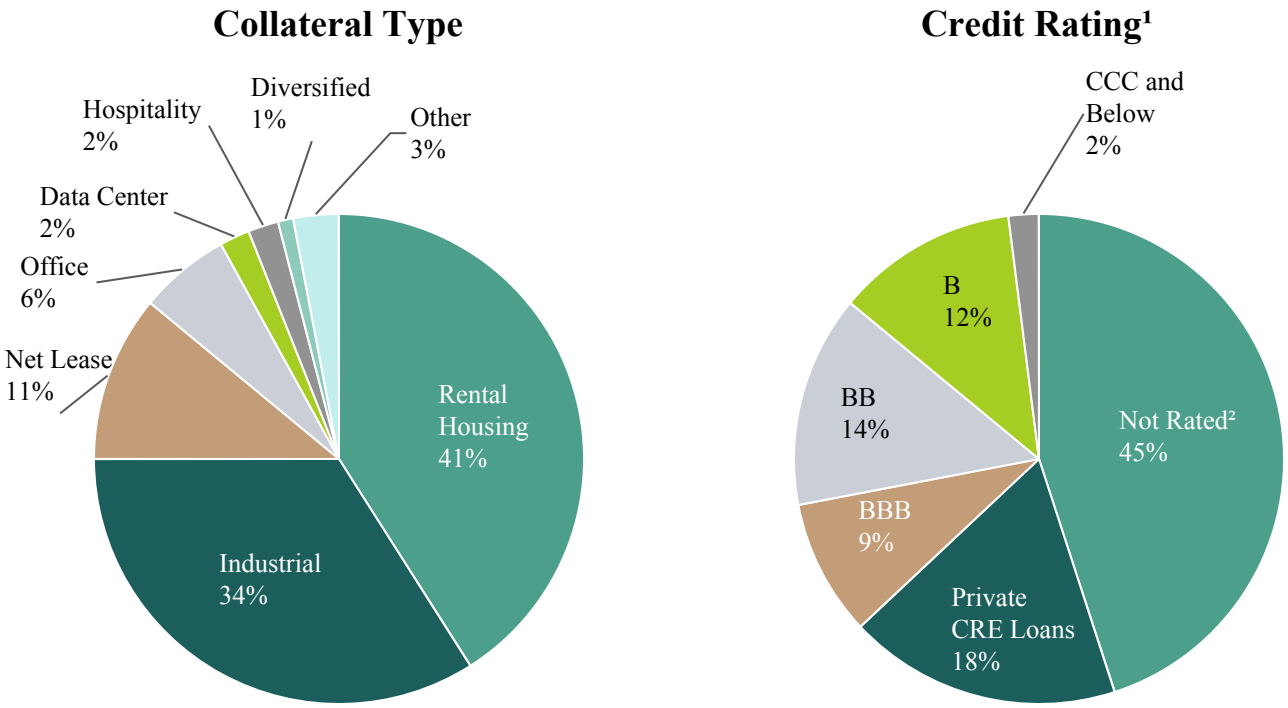

The following schedule details the expiring leases at our consolidated industrial, data centers, net lease, retail, and office properties by annualized base rent and square footage as of March 31, 2026 ($ and square feet data in thousands). The table below excludes our rental housing and self storage properties as substantially all leases at such properties expire within 12 months:

(1) Annualized base rent is determined from the annualized base rent per leased square foot as of March 31, 2026 and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization.

Investments in Real Estate Debt

The following charts further describe the diversification of our investments in real estate debt by credit rating and collateral type, and includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage loans, and other debt secured by real estate assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated GAAP Balance Sheets, based on fair value as of March 31, 2026:

(1) BBB represents credit ratings of BBB+, BBB, and BBB-, BB represents credit ratings of BB+, BB, and BB-, B represents credit ratings of B+, B, and B-, and CCC and below represents credit ratings of CCC+ and below.

(2) Not rated positions have a weighted-average LTV at origination of 59% and are primarily composed of rental housing (44%) and industrial (52%) assets.

The following table details our investments in real estate debt as of March 31, 2026 ($ in thousands):

Total investments in real estate debt	7.3%	1/9/2033	$ 4,595,646	$ 4,570,709	$ 4,374,442

(1) Includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage loans, and other debt secured by real estate assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated GAAP Balance Sheets.

(2) The symbol "+" means that the figure represents a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates, which include Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Sterling Overnight Index Average ("SONIA"), and Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("EURIBOR"), as applicable to each security and loan. Fixed rate CMBS and commercial real estate loans are reflected as a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates as of March 31, 2026 for purposes of the weighted averages. Weighted average coupon for CMBS does not include zero-coupon securities. As of March 31, 2026, we have interest rate swaps outstanding with a notional value of $0.3 billion that effectively convert a portion of our fixed rate investments in real estate debt to floating rates. Total weighted average coupon does not include the impact of such interest rate swaps or other derivatives.

(3) Weighted average maturity date is based on the fully extended maturity date of the instrument.

(4) Face amount excludes interest-only securities with a notional amount of $0.2 billion as of March 31, 2026. In addition, CMBS includes zero-coupon securities of less than $0.1 billion as of March 31, 2026.

(5) Represents an investment in an unconsolidated joint venture with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation that holds investments in real estate debt. Weighted average coupon and weighted average maturity date excludes this joint venture.

Rental Revenue

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, rental revenue decreased $111.1 million as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $137.5 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026, partially offset by a $26.4 million increase in Same Property revenues. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Hospitality Revenue

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, hospitality revenue increased $2.1 million as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase can primarily be attributed to a $4.0 million increase in Same Property revenues, partially offset by a $1.9 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Other Revenue

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, other revenue decreased $8.4 million as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to an $11.5 million decrease in Non-Same Property revenues due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026, partially offset by a $3.1 million increase in Same Property revenues. See “Same Property NOI” section for further details of the increase in Same Property revenues.

Rental Property Operating Expenses

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, rental property operating expenses decreased $62.8 million as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease can primarily be attributed to a $75.7 million decrease in Non-Same Property operating expenses due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026, partially offset by a $12.9 million increase in Same Property operating expenses. See "Same Property NOI" section for further details of the increase in Same Property operating expenses.

Hospitality Operating Expenses

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, hospitality operating expenses increased $0.3 million as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase can primarily be attributed to a $4.8 million increase in Same Property hospitality operating expenses, partially offset by a $4.5 million decrease in Non-Same Property hospitality operating expenses due to the real estate dispositions we made from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026. See "Same Property NOI" section for further details of the increase in Same Property hospitality operating expenses.

General and Administrative Expenses

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, general and administrative expenses decreased $1.7 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was due to an decrease in various corporate level expenses during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Management Fee

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the management fee increased $3.8 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was due to a higher average NAV during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Performance Participation Allocation

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the performance participation allocation expense increased $14.5 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was the result of a higher total return for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Impairment of Investments in Real Estate

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, impairments of investments in real estate decreased $35.0 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we recognized an aggregate $135.2 million of impairment charges including (i) $88.4 million related to certain properties as a result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions, and (ii) $46.8 million related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs.

During the three months ended March 31, 2025, we recognized an aggregate $170.3 million of impairment charges including (i) $146.8 million related to certain properties as a result of updates to the undiscounted cash flow assumptions, primarily to account for a shorter hold period, and (ii) $23.5 million related to certain held-for-sale real estate investments where their GAAP carrying amount exceeded their fair value, less estimated closing costs.

Depreciation and Amortization

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, depreciation and amortization decreased $66.6 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was primarily driven by the impact of disposition activity from January 1, 2025 through March 31, 2026.

Loss from Unconsolidated Entities

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we had a net loss from unconsolidated entities of $42.2 million, primarily driven by interest and depreciation and amortization. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, we had a net loss from unconsolidated entities of $765.0 million, driven by our QTS Data Centers investment, attributable to unrealized losses related to the change in the fair value of interest rate derivatives, depreciation and amortization, and one-time buyout costs.

Income from Investments in Real Estate Debt

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, income from investments in real estate debt decreased $55.2 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a (i) decrease of $31.3 million in interest income as a result of sales and repayments and (ii) a decrease of $27.0 million in net unrealized/realized gains on our investments in real estate debt and related derivatives, partially offset by (iii) a decrease in other expense of $3.1 million.

Change in Net Assets of Consolidated Securitization Vehicles

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the change in net assets of consolidated securitization vehicles decreased $15.2 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was primarily attributable to a decrease of $17.3 million in interest income as a result of sales and repayments, partially offset by an increase in net unrealized/realized gains of $2.1 million.

Income (Loss) from Interest Rate Derivatives

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, income from interest rate derivatives increased $373.0 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was primarily attributable to an increase in the fair value of our derivatives.

Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, net gain on dispositions of real estate increased $326.6 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we recorded $462.5 million of net gains from the disposition of 35 industrial properties, 26 rental housing properties, two office properties, and one retail property. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, we recorded $135.9 million of net gains from the disposition of 19 rental housing properties, eight industrial properties, and two retail properties.

Interest Expense, Net

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, net interest expense decreased $70.3 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to lower outstanding borrowings, primarily resulting from real estate dispositions from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026.

Loss on Extinguishment of Debt

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, loss on extinguishment of debt increased $1.4 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was primarily due to the impact of refinancing and disposition activity during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Other Expense

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, other expense decreased $3.2 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to decreases in portfolio-level corporate costs of $3.2 million.

Same Property NOI

Net Operating Income ("NOI") is a supplemental non-GAAP measure of our property operating results that we believe is meaningful because it enables management to evaluate the impact of occupancy, rents, leasing activity, and other controllable property operating results at our real estate. We define NOI as operating revenues less operating expenses, which exclude (i) impairment of investments in real estate, (ii) depreciation and amortization, (iii) straight-line rental income and expense, (iv) amortization of above- and below-market lease intangibles, (v) amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income, (vi) lease termination fees, (vii) portfolio-level corporate costs, (viii) other non-property related revenue and expense items such as (a) general and administrative expenses, (b) management fee, (c) performance participation allocation, (d) incentive compensation awards, (e) income (loss) from investments in real estate debt, (f) change in net assets of consolidated securitization vehicles, (g) income (loss) from interest rate derivatives, (h) net gain on dispositions of real estate, (i) interest expense, net, (j) loss on extinguishment of debt, (k) other income (expense), and (l) buyout costs and (ix) similar adjustments for NOI attributable to non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We evaluate our consolidated results of operations on a Same Property basis, which allows us to analyze our property operating results excluding acquisitions and dispositions during the periods under comparison. Properties in our portfolio are considered Same Property if they were owned for the full periods presented, otherwise they are considered Non-Same Property. Recently developed properties are not included in Same Property results until the properties have achieved stabilization for both full periods presented. We define stabilization for the property as the earlier of (i) achieving 90% occupancy, (ii) 12 months after receiving a certificate of occupancy, or (iii) for Data Centers, 12 months after receiving a certificate of occupancy and greater than 50% of its critical IT capacity has been built. Certain assets are excluded from Same Property results and are considered Non-Same Property, including (i) properties held-for-sale, (ii) properties that are being redeveloped, (iii) properties identified for future sale, and (iv) interests in unconsolidated entities under contract for sale with a hard deposit or other factors ensuring the buyer's performance. We do not consider our investments in the real estate debt segment to be Same Property.

Same Property NOI assists in eliminating disparities in net income due to the acquisition, disposition, development, or redevelopment of properties during the periods presented, and therefore we believe it provides a meaningful performance measure for the comparison of the operating performance of our properties, which we believe is useful to investors. Our Same Property NOI may not be comparable to that of other companies and should not be considered to be more relevant or accurate in evaluating our operating performance than our GAAP net income (loss).

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, our Same Property portfolio consisted of 729 rental housing, 2,849 industrial, 53 data centers, two net lease, 240 hospitality, 79 self storage, 59 retail, and 11 office properties. The following table reconciles GAAP net loss to Same Property NOI for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025 ($ in thousands):

Same Property – Rental Revenue

Same Property rental revenue increased $26.4 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was due to a $19.2 million increase in base rental revenue, a $5.7 million increase in tenant reimbursement income as a result of higher operating expenses, and a $1.5 million decrease in our bad debt reserve. Our bad debt reserve represents the amount of rental revenue we anticipate we will not be able to collect from our tenants.

The following table details the changes in base rental revenue period over period ($ in thousands):[(1)]

	Three Months Ended March 31,		Change
	2026	2025	Change in Base Rental Revenue	Change in Occupancy Rate	Change in Average Effective Annual Base Rent Per Leased Square Foot/Unit

(1) Excludes our investments in unconsolidated entities.

Same Property – Hospitality Revenue

Same Property hospitality revenue increased $4.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase in hospitality revenue was primarily due to increases in average daily rate and occupancy and an increase in food and beverage revenue at our hotels during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

Same Property – Other Revenue

Same Property other revenue increased $3.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was primarily due to increased ancillary income at our rental housing properties during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

Same Property – Rental Property Operating Expenses

Same Property rental property operating expenses increased $12.9 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase in rental property operating expenses was primarily the result of increased insurance, real estate taxes, and general operating expenses at our rental housing and industrial properties during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

Same Property – Hospitality Operating Expenses

Same Property hospitality operating expenses increased $4.8 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase in hospitality operating expenses was primarily the result of increased real estate taxes, insurance, food and beverage expense, and other operating expenses at our hotels during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

Same Property NOI from Unconsolidated Entities

Same Property NOI from unconsolidated entities increased $23.4 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase is primarily due to additional base rent associated with increased occupancy at our QTS Data Centers investment.

Funds from Operations, Adjusted Funds from Operations and Funds Available for Distribution

We believe Funds from Operations ("FFO") is a meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. Our condensed consolidated financial statements are presented using historical cost accounting which, among other things, requires depreciation of real estate investments. As a result, our operating results imply that the value of our real estate investments have decreased over time. However, we believe that the value of our real estate investments will fluctuate over time based on market conditions and, as such, depreciation under historical cost accounting may be less informative as a measure of our performance. FFO is an operating measure defined by the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts ("NAREIT") that is broadly used in the REIT industry. FFO, as defined by NAREIT and presented below, is calculated as net income or loss (computed in accordance with GAAP), excluding (i) depreciation and amortization, (ii) impairment of investments in real estate, (iii) net gains or losses from sales of real estate, (iv) net gains or losses from change in control, and (v) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We also believe that Adjusted FFO ("AFFO") is an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. AFFO further adjusts FFO to reflect the performance of our portfolio by adjusting for items we believe are not directly attributable to our operations. Our adjustments to FFO to arrive at AFFO include removing the impact of (i) the performance participation allocation to our Special Limited Partner or other incentive compensation awards that are based on our Net Asset Value, which includes unrealized gains and losses not recorded in GAAP net income (loss), and that are paid in shares or BREIT OP units, even if subsequently repurchased by us, (ii) gains or losses on extinguishment of debt, (iii) unrealized gains or losses in fair value of financial instruments, (iv) amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income, (v) straight-line rental income and expense, (vi) amortization of deferred financing costs, (vii) amortization of restricted stock awards, (viii) amortization of mortgage premium/discount, (ix) organization costs, (x) severance costs, (xi) buyout costs, (xii) net forfeited investment deposits, (xiii) amortization of above- and below-market lease intangibles, (xiv) gain or loss on involuntary conversion, (xv) settlement costs, (xvi) amortization of non-real estate assets, and adding (xvii) proceeds from interest rate contract receivables, and (xviii) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We also believe that Funds Available for Distribution ("FAD") is an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. FAD provides useful information for considering our operating results and certain other items relative to the amount of our distributions, and we believe is therefore meaningful to stockholders. FAD is calculated as AFFO adjusted for (i) management fees paid in shares or BREIT OP units, even if subsequently repurchased by us, (ii) recurring tenant improvements, leasing commissions, and other capital expenditures, (iii) stockholder servicing fees paid during the period, (iv) realized gains or losses on financial instruments, and (v) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities. FAD is not indicative of cash available to fund our cash needs and does not represent cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP, as FAD is adjusted for stockholder servicing fees and recurring tenant improvements, leasing commissions, and other capital expenditures, which are not considered when determining cash flows from operations. Furthermore, FAD excludes (i) adjustments for working capital items and (ii) amortization of discounts and premiums on investments in real estate debt. Cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP would generally be adjusted for such items.

FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered more relevant or accurate than GAAP net income (loss) in evaluating our operating performance. In addition, FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered as alternatives to net income (loss) as indications of our performance or as alternatives to cash flows from operating activities as indications of our liquidity, but rather should be reviewed in conjunction with these and other GAAP measurements. Further, FFO, AFFO, and FAD are not intended to be used as liquidity measures indicative of cash flow available to fund our cash needs, including our ability to make distributions to our stockholders. In addition, our methodology for calculating AFFO and FAD may differ from the methodologies employed by other companies to calculate the same or similar supplemental performance measures, and accordingly, our reported AFFO and FAD may not be comparable to the AFFO and FAD reported by other companies.

The following table presents a reconciliation of net loss attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders to FFO, AFFO and FAD attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders ($ in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,

Allocable share of adjustments related to unconsolidated entities	(30,572)	(21,856)
Amount attributable to non-controlling interests for above adjustments	4,810	6,876
FAD attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders	$ 327,417	$ 343,473

(1) Other adjustments to arrive at AFFO for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025 primarily include severance costs, organization costs, amortization of above-and-below market lease intangibles, and amortization of mortgage premium/discount, and to a lesser extent, amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income.

(2) Recurring tenant improvements and leasing commissions are generally related to second-generation leases and other capital expenditures required to maintain our investments. Other capital expenditures exclude projects that we believe will enhance the value of our investments.

Net Asset Value

Our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, has adopted valuation guidelines that contain a comprehensive set of methodologies to be used by our Adviser in connection with our NAV calculation. These guidelines are designed to produce a fair and accurate estimate of the price that would be received for our investments in an arm's-length transaction between a willing buyer and a willing seller in possession of all material information about our investments.

The calculation of our NAV is intended to be a calculation of the fair value of our assets less our outstanding liabilities as described below and differs materially from the book value of our equity reflected in our financial statements. As a public company, we are required to issue financial statements based on historical cost determined in accordance with GAAP. To calculate our NAV for the purpose of establishing a purchase and repurchase price for our shares, we have adopted a model, as explained below, that adjusts the value of our assets and liabilities from historical cost to fair value generally in accordance with the GAAP principles set forth in FASB Accounting Standards Codification Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements. Our Adviser calculates the fair value of our real estate properties monthly based in part on values provided by third party independent appraisers, and such calculations are reviewed by an independent valuation advisor as further discussed below.

Because these fair value calculations involve significant professional judgment in the application of both observable and unobservable attributes, the calculated fair value of our assets may differ from their actual realizable value or future fair value. While we believe our NAV calculation methodologies are consistent with standard industry practices, there is no rule or regulation that requires us to calculate NAV in a certain way. As a result, other REITs and other real estate investors may use different methodologies or assumptions to determine NAV. In addition, NAV is not a measure determined under GAAP and the valuations of, and certain adjustments made to, our assets and liabilities used in the determination of NAV differs materially from comparable historical cost amounts determined in accordance with GAAP. You should not consider NAV to be equivalent to stockholders' equity or any other measure determined in accordance with GAAP.

The following valuation methods are used for purposes of calculating the significant components of our NAV:

- Consolidated properties are initially valued at cost, which we expect to represent fair value at the time of acquisition. Subsequently, consolidated properties are primarily valued using the discounted cash flow methodology (the "Income Approach"), whereby a property's value is calculated by discounting the estimated cash flows and the anticipated terminal value of the subject property by the assumed new buyer's normalized weighted average cost of capital for the subject property. Consistent with industry practices, the Income Approach also incorporates subjective judgments regarding comparable rental and operating expense data, capitalization or discount rate, and projections of future rent and expenses based on appropriate evidence as well as the residual value of the asset as components in determining value. Other methodologies that may also be used to value properties include Sales Comparisons and the Replacement Cost Approaches. We believe the discount rate and exit capitalization rate are the key assumptions utilized in discounted cash flow methodology (the Income Approach). Below the tables that set forth our NAV calculation is a sensitivity analysis of the weighted average discount rates and exit capitalization rates for our property investments.
- Investments in real estate debt consist of CMBS and RMBS, which are securities backed by one or more mortgage loans secured by real estate assets, as well as corporate bonds, term loans, mortgage loans, mezzanine loans, and other investments in debt issued by real estate-related companies or secured by real estate assets. The Company generally determines the fair value of its investments in real estate debt by utilizing third party pricing service providers whenever available. In determining the fair value of a particular investment, pricing service providers may use broker-dealer quotations, reported trades or valuation estimates from their internal pricing models. The pricing service providers' internal models for securities such as real estate debt generally consider the attributes applicable to a particular class of the security (e.g., credit rating, seniority), current market data, and estimated cash flows for each security, and incorporate specific collateral performance, as applicable. Certain of the Company's investments in real estate debt, such as mortgage loans, mezzanine loans and other investments, are unlikely to have readily available market quotations. In such cases, the Company will generally determine the initial value based on the acquisition price of such investment if acquired by the Company or the par value of such investment if originated by the Company. Following the initial measurements, the Company engages third party service providers to perform valuations for such investments. The service providers will determine fair value by utilizing or reviewing certain of the following (i) market yield data, (ii) discounted cash flow modeling, (iii) collateral asset performance, (iv) local or macro real estate performance, (v) capital market conditions, (vi) debt yield or loan-to-value ratios, and (vii) borrower financial condition and performance. Refer to the "Fair Value Measurements" section of Note 2 to our condensed consolidated financial statements for additional details on the Company's investments in real estate debt.
- The values of our mortgage loans, secured term loans, secured revolving credit facilities, secured financings on investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities (collectively, "Debt") are estimated by modeling the cash flows required by the Company's debt agreements and discounting them back to the present value using an estimated market yield. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable loan-to-value ratios and credit profiles. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform these valuations.

- The Company separately values the assets and liabilities of the investments in unconsolidated entities. To determine the fair value of the real estate assets of the investments in unconsolidated entities, the Company utilizes a discounted cash flow methodology or market comparable methodology, taking into consideration various factors including discount rate, exit capitalization rate and multiples of comparable companies. The Company utilizes third party service providers to perform valuations of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities. The fair value of the indebtedness of the investments in unconsolidated entities is determined by modeling the cash flows required by the debt agreements and discounting them back to the present value using weighted average cost of capital. Additionally, current market rates and conditions are considered by evaluating similar borrowing agreements with comparable loan-to-value ratios and credit profiles. After the fair value of the assets and liabilities are determined, the Company applies its ownership interest to the net asset value and reflects this amount as its investments in unconsolidated entities at fair value.

NAV and NAV Per Share Calculation

Each share class has an undivided interest in our assets and liabilities, other than class-specific liabilities (including the management fee paid to the Adviser, stockholder servicing fees paid to the Dealer Manager and the performance participation allocation paid to the Special Limited Partner). In accordance with the valuation guidelines, our NAV per share for each share class as of the last calendar day of each month is calculated using a process that reflects several components, including the estimated fair value of (1) each of our properties (including the DST Properties), (2) our investments in real estate debt, (3) our investments in unconsolidated entities, (4) our mortgage loans, secured term loans, secured revolving credit facilities, secured financings on investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities, and (5) our other assets and liabilities.

At the end of each month, our change in NAV for each share class is calculated as follows:

- Shares are issued for subscriptions received and distribution reinvestments to each respective share class, as applicable, and are effective on the first day of each month. The proceeds received through subscriptions and distribution reinvestments for each share class are additions to the prior month ending aggregate NAV for each respective share class (including OP units). Additionally, the NAV of each share class is reduced by the respective repurchases for such month. The result represents the aggregate NAV per share class effective as of the first calendar day of the current month.

- Any change in our aggregate NAV (whether an increase or decrease), excluding management fees paid to the Advisor and the performance participation allocation paid to the Special Limited Partner, is allocated among each class of shares (including OP units) based on each class's relative percentage of the previous aggregate NAV adjusted for issuances of shares that were effective on the first calendar day of such month and repurchases that were effective on the last calendar day of such month. For the purposes of allocating any change in our aggregate NAV, Class S will be combined with Class S-2, Class T will be combined with T-2, and Class D will be combined with D-2 when allocating changes on a relative percentage of the aggregate NAV. Changes in our aggregate NAV include, but are not limited to, accruals of our net portfolio income, interest expense, distributions, unrealized/realized gains and losses on assets, any applicable organization and offering costs and any expense reimbursements, debt appreciation and depreciation and general and administrative expenses. Unrealized net real estate and debt appreciation includes any change in the fair market value of our investments in real estate, investments in real estate debt, investments in unconsolidated entities, and Debt.

- For each applicable class of shares, the management fee is calculated as a percentage of the aggregate NAV for such class of shares and any accrued performance participation allocation is calculated as a percentage of Total Return, subject to a Hurdle amount and a High Water mark, with a Catch-Up (each term as defined in the prospectus), with respect to such class of shares.

- Net distributions are typically declared on the last day of each month and are a reduction to the NAV of each respective share class. As a result of the allocation of stockholder servicing fees, the net distributions per share will differ by share class. The monthly stockholder servicing fee is calculated as a percentage of each applicable class of shares' NAV (Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2). Class I, Class C, Class L, Class L-2, and Class F shares are not subject to the stockholder servicing fee.

- NAV per share for each class is calculated by dividing such class's NAV at the end of each month by the number of shares outstanding for that class at the end of such month.

Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the prospectus for the Current Offering (as defined below) for further details on how our NAV is determined.

Components of NAV	March 31, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 94,655,772
Investments in real estate debt	4,374,442
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	18,335,225

Other assets	3,213,118
Mortgage loans, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(56,219,357)
Secured financings of investments in real estate debt	(2,571,583)
Subscriptions received in advance	(270,952)
Other liabilities	(2,552,776)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(156,706)
Management fee payable	(57,647)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(13,027)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,867,590)
Net Asset Value	$ 54,928,181
Number of outstanding shares/units[4]	3,851,559

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $83.7 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third party joint venture interests in such investments as of March 31, 2026.
(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of March 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $39.5 billion.
(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV, we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue (i) the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation, for Class S, Class D and Class T shares and (ii) the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders for Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class T-2 as an offering cost, in each case, at the time we sell the applicable shares. As of March 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.
(4) As of March 31, 2026, no Class L-2 or Class F shares were outstanding.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of March 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units[1]	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of March 31, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 30,525,091	2,141,584	$ 14.2535
Class S Shares	16,627,948	1,167,501	14.2423
Class S-2 Shares	496,436	34,856	14.2423
Class D Shares	1,338,186	96,322	13.8928
Class D-2 Shares	76,739	5,524	13.8928

Third Party Operating Partnership[2]	4,734,328	332,152	14.2535
Total	$ 54,928,181	3,851,559

(1) As of March 31, 2026, no Class L-2 or Class F shares were outstanding.
(2) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT OP held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unitholders, and other BREIT OP interests held by parties other than the Company.

The following table details the weighted average discount rate and exit capitalization rate by property type, which are the key assumptions used in the discounted cash flow valuations as of March 31, 2026:

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.4%	6.1%
Self Storage	8.4%	6.5%
Office	7.8%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by our Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all else equal, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Center Investment Values	Self Storage Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.9%	+1.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%

The following table reconciles stockholders' equity and BREIT OP partners' capital per our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets to our NAV ($ in thousands):

	March 31, 2026
Stockholders' equity	$ 18,324,273
Non-controlling interests attributable to BREIT OP	3,585,633
Total BREIT stockholders' equity and BREIT OP partners' capital under GAAP	21,909,906
Adjustments:
Accrued stockholder servicing fees	676,270
Accrued affiliated service provider incentive compensation awards	(23,020)
Accumulated depreciation and amortization under GAAP	15,995,734
Unrealized net real estate and real estate debt appreciation	16,369,291
NAV	$ 54,928,181

The following details the adjustments to reconcile total GAAP stockholders' equity of BREIT and partners' capital of BREIT OP to our NAV:

- Accrued stockholder servicing fees represent the accrual for the cost of the stockholder servicing fees for Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. Under GAAP, we accrue (i) the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation, for Class S, Class D and Class T shares and (ii) the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders for Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class T-2 shares, in each case, as an offering cost at the time we sell the applicable share. Refer to Note 10 to our condensed consolidated financial statements for further details of the GAAP treatment regarding the stockholder servicing fees. For purposes of calculating NAV, we recognize the stockholder servicing fees as a reduction to NAV on a monthly basis when such fees are paid.

- Under GAAP, the affiliated incentive compensation awards are valued as of grant date and compensation expense is recognized over the service period on a straight-line basis with an offset to equity, resulting in no impact to Stockholders' Equity. For purposes of calculating NAV, we value the awards based on performance in the applicable period and deduct such value from NAV.

- We depreciate our investments in real estate and amortize certain other assets and liabilities in accordance with GAAP. Such depreciation and amortization are not recorded for purposes of calculating our NAV.

- Our investments in real estate are presented at their depreciated cost basis in our condensed consolidated GAAP financial statements. Additionally, Debt is presented at its amortized cost basis in our condensed consolidated GAAP financial statements. As such, any increases or decreases in the fair market value of our investments in real estate or our Debt are not included in our GAAP results. For purposes of calculating our NAV, our investments in real estate and our Debt are recorded at fair value.

Distributions

Beginning in March 2017, we have declared monthly distributions for each class of our common stock and OP units, which are generally paid 20 days after month-end. We have paid distributions consecutively each month since that time. Each class of our common stock and OP units received the same aggregate gross distribution of $0.1652 per share/unit for the three months ended March 31, 2026. Class C shares currently have no distribution amount presented as the class is generally an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV. As of March 31, 2026, there were no Class L-2 shares or Class F shares outstanding. The net distribution varies for each class based on the applicable stockholder servicing fee, which is deducted from the monthly distribution per share/unit and paid directly to the applicable distributor.

(1) Excludes cash paid to third party joint venture partners of consolidated subsidiaries classified as non-controlling interests under GAAP.

(2) Our inception to date cash flows from operating activities, along with inception to date net gains from investment realizations, have funded 100% of our distributions to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders through March 31, 2026.

(3) Year-to-date net gains from investment realizations includes (i) net gains and losses on dispositions of real estate, (ii) net realized gains and losses on sale of investments in real estate debt, and (iii) impairments of investments in real estate, which amounts are not included in cash flows from operating activities.

(4) Reflects amounts allocable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders. See “Funds from Operations, Adjusted Funds from Operations and Funds Available for Distribution” below for descriptions of FFO, AFFO, and FAD, for reconciliations of these items to GAAP net loss attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders, and for considerations on how to review these metrics.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Liquidity

We believe we have sufficient liquidity to operate our business, with $7.2 billion of liquidity as of May 7, 2026. When we refer to our liquidity, this includes amounts available under our undrawn revolving credit facilities of $5.9 billion as well as unrestricted cash and cash equivalents of $1.3 billion. We also expect $0.1 billion of proceeds from dispositions under contract where we have received a non-refundable deposit as of May 7, 2026. We also generate incremental liquidity through our operating cash flows, which were $0.5 billion for the three months ended March 31, 2026. We may also generate incremental liquidity through the sale of our real estate debt investments, which were carried at their estimated fair value of $4.4 billion as of March 31, 2026.

In addition, we remain moderately leveraged (46% as of March 31, 2026) and can generate additional liquidity through incurring additional indebtedness secured by our real estate and real estate debt investments, unsecured financings, and other forms of indebtedness. Our leverage ratio is measured by dividing (i) consolidated property-level and entity-level debt net of cash and debt-related restricted cash, by (ii) the asset value of real estate investments (measured using the greater of fair market value and cost) plus the equity in our settled real estate debt investments. Indebtedness incurred (i) in connection with funding a deposit in advance of the closing of an investment or (ii) as other working capital advances will not be included as part of the calculation above. Our leverage ratio would be higher if the indebtedness on our real estate debt investments and pro rata share of debt within our unconsolidated investments were taken into account.

In addition to our current liquidity, we obtain incremental liquidity through the sale of shares of our common stock in our continuous public offering and private offerings, and units of BREIT OP, from which we have received cumulative net proceeds of $81.4 billion as of May 7, 2026.

Capital Resources

As of March 31, 2026, our indebtedness included loans secured by our properties, secured financings of our investments in real estate debt, and unsecured revolving credit facilities and term loans.

The following table is a summary of our indebtedness as of March 31, 2026 ($ in thousands):

	March 31, 2026			Principal Balance as of

(1) "+" refers to the relevant floating benchmark rates, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, as applicable to each loan or secured financing. As of March 31, 2026, we had outstanding interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional balance of $32.5 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate notional balance of $20.1 billion that mitigate our exposure to potential future interest rate increases under our floating-rate debt.
(2) Weighted average maturity assumes maximum maturity date, including any extensions, where the Company, at its sole discretion, has one or more extension options.
(3) Includes $189.6 million and $201.9 million of loans related to investments in affordable housing properties as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. Such loans are generally from municipalities, housing authorities, and other third parties administered through government sponsored affordable housing programs. Certain of these loans may be forgiven if specific affordable housing conditions are maintained.
(4) Additional borrowings under the Company's variable rate warehouse facilities require additional collateral, which are subject to lender approval.

The table above excludes consolidated senior CMBS positions owned by third parties, which are reflected in our condensed consolidated GAAP balance sheets, as these liabilities are non-recourse to us and can only be satisfied by repayment of the collateral loans underlying such securitizations.

The following table is a summary of the impact of derivatives on our weighted average interest rate as of March 31, 2026:

Weighted average interest rate of loans secured by our properties	5.1%
Impact of interest rate swaps, caps and other derivatives	(1.1)%
Net weighted average interest rate of loans secured by our properties	4.0%

Public and Private Offerings

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we have received proceeds of $1.2 billion from the sale of shares of common stock in our continuous public and private offerings, and units of BREIT OP.

We registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), an offering of up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S-2, Class T-2 and Class D-2 shares in our primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in any combination of Class I, Class S, Class S-2, Class T, Class T-2, Class D and Class D-2 shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan, which we began using to offer shares of our common stock in September 2025 (the "Current Offering").

As of May 8, 2026, we have received cumulative net proceeds of $2.1 billion from selling an aggregate of 152.5 million shares of our common stock in the Current Offering (consisting of 94.1 million Class I shares, 15.7 million Class S shares, 33.3 million Class S-2 shares, 1.7 million Class D shares, 6.7 million Class D-2 shares, 0.6 million Class T shares, and 0.4 million Class T-2 shares).

Additionally, we have and may continue to conduct private offerings of Class I, Class S-2, Class T-2, Class D-2, Class C, Class L, and Class L-2 shares to accredited investors or other vehicles that hold our shares and other assets, as described in our prospectus. All such private offerings are or will be exempt from the registration provisions of the Securities Act.

Capital Uses

During periods when we are selling more shares than we are repurchasing, we primarily use our capital to acquire our investments, which we also fund with other capital resources. During periods when we are repurchasing more shares than we are selling, we primarily use our capital to fund repurchases. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we fulfilled $1.3 billion of repurchases requested, which represents all repurchase requests received for the three months ended March 31, 2026. We continue to believe that our current liquidity position is sufficient to meet the needs of our business.

In addition, we may have other funding obligations, which we expect to satisfy with the cash flows generated from our investments and our capital resources described above. Such obligations may include distributions to our stockholders, operating expenses, capital expenditures, repayment of indebtedness, and debt service on our outstanding indebtedness. Our operating expenses include, among other things, the management fee we pay to the Adviser and the performance participation allocation that BREIT OP pays to the Special Limited Partner, both of which will impact our liquidity to the extent the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner elects to receive such payments in cash, or subsequently redeem shares or OP units previously issued to them. To date, the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner have both always elected to be paid in a combination of shares and OP units, resulting in a non-cash expense.

Contractual Obligations

The following table aggregates our contractual obligations and commitments with payments due subsequent to March 31, 2026 ($ in thousands):

Obligations	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 years	3-5 years	More than 5 years
Indebtedness[1]	$ 66,052,967	$ 15,531,084	$ 21,512,350	$ 20,190,444	$ 8,819,089
Ground leases	2,782,221	40,686	82,800	85,181	2,573,554
Total	$ 68,835,188	$ 15,571,770	$ 21,595,150	$ 20,275,625	$ 11,392,643

(1) The allocation of our indebtedness includes both principal and interest payments based on the fully extended maturity date and interest rates in effect at March 31, 2026. The table above excludes consolidated senior CMBS positions owned by third parties, as these liabilities are non-recourse to us and can only be satisfied by repayment of the collateral loans underlying such securitizations.

Cash Flows

The following table provides a breakdown of the net change in our cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash ($ in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Cash flows provided by operating activities	$ 473,810	$ 572,454
Cash flows provided by investing activities	4,273,992	1,261,776
Cash flows used in financing activities	(5,034,365)	(1,663,315)
Net (decrease) increase in cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash	$ (286,563)	$ 170,915

Cash flows provided by operating activities decreased $0.1 billion during the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The decrease was primarily due to decreased cash flows from the operations of our investments in real estate and income on our investments in real estate debt.

Cash flows provided by investing activities increased $3.0 billion during the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was primarily due to (i) an increase of $1.9 billion in sales and repayments of real estate loans held by consolidated securitization vehicles, (ii) an increase of $1.0 billion in proceeds from disposition of real estate and (iii) an increase of $0.9 billion in proceeds from sales and repayments of investments in real estate debt. This was partially offset by an increase of $0.6 billion in purchases of investments of real estate debt.

Cash flows used in financing activities increased $3.4 billion for the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025. The increase was primarily due to a net increase in the repayment of borrowings of $2.6 billion and an increase of $1.8 billion in repayments of senior obligations of consolidated securitization vehicles. This was offset by a decrease of $0.6 billion in repurchases of common stock and an increase of $0.4 billion in proceeds from issuance of common stock.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

See Note 2 — “Summary of Significant Accounting Policies” to our consolidated financial statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-K for a discussion concerning recent accounting pronouncements.

Critical Accounting Estimates

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based upon our condensed consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with GAAP. The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with GAAP involves significant judgments and assumptions and require estimates about matters that are inherently uncertain. There have been no material changes to our Critical Accounting Policies, including significant accounting policies that we believe are the most affected by our judgments, estimates, and assumptions, which are described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk with respect to our variable rate indebtedness such that an increase in interest rates would result in higher net interest expense. We seek to manage our exposure to interest rate risk by utilizing a mix of fixed and floating rate financings with staggered maturities, and through interest rate hedging agreements to fix or cap a majority of our variable rate debt. As of March 31, 2026, the outstanding principal balance of our variable rate indebtedness was $38.8 billion and consisted of mortgage loans, secured and unsecured term loans, secured and unsecured revolving credit facilities, and secured financings on investments in real estate debt.

Certain of our mortgage loans, secured and unsecured term loans, secured and unsecured revolving credit facilities, and secured financings are variable rate and indexed primarily to SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, and other similar benchmark rates (collectively, the "Reference Rates"). We have executed interest rate swaps with an aggregate net notional amount of $32.5 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate net notional balance of $20.1 billion as of March 31, 2026 to hedge the risk of increasing interest rates. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, an increase of 25 basis points in each of the Reference Rates would have resulted in increased interest expense of $3.5 million, net of the impact of our interest rate swaps and caps. Our exposure to interest rate risk may vary in future periods as the amount and terms of our interest rate hedging agreements change over time as we implement our hedging program. See "Part I. Item 1A. Risk Factors — Risks Related to Investments in Real Estate Debt — We utilize derivatives, which involve numerous risks" and "Failure to hedge effectively against interest rate changes may materially adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition" and "Part I. Item 1A. Risk Factors — General Risk Factors — We will face risks associated with hedging transactions" of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for more information on risks associated with our use of derivatives and hedging transactions.

Investments in Real Estate Debt, at Fair Value

As of March 31, 2026, we held $4.4 billion of investments in real estate debt, which excludes the impact of consolidating the underlying loans that serve as collateral for certain securitizations on our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Our investments in real estate debt are primarily floating-rate and indexed to the Reference Rates, and as such, exposed to interest rate risk. Our net income will increase or decrease depending on interest rate movements. While we cannot predict factors that may or may not affect interest rates, a decrease of 25 basis points in the Reference Rates would have resulted in a decrease to income from investments in real estate debt of $2.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026.

We may also be exposed to market risk with respect to our investments in real estate debt due to changes in the fair value of our investments. We seek to manage our exposure to market risk with respect to our investments in real estate debt by making investments in real estate debt backed by different types of collateral and varying credit ratings. The fair value of our investments may fluctuate, therefore the amount we will realize upon any sale of our investments in real estate debt is unknown.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company maintains disclosure controls and procedures (as that term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the Company's reports under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, and summarized and reported within the time periods specified in SEC rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. Any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives. An evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report was made under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer. Based upon this evaluation, the Company's principal executive officer and chief financial officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (a) are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is timely recorded, processed, summarized and reported and (b) include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in the Company's "internal control over financial reporting" (as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that occurred during the most recent quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

From time to time, we may be involved in various claims and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. As of March 31, 2026, we were not involved in any material legal proceedings.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

For information regarding factors that could affect our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, see the risk factors discussed in Part I, Item 1A. There have been no material changes to the risk factors discussed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

ITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we issued equity securities that were not registered under the Securities Act. As described in Note 10 to our condensed consolidated financial statements, the Adviser is entitled to an annual management fee payable monthly in cash, shares of common stock, or BREIT OP units, in each case at the Adviser's election. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Adviser elected to receive its management fee in Class B units of BREIT OP, and we issued 12.1 million Class B units of BREIT OP to the Adviser in satisfaction of the 2026 management fee through February 2026. Additionally, we issued 4.0 million Class B units of BREIT OP to the Adviser in April 2026 in satisfaction of the March 2026 management fee.

We have also sold Class I and Class C shares to feeder vehicles created primarily to hold Class I and Class C shares and offer indirect interests in such shares to other investors. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we received $149.3 million from selling 10.5 million unregistered Class I shares and $26.1 million from selling 1.6 million unregistered Class C shares to such vehicles, in each case, including shares issued pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan.

We have also sold Class I and Class S-2 shares to certain accredited investors through certain participating broker-dealers. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we received $37.9 million from selling 2.7 million unregistered Class I shares and $80.6 million from selling 5.7 million unregistered Class S-2 shares, in each case, including shares issued pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan.

We have also issued 1.4 million Class S and D shares for $20.3 million pursuant to the Company's distribution reinvestment plan to certain investors that previously purchased shares in the public offering and are clients of certain participating broker-dealers.

Each of the foregoing transactions was exempt from the registration provisions of the Securities Act, by virtue of Section 4(a)(2) and/or Regulation D or Regulation S promulgated thereunder.

Share Repurchases

Under our Share Repurchase Plan, to the extent we choose to repurchase shares in any particular month, we will only repurchase shares as of the opening of the last calendar day of that month (each such date, a "Repurchase Date"). Repurchases will be made at the transaction price in effect on the Repurchase Date (which will generally be equal to our prior month's NAV per share), except that shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of the transaction price (the "Early Repurchase Deduction") subject to certain limited exceptions. Settlements of share repurchases will generally be made within three business days of the Repurchase Date. The Early Repurchase Deduction will not apply to shares acquired through our distribution reinvestment plan.

The aggregate NAV of total repurchases of all share classes, excluding OP units held by investors other than the Company, (including repurchases at certain non-U.S. investor access funds primarily created to hold shares of the Company, but excluding any Early Repurchase Deduction applicable to the repurchased shares) is limited to no more than 2% of our aggregate NAV per month (measured using the aggregate NAV attributable to stockholders as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and no more than 5% of our aggregate NAV per calendar quarter (measured using the average aggregate NAV attributable to stockholders as of the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed during each month in a calendar quarter. Certain stockholders are subject to certain restrictions, including a minimum holding period and certain repurchase limitations, in addition to the Company's existing monthly and quarterly limitations. We have in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under our Share Repurchase Plan, and we have in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we fulfilled $1.3 billion of share and unit repurchases requested, which represents all repurchase requests received for the three months ended March 31, 2026.

Should repurchase requests, in our board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company as a whole, or should our board of directors otherwise determine that investing our liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing our shares is in the best interests of the Company as a whole, our board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased (including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under our Share Repurchase Plan), or none at all. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our Share Repurchase Plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our Share Repurchase Plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. In the event that we determine to repurchase some but not all of the shares submitted for repurchase during any month, shares repurchased at the end of the month will be repurchased on a pro rata basis after we have repurchased all shares for which repurchase has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of the Share Repurchase Plan, as applicable.

If the transaction price for the applicable month is not made available by the tenth business day prior to the last business day of the month (or is changed after such date), then no repurchase requests will be accepted for such month and stockholders who wish to have their shares repurchased the following month must resubmit their repurchase requests.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we repurchased shares of our common stock in the following amounts:

Month of:	Total Number of Shares Repurchased	Average Price Paid per Share	Total Number of Shares Repurchased as Part of Publicly Announced Plans or Programs	Repurchases as a Percentage of NAV[1]	Maximum Number of Shares Pending Repurchase Pursuant to Publicly Announced Plans or Program[2]
January 2026	32,791,105	$ 14.12	32,791,105	0.9 %	—
February 2026	27,291,139	$ 14.18	27,291,139	0.8 %	—
March 2026	28,678,095	$ 14.23	28,678,095	0.8 %	—
Total	88,760,339	$ 14.17	88,760,339	2.5 %	—

(1) Represents aggregate NAV of the shares repurchased under our Share Repurchase Plan over aggregate NAV of all shares outstanding, in each case, based on the NAV as of the last calendar day of the prior month.

(2) All repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan were satisfied.

As of March 31, 2026, Blackstone owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $4.8 billion. Blackstone did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for management fees or the performance participation allocation during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

BLACKSTONE REAL ESTATE INCOME TRUST, INC.
SUPPLEMENT NO. 1 DATED APRIL 22, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 17, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., dated April 17, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus. References herein to the "Company", "BREIT," "we," "us," or "our" refer to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its subsidiaries unless the context specifically requires otherwise.

The purposes of this Supplement are as follows:

- to provide an update to BREIT's portfolio;
- to disclose the transaction price for each class of our common stock as of May 1, 2026;
- to disclose the calculation of our March 31, 2026 NAV per share for all share classes; and
- to provide an update on the status of our current public offering (the "Offering");

Portfolio Update

For the month ended March 31, 2026, BREIT's Class I NAV per share was $14.25 and Class I total return was 0.5% (not annualized).[1]

On or around May 8, 2026, the Company expects to publish its Q1 2026 Update for stockholders, which will be available on its website at www.breit.com. This web link is provided for convenience only, and the contents of the piece or the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus.

May 1, 2026 Transaction Price

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class T-2 shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class I shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class S shares, Class D shares and Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" in the Prospectus for a discussion of the differences between our Class I, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-2, Class S, Class D and Class T shares.

The transaction price for each share class of our common stock for subscriptions accepted as of May 1, 2026 (and repurchases as of April 30, 2026) is as follows:

	Transaction Price (per share)
Class I	$	14.2535
Class S-2	$	14.2423
Class D-2	$	13.8928
Class T-2	$	13.9980

The May 1 transaction price for each of our share classes is equal to such class's NAV per share as of March 31, 2026. A detailed calculation of the NAV per share for each of our share classes is set forth below. The purchase price of our common stock for each share class equals the transaction price of such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The repurchase price for each share class equals the transaction price of such class.

[1] BREIT's Class S-2 NAV per share was $14.24, Class D-2 NAV per share was $13.89, and Class T-2 NAV per share was $14.00. BREIT's Class S-2 total return was 0.4%, Class D-2 total return was 0.5%, and Class T-2 total return was 0.4% for March 2026.

March 31, 2026 NAV per Share

We calculate NAV per share in accordance with the valuation guidelines that have been approved by our board of directors. Our NAV per share, which is updated as of the last calendar day of each month, is posted on our website at www.breit.com and is made available on our toll-free, automated telephone line at (844) 702-1299. Please refer to "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" in the Prospectus for how our NAV is determined. The Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining our NAV. All our property investments are appraised annually by third party appraisal firms in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Transactions or events have occurred since March 31, 2026 that could have a material impact on our NAV per share, upon which our transaction price is based. We have included a breakdown of the components of total NAV and NAV per share for March 31, 2026 along with the immediately preceding month.

Components of NAV	March 31, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 94,655,772
Investments in real estate debt	4,374,442
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	18,335,225
Cash and cash equivalents	1,275,951
Restricted cash	783,311
Other assets	3,213,118
Mortgage notes, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(56,219,357)
Secured financings on investments in real estate debt	(2,571,583)
Subscriptions received in advance	(270,952)
Other liabilities	(2,552,776)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(156,706)
Management fee payable	(57,647)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(13,027)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,867,590)
Net asset value	$ 54,928,181
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,851,559

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $83.7 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of March 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of March 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $39.5 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of March 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of March 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net asset value	Number of outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of March 31, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 30,525,091	2,141,584	$ 14.2535
Class S Shares	16,627,948	1,167,501	14.2423
Class S-2 Shares	496,436	34,856	14.2423
Class D Shares	1,338,186	96,322	13.8928
Class D-2 Shares	76,739	5,524	13.8928
Class T Shares	431,366	30,816	13.9980
Class T-2 Shares	3,408	243	13.9980
Class C Shares	632,842	38,228	16.5542
Class L Shares	61,837	4,333	14.2703
Third Party Operating Partnership Units[(1)]	4,734,328	332,152	14.2535
Total	$ 54,928,181	3,851,559

(1) Includes the partnership interests of BREIT Operating Partnership held by BREIT Special Limited Partner, Class B unit holders, and other BREIT Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than the Company.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the March 31, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.5%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.4%	6.1%
Self Storage	8.4%	6.5%
Office	7.8%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Centers Investment Values	Self Storage Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.9%	+1.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.7)%	(1.7)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+3.0%	+3.4%	+2.8%	+1.5%	+1.1%	+2.2%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.7)%	(3.1)%	(2.5)%	(1.4)%	(0.9)%	(2.2)%	(2.9)%	(2.3)%

Components of NAV	February 28, 2026

Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,833,489)
Net asset value	$ 54,744,747
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,843,615

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $84.3 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of February 28, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of February 28, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $39.4 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. Status of our Current Public Offering

We are currently offering on a continuous basis up to $60.0 billion in shares of common stock, consisting of up to $48.0 billion in shares in our primary offering and up to $12.0 billion in shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. As of the date of this Supplement, we had issued and sold in the Offering (i) 99,948,000 shares of our common stock (consisting of 62,918,237 Class I Shares, 30,732,638 Class S-2 Shares, 5,920,544 Class D-2 Shares, and 376,581 Class T-2 Shares) in the primary offering for total proceeds of $1.4 billion and (ii) 42,492,103 shares of our common stock (consisting of 24,243,963 Class I Shares, 15,747,794 Class S Shares, 127,393 Class S-2 Shares, 1,660,076 Class D Shares, 24,331 Class D-2 Shares, 686,284 Class T Shares, and 2,262 Class T-2 Shares) pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan for a total value of $0.6 billion. As of March 31, 2026, our aggregate NAV was $54.9 billion. We intend to continue selling shares in the Offering on a monthly basis.

As of January 31, 2026, for the purposes of allocating any change in our aggregate NAV, Class S will be combined with Class S-2, Class T will be combined with T-2, and Class D will be combined with D-2 when allocating changes on a relative percentage of the aggregate NAV, which will result in the performance of a particular class of shares being lower or higher than had we not combined the corresponding class of shares during the relevant valuation period. See the “Risk Factors” section of this Prospectus.

Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.
Maximum Offering of $60,000,000,000

Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. invests primarily in stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate in the United States. We are externally managed by our adviser, BX REIT Advisors L.L.C. (the "Adviser"). The Adviser is part of the real estate group of Blackstone Inc. (together with its affiliates, "Blackstone"), a leading global investment manager, which serves as our sponsor ("Blackstone Real Estate"). Our objective is to bring Blackstone's leading institutional-quality real estate investment platform to income-focused investors. We conduct our operations as a real estate investment trust ("REIT") for U.S. federal income tax purposes. We are not a mutual fund and do not intend to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act").

We are offering on a continuous basis up to $60,000,000,000 in shares of our common stock, par value $0.01 per share, consisting of up to $48,000,000,000 in shares in our primary offering and up to $12,000,000,000 in shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. We are offering to sell any combination of four classes of shares of our common stock, Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class I shares in our primary offering and any combination of seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class I shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The share classes have different upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees, and different ongoing stockholder servicing fees. The purchase price per share for each class of common stock will vary and will generally equal our prior month's net asset value ("NAV") per share, as determined monthly, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. We may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month. This is a "best efforts" offering, which means that Blackstone Securities Partners L.P., the dealer manager for this offering, will use its best efforts to sell shares, but is not obligated to purchase or sell any specific amount of shares in this offering.

This investment involves a high degree of risk. You should purchase these securities only if you can afford the complete loss of your investment. See "Risk Factors" beginning on page 40 for risks to consider before buying our shares, including:

- Since there is no public trading market for our common stock, repurchase of shares by us is generally the only way to dispose of your shares. Our share repurchase plan, which is approved and administered by our board of directors, provides stockholders with the opportunity to request that we repurchase their shares on a monthly basis, but we are not obligated to repurchase any shares and our board of directors may determine to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in its discretion. In addition, repurchases will be subject to available liquidity and other significant restrictions that have in the past been, and may in the future be, exceeded, resulting in our repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our share repurchase plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our share repurchase plan. As a result, our shares should be considered as having only limited liquidity and at times may be illiquid.
- Distributions are not guaranteed and may be funded from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses. We have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources.
- The purchase and repurchase price for shares of our common stock are generally based on our prior month's NAV (subject to material changes as described above) and are not based on any public trading market. While there will be annual appraisals of our properties performed by independent third-party appraisal firms, the appraisal of properties is inherently subjective, and our NAV may not accurately reflect the actual price at which our properties could be liquidated on any given day.
- We are dependent on the Adviser to conduct our operations, as well as the persons and firms the Adviser retains to provide services on our behalf. The Adviser will face conflicts of interest as a result of, among other things, the allocation of investment opportunities among us and Other Blackstone Accounts (as defined herein), the allocation of time of its investment professionals and the substantial fees that we will pay to the Adviser.
- There are limits on the ownership and transferability of our shares. See "Description of Capital Stock—Restrictions on Ownership and Transfer."
- We intend to continue to qualify as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes. However, if we fail to qualify as a REIT and no relief provisions apply, our NAV and cash available for distribution to our stockholders could materially decrease.
- We do not own the Blackstone name, but we are permitted to use it as part of our corporate name pursuant to a trademark license agreement with an affiliate of Blackstone. Use of the name by other parties or the termination of our trademark license agreement may harm our business.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Attorney General of the State of New York nor any other state securities regulator has approved or disapproved of these securities or determined if this prospectus is truthful or complete. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense. (1) The price per share shown for each of our classes of shares is the April 1, 2026 transaction price, which is equal to such class's NAV as of February 28, 2026, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. Shares of each class will be issued on a monthly basis at a price per share generally equal to the prior month's NAV per share for such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The transaction price is the then-current offering price per share before applicable selling commissions and dealer manager fees and is generally the prior month's NAV per share for such class.

(2) The table assumes that all shares are sold in the primary offering, with 5% of the gross offering proceeds from the sale of Class T-2 shares, 35% of the gross offering proceeds from the sale of Class S-2 shares, 10% of the gross offering proceeds from the sale of Class D-2 shares and 50% from the sale of Class I shares, which are estimated based on the proportion of Class T, Class S, Class D, and Class I shares issued to date in our public offerings. The number of shares of each class sold and the relative proportions in which the classes of shares are sold are uncertain and may differ significantly from this assumption. For Class T-2 shares sold in the primary offering, investors will pay upfront selling commissions of up to 3.0% of the transaction price and upfront dealer manager fees of 0.5% of the transaction price, however such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers, provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price. For Class S-2 shares sold in the primary offering, investors will pay upfront selling commissions of up to 3.5% of the transaction price. For Class D-2 shares sold in the primary offering, investors may pay upfront selling commissions of up to 1.5% of the transaction price. We will also pay the following selling commissions over time as stockholder servicing fees to the dealer manager, subject to Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. ("FINRA") limitations on underwriting compensation: (a) for Class T-2 and Class T shares only, a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum, and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV for the Class T-2 and Class T shares, however, with respect to Class T-2 and Class T shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such shares, (b) for Class S-2 and Class S shares only, a stockholder servicing fee equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class S-2 and Class S shares and (c) for Class D-2 and Class D shares only, a stockholder servicing fee equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class D-2 and Class D shares, as applicable, in each case, payable monthly. No stockholder servicing fees will be paid with respect to the Class I shares. The total amount that will be paid over time for other underwriting compensation depends on the average length of time for which shares remain outstanding, the term over which such amount is measured and the performance of our investments. We will also pay or reimburse certain organization and offering expenses, including, subject to FINRA limitations on underwriting compensation, certain wholesaling expenses. See "Plan of Distribution," "Estimated Use of Proceeds" and "Compensation."

(3) Proceeds are calculated before deducting stockholder servicing fees or organization and offering expenses payable by us, which are paid over time.

(4) We reserve the right to reallocate shares of common stock between our distribution reinvestment plan and our primary offering.

The date of this prospectus is April 17, 2026

SUITABILITY STANDARDS

Shares of our common stock are suitable only as a long-term investment for persons of adequate financial means who do not need near-term liquidity from their investment. We do not expect there to be a public market for our shares and thus it may be difficult for you to sell your shares. On a limited basis, you may be able to have your shares repurchased through our share repurchase plan, although we are not obligated to repurchase any shares and our board of directors may determine to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in its discretion. You should not buy shares of our common stock if you need to sell them in the near future. The minimum initial investment in shares of our common stock that we will accept for shares of our Class T-2, Class S-2 or Class D-2 common stock is $2,500. The minimum initial investment in shares of our common stock that we will accept for shares of our Class I common stock is $1,000,000, unless waived by the dealer manager.

In consideration of these factors, we require that a purchaser of shares of our common stock have either:

- a net worth of at least $250,000; or
- a gross annual income of at least $70,000 and a net worth of at least $70,000.

For purposes of determining whether you satisfy the standards above, your net worth is calculated excluding the value of your home, home furnishings and automobiles. For the purposes of these suitability standards, unless otherwise indicated, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.

Certain states have established suitability standards in addition to the minimum income and net worth standards described above. Shares will be sold to investors in these states only if they meet the additional suitability standards set forth below. Certain broker-dealers selling shares in this offering may impose greater suitability standards than the minimum income and net worth standards described above and the state-specific suitability standards described below.

Alabama Investors. If I am an Alabama resident, I have either (a) a minimum of $100,000 annual gross income and a net worth of $100,000, or (b) a net worth of at least $350,000. In addition, my aggregate investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and other non-traded direct participation programs shall not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth at the time of my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. This concentration limit does not apply to investments made as a result of participation in a distribution reinvestment program nor to an investor who is an "accredited investor" as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth consisting of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities.

Idaho Investors. Purchasers residing in Idaho must have either (a) a net worth of $85,000 and annual income of $85,000 or (b) a liquid net worth of $300,000.

Iowa Investors. Purchasers residing in Iowa must have either (a) an annual gross income of at least $100,000 and a net worth of at least $100,000, or (b) a net worth of at least $350,000. In addition, the aggregate investment in this offering and in the securities of other non-publicly traded real estate investment trusts (REITs) may not exceed 10% of their liquid net worth. Purchasers who are accredited investors as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are not subject to the foregoing concentration limit.

Kansas Investors. The Securities Commissioner of Kansas recommends that Kansas investors limit their aggregate investment in our securities and other similar investments to not more than 10 percent of their liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.

Kentucky Investors. Purchasers residing in Kentucky may not invest more than 10% of their liquid net worth in our shares or in any shares of our affiliated non-publicly traded REITs. Purchasers who are accredited investors as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are not subject to the foregoing concentration limit.

Maine Investors. The Maine Office of Securities recommends that an investor's aggregate investment in this offering and other similar direct participation investments not exceed 10% of the investor's liquid net worth.

Massachusetts Investors. Purchasers residing in Massachusetts are required to have (a) a minimum liquid net worth of at least $100,000 and a minimum annual gross income of not less than $85,000; or (b) a minimum liquid net worth of $350,000. In addition, the total investment in us, our affiliates and other non-publicly traded direct investment programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs and commodity pools, but excluding unregistered, federally and state exempt private offerings) may not exceed 10% of an investor's liquid net worth. For purposes of the Massachusetts suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities.

Missouri Investors. In addition to the suitability standards set forth above, no more than ten percent (10%) of any one (1) Missouri investor's liquid net worth shall be invested in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.

Nebraska Investors. Purchasers residing in Nebraska who do not meet the definition of "accredited investor" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, must limit their aggregate investment in this offering and in the securities of other non-publicly traded direct participation programs to 10% of such investor's net worth.

New Jersey Investors. Purchasers residing in New Jersey are required to have (a) a minimum liquid net worth of at least $100,000 and a minimum annual gross income of not less than $100,000; or (b) a minimum liquid net worth of $350,000. In addition, the total investment in us, our affiliates and other non-publicly traded direct investment programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs and commodity pools (each, a "DIP Category"), but excluding unregistered, federally and state exempt private offerings) may not exceed 10% of an investor's liquid net worth. For purposes of New Jersey's suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities. However, New Jersey investors who are accredited investors, as defined at N.J.S.A. 49:3-49(p), may not invest more than ten percent (10%) of their liquid net worth in each DIP Category.

New Mexico Investors. Purchasers residing in New Mexico who are not "accredited investors" as defined by Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, may not invest more than 10% of their liquid net worth in our shares, shares of our affiliates and other non-traded real estate investment trusts.

Ohio Investors. Purchasers residing in Ohio may not invest more than 10% of their liquid net worth in us, our affiliates and other non-traded real estate investment programs. For purposes of Ohio's suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) that is comprised of cash, cash equivalents, and readily marketable securities. This condition does not apply, directly or indirectly, to federally covered securities. The condition also does not apply to purchasers who meet the definition of an accredited investor as defined in rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C.A. 77a, as amended.

Oregon Investors. In addition to general suitability standards, non-accredited Oregon investors may not invest more than 10% of their liquid net worth in us. For purposes of Oregon's suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as an investor's total assets (excluding home, home furnishings, and automobiles) minus total liabilities. Oregon investors who meet the definition of "accredited investor" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are not subject to the limitation described in this paragraph.

Pennsylvania Investors. Purchasers residing in Pennsylvania may not invest more than 10% of their net worth (exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles) in us. The offer and sale of our common stock to persons in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is governed by Pennsylvania law.

Puerto Rico Investors. Purchasers residing in Puerto Rico may not invest more than 10% of their liquid net worth in us, our affiliates, and in other non-traded REITs. For purposes of Puerto Rico's suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of primary residence, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) consisting of cash, cash equivalents, and readily marketable securities.

Tennessee Investors. Purchasers residing in Tennessee who are not "accredited investors" as defined in 17 C.F.R. § 230.501 may not invest more than 10% of their net worth in us.

Vermont Investors. Purchasers residing in Vermont who are not "accredited investors" as defined in 17 C.F.R. § 230.501 may not purchase an amount of shares in this offering that exceeds 10% of the investors' liquid net worth. Vermont residents who are "accredited investors" as defined in 17 C.F.R. § 230.501 are not subject to the limitation described in this paragraph. For purposes of Vermont's suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as an investor's total assets (not including home, home furnishings, or automobiles) minus total liabilities.

Washington Investors. Purchasers residing in Washington must have either (a) a minimum annual gross income of $100,000 and a minimum net worth of $100,000, or (b) a minimum net worth of $350,000. In addition, the total investment in us and other non-traded direct participation programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs, and commodity pools, but excluding federal and state exempt private offerings and any investment company registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940) may not exceed 10% of a purchaser's liquid net worth at the time of the purchaser's investment in us. This 10% liquid net worth limit does not apply to (i) distributions reinvested through the distribution reinvestment plan and (ii) a purchaser who is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D of the Securities Act, as amended.

In the case of sales to fiduciary accounts, the minimum standards above shall be met by the beneficiary, the fiduciary, account, or, by the donor or grantor, who directly or indirectly supplies the funds to purchase the shares if the donor or grantor is the fiduciary.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") adopted Regulation Best Interest, which establishes a new standard of conduct for broker-dealers and their associated persons when making a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities to a retail customer. A retail customer is any natural person, or the legal representative of such person, who receives a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities from a broker-dealer and uses the recommendation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. When making such a recommendation, a broker-dealer and its associated persons must act in such customer's best interest at the time the recommendation is made, without placing their financial or other interest ahead of the retail customer's interests, and should consider reasonable alternatives in determining whether the broker dealer and its associated persons have a reasonable basis for making the recommendation. Broker-dealers are under a duty of care to evaluate other alternatives in the retail customer's best interest and other alternatives may exist. For example, investments in listed entities may be reasonable alternatives to an investment in us and may be less costly and less complex with fewer and/or different risks; transactions for listed securities often involve nominal or no commissions. This standard is different than the quantitative suitability standards we require for an investment in our shares and enhances the broker-dealer standard of conduct beyond existing suitability obligations. Under Regulation Best Interest, high cost, high risk and complex products may be subject to greater scrutiny by broker-dealers and their salespersons. As Regulation Best Interest became effective on June 30, 2020, no administrative or case law currently exists under Regulation Best Interest and the full scope of its applicability is uncertain.

Under SEC rules, the broker-dealer must meet four component obligations:

- Disclosure Obligation: The broker-dealer must provide certain required disclosures before or at the time of the recommendation about the recommendation and the relationship between the broker-dealer and its retail customer. The disclosure includes a customer relationship summary on Form CRS. The broker-dealer's disclosures are separate from the disclosures we provide to investors in this prospectus.

- Care Obligation: The broker-dealer must exercise reasonable diligence, care, and skill in making the recommendation.

- Conflict of Interest Obligation: The broker-dealer must establish, maintain, and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed to address conflicts of interest.
- Compliance Obligation: The broker-dealer must establish, maintain, and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed to achieve compliance with Regulation Best Interest.

Our sponsor and each person selling shares on our behalf must make every reasonable effort to determine that the purchase of shares of our common stock is a suitable and appropriate investment for each investor. In making this determination, our sponsor and the dealer manager will rely upon information provided by the investor to the participating broker-dealer as well as the suitability assessment made by each participating broker-dealer. Before you purchase shares of our common stock, your participating broker-dealer, authorized representative or other person placing shares on your behalf will rely on relevant information provided by you to determine that you:

- meet the minimum income and net worth standards established in your state;
- are in a financial position appropriate to enable you to realize the potential benefits described in the prospectus; and
- are able to bear the economic risk of the investment based on your overall financial situation.

Participating broker-dealers are required to maintain for six years records of the information used to determine that an investment in shares of our common stock is suitable and appropriate for a stockholder.

By signing the subscription agreement required for purchases of our common stock, you represent and warrant to us that you have received a copy of this prospectus and that you meet the net worth and annual gross income requirements described above. By making these representations, you do not waive any rights that you may have under federal or state securities laws.

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “may,” “will,” “expect,” “intend,” “anticipate,” “estimate,” “believe,” “continue,” “identified” or other similar words or the negatives thereof. These may include our financial estimates and their underlying assumptions, statements about plans, objectives, intentions, and expectations with respect to positioning, including the impact of macroeconomic trends and market forces, future operations, repurchases, acquisitions, future performance and statements regarding identified but not yet closed acquisitions. Such forward-looking statements are inherently subject to various risks and uncertainties. Accordingly, there are or will be important factors that could cause actual outcomes or results to differ materially from those indicated in such statements. We believe these factors also include but are not limited to those described under the section entitled “Risk Factors” in this prospectus and our annual report for the most recent fiscal year, as such factors may be updated from time to time in our periodic filings with the SEC, which are accessible on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. These factors should not be construed as exhaustive and should be read in conjunction with the other cautionary statements that are included in this document (or our other filings). Except as otherwise required by federal securities laws, we undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

This prospectus summary highlights all material information contained elsewhere in this prospectus. This is only a summary and it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. Before deciding to invest in this offering, you should carefully read this entire prospectus, including the "Risk Factors" section.

Q: What is Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.?

A: We are a Maryland corporation formed on November 16, 2015. We are externally managed by our adviser, BX REIT Advisors L.L.C., a Delaware limited liability company. The Adviser is an affiliate of Blackstone Real Estate, our sponsor. As of December 31, 2025, on a GAAP basis, we had $98.6 billion of total assets, including $73.9 billion of real estate investments, $4.8 billion of real estate debt investments, and $6.1 billion of investments in unconsolidated entities.

Q: Who is Blackstone?

A: Blackstone is a leading global investment manager with total assets under management of nearly $1.3 trillion. Blackstone's alternative asset management businesses include investment vehicles focused on real estate, private equity, hedge fund solutions, credit, secondary funds, opportunistic, growth, infrastructure, insurance solutions and life sciences. Blackstone also provides capital markets services.

Blackstone Real Estate was founded in 1991 and is the world's largest owner of commercial real estate,[1] with $319 billion of investor capital under management as of December 31, 2025, representing approximately $618 billion of debt and equity as of December 31, 2025. Blackstone Real Estate operates as one globally integrated business with 787 real estate professionals globally as of December 31, 2025 and investments in North America, Europe, Asia and Latin America. In the United States, Blackstone Real Estate is one of the largest owners of rental housing, industrial, office, hospitality and retail assets. Our objective is to bring Blackstone's leading institutional-quality real estate investment platform to income-focused investors. Consistent with an institutional fee structure, we do not pay any fees to the Adviser in connection with the acquisition, financing, development or disposition of our investments. Instead, we pay the Adviser a management fee based on our NAV per annum payable monthly and the Special Limited Partner a performance participation allocation based on Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up (each term as defined below) measured on a calendar year basis, made quarterly and accrued monthly, as detailed further in the "Compensation" section of this prospectus.

Pursuant to the advisory agreement between us and the Adviser (the "Advisory Agreement"), the Adviser is responsible for sourcing, evaluating and monitoring our investment opportunities and making decisions related to the acquisition, management, financing and disposition of our assets in accordance with our investment objectives, guidelines, policies and limitations, subject to oversight by our board of directors. The Adviser is also responsible for oversight over our other service providers. See "Management—The Adviser and Blackstone" and "Management—The Advisory Agreement."

Q: What are your investment objectives?

A: Our investment objectives are to invest in assets that will enable us to:

- provide attractive current income in the form of regular, stable cash distributions;
- preserve and protect invested capital;
- realize appreciation in NAV from proactive investment management and asset management; and
- provide an investment alternative for stockholders seeking to allocate a portion of their long-term investment portfolios to private markets, including private commercial real estate which offers lower observed volatility than public real estate companies.

[1] World's largest owner of commercial real estate based on estimated market value per Real Capital Analytics, as of December 31, 2025. Excludes governmental entities and religious organizations.

We cannot assure you that we will achieve our investment objectives. In particular, we note that the NAV of non-traded REITs may be subject to volatility related to the values of their underlying assets. See the "Risk Factors" section of this prospectus.

Q: What is your investment strategy?

A: Our investment strategy is to acquire primarily stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate across asset classes in the United States and, to a lesser extent, outside the United States. We also selectively invest in real estate debt investments to provide current income and, alongside our credit facilities and operating cash flow, serve as an additional source of liquidity for cash management, satisfying stock repurchases under our share repurchase plan and other purposes.

Our investment strategy seeks to capitalize on Blackstone's scale and the real-time information provided by its real estate holdings to identify and acquire our target investments at attractive pricing. We also seek to benefit from Blackstone's reputation and ability to transact at scale with speed and certainty, and its long-standing and extensive relationships in the real estate industry.

Q: What types of properties do you acquire?

A: Our investments in primarily stabilized, income-generating U.S. commercial real estate focus on a range of asset types. These may include rental housing, industrial, data centers, net lease, hospitality, self storage, retail and office assets, as well as more targeted sectors. As of the date of this prospectus, our real estate portfolio consists of rental housing (which includes multifamily, affordable housing, student housing, single family rental housing, manufactured housing and senior housing), industrial, net lease, data centers, hospitality, self storage, retail and office assets. For additional information on the sectors in which we invest, see "Investments in Real Estate and Real Estate Debt."

Q: What competitive strengths does the Adviser offer?

A: We believe our most powerful competitive strength is our affiliation with Blackstone, which is the largest buyer, seller and owner of commercial real estate in the world.[2] Blackstone Real Estate has been investing since 1991, and has total investor capital under management of $319 billion representing approximately $618 billion of debt and equity as of December 31, 2025. Blackstone is the world's largest owner of commercial real estate, with 787 real estate professionals as of December 31, 2025 located in 12 cities, including New York, London, Hong Kong, Mumbai, Sydney and Singapore. We believe our long-term success in executing our investment strategy will be supported by Blackstone Real Estate's competitive strengths, which include:

Extensive market and asset knowledge. Blackstone has been an extremely active investor in the U.S. real estate market for 30+ years in a variety of market conditions. The breadth of the portfolio provides valuable real-time, proprietary market data that we expect will enable us to identify and act on market conditions and trends more rapidly than our competitors. The proprietary data generated by Blackstone Real Estate's portfolio is expected to enable us to target specific themes with conviction and deploy significant amounts of discretionary capital.

A systematic and disciplined approach to acquiring and managing its real estate portfolio. Throughout its over 30-year history, Blackstone Real Estate has relied on consistent processes to limit risks and take advantage of intellectual capital across the firm. Blackstone Real Estate has one centralized investment committee (the "Investment Committee") that meets weekly to review large new investments around the world. The committee discussions are led by Blackstone's President and Chief Operating Officer, Blackstone's Co-Chief Investment Officer and Blackstone Real Estate's Global Co-Heads. The Investment Committee includes all other Senior Managing Directors in Blackstone Real Estate, as well as select senior executives of Blackstone. Smaller real estate investments are reviewed by a subset of the Investment Committee. The high level of interaction between the Investment Committee and investment professionals from the inception of a transaction to closing helps identify potential issues early and enables the team to more effectively streamline resources and workflows. Post-acquisition

[2]World's largest owner of commercial real estate based on estimated market value per Real Capital Analytics, as of December 31, 2025. Excludes governmental entities and religious organizations.

Blackstone Real Estate manages its real estate investments through proactive asset management, as well as periodic global asset reviews and valuation meetings.

Unparalleled relationships within the industry. The resources, relationships, and proprietary information of the Blackstone organization provide a deep sourcing network for new opportunities. We believe Blackstone Real Estate sees significantly more deal flow than most of its competitors as a result of its scale, its strong ties to major financial institutions, real estate brokers, and other institutional real estate investors, and its reputation for closing with speed and certainty.

Broad experience and tenure of its senior management. The 49 Senior Managing Directors in Blackstone Real Estate have been at the firm an average of 14 years and have between 14 and 34 years of experience as of December 31, 2025. The Senior Managing Directors have a long history of working together and oversee a deeply integrated global business that relies on regular communication, regular asset and strategy reviews with the entire global team and relocations of professionals among its offices in order to effectively instill Blackstone Real Estate's process and culture worldwide.

A reputation for executing large, complicated transactions with speed and certainty. Historically Blackstone Real Estate has faced less competition in large-scale transactions with multiple layers of complexity, due to the small number of real estate firms that are able to manage such transactions. This has enabled Blackstone to acquire assets and portfolios at attractive valuations. We believe Blackstone has earned a reputation in the market as the preeminent buyer of large, complex transactions because it is decisive and can close quickly. We believe this capability has benefited us in our acquisitions to date.

Intense focus on asset management and value creation. Blackstone Real Estate aims to unlock value during its ownership through proactive asset management. Blackstone Real Estate recruits talented onsite managers for its investments, optimizes pricing strategies, controls costs, executes capital management projects, and seeks regulatory and zoning approvals needed to position assets for their highest and best use.

For more information regarding the Adviser and Blackstone Real Estate's investment management business, see "Management—The Adviser and Blackstone" and "Investment Objectives and Strategies—Potential Competitive Strengths."

Q: Why do you make real estate debt investments in addition to real estate investments?

A: Our real estate debt strategy is focused on generating current income and contributing to our overall net returns. Alongside our credit facilities and operating cash flow, our real estate debt investments may provide an additional source of liquidity. These liquidity sources are collectively used for cash management, satisfying any stock repurchases under our share repurchase plan and other purposes. We use the Blackstone Real Estate Debt Strategies team to assist with this portion of the portfolio. The Blackstone Real Estate Debt Strategies team leverages the competitive advantages of the broader Blackstone Real Estate platform and its own proprietary investment models to seek attractive real estate debt investment opportunities throughout the capital structure.

Our real estate debt investments focus on non-distressed public and private real estate debt, including, but not limited to, commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS"), residential mortgage-backed securities ("RMBS") and other residential credit, real estate-related corporate credit, mortgages and other loans, interests of collateralized debt obligation and collateralized loan obligation vehicles and equity interests in public and private entities that invest in real estate debt as one of their core businesses, and may also include derivatives. Our investments in real estate debt will be focused in the United States, but also include investments issued or backed by real estate in countries outside the United States.

For a description of our investments in real estate debt as of December 31, 2025, see "Investments in Real Estate and Real Estate Debt." See the "Investment Objectives and Strategies" section of this prospectus for a more detailed discussion of all of the types of investments we may make.

Q: What is a real estate investment trust, or REIT?

A: We elected to be taxed as a REIT beginning with our taxable year ended December 31, 2017 and each year since, and intend to continue to make such an election. In general, a REIT is a company that:

- combines the capital of many investors to acquire or provide financing for real estate assets;
- offers the benefits of a real estate portfolio under professional management;
- satisfies the various requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), including a requirement to distribute to stockholders at least 90% of its REIT taxable income each year; and
- is generally not subject to U.S. federal corporate income taxes on its net taxable income that it currently distributes to its stockholders, which substantially eliminates the "double taxation" (i.e., taxation at both the corporate and stockholder levels) that generally results from investments in a C corporation.

Q: What is a non-listed, perpetual-life REIT?

A: A non-listed REIT is a REIT whose shares are not listed for trading on a stock exchange or other securities market. We use the term "perpetual-life REIT" to describe an investment vehicle of indefinite duration, whose shares of common stock are intended to be sold by the REIT monthly on a continuous basis at a price generally equal to the REIT's prior month's NAV per share. In our perpetual-life structure, the investor may request that we repurchase their shares on a monthly basis, but we are not obligated to repurchase any shares and our board of directors may determine to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in its discretion. While we may consider a liquidity event at any time in the future, we currently do not intend to undertake such consideration, and we are not obligated by our charter or otherwise to effect a liquidity event at any time.

Q: How do you identify investments and make decisions on whether to acquire properties?

A: The Adviser has the authority to implement our investment strategy, as determined by, and subject to the direction of, our board of directors.

Blackstone believes it sees significantly more deal flow than most of its competitors as a result of its strong ties to major real estate owners and brokers, its track record of closing on investments to which it commits, and its fair and honest treatment of counterparties. Blackstone believes it has earned a reputation as the preeminent investor in the real estate market because of its capacity to underwrite and source large, complex transactions across multiple property sectors.

In addition, Blackstone Real Estate has developed a strong network of relationships with real estate owners, leading financial institutions, operating partners, senior business executives and government officials. These relationships provide market knowledge and form the backbone of its investment-sourcing network. Blackstone has, and expects to continue to have, a significant volume of deal flow. Primary sources of Blackstone Real Estate transactions include:

- Relationships of individual Blackstone Senior Managing Directors and professionals;
- Major corporations, real estate owners and real estate operators with which Blackstone has worked in the past and that wish to divest assets or partner with Blackstone;
- Investment/commercial banks;
- Brokers/dealers; and
- Borrowers.

In Blackstone's opinion, its strong market position makes it attractive to potential sellers, which sometimes approach Blackstone on an off-market basis because Blackstone is one of the few firms that can manage large and complex property acquisitions. This market recognition gives Blackstone leverage to achieve better pricing when negotiating such transactions.

Q: Do you use leverage?

A: Yes. We use and expect to continue to use leverage. Our target leverage ratio is approximately 60%. Our leverage ratio is measured by dividing (i) consolidated property-level and entity-level debt net of cash and loan-related restricted cash, by (ii) the asset value of real estate investments (measured using the greater of fair market value and cost) plus the equity in our settled real estate debt investments. There is, however, no limit on the amount we may borrow with respect to any individual property or portfolio.

We have also placed limits in our charter prohibiting us from borrowing more than 300% of our net assets, which approximates borrowing 75% of the cost of our investments. We may exceed this limit if a majority of our independent directors approves each borrowing in excess of the limit and we disclose the justification for doing so to our stockholders.

For additional disclosure regarding our leverage, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Financing a portion of the purchase price of our assets will allow us to broaden our portfolio by increasing the funds available for investment. Financing a portion, which may be substantial, of the purchase price is not free from risk. Using debt requires us to pay interest and principal, referred to as "debt service," all of which decrease the amount of cash available for distribution to our stockholders or other purposes. We may also be unable to refinance the debt at maturity on favorable or equivalent terms, if at all, exposing us to the potential risk of loss with respect to assets pledged as collateral for loans. Certain of our debt may be floating-rate and the effective interest rates on such debt will increase when the relevant interest benchmark (e.g., Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR")) increases.

Q: Do your investment guidelines overlap with the objectives or guidelines of any of Blackstone's affiliates, and do any Blackstone affiliates receive priority with respect to certain investments?

A: Blackstone believes our investment objectives, guidelines and strategy are generally distinct from Other Blackstone Accounts (as defined below). Accordingly, we believe there has been to date, and expect there will continue to be, sufficient investment opportunities for us within our investment guidelines because of the scale of the real estate market. There will, however, be overlap of real estate and real estate debt investment opportunities with certain Other Blackstone Accounts that are actively investing and similar overlap with future Other Blackstone Accounts. This overlap will from time to time create conflicts of interest, which the Adviser and its affiliates will seek to manage in a fair and reasonable manner in their sole discretion in accordance with their prevailing policies and procedures.

With respect to Other Blackstone Accounts with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours, in whole or in part, but that do not have priority over us (including the Private Core+ Accounts), the Adviser generally determines the relative allocation of investment opportunities among such vehicles on fair and reasonable basis in good faith according to the guidelines and factors determined by it. However, the application of those guidelines and factors has, in limited circumstances, resulted and can be expected to result in us not participating, or not participating to the same or greater extent, in investment opportunities in which it would have otherwise participated, or participated to such greater extent had the related allocations been determined without regard to such guidelines. The Adviser could also determine not to pursue opportunities inside our mandate or, alternatively, could later determine an opportunity is appropriate for us after initially reviewing such opportunity for or on behalf of an Other Blackstone Account.

Among the factors that the Adviser (and the particular investment professionals overseeing allocations with respect to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts) considers in making investment allocations among us and Other Blackstone Accounts are the following: (i) any applicable investment objectives, parameters, limitations and other contractual provisions relating to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, (ii) available capital of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, as determined by the Adviser in good faith (which may take into account relative portfolio composition, anticipated co-investment and other considerations in addition to buying power), (iii) legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and other considerations, (iv) primary and permitted investment strategies focuses, guidelines, liquidity positions and requirements, focuses, guidelines, liquidity positions and requirements, and objectives of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts, including, without limitation, with respect to Other Blackstone Accounts that expect to invest in or alongside other funds or across asset classes based on expected return, (v) sourcing of the investment (including by a particular Blackstone business unit), (vi) the sector and geography/ location of the investment (including adjacency to existing assets of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts), (vii) the specific nature (including size, type, amount, liquidity, holding period, anticipated maturity and minimum investment criteria) of the investment, (viii) expected investment return, (ix) risk profile of the investment, (x) expected leverage on the investment, ability to leverage and underwritten leverage of a loan, (xi) expected cash characteristics (such as cash-on-cash yield, expected distribution rates, anticipated cash flows, expected stability or volatility of cash flows and other features of the applicable investment opportunity and its impact on portfolio concentration and diversification), (xii) capital expenditure required as part of the investment, (xiii) portfolio diversification/construction concerns (including, but not limited to, (A) allocations necessary for us or Other Blackstone Accounts to maintain a particular concentration in a certain type of investment (e.g., if an Other Blackstone Account follows a liquid strategy pursuant to which it sells a type of investment more or less frequently than us and we or such Other Blackstone Account needs a non pro rata additional allocation to maintain a particular concentration in that type of investment) and (B) whether a particular fund already has its desired exposure to the investment, sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question), (xiv) relation to existing investments in a fund, if applicable (e.g., "follow on" to existing investment, joint venture or other partner to existing investment, or same security as existing investment), (xv) maintaining structuring and financing flexibility for shared investments (which can result in sharing an investment opportunity equally to the extent each party has sufficient available capital to do so), (xvi) avoiding allocation that could result in de minimis or odd lot investments, or allocating to a single vehicle when investments are smaller in size, (xvii) vehicle sizes and stage of investment operations (e.g., early in a vehicle's investment operations, the vehicle may receive larger allocations than it otherwise would in connection with launching and ramping up) and (xviii) timing expected to be necessary to execute an investment, (xvix) how governance will be shared between us and such Other Blackstone Account(s), and (xx) legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and other considerations deemed relevant by the Adviser and its affiliates (including, without limitation, maintaining our qualification as a REIT and our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act) in good faith.

Currently, Other Blackstone Accounts invest in "Core+" real estate and real estate-related assets in the United States and Canada (which are generally substantially stabilized assets generating relatively stable cash flow), with a focus on office, multifamily, industrial, retail and life sciences assets in major cities and markets across the United States and Canada. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts, such investment will generally be allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above. Certain Other Blackstone Accounts also invest in real estate debt with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours, but do not have priority over us. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, such investment will be allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above.

Furthermore, the Other Blackstone Accounts that invest in "opportunistic" real estate and real estate-related assets globally (which often are undermanaged assets and with higher potential for equity appreciation) have priority over us with respect to such investment opportunities and select investments (e.g., certain private real estate loans, stabilized data center investments and European and infrastructure investments) will be first offered to certain Other Blackstone Accounts (which we generally expect to have investment strategies distinct from ours but can overlap to some extent). Other Blackstone Accounts having priority over us will result in fewer investment opportunities being made available to us.

The Adviser and its affiliates calculate available capital, weigh the factors described above (which will not be weighted equally) and make other investment allocation decisions in accordance with their prevailing policies and procedures in their sole discretion, taking into account a variety of considerations, which may include, without limitation, net asset value, any actual or anticipated allocations, expected future fundraising and uses of capital, expected investor and other third-party co-investment allocation (i.e., when additional capital is raised alongside a private fund for a single investment) of Other Blackstone Accounts, applicable investment guidelines, excuse rights and investor preferences, any or all reserves, vehicle sizes and stage of investment operations (e.g., early in a vehicle's investment operations, the vehicle may receive larger allocations than it otherwise would in connection with launching and ramping up), targeted amounts of securities as determined by the Adviser and its affiliates, geographic limitations and actual or anticipated capital needs or other factors determined by the Adviser and its affiliates. Preliminary investment allocation decisions will generally be made on or prior to the time we and such Other Blackstone Accounts commit to make the investment (which in many cases is when the purchase agreement (or equivalent) in respect of such investment opportunity is signed), and are expected to be updated from time to time prior to the time of consummation of the investment (including after deposits are made thereon) due to changes in the factors that Blackstone considers in making investment allocations among us and Other Blackstone Accounts, including, for example, due to changes in available capital (including as a result of investor subscriptions or withdrawals, deployment of capital for other investments or a reassessment of reserves), changes in portfolio composition or changes in actual or expected investor or third-party co-investment allocation, in each case between the time of committing to make the investment and the actual funding of the investment. Such adjustments in investment allocations could be material, could result in a reduced or increased allocation being made available to us and there can be no assurance that we will not be adversely affected thereby. The manner in which our available capital is determined may differ from, or subsequently change with respect to, Other Blackstone Accounts. The amounts and forms of leverage utilized for investments will also be determined by the Adviser and its affiliates in their sole discretion. Any differences or adjustments with respect to the manner in which available capital is determined with respect to us or Other Blackstone Accounts may adversely impact our allocation of particular investment opportunities. There is no assurance that any conflicts arising out of the foregoing will be resolved in our favor. Blackstone is entitled to amend its policies and procedures at any time without prior notice or our consent.

The Adviser and its affiliates make good faith determinations for allocation decisions based on expectations that will, in certain circumstances, prove inaccurate and such determinations require it to make subjective judgments regarding application of the guidelines and arrangements described herein. Information unavailable to the Adviser, or circumstances not foreseen by the Adviser at the time of allocation, may cause an investment opportunity to yield a different return than expected. For example, an investment opportunity that the Adviser and its affiliates determine to be consistent with the return objective of Other Blackstone Accounts rather than us may not match the expectations and underwriting of the Adviser and its affiliates and generate an actual return that would have been appropriate for us. Conversely, an investment that the Adviser and its affiliates expect to be consistent with our return objectives will, in certain circumstances, fail to achieve them. Furthermore, in certain circumstances where we are participating alongside one or more Other Blackstone Accounts in an investment opportunity, the Adviser is expected to be required to make preliminary investment allocation decisions at the time of the signing of the related purchase agreement (or equivalent) and/or funding of the deposit in respect thereof. Subject to our governing documents, the Adviser could change the applicable investment allocations as between us and such Other Blackstone Accounts between the funding of such deposit or signing of such agreement, on the one hand, and the closing of such investment opportunity, on the other hand, based on a number of factors, including (i) available capital (taking into account changes in capital commitment subscriptions, redemptions, transfers, deployment of capital, reserves for future investments among other factors), (ii) changes in concentration limits in respect of sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question or (iii) other reasons, in each case as determined by the Adviser in its good faith reasonable sole discretion, in which our and such Other Blackstone Accounts' respective obligations in respect of any applicable deposit and transaction costs and expenses (including broken deal fees and expenses) are expected to change correspondingly and we and the Other Blackstone Accounts are expected to reimburse each other for any over- or under-funding in respect thereof.

In addition and subject to our governing documents, the Adviser could determine at any point prior to the closing of an investment opportunity that any such investment opportunity that was initially allocated to us based on information available to us at the time the allocation decision is made should subsequently be reallocated in whole or in part to one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (and vice versa) based on subsequent information received by the Adviser in respect of such investment opportunity (e.g., an investment opportunity that the Adviser initially determines to be consistent with our return objectives could subsequently be determined to be consistent with the return objectives of an opportunistic "control-oriented" fund). In such circumstances, the Adviser could determine to reallocate all or any portion of any such investment opportunity from us to such Other Blackstone Account (or vice versa) (such fund, (including us) from which an investment opportunity is being reallocated, a "Reallocating Account"), including in circumstances where such Reallocating Account has entered into an exclusivity arrangement or other binding agreement with one or more third parties (any such reallocated investment opportunity, a "Reallocated Investment"). In such cases, if the non-Reallocating Account agrees to pursue the investment, then it will reimburse the Reallocating Account for such amount of any deferred acquisition costs (including non-refundable or refundable deposits, breakage fees, due diligence costs and other fees and expenses) as allocated to it by Blackstone, as Blackstone deems appropriate, in its sole discretion, incurred by the Reallocating Account relating to such Reallocated Investment, which may be so reallocated prior to closing and if the non-Reallocating Account chooses not to make the Reallocated Investment, then any such deferred acquisition costs incurred by the Reallocating Account will be borne by such Reallocating Account, provided that the non-Reallocating Fund will be responsible for any additional due diligence or acquisition costs incurred in the process of evaluating the investment for its own account. To the extent a non-Reallocating Account causes additional due diligence costs to be incurred for a Reallocating Investment it ultimately declines to pursue, such non-Reallocating Account(s) will reimburse such incurred costs, as deemed appropriate by Blackstone in its sole discretion. There is no assurance that any conflicts arising out of the foregoing will be resolved in our favor. Blackstone is entitled to amend its policies and procedures at any time without prior notice or our consent.

While the Adviser will seek to manage potential conflicts of interest in a fair and reasonable manner (subject to any priorities of Other Blackstone Accounts) as required pursuant to our charter and the Advisory Agreement, the portfolio strategies employed by the Adviser, Blackstone or their affiliates in managing the Other Blackstone Accounts could conflict with the strategies employed by the Adviser in managing our business and may adversely affect the marketability, exit strategy, prices and availability of the properties, securities and instruments in which we invest. The Adviser, Blackstone or their affiliates may also give advice to the Other Blackstone Accounts that may differ from advice given to us even though their investment objectives or guidelines may be the same as or similar to ours.

"Other Blackstone Accounts" means investment funds, REITs, vehicles, accounts, products and/or other similar arrangements sponsored, advised, and/or managed by Blackstone or its affiliates, whether currently in existence or subsequently established (in each case, including any related successor funds, alternative vehicles, supplemental capital vehicles, surge funds, over-flow funds, co-investment vehicles and other entities formed in connection with Blackstone or its affiliates side-by-side or additional general partner investments with respect thereto).

Q: Do you acquire properties in joint ventures, including joint ventures with affiliates?

A: We have acquired, and expect to acquire in the future, properties through joint ventures with non-affiliated third parties and with affiliates of the Adviser. Any joint venture with an affiliate of the Adviser must be approved by a majority of our directors (including a majority of our independent directors) not otherwise interested in the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on substantially the same, or more favorable, terms and conditions as those received by other joint venture partners. In certain cases, we may not control the management of joint ventures in which we invest, but we may have the right to approve major decisions of the joint venture. We will not participate in joint ventures in which we do not have or share control to the extent that we believe such participation would potentially threaten our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act. This may prevent us from receiving an allocation with respect to certain investment opportunities that are suitable for both us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts.

Q: How is an investment in shares of your common stock different from listed REITs?

A: An investment in shares of our common stock generally differs from an investment in listed REITs in a number of ways, including:

- Shares of listed REITs are priced by the trading market, which is influenced generally by numerous factors, not all of which are related to the underlying value of the entity's real estate assets and liabilities. The estimated value of our real estate assets and liabilities, rather than the trading market, will be used to determine our NAV.

- An investment in our shares has limited or no liquidity and our share repurchase plan may be modified or suspended. In contrast, an investment in a listed REIT is a liquid investment, as shares can be sold on an exchange at any time.
- Listed REITs are often self-managed, whereas our investment operations are managed by the Adviser, which is part of Blackstone Real Estate.
- Listed REITs may be reasonable alternatives to an investment in us and may be less costly and less complex with fewer and/or different risks than an investment in us. Transactions for listed securities often involve nominal or no commissions.
- Unlike the offering of a listed REIT, this offering has been registered in every state in which we are offering and selling shares. As a result of state-specific rules governing non-listed REITs, we include certain limits in our governing documents that are not typically provided for in the charter of a listed REIT. For example, our charter limits the fees we may pay to the Adviser and its affiliates, limits our ability to make certain investments, limits the aggregate amount we may borrow, requires our independent directors to approve certain actions and restricts our ability to indemnify our directors, the Adviser and its affiliates. A listed REIT does not typically provide for these restrictions within its charter. A listed REIT is, however, subject to the governance requirements of the exchange on which its stock is traded, including requirements relating to its board of directors, audit committee, independent director oversight of executive compensation and the director nomination process, code of conduct, shareholder meetings, related party transactions, shareholder approvals, and voting rights. Although we follow many of these same governance guidelines, there is no requirement that we follow all of them.

Q: For whom may an investment in your shares be appropriate?

A: An investment in our shares may be appropriate for you if you:

- meet the minimum suitability standards described above under "Suitability Standards;"
- seek to allocate a portion of your investment portfolio to a direct investment vehicle with an income-generating portfolio of mostly U.S. real estate and real estate debt;
- seek to receive current income through regular distribution payments;
- wish to obtain the potential benefit of long-term capital appreciation; and
- are able to hold your shares as a long-term investment and do not need liquidity from your investment quickly in the near future.

We cannot assure you that an investment in our shares will allow you to realize any of these objectives. An investment in our shares is only intended for investors who do not need the ability to sell their shares quickly in the future since we are not obligated to repurchase any shares of our common stock and our board of directors may determine to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in our discretion, and the opportunity to have your shares repurchased under our share repurchase plan may not always be available. See "Share Repurchases—Repurchase Limitations."

Q: What is the DST Program?

A: In November 2025, we and the Operating Partnership commenced a program (the "DST Program") to issue and sell beneficial interests ("DST Interests") in specific Delaware statutory trusts (the "DSTs") holding real properties (the "DST Properties"). These DST Interests will be issued and sold to "accredited investors," as that term is defined under Regulation D promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act in private placements exempt from registration pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act (the "DST Offerings").

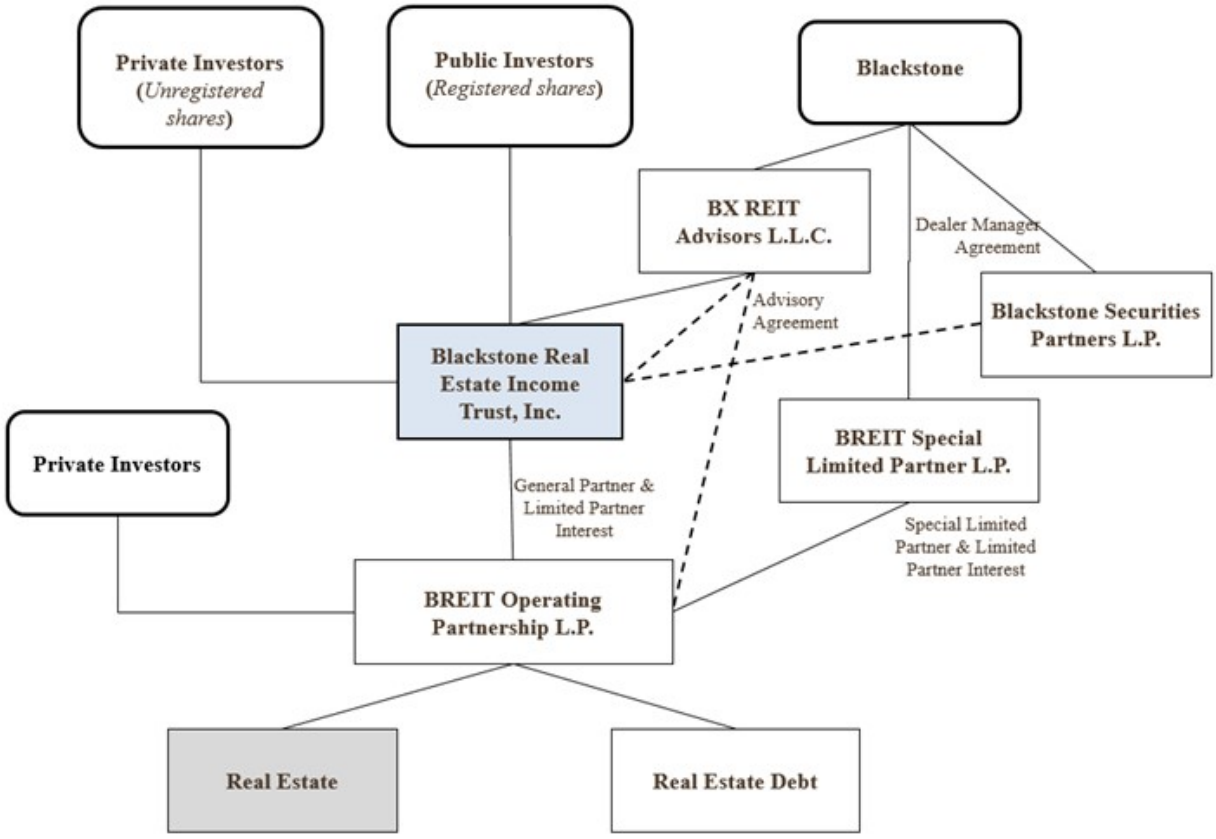

Under the DST Program, each DST Property may be sourced from our real properties or acquired from third parties, will be held in a separate DST, and will be leased by the DST to a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Operating Partnership under a master lease agreement. In accordance with the master lease, we are responsible for subleasing the DST Properties and for covering all costs associated with operating the underlying DST Properties. Each master lease agreement will be guaranteed by the Operating Partnership, which will retain a fair market value purchase option (the "FMV Option") giving the Operating Partnership the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests in the applicable DST from the DST investors at any time during a defined period in exchange for Operating Partnership units or, in certain cases, a combination of Operating Partnership units and cash. After a one-year holding period, investors who acquire Operating Partnership units pursuant to the FMV Option have a right to cause the Operating Partnership to redeem all or a portion of their Operating Partnership units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both.

For additional details on our DST Program, see "Investment Objectives and Strategies—DST Program" and "Summary of the Operating Partnership Agreement."

Q: How do you structure the ownership and operation of your assets?

A: We own, and continue to plan to own, all or substantially all of our assets through the Operating Partnership. We are the sole general partner of the Operating Partnership and BREIT Special Limited Partner L.P. (the "Special Limited Partner"), a Delaware limited partnership, with a general partner that is a subsidiary of Blackstone, owns a special limited partner interest in the Operating Partnership. In addition, each of the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner may elect to receive units in the Operating Partnership in lieu of cash for its management fee and performance participation allocation, respectively. See "Compensation." The Adviser and the Special Limited Partner may put these units back to the Operating Partnership and receive cash unless our board of directors determines that any such repurchase for cash would be prohibited by applicable law or the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, in which case such Operating Partnership units will be repurchased for shares of our common stock. The use of our Operating Partnership to hold all of our assets is referred to as an Umbrella Partnership Real Estate Investment Trust ("UPREIT"). Using an UPREIT structure may give us an advantage in acquiring properties from persons who want to defer recognizing a gain for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The following chart shows our current ownership structure and our relationship with Blackstone Real Estate, the Adviser, Blackstone Securities Partners L.P. (the "Dealer Manager") and the Special Limited Partner.

Q: Are there any risks involved in buying your shares?

A: Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. If we are unable to effectively manage the impact of these risks, we may not meet our investment objectives and, therefore, you should purchase our shares only if you can afford a complete loss of your investment. An investment in shares of our common stock involves significant risks and is intended only for investors with a long-term investment horizon and who do not require immediate liquidity or guaranteed income. Some of the more significant risks relating to an investment in shares of our common stock include those listed below. The following is only a summary of the principal risks that may materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. The following should be read in conjunction with the more complete discussion of the risk factors we face, which are set forth in the section entitled "Risk Factors" in this prospectus.

Risk Factor Summary

- Since there is no public trading market for shares of our common stock, repurchase of shares by us is generally the only way to dispose of your shares. Our share repurchase plan, which is approved and administered by our board of directors, provides our stockholders with the opportunity to request that we repurchase their shares on a monthly basis, but we are not obligated to repurchase any shares, and our board of directors may determine to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in its discretion. In addition, repurchases will be subject to available liquidity and other significant restrictions, including repurchase limitations that have in the past been, and may in the future be, exceeded, resulting in our repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our share repurchase plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our share repurchase plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders, such as when repurchase requests would place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or impose an adverse impact on us that would outweigh the benefit of repurchasing shares submitted for repurchase. Our board of directors cannot terminate our share repurchase plan absent a liquidity event which results in our stockholders receiving cash or securities listed on a national securities exchange or where otherwise required by law. As a result, our shares should be considered as having only limited liquidity and at times may be illiquid.

- Distributions are not guaranteed and may be funded from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses. We have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources.

- The purchase and repurchase price for shares of our common stock are generally based on our prior month's NAV (subject to material changes as described above) and are not based on any public trading market. While there will be annual appraisals of our properties performed by independent third-party appraisal firms, the valuation of properties is inherently subjective and our NAV may not accurately reflect the actual price at which our properties could be liquidated on any given day.

- We are dependent on the Adviser to conduct our operations, as well as the persons and firms the Adviser retains to provide services on our behalf. The Adviser will face conflicts of interest as a result of, among other things, the allocation of investment opportunities among us and Other Blackstone Accounts, the allocation of time of its investment professionals and the substantial fees that we will pay to the Adviser. During the year ended December 31, 2025, we incurred an annual management fee payable to the Adviser totaling $671.0 million. As of December 31, 2025, we also accrued $10.2 million (representing 0.0187% of our NAV as of such date) for certain third-party expenses advanced on our behalf, as provided for under the Advisory Agreement.

- Principal and interest payments on any of our outstanding borrowings will reduce the amount of funds available for distribution or investment in additional real estate assets.

- There are limits on the ownership and transferability of our shares. See "Description of Capital Stock—Restrictions on Ownership and Transfer."

- We do not own the Blackstone name, but we are permitted to use it as part of our corporate name pursuant to a trademark license agreement with an affiliate of Blackstone. Use of the name by other parties or the termination of our trademark license agreement may harm our business.

- We intend to continue to qualify as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes. However, if we fail to qualify as a REIT and no relief provisions apply, our NAV and cash available for distribution to our stockholders could materially decrease.

- The acquisition of investment properties may be financed in substantial part by borrowing, which increases our exposure to loss. The use of leverage involves a high degree of financial risk and will increase the exposure of our investments to adverse economic factors such as rising interest rates, downturns in the economy or deteriorations in the condition of our investments.

- Investing in commercial real estate assets involves certain risks, including but not limited to: tenants' inability to pay rent; increases in interest rates and lack of availability of financing; tenant turnover and vacancies; and changes in supply of or demand for similar properties in a given market.

- Recent concerns about the real estate market, changes in interest rates, elevated inflation, increased energy costs and geopolitical issues (including trade and other conflicts) have contributed to increased market volatility and may negatively impact the economy going forward. Our operating results will be affected by global and national economic and market conditions generally and by the local economic conditions where our properties are located, including changes with respect to rising vacancy rates or decreasing market rental rates; inability to lease space on favorable terms; bankruptcies, financial difficulties or lease defaults by our tenants, particularly for our tenants with net leases for large properties; elevated inflation, changes in interest rates and supply chain disruptions; market volatility and changes in government rules, regulations and fiscal policies, such as property taxes, zoning laws, limitations on rental rates, compliance costs with respect to environmental laws and the scaling back or termination of government contracts (such as the termination of the U.S. General Services Administration ("GSA") leases).

- Our portfolio is currently concentrated in certain industries and geographies, and, as a consequence, our aggregate return may be substantially affected by adverse economic or business conditions affecting that particular type of asset or geography.

- Competition for investment opportunities may reduce our profitability and the return on your investment.

See "Risk Factors."

Q: What is the role of our board of directors?

A: We operate under the direction of our board of directors, the members of which are accountable to us and our stockholders as fiduciaries. We have nine directors, five of whom have been determined to be independent of us, the Adviser, Blackstone and its affiliates. Our independent directors are responsible for reviewing the performance of the Adviser and approving the compensation paid to the Adviser and its affiliates. Our directors are elected annually by our stockholders. The names and biographical information of our directors are provided under "Management—Directors and Executive Officers."

Q: What is the difference between the Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S and Class D shares of common stock being offered?

A: We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock, Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class I shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock, Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class I shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. For the avoidance of doubt, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The differences among the share classes relate to upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and ongoing stockholder servicing fees and limits thereon. No upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees are paid with respect to Class I shares, and no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Plan of Distribution" for a discussion of the differences between our Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S and Class D shares.

Assuming a constant net asset value per share of $10.00, we expect that a one-time investment in 1,000 shares of each class of our shares available in the primary offering (representing an aggregate net asset value of $10,000 for each class) would be subject to the following upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees and the following annual class-specific accruals for stockholder servicing fees until a Fee Limit (as defined below) (if any) is reached. For more information about the Fee Limit, see "Compensation—Stockholder Servicing Fee."

	Upfront Selling Commissions	Dealer Manager Fees	Annual Stockholder Servicing Fees
Class T-2	$ 300	$ 50	$ 85
Class S-2	$ 350	$ —	$ 85
Class D-2	$ 150	$ —	$ 25
Class I	$ —	$ —	$ —

Class T, Class S and Class D shares are subject to the same stockholder servicing fees shown above for Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares, respectively, but are only available pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan, and therefore, are not subject to upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. Class T, Class S and Class D shares are also subject to a different Fee Limit as described herein.

In our primary offering, Class T-2 and Class S-2 shares are available through brokerage and transactional-based accounts. Class D-2 shares are generally available for purchase in this offering only (1) through fee-based programs, also known as wrap accounts, that provide access to Class D-2 shares, (2) through participating broker-dealers that have alternative fee arrangements with their clients to provide access to Class D-2 shares, (3) through transaction/ brokerage platforms at participating broker-dealers, (4) through certain registered investment advisers, (5) through bank trust departments or any other organization or person authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity for its clients or customers or (6) other categories of investors that we name in an amendment or supplement to this prospectus. Class I shares are generally available for purchase in this offering only (1) through fee-based programs, also known as wrap accounts, that provide access to Class I shares, (2) by endowments, foundations, pension funds and other institutional investors, (3) through participating broker-dealers that have alternative fee arrangements with their clients to provide access to Class I shares, (4) through certain registered investment advisers, (5) through bank trust departments or any other organization or person authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity for its clients or customers, (6) by our executive officers and directors and their immediate family members, as well as officers and employees of the Adviser, Blackstone or other affiliates and their immediate family members, and joint venture partners, consultants and other service providers or (7) other categories of investors that we name in an amendment or supplement to this prospectus. In certain cases, if (i) a participating broker-dealer no longer offers Class T-2, Class S-2 or Class D-2 shares or (ii) a holder of Class T-2, Class S-2 or Class D-2 shares exits a relationship with a participating broker-dealer for this offering and does not enter into a new relationship with a participating broker-dealer for this offering, such holder's shares may be exchanged into an equivalent NAV amount of Class I shares. Before making your investment decision, please consult with your investment adviser regarding your account type and the classes of common stock you may be eligible to purchase.

Certain participating broker-dealers may offer volume discounts, which would reduce upfront selling commissions and would therefore increase the length of time required for upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees to reach the Fee Limit, if any. See "—What fees do you pay to the Adviser and its affiliates?" and "Plan of Distribution—Underwriting Compensation—Upfront Selling Commissions and Dealer Manager Fees."

Class I shares have no upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees or stockholder servicing fees, which will reduce the NAV or distributions of the other share classes. However, Class I shares will not receive stockholder services. Of the Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares, Class D-2 shares have lower upfront selling commissions, no dealer manager fees and lower annual stockholder servicing fees. Investors should also inquire with their broker-dealer or financial representative about what additional fees may be charged with respect to the share class under consideration or with respect to the type of account in which the shares will be held, as that is also an important consideration when selecting a share class.

Q: Do you have any other classes of common stock?

A: Yes. Our charter authorizes us to issue up to 500,000,000 Class C shares, 500,000,000 Class F shares, 500,000,000 Class L shares, and 500,000,000 Class L-2 shares. However, Class C, Class F, Class L and Class L-2 shares are not available for purchase in this offering. We are conducting a private offering of Class C shares to (i) a feeder vehicle primarily created to hold our Class C and Class I shares, which in turn will offer interests in itself to investors, (ii) the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner and affiliates, including pursuant to the Advisory Agreement and (iii) to other persons in other limited circumstances. In addition, we may conduct one or more private offerings of our Class F shares to (i) certain feeder or other vehicles created to hold our shares and other assets, which in turn will sell interests in itself to other investors, (ii) our officers and directors, (iii) the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner and affiliates or employees of Blackstone, including pursuant to the Advisory Agreement and (iv) Other Blackstone Accounts. Further, we may conduct one or more private offerings of our Class L, Class L-2 or other shares of our common stock to certain accredited investors as defined in Regulation D of the Securities Act. Any such private offerings of our shares will be conducted pursuant to an exemption to registration under the Securities Act and not as a part of this offering.

Q: What is the per share purchase price in this offering?

A: Each class of shares will be sold at the then-current transaction price, which is generally the prior month's NAV per share for such class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. Although the offering price for shares of our common stock is generally based on the prior month's NAV per share, the NAV per share of such stock as of the date on which your purchase is settled may be significantly different. We generally do not expect to change the transaction price from the prior month's NAV, but may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share, including by updating a previously disclosed offering price, in exceptional cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month due to the aggregate impact of factors such as general significant market events or disruptions or force majeure events. Each class of shares may have a different NAV per share because stockholder servicing fees differ with respect to each class.

Q: How is your NAV per share calculated?

A: Our NAV for each class of shares is determined by the Adviser based on the net asset values of our investments (including real estate debt and other securities), the addition of any other assets (such as cash on hand), and the deduction of any other liabilities. With the approval of our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, we may in the future continue to engage one or more additional independent valuation advisors with respect to our real estate properties and certain real estate debt and other securities to review internal valuations prepared by the Adviser for reasonableness. Since we began calculating our NAV, a market-leading, unaffiliated third-party valuation firm selected by the Adviser and approved by our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, has served as the independent valuation advisor with respect to the Adviser's property valuations in accordance with our valuation guidelines. All references herein to "independent valuation advisor" refer to any independent valuation advisors then-currently engaged by us, unless the context requires otherwise. The Adviser will generally value our properties monthly, based on current material market data and other information deemed relevant, with review for reasonableness by our independent valuation advisor. While the independent valuation advisor is responsible for reviewing our property and certain real estate debt and other securities valuations as set forth herein, the independent valuation advisor is not responsible for, and does not calculate, our NAV. The Adviser is ultimately and solely responsible for the determination of our NAV.

Our NAV per share is calculated by an affiliate of State Street Bank and Trust Company ("State Street"), a third-party firm that provides us with certain administrative and accounting services, and such calculation is reviewed and confirmed by the Adviser.

NAV is not a measure used under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP") and the valuations of and certain adjustments made to our assets and liabilities used in the determination of NAV will differ from GAAP. You should not consider NAV to be equivalent to stockholders' equity or any other GAAP measure. See "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" for more information regarding the calculation of our NAV per share of each class and how our properties and real estate debt will be valued.

Q: Is there any minimum investment required?

A: The minimum initial investment in Class T-2, Class S-2 or Class D-2 shares of our common stock is $2,500, and the minimum subsequent investment in such shares is $500 per transaction. The minimum initial investment in Class I shares of our common stock is $1,000,000, and the minimum subsequent investment in such shares is $500 per transaction, unless such minimums are waived by the Dealer Manager. The minimum subsequent investment amount does not apply to purchases made under our distribution reinvestment plan. In addition, our board of directors may elect to accept smaller investments in its discretion.

Q: What is a "best efforts" offering?

A: This public offering of common stock is being conducted on a "best efforts" basis. A "best efforts" offering means that the Dealer Manager and the participating brokers are only required to use their best efforts to sell the shares. When shares are offered to the public on a "best efforts" basis, no underwriter, broker-dealer or other person has a firm commitment or obligation to purchase any of the shares. Therefore, we cannot guarantee that any minimum number of shares will be sold.

Q: What is the expected term of this offering?

A: We have registered $48,000,000,000 in shares of our common stock, in any combination of Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class I shares, to be sold in our primary offering and up to $12,000,000,000 in shares of our common stock, in any combination of Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class I shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares, to be sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. As of March 31, 2026, we had issued and sold in this offering (i) 85,275,608 shares of our common stock (consisting of 27,049,064 Class S-2 shares, 52,591,421 Class I shares, 241,748 Class T-2 shares, and 5,393,375 Class D-2 shares) in the primary offering for total proceeds of $1.2 billion and (ii) 39,022,566 shares of our common stock (consisting of 105,284 Class S-2 shares, 22,011,113 Class I shares, 1,688 Class T-2 shares, 18,053 Class D-2 shares, 14,784,328 Class S shares, 618,259 Class T shares and 1,483,841 Class D shares) pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan for a total value of $0.5 billion.

It is our intent, however, to conduct a continuous offering for an indefinite period of time, by filing for additional offerings of our shares, subject to regulatory approval and continued compliance with the rules and regulations of the SEC and applicable state laws. We will endeavor to take all reasonable actions to avoid interruptions in the continuous offering of our shares of common stock. There can be no assurance, however, that we will not need to suspend our continuous offering while the SEC and, where required, state securities regulators, review such filings for additional offerings of our stock until such filings are declared effective, if at all.

Q: When may I make purchases of shares and at what price?

A: Subscriptions to purchase our common stock in our primary offering may be made on an ongoing basis, but investors may only purchase our common stock pursuant to accepted subscription orders as of the first calendar day of each month (based on the prior month's transaction price), and to be accepted, a subscription request must be received in good order at least five business days prior to the first calendar day of the month (unless waived by the Dealer Manager). The purchase price per share of each class will be equal to the then-current transaction price, which will generally be our prior month's NAV per share for such class as of the last calendar day of such month, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. We may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share, including by updating a previously disclosed transaction price, in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month. See "How to Subscribe" for more details.

For example, if you wish to subscribe for shares of our common stock in October, your subscription request must be received in good order at least five business days before November 1. Generally, the offering price will equal the NAV per share of the applicable class as of the last calendar day of September, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. If accepted, your subscription will be effective on the first calendar day of November.

Q: When will the transaction price be available?

A: Generally, within 15 calendar days after the last calendar day of each month, we will determine our NAV per share for each share class as of the last calendar day of the prior month, which will generally be the transaction price for the then-current month for such share class. However, in certain circumstances, the transaction price will not be made available until a later time. We will disclose the transaction price for each month when available on our website at www.breit.com and in prospectus supplements filed with the SEC.

Generally, you will not be provided with direct notice of the transaction price when it becomes available. Therefore, if you wish to know the transaction price prior to your subscription being accepted you must check our website or our filings with the SEC prior to the time your subscription is accepted.

However, if the transaction price is not made available on or before the eighth business day before the first calendar day of the month (which is six business days before the earliest date we may accept subscriptions), or a previously disclosed transaction price for that month is changed, then we will provide notice of such transaction price (and the first day on which we may accept subscriptions) directly to subscribing investors when such transaction price is made available. In such cases, you will have at least three business days from delivery of such notice before your subscription is accepted. See "How to Subscribe."

Q: May I withdraw my subscription request once I have made it?

A: Yes. Subscribers are not committed to purchase shares at the time their subscription orders are submitted and any subscription may be canceled at any time before the time it has been accepted. You may withdraw your purchase request by notifying the transfer agent, through your financial intermediary or directly on our toll-free, automated telephone line, 844-702-1299.

Q: When will my subscription be accepted?

A: Completed subscription requests will not be accepted by us before the later of (i) two business days before the first calendar day of each month and (ii) three business days after we make the transaction price (including any subsequent revised transaction price) publicly available by posting it on our website at www.breit.com and filing a prospectus supplement with the SEC (or in certain cases after we have delivered notice of such price directly to you as discussed above). As a result, you will have a minimum of three business days after the transaction price for that month has been disclosed to withdraw your request before you are committed to purchase the shares.

Q: Will I receive distributions and how often?

A: We have declared, and intend to continue to declare, monthly distributions as authorized by our board of directors (or a duly authorized committee of the board of directors) and have paid, and intend to continue to pay, such distributions to stockholders of record on a monthly basis. We commenced paying distributions in April 2017 and have paid distributions each month since such date. Any distributions we make are at the discretion of our board of directors, considering factors such as our earnings, cash flow, capital needs and general financial condition and the requirements of Maryland law. As a result, our distribution rates and payment frequency may vary from time to time. Share repurchases under our share repurchase plan are effectuated as of the opening of the last calendar day of each month and we have historically declared monthly distributions with a record date as of the close of business of the last calendar day of each month. You will not be entitled to receive a distribution if your shares are repurchased prior to the applicable time of the record date.

Our board of directors' discretion as to the payment of distributions will be directed, in substantial part, by its determination to cause us to comply with the REIT requirements. To maintain our qualification as a REIT, we generally are required to make aggregate annual distributions to our stockholders of at least 90% of our REIT taxable income determined without regard to the dividends-paid deduction and excluding net capital gains. See "Description of Capital Stock—Distribution Policy" and "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations."

The per share amount of distributions on Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S and Class D shares generally differ because of different class-specific stockholder servicing fees that are deducted from the gross distributions for each share class. Specifically, distributions on Class T-2, Class S-2, Class T and Class S shares will be lower than Class D-2 and Class D shares, and Class D-2 and Class D shares will be lower than Class I shares because we are required to pay higher ongoing stockholder servicing fees with respect to the Class T-2, Class S-2, Class T and Class S shares (compared to Class D-2 shares, Class D shares and Class I shares) and we are required to pay higher ongoing stockholder servicing fees with respect to Class D-2 and Class D shares (compared to Class I shares).

There is no assurance we will pay distributions in any particular amount, if at all. We may fund any distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses, and we have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources. The extent to which we fund distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations will depend on various factors, including the level of participation in our distribution reinvestment plan, the extent to which the Adviser elects to receive its management fee in certain classes of shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units and the Special Limited Partner elects to receive distributions on its performance participation allocation in certain classes of shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units, how quickly we invest the proceeds from this and any future offering and the performance of our investments, including our real estate debt portfolio. Funding distributions from borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses will result in us having less funds available to acquire properties or other real estate-related investments. As a result, the return you realize on your investment may be reduced. Doing so may also negatively impact our ability to generate cash flows. Likewise, funding distributions from the sale of additional securities will dilute your interest in us on a percentage basis and may impact the value of your investment especially if we sell these securities at prices less than the price you paid for your shares.

Q: Will the distributions I receive be taxable as ordinary income?

A: Generally, distributions that you receive, including cash distributions that are reinvested pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan, will be taxed as ordinary income to the extent they are paid from our current or accumulated earnings and profits. Dividends received from REITs are generally not eligible to be taxed at the lower U.S. federal income tax rates applicable to individuals for "qualified dividends" from C corporations (i.e., corporations generally subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax). However, individual taxpayers may be entitled to claim a deduction in determining their taxable income of 20% of ordinary REIT dividends (dividends other than capital gain dividends and dividends attributable to certain qualified dividend income received by us), which reduces the effective tax rate on such dividends.

We may designate a portion of distributions as capital gain dividends taxable at capital gain rates to the extent we recognize net capital gains from sales of assets. In addition, a portion of your distributions may be considered return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Amounts considered a return of capital generally will not be subject to tax, but will instead reduce the tax basis of your investment. This, in effect, defers a portion of your tax until your shares are repurchased, you sell your shares or we are liquidated, at which time you generally will be taxed at capital gains rates. Because each investor's tax position is different, you should consult with your tax advisor. In particular, non-U.S. investors should consult their tax advisors regarding potential withholding taxes on distributions that you receive. See "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations."

Q: May I reinvest my cash distributions in additional shares?

A: Yes. We have adopted a distribution reinvestment plan whereby stockholders (other than Alabama, Arkansas, California, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee, Vermont and Washington investors and clients of certain participating broker-dealers that do not permit automatic enrollment in our distribution reinvestment plan) will have their cash distributions automatically reinvested in additional shares of our common stock unless they elect to receive their distributions in cash. Alabama, Arkansas, California, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee, Vermont and Washington investors and clients of certain participating broker-dealers that do not permit automatic enrollment in our distribution reinvestment plan will automatically receive their distributions in cash unless they elect to have their cash distributions reinvested in additional shares of our common stock. If you participate in our distribution reinvestment plan, the cash distributions attributable to the class of shares that you own will be automatically invested in additional shares of the same class. Class T, Class S and Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The purchase price for shares purchased under our distribution reinvestment plan will be equal to the transaction price for such shares at the time the distribution is payable. Stockholders will not pay upfront selling commissions when purchasing shares under our distribution reinvestment plan; however, all outstanding Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D shares, including those purchased under our distribution reinvestment plan, will be subject to ongoing stockholder servicing fees. Participants may terminate their participation in the distribution reinvestment plan with ten business days' prior written notice to us. See "Description of Capital Stock—Distribution Reinvestment Plan" for more information regarding the reinvestment of distributions you may receive from us. For the complete terms of the distribution reinvestment plan, see Appendix A to this prospectus.

Q: Can I request that my shares be repurchased?

A: Yes. However, while stockholders may request on a monthly basis that we repurchase all or any portion of their shares pursuant to our share repurchase plan, we are not obligated to repurchase any shares and our board of directors may determine to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in its discretion. In addition, our ability to fulfill repurchase requests is subject to a number of limitations as described in the "Share Repurchases" section of this prospectus. As a result, share repurchases may not be available each month. Under our share repurchase plan, to the extent we choose to repurchase shares in any particular month, we will only repurchase shares as of the opening of the last calendar day of that month (each such date, a "Repurchase Date"). Repurchases will be made at the transaction price in effect on the Repurchase Date, except that shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of the transaction price (an "Early Repurchase Deduction"). The one-year holding period is measured as of the subscription closing date immediately following the prospective repurchase date. Additionally, stockholders who have received shares of our common stock in exchange for their Operating Partnership units may include the period of time such stockholder held such Operating Partnership units for purposes of calculating the holding period for such shares of our common stock. The Early Repurchase Deduction may only be waived in the case of repurchase requests arising from the death, qualifying disability or divorce of the holder, due to trade or operational error and in other limited circumstances. To have your shares repurchased, your repurchase request and required documentation must be received in good order by 4:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the second to last business day of the applicable month. Settlements of share repurchases will be made within three business days of the Repurchase Date. The Early Repurchase Deduction will not apply to shares acquired through our distribution reinvestment plan. An investor may withdraw its repurchase request by notifying the transfer agent before 4:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the last business day of the applicable month.

The aggregate NAV of total repurchases of all share classes, excluding Operating Partnership units held by investors other than the Company (including repurchases at certain non-U.S. investor access funds primarily created to hold shares of our common stock but excluding any Early Repurchase Deduction applicable to the repurchased shares) is limited to no more than 2% of our aggregate NAV per month (measured using the aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and no more than 5% of our aggregate NAV per calendar quarter (measured using the average aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed each month in a calendar quarter. We have in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under our share repurchase plan, and we have in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis.

In the event that we determine to repurchase some but not all of the shares submitted for repurchase during any month, shares repurchased at the end of the month will be repurchased on a pro rata basis. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of our share repurchase plan, as applicable.

Our approach to portfolio construction is to maintain a portfolio consisting predominately of income-generating, stabilized real estate investments and to a lesser extent in real estate debt investments, cash, cash equivalents and other short-term investments. Real estate investments cannot generally be readily liquidated without impacting our ability to realize full value upon their disposition. The real estate debt portfolio was designed as a feature of our investment program to provide current income and contribute to our overall net returns and, alongside our credit facilities and operating cash flow, as an additional source of liquidity for our share repurchase plan, cash management and other purposes. We may fund repurchase requests from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses, and we have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources. Should repurchase requests, in our board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or impose an adverse impact on the Company as a whole, or should our board of directors otherwise determine that investing our liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing our shares is in the best interests of the Company as a whole, then our board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased (including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under our share repurchase plan), or none at all. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our share repurchase plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our share repurchase plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders, such as when repurchase requests would place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or impose an adverse impact on us that would outweigh the benefit of repurchasing shares submitted for repurchase. Our board of directors cannot terminate our share repurchase plan absent a liquidity event which results in our stockholders receiving cash or securities listed on a national securities exchange or where otherwise required by law. If the transaction price for the applicable month is not made available by the tenth business day prior to the last business day of the month (or is changed after such date), then no repurchase requests will be accepted for such month and stockholders who wish to have their shares repurchased the following month must resubmit their repurchase requests. See "Share Repurchases—Repurchase Limitations."

Q: Will I be notified of how my investment is doing?

A: Yes. We will provide you with periodic updates on the performance of your investment with us, including:

- three quarterly financial reports and investor statements;
- an annual report;
- in the case of certain U.S. stockholders, an annual Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Form 1099-DIV or IRS Form 1099-B, if required, and, in the case of non-U.S. stockholders, an annual IRS Form 1042-S;
- confirmation statements (after transactions affecting your balance, except reinvestment of distributions in us and certain transactions through minimum account investment or withdrawal programs); and
- a quarterly statement providing material information regarding your participation in the distribution reinvestment plan and an annual statement providing tax information with respect to income earned on shares under the distribution reinvestment plan for the calendar year.

Depending on legal requirements, we may post this information on our website, www.breit.com, or provide this information to you via U.S. mail or other courier, electronic delivery, or some combination of the foregoing. Information about us will also be available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.

Our monthly NAV per share for each class will be posted on our website promptly after it has become available.

Q: What fees do you pay to the Adviser and its affiliates?

A: We pay the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner, the Dealer Manager and their affiliates the fees and expense reimbursements described below in connection with performing services for us.

We do not intend to pay the Adviser or its affiliates any separate fees for property acquisitions, dispositions, financings (except interest and other payments to the lender in cases where the lender is an affiliate of the Adviser) or development, or adopt a long-term incentive plan for the Adviser or its employees, although our charter permits us to do so, subject to certain limitations. We do, however, reimburse the Adviser and its affiliates for out-of-pocket and other expenses related to the foregoing activities to the extent such expenses are paid by the Adviser and its affiliates.

	Organization and Offering Activities
Upfront Selling Commissions and Dealer Manager Fees— The Dealer Manager	The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 3.0%, and upfront dealer manager fees of 0.5%, of the transaction price of each Class T-2 share sold in the primary offering, however such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price. The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 3.5% of the transaction price of each Class S-2 share sold in the primary offering. The Dealer Manager may be entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 1.5% of the transaction price of each Class D-2 share sold in the primary offering. The Dealer Manager anticipates that all or a portion of the upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers. No upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of Class I shares or shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan.	The actual amount will depend on the number of Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares sold and the transaction price of each Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 share. Aggregate upfront selling commissions will equal approximately $708.6 million if we sell the maximum amount in our primary offering, and aggregate dealer manager fees will equal approximately $11.6 million if we sell the maximum amount in our primary offering, assuming payment of the full upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees (with a split for Class T-2 shares of 3.0% and 0.5%, respectively), that 5%, 35% and 10% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of each of Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares, respectively, and that the transaction prices of our Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares remain constant from when this offering commenced.

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
Stockholder Servicing Fees— The Dealer Manager	Subject to FINRA limitations on underwriting compensation, we pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as stockholder servicing fees for ongoing services rendered to stockholders by participating broker-dealers or broker-dealers servicing investors' accounts, referred to as servicing broker-dealers: • with respect to our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares, consisting of a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum, and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares, however, with respect to Class T-2 and Class T shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such shares; • with respect to our outstanding Class S-2 and Class S shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class S-2 and Class S shares; and • with respect to our outstanding Class D-2 and Class D shares equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class D-2 and Class D shares.	Actual amounts depend upon the per share NAVs of our Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares, the number of Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares purchased and when such shares are purchased. For Class T-2 shares, the stockholder servicing fees will equal approximately $19.7 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount. For Class S-2 shares, the stockholder servicing fees will equal approximately $138.0 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount. For Class D-2 shares, the stockholder servicing fees will equal approximately $11.8 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount. In each case, we are assuming that, in our primary offering, 5% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of Class T-2 shares, 35% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of Class S-2 shares and 10% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of Class D-2 shares, that the NAV per share of our Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares remains constant from when this offering commenced and none of our stockholders participate in our distribution reinvestment plan or share repurchase plan.

	We do not pay a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class I shares. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services. Because the stockholder servicing fees are calculated based on our NAV for our Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D shares, they will reduce the NAV or, alternatively, the distributions payable, with respect to the shares of each such class, including shares issued under our distribution reinvestment plan.

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
	We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share or Class D share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit, if any. At the end of such month, each such Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share or Class D share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share. The "Fee Limit" is (a) with respect to Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares, the limit, if any, set forth in the applicable agreement between the Dealer Manager and a participating broker-dealer with respect to that broker-dealer's clients at the time such shares were issued and (b) with respect to Class T, Class S and Class D shares, 8.75% (or, in the case of Class T shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, a lower limit as set forth in the applicable agreement between the Dealer Manager and a participating broker-dealer at the time such Class T shares were issued) of the gross proceeds from the sale of such shares (including the gross proceeds of any shares issued under our distribution reinvestment plan with respect thereto).

	In addition, we will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee on the Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares on the earlier to occur of the following: (i) a listing of Class I shares, (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity, or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets or (iii) the date following the completion of the primary portion of this public offering on which, in the aggregate, underwriting compensation from all sources in connection with this public offering, including upfront selling commissions, the stockholder servicing fee and other underwriting compensation, is equal to 10% of the gross proceeds from the primary portion of this public offering. For a description of the services required from the participating broker-dealer or servicing broker-dealer, see the "Plan of Distribution—Underwriting Compensation—Stockholder Servicing Fees—Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D Shares."

Organization and Offering Expense Reimbursement—The Adviser	We reimburse the Adviser for any organization and offering expenses associated with our public and private offerings, including this offering and offerings by feeder vehicles (which are primarily created to hold our shares and in turn offer interests in such feeder vehicles to other investors), that the Adviser incurs on our behalf (including organizational, legal, accounting, printing, mailing, subscription processing and filing fees and expenses, expenses incurred in connection with the provision of administrative or similar services by intermediary platforms or participating broker-dealers for their clients and reasonable bona fide due diligence expenses of participating broker-dealers supported by detailed and itemized invoices, costs in connection with preparing sales materials, design and website expenses, fees and expenses of our transfer agent, formation, distribution, administrative, regulatory or similar expenses related to the management and operation of feeder vehicles or related entities and expense reimbursements for actual costs incurred by employees of the Dealer Manager in the performance of wholesaling activities, but excluding upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and the stockholder servicing fee) as and when incurred. The Adviser currently pays wholesaling compensation expenses and certain related expenses of persons associated with the Dealer Manager without reimbursement from us. After the termination of the primary offering and again after termination of the offering under our distribution reinvestment plan, the Adviser has agreed to reimburse us to the extent that the organization and offering expenses that we incur exceed 15% of our gross proceeds from the applicable offering.	We estimate our organization and offering expenses of this offering to be approximately $68.4 million if we sell the maximum offering amount.

Acquisition Expense Reimbursement—The Adviser	We do not intend to pay the Adviser any acquisition, financing (except interest payments to the lender in cases where the lender is an affiliate of the Adviser) or other similar fees in connection with making investments. We will, however, reimburse the Adviser for out-of-pocket expenses in connection with the selection and acquisition of properties and real estate debt, whether or not such investments are acquired, and make payments to third parties or certain of the Adviser's affiliates in connection with making investments as described in "—Fees from Other Services" below.	Actual amounts are dependent upon actual expenses incurred and, therefore, cannot be determined at this time.

	Operational Activities
Management Fee—The Adviser	We pay the Adviser a management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D and Class C shares, (ii) 1.00% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L shares and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L-2 shares, in each case, per annum payable monthly. Additionally, to the extent that our Operating Partnership issues Operating Partnership units to parties other than us, our Operating Partnership will pay the Adviser a management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B Operating Partnership units, (ii) 1.00% of the NAV of the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class L Operating Partnership units and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class L-2 Operating Partnership units, in each case, per annum payable monthly. We do not pay the Adviser a management fee with respect to Class F shares or Class F units. We pay different management fees on certain classes of our common stock, and as a result, it is a class-specific expense.	Actual amounts of the management fee depend upon our aggregate NAV. The management fee attributed to the shares sold in this offering will equal approximately $591.0 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount in our primary offering, assuming that the NAV per share of our Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class I shares remains constant from when this offering commenced and before giving effect to any shares issued under our distribution reinvestment plan, shares issued in our private or offshore offerings and share repurchases. Actual amounts of out-of-pocket expenses paid by the Adviser that we reimburse are dependent upon actual expenses incurred and, therefore, cannot be determined at this time.

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
	The management fee may be paid, at the Adviser's election, in cash, certain classes of shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units, or any combination thereof. To the extent that the Adviser elects to receive any portion of its management fee in shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units, we may repurchase such shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units from the Adviser at a later date. Such shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units will not be subject to our share repurchase plan, including with respect to any repurchase limits the Early Repurchase Deduction, or the calculation of NAV. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we have adopted a policy in which the affiliate transaction committee must approve repurchase requests submitted by the Adviser or its affiliates that when combined with any shareholder repurchase requests would cause us to exceed the 2% monthly or 5% quarterly limitations on repurchases (or any other limitations then in effect under our share repurchase plan). Such approval must find that the repurchase will not impair our capital or operations and be consistent with the fiduciary duties of our directors. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Adviser or its affiliates acquired as payment of the management fee will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended.

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
	The Operating Partnership will repurchase any such Operating Partnership units for cash unless our board of directors determines that any such repurchase for cash would be prohibited by applicable law or the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, in which case such Operating Partnership units will be repurchased for shares of our common stock with an equivalent aggregate NAV. The Adviser and the Special Limited Partner will have the option of exchanging such shares of our common stock for an equivalent aggregate NAV amount of certain other classes of shares of our common stock and will have registration rights with respect to shares of our common stock.

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
	In addition to the organization and offering expense and acquisition expense reimbursements described above, we will reimburse the Adviser for out-of-pocket costs and expenses it incurs in connection with the services it provides to us, including, but not limited to, (1) the actual amount paid to third parties for goods and services, including fees paid to administrators, consultants, attorneys, technology providers and other services providers, and brokerage fees paid in connection with the purchase and sale of investments and securities or charitable donations, such as in connection with our annual stockholder meetings, (2) expenses of managing and operating our properties, whether payable to an affiliate or a non-affiliated person, (3) out-of-pocket expenses in connection with the selection and acquisition of properties and real estate debt, whether or not such investments are acquired and (4) any organization and offering expenses related to the DST Program. Such out-of-pocket costs and expenses also will include expenses relating to compliance-related matters and regulatory filings, in each case, relating to our activities (including, without limitation, expenses relating to requests for information, examinations and inquiries or any regulatory proceedings against us, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager and any of their respective affiliates, expenses relating to requests for information and inquiries from press and other news sources, and expenses relating to the preparation and filing of regulatory filings of the Adviser and its affiliates relating to our activities (including our pro rata share of the costs of the Adviser and its affiliates of regulatory expenses that relate to us and Other Blackstone Accounts)). See "Management—The Advisory Agreement—Management Fee, Performance Participation and Expense Reimbursements."

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
Performance Participation Allocation—The Special Limited Partner	So long as the Advisory Agreement has not been terminated, the Special Limited Partner will continue to hold a performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership that entitles it to receive an allocation from our Operating Partnership equal to (i) 12.5% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B units and (ii) 10% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class L and Class L-2 units (each term as defined herein). Such allocation is measured on a calendar year basis, made quarterly and accrued monthly. The performance participation allocation is not paid on the Class F units. We pay different performance participation allocation on certain classes of the Operating Partnership's units, and as a result, it is a class-specific expense. Distributions on the performance participation allocation may be payable in cash, SLP Performance Units (as defined below), or any combination thereof, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. If the Special Limited Partner elects to receive such distributions in SLP Performance Units, the Special Limited Partner may request the Operating Partnership to repurchase such Operating Partnership units (including any units received in exchange for any SLP Performance Units) from the Special Limited Partner at a later date. Any such repurchase requests will not be subject to the Early Repurchase Deduction but will be subject to similar repurchase limits that exist under our share repurchase plan. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Special Limited Partner or its affiliates acquired as payment of the performance participation allocation will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended. For a detailed explanation of how the performance participation allocation is calculated, see "Summary of Our Operating Partnership Agreement—Special Limited Partner Interest." For a hypothetical calculation of the performance participation calculation, see "Compensation—Performance Participation Allocation Example."	Actual amounts of the performance participation depend upon the Operating Partnership's actual annual total return and, therefore, cannot be calculated at this time.

Fees from Other Services—Affiliates of the Adviser	We retain certain of the Adviser's affiliates, from time to time, for services relating to our investments or our operations, which may include accounting and audit services (including valuation support services), account management services, corporate secretarial services, data management services, directorship services, information technology services, finance/budget services, human resources, judicial processes, legal services, operational services, risk management services, tax services, treasury services, loan management services, construction management services, property management services, leasing services, property, title and/or other types of insurance and related services, transaction support services, transaction consulting services and other similar operational matters. We have adopted a long-term incentive plan which we use to attract and retain qualified employees of certain of our portfolio entities and other affiliated service providers. Our Operating Partnership or its subsidiary may also issue equity incentive compensation to certain employees of such affiliates for services provided. Any compensation paid to the Adviser's affiliates for any such services will not reduce the management fee or performance participation allocation. Any such arrangements will be at or below market rates. For more information about such services, please see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest—The Adviser may face conflicts of interests in choosing our service providers and certain service providers may provide services to the Dealer Manager, the Adviser or Blackstone on more favorable terms than those payable by us."	Actual amounts depend on to what extent affiliates of the Adviser are actually engaged to perform such services.

In calculating our management fee, we will use our NAV before giving effect to accruals for the management fee, performance participation allocation, stockholder servicing fees or distributions payable on our shares. In calculating our stockholder servicing fee, we will use our NAV before giving effect to accruals for the stockholder servicing fee or distributions payable on our shares.

Our Total Operating Expenses, including any performance participation allocation made to the Special Limited Partner with respect to its performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership, will be limited during any four fiscal quarters to the greater of (a) 2.0% of our Average Invested Assets or (b) 25.0% of our Net Income. This limit may be exceeded only if our independent directors have made a finding that, based on such unusual and non-recurring factors as they deem sufficient, a higher level of expenses is justified, and such finding is recorded in the minutes of a meeting of the independent directors. See "Management—The Advisory Agreement—Management Fee, Performance Participation and Expense Reimbursements" for definitions of "Total Operating Expenses," "Average Invested Assets," and "Net Income."

Q: What are your policies related to conflicts of interests with Blackstone and its affiliates?

A: Businesses or Services Provided by the Adviser to Others. The Advisory Agreement provides that it does not (i) prevent the Adviser or any of its affiliates, officers, directors or employees from engaging in other businesses or from rendering services of any kind to any other person or entity, whether or not the investment objectives or guidelines of any such other person or entity are similar to those of ours, including, without limitation, the sponsoring, closing and/or managing of any Other Blackstone Accounts, (ii) in any way bind or restrict the Adviser or any of its affiliates, officers, directors or employees from buying, selling or trading any securities or commodities for their own accounts or for the account of others for whom the Adviser or any of its affiliates, officers, directors or employees may be acting or (iii) prevent the Adviser or any of its affiliates from receiving fees or other compensation or profits from activities described in clauses (i) or (ii) above which shall be for the Adviser's (and/or its affiliates') sole benefit. In particular, there will be overlap of real estate and real estate debt investment opportunities with certain Other Blackstone Accounts that are actively investing and similar overlap with future Other Blackstone Accounts.

Allocation of Future Investment Opportunities. The Advisory Agreement acknowledges that, while information and recommendations supplied to us shall, in the Adviser's reasonable and good faith judgment, be appropriate under the circumstances and in light of our investment guidelines, such information and recommendations may be different in certain material respects from the information and recommendations supplied by the Adviser or its affiliates to others (including, for greater certainty, the Other Blackstone Accounts and their investors, as described below). In addition, as acknowledged in the Advisory Agreement, affiliates of the Adviser advise and/or manage one or more Other Blackstone Accounts and we expect will in the future sponsor, advise and/or manage additional Other Blackstone Accounts. This overlap will from time to time create conflicts of interest. Additionally, in certain circumstances investment opportunities suitable for us will not be presented to us and there will be investment opportunities where our participation is restricted.

Currently, Private Core+ Accounts invest in "Core+" real estate and real estate-related assets in the United States and Canada (which are generally substantially stabilized assets generating relatively stable cash flow), with a focus on office, multifamily, industrial, retail and life sciences assets in major cities and markets across the United States and Canada. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and the Private Core+ Accounts, such investment will be generally allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above. Certain Other Blackstone Accounts also invest in real estate debt with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours but do not have priority over us. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, such investment will be allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above.

Furthermore, the Select Opportunistic Blackstone Accounts invest in "opportunistic" real estate and real estate-related assets globally (which often are undermanaged assets and with higher potential for equity appreciation) and have priority over us with respect to such investment opportunities and select investments (e.g., certain private real estate loans, stabilized data center investments and European and infrastructure investments) will be first offered to certain Other Blackstone Accounts (which we generally expect to have investment strategies distinct from ours but can overlap to some extent). Other Blackstone Accounts having priority over us will result in fewer investment opportunities being made available to us.

Pursuant to the terms of the Advisory Agreement, we have acknowledged and/or agreed that (i) as part of Blackstone's or its affiliates' regular businesses, personnel of the Adviser and its affiliates will from time to time work on other projects and matters (including with respect to one or more Other Blackstone Accounts), and that conflicts will from time to time arise with respect to the allocation of personnel between us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts and/or the Adviser and such other affiliates, (ii) unless prohibited by our charter, Other Blackstone Accounts may invest, from time to time, in investments in which we also invest (including at a different level of an issuer's capital structure (e.g., an investment by an Other Blackstone Account in a debt or mezzanine interest with respect to the same portfolio entity in which we own an equity interest or vice versa) or in a different tranche of equity or debt with respect to an issuer in which we have an interest) and while Blackstone and its affiliates will seek to resolve any such conflicts in a fair and reasonable manner (subject to any priorities of the Other Blackstone Accounts) in accordance with its prevailing policies and procedures with respect to conflicts resolution among Other Blackstone Accounts generally, such transactions are not required to be presented to our board of directors or any committee thereof for approval (unless otherwise required by our charter or investment guidelines), and there can be no assurance that any conflicts will be resolved in our favor, (iii) we will from time to time pay fees to the Adviser and its affiliates, including portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts, for providing various services described in this prospectus, as updated from time to time (the "Services"), including those described under "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest—The Adviser may face conflicts of interests in choosing our service providers and certain service providers may provide services to the Dealer Manager, the Adviser or Blackstone on more favorable terms than those payable by us," (iv) the Adviser's affiliates will from time to time receive fees from portfolio entities or other issuers for the Services, and while such fees may give rise to conflicts of interest we will not receive the benefit of any such fees, and (v) the terms and conditions of the governing agreements of such Other Blackstone Accounts (including with respect to the economic, reporting, and other rights afforded to investors in such Other Blackstone Accounts) are materially different from the terms and conditions applicable to us and our stockholders, and neither we nor any of our stockholders (in such capacity) shall have the right to receive the benefit of any such different terms applicable to investors in such Other Blackstone Accounts as a result of an investment in us or otherwise. In addition, pursuant to the terms of the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser is required to keep our board of directors reasonably informed on a periodic basis in connection with the foregoing.

Transactions with Other Blackstone Accounts or Affiliate. Pursuant to the terms of the Advisory Agreement, and subject to applicable law, the Adviser is not permitted to consummate on our behalf any transaction that involves (i) the sale of any investment to or (ii) the acquisition of any investment from Blackstone, any Blackstone Account or any of their affiliates unless such transaction is approved by a majority of our directors, including a majority of independent directors, not otherwise interested in such transaction as being fair and reasonable to us. In addition, for any such acquisition by us, our purchase price will be limited to the cost of the property to the affiliate, including acquisition-related expenses, or if substantial justification exists, the current appraised value of the property as determined by an independent expert. In addition, we may enter into joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts, or with Blackstone, the Adviser, one or more of our directors, or any of their respective affiliates, only if a majority of our directors (including a majority of our independent directors) not otherwise interested in the transaction approve the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on substantially the same, or more favorable, terms and conditions as those received by other joint venture partners. Pursuant to the terms of the Advisory Agreement, it is agreed that the Adviser will seek to resolve any conflicts of interest in a fair and reasonable manner (subject to any priorities of Other Blackstone Accounts) in accordance with its prevailing policies and procedures with respect to conflicts resolution among Other Blackstone Accounts generally, but only those transactions set forth in this paragraph will be expressly required to be presented for approval to the independent directors of our board of directors or any committee thereof (unless otherwise required by our charter or our investment guidelines).

Corporate Opportunities. Our board of directors has adopted a resolution that that renounces our interest or expectancy in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, business opportunities, and provides that none of Blackstone or its affiliates, our directors or any person our directors control must refrain from competing with us or present to us such business opportunities. Under this resolution Blackstone and its affiliates and our directors or any person our directors control would not be obligated to present to us opportunities unless those opportunities are expressly offered to such person in his or her capacity as a director or officer and intended exclusively for us or any of our subsidiaries, and those persons will be able to engage in competing activities without any restriction imposed as a result of Blackstone's or its affiliates' status as a stockholder or Blackstone's affiliates' status as our officers or directors.

Q: Are there any limitations on the level of ownership of shares?

A: Our charter contains restrictions on the number of shares any one person or group may own. Specifically, our charter will not permit any person or group to own more than 9.9% in value or number of shares, whichever is more restrictive, of our outstanding common stock or of the aggregate of our outstanding capital stock of any classes or series, and attempts to acquire our common stock or our capital stock of all other class or series in excess of these 9.9% limits would not be effective without an exemption from these limits (prospectively or retroactively) by our board of directors. These limits may be further reduced if our board of directors waives these limits for certain holders. See "Description of Capital Stock—Restrictions on Ownership and Transfer." These restrictions are designed, among other purposes, to enable us to comply with ownership restrictions imposed on REITs by the Code, and may have the effect of preventing a third party from engaging in a business combination or other transaction even if doing so would result in you receiving a "premium" for your shares. See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to This Offering and Our Organizational Structure" for additional discussion regarding restrictions on share ownership.

Q: Are there any ERISA considerations in connection with an investment in our shares?

A: The section in this Prospectus captioned "Certain ERISA Considerations" describes certain considerations relating to the purchase of shares by each prospective investor that is, or is acting on behalf of, (i) an "employee benefit plan" (within the meaning of Section 3(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA")) that is subject to Title I of ERISA, (ii) a "plan" described in Section 4975 of the Code that is subject to Section 4975 of the Code (including, without limitation, an individual retirement account ("IRA") and a "Keogh" plan), (iii) a plan, fund, account or other arrangement that is subject to the provisions of any other federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the fiduciary responsibility or prohibited transaction provisions of Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (collectively, "Similar Laws"), or (iv) an entity whose underlying assets are considered to include the assets of any of the foregoing described in clauses (i), (ii) and (iii), pursuant to ERISA or otherwise (each of the foregoing described in clauses (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) we refer to as a "Plan").

Each prospective investor that is, or is acting on behalf of, a Plan must independently determine that our shares are an appropriate investment for the Plan, taking into account the investor's and the Plan's obligations under the applicable provisions of ERISA, the Code and any applicable Similar Laws, and the facts and circumstances of such investing Plan, including for example: (1) whether the investment is in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the Plan; (2) whether the investment satisfies the fiduciary requirements associated with the Plan; (3) whether the investment will generate unrelated business taxable income to the Plan; (4) whether there is sufficient liquidity for the investment in the shares for the Plan; (5) the need to value the assets of the Plan annually or more frequently; and (6) whether the investment would constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Title I of ERISA or Section the Code, or a similar violation under applicable Similar Laws. See also "Risk Factors—Retirement Plan Risks" and "Certain ERISA Considerations."

Prospective investors that are, or are acting on behalf of any, Plan should consult with their own legal, tax, financial and other advisors prior to investing to review these implications in light of such investor's particular circumstances. The sale of our common stock to any Plan is in no respect a representation by us or any other person associated with the offering of our shares of common stock that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirements with respect to investments by Plans generally or any particular Plan, or that such an investment is appropriate for Plans generally or any particular Plan.

Q: Are there any Investment Company Act of 1940 considerations?

A: We intend to engage primarily in the business of investing in real estate and to conduct our operations so that neither we nor any of our subsidiaries is required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act. A company is an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act:

- under Section 3(a)(1)(A), if it is, or holds itself out as being, engaged primarily, or proposes to engage primarily, in the business of investing, reinvesting or trading in securities; or

- under Section 3(a)(1)(C), if it is engaged, or proposes to engage, in the business of investing, reinvesting, owning, holding or trading in securities and owns, or proposes to acquire, "investment securities" having a value exceeding 40% of the value of its total assets (exclusive of government securities and cash items) on an unconsolidated basis, which we refer to as the "40% test." The term "investment securities" generally includes all securities except U.S. government securities and securities of majority-owned subsidiaries that are not themselves investment companies and are not relying on the exemption from the definition of investment company under Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act.

We intend to acquire real estate and real estate-related assets directly, primarily by acquiring fee interests in real property. We may also invest in real property indirectly through investments in joint venture entities, including joint venture entities in which we do not own a controlling interest and joint venture entities in which Other Blackstone Accounts may invest. We plan to conduct our businesses primarily through the Operating Partnership, a majority-owned subsidiary, and expect to establish other direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiaries to hold particular assets.

We intend to conduct our operations so that we and most, if not all, of our wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries will comply with the 40% test. We will continuously monitor our holdings on an ongoing basis to determine compliance with this test. We expect that most, if not all, of our wholly owned and majority-owned subsidiaries will not be relying on exemptions under either Section 3(c)(1) or 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act. Consequently, interests in these subsidiaries (which are expected to constitute a substantial majority of our assets) generally will not constitute "investment securities." Accordingly, we believe that we and most, if not all, of our wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries will not be considered investment companies under Section 3(a)(1)(C) of the Investment Company Act.

In addition, we believe that neither we nor any of our wholly or majority-owned subsidiaries will be considered an investment company under Section 3(a)(1)(A) of the Investment Company Act because they will not engage primarily or hold themselves out as being engaged primarily in the business of investing, reinvesting or trading in securities. Rather, we and our subsidiaries will be primarily engaged in non-investment company businesses related to real estate. Consequently, we expect to be able to conduct our subsidiaries' respective operations such that none of them will be required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

We will determine whether an entity is a majority-owned subsidiary of our Company. The Investment Company Act defines a majority-owned subsidiary of a person as a company 50% or more of the outstanding voting securities of which are owned by such person, or by another company which is a majority-owned subsidiary of such person. The Investment Company Act defines voting securities as any security presently entitling the owner or holder thereof to vote for the election of directors of a company. We treat entities in which we own at least 50% of the outstanding voting securities as majority-owned subsidiaries for purposes of the 40% test. We have not requested that the SEC or its staff approve our treatment of any entity as a majority-owned subsidiary, and neither has done so. If the SEC or its staff was to disagree with our treatment of one or more subsidiary entities as majority-owned subsidiaries, we would need to adjust our strategy and our assets in order to continue to pass the 40% test. Any adjustment in our strategy could have a material adverse effect on us.

If we or any of our wholly or majority-owned subsidiaries would ever inadvertently fall within one of the definitions of "investment company," we intend to rely on the exemption provided by Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the Investment Company Act, which is available for entities "primarily engaged in the business of purchasing or otherwise acquiring mortgages and other liens on and interests in real estate." The SEC staff has taken the position that this exemption, in addition to prohibiting the issuance of certain types of securities, generally requires that at least 55% of an entity's assets must be comprised of mortgages and other liens on and interests in real estate, also known as "qualifying assets," and at least another 25% of the entity's assets must be comprised of additional qualifying assets or a broader category of assets that we refer to as "real estate-related assets" under the Investment Company Act (and no more than 20% of the entity's assets may be comprised of miscellaneous assets).

We will classify our assets for purposes of our 3(c)(5)(C) exemption based upon no-action positions taken by the SEC staff and interpretive guidance provided by the SEC and its staff. These no-action positions are based on specific factual situations that may be substantially different from the factual situations we may face, and a number of these no-action positions were issued more than twenty years ago. No assurance can be given that the SEC or its staff will concur with our classification of our assets. In addition, the SEC or its staff may, in the future, issue further guidance that may require us to re-classify our assets for purposes of the Investment Company Act. If we are required to re-classify our assets, we may no longer be in compliance with the exemption from the definition of an investment company provided by Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the Investment Company Act.

For purposes of determining whether we satisfy the 55%/25% test, based on certain no-action letters issued by the SEC staff, we intend to classify our fee interests in real property, held by us directly or through our wholly owned or majority-owned subsidiaries, as qualifying assets. In addition, based on no-action letters issued by the SEC staff, we will treat our investments in any joint ventures that in turn invest in qualifying assets such as real property as qualifying assets, but only if we are active in the management and operation of the joint venture and have the right to approve major decisions by the joint venture; otherwise, they will be classified as real estate-related assets. We will not participate in joint ventures in which we do not have or share control to the extent that we believe such participation would potentially threaten our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act. This may prevent us from receiving an allocation with respect to certain investment opportunities that are suitable for both us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts. We expect that no less than 55% of our assets will consist of investments in real property, including any joint ventures that we control or in which we share control.

Qualifying for an exemption from registration under the Investment Company Act will limit our ability to make certain investments. For example, these restrictions may limit our and our subsidiaries' ability to invest directly in mortgage-backed securities that represent less than the entire ownership in a pool of mortgage loans, debt and equity tranches of securitizations and certain asset-backed securities, non-controlling equity interests in real estate companies or in assets not related to real estate.

Although we intend to monitor our portfolio, there can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain this exemption from registration.

A change in the value of any of our assets could negatively affect our ability to maintain our exemption from regulation under the Investment Company Act. To maintain compliance with the Section 3(c)(5)(C) exemption, we may be unable to sell assets we would otherwise want to sell and may need to sell assets we would otherwise wish to retain. In addition, we may have to acquire additional assets that we might not otherwise have acquired or may have to forego opportunities to acquire assets that we would otherwise want to acquire and would be important to our investment strategy.

To the extent that the SEC or its staff provides more specific guidance regarding any of the matters bearing upon the definition of investment company and the exemptions to that definition, we may be required to adjust our strategy accordingly. On August 31, 2011, the SEC issued a concept release and request for comments regarding the Section 3(c)(5)(C) exemption (Release No. IC-29778) in which it contemplated the possibility of issuing new rules or providing new interpretations of the exemption that might, among other things, define the phrase "liens on and other interests in real estate" or consider sources of income in determining a company's "primary business." Any additional guidance from the SEC or its staff could provide additional flexibility to us, or it could further inhibit our ability to pursue the strategies we have chosen.

If we are required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act, we would become subject to substantial regulation with respect to our capital structure (including our ability to use borrowings), management, operations, transactions with affiliated persons (as defined in the Investment Company Act), and portfolio composition, including disclosure requirements and restrictions with respect to diversification and industry concentration, and other matters. Compliance with the Investment Company Act would, accordingly, limit our ability to make certain investments and require us to significantly restructure our business plan. For additional discussion of the risks that we would face if we were required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act, see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to This Offering and Our Organizational Structure—Your investment return may be reduced if we are required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act."

RISK FACTORS

An investment in shares of our common stock involves risks. You should specifically consider the following material risks in addition to the other information contained in this prospectus before you decide to purchase shares of our common stock. The occurrence of any of the following known risks might cause you to lose a significant part of your investment. The risks and uncertainties discussed below are not the only ones we face, but do represent those risks and uncertainties that we believe are most significant to our business, operating results, financial condition, prospects and forward-looking statements.

Risks Related to This Offering and Our Organizational Structure

We have held most of our current investments for only a limited period of time and you will not have the opportunity to evaluate our future investments before we make them, which makes your investment more speculative.

We have held most of our current investments for a limited period of time and are not able to provide you with information to assist you in evaluating the merits of any specific properties or real estate debt that we may acquire in the future, except for investments that may be described in one or more supplements to this prospectus. Because we have not held certain of our current investments for a long period of time, it may be difficult for you to evaluate our success in achieving our investment objectives. We will continue to seek to invest substantially all of the future net offering proceeds from this offering and certain private offerings, after the payment of fees and expenses, in the acquisition of or investment in interests in properties and real estate debt. However, because you will be unable to evaluate the economic merit of our future investments before we make them, you will have to rely entirely on the ability of the Adviser to select suitable and successful investment opportunities. Furthermore, the Adviser has broad discretion in selecting the types of properties we will invest in and the tenants of those properties, and you will not have the opportunity to evaluate potential investments. These factors increase the risk that your investment may not generate returns comparable to other real estate investment alternatives.

We disclose funds from operations ("FFO"), adjusted funds from operations ("AFFO"), and funds available for distribution ("FAD"), each a non-GAAP financial measure, in communications with investors, including documents filed with the SEC. However, these measures are not equivalent to our net income or loss as determined under GAAP, and do not represent a complete measure of our financial position and results of operations.

We use, and we disclose to investors, FFO, AFFO and FAD, which are considered non-GAAP financial measures. For a discussion of these measures, including definitions, reconciliation to GAAP net income (loss), and the inherent limitations of FFO, AFFO and FAD, see "Selected Information Regarding Our Operations – Funds from Operations and Adjusted Funds from Operations and Funds Available for Distributions." FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered more relevant or accurate than GAAP net income (loss) in evaluating our operating performance. In addition, FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered as alternatives to net income (loss) as indications of our performance or as alternatives to cash flows from operating activities as indications of our liquidity, but rather should be reviewed in conjunction with these and other GAAP measurements. Further, FFO, AFFO, and FAD are not intended to be used as liquidity measures indicative of cash flow available to fund our cash needs, including our ability to make distributions to our stockholders. In addition, our methodology for calculating AFFO and FAD may differ from the methodologies employed by other companies to calculate the same or similar supplemental performance measures, and accordingly, our reported AFFO and FAD may not be comparable to the AFFO and FAD reported by other companies. Neither the SEC nor any other regulatory body has passed judgment on the acceptability of the adjustments that we use to calculate FFO and AFFO.

We have incurred net losses under GAAP in the past and may incur net losses in the future, and we have an accumulated deficit and may continue to have an accumulated deficit in the future.

For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, we had net loss attributable to our stockholders of $3.3 billion and $890.5 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, we had an accumulated loss of approximately $8.2 billion and $4.9 billion, respectively, which largely reflects real estate depreciation and amortization expense in accordance with GAAP. For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, depreciation and amortization expense was approximately $3.2 billion and $3.6 billion, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, our FAD was $1.1 billion and $1.2 billion, respectively.

Net loss and accumulated deficit are calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, which, among other things, requires depreciation of real estate investments to be calculated on a straight-line basis. As a result, our operating results imply that the value of our real estate investments will decrease evenly over a set time period. However, we believe that the value of real estate investments will fluctuate over time based on market conditions. Thus, in addition to GAAP financial metrics, management reviews certain non-GAAP financial metrics that exclude real estate-related depreciation and amortization, including FAD, as an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental disclosure to provide information for evaluating our operating results. See "Selected Information Regarding our Operations – Funds from Operations, Adjusted Funds from Operations and Funds Available for Distribution" for reconciliations of FAD to GAAP net loss attributable to common stockholders and for considerations on how to review this metric.

The Adviser manages our portfolio pursuant to very broad investment guidelines and generally is not required to seek the approval of our board of directors for each investment, financing or asset allocation decision made by it, which may result in our making riskier investments and which could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Our board of directors approved very broad investment guidelines that delegate to the Adviser the authority to execute acquisitions and dispositions of real estate and real estate debt on our behalf, so long as such acquisitions or dispositions are consistent with the investment guidelines and our charter. The Adviser will implement on our behalf the strategies and discretionary approaches it believes from time to time may be best suited to prevailing market conditions in furtherance of that purpose, subject to the limitations under our investment guidelines and our charter. There can be no assurance that the Adviser will be successful in implementing any particular strategy or discretionary approach to our investment activities. Furthermore, the diversification and type of investments may differ substantially from our prior investments. For example, future investments may focus on different sectors of real estate or different geographic areas than is the case for our current investment portfolio. Our board of directors reviews our investment guidelines on an annual basis (or more often as it deems appropriate) and reviews our investment portfolio periodically. Pre-approval of our board of directors or a committee of independent directors will be required only as set forth in our charter (including for transactions with affiliates of the Adviser) or for the acquisition or disposition of assets that are not in accordance with our investment guidelines. In addition, in conducting periodic reviews, our directors rely primarily on information provided to them by the Adviser. Furthermore, transactions entered into on our behalf by the Adviser may be costly, difficult or impossible to unwind when they are subsequently reviewed by our board of directors.

There is currently no public trading market for shares of our common stock; therefore, your ability to dispose of your shares will likely be limited to repurchase by us. If you do sell your shares to us, you may receive less than the price you paid.

There is no current public trading market for shares of our common stock, and we do not expect that such a market will ever develop. Therefore, repurchase of shares by us will likely be the only way for you to dispose of your shares, and such repurchases are limited by our share repurchase plan. We expect to continue to repurchase shares at a price equal to the transaction price of the class of shares being repurchased on the date of repurchase (which will generally be equal to our prior month's NAV per share) and not based on the price at which you initially purchased your shares, except that, subject to limited exceptions, shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of the transaction price. As a result, you may receive less than the price you paid for your shares when you sell them to us pursuant to our share repurchase plan. See "Share Repurchases—Early Repurchase Deduction."

Your ability to have your shares repurchased through our share repurchase plan is limited. We may choose to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased, in our discretion at any time, and the amount of shares we may repurchase is subject to limitations overseen by our board of directors. Our board of directors may make exceptions to the limitations in our share repurchase plan (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our share repurchase plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders.

We may choose to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested in any particular month to be repurchased under our share repurchase plan, which is approved and administered by our board of directors, or none at all, in our discretion at any time. We may repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased due to lack of readily available funds because of adverse market conditions beyond our control, the need to maintain liquidity for our operations or because we have determined that investing in real property or other illiquid investments is a better use of our capital than repurchasing our shares. In addition, the aggregate NAV of total repurchases (including repurchases at certain non-U.S. investor access funds primarily created to hold shares of our common stock but excluding any Early Repurchase Deduction applicable to the repurchased shares) is limited, in any calendar month, to no more than 2% of our aggregate NAV (measured using the aggregate NAV as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and, in any calendar quarter, to shares whose aggregate value is no more than 5% of our aggregate NAV (measured using the average aggregate NAV at the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed each month in a calendar quarter. We have in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under our share repurchase plan, and we have in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis. For example, in the past, we have experienced periods of prorated fulfillment of repurchase requests, in accordance with the limitations specified in our share repurchase plan. In such case, we accepted repurchase requests from each investor up to such repurchase limitations. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our share repurchase plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our share repurchase plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. Our board of directors cannot terminate our share repurchase plan absent a liquidity event which results in our stockholders receiving cash or securities listed on a national securities exchange or where otherwise required by law. If the full amount of all shares of our common stock requested to be repurchased in any given month are not repurchased, funds will be allocated pro rata based on the total number of shares of common stock being repurchased without regard to class and subject to the volume limitation. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of our share repurchase plan, as applicable.

In addition, as of the date of this prospectus, a single investor owns approximately 9% of our total outstanding shares of common stock which ownership interest may increase under the terms of this investor's investment in us. Although this investor is required to submit repurchase requests pursuant to our share repurchase plan ratably over a 24-month period, a repurchase request by this investor or any other significant holder in the future could cause us to reach the limits of our share repurchase plan more quickly than we would have otherwise and may adversely impact the ability of other stockholders to have their shares repurchased.

The vast majority of our assets consist of properties that cannot generally be readily liquidated without impacting our ability to realize full value upon their disposition. Therefore, we may not always have a sufficient amount of cash to immediately satisfy repurchase requests. Should repurchase requests, in our board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or impose an adverse impact on us as a whole, or should our board of directors otherwise determine that investing our liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing our shares is in the best interests of us as a whole, then our board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested to be repurchased (including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under our share repurchase plan), or none at all. Upon suspension of our share repurchase plan, our share repurchase plan requires our board of directors to consider at least quarterly whether the continued suspension of the plan is in the best interest of us and its stockholders; however, we are not required to authorize the recommencement of our share repurchase plan within any specified period of time. As a result, a stockholder's ability to have their shares repurchased by us has been limited in the past, and may be limited in the future, and at times stockholders have not been able to, and may not in the future be able to, liquidate their investment. See "Share Repurchases—Repurchase Limitations."

Economic events that may cause our stockholders to request that we repurchase their shares may materially adversely affect our cash flow and our results of operations and financial condition.

Events affecting economic conditions in the United States and/or elsewhere or globally, such as the general negative performance of the real estate sector (including as a result of inflation or higher interest rates), market volatility, trade conflict, civil unrest, national and international security events, geopolitical events, military conflicts and war (including conflicts in the Middle East and Ukraine), extreme weather events (including climate change, hurricanes, wild fires, earthquakes or floods) or the spread of infectious illnesses, pandemics or other public health emergencies, could cause our stockholders to seek the repurchase of their shares pursuant to our share repurchase plan at a time when such events are adversely affecting the performance of our assets. Even if we decide to satisfy all resulting repurchase requests, our cash flow and liquidity could be materially adversely affected, and we may incur additional leverage. In addition, if we determine to sell assets to satisfy repurchase requests, we may not be able to realize the return on such assets that we may have been able to achieve had we sold at a more favorable time, and our results of operations and financial condition, including, without limitation, breadth of our portfolio by property type and location, could be materially adversely affected.

In addition, stockholders have and may continue to seek to repurchase some or all of the shares of our common stock that they hold. A significant volume of repurchase requests in a given period has in the past and may in the future cause requests to exceed the 2% monthly and 5% quarterly limits under our share repurchase plan, resulting in less than the full amount of repurchase requests being satisfied in such period.

We face risks associated with the deployment of our capital.

In light of the nature of our continuous public offering as well as ongoing and periodic private offerings in relation to our investment strategy and the need to be able to deploy potentially large amounts of capital quickly to capitalize on potential investment opportunities, if we have difficulty identifying and purchasing suitable investments on attractive terms, there could be a delay between the time we receive net proceeds from the sale of shares of our common stock in this offering or any private offering and the time we invest the net proceeds. We may also from time to time hold cash pending deployment into investments or have less than our targeted leverage, which cash or shortfall in target leverage may at times be significant, particularly at times when we are receiving high amounts of offering proceeds and/or times when there are few attractive investment opportunities. Such cash may be held in an account for the benefit of our stockholders that may be invested in money market accounts or other similar temporary investments, each of which is subject to management fees.

In the event we are unable to find suitable investments such cash may be maintained for longer periods which would be dilutive to overall investment returns. This could cause a substantial delay in the time it takes for your investment to realize its full potential return and could adversely affect our ability to pay regular distributions of cash flow from operations to you. It is not anticipated that the temporary investment of such cash into money market accounts or other similar temporary investments pending deployment into investments will generate significant interest, and investors should understand that such low interest payments on the temporarily invested cash may adversely affect overall returns. In the event we fail to timely invest the net proceeds of sales of our common stock or do not deploy sufficient capital to meet our targeted leverage, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

If we are unable to successfully integrate new investments and manage our growth, our results of operations and financial condition may suffer.

We have in the past and may in the future significantly increase the size and/or change the types of investments in our portfolio. We may be unable to successfully and efficiently integrate newly acquired investments into our existing portfolio or otherwise effectively manage our assets or growth. In addition, increases in the size of our investment portfolio and/or changes in our investment focus may place significant demands on our Adviser's administrative, operational, asset management, financial and other resources which could lead to decreased efficiency. Any failure to effectively manage such growth or increase in scale could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

The amount and source of distributions we may make to our stockholders is uncertain, and we may be unable to generate sufficient cash flows from our operations to make distributions to our stockholders at any time in the future.

We have not established a minimum distribution payment level, and our ability to make distributions to our stockholders may be adversely affected by a number of factors, including the risk factors described in this prospectus. We may not generate sufficient income to make distributions to our stockholders. Our board of directors (or a committee of our board of directors) will make determinations regarding distributions based upon, among other factors, our financial performance, debt service obligations, debt covenants, REIT qualification and tax requirements and capital expenditure requirements. Among the factors that could impair our ability to make distributions to our stockholders are:

- our inability to invest the proceeds from sales of our shares on a timely basis in income-generating properties;
- our inability to realize attractive risk-adjusted returns on our investments;
- high levels of repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan for a prolonged period of time, which could lead to the disposition of investments to generate liquidity to satisfy repurchase requests;
- high levels of expenses or reduced revenues that reduce our cash flow or non-cash earnings; and
- defaults in our investment portfolio or decreases in the value of our investments.

As a result, we may not be able to make distributions to our stockholders at any time in the future, and the level of any distributions we do make to our stockholders may not increase or even be maintained over time, any of which could materially and adversely affect the value of your investment.

We may pay distributions from sources other than our cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses, and we have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources.

We may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations to fully fund distributions to stockholders. Therefore, we may fund distributions to our stockholders from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses. The extent to which we fund distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations will depend on various factors, including the level of participation in our distribution reinvestment plan, the extent to which the Adviser elects to receive its management fee in shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units and the Special Limited Partner elects to receive distributions on its performance participation allocation in Operating Partnership units, how quickly we invest the proceeds from this and any future offering and the performance of our investments, including our real estate debt portfolio. Funding distributions from borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses will result in us having less funds available to acquire properties or other real estate-related investments. As a result, the return you realize on your investment may be reduced. Doing so may also negatively impact our ability to generate cash flows. Likewise, funding distributions from the sale of additional securities will dilute your interest in us on a percentage basis and may impact the value of your investment especially if we sell these securities at prices less than the price you paid for your shares. We may be required to continue to fund our regular distributions from a combination of some of these sources if our investments fail to perform, if expenses are greater than our revenues or due to numerous other factors. We cannot predict when, if ever, distribution payments sourced from borrowings and from proceeds may occur, and an extended period of such payments would likely be unsustainable. We have not established a limit on the amount of our distributions that may be funded from any of these sources.

To the extent we borrow funds to pay distributions, we would incur borrowing costs and these borrowings would require a future repayment. The use of these sources for distributions and the ultimate repayment of any liabilities incurred could adversely impact our ability to pay distributions in future periods, decrease our NAV, decrease the amount of cash we have available for operations and new investments and adversely impact the value of your investment.

We may also defer operating expenses or pay expenses (including the fees of the Adviser or distributions to the Special Limited Partner) with shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units in order to preserve cash flow for the payment of distributions. The ultimate repayment of these deferred expenses could adversely affect our operations and reduce the future return on your investment. We may repurchase shares or redeem Operating Partnership units from the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner shortly after issuing such shares or Operating Partnership units as compensation. The payment of expenses in shares of our common stock or with Operating Partnership units will dilute your ownership interest in our portfolio of assets. There is no guarantee any of our operating expenses will be deferred and the Adviser and Special Limited Partner are under no obligation to receive future fees or distributions in shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units and may elect to receive such amounts in cash.

Payments to the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner in the form of common stock or Operating Partnership units they elect to receive in lieu of fees or distributions will dilute future cash available for distribution to our stockholders.

The Adviser or the Special Limited Partner may choose to receive, and have in the past received, shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units in lieu of certain fees or distributions. The holders of all Operating Partnership units are entitled to receive cash from operations pro rata with the distributions being paid to us and such distributions to the holder of the Operating Partnership units will reduce the cash available for distribution to us and to our stockholders. Furthermore, under certain circumstances the Operating Partnership units held by the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner are required to be repurchased, in cash at the holder's election, and there may not be sufficient cash to make such a repurchase payment; therefore, we may need to use cash from operations, borrowings, offering proceeds or other sources to make the payment, which will reduce cash available for distribution to you or for investment in our operations. The Special Limited Partner may receive such distributions of Operating Partnership units related to its performance participation allocation quarterly, and the frequency of repurchases of Operating Partnership units from the Special Limited Partner may increase compared to prior periods in which such distributions were payable to the Special Limited Partner on an annual basis. Although the Special Limited Partner is required to pay a Quarterly Shortfall Obligation (as defined below) with respect to Operating Partnership units received in connection with distributions of Quarterly Allocations (as defined below), there is no guarantee this Quarterly Shortfall Obligation will adequately offset the dilutive impacts on us. Repurchases of our shares or Operating Partnership units from the Adviser paid to the Adviser as a management fee are not subject to our share repurchase plan, including with respect to any repurchase limits, the Early Repurchase Deduction, or the calculation of NAV, and such repurchases may receive priority over other shares submitted for repurchase during such period. The amount of Operating Partnership units issued to the Special Limited Partner may be significant, particularly during periods in which the value of our real estate portfolio appreciates, resulting in higher performance participation allocation. Repurchases of our shares or Operating Partnership units from the Special Limited Partner distributed to the Special Limited Partner with respect to its performance participation interest are not subject to the Early Repurchase Deduction, but such repurchases are subject to the monthly and quarterly volume limitations and do not receive priority over other shares submitted for repurchase during such period. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Adviser or its affiliates acquired as payment of the management fee or performance participation allocation will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended.

Purchases and repurchases of shares of our common stock are not made based on the current NAV per share of our common stock.

Generally, our offering price per share and the price at which we make repurchases of our shares will equal the NAV per share of the applicable class as of the last calendar day of the prior month, plus, in the case of our offering price, applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. The NAV per share, if calculated as of the date on which you make your subscription request or repurchase request, may be significantly different than the transaction price you pay or the repurchase price you receive. Certain of our investments or liabilities are subject to high levels of volatility from time to time and could change in value significantly between the end of the prior month as of which our NAV is determined and the date that you acquire or repurchase our shares, however the prior month's NAV per share will generally continue to be used as the transaction price per share and repurchase price per share. In exceptional circumstances, we may in our sole discretion, but are not obligated to, offer and repurchase shares at a different price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share, including by updating a previously disclosed transaction price, in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month and we believe an updated price is appropriate. In such exceptional cases, the transaction price and the repurchase price will not equal our NAV per share as of any time.

Valuations and appraisals of our real estate and real estate debt are estimates of fair value and may not necessarily correspond to realizable value.

For the purposes of calculating our monthly NAV, our properties will generally initially be valued at cost, which we expect to represent fair value at that time. The Adviser will then value our properties monthly, based on current material market data and other information deemed relevant, with review for reasonableness each month by an independent valuation advisor. Each property will be valued by an independent third-party appraisal firm annually. Annual appraisals may be delayed for a short period in exceptional circumstances. Concurrent with the appraisal process, the Adviser will value each property and, taking into account the appraisal, among other factors, will determine the appropriate valuation within the range provided by the independent third-party appraisal firm.

Investments in real estate debt and other securities with readily available market quotations will be valued monthly at fair market value. Certain investments, such as mortgages, mezzanine loans, preferred equity or private company investments, are unlikely to have market quotations. In the case of loans acquired by us, such initial value will generally be the acquisition price of such loan. In the case of loans originated by us, such initial value will generally be the par value of such loan. Each such investment will then be valued by the Adviser within the first three full months after we invest in such investment and no less than quarterly thereafter. Additionally, the Adviser may in its discretion consider material market data and other information that becomes available after the end of the applicable month in valuing our assets and liabilities and calculating our NAV for a particular month. For more information regarding our valuation process, see "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines."

Although monthly valuations of each of our real properties will be reviewed for reasonableness by an independent valuation advisor, such reviews are based on asset- and portfolio-level information provided by the Adviser, including historical operating revenues and expenses of the properties, lease agreements on the properties, revenues and expenses of the properties, information regarding recent or planned capital expenditures and any other information relevant to valuing the real property, which information will not be independently verified by the independent valuation advisor. Similarly, each month, the independent valuation advisor will review for reasonableness our quarterly valuations (and our monthly updates of such valuations) of our real estate debt and other securities for which market quotations are not readily available.

However, such valuations are based on information provided by the Adviser, which information will not be verified by the independent valuation advisor. While the independent valuation advisor is responsible for reviewing our property and certain real estate debt and other securities valuations as set forth in our valuation guidelines, the independent valuation advisor is not responsible for, and does not calculate, our NAV, and the Adviser is ultimately and solely responsible for the determination of our NAV.

Within the parameters of our valuation guidelines, the valuation methodologies used to value our properties and certain of our investments will involve subjective judgments and projections and may not be accurate. Valuation methodologies will also involve assumptions and opinions about future events, which may or may not turn out to be correct. Valuations and appraisals of our properties and other investments will be only estimates of fair value. Ultimate realization of the value of an asset depends to a great extent on economic, market and other conditions beyond our control and the control of the Adviser and the independent valuation advisor. Further, valuations do not necessarily represent the price at which an asset would sell, since market prices of assets can only be determined by negotiation between a willing buyer and seller. As such, the carrying value of an asset may not reflect the price at which the asset could be sold in the market, and the difference between carrying value and the ultimate sales price could be material. In addition, accurate valuations are more difficult to obtain in times of low transaction volume because there are fewer market transactions that can be considered in the context of the appraisal. There will be no retroactive adjustment in the valuation of such assets, the offering price of our shares of common stock, the price we paid to repurchase shares of our common stock or NAV-based fees we paid to the Adviser and the Dealer Manager, an affiliate of the Adviser, to the extent such valuations prove to not accurately reflect the realizable value of our assets. Because the price you will pay for shares of our common stock in this offering, and the price at which your shares may be repurchased by us pursuant to our share repurchase plan are generally based on our prior month's NAV per share, you may pay more than realizable value or receive less than realizable value for your investment. To the extent the price at which purchases and repurchases of our shares is different from the realizable value of our assets on the date of purchase and repurchase, current stockholders may experience economic dilution with respect to their ownership interest in us.

Our NAV per share amounts may change materially if the appraised values of our properties materially change from prior appraisals or the actual operating results for a particular month differ from what we originally budgeted for that month.

We anticipate that the annual appraisals of our properties will be conducted on a rolling basis, such that properties may be appraised at different times but each property would be appraised at least once per year. In addition, all of our single family rental housing properties will be appraised at the same time on an annual basis. When these appraisals are considered by the Adviser for purposes of valuing the relevant property, there may be a material change in our NAV per share amounts for each class of our common stock from those previously reported. These changes in a property's value may be as a result of property-specific events or as a result of more general changes to real estate values resulting from local, national or global economic changes. In addition, actual operating results for a given month may differ from what we originally budgeted for that month, which may cause a material increase or decrease in the NAV per share amounts. We will not retroactively adjust the NAV per share of each class reported for the previous month. Therefore, because a new annual appraisal may differ materially from the prior appraisal or the actual results from operations may be better or worse than what we previously budgeted for a particular month, the adjustment to take into consideration the new appraisal or actual operating results may cause the NAV per share for each class of our common stock to increase or decrease, and such increase or decrease will occur in the month the adjustment is made.

It may be difficult to reflect, fully and accurately, material events that may impact our monthly NAV.

The Adviser's determination of our monthly NAV per share will be based in part on appraisals of each of our properties provided annually by independent third-party appraisal firms and quarterly valuations of our real estate debt and other securities for which market prices are not readily available provided by the Adviser and reviewed by an independent valuation advisor, each in accordance with valuation guidelines approved by our board of directors. As a result, our published NAV per share in any given month may not fully reflect any or all changes in value that may have occurred since the most recent appraisal or valuation. The Adviser will review appraisal reports and monitor our real estate and real estate debt, and is responsible for notifying the applicable independent valuation advisor of the occurrence of any property-specific or market-driven event it believes may cause a material valuation change in the real estate valuation, but it may be difficult to reflect fully and accurately rapidly changing market conditions or material events that may impact the value of our real estate and real estate debt or liabilities between valuations, or to obtain complete information regarding any such events in a timely manner. For example, an unexpected termination or renewal of a material lease, a material increase or decrease in vacancies or an unanticipated structural or environmental event at a property may cause the value of a property to change materially, yet obtaining sufficient relevant information after the occurrence has come to light and/or analyzing fully the financial impact of such an event may be difficult to do and may require some time. As a result, the NAV per share may not reflect a material event until such time as sufficient information is available and analyzed, and the financial impact is fully evaluated, such that our NAV may be appropriately adjusted in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Depending on the circumstance, the resulting potential disparity in our NAV may be in favor or to the detriment of either stockholders who repurchase their shares, or stockholders who buy new shares, or existing stockholders.

NAV calculations are not governed by governmental or independent securities, financial or accounting rules or standards.

The methods used by our Adviser and State Street or its affiliates to calculate our monthly NAV, including the components used in calculating our NAV, are not prescribed by rules of the SEC or any other regulatory agency. Further, there are no accounting rules or standards that prescribe which components should be used in calculating our NAV, and our NAV is not audited by our independent registered public accounting firm. We calculate and publish NAV monthly solely for purposes of establishing the price at which we sell and repurchase shares of our common stock on a monthly basis, and you should not view our monthly NAV, on its own, as a measure of our historical or future financial condition or performance. The components and methodology used in calculating our NAV may differ from those used by other companies now or in the future.

In addition, calculations of our NAV, to the extent that they incorporate valuations of our assets and liabilities, are not prepared in accordance with GAAP. These valuations may differ from liquidation values that could be realized in the event that we were forced to sell assets.

Additionally, errors may occur in calculating our NAV, which could impact the price at which we sell and repurchase shares of our common stock and the amount of the Adviser's management fee and the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation. The Adviser has implemented certain policies and procedures to address such errors in NAV calculations. If such errors were to occur, the Adviser, depending on the circumstances surrounding each error and the extent of any impact the error has on the price at which shares of our common stock were sold or repurchased or on the amount of the Adviser's management fee or the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation, may determine in its sole discretion to take certain corrective actions in response to such errors, including, subject to Blackstone's policies and procedures, making adjustments to prior NAV calculations. You should carefully review the disclosure of our valuation policies and how NAV will be calculated under "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines."

Our board of directors may, in the future, adopt certain measures under Maryland law without stockholder approval that may have the effect of making it less likely that a stockholder would receive a "control premium" for his or her shares.

Corporations incorporated under Maryland law with a class of equity securities registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and at least three independent directors are permitted to elect to be subject, by a charter or bylaw provision or a resolution of its board of directors and notwithstanding any contrary charter or bylaw provision, to any or all of five provisions:

- staggering the board of directors into three classes;
- requiring a two-thirds vote of stockholders to remove directors;
- providing that only the board of directors can fix the size of the board;
- providing that all vacancies on the board, regardless of how the vacancy was created, may be filled only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors in office and for the remainder of the full term of the class of directors in which the vacancy occurred; and
- providing for a majority requirement for the calling by stockholders of a special meeting of stockholders.

These provisions may discourage an extraordinary transaction, such as a merger, tender offer or sale of all or substantially all of our assets, all of which might provide a premium price for stockholders' shares. In our charter, we have elected that vacancies on our board of directors be filled only by the remaining directors and for the remainder of the full term of the directorship in which the vacancy occurred. Through other provisions in our charter and bylaws, we vest in our board of directors the exclusive power to fix the number of directorships, provided that the number is not less than three nor more than 15. We have not elected to be subject to any of the other provisions described above, but our charter does not prohibit our board of directors from opting into any of these provisions in the future.

Further, under the Maryland Business Combination Act, we may not engage in any merger or other business combination with an "interested stockholder" (which is defined as (1) any person who beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of the voting power of our outstanding voting stock or (2) an affiliate or associate of ours who, at any time within the two-year period prior to the date in question, was the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of 10% or more of the voting power of our then outstanding stock) or any affiliate of that interested stockholder for a period of five years after the most recent date on which the interested stockholder became an interested stockholder. A person is not an interested stockholder if our board of directors approved in advance the transaction by which such stockholder would otherwise have become an interested stockholder. In approving a transaction, our board of directors may provide that its approval is subject to compliance, at or after the time of approval, with any terms or conditions determined by our board of directors. After the five-year period ends, any merger or other business combination with the interested stockholder or any affiliate of the interested stockholder must be recommended by our board of directors and approved by the affirmative vote of at least:

- 80% of all votes entitled to be cast by holders of outstanding shares of our voting stock; and
- two-thirds of all of the votes entitled to be cast by holders of outstanding shares of our voting stock other than those shares owned or held by the interested stockholder with whom or with whose affiliate the business combination is to be effected or held by an affiliate or associate of the interested stockholder.

These supermajority voting provisions do not apply if, among other things, our stockholders receive a minimum price (as defined in the Maryland General Corporation Law (the "MGCL")) for their common stock and the consideration is received in cash or in the same form as previously paid by the interested stockholder.

The statute permits various exemptions from its provisions, including business combinations that are exempted by our board of directors prior to the time the interested stockholder becomes an interested stockholder. Our board of directors has adopted a resolution exempting any business combination involving us and any person, including Blackstone, the Dealer Manager and the Adviser, from the provisions of this law, provided that such business combination is first approved by our board of directors.

Our charter permits our board of directors to authorize us to issue preferred stock on terms that may subordinate the rights of the holders of our current common stock or discourage a third party from acquiring us.

Our board of directors is permitted, subject to certain restrictions set forth in our charter, to authorize the issuance of shares of preferred stock without stockholder approval. Further, our board of directors may classify or reclassify any unissued shares of common or preferred stock into other classes or series of stock and establish the preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends and other distributions, qualifications, and terms or conditions of redemption of the stock and may amend our charter from time to time to increase or decrease the aggregate number of shares or the number of shares of any class or series that we have authority to issue without stockholder approval. Thus, our board of directors could authorize us to issue shares of preferred stock with terms and conditions that could subordinate the rights of the holders of our common stock or have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change in control of us, including an extraordinary transaction such as a merger, tender offer or sale of all or substantially all of our assets, that might provide a premium price for holders of our common stock.

Maryland law limits, in some cases, the ability of a third party to vote shares acquired in a "control share acquisition."

The Maryland Control Share Acquisition Act provides that "control shares" of a Maryland corporation acquired in a "control share acquisition" have no voting rights except to the extent approved by stockholders by a vote of two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter. Shares of stock owned by the acquirer, by officers or by employees who are directors of the corporation are excluded from shares entitled to vote on the matter. "Control shares" are voting shares of stock which, if aggregated with all other shares of stock owned by the acquirer or in respect of which the acquirer can exercise or direct the exercise of voting power (except solely by virtue of a revocable proxy), would entitle the acquirer to exercise voting power in electing directors within specified ranges of voting power. Control shares do not include shares the acquiring person is then entitled to vote as a result of having previously obtained stockholder approval or shares acquired directly from the corporation. A "control share acquisition" means the acquisition of issued and outstanding control shares, subject to certain exceptions. The control share acquisition statute does not apply: (1) to shares acquired in a merger, consolidation or statutory share exchange if the Maryland corporation is a party to the transaction; or (2) to acquisitions approved or exempted by the charter or bylaws of the Maryland corporation. Our bylaws contain a provision exempting from the Maryland Control Share Acquisition Act any and all acquisitions of our stock by any person. There can be no assurance that this provision will not be amended or eliminated at any time in the future. For a more detailed discussion on the Maryland laws governing control share acquisitions, see "Certain Provisions of Maryland Law and Our Charter and Bylaws—Control Share Acquisitions."

Maryland law and our organizational documents limit our rights and the rights of our stockholders to recover claims against our directors and officers, which could reduce your and our recovery against them if they cause us to incur losses.

Maryland law provides that a director will not have any liability as a director so long as he or she performs his or her duties in accordance with the applicable standard of conduct. In addition, our charter generally limits the personal liability of our directors and officers for monetary damages subject to certain limitations of the North American Securities Administrators Association's Statement of Policy Regarding Real Estate Investment Trusts, as revised and adopted on May 7, 2007 and amended on September 7, 2025 (the "NASAA REIT Guidelines") and Maryland law. Maryland law and our charter provide that no director or officer shall be liable to us or our stockholders for monetary damages unless the director or officer (1) actually received an improper benefit or profit in money, property or services or (2) was actively and deliberately dishonest as established by a final judgment as material to the cause of action. Moreover, our charter generally requires us to indemnify and advance expenses to our directors and officers for losses they may incur by reason of their service in those capacities unless their act or omission was material to the matter giving rise to the proceeding and was committed in bad faith or was the result of active and deliberate dishonesty, they actually received an improper personal benefit in money, property or services or, in the case of any criminal proceeding, they had reasonable cause to believe the act or omission was unlawful. Further, we have entered into separate indemnification agreements with each of our officers and directors. As a result, you and we may have more limited rights against our directors or officers than might otherwise exist under common law, which could reduce your and our recovery from these persons if they act in a manner that causes us to incur losses. In addition, we are obligated to fund the defense costs incurred by these persons in some cases. However, our charter provides that we may not indemnify our directors or officers, or the Adviser and its affiliates, for any liability or loss suffered by them or hold our directors or officers, the Adviser and its affiliates harmless for any liability or loss suffered by us, unless they have determined, in good faith, that the course of conduct that caused the loss or liability was in our best interests, they were acting on our behalf or performing services for us, the liability or loss was not the result of negligence or misconduct by our non-independent directors, the Adviser and its affiliates, or gross negligence or willful misconduct by our independent directors, and the indemnification or agreement to hold harmless is recoverable only out of our net assets and not from the stockholders. See "Management—Limited Liability and Indemnification of Directors, Officers, the Adviser and Other Agents."

Maryland law limits our stockholders' ability to amend our charter or dissolve us without the approval of our board of directors.

Although the NASAA REIT Guidelines indicate that stockholders are permitted to amend our charter or terminate us without the necessity for concurrence by our board of directors, we are required to comply with the MGCL, which provides that any amendment to our charter or any dissolution of our company must first be declared advisable by our board of directors. Therefore, our stockholders may vote to authorize the amendment of our charter or the dissolution of our company, but only after such action has been declared advisable by our board of directors. Accordingly, the only proposals to amend our charter or to dissolve our company that will be presented to our stockholders will be those that have been declared advisable by our board of directors and also require approval by our stockholders.

Your interest in us will be diluted if we issue additional shares. Your interest in our assets will also be diluted if the Operating Partnership issues additional units.

Holders of our common stock will not have preemptive rights to any shares we issue in the future. Our charter authorizes us to issue up to 17,400,000,000 shares of capital stock, of which 17,300,000,000 shares are classified as common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of which 500,000,000 shares are classified as Class T shares, 400,000,000 shares are classified as Class T-2 shares, 3,000,000,000 shares are classified as Class S shares, 2,500,000,000 shares are classified as Class S-2 shares, 1,500,000,000 shares are classified as Class D shares, 1,400,000,000 shares are classified as Class D-2 shares, 6,000,000,000 shares are classified as Class I shares, 500,000,000 shares are classified as Class C shares, 500,000,000 shares are classified as Class F shares, 500,000,000 shares are classified as Class L shares, 500,000,000 shares are classified as Class L-2 shares and 100,000,000 shares are classified as preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share. We have also issued shares in private offerings and Operating Partnership units to holders other than us and made equity grants to our independent directors, employees of our consolidated subsidiaries and service providers, and expect to make more such issuances in the future. In addition, our board of directors may amend our charter from time to time to increase or decrease the aggregate number of authorized shares of capital stock or the number of authorized shares of capital stock of any class or series without stockholder approval. Our board of directors may elect, without stockholder approval, to: (1) sell additional shares in this or future public offerings; (2) issue shares of our common stock or units in our Operating Partnership in private offerings; (3) issue shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units upon the exercise of the options we may grant to our independent directors or future employees; (4) issue shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units to the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner, or their successors or assigns, in payment of an outstanding obligation to pay fees for services rendered to us or the performance participation allocation; (5) issue shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units to sellers of properties we acquire, or (6) issue equity incentive compensation to certain employees of our portfolio companies, other portfolio company service providers owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, or to third parties as satisfaction of obligations under incentive compensation arrangements. To the extent we issue additional shares of common stock after your purchase in this offering, your percentage ownership interest in us will be diluted. Because we hold all of our assets through the Operating Partnership, to the extent we issue additional units of our Operating Partnership after you purchase shares in this offering, your percentage ownership interest in our assets will be diluted. Because certain classes of the units of our Operating Partnership may, in the discretion of our board of directors, be exchanged for shares of our common stock, any merger, exchange or conversion between our Operating Partnership and another entity ultimately could result in the issuance of a substantial number of shares of our common stock, thereby diluting the percentage ownership interest of other stockholders. Because of these and other reasons, our stockholders may experience substantial dilution in their percentage ownership of our shares or their interests in the underlying assets held by our Operating Partnership. Operating Partnership units may have different and preferential rights to the claims of common units of our Operating Partnership which correspond to the common stock held by our stockholders. Certain units in our Operating Partnership may have different and preferential rights to the terms of the common Operating Partnership units which correspond to the common stock held by our stockholders.

We are not required to comply with certain reporting requirements, including those relating to auditor's attestation reports on the effectiveness of our system of internal control over financial reporting, accounting standards and disclosure about our executive compensation, that apply to other public companies.

So long as our shares of common stock are not traded on a securities exchange, we will be deemed to be a "non-accelerated filer" under the Exchange Act, and as a non-accelerated filer, we will be exempt from compliance with the auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. In addition, so long as we are externally managed by the Adviser and we do not directly compensate our executive officers, or reimburse the Adviser or its affiliates for salaries, bonuses, benefits and severance payments for persons who also serve as one of our executive officers or as an executive officer of the Adviser, we do not have any executive compensation.

Our UPREIT structure may result in potential conflicts of interest with limited partners in our Operating Partnership whose interests may not be aligned with those of our stockholders.

Our directors and officers have duties to our corporation and our stockholders under Maryland law and our charter in connection with their management of the corporation. At the same time, we, as general partner, have fiduciary duties under Delaware law to our Operating Partnership and to the limited partners in connection with the management of our Operating Partnership. Our duties as general partner of our Operating Partnership and its partners may come into conflict with the duties of our directors and officers to the corporation and our stockholders. Under Delaware law, a general partner of a Delaware limited partnership owes its limited partners the duties of good faith and fair dealing. Other duties, including fiduciary duties, may be modified or eliminated in the partnership's partnership agreement. The partnership agreement of our Operating Partnership provides that, for so long as we own a controlling interest in our Operating Partnership, any conflict that cannot be resolved in a manner not adverse to either our stockholders or the limited partners may be resolved in favor of our stockholders.

Additionally, the partnership agreement expressly limits our liability by providing that we and our officers, directors, agents and employees will not be liable or accountable to our Operating Partnership for losses sustained, liabilities incurred or benefits not derived if we or our officers, directors, agents or employees acted in good faith. In addition, our Operating Partnership is required to indemnify us and our officers, directors, employees, agents and designees to the extent permitted by applicable law from and against any and all claims arising from operations of our Operating Partnership, unless it is established that: (1) the act or omission was material to the matter giving rise to the proceeding and either was committed in bad faith or was the result of active and deliberate dishonesty; (2) the indemnified party received an improper personal benefit in money, property or services; or (3) in the case of a criminal proceeding, the indemnified person had reasonable cause to believe that the act or omission was unlawful.

The provisions of Delaware law that allow the fiduciary duties of a general partner to be modified by a partnership agreement have not been tested in a court of law, and we have not obtained an opinion of counsel covering the provisions set forth in the partnership agreement that purport to waive or restrict our fiduciary duties.

Your investment return may be reduced if we are required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

We intend to continue to conduct our operations so that neither we, nor our Operating Partnership nor the subsidiaries of our Operating Partnership are investment companies under the Investment Company Act. However, there can be no assurance that we and our subsidiaries will be able to successfully avoid operating as an investment company. See "Prospectus Summary—Are there any Investment Company Act of 1940 considerations?"

A change in the value of any of our assets could negatively affect our ability to maintain our exclusion from regulation under the Investment Company Act. To maintain compliance with the applicable exclusion under the Investment Company Act, we may be unable to sell assets we would otherwise want to sell and may need to sell assets we would otherwise wish to retain. In addition, we may have to acquire additional assets that we might not otherwise have acquired or may have to forego opportunities to acquire assets that we would otherwise want to acquire and would be important to our investment strategy.

If we were required to register as an investment company but failed to do so, we would become subject to substantial regulation with respect to our capital structure (including our ability to use borrowings), management, operations, transactions with affiliated persons (as defined in the Investment Company Act), and portfolio composition, including disclosure requirements and restrictions with respect to diversification and industry concentration, and other matters. Compliance with the Investment Company Act would, accordingly, limit our ability to make certain investments and require us to significantly restructure our business plan, which could materially adversely affect our NAV and our ability to pay distributions to our stockholders.

We depend on the Adviser and its affiliates to develop appropriate systems and procedures to control operational risk.

We depend on the Adviser and its affiliates to develop the appropriate systems and procedures to control operational risk. Operational risks arising from mistakes made in the confirmation or settlement of transactions, from transactions not being properly booked, evaluated or accounted for or other similar disruption in our operations may cause us to suffer financial losses, the disruption of our business, liability to third parties, regulatory intervention or damage to our reputation. We rely heavily on the Adviser's financial, accounting, treasury, communications and other data processing systems. The ability of our Adviser's systems to accommodate transactions could also constrain our ability to properly manage our portfolio. Generally, the Adviser will not be liable to us for losses incurred due to the occurrence of any such errors.

We are subject to the risk that our trading orders may not be executed in a timely and efficient manner due to various circumstances, including, without limitation, systems failure or human error. As a result, we could be unable to achieve the market position selected by the Adviser or might incur a loss in liquidating our positions. Since some of the markets in which we may effect transactions are over-the-counter or interdealer markets, the participants in such markets are typically not subject to credit evaluation or regulatory oversight comparable to that which members of exchange-based markets are subject. We are also exposed to the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms and conditions, thereby causing us to suffer a loss.

Cybersecurity risks and data protection could result in the loss of data, interruptions in our business and damage to our reputation, and subject us to regulatory actions, increased costs and financial losses, each of which could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Cybersecurity incidents, cyber-attacks, denial of service attacks, ransomware attacks, and social engineering attempts (including business email compromise attacks) have been occurring globally at a more frequent and severe level and will likely continue to increase in frequency in the future. There have been a number of recent highly publicized cases involving the dissemination, theft and destruction of corporate information or other assets, as a result of a failure to follow procedures by employees or contractors or as a result of actions by a variety of third parties, including nation state actors and terrorist or criminal organizations. We, Blackstone, the portfolio companies, their service providers and other market participants increasingly depend on complex information technology and communications systems to conduct business functions, and their operations rely on the secure access to, and processing, storage and transmission of confidential and other information in their systems and those of their respective third-party service providers. These information, technology and communications systems are subject to a number of different threats or risks that could adversely affect Blackstone, us, our stockholders and the portfolio companies. For example, the information and technology systems of Blackstone, us, its portfolio companies and other related parties, such as service providers, may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from cyber security breaches, computer viruses or other malicious code, ransomware attacks, network failures, computer and digital infrastructure failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and other security breaches or usage errors by their respective professionals or service providers, power outages or catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, earthquakes, wars and terrorist attacks. Third parties may also attempt to fraudulently induce employees, customers, third-party service providers or other users of Blackstone's, ours, the portfolio companies', or their respective service providers' systems to disclose sensitive information in order to gain access to Blackstone's, ours or the portfolio companies' data or that of the stockholders. There also have been several publicized cases where hackers have requested ransom payments in exchange for not disclosing client or customer information or restoring access to information technology, communications systems or digital infrastructure (and any information contained therein), pipelines and other infrastructure assets. The U.S. federal government has issued public warnings that indicate that such infrastructure assets might be specific targets of "cyber sabotage" events, which illustrates the particularly heightened risk for us and its portfolio companies from such events.

If unauthorized parties gain access to any information and technology systems of Blackstone, ours, portfolio companies or certain service providers, they may be able to steal, publish, delete or modify private and sensitive information, including non-public personal information related to stockholders (and their beneficial owners) and material non-public information. Although Blackstone has implemented, and portfolio companies and service providers may implement, various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, such systems could prove to be inadequate and, if compromised, could become inoperable for extended periods of time, cease to function properly or fail to adequately secure private information. Blackstone does not control the cyber security plans and systems put in place by third-party service providers, and such third-party service providers may have limited indemnification obligations to Blackstone, us or our portfolio companies, each of which could be negatively impacted as a result. Breaches such as those involving covertly introduced malware, impersonation of authorized users and industrial or other espionage may not be identified even with sophisticated prevention and detection systems, potentially resulting in further harm and preventing them from being addressed appropriately. The failure of these systems or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in Blackstone's, its affiliates', our and a portfolio entity's operations and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to stockholders (and their beneficial owners), material non-public information and the intellectual property and trade secrets and other sensitive information in the possession of Blackstone and portfolio companies. Blackstone, we or a portfolio entity could be required to make a significant investment to remedy the effects of any such failures, harm to their reputations, legal claims that they and their respective affiliates may be subjected to, regulatory action or enforcement arising out of applicable privacy and other laws, adverse publicity, other events that may affect their business and financial performance.

Cybersecurity and data protection risks could result in the loss of data, interruptions in Blackstone's business, and damage to its reputation, and subject Blackstone to regulatory actions, increased costs and financial losses, each of which could have a material adverse effect on Blackstone's business and results of operations. Blackstone's operations are highly dependent on its technology platforms, and Blackstone relies heavily on its analytical, financial, accounting, communications and other data processing systems. Blackstone's systems face ongoing cybersecurity threats and attacks, which could result in the loss of confidentiality, integrity or availability of such systems and the data held by such systems. Attacks on Blackstone's systems could involve, and in some instances have in the past involved, attempts intended to obtain unauthorized access to Blackstone's, our or Other Blackstone Accounts' and their underlying investors' proprietary information, destroy data or disable, degrade or sabotage Blackstone's systems, or divert or otherwise steal funds, including through the introduction of computer viruses, "phishing" attempts and other forms of social engineering. Attacks on Blackstone's systems could also involve ransomware or other forms of cyber extortion. Cyberattacks and other data security threats could originate from a wide variety of external sources, including cyber criminals, nation state hackers, hacktivists and other outside parties. Cyberattacks and other security threats could also originate from the malicious or accidental acts of insiders, such as employees, consultants, independent contractors or other service providers. Cyberattacks could also be employed against our, the Adviser's and/or Blackstone's various stakeholders or other third parties, including by impersonating us, the Adviser, Blackstone, or their employees, which could cause similar security impacts to our, the Adviser's and/or Blackstone's stakeholders and other third parties and materially and adversely impact the Adviser, Blackstone, us, or Other Blackstone Accounts.

There has been an increase in the frequency and sophistication of the cyber and data security threats Blackstone faces, with attacks ranging from those common to businesses generally to those that are more advanced and persistent. In addition, the risk from cyber and data security threats to us is exacerbated with the advancement of artificial intelligence, which malicious third parties are using to create new, more sophisticated and more persistent types of attacks. Perpetrators of cyberattacks could target Blackstone because, as an alternative asset management firm, Blackstone faces a heightened risk of such an attack because Blackstone holds a significant amount of confidential and sensitive information about us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio companies, potential investments and investors. As a result, Blackstone could face a heightened risk of a security breach or disruption with respect to this information. There can be no assurance that measures Blackstone takes to ensure the integrity of its systems will provide adequate protection, especially because cyberattack techniques are continually evolving and it is possible cyberattacks will persist undetected over extended periods of time and/or will not be mitigated in a timely manner to prevent or minimize the impact of an attack on Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio companies, potential investments or investors. If Blackstone's systems or those of third-party service providers are compromised either as a result of malicious activity or through inadvertent transmittal or other loss of data, do not operate properly or are disabled, or Blackstone fails to provide the appropriate regulatory or other notifications in a timely manner, Blackstone could suffer financial loss, increased costs, a disruption of Blackstone's businesses, liability to Blackstone's counterparties, us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective investors, regulatory intervention or reputational damage. The costs related to cyber or other data security threats or disruptions may not be fully insured or indemnified by other means.

In addition, Blackstone could also suffer losses in connection with updates to, or the failure to timely update, the third-party technology platforms on which it relies. Blackstone is reliant on third-party service providers for certain aspects of its business, including for the administration of us and certain Other Blackstone Accounts, as well as for certain technology platforms, including cloud-based services. These third-party service providers also face ongoing cybersecurity threats and compromises of their systems, and as a result, as a result, unauthorized individuals could gain, and in some past instances have gained, access to certain confidential data through third-party service providers.

Cybersecurity and data protection have become top priorities for regulators in the United States and around the world, and rapidly developing and changing privacy, data protection and cybersecurity laws and regulations could further increase compliance costs and subject us, the Adviser, Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts, and/or their portfolio companies to enforcement risk and reputational damage. Many jurisdictions in which Blackstone and the portfolio companies operate have laws and regulations relating to privacy, data protection and cybersecurity, including, the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act ("GLBA") (including recent amendments to Regulation S-P), the General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR"), the U.K. Data Protection Act and the California Privacy Rights Act ("CPRA"). As an example, the U.S. Department of Justice's final rule on Preventing Access to Americans' Bulk Sensitive Personal Data and United States Government-Related Data by Countries of Concern took effect in April 2025. This rule prohibits or restricts U.S. persons from knowingly directing or engaging in defined classes of transactions that allow persons in countries of concern or those otherwise deemed a "covered person" access to enumerated categories of sensitive data, specifically bulk U.S. sensitive personal data and U.S. government-related data. As an example, the U.S. Department of Justice's final rule on Preventing Access to Americans' Bulk Sensitive Personal Data and United States Government-Related Data by Countries of Concern took effect in April 2025. This rule prohibits or restricts U.S. persons from knowingly directing or engaging in defined classes of transactions that allow persons in countries of concern or those otherwise deemed a "covered person" access to enumerated categories of sensitive data, specifically bulk U.S. sensitive personal data and U.S. government-related data. Some jurisdictions have also enacted or proposed laws requiring companies to notify individuals and/or government agencies of data security breaches involving certain types of personal data.

Breaches in Blackstone's security or in the security of third-party service providers, whether malicious in nature or through inadvertent transmittal or other loss of data, could potentially jeopardize Blackstone's, its employees', our, Other Blackstone Accounts', portfolio companies' or their respective investors' or counterparties' confidential, proprietary and other information processed and stored in, and transmitted through, Blackstone's computer systems and networks or that of Blackstone's third-party service providers. Breaches could also cause interruptions or malfunctions in Blackstone's, its employees', our, Other Blackstone Accounts', portfolio companies', their respective investors' or counterparties' or third parties' business and operations. Any such breaches could therefore result in significant financial losses, increased costs, liability to our and Other Blackstone Accounts' investors and other counterparties, regulatory intervention and reputational damage. Furthermore, if Blackstone fails to comply with the relevant laws and regulations or fails to provide the appropriate regulatory or other notifications of breach in a timely manner, it could result in regulatory investigations and penalties, which could lead to negative publicity and reputational harm and could cause our and Other Blackstone Accounts' investors and clients to lose confidence in the effectiveness of Blackstone's security measures and Blackstone more generally.

Our and Other Blackstone Accounts' portfolio companies also rely on data processing systems and the secure processing, storage and transmission of information, including payment and health information, which in some instances are provided by third parties. A disruption or compromise of these systems could have a material adverse effect on the value of these businesses. Certain Other Blackstone Accounts could invest in strategic assets having a national or regional profile or in digital or other infrastructure, the nature of which could expose them to a greater risk of being subject to a terrorist attack or a security breach than other assets or businesses. Such an event could have material adverse consequences on Blackstone's investment or assets of the same type or could require portfolio companies to increase preventative security measures or expand insurance coverage.

Finally, our and Other Blackstone Accounts' portfolio companies' technology platforms, data and intellectual property are also subject to a heightened risk of theft or compromise as a result of operations outside the United States, in particular in those jurisdictions that do not have comparable levels of protection of proprietary information and assets such as intellectual property, trademarks, trade secrets, know-how and customer information and records. In addition, Blackstone and our and Other Blackstone Accounts' portfolio companies could be required to compromise protections or forego rights to technology, data and intellectual property in order to operate in or access markets in a foreign jurisdiction. Any such direct or indirect compromise of these assets could have a material adverse impact on Blackstone and our and Other Blackstone Accounts' portfolio companies.

We may experience risk related to the use of artificial intelligence.

Ongoing technological developments in artificial intelligence, including machine learning technology and generative artificial intelligence based on large language models such as ChatGPT and DeepSeek ("AI Technology" and, collectively, "AI Technologies"), pose risks to the Adviser, us and the portfolio companies (including portfolio companies of ours and Other Blackstone Accounts expected to provide services to us, portfolio companies, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or the Adviser). Any of these technological innovations could result in harm to the Adviser, us or our portfolio entities, significantly disrupt the business models, investment strategies, operational processes, revenue streams and markets in which we operate and subject us and them to increased competition, which could materially and adversely affect their business, financial condition and operations, and have an adverse impact on us. The legal and regulatory frameworks within which AI Technologies operate continue to rapidly evolve, and it is not possible to predict the full extent of current or future risks related thereto. In addition, there can be no assurance that competitors will not be more successful than Blackstone, the Adviser, and/or the Company in the development and implementation of new technologies, including services and platforms based on AI Technologies, to address investor demands, and/or improve operations or financial conditions. If Blackstone, the Adviser, the Company, and/or our portfolio entities are unable to adequately advance their capabilities in these areas, or do so at a slower pace than others in their industries, Blackstone, the Adviser, the Company and/or our portfolio entities could be at a competitive disadvantage.

Through the use of AI Technologies, the Adviser, we and certain of the portfolio companies expect to avail themselves of the benefits, insights and efficiencies resulting from the technology, including writing code, data summarization and valuation support. However, whilst the Adviser has implemented, and portfolio companies may implement, certain policies and procedures designed to ensure that their use of AI Technologies is lawful and appropriate, the use of AI Technologies presents a number of risks that cannot be fully mitigated. For example, AI Technologies are highly reliant on the collection and analysis of large amounts of data and complex algorithms, but it is not possible or practicable to incorporate all relevant data into models that AI Technologies utilize to operate. Moreover, with the use of AI Technologies, there exists, in some cases, a lack of transparency of how inputs are converted to outputs and neither the Adviser nor any portfolio entity can necessarily fully validate this process and its accuracy. The accuracy of such inputs and the resulting impact on the results of AI Technologies cannot always be verified and could result in a diminished quality of work product that includes or is derived from inaccurate or erroneous information. Further, undetected and unmitigated inherent bias in the construction of AI Technologies can lead to a wide array of risks including but not limited to accuracy, efficacy, regulatory risk and reputational harm. It is also expected that data used in such models will contain a degree of inaccuracy and error, and potentially to a material extent, and that such data as well as algorithms in use could otherwise be inadequate or flawed, which would be likely to degrade the effectiveness of AI Technologies and could adversely impact the Adviser, us or portfolio companies and investments to the extent they rely on the work product of such AI Technologies. At the same time, to the extent AI Technologies are utilized by the Adviser, any interruption of access to or use of AI Technologies could impede the ability of the Adviser, us and portfolio companies to generate information and analysis that could be beneficial to them and their business, financial condition and results of operations. AI Technologies will likely also be competitive with certain business activities or increase the obsolescence of certain organizations' products or services (including other AI Technologies), particularly as AI Technologies improve. This could also have an adverse impact on portfolio companies, the Adviser and us.

AI Technologies can also be misused or misappropriated by third parties and/or employees of the Adviser or portfolio companies. For example, there is a risk that a user will input confidential information, including material non-public information, or personal information, into AI Technologies applications, resulting in such information becoming part of a dataset that is accessible by other third-party AI Technologies applications and users, including competitors of the Adviser, us and our portfolio companies. Moreover, the Adviser, we and portfolio companies will not necessarily be in a position to control the manner in which third-party AI Technologies are developed or maintained or the manner in which third parties use AI Technologies to provide services, even where they have sought contractual protections. The use of AI Technologies, including potential inadvertent disclosure of confidential information or personal information of the Adviser, us or portfolio companies, could also lead to legal and regulatory investigations and enforcement actions. Further, the use of AI Technologies could result in claims by third parties of infringement, misappropriation, or other violations of intellectual property, including based on the use of large datasets to train AI Technologies, or the use of output generated by AI Technologies, either of which could contain or be substantially similar to third party material with intellectual property rights, including patents, copyrights or trademarks. Relatedly, the Adviser, we and our portfolio companies could be exposed to risks to the extent third-party service providers or any counterparties use AI Technologies in their business activities.

The Adviser expects to be involved in the collection of data and/or development of proprietary AI Technologies for Blackstone, the Adviser, us, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or their portfolio companies in the ordinary course, including, without limitation, as part of operational services provided to us and portfolio companies or our affiliates. To this end, and subject to any legal requirements, we can be expected to pay and bear certain expenses and fees associated with developing and maintaining such technology, including the costs of any professional service providers, subscriptions and related software and hardware, server infrastructure and hosting, and internal Blackstone expenses, fees, charges and/or related costs incurred, charged or specifically attributed or allocated (based on methodologies determined by Blackstone) to us, the Adviser or their affiliates in connection with such AI Technologies, and none of the fees, costs or expenses described above will reduce or offset the management fee.

There is a risk that, in connection with the use and development of AI Technologies, Blackstone, the Adviser, the Company, Other Blackstone Accounts, and their respective portfolio entities could be subject to regulatory scrutiny, inquiries, or legal proceedings, including those involving alleged anticompetitive practices and the use and sharing of competitively sensitive data and information. Such regulatory actions may result in, among other things, business restrictions (including on the future use of certain AI Technologies and for certain specific purposes), increased compliance costs, reputational harm, and other adverse effects on the value and performance of portfolio entities. Regulations related to AI Technologies could also impose certain obligations on us, and the costs of monitoring and responding to such regulations, as well as the consequences of non-compliance, could have an adverse effect on Blackstone, the Adviser, us and portfolio companies. Regulators are increasing scrutiny and considering, and in some cases, enacting regulation of the use of AI Technologies, including the use of "big data," diligence of data sets and oversight of data vendors. The use of AI Technologies by Blackstone and others may require compliance with legal and regulatory frameworks that are not fully developed or tested, and Blackstone, the Adviser, the Company and portfolio companies may face litigation and regulatory actions related to our use of AI Technologies. For example, the EU has introduced the EU AI Act. The EU AI Act entered into force on August 1, 2024, and its requirements became effective on a staggered basis, beginning February 2, 2025. The EU AI Act imposes material requirements on both the providers and deployers of AI Technologies, with infringement punishable by sanctions of up to 7% of annual worldwide turnover or EUR 35 million (whichever is higher) for the most serious breaches. In parallel, the EU has introduced revisions to the EU Product Liability Directive, which entered into force on December 9, 2024, and intends to facilitate claims for damages brought by EU users of AI Technologies. Preparing for and complying with the EU AI Act and other regulations related to AI Technologies could involve material compliance costs and/or adversely affect the operations or results of Blackstone, the Adviser, and portfolio entities, and have an adverse impact on us.

AI Technologies and their current and potential future applications, including in the private investment and financial sectors, as well as the legal and regulatory frameworks within which they operate, continue to rapidly evolve, and it is not possible to predict the full extent of current or future risks related thereto.

For more information on risks relating to information security, see also "Cybersecurity risks and data protection could result in the loss of data, interruptions in our business and damage to our reputation, and subject us to regulatory actions, increased costs and financial losses, each of which could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations" herein.

We may experience risks related to the use of social media and publicity platforms.

The use of social networks, message boards, internet channels and other platforms has become widespread in the United States and globally. As a result, individuals now have the ability to rapidly and broadly disseminate information or misinformation without independent or authoritative verification. Any such information or misinformation regarding Blackstone, the Adviser, us or our portfolio entities could have adverse effects on us and/or our investments.

We may experience risks related to developing global data security and privacy laws.

Blackstone, we, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities are subject to various risks and costs associated with the collection, storage, transmission and other processing personal data. This personal data is wide ranging and relates to Blackstone's investors, employees, contractors and other counterparties and third parties.

Blackstone's data security and privacy compliance obligations impose significant compliance costs on Blackstone, which could increase significantly as laws and regulations evolve globally. Blackstone's compliance obligations include those relating to U.S. laws and regulations, including, without limitation, state regulations such as the CPRA, which provides for enhanced consumer protections for California residents, a private right of action for data breaches and statutory fines and damages for data breaches or other California Consumer Privacy Act violations, as well as a requirement of "reasonable" cybersecurity. At the U.S. federal level, the SEC adopted changes to Regulation S-P, which took effect on December 3, 2025. The amendments to Regulation S-P require SEC-registered investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investment companies to adopt an incident response program that governs their response to any unauthorized access of customer information and which must include certain breach notification procedures with respect to affected individuals. The amendments impose vendor oversight requirements and operationally challenging notification requirements and deadlines, leading to a likely increase in associated compliance costs, some or all of which could be allocated to us.

Blackstone's compliance obligations also include those relating to foreign data collection and privacy laws and information and communication technology risk management, including, for example, the GDPR, U.K. Data Protection Act, and DORA, as well as laws in many other jurisdictions globally, including Switzerland, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, India, China, Australia, Canada and Brazil. Global laws in this area are rapidly increasing in the scale and depth of their requirements, and are also often extra-territorial in nature. In addition, a wide range of regulators and private actors are seeking to enforce these laws across regions and borders. Furthermore, Blackstone frequently has privacy compliance requirements as a result of Blackstone's contractual obligations with counterparties. These legal, regulatory and contractual obligations heighten Blackstone's data protection and privacy obligations in the ordinary course of conducting Blackstone's business in the U.S. and internationally.

Any inability, or perceived inability, by Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts or their respective portfolio entities to adequately address data protection or privacy concerns, or comply with applicable laws, regulations, policies, industry standards and guidance, contractual obligations, or other legal obligations, even if unfounded, could result in significant legal, regulatory and third party liability, increased costs, disruption of Blackstone's, ours, Other Blackstone Accounts' or their respective portfolio entities' business and operations, and a loss of client (including investor) confidence and other reputational damage. In addition, any such inability or perceived inability of portfolio entities or service providers, even if unfounded, could result in reputational damage to Blackstone. Many regulators have indicated an intention to take more aggressive enforcement actions regarding security and data privacy matters, and private litigation resulting from such matters is increasing and resulting in progressively larger judgments and settlements. For example, the stated 2026 examination priorities of the SEC Division of Examinations include a focus on investment advisers' policies, procedures, and practices relating to the prevention of interruptions to mission-critical services and protection of investor information records and assets. Furthermore, as new data protection and privacy-related laws and regulations are implemented, the time and resources needed for Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities to comply with such laws and regulations continues to increase and become a significant compliance workstream.

Compliance with the SEC's Regulation Best Interest by participating broker-dealers may negatively impact our ability to raise capital in this offering, which could harm our ability to achieve our investment objectives.

Broker-dealers are required to comply with Regulation Best Interest, which, among other requirements, establishes a new standard of conduct for broker-dealers and their associated persons when making a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities to a retail customer. The full impact of Regulation Best Interest on participating broker-dealers cannot be determined at this time, and it may negatively impact whether participating broker-dealers and their associated persons recommend this offering to certain retail customers. In particular, under SEC guidance concerning Regulation Best Interest, a broker-dealer recommending an investment in our shares should consider a number of factors under the care obligation of Regulation Best Interest, including but not limited to cost and complexity of the investment and reasonably available alternatives in determining whether there is a reasonable basis for the recommendation. As a result, high cost, high risk and complex products may be subject to greater scrutiny by broker-dealers. Broker-dealers may recommend a more costly or complex product as long as they have a reasonable basis to believe is in the best interest of a particular retail customer. However, if broker-dealers choose alternatives to our shares, many of which likely exist, such as an investment in listed entities, which may be a reasonable alternative to an investment in us as such investments may feature characteristics like lower cost, nominal commissions at the time of initial purchase, less complexity and lesser or different risks, our ability to raise capital will be adversely affected. If Regulation Best Interest reduces our ability to raise capital in this offering, it may harm our ability to achieve our objectives.

The DST Program could subject us to liabilities from litigation or otherwise.

Our DST Program raises capital in private placements exempt from registration under the Securities Act through the sale of beneficial interests to "accredited investors" in specific Delaware statutory trusts holding DST Properties. We expect that the DST Program will give us the opportunity to expand and diversify our capital-raising strategies by offering what we believe to be an attractive investment product for investors that may be seeking replacement properties to complete like-kind exchange transactions under Section 1031 of the Code. However, there is no guarantee that the DST Program will provide the tax benefits expected by investors. Investors who acquire beneficial interests through such private placements may be seeking certain tax benefits that depend on the interpretation of, and compliance with, federal and state income tax laws and regulations. As the general partner of the Operating Partnership, we may become subject to liability, from litigation or otherwise, as a result of the DST Program.

The DST Program will not shield us from risks related to the performance of the DST Properties held through such structures.

Under the DST Program, certain of our existing real properties and real properties acquired from third parties are expected to be placed into Delaware statutory trusts, the beneficial interests of which will be sold to investors. We will hold long-term leasehold interests in each DST Property under a master lease, which will be fully guaranteed by the Operating Partnership. Under each master lease we will be responsible for subleasing the DST Property to occupying tenants until the earlier of the expiration of the master lease or the Operating Partnership's exercise of the FMV Option, which means that we bear the risk that the underlying cash flow from a DST Property may be less than the master lease payments. Therefore, even though we will no longer own the DST Property, because of the fixed terms of the master lease guaranteed by our Operating Partnership, negative performance by the DST Property could affect cash available for distributions to our stockholders and would likely have an adverse effect on our results of operations. In addition, although the Operating Partnership will hold a FMV Option to reacquire each DST Property, the purchase price will be based on the then-current fair market value of the DST Property subject to the master lease. Therefore, we may pay more for the DST Property upon the FMV Option exercise if it appreciates while held by the Delaware statutory trust than if we had not placed such property in the DST Program.

We own beneficial interests in trusts owning DST Properties that will be subject to the agreements under our DST Program, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations, relative to if the DST Program agreements did not exist.

In connection with our DST Program, we own and may continue to own, through our taxable REIT subsidiary, beneficial interests in Delaware statutory trusts owning DST Properties that are subject to the terms of the agreements provided by our DST Program. The DST Program agreements may limit our ability to encumber, lease or dispose of our beneficial interests. Such agreements could affect our ability to turn our beneficial interests into cash and could affect cash available for distributions to our stockholders. The DST Program agreements, and in some cases the financing documents, used in connection with the DST Program could also impair our ability to take actions that would otherwise be in the best interests of our stockholders and, therefore, may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and NAV, relative to if the DST Program agreements did not exist.

Certain tax considerations may impact our ability to generate cash that could be used for other purposes if DST Properties reacquired by the Operating Partnership are subsequently sold.

DST Properties may be reacquired by the Operating Partnership through the exercise of the FMV Option. In such cases, the investors who become limited partners in the Operating Partnership will generally still recognize the contributed built-in gain in the applicable DST Property if it is subsequently sold, unless we effectuate a like-kind exchange under Section 1031 of the Code. Although we are not contractually obligated to do so, we intend to consider executing 1031 exchanges in such situations. The built-in gain in any replacement property acquired in connection with a 1031 exchange will similarly be tied to such investors with similar considerations if such replacement property is ever sold. As a result, the sale of reacquired DST Properties (or corresponding replacement properties) may not generate cash that could be used for other purposes.

Cash payments to redeem Operating Partnership units will reduce cash available for distribution to our stockholders or to honor their repurchase requests under our share repurchase program.

Following a one-year holding period, the holders of Operating Partnership units generally have the right to cause the Operating Partnership to redeem all or a portion of their Operating Partnership units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both. An election to redeem Operating Partnership units for cash may reduce funds available for distribution to our stockholders or to honor our stockholders' repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan.

Certain funds and accounts may invest in us and may at times have substantial investments in us.

Because certain funds and accounts may have substantial investments in us, we may experience large repurchases or investments due to transactions in shares of our common stock by these large shareholders, or similarly managed accounts. While it is impossible to predict the overall effect of these transactions over time, there could be an adverse impact on our performance. In the event of such repurchases or investments, we could be required to sell securities or to invest cash at a time when it may not otherwise desire to do so. Such transactions may increase our brokerage and/or other transaction costs and affect the liquidity of our portfolio. In addition, when other investors own a substantial portion of shares of our common stock, a large repurchase by such an investor could (i) cause us to exceed the repurchase limits under our share repurchase plan, resulting in the repurchase of shares of our common stock on a pro rata basis, (ii) lead to an increase in our actual expenses, or (iii) result in our current expenses being allocated over a smaller asset base. Repurchases could also force us to sell our assets and accelerate the realization of taxable capital gains if sales of securities result in capital gains. The impact of these transactions is likely to be greater when the significant investor purchases, repurchases, or owns a substantial portion of shares of our common stock. Amounts of shares of our common stock submitted for repurchase may vary materially over time, and investors will not have visibility into the number of shares of our common stock repurchased in any given month. Because of this, if an investor submits a repurchase request for shares of our common stock in a month which is over our limits, they could become subject to some or all of the negative effects set forth above without notice.

When possible, the Adviser will consider how to minimize these potential adverse effects, and may take such actions as they deem appropriate to address potential adverse effects, including by carrying out the transactions over a period of time, although there can be no assurance that such actions will be successful. A high volume of repurchase requests can impact us the same way as the transactions of a single stockholder with substantial investments. As an additional safeguard, the significant investor may manage the placement of their repurchase requests in a manner designed to minimize the impact of such requests on our day-to-day operations. This may involve, for example, requesting repurchases of share of our common stock gradually over time.

Risks Related to Investments in Real Estate

Our operating results will be affected by risks inherent in the ownership and operation of real estate and real estate-related businesses and assets.

We are subject to risks generally attributable to the ownership and operation of real estate and real estate-related businesses and assets, including:

- changes in global, national, regional or local economic, demographic or capital market conditions, including economic impacts resulting from trade conflict, civil unrest, national and international security events, geopolitical events, military conflicts, war (including conflicts in the Middle East and Ukraine) and actual or perceived instability in the U.S. banking system;
- future adverse national real estate trends, including increasing vacancy rates, declining rental rates, decreases in asset values, changes in the appeal of assets to tenants and general deterioration of market conditions;
- adverse economic conditions as a result of an epidemic, pandemic or other health-related issues in one or more markets where we own property;
- changes in supply of or demand for similar properties in a given market or metropolitan area (as a result, for instance, of overbuilding), which could result in rising vacancy rates or decreasing market rental rates;
- vacancies, fluctuations in the average occupancy and room rates for hotel properties or inability to lease space on favorable terms;
- increased competition for properties targeted by our investment strategy;
- casualty or condemnation losses, energy and supply shortages, various uninsured or uninsurable risks, natural disasters;
- bankruptcies, financial difficulties or lease defaults by our tenants, particularly for our tenants with net leases for large properties;
- increases in interest rates, lack of availability of financing and inflation; and
- changes in government rules, regulations and fiscal policies, including increases in property taxes, changes in zoning laws, limitations on rents, and increasing costs to comply with environmental laws.

All of these factors are beyond our control. Any negative changes in these factors could affect our performance and our ability to meet our obligations and make distributions to stockholders. There may also be sector-specific risks applicable to investments in real estate beyond those enumerated above, including sectors we do not currently invest in. In addition, in acquiring an asset or stock, we may agree to lock-out provisions that materially restrict it from selling that asset or stock for a period of time or that impose other restrictions, such as a limitation on the amount of debt that can be placed on that asset. There can be no assurance that there will be a ready market for the resale of investments. Illiquidity may result from the absence of an established market for investments or a disruption in the market.

Our success is dependent on general market and economic conditions.

The real estate industry generally, and our investment activities in particular, are affected by general economic and market conditions, as well as a number of other economic factors that are likewise outside of the Adviser's control, such as interest rates, availability and spreads of credit, credit defaults, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, research and development spending on drug discovery, changes in tax, currency control and other applicable laws and regulations (including laws and rates relating to the taxation of our investments), trade barriers, general economic and market conditions and activity (such as consumer spending patterns), technological developments and national and international political, environmental and socioeconomic circumstances (including wars, terrorist acts or security operations) and foreign ownership restrictions. Market disruptions in a single country could cause a worsening of conditions on a regional and even global level. General fluctuations in the market prices of securities and interest rates or worsening of general economic and market conditions would likely affect the level and volatility of securities prices and the liquidity of our investments, which could impair our profitability, result in losses and impact investment returns and limit our ability to satisfy repurchase requests. The Adviser's financial condition may be adversely affected by a significant general economic downturn and it may be subject to legal, regulatory, reputational and other unforeseen risks that could have a material adverse effect on the Adviser's business and operations and thereby could impact us.

Volatility in the global financial markets and political systems of certain countries may have adverse spill-over effects into the global financial markets generally and U.S. markets in particular. A depression, recession, slowdown and/or sustained slowdown in the global economy or one or more regional real estate markets (or any particular segment thereof), a weakening of credit markets (including a perceived increase in counterparty default risk) or an adverse development in prevailing market trends would have a pronounced impact on the Adviser, us and our investments (which would likely be exacerbated by the presence of leverage in a particular investment's capital structure), impede the ability of our investments to perform under or refinance their existing obligations and could adversely affect their profitability and creditworthiness and our ability to effectively consummate and exit investments successfully and on favorable terms, execute on our business plans, satisfy existing obligations and repurchases, and may have an adverse impact on the availability of credit to businesses generally, including impairing our ability to make and realize investments successfully and originate or refinance credit or draw on existing financings and commitments which in turn may have an adverse impact on our business and operations. Material uncertainty exists in the global banking markets, and there can be no assurance that other banks (including banks with which Blackstone, we or our portfolio entities have business relationships) will not suffer adverse effects. Any of the foregoing events could result in substantial or total losses to us in respect of certain investments, which losses will likely be exacerbated by the presence of leverage in a particular investment's capital structure. Blackstone itself could also be affected by difficult conditions in the capital markets and any overall weakening of the financial services industry in particular or of the U.S. and/or global economies generally.

Declines or volatility in financial markets, including the securities and derivatives markets, would adversely affect the value of our investments. A significant market fluctuation often decreases tolerance for counterparty risks, which can negatively impact financial institutions, even causing their failure as occurred in the most recent global economic downturn. We and our portfolio entities are expected to regularly seek to obtain new debt and refinance existing debt, including in the liquid debt markets, and significant declines in pricing of debt securities or increases in interest rates, or other disruptions in the credit markets, would make it difficult to carry on normal financing activities, such as obtaining committed debt financing for acquisitions, bridge financings or permanent financings. Tightening of loan underwriting standards, which often occurs during market disruptions, can have a negative impact including through reduction of permitted leverage levels and increased requirements for borrower quality. Our ability to generate attractive investment returns will be adversely affected by any worsening of financing terms and availability.

Geopolitical concerns and other global events outside of our control have contributed and may continue to contribute to volatile global equity and debt markets. These concerns and events include, without limitation, trade conflict, civil unrest, threats to national security, and national and international security events (including armed conflicts, terrorist attacks or other hostilities). Geopolitical instability has been prevalent in recent years, including due to, among other things, trade tensions resulting from U.S. tariff implementation and retaliatory tariffs by other countries and ongoing armed conflicts, including in Ukraine and the Middle East. With respect to geopolitical conflicts, as economies and financial markets worldwide vacillate between interconnectedness and a focus on protecting respective national interests, the likelihood increases that geopolitical conflicts in one country or region will adversely impact markets or issuers in other countries or regions, including in ways that are difficult to predict or foresee. The impacts of these conflicts or related events can be exacerbated by failures of governments and societies to respond adequately to a geopolitical conflict and subsequent emerging events or threats. For example, local or regional armed conflicts have led to significant sanctions by the U.S., the U.K. and the European Union (the "EU"), and other countries and international bodies against certain countries and persons and companies connected with certain countries. Such armed conflicts and sanctions and other local or regional developments can exacerbate global supply and pricing issues, particularly those related to oil and gas, and result in other adverse developments and circumstances, as well as increased general uncertainty, for markets, economies, issuers, businesses, and societies both globally and in specific jurisdictions. Although these types of conflicts have occurred in the past and could also occur in the future, it is difficult to predict when similar conflicts affecting the U.S. or global financial markets and economies will occur, the effects of such events or conditions, potential retaliations in response to sanctions or similar actions, and the duration or ultimate impact of any such conflicts. Any such conflicts, including but not limited to those identified below, could have a significant adverse impact on the operations, risk profile, and our value, with or without direct exposure to the specific geographies, markets, countries or persons involved in an armed conflict or that are or become subject to sanctions.

- Russian Invasion of Ukraine/Sanctions. On February 24, 2022, Russian troops began a full-scale invasion of Ukraine and, as of the date of this prospectus, the countries remain in active armed conflict. Since the invasion, the U.S., the U.K., the EU, and several other nations have from time to time announced a broad array of new or expanded sanctions, export controls, and other measures against Russia, Russia-backed separatist regions in Ukraine, and certain banks, companies, government officials, oligarchs and other individuals in Russia and Belarus.

- Middle East Conflicts. There has been an ongoing armed conflict in the Middle East involving Israel, Iran, Hamas, and the United States and which has, at one point or another, involved Lebanon (and/or Hezbollah), Syria, and/or other countries or terrorist organizations. On October 7th, 2023, Hamas (an organization which has governed Gaza, and which has been designated as a terrorist organization by the United States, the UK, the EU, Australia and other nations), committed a terrorist attack within Israel (the "October 7th Attacks"). Israel responded by initiating a full-scale invasion of Gaza, and the United States increased sanctions and other restrictive measures against Hamas-related persons and organizations. While Israel and Hamas agreed to a United States-led peace plan on October 9, 2025, there is no guarantee that the peace plan will be maintained or implemented or that hostilities will not resume. More recently, Israel, together with the United States, conducted a major joint military campaign targeting Iran, which triggered a broad Iranian response that has impacted various countries in the region and has contributed to significant regional instability. The situation in Iran remains dynamic and highly unpredictable in terms of its duration, scope, and intensity, and it has adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, global economic and market conditions. The continued conflict in Iran, and more broadly in the Middle East, as well as any further expansion thereof could exacerbate the risks described above.

- Venezuela. In January 2026, the United States undertook military actions in Venezuela against senior Venezuelan officials and publicly indicated its intent to support a political transition and reclamation of natural resources.

The aforementioned ongoing conflicts and the measures taken in response (which continue to evolve) have had and could be expected to continue to have a negative impact on the economy and business activity globally (including in the countries in which the we invest and/or in which a portfolio entity operates), and therefore could adversely affect the performance of our investments. The severity and duration of the conflicts and their future impact on global economic and market conditions (including, for example, oil prices) are impossible to predict, and as a result, present material uncertainty and risk with respect to us, the performance of our investments, portfolio entity operations, and our ability to achieve our investment objectives. Similar risks will exist to the extent that any portfolio entities, service providers, and vendors of Blackstone, us and any portfolio entities or certain other parties have material operations or assets in the countries where such conflicts are taking place or in the surrounding areas. Other geopolitical conflicts could arise in the future and such conflicts could have material adverse consequences on Blackstone, us and our investments.

We face risks associated with epidemics and pandemics.

Certain countries have been susceptible to epidemics including those that can be designated as pandemics by world health authorities, most recently a novel and highly contagious form of coronavirus ("COVID-19"). The outbreak of such epidemics or pandemics, together with any resulting restrictions on travel or quarantines imposed, has had and could continue to have a negative impact on the economy and business activity globally (including in the countries in which we invest and in which portfolio entities operate), and therefore can be expected to adversely affect our performance investments. Furthermore, the rapid development of epidemics or pandemics could preclude prediction as to their ultimate adverse impact on economic and market conditions, and, as a result, presents material uncertainty and risk with respect to us and the performance of our investments, portfolio entity operations, and our ability to achieve our investment objectives.

The commercial real estate markets in which we operate are also affected by a number of specific conditions and the performance of the local real estate markets.

In addition to general economic conditions, the commercial real estate markets in which we operate are also affected by a number of specific conditions, such as planning, environmental, leasing, tax and other real estate-related laws and regulations, prevailing rental rates, prospective rental growth, occupancy rates, lease lengths, tenant creditworthiness and solvency, and benchmark investment yields and spreads that apply to commercial real estate. Adverse general economic and market conditions could have a material adverse effect on commercial real estate assets, including by decreasing demand for commercial real estate, reducing rental income, decreasing occupancy rates, causing tenants to terminate leases early or enter bankruptcy proceedings, and decreasing the value of real estate assets generally. Declines in rental income on real estate as a result of negative market conditions would not necessarily be accompanied by a decline in significant expenses associated with holding real estate, such as real estate taxes, utility rates, insurance rates, and renovation and maintenance costs. This mismatch would accentuate the impact of a negative market event.

The success of our investments may depend upon the performance of the local real estate markets where our portfolio entities operate and/or the assets are located. Local real estate markets can decline for any of a number of reasons, including but not limited to, population decline, poor regional economic performance, excess development leading to oversupply, local government policies and heightened taxes. No assurance can be given that the local real estate markets in which we invest or the portfolio entities operate will improve, or remain constant. Market conditions can deteriorate due to factors outside our foresight or control. Actual or perceived trends in real estate markets do not guarantee, predict or forecast future events, which may differ significantly from those implied by such trends.

Trade negotiations and related government actions may create regulatory uncertainty for us and our tenants and adversely affect the profitability of investments.

Some political leaders around the world (including in the U.S. and certain European nations) have been elected on protectionist platforms, fueling doubts about the future of global free trade. The U.S. government, in recent years, has altered its approach to international trade policy, including, in some case by renegotiating, or terminating, certain existing bilateral or multi-lateral trade agreements and treaties with foreign countries, and has made proposals and taken actions related thereto. For example, the U.S. government recently enacted and proposed to enact significant new tariffs. Additionally, President Trump has directed various federal agencies to further evaluate key aspects of U.S. trade policy, and there has been ongoing discussion and commentary regarding potential significant changes to U.S. trade policies, treaties and tariffs, and the administration's statements and actions with respect to tariff-related policies indicate that the situation is dynamic in nature and may shift rapidly over time. Tariffs on goods imported from China took effect in February 2025 and tariffs on goods imported from Canada and Mexico took effect in March 2025.

While the Supreme Court recently issued a decision invalidating certain broad tariffs previously imposed by the Trump administration under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act, it is not yet fully known what the exact impact of this development will be, including what tariffs the Trump administration may impose in the future and its effect on non-U.S. tariff regimes. Some foreign governments, including China, have, in the past, instituted retaliatory tariffs on certain U.S. goods and have indicated a willingness to impose additional tariffs on U.S. products, in the future. Other countries, including Mexico, have imposed or threatened to impose retaliatory tariffs on certain U.S. products. Trade disputes could likewise develop between other countries. Global trade disruption, significant introductions of trade barriers and bilateral trade frictions, including as a result of future trade disputes between countries, together with any future downturns in the global economy resulting therefrom, could adversely affect our financial performance and our portfolio entities. These developments, or the perception that any of them could occur, may have a material adverse effect on global economic conditions and the stability of global financial markets, and may significantly reduce global trade and, in particular, trade between the impacted nations and the U.S.

There remains uncertainty as to the actions that will be taken under the Trump administration with respect to U.S. trade policy, including with Canada, Mexico, Russia, Europe, and China, and while we and the Adviser intend to comply with applicable laws, rapid changes in laws and/or uncertain interpretation and implementation thereof, could affect our and the Adviser's capacity to comply. New trade policy could also create a legal burden for, and negatively impact, us and our portfolio entities, including by increasing costs and requiring us to exit certain investments. Further governmental actions related to the imposition and enforcement of tariffs or other trade barriers or changes to international trade agreements or policies could further increase costs, decrease margins, reduce the competitiveness of products and services offered by current and future portfolio entities, reduce the value of the our investments, and materially adversely affect the revenues and profitability of companies whose businesses rely on the importing of goods into, and the exporting of goods out of, the United States.

While certain countries could agree to trade deals to address disputes with other countries, certain trade disputes could remain unresolved, and those that seem to have already been resolved could possibly be re-opened in the future. Trade disputes between countries and the uncertainty associated with them can be an ongoing source of instability and can potentially result in significant currency fluctuations and/or have other adverse effects on international markets, international trade agreements and/or other existing cross-border cooperation arrangements (whether economic, tax, fiscal, legal, regulatory or otherwise). Certain disputes have had negative economic consequences on U.S. markets, and if trade-related issues persist between the U.S. and China, including as a result of geo-political tensions, and if the trade dispute escalates into a "trade war" between the two countries, there could be additional significant impacts on the industries in which the Company participates and the jurisdiction of its investments, as well as other adverse impacts on its investments.

The Trump administration has further implemented, and signaled its intention to continue to implement significant changes to the size of the federal government and to various other government policies. The ongoing downsizing of the federal government workforce and shutting down or defunding of certain government agencies (or offices thereof), including of federal agencies tasked with protecting investors, along with the changes in U.S. trade policy discussed above, could introduce market instability, reduce investor confidence, and weaken investor protection. For example, substantial reductions in government spending and personnel could negatively affect certain of our portfolio companies or real estate assets that rely on or benefit from government subsidies or contracts, destabilize the U.S. government contracting market, impede portfolio entities' ability to implement their business plans, and impede our ability to achieve expected returns. Moreover, the Trump administration's signaled changes, as well as those already implemented, to government policy with respect to tax, immigration, labor, infrastructure, energy, education, business regulations (including U.S. anti-corruption policies), international relations, and international economic development could create uncertainty and volatility for us and our portfolio companies. In light of these developments, there can be no assurances that political and regulatory conditions will not worsen and/or adversely affect us, our portfolio companies, or their respective financial performance.

We are subject to the requirements of the U.S. Outbound Investment Security Program.

The U.S. Department of the Treasury's Outbound Investment Security Program, which became effective on January 2, 2025, provides for a targeted national security regulatory framework directed at regulating outbound investment from the United States into entities from the People's Republic of China, Hong Kong, and Macau engaged in the semiconductors and microelectronics, quantum information technologies, and artificial intelligence sectors. Codified at 31 C.F.R. § 850.101 et seq, the Outbound Investment Security Program imposes notification requirements and prohibitions for certain categories of transactions involving such entities. Although our primary strategy is to undertake investments in the United States, the Outbound Investment Security Program will result in legal obligations and reporting requirements relating to new investments in such entities and could negatively impact our operations or our ability to make and exit investments, including without limitation by (i) limiting the scope of its investment activities, and (ii) limiting our ability to exit certain investments or the range of exit opportunities. Furthermore, given the program's infancy and its evolving interpretation and implementation, it is unclear how it, and any related future regulations, will be interpreted, amended, and implemented by the U.S. government.

Therefore, while we have developed and implemented policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with the Outbound Investment Security Program, we cannot fully anticipate its scope or guarantee compliance with the rules.

We may be involved in disputes over ownership of land.

In certain jurisdictions, including the United States, title insurance is readily available to cover this risk, though typical exclusions from policies may render them ineffective in certain cases. In jurisdictions where title insurance is not readily available, or where we do not obtain it, we could rely on opinions of title from lawyers or other professionals, which may prove inaccurate. Furthermore, in some jurisdictions, certain social groups may have claims against property that otherwise appears to be properly entitled in the real estate registries, which may encumber title of property acquired by us or our portfolio entities. In other jurisdictions, the real estate registry commonly does not reflect the true holder of the real estate title, which complicates title research and may result in title problems. Finally, in some jurisdictions, a purchase of real property can be attacked as not meeting "true sale" requirements and recharacterized as secured financing in the event the seller becomes insolvent. If any of these events occurs in relation to any of our interests or properties, we could lose value or certain of its rights in relation thereto.

Elevated inflation may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operation*s.

Inflation in the U.S. remains above targeted levels and, despite recent interest rate cuts by the U.S. Federal Reserve, interest rates remain high generally. Other developed economies are similarly experiencing, or have experienced in recent years, higher-than-normal inflation rates. It remains uncertain whether the substantial inflation in the U.S. and other developed economies will be sustained over an extended period of time and how significantly it will impact the U.S. or other economies. Inflation and rapid fluctuations in inflation rates have had in the past, and could in the future have, negative effects on economies and financial markets, especially less developed ones (many of which have historically experienced substantial rates of inflation), including in regions in which we invest. For example, if an investment is unable to increase its revenue in times of higher inflation, its profitability will likely be adversely affected, including, without limitation, as a result of increased operating costs. We and our portfolio entities could have revenues linked to some extent to inflation, including, without limitation, by government regulations and contractual arrangements. Nevertheless, as inflation rises, even if a portfolio entity earns more revenue, it will typically also incur higher expenses. Furthermore, as inflation declines, it is possible that a portfolio entity will not be able to reduce expenses commensurate with any resulting reduction in revenue. Additionally, wages and prices of inputs increase during periods of inflation, which can negatively impact returns on investments. In an attempt to stabilize inflation, certain countries have imposed and could continue to impose wage and price controls or otherwise intervene in the economy, and certain central banks have raised and could continue to raise interest rates.

Past governmental efforts to curb inflation have also involved more drastic economic measures that have had a materially adverse effect on the level of economic activity in the countries where such measures were employed, and similar governmental efforts could be taken in the future to curb inflation and could have similar effects. There can be no assurance that inflation will not become a more serious problem in the future and have a material adverse impact on our returns.

We face risks related to certain developments in the banking sector.

We will maintain funds with one or more banks or other depository institutions ("Banking Institutions"), which include U.S. and non-U.S. Banking Institutions, and we will enter into credit facilities or have other financial relationships with Banking Institutions. The distress, impairment or failure of one or more Banking Institutions with whom we, the Adviser or our portfolio entities transact could inhibit the ability of us or our portfolio entities to access depository accounts or lines of credit at all or in a timely manner. Also, there can be no assurance that such Banking Institutions will honor their obligations or that we or our portfolio entities will be able to secure replacement financing or capabilities at all or on similar terms. In such cases, it is possible that we would be forced to delay or forgo investments when it is not desirable to do so, resulting in lower performance for us. In the event of such a failure of a Banking Institution where we or one or more of our portfolio entities holds depository accounts (including accounts used for depositing principal and interest payments from borrowers on loans owned by us), access to such accounts could be restricted and U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") protection will generally not be available for balances in excess of amounts insured by the FDIC (and similar considerations could apply to Banking Institutions in other jurisdictions not subject to FDIC protection). In such instances, it is possible that we and our affected portfolio entities would not recover such excess, uninsured amounts and instead, would only have an unsecured claim against the Banking Institution and participate pro rata with other unsecured creditors in the residual value of the Banking Institution's assets. The loss of amounts maintained with a Banking Institution or the inability to access such amounts for a period of time, even if ultimately recovered, could be materially adverse to us or our investments. The Adviser will not always be able to identify all potential solvency or stress concerns with respect to a Banking Institution or to transfer assets from one bank to another in a timely manner in the event a Banking Institution comes under stress or fails.

Additionally, there can be no assurances that we or our portfolio entities will establish banking relationships with multiple financial institutions and the Adviser is under no obligation to maintain account balances at or below the relevant insured amounts. We and our portfolio entities are expected to be subject to contractual obligations to maintain all or a portion of their respective assets (including deposits) with a particular Banking Institution (including, without limitation, in connection with a credit facility or other financing transaction). Moreover, the Advisers Act custody rule generally prohibits the Adviser from transferring our funds to an account of the Adviser or its related persons. Circumstances could arise where such a bank shows signs of distress or impairment and Blackstone would need to decide between (1) moving assets to another bank in breach of such contractual obligations or to an account of the Adviser or its related persons in potential violation of the Advisers Act custody rule (thereby exposing us or our portfolio entities to breach of contract liability and/or regulatory risk), on the one hand, and (2) honoring the contractual obligations and adhering to the Advisers Act custody rule but running the risk of losing the assets, on the other hand. Either decision could have a material adverse effect on us or our portfolio entities.

Financial regulatory changes in the United States could adversely affect our business.

The financial services industry continues to be the subject of heightened regulatory scrutiny in the United States. There has been active debate over the appropriate extent of regulation and oversight of investment funds and their managers. We may be adversely affected as a result of new or revised regulations imposed by the SEC or other U.S. governmental regulatory authorities or self-regulatory organizations that supervise the financial markets. We also may be adversely affected by changes in the interpretation or enforcement of existing laws and regulations by these governmental authorities and self-regulatory organizations. Further, new regulations or interpretations of existing laws may result in enhanced disclosure obligations, including with respect to climate change or sustainability matters, which could negatively affect us and materially increase our regulatory burden. Increased regulations generally increase our costs, and we could continue to experience higher costs if new laws require us to spend more time or buy new technology to comply effectively.

Any changes in the regulatory framework applicable to our business, including the changes described above, may impose additional compliance and other costs, increase regulatory investigations of the investment activities of our funds, require the attention of our senior management, affect the manner in which we conduct our business and adversely affect our profitability. The full extent of the impact on us of any new laws, regulations or initiatives that may be proposed is impossible to determine.

We, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager and respective affiliates are subject to regulatory oversight, which could negatively impact our operations, cash flow or financial condition, impose additional costs on us or otherwise adversely affect our business.

Our business and the businesses of the Adviser, the Dealer Manager and their affiliates are subject to extensive regulation, including periodic examinations, inquiries and investigations which may result in examinations, enforcement and other proceedings, by governmental agencies and self-regulatory organizations in the jurisdictions in which we and they operate around the world, including the SEC and various other U.S. federal, state and local agencies. These authorities have regulatory powers dealing with many aspects of financial services, including the authority to grant, and in specific circumstances to cancel, permissions to carry on particular activities.

For example, in October 2022, the SEC initiated a sweep of private equity and other types of investment advisers relating to the retention of certain types of electronic business communications, including text messages, that may be required to be preserved under certain SEC rules. In January 2025, certain Blackstone registered investment advisers entered into a settlement with the SEC to resolve this inquiry, which included a combined civil monetary penalty of $12 million. Blackstone, and not any fund or investors, paid the full amount of these penalties. The Adviser does not believe that the resolution of any of these matters has had or will have a material impact on us.

We, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager and their respective affiliates have received, and may in the future receive, requests for information, inquiries and informal or formal investigations or subpoenas from such regulators from time to time in connection with such inquiries and proceedings and otherwise in the ordinary course of business. These requests could relate to a broad range of matters, including specific practices of our business, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager, our investments or other investments the Adviser or its affiliates make on behalf of their clients, potential conflicts of interest between us and the Adviser, Dealer Manager or their affiliates, or industry wide practices. SEC actions and initiatives can have an adverse effect on our financial results, including as a result of the imposition of a sanction, a limitation on our, Blackstone's or our personnel's activities, or changing our historic practices. Any adverse publicity relating to an investigation, proceeding or imposition of these sanctions could harm our or Blackstone's reputation and have an adverse effect on our future fundraising or operations. The costs of responding to legal or regulatory information requests, any increased reporting, registration and compliance requirements will be borne by us in the form of legal or other expenses, litigation, regulatory proceedings or penalties, may divert the attention of our management, may cause negative publicity that adversely affects investor sentiment, and may place us at a competitive disadvantage, including to the extent that we, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager or any of their respective affiliates are required to disclose sensitive business information or alter business practices.

We are subject to additional risks from our non-U.S. investments.

We have in the past and may in the future invest in real estate located outside of the United States and real estate debt issued in, and/or backed by real estate in, countries outside the United States. Non-U.S. real estate and real estate-related investments involve certain factors not typically associated with investing in real estate and real estate-related investments in the United States, including risks relating to (i) currency exchange matters, including fluctuations in the rate of exchange between the U.S. dollar and the various non-U.S. currencies in which such investments are denominated, and costs associated with conversion of investment principal and income from one currency into another; (ii) differences in conventions relating to documentation, settlement, corporate actions, stakeholder rights and other matters; (iii) differences between U.S. and non-U.S. real estate markets, including potential price volatility in and relative illiquidity of some non-U.S. markets; (iv) the absence of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, practices and disclosure requirements and differences in government supervision and regulation; (v) certain economic, social and political risks, including potential exchange-control regulations, potential restrictions on non-U.S. investment and repatriation of capital, the risks associated with political, economic or social instability, including the risk of sovereign defaults, regulatory change, and the possibility of expropriation or confiscatory taxation or the imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains, other income or gross sale or disposition proceeds, and adverse economic and political developments; (vi) the possible imposition of non-U.S. taxes on income and gains and gross sales or other proceeds recognized with respect to such investments; (vii) differing and potentially less well-developed or well-tested corporate laws regarding stakeholder rights, creditors' rights (including the rights of secured parties), fiduciary duties and the protection of investors; (viii) different laws and regulations including differences in the legal and regulatory environment or enhanced legal and regulatory compliance; (ix) political hostility to investments by foreign investors; (x) war or other hostilities; and (xi) less publicly available information. Furthermore, while we may have the capacity, but not the obligation, to mitigate such additional risks, including through the utilization of certain foreign exchange hedging instruments, there is no guarantee that we will be successful in mitigating such risks and in turn may introduce additional risks and expenses linked to such efforts.

Our portfolio is currently concentrated in certain industries and geographies and may in the future be concentrated in a limited number of industries, geographies or investments.

Our portfolio may be heavily concentrated at any time in only a limited number of industries, geographies or investments, and, as a consequence, our aggregate return may be substantially affected by the unfavorable performance of such investments. Currently, our portfolio is heavily concentrated in rental housing and industrial assets and geographically concentrated in the southern and western regions of the United States, and in particular Atlanta, Georgia, Las Vegas, Nevada and Dallas, Texas. Concentration of our investments in a particular type of asset or geography, our portfolio makes us more susceptible to fluctuations in value resulting from adverse economic or business conditions affecting that particular type of asset or geography. Our concentration in Las Vegas exposes us to risks related to the economic health and other factors unique to that city, which is in turn largely reliant on the gaming and tourism industries. See "—Our investments in real estate associated with gaming facilities will be impacted by the risks associated with the gaming industry." For investments that the Adviser intends to finance (directly or by selling assets), there is a risk that such financing may not be completed, which could result in us holding a larger percentage of our assets in a single investment and asset type than desired. Investors have no assurance as to the degree of diversification in our investments, either by geographic region or asset type.

We may change our investment and operational policies without stockholder consent.

Except for changes to the investment restrictions contained in our charter, which require stockholder consent to amend, we may change our investment and operational policies, including our policies with respect to investments, operations, indebtedness, capitalization and distributions, at any time without the consent of our stockholders, which could result in our making investments that are different from, and possibly riskier or more highly leveraged than, the types of investments described in this prospectus. Our board of directors also approved very broad investment guidelines with which we must comply, but these guidelines provide the Adviser with broad discretion and can be changed by our board of directors. A change in our investment strategy may, among other things, increase our exposure to real estate market fluctuations, default risk and interest rate risk, all of which could materially affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We may have difficulty selling our properties, which may limit our flexibility and ability to pay distributions.

Because real estate investments are relatively illiquid, it could be difficult for us to promptly sell one or more of our properties on favorable terms or at all. Additionally, we have in the past and may in the future agree to lock-out or other provisions when we acquire a property that materially restrict us from selling such property or our interest in such property for a period of time. This may limit our ability to change our portfolio quickly in response to adverse changes in the performance of any such property or economic or market trends or to create liquidity to satisfy repurchase requests or maintain distribution levels. In addition, U.S. federal tax laws that impose a 100% excise tax on gains from sales of dealer property by a REIT (generally, property held for sale, rather than investment) could limit our ability to sell properties and may affect our ability to sell properties without adversely affecting returns to our stockholders. These restrictions could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We face risks associated with property acquisitions.

We acquire properties and portfolios of properties, including large portfolios that could result in changes to our capital structure. Our acquisition activities and their success are subject to the following risks:

- we may be unable to complete an acquisition after making a non-refundable deposit or guarantee and incurring certain other acquisition-related costs;
- we may be unable to obtain financing for acquisitions on commercially reasonable terms or at all;
- acquired properties may fail to perform as expected;
- acquired properties may be located in new markets in which we may face risks associated with a lack of market knowledge or understanding of the local economy, lack of business relationships in the area and unfamiliarity with local governmental and permitting procedures; and

- we may be unable to quickly and efficiently integrate new acquisitions, particularly acquisitions of portfolios of properties, into our existing operations.

In addition, while we will invest primarily in stabilized, income-generating real estate, we may also acquire assets that require some amount of capital investment in order to be renovated or repositioned. These investments are generally subject to higher risk of loss than investments in stabilized real estate and there is no guarantee that any renovation or repositioning will be successful, or that the actual costs will not be greater than our estimates.

We face risks associated with privatization of state-owned assets.

We may invest in state-owned enterprises or assets that have been or will be transferred from government to private ownership. It is impossible to predict whether any further privatizations will take place or what the terms or effects of such privatizations may be. There can be no assurance that any privatizations will be undertaken or, if undertaken, will be successfully completed or completed on favorable terms. There can also be no assurance that, if a privatization is undertaken on a private placement basis, we will have the opportunity to participate in the investing consortium. Furthermore, if we have the opportunity to participate in a privatization, it is possible the privatization could be re-examined subsequently by local or international regulatory bodies, exposing us to criticism or investigation. Investors should be aware that changes in governments or economic factors could result in a change in a country's policies on privatization. Should these policies change in the future, it is possible that governments may determine to return projects and companies to state ownership. In such a situation, the level of compensation that would be provided to the owners of the private companies concerned cannot be accurately predicted, but could be substantially less than the amount invested in such companies.

The sale and disposition of real properties carry certain litigation risks at the property level that may reduce our profitability and the return on your investment.

The acquisition, ownership and disposition of real properties carry certain specific litigation risks. Litigation may be commenced with respect to a property acquired by us in relation to activities that took place prior to our acquisition of such property. In addition, at the time of disposition of an individual property, a potential buyer may claim that it should have been afforded the opportunity to purchase the asset or alternatively that such potential buyer should be awarded due diligence expenses incurred or statutory damages for misrepresentation relating to disclosure made, if such buyer is passed over in favor of another as part of our efforts to maximize sale proceeds. Similarly, successful buyers may later sue us under various damage theories, including those sounding in tort, for losses associated with latent defects or other problems not uncovered in due diligence.

Competition for investment opportunities may reduce our profitability and the return on your investment.

We face competition from various entities for investment opportunities in properties, including other REITs, real estate operating companies, pension funds, insurance companies, investment funds and companies, partnerships and developers, some of which are likely a source of reasonable alternatives under Regulation Best Interest. In addition to third-party competitors, other programs sponsored by the Adviser and its affiliates, particularly those with investment strategies that overlap with ours may seek investment opportunities in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures. Some of these entities may have greater access to capital to acquire properties than we have. Competition from these entities may reduce the number of suitable investment opportunities offered to us or increase the bargaining power of property owners seeking to sell. Additionally, disruptions and dislocations in the credit markets could have a material impact on the cost and availability of debt to finance real estate acquisitions, which is a key component of our acquisition strategy. The lack of available debt on reasonable terms or at all could result in a further reduction of suitable investment opportunities and create a competitive advantage for other entities that have greater financial resources than we do. In addition, over the past several years, a number of real estate funds and publicly traded and non-traded REITs have been formed and others have been consolidated (and many such existing funds have grown in size) for the purpose of investing in real estate and/or real estate-related assets. Additional real estate funds, vehicles and REITs with similar investment objectives are expected to be formed in the future by other unrelated parties and further consolidations may occur (resulting in larger funds and vehicles). Consequently, it is expected that competition for appropriate investment opportunities would reduce the number of investment opportunities available to us and adversely affect the terms, including price, upon which investments can be made. This competition may cause us to acquire properties and other investments at higher prices or by using less-than-ideal capital structures, and in such case our returns will be lower and the value of our assets may not appreciate or may decrease significantly below the amount we paid for such assets. If such events occur, you may experience a lower return on your investment.

We may make a substantial amount of joint venture investments, including with Blackstone affiliates. Joint venture investments could be adversely affected by our lack of sole decision-making authority, our reliance on the financial condition of our joint venture partners and disputes between us and our joint venture partners.

We have made joint venture investments with third parties and Blackstone affiliates and we expect to make additional joint venture investments in the future. We have entered into, and expect to continue to enter into, joint ventures as part of an acquisition with the seller of the properties. Generally, we expect the level of control we have with respect to any joint venture will correspond to our economic interest in such joint venture, but this may not always be the case. We may acquire non-controlling interests or shared control interests in joint ventures. Even if we have some control in a joint venture, we would not be in a position to exercise sole decision-making authority regarding the joint venture. Investments in joint ventures may, under certain circumstances, involve risks not present were another party not involved, including the possibility that joint venture partners might become bankrupt or fail to fund their required capital contributions. Joint venture partners may have economic or other business interests or goals that are inconsistent with our business interests or goals, and may be in a position to take actions contrary to our policies or objectives. Such investments may also have the potential risk of impasses on decisions, such as a sale, because neither we nor the joint venture partner would have full control over the joint venture. Disputes between us and joint venture partners may result in litigation or arbitration that would increase our expenses and prevent our officers and directors from focusing their time and effort on our business. Consequently, actions by or disputes with joint venture partners might subject properties owned by the joint venture to additional risk. In some cases, our joint venture partner may be entitled to property management fees, promote or other incentive fee payments as part of the arrangement of the joint venture. In addition, we may in certain circumstances be liable for the actions of our joint venture partners.

In addition, in connection with investments in which we participate alongside any Other Blackstone Accounts, the Adviser may decline to exercise, or delegate to a third party, certain control, foreclosure and similar governance rights relating to such shared investments for legal, tax, regulatory or other reasons. There is no guarantee that we will be able to co-invest with any Other Blackstone Account in the future. In addition, we may participate in follow-on investments in joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts in which the Other Blackstone Accounts may invest less than their pro rata share or may not participate at all or vice versa. We will not participate in joint ventures in which we do not have or share control to the extent that we believe such participation would potentially threaten our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act. This may prevent us from receiving an allocation with respect to certain investment opportunities that are suitable for both us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts.

Some additional risks and conflicts related to our joint venture investments (including joint venture investments with Blackstone affiliates) include:

- the joint venture partner could have economic or other interests that are inconsistent with or different from our interests, including interests relating to the financing, management, governance, operation, leasing or sale of the assets purchased by such joint venture;
- our joint venture partners may receive ongoing fees from our joint ventures, including promote payments and potential buyouts of their equity investments, all of which may reduce amounts otherwise payable to us;
- tax, Investment Company Act and other regulatory requirements applicable to the joint venture partner could cause it to want to take actions contrary to our interests. For example, if the joint venture partner conducts its operations so as to not be an investment company by complying with the requirements under Section 3(a)(1)(C) of the Investment Company Act or seeks to have some or all of its investments in majority-owned subsidiaries that qualify for the exemption pursuant to Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the Investment

Company Act, such joint venture partner could seek to dispose of or continue to hold joint venture investments for reasons other than the business case of particular assets, which could be at odds with us;

- the joint venture partner could have joint control or joint governance of the joint venture even in cases where its economic stake in the joint venture is significantly less than ours;
- under the joint venture arrangement, there will be cases where neither we nor the joint venture partner will be in a position to unilaterally control the joint venture, and deadlocks may occur. Such deadlocks could adversely impact the operations and profitability of the joint venture, including as a result of the inability of the joint venture to act quickly in connection with a potential acquisition or disposition and/or expected costs and expenses. In addition, depending on the governance structure of such joint venture partner, decisions of such vehicle may be subject to approval by individuals who are independent of Blackstone;
- under the joint venture arrangement, if we have a right of first refusal to buy out a joint venture partner, we may be unable to finance such a buy-out if it becomes exercisable or we are required to purchase such interest at a time when it would not otherwise be in our best interest to do so;
- under the joint venture arrangement, we and the joint venture partner may have a buy/sell right and, as a result of an impasse that triggers the exercise of such right, we could be forced to sell our investment in the joint venture, or buy the joint venture partner's share of the joint venture at a time when it would not otherwise be in our best interest to do so;
- if the joint venture partner charges fees or incentive allocation to the joint venture arrangement, the joint venture partner could have an incentive to hold assets longer or otherwise behave to maximize fees and incentive allocation paid, even when doing so is not in our best interest;
- the joint venture partner could have authority to remove the Blackstone affiliated investment manager of the joint venture. If such removal were to occur, we would be joint venture partners with a third-party manager, in which case it could be significantly more difficult for us to implement our investment objective with respect to any of our investments held through such joint ventures;
- our participation in investments in which a joint venture partner participates will be less than what our participation would have been had such joint venture partner not participated, and because there may be no limit on the amount of capital that such joint venture partner can raise, the degree of our participation in such investments may decrease over time;
- under the joint venture arrangement, we and the joint venture partner could each have preemptive rights in respect of future issuances by the joint venture, which could limit a joint venture's ability to attract new third-party capital;
- under the joint venture arrangement, a removal of the Adviser could trigger change of control restrictions that may include buy/sell rights like those described above, a loss of governance rights in the joint venture or other adverse consequences;
- under the joint venture arrangement, we and the joint venture partner could be subject to lock-ups, which could prevent us from disposing of our interests in the joint venture at a time it determines it would be advantageous to exit; and
- the joint venture partner could have a right of first offer, tag-along rights, drag-along rights, consent rights or other similar rights in respect of any transfers of the ownership interests in the joint venture to third parties, which could have the effect of making such transfers more complicated or limiting or delaying us from selling our interest in the applicable investment.

Furthermore, we may have conflicting fiduciary obligations when we acquire properties with our affiliates or other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles; as a result, in any such transaction we may not have the benefit of arm's-length negotiations of the type normally conducted between unrelated parties.

Acquiring or attempting to acquire multiple properties in a single transaction may adversely affect our operations.

We have in the past acquired, and may in the future acquire, multiple properties in a single transaction. Portfolio acquisitions typically are more complex and expensive than single-property acquisitions, and the risk that a multiple-property acquisition does not close may be greater than in a single-property acquisition. Portfolio acquisitions may also result in us owning investments in geographically dispersed markets, placing additional demands on the Adviser in managing the properties in the portfolio. In addition, a seller may require that a group of properties be purchased as a package and/or also include certain additional investments or transactions even though, were it not part of the overall transaction, we may not want to purchase one or more properties included in such portfolio or participate in additional investments or transactions. In these situations, if we are unable to identify another person or entity to acquire the unwanted properties or investments, or if the seller imposes a lock-out period or other restriction on a subsequent sale, we may be required to operate such properties or attempt to dispose of such properties or investments (if not subject to a lock-out period). We have also shared in the past and may in the future share the acquisition of large portfolios of properties with our affiliates or other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, which can result in conflicts of interest, including as to the allocation of properties within the portfolio and the prices attributable to such properties. See "Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest—We may invest in joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts or divide a pool of investments among us and Other Blackstone Accounts." It may also be difficult for the Adviser to fully analyze each property in a large portfolio, increasing the risk that properties do not perform as anticipated. We also may be required to accumulate a large amount of cash to fund such acquisitions. We would expect the returns that we earn on such cash to be less than the returns on investments in real property. The risks related to acquiring multiple properties in a single transaction may be more pronounced in single family rental acquisitions, where numerous single family rental properties each with relatively small values individually are acquired in large portfolio, making it difficult for the Adviser to analyze individual properties. Therefore, acquiring multiple properties in a single transaction may reduce the overall yield on our portfolio.

In the event we obtain options to acquire properties, we may lose the amount paid for such options whether or not the underlying property is purchased.

We may obtain options to acquire certain properties. The amount paid for an option, if any, is normally surrendered if the property is not purchased and may or may not be credited against the purchase price if the property is purchased. Any unreturned option payments will reduce the amount of cash available for further investments or distributions to our stockholders.

The due diligence process that the Adviser undertakes in regard to investment opportunities may not reveal all facts that may be relevant in connection with an investment, and if the Adviser incorrectly evaluates the risks of our investments, we may experience losses.

Before making investments, the Adviser will conduct due diligence that it deems reasonable and appropriate based on the facts and circumstances known at that time. Due diligence may entail, among other factors, evaluation of important and complex business, financial, tax, accounting, insurance-related, sustainability, real property and legal issues. When conducting due diligence and making an assessment regarding an investment, the Adviser will rely on the resources available to it, including information provided by the counterparty and third-party investigations or the due diligence conducted by an Other Blackstone Account. However, representations made by a counterparty could be inaccurate, and third-party investigations may not uncover risks.

In addition, in certain instances (whether due to transactional dynamics such as timing or competition, or due to regional or custom-based information limitations), we may not have access to all information needed to fully evaluate the prior performance and then-existing practices utilized with respect to the investments or the manner in which the investments have been serviced and/or operated.

As a result, due diligence investigations conducted with respect to any investment opportunity may not reveal or highlight all relevant facts necessary or helpful to make the investment decision. Moreover, such an investigation will not necessarily result in the investment being successful. There can be no assurance that attempts to provide downside protection with respect to investments, including pursuant to risk management procedures described in this prospectus, will achieve their desired effect, and potential investors should regard an investment in us as being speculative and having a high degree of risk. Conduct occurring at portfolio entities, even activities that occurred prior to our investment therein, could have an adverse impact (financial or otherwise) on us.

There can be no assurance that the Adviser will be able to detect or prevent irregular accounting, employee misconduct or other fraudulent practices during the due diligence investigation or during its efforts to monitor the investment on an ongoing basis or that any risk management procedures implemented by the Adviser will be adequate.

In the event of fraud by any portfolio entity or any of its affiliates, we may suffer a partial or total loss of capital invested in that portfolio entity. An additional concern is the possibility of material misrepresentation or omission on the part of the portfolio entity or the seller. Such inaccuracy or incompleteness may adversely affect the value of our investments in such portfolio entity. The Adviser will rely upon the accuracy and completeness of representations made by portfolio entities and/or their former owners in the due diligence process to the extent reasonable when it makes its investments, but cannot guarantee such accuracy or completeness of any such representation. We may elect to obtain a representations and warranties insurance policy that may provide protection to us in the event of losses arising from the inaccuracy or incompleteness of any such representation. However, there is no guarantee that we would be able to obtain recovery under any such insurance policy, or that such recovery will be sufficient. In addition, in a transaction where we have obtained such a policy, recourse to the former owners of a portfolio entity may be severely limited or even eliminated, and recovery under such policy may effectively be the sole source of recovery for us in such circumstance. Under certain circumstances, payments to us may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment.

Consultants, legal advisors, appraisers, accountants, investment banks and other third parties may be involved in the due diligence process and/or the ongoing operation of our portfolio properties to varying degrees. Moreover, in negotiating and structuring transactions or arrangements with counterparties (such as investment banks, financial intermediaries and other service providers), the Adviser will generally not seek to maximize terms as if such transaction was taking place in isolation; rather, the Adviser will be free to consider relationship, reputational and market considerations, which can in some circumstances result in less favorable terms to us than might be negotiated if those considerations were not taken into account. For example, certain asset management, finance, administrative and other similar functions, such as data entry relating to a portfolio entity, may be outsourced to a third-party or affiliated service provider whose fees and expenses will be borne by such portfolio entity or us and will not offset the management fee. Such involvement of third-party advisors or consultants may present a number of risks primarily relating to the Adviser's reduced control over the functions that are outsourced. In addition, if the Adviser is unable to timely engage third-party providers, its ability to evaluate and acquire more complex targets could be adversely affected.

Moreover, investment analyses and decisions by the Adviser may frequently be required to be undertaken on an expedited basis to take advantage of investment opportunities. In such cases, the information available to the Adviser at the time of making an investment decision may be limited, and the Adviser may not have access to the detailed information necessary for a full evaluation of the investment opportunity, such as physical characteristics, environmental matters, zoning restrictions or other local conditions affecting an investment property. In addition, the Adviser can be expected to rely upon independent consultants or attorneys in connection with their evaluation of proposed investments. There can be no assurance that these consultants will accurately evaluate proposed investments. Therefore, no assurance can be given that the Adviser will have knowledge of all circumstances that may adversely affect an investment at the time the investment decision is made, and we may make investments which we would not have made if more extensive due diligence had been undertaken.

Misconduct by employees of the Adviser, our portfolio entities and service providers to us and/or their respective affiliates could cause significant losses to us. Misconduct may include fraud, entering into transactions without authorization, the failure to comply with operational and risk procedures, including due diligence procedures, the improper use or disclosure of confidential or material non-public information, which could result in litigation or serious financial harm, including limiting our business prospects or future marketing activities, and non-compliance with applicable laws or regulations and the concealing of any of the foregoing. Such activities may result in reputational damage, litigation, business disruption and/or financial losses to us. The Adviser has controls and procedures through which it seeks to minimize the risk of such misconduct occurring. However, no assurances can be given that the Adviser will be able to identify or prevent such misconduct.

We may be subject to expenses and liabilities related to employees of certain portfolio entities owned by us.

We may be subject to expenses and liabilities related to employees of certain portfolio entities owned by us. For example, we acquired the management teams as part of our acquisitions of American Campus Communities and April Housing, and we may acquire other management teams as part of transactions in the future. Such expenses and liabilities include compensation, overhead and other administrative costs, as well as potential liabilities that are commonly faced by employers, such as workers' disability and compensation claims, potential labor disputes, and other employee-related liabilities and grievances. We may also be subject to other operational risks from such employees, including cybersecurity risks or as a result of employee error or malfeasance. In addition, we may encounter unforeseen costs and expenses associated with acquiring such portfolio entities and such expenses may have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

We rely on property managers to operate our properties and leasing agents to lease vacancies in our properties.

The Adviser hires property managers to manage our properties and leasing agents to lease vacancies in our properties. These property managers may be our affiliates, other Blackstone-advised investment vehicles or partners in joint ventures that we enter into. We may also use portfolio entities owned by us to provide these property management, leasing and similar services. The property managers have significant decision-making authority with respect to the management of our properties. We are particularly dependent on property managers of any hospitality and leisure properties we invest in. In cases where we use third party property managers, our ability to direct and control how our properties are managed on a day-to-day basis may be limited. Thus, the success of our business may depend in large part on the ability of our property managers to manage the day-to-day operations and the ability of our leasing agents to lease vacancies in our properties. In cases where we use one of our portfolio entities to provide property management services, we will directly incur the expenses of property management and the other costs and obligations associated with operating the portfolio entity, including the compensation of our portfolio entity employees. Any adversity experienced by, or problems in our relationship with, our property managers or leasing agents could adversely impact the operation and profitability of our properties.

We depend on tenants for our revenue, and therefore our revenue is dependent on the success and economic viability of our tenants. Our reliance on single or significant tenants in certain buildings may decrease our ability to lease vacated space and could adversely affect our income, performance, operations and ability to pay distributions.

Rental income from real property, directly or indirectly, constitutes a significant portion of our income. Delays in collecting accounts receivable from tenants could adversely affect our cash flows and financial condition. In addition, the inability of a single major tenant or a number of smaller tenants to meet their rental obligations would adversely affect our income. Therefore, our financial success is indirectly dependent on the success of the businesses operated by the tenants in our properties or in the properties securing debts we may own. Our tenants may be negatively affected by continued market volatility, trade conflict, civil unrest, national and international security events, geopolitical events, military conflicts, war, disruptions in global supply chains, natural disasters, public health or pandemic crises, actual or perceived instability in the U.S. banking system, labor shortages, tariffs, elevated consumer prices or broad inflationary pressures, any of which may have a negative impact on our tenant's ability to execute on their business plans and their ability to perform under the terms of their obligations. The weakening of the financial condition of or the bankruptcy or insolvency of a significant tenant or a number of smaller tenants and vacancies caused by defaults of tenants or the expiration of leases may adversely affect our operations, performance and our ability to pay distributions.

Generally, under U.S. bankruptcy law, a debtor tenant has 120 days to exercise the option of assuming or rejecting the obligations under any unexpired lease for nonresidential real property, which period may be extended once by the bankruptcy court for an additional 90 days. If the tenant assumes its lease, the tenant must cure all defaults under the lease and may be required to provide adequate assurance of its future performance under the lease. If the tenant rejects the lease, we will have a claim against the tenant's bankruptcy estate. Although rent owing for the period between filing for bankruptcy and rejection of the lease may be afforded administrative expense priority and paid in full, pre-bankruptcy arrears and amounts owing under the remaining term of the lease will be afforded general unsecured claim status (absent collateral securing the claim). Moreover, amounts owing under the remaining term of the lease will be capped. Other than equity and subordinated claims, general unsecured claims are the last claims paid in a bankruptcy and therefore funds may not be available to pay such claims in full.

Some of our properties may be leased to a single or significant tenant and, accordingly, may be suited to the particular or unique needs of such tenant. We may have difficulty replacing such a tenant if the floor plan of the vacant space limits the types of businesses that can use the space without major renovation. In addition, the resale value of the property could be diminished because the market value of a particular property will depend principally upon the value of the leases of such property.

Similarly, certain of our other properties, including certain net leases, industrial warehouses and student housing properties, are leased out to single tenants or tenants that are otherwise reliant on a single enterprise to remain in business and our hotel properties are generally operated by a single operator. Adverse impacts to such tenants, businesses or operators, including as a result of changes in market or economic conditions, natural disasters, outbreaks of an infectious disease, pandemic or any other serious public health concern, political events or other factors that may impact the operation of these properties, may have negative effects on our business and financial results. As a result, such tenants or operators have been, and may in the future be, required to suspend operations at our properties for what could be an extended period of time. Further, if such tenants default under their leases or such operators are unable to operate our properties, we may not be able to promptly enter into a new lease or operating arrangement for such properties, rental rates or other terms under any new leases or operating arrangement may be less favorable than the terms of the current lease or operating arrangement or we may be required to make capital improvements to such properties for a new tenant or operator, any of which could adversely impact our operating results.

We may be unable to renew leases as leases expire and our leases may be terminated early.

We may not be able to lease properties that are vacant or become vacant because a tenant decides not to renew its lease or by the continued default of a tenant under its lease. Our leases may also be terminated early. For example, the current administration may terminate the federal government's leases in commercial buildings, including the GSA leases, as part of its cost reduction initiatives. In addition, certain of the properties we acquire may have some level of vacancy at the time of acquisition. Certain other properties may be specifically suited to the particular needs of a tenant and may become vacant after we acquire them. Even if a tenant renews its lease or we enter into a lease with a new tenant, the terms of the new lease may be less favorable than the terms of the old lease. In addition, the resale value of the property could be diminished because the market value may depend principally upon the value of the property's leases. If we are unable to promptly renew or enter into new leases, or if the rental rates are lower than expected, our results of operations and financial condition will be adversely affected. For example, following the termination or expiration of a tenant's lease there may be a period of time before we will begin receiving rental payments under a replacement lease. During that period, we will continue to bear fixed expenses such as interest, real estate taxes, maintenance, security, repairs and other operating expenses. In addition, declining economic conditions may impair our ability to attract replacement tenants and achieve rental rates equal to or greater than the rents paid under previous leases. Increased competition for tenants may require us to make capital improvements to properties which would not have otherwise been planned. Any unbudgeted capital improvements that we undertake may divert cash that would otherwise be available for distributions or for satisfying repurchase requests. Ultimately, to the extent that we are unable to renew leases or re-let space as leases expire, decreased cash flow from tenants will result, which could adversely impact our operating results.

We may be required to expend funds to correct defects or to make improvements before a tenant can be found for a property at an attractive lease rate or an investment in a property can be sold. No assurance can be given that we will have funds available to correct those defects or to make those improvements. In acquiring a property, we may agree to lock-out provisions that materially restrict us from selling that property for a period of time or impose other restrictions, such as a limitation on the amount of debt that can be placed on that property. These factors and others that could impede our ability to respond to adverse changes in the performance of our properties could significantly affect our financial condition and operating results.

Investments in retail assets subjects us to particular economic and operating risks.

We are able to make investments in retail assets, which subjects us to particular economic and operating risks. For example, retail properties, like other properties, are subject to the risk that tenants may be unable to make their lease payments or may decline to extend a lease upon its expiration. A lease termination or business closure by a tenant that occupies a large area of a retail center or a prominent position in a high-end shopping district (commonly referred to as an anchor tenant) could impact leases of other tenants, and other tenants may be entitled to modify the terms of their existing leases in the event of a lease termination by an anchor tenant, or the closure of the business of an anchor tenant that leaves its space vacant even if the anchor tenant continues to pay rent. Any such modifications or conditions could be unfavorable to us as the property owner and could decrease rents or expense recoveries. Additionally, major tenant closures may result in decreased customer traffic, which could lead to decreased sales at other stores. In the event of default by a tenant and in particular, an anchor tenant, we may experience delays and costs in enforcing its rights as landlord to recover amounts due to it under the terms of its agreements with those parties. Furthermore, most leases with retail tenants contain provisions giving the particular tenant the exclusive right to sell particular types of merchandise or provide specific types of services within the particular retail center or shopping district. These provisions may limit the number and types of prospective tenants interested in leasing space in a particular retail property or shopping district. Finally, retailers leasing properties will face continued competition from discount or value retailers, factory outlet centers, wholesale clubs, mail order catalogues and operators, television shopping networks and shopping via the internet. Such competition could adversely affect tenants and, consequently, revenues and funds available for distribution.

Our properties face significant competition.

We face significant competition from owners, operators and developers of properties. Substantially all of our properties will face competition from similar properties in the same market. This competition may affect our ability to attract and retain tenants and may reduce the rents we are able to charge. These competing properties may have vacancy rates higher than our properties, which may result in their owners being willing to lease available space at lower prices than the space in our properties. If one of our properties were to lose an anchor tenant, this could impact the leases of other tenants, who may be able to modify or terminate their leases as a result.

Our properties may be leased at below-market rates under long-term leases.

We have in the past sought, and may in the future seek, to negotiate longer-term leases to reduce the cash flow volatility associated with lease rollovers, provided that contractual rent increases are generally included. In addition, where appropriate, we will seek leases that provide for operating expenses, or expense increases, to be paid by the tenants. These leases may allow tenants to renew the lease with pre-defined rate increases. If we do not accurately judge the potential for increases in market rental rates, or if our negotiated increases provide for a discount to then-current market rental rates (in exchange for lower volatility), we may set the rental rates of these long-term leases at levels such that even after contractual rental increases, the resulting rental rates are less than then-current market rental rates. Further, we may be unable to terminate those leases or adjust the rent to then-prevailing market rates. As a result, our income and distributions to our stockholders could be lower than if we did not enter into long-term leases.

We face risks associated with leasing real estate.

Our investments for let are subject to various risks related to leasing and tenants. We compete with other owners of real estate, including Other Blackstone Accounts, to lease space, and the occupancy and rental rates of its assets depend on leasing market activity or, in relevant jurisdictions, are based on regulatory policy. Additionally, a tenant in one of our assets may experience a decline in its business that weakens its financial condition and ability to make rental payments when due, or the tenant's financial results from the asset rented from us may decline such that the tenant has an incentive to terminate the lease. Residential tenants may similarly be less able to make rental payments when due as a result of rising costs of living (for example, utilities or groceries). In some instances, the principal asset of a tenant is its improvements to the leased property, or the liability of the tenant may be contractually limited to its interest in such improvements. In those cases, we rely only on the tenant's equity interest in the improvements to secure the tenant's obligations under the lease.

Related risks exist to the extent that a portfolio entity provides services to both us and Other Blackstone Accounts and determines which assets or spaces are shown to potential tenants or otherwise can influence the choice by potential tenants of which asset or space to rent. Such portfolio entity's determination may be influenced and increased by any difference or perceived difference in total compensation (including, for example, where personnel of such portfolio entity participates in an equity incentive plan (or other long-term incentive plan) with respect to one or more assets or asset pools of one Other Blackstone Account but do not do so with respect to us or another Other Blackstone Account or vice versa) that a portfolio entity service provider or its relevant personnel may receive or be entitled to, due to its or such portfolio entity's determination.

Tenants terminate leases, including before the term ends, for a variety of reasons. In addition, a tenant may seek the protection of applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws, which could result in the rejection or termination of the tenant's lease or other adverse consequences to the landlord. We may be thwarted in attempts to enforce its rights as lessor and, even where we are successful in enforcing our rights, we may not be able to fully mitigate its losses or prevent future losses. After a lease has been terminated, we nonetheless bear the fixed costs of ownership of the asset, such as real estate taxes, maintenance and other operating expenses and, if applicable, interest and amortizations on any related financing. Property that has been vacated by a tenant may not be relet at the same rental rate (or at all), thereby reducing the operating income from the property, and we may need to make unexpected capital investments or take additional steps to lease the property again. Such risks related to lease termination are exacerbated for single family properties and other properties with single tenants.

Any of the risks described herein could be exacerbated to the extent any tenant leases property from more than one of our investments.

We may experience material losses or damage related to our properties and such losses may not be covered by insurance.

With respect to investments, the Adviser may seek to require us, the underlying portfolio entities and/or project to obtain liability, fire, flood, extended coverage, rental loss, cyber sabotage and/or terrorism insurance with insured limits and policy specifications that the Adviser, or, if applicable, portfolio entity management, believes are customary and reasonable. However, certain losses of a catastrophic nature, such as wars, natural disasters, terrorist attacks (including cyber sabotage) or other similar events, may be either uninsurable or insurable only at uneconomically high rates such that no insurance coverage exists or maintenance of such coverage would cause an adverse impact on the related portfolio entities. In general, losses related to terrorism and cyber sabotage are becoming harder and more expensive to insure against. In some cases, the insurers exclude terrorism and/or cyber sabotage, in others the coverage against terrorist acts and/or cyber sabotage is limited, or available only for a significant price. A similar dynamic has been unfolding with respect to certain weather events and earthquakes, and it is possible that other coverage areas, such as liabilities arising from legal, tax, regulatory considerations, could also face such pressure from insurers. As a result, not all investments are expected to be insured against all risks. Furthermore, even when insurance is available and has been procured, formalities must be followed to obtain the benefit of the insurance in the case of a loss event, such as timely delivery of a notice of claim; a failure to follow these formalities could result in voidance of coverage. If a major loss for which insurance is unavailable occurs, we could lose both invested capital in and anticipated profits from the affected investments.

We could become subject to liability for environmental violations, regardless of whether we caused such violations.

Environmental laws, regulations and regulatory initiatives play a significant role in certain industries and can have a substantial impact on investments in these industries. Conversely, required expenditures for environmental compliance and the direct and indirect impacts of increased environmental regulation have adversely impacted investment returns in a number of segments of such industries. Certain industries will continue to face considerable oversight from environmental regulatory authorities and significant influence from non-governmental organizations and special interest groups. We may invest in investments that are subject to changing and increasingly stringent environmental and health and safety laws, regulations and permit requirements, and there can be no guarantee that all costs and risks regarding compliance with environmental laws, regulations and permits can be identified. Standards are set by these laws and regulations regarding certain aspects of health and environmental quality, and they provide for penalties and other liabilities for the violation of such standards and establish, in certain circumstances, joint and several obligations to remediate and rehabilitate current and former facilities and locations where operations are, or were, conducted or where materials were disposed. New and more stringent environmental and health and safety laws, regulations and permit requirements or stricter interpretations of current laws, regulations or permits could impose substantial additional costs on investments or potential investments. Compliance with such current or future environmental requirements does not ensure that the operations of our investments will not cause injury to the environment or to people under all circumstances or that our investments will not be required to incur additional unforeseen environmental expenditures. Environmental hazards could expose our investments to material liabilities for property damage, personal injuries or other environmental harm, including costs of investigating and remediating contaminated properties. Moreover, failure to comply with regulatory, legal or permit requirements could have a material adverse effect on a portfolio entity or investment, and there can be no assurance that portfolio entities will at all times comply with all applicable environmental laws, regulations and permit requirements. Any noncompliance with these laws, regulations and permits could subject us and our portfolio entities to material administrative, civil and/or criminal enforcement proceedings, penalties and other liabilities, including claims and litigation from third parties who may be affected, curtailment or shutdown of operations, revocation or non-renewal of permits, loss of contracts, and reputational impacts.

Furthermore, we may be exposed to claims and losses arising from known, undisclosed or unknown environmental contamination from pollutants or other hazardous materials, or health or occupational safety matters. Under laws in many jurisdictions similar to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act in the U.S., liability for environmental contamination may be without regard to fault or causation and in many situations may be joint and several, so that a liable party may be exposed to the entire liability involved; and such liability may arise not only from currently owned or operated properties but former properties of entities that are the subject of investments, and other properties impacted by such contamination, exposing our investments to material liabilities for costs of investigating and remediating contaminated properties, and for damages to natural resources. We could also suffer losses if reserves or insurance proceeds or indemnities prove inadequate to cover any such matters. Under the laws, rules and regulations of various jurisdictions, an owner of real property can be liable for the costs of removal or remediation of certain hazardous or toxic substances, including asbestos, on or in the asset. Liability can be joint and several, which can result in a party being held liable without regard to whether the party knew of, or was responsible for, the contamination. The presence of environmental contamination on a property, whether known or latent, could result in personal injury to persons removing or who are otherwise exposed to such materials, as well as contamination and damage to other property, which could give rise to liability to third parties. In the event that we have an indemnity from a third party purporting to cover any such liability, there can be no assurance as to the financial viability of any indemnifying party at the time a claim arises or when recovery is sought under the indemnity. Insurance for such matters may not be available, especially for known or suspected conditions, and even if insurance coverage is in place, any proceeds may prove inadequate to cover the losses involved. The cost to perform any remediation, and the cost to defend against any related claims, could exceed the value of the relevant investment. In such cases governmental authorities and others may seek to require us to satisfy the claims from other assets and investments, and, depending on the circumstances, could prevail. The existence of contamination, the process of investigating and/or remediating contamination, and/or the failure to properly remediate contamination may adversely affect the owner’s ability to develop, use or sell the real estate or to borrow funds using such asset as collateral and may result in fines and other sanctions. In addition, some environmental laws create a lien on a contaminated asset in favor of governments or government agencies for costs they may incur in connection with the contamination.

Additionally, as consensus builds that global warming is a significant threat, initiatives seeking to address climate change through regulation of greenhouse gas emissions have been adopted by, are pending or have been proposed before international and regional regulatory authorities. Many industries (e.g., manufacturing, electrical power generation, fuel production/distribution/storage, transportation and insurance) face various climate change risks, many of which could conceivably materially impact them. Such risks include (i) regulatory/litigation risk (e.g., changing legal requirements that could result in increased permitting and compliance costs, changes in business operations, the discontinuance of certain operations and related litigation); (ii) market risk (e.g., declining market for products and services seen as greenhouse gas intensive); and (iii) physical risk (e.g., risks to plants or property owned, operated or insured by a company posed by rising sea levels, increased frequency or severity of storms, drought, wildfires and other physical occurrences attributable to climate change). These risks could result in unanticipated delays or expenses, especially for electricity, and, under certain circumstances, could prevent completion of investment activities once undertaken, any of which could have an adverse effect on us.

Our costs associated with complying with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (the "ADA") may affect cash available for distributions.

Any domestic properties we acquire will generally be subject to the ADA. Under the ADA, all places of public accommodation are required to comply with federal requirements related to access and use by disabled persons. The ADA has separate compliance requirements for "public accommodations" and "commercial facilities" that generally require that buildings and services be made accessible and available to people with disabilities. The ADA's requirements could require removal of access barriers and could result in the imposition of injunctive relief, monetary penalties or, in some cases, an award of damages. We may not acquire properties that comply with the ADA or we may not be able to allocate the burden on the seller or other third party, such as a tenant, to ensure compliance with the ADA in all cases.

Our properties are, and any properties we acquire in the future will be, subject to property taxes that may increase in the future, which could adversely affect our cash flow.

Our properties are, and any properties we acquire in the future will be, subject to real and personal property taxes that may increase as property tax rates change and as the properties are assessed or reassessed by taxing authorities. Some of our leases may provide that the property taxes, or increases therein, are charged to the lessees as an expense related to the properties that they occupy. As the owner of the properties, however, we are ultimately responsible for payment of the taxes to the government. If property taxes increase, our tenants may be unable (or not obligated) to make the required tax payments, ultimately requiring us to pay the taxes. In addition, we are generally responsible for property taxes related to any vacant space. If we purchase rental housing properties, the leases for such properties typically will not allow us to pass through real estate taxes and other taxes to residents of such properties. Consequently, any tax increases may adversely affect our results of operations at such properties.

Certain of our investments are in the form of ground leases, which provide limited rights to the underlying property.

We hold and may in the future invest from time to time in real properties that are subject to ground leases. As a lessee under a ground lease, we may be exposed to the possibility of losing the property upon termination, or an earlier breach by us, of the ground lease, which may adversely impact our investment performance. Furthermore, ground leases often impose restrictions on the ability to sell the asset, including the obligation to obtain consent from the landlord to any assignment or transfer of rights under the lease. Finally, the value of a ground lease can be more volatile, as its entire value is defined by cash flows to a date certain (i.e., the expiration date of the ground lease), after which there is generally no value for the lessee.

Certain of our industrial properties may be special use and/or build-to-suit and may be difficult to sell or re-let upon tenant defaults or lease terminations.

Certain of our industrial properties may include special use and/or build-to-suit properties. These types of properties are relatively illiquid compared to other types of real estate and financial assets and this illiquidity will limit our ability to quickly change our portfolio in response to changes in economic or other conditions. With such properties, if the current lease is terminated or not renewed, we may be required to renovate the property or to make rent concessions in order to lease the property to another tenant, finance the property or sell the property. In addition, in the event we are forced to sell the property, we may have difficulty selling it to a party other than the tenant or borrower due to the special purpose for which the property may have been designed. These and other limitations may affect our ability to sell or re-let our industrial properties and adversely affect our results of operations at such properties.

Certain properties may require an expedited transaction, which may result in limited information being available about the property prior to its acquisition.

Investment analyses and decisions by the Adviser may be required to be undertaken on an expedited basis to take advantage of investment opportunities. In such cases, the information available to the Adviser at the time of making an investment decision may be limited, and the Adviser may not have access to detailed information regarding the investment property or portfolio of properties, such as physical characteristics, environmental matters, zoning regulations or other local conditions affecting such investment. Therefore, no assurance can be given that the Adviser will have knowledge of all circumstances that may adversely affect an investment, and we may make investments which we would not have made if more extensive due diligence had been undertaken. Because large portfolios of properties still generally require diligence to analyze individual properties, these risks are exacerbated in expedited transactions of large portfolios. In addition, the Adviser may use consultants, legal advisors, appraisers, accountants, investment banks and other third parties in connection with its evaluation and/or diligence of certain investments. No assurance can be given as to the accuracy or completeness of the information provided by such third parties, and we may incur liability as a result of such third parties' actions.

We face risks in effecting operating improvements.

In some cases, the success of an investment will depend, in part, on our ability to restructure and effect improvements in the operations of a property. The activity of identifying and implementing restructuring programs and operating improvements at property entails a high degree of uncertainty. There can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully identify and implement such restructuring programs and improvements.

Many factors affect the single-family rental housing market, and we may be negatively affected by our assumptions surrounding and general conditions of the single-family rental housing market.

Any potential returns on our investments related to the single-family rental housing market will depend upon many factors including, but not limited to:

- the availability of properties or other investments that meet our investment criteria and our ability to acquire such properties at favorable prices and interest rates;
- real estate appreciation or depreciation in our target markets;
- the condition of our properties;
- our ability to contain renovation, maintenance, marketing and other operating costs for our properties;
- our ability to maintain high occupancy rates and target rent levels;
- general economic conditions in our target markets, such as changes in employment and household earnings and expenses; the effects of rent controls, stabilization laws and other laws or regulations regarding rental rates and tenant rights; and
- changes in, and changes in enforcement of, laws, regulations and government policies including health, safety, environmental, property, zoning and tax laws.

We will have no control over many of these factors, which could adversely affect our operations. Our success will also depend, in part, on our assumptions about our target properties, target lessees, renovation, maintenance and other operating costs, and rental rates and occupancy levels and, if our assumptions prove to be inaccurate, this may adversely affect our operations and results.

A number of our rental housing properties are part of homeowner's associations ("HOAs"), and we and tenants of such properties are subject to the rules and regulations of such HOAs, which are subject to change and may be arbitrary or restrictive. Violations of such rules may subject us to additional fees, penalties and litigation with such HOAs which would be costly.

A number of our rental housing properties are located within HOAs, which are private entities that regulate the activities of owners and occupants of, and levy assessments on, properties in a rental housing subdivision. We pay all HOA fees and assessments directly. The majority of the HOA fees due on our properties are billed annually. The fees are paid when due by our property managers and are included in our property and operating expenses. HOAs in which we own properties may have or may enact onerous or arbitrary rules that restrict our ability to restore, market or lease our properties or require us to restore or maintain such properties at standards or costs that are in excess of our planned budgets. Such rules may include requirements for landscaping, limitations on signage promoting a property for lease or sale or the requirement that specific construction materials be used in restorations. Some HOAs also impose limits on the number of property owners who may rent their homes, which, if met or exceeded, would cause us to incur additional costs to sell the property and opportunity costs of lost rental revenue. Furthermore, many HOAs impose restrictions on the conduct of occupants of homes and the use of common areas, and we may have tenants who violate HOA rules and for which we may be liable as the property owner. Additionally, the boards of directors of the HOAs in which we own property may not make important disclosures about the properties or may block our access to HOA records, initiate litigation, restrict our ability to sell our properties, impose assessments or arbitrarily change the HOA rules. Furthermore, in certain jurisdictions, HOAs may have a statutory right of first refusal to purchase certain types of properties we may desire to sell. Moreover, in certain jurisdictions (such as in Florida), HOAs may be entitled to dispute rent increases, which may result in arbitration. We may be unaware of or unable to review or comply with HOA rules before purchasing a property, and any such excessively restrictive or arbitrary regulations may cause us to sell such property at a loss, prevent us from renting such property or otherwise reduce our cash flow from such property, which would have an adverse effect on our returns on these properties.

Our industrial tenants may be adversely affected by a decline in manufacturing activity in the United States.

Fluctuations in manufacturing activity in the United States may adversely affect our industrial tenants and therefore the demand for and profitability of our industrial properties. Trade agreements with foreign countries have given employers the option to utilize less expensive foreign manufacturing workers. Outsourcing manufacturing activities could reduce the demand for U.S. workers, thereby reducing the profitability of our industrial tenants and the demand for and profitability of our industrial properties.

We could be negatively impacted by the condition of Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac and by changes in government support for rental housing.

Federal National Mortgage Association ("Fannie Mae") and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation ("Freddie Mac") are a major source of financing for rental housing real estate in the United States. We expect to utilize loan programs sponsored by these entities as a key source of capital to finance our growth and our operations. In September 2008, the U.S. government increased its control of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and placed both companies into a government conservatorship under the Federal Housing Finance Agency. In December 2009, the U.S. Treasury increased its financial support for these conservatorships. In February 2011, the Obama administration released its blueprint for winding down Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and for reforming the system of housing finance. Since that time, members of Congress have introduced and Congressional committees have considered a substantial number of bills that include comprehensive or incremental approaches to winding down Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac or changing their purposes, businesses or operations. A decision by the U.S. government to eliminate or downscale Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac or to reduce government support for rental housing more generally may adversely affect interest rates, capital availability, development of rental housing communities and the value of rental housing assets and, as a result, may adversely affect our future growth and operations. Any potential reduction in loans, guarantees and credit-enhancement arrangements from Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac could jeopardize the effectiveness of the rental housing sector's derivative securities market, potentially causing breaches in loan covenants, and through reduced loan availability, impact the value of rental housing assets, which could impair the value of a significant portion of rental housing communities. Specifically, the potential for a decrease in liquidity made available to the rental housing sector by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac could:

- make it more difficult for us to secure new takeout financing for any rental housing development projects we acquire;
- hinder our ability to refinance any completed rental housing assets;
- decrease the amount of available liquidity and credit that could be used to broaden our portfolio through the acquisition of rental housing assets; and
- require us to obtain other sources of debt capital with potentially different terms.

Short-term leases expose us to the effects of declining market rent and could adversely impact our ability to make cash distributions to you.

Substantially all of our rental housing leases are on a short-term basis. Because these leases generally permit the residents to leave at the end of the lease term without penalty, our rental revenues would be impacted by declines in market rents more quickly than if our leases were for longer terms.

Increased levels of unemployment could adversely affect the occupancy and rental rates of any rental housing properties we acquire.

Increased levels of unemployment in rental housing markets could significantly decrease occupancy and rental rates. In times of increasing unemployment, rental housing occupancy and rental rates have historically been adversely affected by:

- oversupply or reduced demand for apartment homes;
- rental residents deciding to share rental units and therefore rent fewer units;
- potential residents moving back into family homes or delaying leaving family homes;
- a reduced demand for higher-rent units;
- a decline in household formation;
- persons enrolled in college delaying leaving college or choosing to proceed to or return to graduate school in the absence of available employment;
- rent control or rent stabilization laws, or other laws regulating housing, that could prevent us from raising rents sufficiently to offset increases in operating costs;
- the inability or unwillingness of residents to pay rent increases; and
- increased collection losses.

These factors generally have contributed to lower rental rates. To the extent that we invest in any rental housing properties, our results of operations, financial condition and ability to make distributions to you may be adversely affected if these factors do not improve or worsen.

If any credit market disruptions or economic slowdowns occur, any investments in multifamily properties may face increased competition from single family homes and condominiums for rent, which could limit our ability to retain residents, lease apartment units or increase or maintain rents.

Any multifamily communities in which we invest may compete with numerous housing alternatives in attracting residents, including single-family homes and condominiums available for rent. Such competitive housing alternatives may become more prevalent in a particular area in the event of any tightening of mortgage lending underwriting criteria, homeowner foreclosures, declines in single-family home and condominium sales or lack of available credit. The number of single-family homes and condominiums for rent in a particular area could limit our ability to retain residents, lease apartment units or increase or maintain rents.

Investments in residential real estate assets are subject to particular economic, operating and regulatory risks.

We are able to make investments in residential real estate assets, which subjects us to particular economic, operating and regulatory risks. These risks relate to supply of and demand for living space in the local market, wage and job growth in the local market, availability of mortgage financing and homeownership affordability, tenant quality, the physical attributes of the building in relation to competing buildings (e.g., age, condition, design, appearance, amenities and location), access to transportation and changes in regulatory requirements (e.g., rent regulations and caps, and higher standards of maintenance), among other factors. The current U.S. presidential administration issued an executive order in January 2026 seeking to restrict institutional investor ownership of single-family homes, and Congress and certain states have proposed, considered, and may seek to enact, legislation aimed at doing so. Although the impact of the executive order and any such potential legislation remain unknown, they could have a material adverse effect on our future results of operations, financial condition and business in residential real estate assets.

Investments in financing residential assets, such as mortgage loans (including loans that may be in default), involve additional risks. If a residential mortgage loan is in default, foreclosure of the mortgage loan can be a lengthy and expensive process. The ultimate disposition of a foreclosed asset may yield a price insufficient to cover the cost of the foreclosure process and the balance attached to the defaulted mortgage loan. In addition, politicians, regulators, journalists, housing advocates and others have been critical of private investment firms such as Blackstone that have made investments in residential mortgage loans and, in some cases, led protests and social media campaigns. Such opposition could cause us to forego investment opportunities and subject us to new legislation, litigation and changes in regulatory oversight.

The multifamily rental housing properties in which we invest must comply with the Fair Housing Amendment of 1988.

The multifamily rental housing properties in which we invest domestically, if any, must comply with the Fair Housing Amendment Act of 1988 ("FHAA") which requires that multifamily communities first occupied after March 13, 1991 be accessible to handicapped residents and visitors. Compliance with the FHAA could require removal of structural barriers to handicapped access in a community, including the interiors of apartment units covered under the FHAA. Recently there has been heightened scrutiny of multifamily housing communities for compliance with the requirements of the FHAA and the ADA and an increasing number of substantial enforcement actions and private lawsuits have been brought against multifamily communities to ensure compliance with these requirements. Noncompliance with the FHAA and the ADA could result in the imposition of fines, awards of damages to private litigants, payment of attorneys' fees and other costs to plaintiffs, substantial litigation costs and substantial costs of remediation.

We have and continue to expect to make investments in low income areas or affordable housing developments.

Investment opportunities may include projects and initiatives located in low-income areas, including, without limitation, low-income or affordable housing developments and businesses located in low income areas. There are significant risks associated with the ownership of these projects and initiatives. There may be federal, state and local governmental regulatory restrictions on the operation, rental and transfer of these investments, such as the requirement that the owners of the investments rent or sell certain rental housing units to persons or families of low or moderate income and that the amount of rent that may be charged for these units may be less than market rates. These restrictions may adversely affect economic performance relative to properties that are not subject to these restrictions. For example, selling property that is subject to affordable housing regulatory restrictions may limit its sale price, and accordingly adversely impact our investment performance. In addition, the long-term nature of investments in government-assisted housing limits our ability to vary our portfolio in response to changing economic, financial and investment conditions; these properties are also subject to changes in local economic circumstances and housing patterns, as well as rising operating costs, vacancies, rent collection difficulties, energy shortages and other factors which have an impact on real estate values. These properties also require greater management expertise and may have higher operating expenses than conventional housing projects. Certain of our properties were developed under the U.S. federal Low Income Housing Tax Credit ("LIHTC") program, and such properties are subject to regulatory and rent restrictions. Properties in low-income areas may also (a) be in an early stage of development and not have a proven operating history, (b) be operating at a loss or have significant variations in operating results, (c) be engaged in a rapidly changing business with products subject to a substantial risk of obsolescence, (d) require substantial additional capital to support their operations, to finance expansion or to maintain their competitive position, (e) rely on the services of a limited number of key individuals, the loss of any of whom could significantly adversely affect a project's performance, (f) face intense competition, including competition from companies and projects with greater financial resources, more extensive development, marketing and other capabilities, and a larger number of qualified management and technical personnel, (g) utilize innovative and untested operational and business strategies, including new business partnerships and teams, and (h) otherwise have a weak financial condition or be experiencing financial difficulties that could result in insolvency, liquidation, dissolution, reorganization or bankruptcy of the project. Further, there is often less publicly available information concerning these properties than for larger, more established businesses. These risks may adversely affect the performance of the properties and result in substantial losses. Furthermore, many of the risks associated with investing in real estate may be exacerbated in connection with properties in low-income areas. A downturn in the economy may impact the success of businesses in low-income areas and the operations of tenants in low-income areas. Businesses in which we have invested may experience declining revenues or file for bankruptcy. In addition, tenants in properties held by us may experience declining revenues, vacate the premises early, or file for bankruptcy, which could reduce a tenant's ability to pay base rent, percentage rent or other charges. Finally, we may own certain low-income properties through complicated ownership structures due to tax or regulatory reasons, which may limit the flexibility we have in managing such properties.

Risks associated with natural disasters and climate change may adversely affect our business and financial results and damage our reputation.

Certain regions in which we invest or conduct activities related to investments are susceptible to natural disasters, such as earthquakes (particularly regions located within the "Ring of Fire," the series of oceanic trenches, volcanic arcs and converging tectonic plates that account for approximately 90% of the world's earthquakes), and disease outbreaks that could have a severe impact on the value of, and even destroy, assets in those regions. Health or other government regulations adopted in response to natural calamities may require temporary closure of corporate and governmental offices upon a disaster, which would severely disrupt our operations in the affected area. Catastrophic losses may either be uninsurable or insurable at such high rates as to make coverage impracticable. If a major uninsured loss were to occur with respect to any of our investments, we could lose both invested capital and anticipated profits.

There has been increasing awareness and concern of severe weather, other climate events outside of the historical norm and other effects of climate change. Transition risks associated with climate change include higher energy costs, higher costs of supply chain services, increased frequency of supply chain disruptions and new or more stringent environment regulations. For example, government restrictions, standards or regulations intended to reduce greenhouse gas emissions (GHG) and potential climate change impacts, are emerging and may increase in the future in the form of restrictions or additional requirements on the development of commercial real estate (e.g., "green" building codes or other standards on water and energy usage and efficiency). Such restrictions and requirements, along with rising insurance premiums resulting from climate change, could increase our costs or require additional technology and capital investment by us, which could adversely affect our results of operations. This is a particular concern in the western and northeastern United States, where some of the most extensive and stringent environmental laws, health and safety and building construction standards in the U.S. have been enacted, and where we have properties in our investment portfolio. In addition, new climate change-related regulations may result in enhanced disclosure obligations, which could materially increase our regulatory burden and compliance costs. See "—We are subject to evolving sustainability disclosure standards and expectations that expose us to numerous risks."

Further, physical effects of climate change including changes in global weather patterns, rising sea levels, changing temperature averages or extremes and extreme weather events such as wildfires, hurricanes, droughts or floods, can also have an adverse impact on certain properties. To the extent the effects of climate change increase, we would expect the frequency and impact of weather and climate-related events and conditions to increase as well. For example, unseasonal or extreme weather events can have a material impact on hospitality businesses or properties resulting in increased costs to remedy or repair impacts or from investments made in advance of such events to minimize potential damage. Additionally, there may be actual or threatened damage related to actual or forecasted extreme weather events that could increase the cost of, or render unavailable, insurance on favorable terms on the properties underlying our investments. Repair, remediation or insurance expenses could reduce net operating income of properties and the value of our investment related to such properties.

Some physical risk is inherent in all properties, particularly in properties in certain locations and in light of the unknown potential for extreme weather or other events that could occur related to climate change.

Further, certain regions in which we invest or conduct activities related to investments are particularly sensitive to weather and climate conditions. In addition, climate change is widely considered to be a significant threat to the global economy. Blackstone, we and our investments may face risks associated with climate change, including risks related to the impact of climate-related legislation and regulation (both domestically and internationally), risks related to climate-related business trends and risks stemming from the physical impacts of climate change, such as the increasing frequency or severity of extreme weather events, rising sea levels and increased volatility in seasonal temperatures, which can interfere with operations and increase operating costs. Moreover, damage resulting from extreme weather may not be fully insured. Additionally, the Paris Agreement and other initiatives by international, federal, state and local policymakers and regulatory authorities as well as private actors seeking to reduce or mitigate the effects of GHG emissions may expose certain assets to so-called "transition risks" in addition to physical risks, such as: (i) political and policy risks (e.g., changing regulatory incentives and legal requirements, including enhanced disclosure obligations with respect to GHG emissions, that could result in increased costs or changes in business operations); (ii) regulatory and litigation risks (e.g., changing legal requirements that could result in increased permitting, tax and compliance costs, changes in business operations, or the discontinuance of certain operations, and litigation seeking monetary or injunctive relief related to climate impacts); (iii) technology and market risks (e.g., declining market for assets, products and services seen as GHG intensive or less effective than alternatives in reducing GHG emissions) and (iv) reputational risks (e.g., risks tied to changing investor, customer or community perceptions of an asset's relative contribution to GHG emissions or the adequacy of Blackstone's response to climate change). The Adviser cannot rule out the possibility that climate risks, including changes in weather and climate patterns, could result in unanticipated delays or expenses and, under certain circumstances, could prevent completion of investment activities once undertaken, any of which could have a material adverse effect on an investment or us.

We are subject to evolving sustainability disclosure standards and expectations that expose us to numerous risks.

Blackstone has established a firm-wide sustainability policy and related programs and procedures and certain sustainability practices specific to Other Blackstone Accounts (collectively, the "Sustainability Framework"), which outlines its approach to integrating sustainability in its business and investment activities. The Adviser intends to apply the Sustainability Framework, as applicable, across our investment portfolio, consistent with and subject to its fiduciary duties and applicable legal, regulatory or contractual requirements. Depending on the investment, the impact of developments connected with sustainability factors could have a material effect on the return and risk profile of the investment. Any reference herein to sustainability considerations is not intended to qualify our investment objectives to seek to maximize risk-adjusted returns on investments. The Adviser will endeavor to consider material sustainability factors where applicable in connection with our investment activities in order to protect and maximize investment performance; however, the Sustainability Framework does not serve to modify our investment objectives.

The act of selecting and evaluating material sustainability factors is subjective by nature, and there is no guarantee that the criteria utilized or judgment exercised by the Adviser or a third-party sustainability advisor (if any) will reflect or align with the views, internal policies or preferred practices of any particular investor, other asset managers or will align with market trends. Blackstone and the Adviser can also be subject to competing demands from different investors and other stakeholder groups with divergent views on sustainability matters, including the role of sustainability factors in the investment process. Additionally, sustainability factors are only some of the many factors that the Adviser will consider in making an investment and, depending on the nature of the investment, except to the extent required by law, sustainability factors will not be considered for certain investments or assets. Although the Adviser considers application of the Sustainability Framework to be an opportunity to enhance or protect the performance of investments over the long-term, the Adviser cannot guarantee that the application of its Sustainability Framework, which depends in part on skills and qualitative judgments, will positively impact the performance of any individual investment or us. Similarly, to the extent the Adviser or a third-party sustainability specialist engages with portfolio entities on sustainability-related practices and potential enhancements thereto, there is no guarantee that such engagements will improve the performance of the investment. Successful engagement efforts will depend on the Adviser's ability to properly identify and analyze material sustainability considerations and other factors and their value, and there can be no assurance that the strategy or techniques employed will be successful.

The materiality of sustainability risks and impacts on an individual asset or issuer and on a portfolio as a whole depends on many factors, including the relevant industry, country, asset class and investment style. In evaluating a prospective investment or providing reporting regarding such investment, the Adviser often depends upon (and will not independently verify) information and data provided by the investment or portfolio entities or obtained via third-party reporting or advisors, which will, in certain circumstances, be incomplete or inaccurate and could cause the Adviser to incorrectly identify, prioritize, assess or analyze the entity's sustainability practices and/or related risks and opportunities. The Adviser can be expected to decide in its discretion not to utilize certain information or data. While the Adviser believes such sources to be reliable, it will neither update any such information or data nor undertake an independent review of any such information or data provided by third parties. Subject to any applicable legal or regulatory requirements, any sustainability reporting will be provided in the Adviser's sole discretion. To the extent that the Adviser reports to investors on material sustainability issues, such reports will be based on the Adviser's or applicable portfolio entity management team's sole and subjective determination of whether a material sustainability issue has occurred in respect of an investment.

In addition, the Adviser's Sustainability Framework is expected to change over time. The Adviser could determine, in its discretion, to revisit the implementation of certain of its sustainability initiatives (including due to cost, timing, or other considerations). It is also possible that market dynamics or other factors will make it impractical, inadvisable or impossible for the Adviser to adhere to all sustainability-related elements of our investment strategy, including with respect to sustainability risk and opportunity management, whether with respect to one or more individual investments or to our portfolio generally. Sustainability-related statements, initiatives and goals with respect to a our investment strategy, investments, and portfolio entities are aspirational and not guarantees or promises that all or any such initiatives and goals will be achieved. Further, sustainability integration and responsible investing practices as a whole are evolving rapidly and there are different frameworks and methodologies being implemented by other asset managers. For example, the Sustainability Framework does not represent a universally recognized standard for assessing sustainability considerations and the Adviser's sustainability-related initiatives might not align with the approach used by other asset managers or preferred by existing or prospective investors or with future market trends. While Blackstone Inc. is currently a signatory to the United Nation's Principles for Responsible Investment, there is no guarantee that it will remain a signatory, supporter or member of this initiative or other similar industry initiatives or frameworks.

There is also growing regulatory and investor interest, particularly in the U.S., UK, and EU (which will be looked to as models in growth markets), in improving transparency around the role of sustainability in asset managers' investment processes, in order to allow investors to scrutinize, validate and better understand sustainability claims. The Adviser can be expected to be subject to scrutiny from regulators, elected officials, and investors with respect to sustainability matters. In recent years, certain investors, including public pension funds, have placed heightened importance on the impacts of investments made by the investment funds in which they invest, including with respect to climate change, among other aspects of sustainability. Conversely, certain investors have raised concerns as to whether the incorporation of sustainability factors in the investment and portfolio management process is inconsistent with the fiduciary duty to maximize returns for investors. The Adviser can expect to be subject to competing demands from different investors and other groups with divergent views on sustainability matters, including the role of sustainability in the investment process. Investors, including public pension funds, could decide to withdraw capital or not commit new capital based on their assessment of how Blackstone approaches and considers the sustainability cost of investments and whether the return-driven objectives of Blackstone's funds align with their sustainability priorities. This divergence increases the risk that any action or lack thereof with respect to sustainability matters will be perceived negatively by at least some investors and/or interested parties and adversely impact Blackstone's reputation and business.

In addition, government authorities of certain U.S. states have requested information from and scrutinized certain asset managers with respect to whether such managers have adopted sustainability policies that could restrict such asset managers from investing in certain industries or sectors, such as conventional energy. These authorities have indicated that such asset managers could lose opportunities to manage money belonging to these states and their pension funds to the extent the asset managers are determined to be engaging in a boycott of certain industries. "Anti-sustainability" sentiment has gained momentum across the U.S., with several states and Congress having proposed or enacted "anti-sustainability" policies, legislation and related legal opinions. Additionally, asset managers have been subject to recent scrutiny related to sustainability-focused industry working groups, initiatives, and associations, including organizations advancing action to address climate change or climate-related risk. Further, in April 2025, President Trump signed an Executive Order directing the Attorney General to stop the enforcement of state and local laws, regulations, policies and practices directed at climate change, greenhouse gas emissions and other sustainability-related matters to the extent those laws or activities are unconstitutional, preempted by Federal law, or otherwise unenforceable. While there is still uncertainty as to the potential effects of such order, if the SEC or any other governmental authority, regulatory agency or similar body, as applicable, were to take issue with Blackstone's, the Adviser's, or the Company's past or future practices, Blackstone, the Adviser, and/or the Company may be at risk for regulatory investigation and/or sanctions, and any such investigations or sanctions could be costly, distracting and/or time consuming. In addition, the Supreme Court's ruling striking down race-based affirmative action in publicly funded higher education admissions has increased scrutiny of corporate diversity and inclusion ("Diversity and Inclusion") practices. Some conservative groups and Republican state attorneys general have begun to extend the outcome of that case to private employment matters and private contract matters based on the theory that certain corporate Diversity and Inclusion practices are racially discriminatory and unlawful. Several media campaigns and cases alleging discrimination based on such arguments have been initiated since the decision, and in January 2025, the Trump administration signed a number of Executive Orders focused on diversity and inclusion, which caution the private sector to end "illegal DEI discrimination and preferences" and the Department of Justice has commenced related compliance investigations of private entities. These developments could result in the Adviser facing additional compliance obligations or expose Blackstone and/or the Adviser to the risk of investigations or challenges and enforcement by state or federal authorities, result in penalties and reputational harm and require certain investors to divest or discourage certain investors from investing in us. Blackstone's Sustainability Framework, Blackstone, the Adviser or we could become subject to additional regulations, penalties and/or risks of regulatory scrutiny and enforcement in the future.

The Adviser cannot guarantee that its current approach (including its Sustainability Framework) or our investments will meet future regulatory requirements (or interpretations of existing requirements, some of which are unclear), reporting frameworks or best practices, increasing the risk of related enforcement activity. Compliance with new requirements could lead to increased management burdens and costs, which has the potential to adversely affect us. If the SEC or any other governmental authority, regulatory agency or similar body were to take issue with past or future practices of Blackstone or the Adviser, then the Adviser will be at risk for regulatory sanction, and any such investigations could be costly, distracting and/or time consuming for Blackstone, the Adviser and us. There is also a risk of regulatory mismatch between U.S., EU and UK initiatives (and potential initiatives in other jurisdictions).

Additionally, Blackstone has established certain firmwide and business group-specific sustainability-related initiatives. Although the aim of these initiatives is to create strong returns for investors, the pursuit of these initiatives (which could include data collection, analysis and reporting, among other activities) will involve the dedication of time and resources. Further, except as required under applicable law, any sustainability-related statements and these sustainability-related initiatives are aspirational and not guarantees or promises that all or any such initiatives will be achieved.

We may not be able to attract desirable tenants for our rental housing properties and may have difficulty evicting defaulting tenants.

Our success with rental housing rentals will depend, in large part, upon our ability to attract and retain qualified tenants for our rental housing properties. If we are unable to attract quality tenants our rental revenues will be adversely affected. If certain of our tenants cease paying rent, we may be unable or unwilling to evict such tenants due to legal, regulatory or practical concerns and, as a result, may be unable to enter into a new lease for the applicable unit or property, resulting in lost revenue. In addition, our efforts to evict rental housing tenants may result in litigation, resulting in increased expenses and potential liability for our rental housing properties.

Rent control and other changes in applicable laws, or noncompliance with applicable laws, could adversely affect our rental housing properties.

Tenants in certain jurisdictions benefit from legal protections and customary contractual provisions that generally do not apply elsewhere. For example, in some jurisdictions, a tenant is entitled to seek a rent reduction when market rents decrease, thereby exposing us to risk of decreasing revenue in a market decline. In some jurisdictions, tenants have the right to terminate leases before the stated term ends. Residential tenants in some jurisdictions may benefit from rent control programs that reduce the ability of an owner to raise rents. In others, retail leases are subject to special tenant-friendly rules. Moreover, certain jurisdictions have in the past and will from time to time adopt rent regulation legislation that could affect rent-regulated multifamily real estate by limiting the ability to achieve certain returns and rent growth and could negatively impact the value of properties owned by us and our portfolio entities. Finally, even when an owner of real estate has clear legal rights, the judiciary may fail to uphold those rights. All of these considerations significantly increase the risk of holding a real estate asset. Lower revenue growth or significant unanticipated expenditures may result from changes in rent control or rent stabilization laws or other rental housing landlord/tenant laws. Municipalities may implement, consider or be urged by advocacy groups to consider rent control or rent stabilization laws and regulations or take other actions that could limit our ability to raise rents based on market conditions. For example, in 2016 in Mountain View, California, voters passed a referendum that limits rent increases on existing tenants (but not on new move-ins) in communities built before 1995. These initiatives and any other future enactments of rent control or rent stabilization laws or other laws regulating rental housing, as well as any lawsuits against us arising from such rent control or other laws, may reduce rental revenues or increase operating costs. Such laws and regulations may limit our ability to charge market rents, increase rents, evict tenants or recover increases in our operating costs and could make it more difficult for us to dispose of properties in certain circumstances. Expenses associated with investments in rental housing properties, such as debt service, real estate taxes, insurance and maintenance costs, are generally not reduced when circumstances cause a reduction in rental income from such properties.

The hospitality or leisure market is seasonal, highly competitive and generally subject to greater volatility than our other market segments.

The hospitality or leisure business is seasonal, highly competitive and influenced by factors such as general and local economic conditions, location, room rates, quality, service levels, reputation and reservation systems, among many other factors. Furthermore, upon acquisition of a hotel, the owner generally has limited visibility into future bookings. Certain hotels acquired by us may be managed by third-party hotel management companies pursuant to management agreements that may not be terminable for a period of time. In these cases, the hotel's business and operating results would depend in large part upon the performance of a third party, not originally retained by us. While we will seek to invest in hotel properties with quality management, there is no guarantee that the third-party management company for any given hotel property will meet our performance objectives. The hospitality or leisure industry generally experiences seasonal slowdown in the third quarter and, to a lesser extent, in the fourth quarter of each year. As a result of such seasonality, there will likely be quarterly fluctuations in results of operations of any hospitality or leisure properties that we own. There are many competitors in this market, and these competitors may have substantially greater marketing and financial resources than those available to us. Competition also comes from non-traditional hospitality sources, such as home-sharing platforms. If a property's occupancy or room rates drop such that its revenues are insufficient to cover its operating expenses, additional funds, including reserves, will be required to cover operating expenses. Also, more so than certain other property types, hospitality properties need to make capital expenditures in order to remain competitive. There is a risk that cash flow from operations and reserves may be inadequate to fund capital improvements, or financing for these capital improvements may not be available on attractive terms. Also, hotel properties may not readily be converted to alternative uses if they were to become unprofitable due to competition, obsolescence, or decreased demand, given zoning, structural and other considerations. This competition, along with other factors, such as over-building in the hospitality or leisure industry and certain deterrents to traveling, may increase the number of rooms available and may decrease the average occupancy and room rates of our hospitality or leisure properties. The demand for rooms at any hospitality or leisure properties that we may acquire will change much more rapidly than the demand for space at other properties that we acquire. In addition, any such properties that we may own may be adversely affected by factors outside our control, such as extreme weather conditions or natural disasters, terrorist attacks or alerts, outbreaks of contagious diseases, airline strikes, economic factors and other considerations affecting travel. These factors could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and ability to pay distributions to stockholders.

Our student housing properties are subject to seasonality.

Student housing properties are typically leased during leasing seasons, and our properties are therefore highly dependent on (i) the need, desire and ability of students to live in student housing near campus and (ii) on the effectiveness of our marketing and leasing efforts and personnel during such seasons. Additionally, our student housing properties are generally on short-term leases, exposing us to increased leasing risk. We also face economic and operational risks related to the supply of and demand for student housing space in the local market, tenant quality, the higher tenant turnover rate relative to other housing properties, physical attributes of the building in relation to competing buildings (e.g., age, condition, design, appearance, amenities, and location) and access to transportation and proximity to campus, among other factors. Demand for student housing is also impacted by the availability of alternative housing options given that our student housing properties compete with university-owned student housing as well as local, national and regional owner-operators of off-campus student housing and other residential properties and apartments that are generally available to local residents. Additionally, student housing properties are generally on short-term leases, exposing us to increased leasing risk. We may not be able to re-lease our properties on similar terms, if we are able to re-lease our properties at all. The terms of renewal or re-lease (including the cost of required renovations) may be less favorable to us than the prior lease. If we are unable to re-lease all or a substantial portion of our properties, or if the rental rates upon such re-leasing are significantly lower than expected rates, our cash flows from operations could be adversely affected. In addition, the available market for potential residents of student housing properties is inherently restricted as members of the general public are generally not permitted to live in such housing, absent being a student or an employee of the particular academic institution. The properties may also be adversely affected by a change in academic admission policies, including a reduction in the number of student admissions and a corresponding decrease in demand and occupancy rates for such student housing.

Prior to the commencement of each new lease period, we prepare the units for new incoming residents. Other than revenue generated by in-place leases for returning residents, we do not generally recognize lease revenue during this period referred to as “turn” as we have no leases in place. In addition, during turn, we incur expenses preparing our units for occupancy, which we recognize immediately. This lease turn period results in seasonality in our operating results, and as a result, we may experience significantly reduced cash flows during such periods.

In addition, we may be adversely affected by a change in university admission policies. For example, if a university reduces the number of student admissions, the demand for our student housing properties may be reduced and our occupancy rates may decline. Our student housing properties also compete with university-owned student housing and other national and regional owner-operators of off-campus student housing in a number of markets as well as with smaller local owner-operators. The demand for student housing has been, and may in the future be, impacted by epidemics or pandemics, such as the COVID-19 pandemic, where students could be restricted from living in student housing for all or a considerable portion of the academic school year (or may otherwise have less desire to live in student housing, such as where classes are taught online during such period). In such circumstances, student housing properties may remain unoccupied and accordingly may not generate any revenue and cash flow during such time and the value of an investment in such properties may be adversely affected.

Government housing regulations may limit the opportunities at some of the government-assisted housing properties we invest in, and failure to comply with resident qualification requirements may result in financial penalties and/or loss of benefits, such as rental revenues paid by government agencies.

To the extent that we invest in government-assisted housing, we may acquire properties that benefit from governmental programs intended to provide affordable housing to individuals with low or moderate incomes. These programs, which are typically administered by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD") or state housing finance agencies, typically provide mortgage insurance, favorable financing terms, tax credits or rental assistance payments to property owners. As a condition of the receipt of assistance under these programs, the properties must comply with various requirements, which typically limit rents to pre-approved amounts and impose restrictions on resident incomes. Failure to comply with these requirements and restrictions may result in financial penalties or loss of benefits. In addition, we will often need to obtain the approval of HUD in order to acquire or dispose of a significant interest in or manage a HUD-assisted property.

Our data center investments are subject to risks from changes in demand, technology and tenant preferences and competition in the data center industry.

Our data center investments are subject to operating risks common to the data center industry, which include changes in tenant demands or preferences, a decline or innovation in the technology industry, such as a decrease in the use of mobile or web-based commerce or the development of artificial intelligence models that utilize significantly less computing power to operate, industry slowdowns, business layoffs or downsizing, relocation of businesses, increased costs of complying with existing or new government regulations and other factors; a downturn in the market for data center space generally such as oversupply of or reduced demand for space; increased competition, including from our tenants choosing to develop their own data centers; changes in the needs or strategies of a relatively small number of key customers; and the rapid development of new technologies or the adoption of new industry standards that render our tenants' current products and services or our facilities obsolete or unmarketable. To the extent that any of these or other adverse conditions occur, they are likely to impact market rents for, and cash flows from, our data center investments, which could have a material adverse effect on us.

Data center demand is highly concentrated in a small number of large counterparties. Such concentration makes the value of data centers particularly susceptible to the risk of financial distress, consolidation or change in capital and expenditure trends of a single or small number of tenants. Data centers require significant upfront and ongoing capital expenditure for land, power, construction and equipment, as well as access to reliable power sources, which may be constrained in key markets. An increase in the price of such inputs can increase build and operating costs and reduce the profitability of such investments. The inability to access sufficient power could constrain our ability to develop land acquired for data centers or to deliver the levels of power required by tenants, each of which could negatively impact the value of our investments. Given the long-term nature of many of the tenant leases at our data centers, a prolonged period of high interest rates could also negatively impact the valuation of such assets to the extent the contractual rent escalators in such leases are insufficient to offset increased costs. In addition, advancements in computing and AI Technologies, including efficiency improvements, without related increases in the adoption and development of such technologies, as well as technological changes that render existing data center designs less competitive or require significant redevelopment, could negatively impact demand for, and the valuation of, our data center investments. The data center sector is also highly competitive, with pressure from various data center operators and hyperscalers building their own facilities. In addition, they have recently faced and continue to face increasing opposition from local communities and organizations. These factors may make it more difficult to deploy additional capital and continue to grow our investments in the sector.

A decrease in the demand for data center assets or other technology- and connectivity-related real estate may have a significant adverse effect on us, which may be more materially adverse than if such assets had a more diversified tenant base or less specialized use.

We have invested and intend to further invest in data center assets. A decrease in the demand for data center assets may have a significant adverse effect on us, which may be more materially adverse than if such assets had a more diversified tenant base or less specialized use. It is possible that changes in industry practice or in technology, such as virtualization technology, more efficient or miniaturization of computing or networking devices, or devices that require higher power densities than today's devices, may reduce demand for physical data center space and infrastructure or render data center properties obsolete or in need of significant upgrades to remain viable. In addition, the development of new technologies, the adoption of new industry standards or other factors may render the products and services of data center tenants obsolete or unmarketable and contribute to a downturn in their businesses, thereby increasing the likelihood of defaults under data center leases, which could have an adverse effect on our return on our investments. There can be no assurance that the costs of adapting to changes in industry practice or in technology will not have a material adverse effect on our investments.

Our customers may be liable for the material that content providers distribute over their network.

Although we believe our liability for third-party information stored on or transmitted through the networks of such companies is limited, the liability of private network operators is affected both by changing technology and evolving legal principles. Our customers may be exposed to legal claims relating to third-party content stored or transmitted on their networks. Such claims could involve, among others, allegations of defamation, invasion of privacy, copyright infringement or aiding and abetting restricted activities such as online gambling or pornography. If a customer decides to implement additional measures to reduce their exposure to these risks, or if a customer is required to defend itself against these kinds of claims, such customer's operating results and financial condition could be negatively affected.

Our data centers may not be suitable for re-leasing without significant expenditures or renovations.

Because many of our data centers contain tenant improvements installed at our tenants' expense, they may be better suited for a specific data center user or technology industry tenants and could require significant modification in order for us to re-lease vacant space to another data center user or technology industry tenants. The tenant improvements may also become outdated or obsolete as the result of technological change, the passage of time or other factors.

As a result, we may be required to invest significant amounts or offer significant discounts to tenants in order to lease or re-lease that space, either of which could adversely affect our financial and operating results.

Our ability to lease any available space at our data centers to existing or new tenants could be constrained by our ability to obtain sufficient electrical power.

As current and future tenants increase their power footprint in our data centers over time, the corresponding reduction in available power could limit our ability to increase occupancy rates or network density within our existing data centers. Furthermore, at certain of our data centers, our aggregate maximum contractual obligation to provide power and cooling to our tenants may exceed the physical capacity at such data centers if tenants were to quickly increase their demand for power and cooling. If we are not able to increase the available power and/or cooling or move the tenant to another location within our data centers with sufficient power and cooling to meet such demand, we could lose the tenant as well as be exposed to liability under our tenant agreements. In addition, our power and cooling systems are difficult and expensive to upgrade. Accordingly, we may not be able to efficiently upgrade or change these systems to meet new demands without incurring significant costs that we may not be able to pass on to our tenants. Any such material loss of tenants, liability or additional costs could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, we have acquired land that we intend to develop into data centers. We may not be able to obtain the necessary electrical power to do so, which will prevent us from fully developing the land and negatively impact the value of our investment in the land.

We depend on third parties to provide network connectivity to the tenants in our data centers and any delays or disruptions in connectivity may materially adversely affect our operating results and cash flow.

We are not a telecommunications carrier. Although our tenants generally are responsible for providing their own network connectivity, we still depend upon the presence of telecommunications carriers' fiber networks serving our data centers in order to attract and retain tenants. We believe that the availability of carrier capacity will directly affect our ability to achieve our projected results. Any carrier may elect not to offer its services within our data centers. Any carrier that has decided to provide network connectivity to our data centers may not continue to do so for any period of time. Further, some carriers are experiencing business difficulties or have announced consolidations. As a result, some carriers may be forced to downsize or terminate connectivity within our data centers, which could have an adverse effect on the business of our tenants and, in turn, our own operating results.

Our data centers may require construction and operation of a sophisticated redundant fiber network. The construction required to connect multiple carrier facilities to our data centers is complex and involves factors outside of our control, including regulatory requirements and the availability of construction resources. If the establishment of highly diverse network connectivity to our data centers does not occur, is materially delayed or is discontinued, or is subject to failure, our operating results and cash flow may be materially adversely affected. Additionally, any hardware or fiber failures on this network may result in significant loss of connectivity to our data centers. This could negatively affect our ability to attract new tenants or retain existing tenants, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to adapt to changing technologies and tenant requirements, and our data center infrastructure may become obsolete.

The technology industry generally and specific industries in which certain of our tenants operate are characterized by rapidly changing technology, tenant requirements and industry standards. New systems to deliver power to or eliminate heat in data centers or the development of new server technology that does not require the levels of critical load and heat removal that our facilities are designed to provide and could be run less expensively on a different platform could make our data center infrastructure obsolete. Our power and cooling systems are difficult and expensive to upgrade, and we may not be able to efficiently upgrade or change these systems to meet new demands without incurring significant costs that we may not be able to pass on to our tenants which could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, the infrastructure that connects our data centers to the Internet and other external networks may become insufficient, including with respect to latency, reliability and connectivity. We may not be able to adapt to changing technologies or meet customer demands for new processes or technologies in a timely and cost-effective manner, if at all, which would adversely impact our ability to sustain and grow our business.

Further, our inability to adapt to changing tenants requirements may make our data centers obsolete or unmarketable to such customers. Some of our tenants operate at significant scale across numerous data center facilities and have designed cloud and computing networks with redundancies and fail-over capabilities across these facilities, which enhances the resiliency of their networks and applications. As a result, these tenants may realize cost benefits by locating their data center operations in facilities with less electrical or mechanical infrastructure redundancy than is found in our existing data center facilities. Additionally, some of our tenants have begun to operate their data centers using a wider range of humidity levels and at temperatures that are higher than servers customarily have operated at in the past, all of which may result in energy cost savings for these tenants. We may not be able to operate our existing data centers under these environmental conditions, particularly in multi-tenant facilities with other tenants who are not willing to operate under these conditions, and our data centers could be at a competitive disadvantage to facilities that satisfy such requirements. Because we may not be able to modify the redundancy levels or environmental systems of our existing data centers cost effectively, these or other changes in tenant requirements could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Additionally, due to regulations that apply to our tenants as well as industry standards, they may seek specific requirements from their data centers that we are unable to provide. If new or different regulations or standards are adopted or such extra requirements are demanded by our tenants, we could lose some tenants or be unable to attract new tenants in certain industries, which could materially and adversely affect our operations.

Our retail tenants face competition from numerous retail channels.

Retailers leasing our properties will face continued competition from shopping via the internet, discount or value retailers, factory outlet centers, wholesale clubs, mail order catalogues and operators and television shopping networks. Such competition could adversely affect our tenants and, consequently, our revenues and FAD.

Retail properties depend on anchor tenants to attract shoppers and could be adversely affected by the loss of a key anchor tenant.

Retail properties, like other properties, are subject to the risk that tenants may be unable to make their lease payments or may decline to extend a lease upon its expiration. A lease termination by a tenant that occupies a large area of a retail center (commonly referred to as an anchor tenant) could impact leases of other tenants. Other tenants may be entitled to modify the terms of their existing leases in the event of a lease termination by an anchor tenant, or the closure of the business of an anchor tenant that leaves its space vacant even if the anchor tenant continues to pay rent. Any such modifications or conditions could be unfavorable to us as the property owner and could decrease rents or expense recoveries. Additionally, major tenant closures may result in decreased customer traffic, which could lead to decreased sales at other stores. In the event of default by a tenant or anchor store, we may experience delays and costs in enforcing our rights as landlord to recover amounts due to us under the terms of our agreements with those parties.

We may be adversely affected by trends in the office real estate industry.

We are able to make investments in office properties, which subjects us to particular economic and operating risks. These risks relate to supply of and demand for office space in the local market, the impact of economic conditions on the local market and the building's tenants, tenant quality, diversification and the physical and sustainability attributes of the building in relation to competing buildings (e.g., age, condition, design, appearance, amenities, location and LEED® certification and other certifications), and access to transportation. Prior to signing or renewing a lease, tenants may require particular updates or infrastructural improvements that may involve greater expenditure than traditional commercial real estate properties (e.g., reconfiguration and/or renovation of office space, upgrades to electrical, gas and plumbing infrastructure, HVAC systems and security systems) and such infrastructural needs may vary depending on the particular tenant. Some businesses are rapidly evolving to make employee telecommuting, flexible work schedules, open workplaces and teleconferencing increasingly common. These practices enable businesses to reduce their space requirements. Such trends, particularly in light of the current economic outlook, could lead one or more major tenants in any office real estate investments to exit their leases, which could result in a major business disruption for the portfolio entity operating such office space, given the potential difficulty in finding a replacement tenant. A continuation of the movement towards these practices could over time erode the overall demand for office space and, in turn, place downward pressure on occupancy, rental rates and property valuations, each of which could have an adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations, cash flows and ability to make expected distributions to our stockholders. We may also be negatively impacted by competition from other short-term office or shared space leasing companies or changes in government spending to reduce federal office space as part of the current administration's cost reduction initiatives. In addition, certain office property investments may present higher risks from a lender's perspective such that financing may not be as readily-available than that for other types of investments.

We could be negatively impacted by increased competition, decreased demand and restrictive zoning ordinances in the manufactured housing markets in which we invest.

The manufactured housing industry is generally subject to many of the same national and regional economic and demographic factors that affect the housing industry generally. These factors, including shortage of consumer financing, public's perception, consumer confidence, inflation, regional population and employment trends, availability of and cost of alternative housing, weather conditions and general economic conditions, tend to impact manufactured homes to a greater degree than traditional rental housing homes. Our operating results from our manufactured housing investments may be adversely affected by: (i) competition from other available manufactured housing sites or available land for the placement of manufactured homes outside of established communities and alternative forms of housing (such as apartment buildings and site built single-family homes) and (ii) local real estate market conditions such as the oversupply of manufactured housing sites or a reduction in demand for manufactured housing sites in an area. In addition, the inability to secure zoning permits from local authorities may pose the most significant barrier to entry for developing new manufactured housing sites.

Manufactured home loans may be subject to greater credit risk.

We may hold loans secured by manufactured homes, which generally have higher delinquency and default rates than standard residential mortgage loans due to various factors, including, among other things, the manner in which borrowers have handled previous credit, the absence or limited extent of borrowers' prior credit history, limited financial resources, frequent changes in or loss of employment and changes in borrowers' personal or domestic situations that affect their ability to repay loans. Any substantial economic slowdown could increase delinquencies, defaults, repossessions and foreclosures with respect to manufactured homes. Also, the value of manufactured homes may depreciate over time, which can negatively impact the manufactured home industry and lead to increased defaults and delinquencies and lower recovery rates upon default.

Our investments in real estate associated with gaming facilities will be impacted by the risks associated with the gaming industry.

We invest in real estate associated with gaming facilities, which are subject to risks associated with the gaming industry, including changes in consumer trends, the impact of gaming regulations on us and/or our tenants, reductions in discretionary consumer spending and corporate spending on conventions and business development and preferences, changes in laws or foreign monetary policies that impact consumer behavior, and other factors over which we have no control. Economic contraction, economic uncertainty or the perception by potential customers of weak or weakening economic conditions may cause a decline in demand for hotels, casino resorts, trade shows and conventions. Such investments may also be affected by risks relating to the tourism industry for the geographic areas in which our properties are located, including cost and availability of air services or other travel methods.

The gaming industry is characterized by a high degree of competition among a large number of participants, including riverboat casinos, dockside casinos, land-based casinos, video lottery, sweepstakes and poker machines not located in casinos, Native American gaming, internet lotteries and other internet wagering gaming services and, in a broader sense, gaming operators face competition from all manner of leisure and entertainment activities. Gaming competition is intense in the markets where our facilities are located. Recently, there has been additional significant competition in the gaming industry as a result of the upgrading or expansion of facilities by existing market participants, the entrance of new gaming participants into a market, the growth of general internet and electronic sports-related gaming and legislative changes, including relating to sports betting. As competing properties and new markets are opened, we and our tenants may be negatively impacted.

Our self storage investments are subject to risks from fluctuating demand and competition in the self storage industry.

Our self storage investments are subject to operating risks common to the self storage industry, which include business layoffs or downsizing, industry slowdowns, relocation of businesses and changing demographics, changes in supply of, or demand for, similar or competing self storage properties in an area and the excess amount of self storage space in a particular market, changes in market rental rates and inability to collect rents from customers. The self storage industry has at times experienced overbuilding in response to perceived increases in demand. A recurrence of overbuilding might cause our self storage investments to experience a decrease in occupancy levels, as well as limit the ability to increase rents and offer discounted rents.

We invest in commercial properties subject to net leases, which could subject us to losses.

We invest in commercial properties subject to net leases. Typically, net leases require the tenants to pay substantially all of the operating costs associated with the properties. As a result, the value of, and income from, investments in commercial properties subject to net leases will depend, in part, upon the ability of the applicable tenant to meet its obligations to maintain the property under the terms of the net lease. If a tenant fails or becomes unable to so maintain a property, we will be subject to all risks associated with owning the underlying real estate. In addition, we may have limited oversight into the operations or the managers of these properties, subject to the terms of the net leases.

Certain commercial properties subject to net leases in which we invest are occupied by a single tenant and, therefore, the success of such investments is largely dependent on the financial stability of each such tenant. A default of any such tenant on its lease payments to us would cause us to lose the revenue from the property and cause us to have to find an alternative source of revenue to meet any mortgage payment and prevent a foreclosure if the property is subject to a mortgage. In the event of a default, we may experience delays in enforcing our rights as landlord and may incur substantial costs in protecting our investment and re-letting our property. If a lease is terminated, we may also incur significant losses to make the leased premises ready for another tenant and experience difficulty or a significant delay in re-leasing such property.

In addition, net leases typically have longer lease terms and, thus, there is an increased risk that contractual rental increases in future years will fail to result in fair market rental rates during those years.

We may acquire these investments through sale-leaseback transactions, which involve the purchase of a property and the leasing of such property back to the seller thereof. If we enter into a sale-leaseback transaction, we will seek to structure any such sale-leaseback transaction such that the lease will be characterized as a "true lease" for U.S. federal income tax purposes, thereby allowing us to be treated as the owner of the property for U.S. federal income tax purposes. However, we cannot assure you that the IRS will not challenge such characterization. In the event that any such sale-leaseback transaction is challenged and recharacterized as a financing transaction or loan for U.S. federal income tax purposes, deductions for depreciation and cost recovery relating to such property would be disallowed, and the timing of our income inclusion could differ from that of the lease payments. If a sale-leaseback transaction were so recharacterized (or otherwise not respected as a lease), we might fail to satisfy the REIT qualification "asset tests" or "income tests" and, consequently, lose our REIT status effective with the year of recharacterization. Alternatively, the amount of our REIT taxable income could be recalculated, which might also cause us to fail to meet the REIT distribution requirement for a taxable year.

If a tenant of a net lease defaults and we are unable to find a replacement tenant, we may attempt to hold and operate the relevant property ourselves through a taxable REIT subsidiary, which would subject income on the property to corporate-level taxation, thereby reducing our FAD. In certain circumstances, depending on how much capacity we have available of the total value we are permitted to hold in taxable REIT subsidiaries under applicable rules, we may not be able to hold and operate the property in a taxable REIT subsidiary, which could result in the property and the related income not satisfying the REIT qualification asset and income tests and could jeopardize our REIT status.

Technological or other innovations may disrupt the markets and sectors in which we operate and subject us to increased competition or negatively impact the tenants of our properties and the value of our properties.

Recent trends in the real estate market and the sectors in which we invest generally have been toward disrupting the industry with technological or other innovations, and multiple young companies have been successful in capitalizing on this trend toward disruption. In this period of rapid technological and commercial innovation, new businesses and approaches may be created that could affect us, tenants of our properties or our investments or alter the market practices that help frame our strategy. For example, the value of our hospitality properties is affected by competition from the non-traditional hospitality sector (such as short-term rental services), our office properties are affected by competition from shared office spaces (including co-working environments), our retail properties may be affected by changes in consumer behavior, including increased shopping via the internet, and our warehouse industrial properties may be affected if supply chains evolve in a way that decreases the need for traditional warehousing. Any of these new approaches could damage our investments, significantly disrupt the market in which we operate and subject us to increased competition, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of investments. Moreover, given the pace of innovation in recent years, the impact on a particular investment may not have been foreseeable at the time we made the investment. Furthermore, we could base investment decisions on views about the direction or degree of innovation that prove inaccurate and lead to losses.

Supply chain disruptions could create unexpected renovation or maintenance costs or delays and/or could impact our tenants' businesses, any of which could have a negative effect on our results of operations.

The construction and building industry, similar to many other industries, has experienced worldwide supply chain disruptions due to a multitude of factors that are beyond our control, and such disruptions may occur in the future. Materials, parts and labor have also increased in cost over the recent past, sometimes significantly and over a short period of time, and such increases and volatility may continue or recur from time to time. We may incur costs for a property renovation or maintenance that exceeds our original estimates due to increased costs for materials or labor or other costs that are unexpected. We also may be unable to complete renovation of a property or tenant space on schedule due to supply chain disruptions or labor shortages, which we would expect cause a default under development or construction financing if not timely cured. Some tenants may have the right to terminate their leases if a development or renovation project is not completed on time or may be entitled to agreed-upon remuneration for such delay. The potential liabilities to tenants and lenders in these cases can generally be expected to be recourse to certain of our subsidiaries with substantial other assets. In addition, our tenants' businesses may also be affected by supply chain issues (particularly for our industrial or retail properties), which could impact their ability to meet their obligations to us under their leases.

We may make investments in land that we seek to develop.

Subject to the limitations of our charter and although not our primary strategy, we may acquire direct or indirect interests in undeveloped land or underdeveloped real estate, which may be non-income producing. To the extent we seek to develop real estate, it will be subject to various related risks, including those associated with obtaining zoning, environmental and other regulatory requirements, the cost and time of completing construction (including risks beyond our control, such as weather, labor conditions, material shortages, trade disruption and counterparty default), the ability to obtain the necessary facilities for the property (such as obtaining power supply for data center projects), and the availability of both construction and permanent financing on favorable terms. Development is also more susceptible to irregular accounting or other fraudulent practices. These risks could result in substantial unanticipated delays or expenses and, under certain circumstances, could prevent completion of development activities. Additionally, development or redevelopment projects can carry an increased risk of litigation with contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, partners, counterparties and others. Assets under development or assets acquired for development may receive little or no cash flow from the date of acquisition through the date of completion of development and may experience operating deficits after the date of completion. In addition, market conditions may change during the course of development that make the lease-up, cash flow, and value of such development less profitable than anticipated.

We may face risks associated with investing in troubled assets

Although not our primary strategy, we may invest in nonperforming, underperforming or troubled assets or undercapitalized real estate companies. The success of such investments often depends on the Adviser's ability to reposition the assets or improve their operating results, which may require additional capital. There can be no assurance the Adviser or we will be successful in such endeavors.

We may acquire properties within a different sector (e.g., hospitality, residential, office, etc.) with the intent to convert or redevelop such properties into another sector.

In certain circumstances, we are able to acquire properties within a different sector (e.g., hospitality, residential, office, etc.) with the intent to convert or redevelop such properties into another sector. Any such conversion or redevelopment projects will be subject to the same risks as described above regarding developments, as well as the risk that the converted or redeveloped property is less desirable to potential tenants than properties that were initially designed for a specific use, and we could hold any such properties outside our primary investment objectives and strategies for an extended period of time.

We may face risks associated with investing in assets acquired from financial institutions.

We are able to acquire investments (including securities and debt instruments) previously held by financial institutions, which involve specific risks. The financial institution that sold any such investments could become insolvent, experience serious financial difficulty, or cease to exist, which may have a negative impact on such investment and any such instruments acquired by us and therefore, on us. Furthermore, if the financial institution that originated any such investment or instrument inappropriately exercised control over the management and policies of a debtor, the related note acquired by us may be subordinated to other claims or disallowed, or we may be found liable for damages suffered by parties as a result of the actions taken by the financial institution. In addition, under certain circumstances under U.S. law, payments us and distributions by us to investors may be required to be returned if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment. Non-U.S. jurisdictions may present analogous or different credit issues.

We may face risks related to zoning, siting and permitting, including related to any properties under development.

We may have exposure to assets that are subject to zoning, siting, permitting and other requirements, which may be long, burdensome and costly, and may subject us to additional governmental and public scrutiny. Zoning and permitting processes vary depending on the nature and location of the assets in question and, depending on the asset and activity to be conducted, the approval of multiple federal, state, local and other authorities may be required. Obtaining these approvals may be outside of our control. In addition, zoning, siting and permitting processes often face local opposition and may be challenged by a number of parties, including non-governmental organizations and special interest groups based on alleged security concerns, disturbances to natural habitats for wildlife and adverse aesthetic impacts. Beyond the time-consuming process of applying for the necessary permits, we may be required to undergo public hearings at which local communities will decide whether or not to grant the proper land use designations. Highly motivated citizens in many local communities often oppose plans to develop new properties or to expand existing properties, in many cases demonstrating the "Not in My Backyard" phenomenon. Such factors could make it difficult to develop new development sites and to expand existing assets. The failure to receive, renew or maintain any required permits or approvals may result in increased compliance costs, the need for additional capital expenditures or a suspension of some operations.

We may acquire assets opportunistically, which will involve a higher risk of loss than more conservative investment strategies.

While we primarily invest in stabilized income-generating commercial real estate, we to a lesser extent acquire opportunistic assets that we can reposition, redevelop or remarket to create value enhancement and capital appreciation. This may involve the acquisition of properties in markets that are depressed or overbuilt, or have high growth potential in real estate lease rates and sale prices. As a result of our investment in these types of markets, we will face increased risks relating to changes in local market conditions and increased competition for similar properties in the same market, as well as increased risks that these markets will not recover and the value of our properties in these markets will not increase, or will decrease, over time. We may also acquire land that requires development, including for data center properties, and there is no guarantee that we will be able to develop such land successfully or at all. For these and other reasons, we cannot assure you that we will be profitable or that we will realize growth in the value of our real estate properties, and as a result, our ability to make distributions to our stockholders could be affected. Our intended investment approach to acquiring and operating income-generating properties involves more risk than comparable real estate programs that have a targeted holding period for investments that is longer than ours, utilize leverage to a lesser degree or employ more conservative investment strategies.

Our real estate investments may be subject to impairment charges.

On a quarterly basis, we assess whether there are any indicators that the value of our real estate investments may be impaired on a GAAP basis. If an impairment indicator is identified, a real estate investment is considered impaired only if our estimate of aggregate future undiscounted cash flows, taking into account the estimated probability-weighted hold period, is less than the carrying amount of the investment. Changes in any estimates and/or assumptions, particularly the estimated hold period could have a material impact on the future undiscounted cash flows.

The evaluation of anticipated future cash flows is highly subjective and is based in part on assumptions regarding future occupancy, rental rates, capital requirements and anticipated holding periods that could differ materially from actual results. Since cash flows on real estate properties considered to be "long-lived assets to be held and used" are considered on an undiscounted basis to determine whether an asset has been impaired, our strategy of holding properties over the long term directly decreases the likelihood of recording an impairment loss. If our strategy changes or market conditions otherwise dictate an earlier sale date, an impairment loss may be recognized, and such loss could be material to our results. If we determine that an impairment has occurred, the affected assets must be reduced to their fair value.

We face risks associated with governmental action.

Our investments may become subject to nationalization, condemnation, seizure, eminent domain or other similar actions by governmental authorities. Such an action could have a material adverse effect on the financial viability and marketability of our investments and there can be no assurance that we will have, or be able to effectively enforce, any rights to prevent such action. In addition, we may not be able to anticipate and/or insure against any such losses of property and ultimately may not receive adequate or timely compensation for the cost of its investment and any improvements or other costs relating thereto.

We face risks associated with force majeure events.

We may be affected by force majeure events (i.e., events beyond the control of the party claiming that the event has occurred, including, without limitation, acts of God, fires, floods, earthquakes, hurricanes, tornadoes, landslides, explosions, outbreaks of an infectious disease, pandemic or any other serious public health concern, war, regional armed conflict, terrorism, nationalization of industry and labor strikes). For example, many countries have been affected by earthquakes, floods, typhoons, drought, heat waves or forest fires. Disease outbreaks have occurred in the world in the past and are currently occurring (including severe acute respiratory syndrome, or SARS, avian flu, H1N1/09 flu, respiratory syncytial virus, or RSV, COVID-19 and other coronaviruses) and any prolonged occurrence of infectious disease, or other adverse public health developments or natural disasters in any country in which we target investments could have a material adverse effect on the economy in such country or globally and/or the business operations of our investments. Force majeure events could adversely affect the ability of us, a portfolio entity or a counterparty to perform its obligations, including but not limited to the construction of its in-process development. The liability and cost arising out of a failure to perform obligations as a result of a force majeure event could be considerable and could be borne by us or a portfolio entity. In addition, the cost to investments or us of repairing or replacing damaged assets resulting from such force majeure event could be material. Certain force majeure events, such as war, earthquakes, fires or an outbreak of an infectious disease, could have a broader negative impact on the global or local economy and international business activity generally, or in any of the countries in which we may invest specifically, thereby affecting us and the Adviser. Additionally, a major governmental intervention into an industry in light of a force majeure event or otherwise, including the nationalization of an industry or the assertion of control over one or more investments or its assets, could result in a loss to us including if our investment is cancelled, unwound, or acquired (which could be without what the Adviser considers to be adequate compensation) if an investment or portfolio entity is affected, and any compensation provided by the relevant government may not be adequate. Any of the foregoing may therefore adversely affect our performance.

Risks Related to Investments in Real Estate Debt

Investments in real estate debt are subject to risks including various creditor risks and early redemption features which may materially adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

The debt and other interests in which we may invest may include secured or unsecured debt at various levels of an issuer's capital structure. The real estate debt in which we may invest may not be protected by financial covenants or limitations upon additional indebtedness, may be illiquid or have limited liquidity, and may not be rated by a credit rating agency. Real estate debt is also subject to other creditor risks, including (i) the possible invalidation of an investment transaction as a "fraudulent conveyance" under relevant creditors' rights laws, (ii) so-called lender liability claims by the issuer of the obligation and (iii) environmental liabilities that may arise with respect to collateral securing the obligations. Our investments may be subject to early redemption features, refinancing options, pre-payment options or similar provisions which, in each case, could result in the issuer repaying the principal on an obligation held by us earlier than expected, resulting in a lower return to us than anticipated or reinvesting in a new obligation at a lower return to us. Further, credit ratings of assets represent the rating agencies' opinions regarding their credit quality and are not a guarantee of quality. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold assets and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency. In the event that a rating assigned to any corporate debt obligation is lowered for any reason, unless the terms of such corporate debt obligation provide otherwise, no party is obligated to provide any additional support or credit enhancement with respect to such corporate debt obligation. Rating agencies attempt to evaluate the safety of principal and interest payments and do not evaluate the risks of fluctuations in market value; therefore, ratings may not fully reflect the true risks of an investment. Also, rating agencies may fail to make timely changes in credit ratings in response to subsequent events, so that an obligor's current financial condition may be better or worse than a rating indicates. Consequently, credit ratings of any corporate debt obligation may not be a completely reliable indicator of investment quality. Rating reductions or withdrawals may occur for any number of reasons and may affect numerous assets at a single time or within a short period of time, with material adverse effects upon the corporate debt obligation. It is possible that many credit ratings of assets included in or similar to the corporate debt obligation will be subject to significant or severe adjustments downward.

Our debt investments face prepayment risk and interest rate fluctuations that may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

During periods of declining interest rates, the issuer of a security or borrower under a loan may exercise its option to prepay principal earlier than scheduled, forcing us to reinvest the proceeds from such prepayment in lower yielding securities or loans, which may result in a decline in our return. Debt investments frequently have call features that allow the issuer to redeem the security at dates prior to its stated maturity at a specified price (typically greater than par) only if certain prescribed conditions are met. An issuer may choose to redeem debt if, for example, the issuer can refinance the debt at a lower cost due to declining interest rates or an improvement in the credit standing of the issuer. In addition, the market price of our investments will change in response to changes in interest rates and other factors. During periods of declining interest rates, the market price of fixed-rate debt investments generally rises. Conversely, during periods of rising interest rates, the market price of such investments generally declines. The magnitude of these fluctuations in the market price of debt investments is generally greater for securities with longer maturities. Following three consecutive rate cuts, the U.S. Federal Reserve held interest rates steady in January 2026 and noted, among other matters, that it would continue to assess and monitor incoming information in considering additional adjustments. Accordingly, uncertainty remains regarding the timing and extent of any future interest rate decreases. Elevated interest rates have in recent years created downward pressure on the value of our assets. A slower-than-expect decrease, or further increase, continues to create further uncertainty for the economy and for our tenants.

Reinvestment risk could affect the price for our shares or their overall returns.

Reinvestment risk is the risk that income from our portfolio will decline if we invest the proceeds from matured, traded or called securities at market interest rates that are below our real estate debt portfolio's current earnings rate. A decline in income could affect the NAV of our shares or their overall returns.

Debt-oriented real estate investments face a number of general market-related risks that can affect the creditworthiness of issuers, and modifications to certain loan structures and market terms make it more difficult to monitor and evaluate investments.

Any deterioration of real estate fundamentals generally, and in the United States in particular, could negatively impact our performance by making it more difficult for issuers to satisfy their debt payment obligations, increasing the default risk applicable to issuers, and/or making it relatively more difficult for us to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns. Changes in general economic conditions will affect the creditworthiness of issuers and/or real estate collateral relating to our investments and may include economic and/or market fluctuations, changes in environmental and zoning laws, casualty or condemnation losses, regulatory limitations on rents, decreases in property values, changes in the appeal of properties to tenants, changes in supply and demand for competing properties in an area (as a result, for instance, of overbuilding), fluctuations in real estate fundamentals (including average occupancy, operating income and room rates for hotel properties), the financial resources of tenants, changes in availability of debt financing which may render the sale or refinancing of properties difficult or impracticable, changes in building, environmental and other laws, energy and supply shortages, various uninsured or uninsurable risks, natural disasters, political elections and other events, government shutdowns, trade barriers, tariffs, currency exchange controls, changes in government regulations (such as rent control), changes in real property tax rates and operating expenses, changes in interest rates, changes in the availability of debt financing and/or mortgage funds which may render the sale or refinancing of properties difficult or impracticable, increased mortgage defaults, increases in borrowing rates, changes in consumer spending, outbreaks of an infectious disease, epidemics/pandemics or other serious public health concerns, negative developments in the economy or political climate that depress travel activity (including restrictions on travel or quarantines imposed), environmental liabilities, contingent liabilities on disposition of assets, acts of God, terrorist attacks, geopolitical events, military conflicts, war (including conflicts in the Middle East and Ukraine), demand and/or real estate values generally and other factors that are beyond the control of the Adviser. Such changes may develop rapidly and it may be difficult to determine the comprehensive impact of such changes on our investments, particularly for investments that may have inherently limited liquidity. These changes may also create significant volatility in the markets for our investments which could cause rapid and large fluctuations in the values of such investments. Recent concerns about the real estate market, changes in interest rates, elevated inflation, increased energy costs and geopolitical issues (including trade and other conflicts) have contributed to increased market volatility and may negatively impact the economy going forward. There can be no assurance that there will be a ready market for the resale of our debt investments because such investments may not be liquid. Illiquidity may result from the absence of an established market for the investments, as well as legal or contractual restrictions on their resale by us. The value of securities of companies which service the real estate business sector may also be affected by such risks.

The Adviser cannot predict whether economic conditions generally, and the conditions for real estate debt investing in particular, will deteriorate in the future. Declines in the performance of the U.S. and global economies or in the real estate debt markets could have a material adverse effect on our investment activities. In addition, market conditions relating to real estate debt investments have evolved since the financial crisis, which has resulted in a modification to certain loan structures and market terms. For example, it has become increasingly difficult for real estate debt investors in certain circumstances to receive full transparency with respect to underlying investments because transactions are often effectuated on an indirect basis through pools or conduit vehicles rather than directly with the borrower. These and other similar changes in loan structures or market terms may make it more difficult for us to monitor and evaluate investments.

The operating and financial risks of issuers and the underlying default risk across capital structures may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Our securities investments involve credit or default risk, which is the risk that an issuer or borrower will be unable to make principal and interest payments on its outstanding debt when due. The risk of default and losses on real estate debt instruments will be affected by a number of factors, including global, regional and local economic conditions, interest rates, the commercial real estate market in general, an issuer's equity and the financial circumstances of the issuer, as well as general economic conditions. Such default risk will be heightened to the extent we make relatively junior investments in an issuer's capital structure since such investments are structurally subordinate to more senior tranches in such issuer's capital structure, and our overall returns would be adversely affected to the extent one or more issuers is unable to meet its debt payment obligations when due. To the extent we hold an equity or "mezzanine" interest in any issuer that is unable to meet its debt payment obligations, such equity or mezzanine interest could become subordinated to the rights of such issuer's creditors in a bankruptcy. See "—We invest in subordinated debt, which is subject to greater credit risk than senior debt" below. Furthermore, the financial performance of one or more issuers could deteriorate as a result of, among other things, adverse developments in their businesses, changes in the competitive environment or an economic downturn. As a result, underlying properties or issuers that we expected to be stable may operate, or expect to operate, at a loss or have significant fluctuations in ongoing operating results, may otherwise have a weak financial condition or be experiencing financial distress and subject our investments to additional risk of loss and default.

We generally invest in high-yield debt which is generally subject to more risk than higher rated securities.

Debt that is, at the time of purchase, rated below investment grade (below Baa by Moody's and below BBB by S&P and Fitch), an equivalent rating assigned by another nationally recognized statistical rating organization or unrated but judged by the Adviser to be of comparable quality are commonly referred to as "high-yield" securities.

Investments in high-yield securities generally provide greater income and increased opportunity for capital appreciation than investments in higher quality securities, but they also typically entail greater price volatility and principal and income risk, including the possibility of issuer default and bankruptcy. High-yield securities are regarded as predominantly speculative with respect to the issuer's continuing ability to meet principal and interest payments. Debt instruments in the lowest investment grade category also may be considered to possess some speculative characteristics by certain rating agencies. In addition, analysis of the creditworthiness of issuers of high-yield securities may be more complex than for issuers of higher quality securities.

High-yield securities may be more susceptible to real or perceived adverse economic and competitive industry conditions than investment grade securities. A projection of an economic downturn or of a period of rising interest rates, for example, could cause a decline in high yield security prices because the advent of a recession could lessen the ability of an issuer to make principal and interest payments on its debt obligations. If an issuer of high yield securities defaults, in addition to risking non-payment of all or a portion of interest and principal, we may incur additional expenses to seek recovery. The market prices of high-yield securities structured as zero-coupon, step-up or payment-in-kind securities will normally be affected to a greater extent by interest rate changes, and therefore tend to be more volatile than the prices of securities that pay interest currently and in cash.

The secondary market on which high-yield securities are traded may be less liquid than the market for investment grade securities. Less liquidity in the secondary trading market could adversely affect the price at which we could sell a high yield security, and could adversely affect the NAV of our shares. Adverse publicity and investor perceptions, whether or not based on fundamental analysis, may decrease the values and liquidity of high yield securities, especially in a thinly-traded market. When secondary markets for high yield securities are less liquid than the market for investment grade securities, it may be more difficult to value the securities because such valuation may require more research, and elements of judgment may play a greater role in the valuation because there is less reliable, objective data available. During periods of thin trading in these markets, the spread between bid and asked prices is likely to increase significantly and we may have greater difficulty selling our portfolio securities. We will be more dependent on the Adviser's research and analysis when investing in high-yield securities.

Some of our securities investments may become distressed, which securities would have a high risk of default and may be illiquid.

While it is generally anticipated that our real estate-related investments will focus primarily on investments in non-distressed real estate-related interests (based on our belief that there is not a low likelihood of repayment), our investments may become distressed following our acquisition thereof. Additionally, we may invest in real estate debt investments that we believe are available to purchase at "discounted" rates or "undervalued" prices. Purchasing real estate debt at what may appear to be "undervalued" or "discounted" levels is no guarantee that these investments will generate attractive returns to us or will not be subject to further reductions in value. There is no assurance that such investments can be acquired at favorable prices, that such investments will not default, or that the market for such interests will improve. In addition, the market conditions for real estate debt investments may deteriorate further, which could have an adverse effect on the performance of our investments.

During an economic downturn or recession, securities of financially troubled or operationally troubled issuers are more likely to go into default than securities of other issuers. Securities of financially troubled issuers and operationally troubled issuers are less liquid and more volatile than securities of companies not experiencing financial difficulties. The market prices of such securities are subject to erratic and abrupt market movements and the spread between bid and asked prices may be greater than normally expected. Investment in the securities of financially troubled issuers and operationally troubled issuers involves a high degree of credit and market risk. There is no assurance that the Adviser will correctly evaluate the value of the assets collateralizing such investments or the prospects for a successful reorganization or similar action.

These financial difficulties may never be overcome and may cause issuers to become subject to bankruptcy or other similar administrative proceedings, or may require a substantial amount of workout negotiations or restructuring, which may entail, among other things, an extension of the term, a substantial reduction in the interest rate, a substantial writedown of the principal of such investment and other concessions which could adversely affect our returns on the investment. There is a possibility that we may incur substantial or total losses on our investments and in certain circumstances, subject us to certain additional potential liabilities that may exceed the value of our original investment therein.

For example, under certain circumstances, a lender who has inappropriately exercised control over the management and policies of a debtor may have its claims subordinated or disallowed or may be found liable for damages suffered by parties as a result of such actions. In any reorganization or liquidation proceeding relating to our investments, we may lose our entire investment, may be required to accept cash or securities with a value less than our original investment and/or may be required to accept different terms, including payment over an extended period of time. In addition, under certain circumstances payments to us may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance, preferential payment, or similar transactions under applicable bankruptcy and insolvency laws. Furthermore, bankruptcy laws and similar laws applicable to administrative proceedings may delay our ability to realize on collateral for loan positions we held, or may adversely affect the economic terms and priority of such loans through doctrines such as equitable subordination or may result in a restructure of the debt through principles such as the "cramdown" provisions of the bankruptcy laws.

However, even if a restructuring were successfully accomplished, a risk exists that, upon maturity of such investment, replacement "takeout" financing will not be available, resulting in an inability by the issuer to repay the investment. Although unlikely, it is possible that the Adviser may find it necessary or desirable to foreclose on collateral securing one or more real estate debt we acquire. The foreclosure process varies jurisdiction by jurisdiction and can be lengthy and expensive. Issuers often resist foreclosure actions by asserting numerous claims, counterclaims and defenses against the holder of a real estate loan, including, without limitation, lender liability claims and defenses, even when such assertions may have no basis in fact, in an effort to prolong the foreclosure action, which often prolongs and complicates an already difficult and time consuming process. In some states or other jurisdictions, foreclosure actions can take up to several years or more to conclude. During the foreclosure proceedings, an issuer may have the ability to file for bankruptcy, potentially staying the foreclosure action and further delaying the foreclosure process. Foreclosure litigation tends to create a negative public image of the collateral property and may result in disrupting ongoing leasing, management, development and other operations of the property. In the event we foreclose on an investment, we will be subject to the risks associated with owning and operating real estate.

Certain risks associated with CMBS may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We invest a portion of our assets in pools or tranches of CMBS, including horizontal and other risk retention investments. The collateral underlying CMBS generally consists of commercial mortgages on real property that has a rental housing or commercial use, such as retail space, office buildings, warehouse property and hotels, and which from time to time include assets or properties owned directly or indirectly by one or more Other Blackstone Accounts. CMBS have been issued in a variety of issuances, with varying structures including senior and subordinated classes. The commercial mortgages underlying CMBS generally face the risks described above in "— We may invest in commercial mortgage loans which are non-recourse in nature and include limited options for financial recovery in the event of default; an event of default may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition."

Mortgage-backed securities may also have structural characteristics that distinguish them from other securities. The interest rate payable on these types of securities may be set or effectively capped at the weighted average net coupon of the underlying assets themselves. As a result of this cap, the return to investors in such a security would be dependent on the relevant timing and rate of delinquencies and prepayments of mortgage loans bearing a higher rate of interest. In general, early prepayments will have a greater impact on the yield to investors. Federal and state law may also affect the return to investors by capping the interest rates payable by certain mortgagors. Certain mortgage-backed securities may provide for the payment of only interest for a stated period of time. In addition, in a bankruptcy or similar proceeding involving the originator or the servicer of the CMBS (often the same entity or an affiliate), the assets of the issuer of such securities could be treated as never having been truly sold to the originator to the issuer and could be substantively consolidated with those of the originator, or the transfer of such assets to the issuer could be voided as a fraudulent transfer.

The credit markets, including the CMBS market, have periodically experienced decreased liquidity on the primary and secondary markets during periods of market volatility. Such market conditions could re-occur and would impact the valuations of our investments and impair our ability to sell such investments if we were required to liquidate all or a portion of our CMBS investments quickly. Additionally, certain of our securities investments, such as horizontal or other risk retention investments in CMBS, may have certain holding period and other restrictions that limit our ability to sell such investments.

Concentrated CMBS investments may pose specific risks beyond the control of the Adviser that may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Default risks with respect to CMBS investments may be further pronounced in the case of single-issuer CMBSs or CMBSs secured by a small or less diverse collateral pool, which is the majority of our real estate debt portfolio. At any one time, a portfolio of CMBS may be backed by commercial mortgage loans disproportionately secured by properties in only a few states, regions or foreign countries. As a result, such investments may be more susceptible to geographic risks relating to such areas, including adverse economic conditions, declining home values, adverse events affecting industries located in such areas and other factors beyond the control of the Adviser relative to investments in multi-issuer CMBS or a pool of mortgage loans having more diverse property locations.

The quality of the CMBS is dependent on the credit quality and selection of the mortgages for each issuance.

CMBS are also affected by the quality of the credit extended. As a result, the quality of the CMBS is dependent upon the selection of the commercial mortgages for each issuance and the cash flow generated by the commercial real estate assets, as well as the relative diversification of the collateral pool underlying such CMBS.

There are certain risks associated with the insolvency of obligations backing mortgage-backed securities and other investments.

The real estate loans backing the mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") and other investments may be subject to various laws enacted in the jurisdiction or state of the borrower for the protection of creditors. If an unpaid creditor files a lawsuit seeking payment, the court may invalidate all or part of the borrower's debt as a fraudulent conveyance, subordinate such indebtedness to existing or future creditors of the borrower or recover amounts previously paid by the borrower in satisfaction of such indebtedness, based on certain tests for borrower insolvency and other facts and circumstances, which may vary by jurisdiction. There can be no assurance as to what standard a court would apply in order to determine whether the borrower was "insolvent" after giving effect to the incurrence of the indebtedness constituting the mortgage backing the MBS and other investments, or that regardless of the method of valuation, a court would not determine that the borrower was "insolvent" after giving effect to such incurrence. In addition, in the event of the insolvency of a borrower, payments made on such mortgage loans could be subject to avoidance as a "preference" if made within a certain period of time (which may be as long as one year and one day) before insolvency.

There are certain risks associated with MBS interest shortfalls.

Our MBS investments may be subject to interest shortfalls due to interest collected from the underlying loans not being sufficient to pay accrued interest to all of the MBS interest holders. Interest shortfalls to the MBS trust will occur when the servicer does not advance full interest payments on defaulted loans. The servicer in a MBS trust is required to advance monthly principal and interest payments due on a delinquent loan. Once a loan is delinquent for a period of time (generally 60 days), the servicer is required to obtain a new appraisal to determine the value of the property securing the loan. The servicer is only required to advance interest based on the lesser of the loan amount or 90%, generally, of the appraised value. Interest shortfalls occur when 90%, generally, of the appraised value is less than the loan amount and the servicer does not advance interest on the full loan amount. The resulting interest shortfalls impact interest payments on the most junior class in the trust first. As interest shortfalls increase, more senior classes may be impacted. Over time, senior classes may be reimbursed for accumulated shortfalls if the delinquent loans are resolved, but there is no guarantee that shortfalls will be collected. Interest shortfalls to the MBS trust may also occur as a result of accumulated advances and expenses on defaulted loans. When a defaulted loan or foreclosed property is liquidated, the servicer will be reimbursed for accumulated advances and expenses prior to payments to MBS bond holders. If proceeds are insufficient to reimburse the servicer or if a defaulted loan is modified and not foreclosed, the servicer is able to make a claim on interest payments that is senior to the bond holders to cover accumulated advances and expenses. If the claim is greater than interest collected on the loans, interest shortfalls could impact one or more bond classes in a MBS trust until the servicer's claim is satisfied.

We have acquired and expect in the future to acquire MBS affiliated with Blackstone.

We have acquired and expect in the future to acquire MBS whereby mortgages underlying the MBS were issued or acquired by, properties underlying the mortgages in the MBS are owned by, and/or the MBS is serviced or structured by, a Blackstone affiliate. While we may acquire such MBS from third parties on terms already negotiated by and agreed with third parties and will forgo certain non-economic rights (including voting rights) in such MBS as long as the affiliation persists, which we believe should mostly mitigate any conflicts of interest, there is no assurance that such procedures will adequately address all of the conflicts of interest that may arise or will address such conflicts in a manner that results in the allocation of a particular investment opportunity to us or is otherwise favorable to us. Since certain of our executives are also executives of Blackstone, the same personnel may determine the price and terms for the investments for both us and these entities and there can be no assurance that any procedural protections, such as obtaining market prices or other reliable indicators of fair value, will prevent the consideration we pay for these investments from exceeding their fair value or ensure that we receive terms for a particular investment opportunity that are as favorable as those available from an independent third party.

Our CMBS investments face risks associated with extensions that may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Our CMBS and other investments may be subject to extension, resulting in the term of the securities being longer than expected. Extensions are affected by a number of factors, including the general availability of financing in the market, the value of the related mortgaged property, the borrower's equity in the mortgaged property, the financial circumstances of the borrower, fluctuations in the business operated by the borrower on the mortgaged property, competition, general economic conditions and other factors. Such extensions may also be made without the Adviser's consent.

There are certain risks associated with the servicers of commercial real estate loans underlying CMBS and other investments.

The exercise of remedies and successful realization of liquidation proceeds relating to commercial real estate loans underlying CMBS and other investments may be highly dependent on the performance of the servicer or special servicer. The servicer may not be appropriately staffed or compensated to immediately address issues or concerns with the underlying loans. Such servicers may exit the business and need to be replaced, which could have a negative impact on the portfolio due to lack of focus during a transition. Special servicers frequently are affiliated with investors who have purchased the most subordinate bond classes, and certain servicing actions, such as a loan extension instead of forcing a borrower pay off, may benefit the subordinate bond classes more so than the senior bonds. While servicers are obligated to service the portfolio subject to a servicing standard and maximize the present value of the loans for all bond classes, servicers with an affiliate investment in the CMBS or other investments may have a conflict of interest. There may be a limited number of special servicers available, particularly those which do not have conflicts of interest. In addition, to the extent any such servicers fail to effectively perform their obligations pursuant to the applicable servicing agreements, such failure may adversely affect our investments.

We may invest in commercial mortgage loans which are non-recourse in nature and include limited options for financial recovery in the event of default; an event of default may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We may invest from time to time in commercial mortgage loans, including mezzanine loans and B-notes, which are secured by rental housing, commercial or other properties and are subject to risks of delinquency and foreclosure and risks of loss. Commercial real estate loans are generally not fully amortizing, which means that they may have a significant principal balance or balloon payment due on maturity. Full satisfaction of the balloon payment by a commercial borrower is heavily dependent on the availability of subsequent financing or a functioning sales market, as well as other factors such as the value of the property, the level of prevailing mortgage rates, the borrower's equity in the property and the financial condition and operating history of the property and the borrower. In certain situations, and during periods of credit distress, the unavailability of real estate financing may lead to default by a commercial borrower. In addition, in the absence of any such takeout financing, the ability of a borrower to repay a loan secured by an income-generating property will depend upon the successful operation of such property rather than upon the existence of independent income or assets of the borrower. If the net operating income of the property is reduced, the borrower's ability to repay the loan may be impaired. Furthermore, we may not have the same access to information in connection with investments in commercial mortgage loans, either when investigating a potential investment or after making an investment, as compared to publicly traded securities.

Commercial mortgage loans are usually non-recourse in nature. Therefore, if a commercial borrower defaults on the commercial mortgage loan, then the options for financial recovery are limited in nature. To the extent the underlying default rates with respect to the pool or tranche of commercial real estate loans in which we directly or indirectly invest increase, the performance of our investments related thereto may be adversely affected. Default rates and losses on commercial mortgage loans will be affected by a number of factors, including global, regional and local economic conditions in the area where the mortgage properties are located, the borrower's equity in the mortgage property, the financial circumstances of the borrower, tenant mix and tenant bankruptcies, property management decisions, including with respect to capital improvements, property location and condition, competition from other properties offering the same or similar services, environmental conditions, real estate tax rates, tax credits and other operating expenses, governmental rules, regulations and fiscal policies, acts of God, terrorism, social unrest and civil disturbances. A continued decline in specific commercial real estate markets and property valuations may result in higher delinquencies and defaults and potentially foreclosures. In the event of default, the lender will have no right to assets beyond collateral attached to the commercial mortgage loan. The overall level of commercial mortgage loan defaults remains significant and market values of the underlying commercial real estate remain distressed in many cases. It has also become increasingly difficult for lenders to dispose of foreclosed commercial real estate without incurring substantial investment losses, ultimately leading to a decline in the value of such investments.

In the event of any default under a mortgage or real estate loan held directly by us, we will bear a risk of loss of principal to the extent of any deficiency between the value of the collateral and the principal and accrued interest of the mortgage or real estate loan, which could have a material adverse effect on our profitability. In the event of the bankruptcy of a mortgage or real estate loan borrower, the mortgage or real estate loan to such borrower will be deemed to be secured only to the extent of the value of the underlying collateral at the time of bankruptcy (as determined by the bankruptcy court), and the lien securing the mortgage or real estate loan will be subject to the avoidance powers of the bankruptcy trustee or debtor-in-possession to the extent the lien is unenforceable under state law. Additionally, in the event of a default under any senior debt, the junior or subordinate lender generally forecloses on the equity, purchases the senior debt or negotiates a forbearance or restructuring arrangement with the senior lender in order to preserve its collateral.

We may invest in structured products or similar products that may include structural and legal risks.

We have and in the future may invest from time to time in structured products, including pools of mortgages, loans and other real estate-related interests. These investments may include debt securities issued by a private investment fund that invests, on a leveraged basis, in bank loans, high-yield debt or other asset groups, certificates issued by a structured investment vehicle that holds pools of commercial mortgage loans. We have and in the future may also invest in credit risk transfer notes that, while not structured products, face similar risks as structured products because they are debt securities issued by governmental agencies but their value depends in part on a pool of mortgage loans. Our investments in structured products are subject to a number of risks, including risks related to the fact that the structured products will be leveraged, and other structural and legal risks related thereto. Utilization of leverage is a speculative investment technique and will generally magnify the opportunities for gain and risk of loss borne by an investor investing in the subordinated debt securities. Many structured products contain covenants designed to protect the providers of debt financing to such structured products. A failure to satisfy those covenants could result in the untimely liquidation of the structured product and a complete loss of our investment therein. In addition, if the particular structured product is invested in a security in which we are also invested, this would tend to increase our overall exposure to the credit of the issuer of such securities, at least on an absolute, if not on a relative basis. The value of an investment in a structured product will depend on the investment performance of the assets in which the structured product invests and will, therefore, be subject to all of the risks associated with an investment in those assets. These risks include the possibility of a default by, or bankruptcy of, the issuers of such assets or a claim that the pledging of collateral to secure any such asset constituted a fraudulent conveyance or preferential transfer that can be subordinated to the rights of other creditors of the issuer of such asset or nullified under applicable law.

We have and may in the future acquire and sell residential credit investments, which may subject us to legal, regulatory and other risks that could adversely impact our business and financial results.

We have and may in the future invest directly and indirectly in residential credit investments, which may include performing loans, nonperforming loans, residential mortgage loans and RMBS, which represent interests in pools of residential mortgage loans secured by one to four family residential mortgage loans. Investments in residential credit (including RMBS) are subject to various risks and uncertainties, including credit, market, interest rate, structural and legal risk. These risks may be magnified by volatility in the economy and in real estate markets generally. Any downturn in the U.S. or global economies may adversely affect the financial condition of residential owners and tenants, making it more difficult for them to meet their periodic repayment obligations relating to residential real estate. Residential credits are not traded on an exchange and there may be a limited market for the securities, especially when there is a perceived weakness in the mortgage and real estate market sectors. In addition, interest and principal payments for RMBS are made more frequently than traditional debt securities and the principal of any RMBS may often be prepaid at any time because the underlying residential mortgage loans may be prepaid at any time.

Residential mortgage loans are obligations of the borrowers thereunder only and are not typically insured or guaranteed by any other person or entity, although such loans may be securitized by government agencies and the securities issued may be guaranteed. The rate of defaults and losses on residential mortgage loans will be affected by a number of factors, including general economic conditions and those in the geographic area where the mortgaged property is located, the terms of the mortgage loan, the borrower's equity in the mortgaged property, and the financial circumstances of the borrower. Certain mortgage loans may be of sub-prime credit quality (i.e., do not meet the customary credit standards of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). Delinquencies and liquidation proceedings are more likely with sub-prime mortgage loans than with mortgage loans that satisfy customary credit standards. If a residential mortgage loan is in default, foreclosure of such residential mortgage loan may be a lengthy and difficult process, and may involve significant expenses. Furthermore, the market for defaulted residential mortgage loans or foreclosed properties may be very limited.

Residential mortgage loans in an issue of RMBS may also be subject to various U.S. federal and state laws, foreign laws, public policies and principles of equity that protect consumers which, among other things, may regulate interest rates and other fees, require certain disclosures, require licensing of originators, prohibit discriminatory lending practices, regulate the use of consumer credit information, and regulate debt collection practices. In addition, a number of legislative proposals have been introduced in the United States at the federal, state, and municipal level that are designed to discourage predatory lending practices. Violation of such laws, public policies, and principles may limit the servicer's ability to collect all or part of the principal or interest on a residential mortgage loan, entitle the borrower to a refund of amounts previously paid by it, or subject the servicer to damages and administrative enforcement. Any such violation could also result in cash flow delays and losses on the related issue of RMBS.

Our investments in RMBS, which may include government mortgage pass-through securities and non-agency RMBS, are subject to certain other risks which may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Our investments in RMBS are subject to the risks of defaults, foreclosure timeline extension, fraud, home price depreciation and unfavorable modification of loan principal amount, interest rate and amortization of principal accompanying the underlying residential mortgage loans. To the extent that assets underlying our investments are concentrated geographically, by property type or in certain other respects, we may be subject to certain of the foregoing risks to a greater extent. In the event of defaults on the residential mortgage loans that underlie our investments in RMBS and the exhaustion of any underlying or any additional credit support, we may not realize our anticipated return on our investments and we may incur a loss on these investments. At any one time, a portfolio of RMBS may be backed by residential mortgage loans with disproportionately large aggregate principal amounts secured by properties in only a few states or regions in the United States or in only a few foreign countries. As a result, the residential mortgage loans may be more susceptible to geographic risks relating to such areas, such as adverse economic conditions, adverse political changes, adverse events affecting industries located in such areas and natural hazards affecting such areas, than would be the case for a pool of mortgage loans having more diverse property locations. We may also acquire non-agency RMBS, which are backed by residential property but, in contrast to agency RMBS, their principal and interest are not guaranteed by federally chartered entities such as the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and, in the case of the Government National Mortgage Association ("Ginnie Mae"), the U.S. government. In addition, we may invest in government mortgage pass-through securities, which represent participation interests in pools of residential mortgage loans purchased from individual lenders by a federal agency or originated by private lenders and guaranteed by a federal agency, including those issued or guaranteed by Ginnie Mae, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. Ginnie Mae certificates are direct obligations of the U.S. Government and, as such, are backed by the "full faith and credit" of the United States. Fannie Mae is a federally chartered, privately owned corporation and Freddie Mac is a corporate instrumentality of the United States. Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac certificates are not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States but the issuing agency or instrumentality has the right to borrow, to meet its obligations, from an existing line of credit with the U.S. Treasury. The U.S. Treasury has no legal obligation to provide such line of credit and may choose not to do so.

We will face risks related to our investments in collateralized debt obligations.

We may also invest from time to time in collateralized debt obligations ("CDOs"). CDOs include, among other things, collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs") and other similarly structured securities. A CLO is a trust typically collateralized by a pool of loans, which may include, among others, domestic and foreign senior secured loans, senior unsecured loans and subordinate corporate loans, including loans that may be rated below investment grade or equivalent unrated loans. CDOs may charge a management fee and administrative expenses. For CLOs, the cash flows from the trust are split into two or more portions, called tranches, varying in risk and yield. The riskiest portion is the "equity" tranche which bears the bulk of defaults from the bonds or loans in the trust and serves to protect the other, more senior tranches from default in all but the most severe circumstances. Since it is partially protected from defaults, a senior tranche from a CLO trust typically has higher ratings and lower yields than the underlying securities, and can be rated investment grade. Despite the protection from the equity tranche, CLO tranches can experience substantial losses due to actual defaults, increased sensitivity to defaults due to collateral default and disappearance of protecting tranches, market anticipation of defaults and aversion to CLO securities as a class. The risks of an investment in a CDO depend largely on the type of the collateral and the class of the CDO in which we invest.

Normally, CLOs and other CDOs are privately offered and sold, and thus are not registered under the securities laws. As a result, certain investments in CDOs may be characterized as illiquid securities and volatility in CLO and CDO trading markets may cause the value of these investments to decline. Moreover, if the underlying mortgage portfolio has been overvalued by the originator, or if the values subsequently decline and, as a result, less collateral value is available to satisfy interest and principal payments and any other fees in connection with the trust or other conduit arrangement for such securities, we may incur significant losses. Also, with respect to the CLOs and CDOs in which we may invest, control over the related underlying loans will be exercised through a special servicer or collateral manager designated by a "directing certificate holder" or a "controlling class representative," or otherwise pursuant to the related securitization documents. We may acquire classes of CLOs or CDOs for which we may not have the right to appoint the directing certificate holder or otherwise direct the special servicing or collateral management. With respect to the management and servicing of those loans, the related special servicer or collateral manager may take actions that could adversely affect our interests. In addition to the risks associated with debt instruments (e.g., interest rate risk and credit risk), CDOs carry additional risks including, but not limited to: (i) the possibility that distributions from collateral securities will not be adequate to make interest or other payments; (ii) the quality of the collateral may decline in value or default; (iii) the possibility that we may invest in CDOs that are subordinate to other classes; and (iv) the complex structure of the security may not be fully understood at the time of investment and may produce disputes with the issuer or unexpected investment results.

We invest in subordinated debt, which is subject to greater credit risk than senior debt.

We have in the past and may in the future from time to time invest in debt instruments, including junior tranches of CMBS and "mezzanine" or junior mortgage loans (e.g., B-Notes), that are subordinated in an issuer's capital structure. To the extent we invest in subordinated debt of an issuer's capital structure, including subordinated CMBS bonds or other "mezzanine" debt, such investments and our remedies with respect thereto, including the ability to foreclose on any collateral securing such investments, will be subject to the rights of holders of more senior tranches in an issuer's capital structure and, to the extent applicable, contractual inter-creditor, co-lender and participation agreement provisions.

Investments in subordinated debt involve greater credit risk of default and loss than the more senior classes or tranches of debt in an issuer's capital structure. Subordinated tranches of debt instruments (including mortgage-backed securities) absorb losses from default before other more senior tranches of such instruments, which creates a risk particularly if such instruments (or securities) have been issued with little or no credit enhancement or equity. As a result, to the extent we invest in subordinated debt instruments (including mortgage-backed securities), we would likely receive payments or interest distributions after, and must bear the effects of losses or defaults on, the senior debt (including underlying mortgage loans, senior mezzanine debt or senior CMBS bonds) before, the holders of other more senior tranches of debt instruments with respect to such issuer.

We will face risks related to our investments in mezzanine loans.

Although not directly secured by the underlying real estate, mezzanine loans are also subject to risk of subordination and share certain characteristics of subordinate loan interests described above. As with commercial mortgage loans, repayment of a mezzanine loan is dependent on the successful operation of the underlying commercial properties and, therefore, is subject to similar considerations and risks. Mezzanine loans may also be affected by the successful operation of other properties, but mezzanine loans are not secured by interests in the underlying commercial properties.

With most mezzanine loans, the bulk of the loan balance is payable at maturity with a one-time "balloon payment." Full satisfaction of the balloon payment by a borrower is heavily dependent on the availability of subsequent financing or a functioning sales market, and full satisfaction of a loan will be affected by a borrower's access to credit or a functioning sales market. In certain situations, and during periods of credit distress, the unavailability of real estate financing may lead to default by a borrower. In addition, in the absence of any such takeout financing, the ability of a borrower to repay a loan may be impaired. Moreover, mezzanine loans are usually non-recourse in nature. Therefore, if a borrower defaults on the loan, then the options for financial recovery are limited in nature. To the extent the underlying default rates with respect to the pool or tranche of commercial real estate loans in which we directly or indirectly invest increase, the performance of our investments related thereto may be adversely affected.

B-Notes and A/B Structures may pose additional risks that may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We may invest in B-notes, which are mortgage loans typically (i) secured by a first mortgage on a commercial property or group of related properties and (ii) subordinated to an A-note portion of the same first mortgage secured by the same collateral (which we would not expect to hold). As a result, if a borrower defaults, there may not be sufficient funds remaining to repay B-note holders after payment to the A-note holders. Since each transaction is privately negotiated, B-notes can vary in their structural characteristics and risks. In addition to the risks described above, certain additional risks apply to B-note investments, including those described herein. The B-note portion of a loan is typically small relative to the overall loan, and is in the first loss position. As a means to protect against the holder of the A-note from taking certain actions, or receiving certain benefits to the detriment of the holder of the B-note, the holder of the B-note often (but not always) has the right to purchase the A-note from its holder. If available, this right may not be meaningful to us. For example, we may not have the capital available to protect our B-note interest or purchasing the A-note may alter our overall portfolio and risk/return profile to the detriment of our stockholders. In addition, a B-note may be in the form of a "rake bond." A "rake bond" is a CMBS backed solely by a single promissory note secured by a mortgaged property, which promissory note is subordinate in right of payment to one or more separate promissory notes secured by the same mortgaged property.

We may invest in a wide range of real estate debt pursuant to our broad investment guidelines.

Pursuant to our broad investment guidelines, our real estate debt investments may include, but are not limited to, CMBS, real estate-related corporate credit, mortgages, loans, mezzanine and other forms of debt (including residential mortgage-backed securities and other residential credit and debt of real estate-related companies), preferred equity and derivatives, and such investments may not be secured by real estate assets. The Adviser may also employ new investment techniques or invest in new instruments that it believes will help achieve our investment objectives, whether or not such investment techniques or instruments are specifically defined herein, so long as such investments are consistent with the investment guidelines and our charter. New investment techniques or instruments may not be thoroughly tested in the market before being employed and may have operational or theoretical shortcomings which could result in unsuccessful investments and, ultimately, losses to us. In addition, any new investment technique or instrument developed by us may be more speculative than earlier investment techniques or instruments and may involve material and unanticipated risks. Our board of directors may also change our investment guidelines without the consent of our stockholders.

We invest in real estate-related equity, which is subordinate to any indebtedness, but involves different rights.

We have in the past and may in the future invest from time to time in non-controlling preferred equity positions, common equity and other real estate-related interests. Preferred equity investments generally rank junior to all existing and future indebtedness, including commercial mezzanine and mortgage loans, but rank senior to the owners' common equity. Preferred equity investments typically pay a dividend rather than interest payments and often have the right for such dividends to accrue if there is insufficient cash flow to pay currently. These interests are not secured by the underlying real estate, but upon the occurrence of a default, the preferred equity provider typically has the right to effectuate a change of control with respect to the ownership of the property. In addition, equity investments may be illiquid or have limited liquidity due to lock-out periods, limited trading volume or other limitations or prohibitions against their transfer, sale, pledge or disposition, including any necessary registration with the SEC requiring coordination with the issuer for the sale of such securities. Our investments in real estate-related equity securities will involve risks relating to the particular issuer of the equity securities, including the financial condition and business outlook of the issuer. Issuers of real estate-related equity securities are subject to their own operating and other expenses and may be subject to a management fee and/or performance-based compensation (e.g., promote), which we as equity holders will indirectly bear. Issuers of real estate-related common equity securities generally invest in real estate or real estate-related assets and are subject to the inherent risks associated with real estate discussed in "—Risks Related to Investments in Real Estate."

We invest in real estate corporate debt, which consists of secured and unsecured obligations issued by companies in the business of owning and/or operating real estate-related businesses.

We have in the past and may in the future invest in corporate debt obligations of varying maturities issued by U.S. and foreign corporations and other business entities, which may include loans, corporate bonds, debentures, notes and other similar corporate debt instruments, including convertible securities. Bonds are fixed or variable rate debt obligations, including bills, notes, debentures, money market instruments and similar instruments and securities. Corporate debt is generally used by corporations and other issuers to borrow money from investors. The issuer pays the investor a rate of interest and normally must repay the amount borrowed on or before maturity. The rate of interest on corporate debt may be fixed, floating or variable, and may vary inversely with respect to a reference rate. The rate of return or return of principal on some debt obligations may be linked or indexed to the level of exchange rates between the U.S. dollar and a foreign currency or currencies. Debt instruments may be acquired with warrants attached. Certain bonds are "perpetual" in that they have no maturity date.

Our investments in real estate-related corporate credit are subject to a number of risks, including interest rate risk, credit risk, high yield risk, issuer risk, foreign (non-U.S.) investment risk, inflation/deflation risk, liquidity risk, smaller company risk and management risk. We generally will not have direct recourse to real estate assets owned or operated by the issuers of the corporate debt obligations that we invest in and the value of such corporate debt obligations may be impacted by numerous factors and may not be closely tied to the value of the real estate held by the corporate issuer.

We invest in equity of other REITs that invest in real estate or real estate debt as one of their core businesses and other real estate-related companies, which subjects us to certain risks including those risks associated with an investment in our own common stock.

REITs that invest primarily in real estate or real estate debt are subject to the risks of the real estate market, the real estate debt market and the securities market.

REITs are dependent upon specialized management skills, have limited diversification and are, therefore, subject to risks inherent in financing a limited number of projects. REITs may be subject to management fees and other expenses, and so when we invest in REITs we will bear our proportionate share of the costs of the REITs' operations. Investing in REITs and real estate-related companies involves certain unique risks in addition to those risks associated with investing in the real estate industry in general. The market value of REIT shares and the ability of the REIT to distribute income may be adversely affected by several factors, including the risks described herein that relate to an investment in our common stock. REITs depend generally on their ability to generate cash flow to make distributions to shareholders, and certain REITs have self-liquidation provisions by which mortgages held may be paid in full and distributions of capital returns may be made at any time. In addition, distributions received by us from REITs may consist of dividends, capital gains and/or return of capital. Generally, dividends received by us from REIT shares and distributed to our stockholders will not constitute "qualified dividend income" eligible for the reduced tax rate applicable to qualified dividend income. In addition, the performance of a REIT may be affected by changes in the tax laws or by its failure to qualify for tax-free pass-through of income.

REITs (especially mortgage REITs) are also subject to interest rate risk. Rising interest rates may cause REIT investors to demand a higher annual yield, which may, in turn, cause a decline in the market price of the equity securities issued by a REIT.

Investing in certain REITs and real estate-related companies, which often have small market capitalizations, may also involve the same risks as investing in other small capitalization companies. REITs and real estate-related companies may have limited financial resources and their securities may trade less frequently and in limited volume and may be subject to more abrupt or erratic price movements than larger company securities.

Certain of our investments may require development or otherwise have additional capital requirements.

Certain of our investments, including those that may be in a development phase, are expected to require additional financing to satisfy their working capital requirements or development strategies. The amount of such additional financing needed could be significant and will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the particular asset, which may be an unfavorable price at such time. Each round of financing (whether from us or other investors) is typically intended to provide enough capital to reach the next major milestone in an asset's life-cycle. If the funds provided are not sufficient, additional capital may be required to be raised at a price unfavorable to the existing investors, including us. In addition, we may make additional debt and equity investments or exercise warrants, options, convertible securities or other rights that were acquired in the initial investment in such portfolio company in order to preserve our proportionate ownership when a subsequent financing is planned, or to protect our investment when such portfolio company's performance does not meet expectations. The availability of capital is generally a function of capital market conditions that are beyond the control of us or any portfolio company. There can be no assurance that we or any portfolio company will be able to predict accurately the future capital requirements necessary for success or that additional funds will be available from any source. Failure to provide sufficient additional capital with respect to an investment could adversely affect our performance.

We may face "spread widening" risk related to our investment in securities.

For reasons not necessarily attributable to any of the risks set forth herein (for example, supply/demand imbalances or other market forces), the market spreads of the securities in which we invest may increase substantially causing the securities prices to fall. It may not be possible to predict, or to hedge against, such "spread widening" risk. The perceived discount in pricing described under "—Some of our securities investments may become distressed, which securities would have a high risk of default and may be illiquid," may still not reflect the true value of the real estate assets underlying such real estate debt in which we may invest, and therefore further deterioration in value with respect thereto may occur following our investment therein. In addition, mark-to-market accounting of our investments will have an interim effect on the reported value prior to realization of an investment.

We utilize derivatives, which involve numerous risks.

We have in the past and may in the future enter into derivatives transactions including, but not limited to, options contracts, futures contracts, options on futures contracts, forward contracts, interest rate swaps, total return swaps, credit default swaps and other swap agreements for investment, hedging or leverage purposes. Derivative instruments, especially when purchased in large amounts, may not be liquid in all circumstances, so that in volatile markets we may not be able to close out a position without incurring a loss. Our use of derivative instruments may be particularly speculative and involves investment risks and transaction costs to which we would not be subject absent the use of these instruments, and use of derivatives generally involves leverage in the sense that the investment exposure created by the derivatives may be significantly greater than our initial investment in the derivative. Leverage magnifies investment, market and certain other risks. Thus, the use of derivatives may result in losses in excess of principal and greater than if they had not been used. The value of such derivatives also depends upon the price of the underlying instrument or commodity. Such derivatives and other customized instruments also are subject to the risk of non-performance by the relevant counterparty. In addition, actual or implied daily limits on price fluctuations and speculative position limits on the exchanges or over-the-counter markets in which we may conduct our transactions in derivative instruments may prevent prompt liquidation of positions, subjecting us to the potential of greater losses. Derivative instruments that may be purchased or sold by us may include instruments not traded over-the-counter or on an exchange. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which we can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between "bid" and "asked" prices for derivative instruments that are traded over-the-counter and not on an exchange. Such over-the-counter derivatives are also subject to types and levels of investor protections or governmental regulation that may differ from exchange traded instruments.

The ability to successfully use derivative investments depends on the ability of the Adviser. The skills needed to employ derivatives strategies are different from those needed to select portfolio investments and, in connection with such strategies, the Adviser must make predictions with respect to market conditions, liquidity, market values, interest rates or other applicable factors, which may be inaccurate. The use of derivative investments may require us to sell or purchase portfolio investments at inopportune times or for prices below or above the current market values, may limit the amount of appreciation we can realize on an investment or may cause us to hold a security that we might otherwise want to sell. We will also be subject to credit risk with respect to the counterparties to our derivatives contracts (whether a clearing corporation in the case of exchange-traded instruments or another third party in the case of over-the-counter instruments). In addition, the use of derivatives will be subject to additional unique risks associated with such instruments including a lack of sufficient asset correlation, heightened volatility in reference to interest rates or prices of reference instruments and duration/term mismatch, each of which may create additional risk of loss.

Failure to obtain and maintain an exemption from being regulated as a commodity pool operator could subject us to additional regulation and compliance requirements that could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Registration with the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC") as a "commodity pool operator" or any change in our operations (including, without limitation, any change that causes us to be subject to certain specified covered statutory disqualifications) necessary to maintain our ability to rely upon the exemption from being regulated as a commodity pool operator could adversely affect our ability to implement our investment program, conduct our operations and/or achieve our objectives and subject us to certain additional costs, expenses and administrative burdens. Furthermore, any determination by us to cease or to limit investing in interests that may be treated as "commodity interests" in order to comply with the regulations of the CFTC may have a material adverse effect on our ability to implement our investment objectives and to hedge risks associated with our operations.

We may make open market purchases or invest in traded securities.

Although not anticipated to be a large component of our investment strategy, we have the ability to invest in securities that are traded (publicly or through other active markets (including through private transactions)) and are, therefore, subject to the risks inherent in investing in traded securities. When investing in traded securities, we may be unable to obtain financial covenants or other contractual governance rights, including management rights that it might otherwise be able to obtain in making privately negotiated investments. Moreover, we may not have the same access to information in connection with investments in traded securities, either when investigating a potential investment or after making the investment, as compared to privately negotiated investments. Furthermore, we may be limited in our ability to make investments, and to sell existing investments, in traded securities because Blackstone may be deemed to have material, non-public information regarding the issuers of those securities or as a result of other internal policies or requirements. The inability to sell traded securities in these circumstances could materially adversely affect the investment results. In addition, securities acquired of a public company may, depending on the circumstances and securities laws of the relevant jurisdiction, be subject to lock-up periods.

We may utilize non-recourse securitizations of certain of our CMBS investments, which may expose us to risks that could result in losses.

We may seek to utilize non-recourse securitizations of certain of our CMBS investments to the extent consistent with REIT and Investment Company Act requirements. This would likely involve us creating a special-purpose vehicle, contributing a pool of our assets to the entity, and selling interests in the entity on a non-recourse basis to purchasers (whom we would expect to be willing to accept a lower interest rate to invest in investment-grade loan pools). We would expect to retain all or a portion of the equity in the securitized pool of loans or investments. Prior to any such financing, we may use short-term facilities to finance the acquisition of securities until a sufficient quantity of securities had been accumulated, at which time we would refinance these facilities through a securitization, such as a CMBS, or issuance of CLOs, or the private placement of loan participations or other long-term financing. If we were to employ this strategy, we would be subject to the risk that we would not be able to acquire, during the period that our short-term facilities are available, a sufficient amount of eligible securities to maximize the efficiency of a CMBS, CLO or private placement issuance. We also would be subject to the risk that we would not be able to obtain short-term credit facilities or would not be able to renew any short-term credit facilities after they expire should we find it necessary to extend our short-term credit facilities to allow more time to seek and acquire the necessary eligible securities for a long-term financing. The inability to consummate securitizations of our portfolio to finance our loans and investments on a long-term basis could require us to seek other forms of potentially less attractive financing or to liquidate assets at an inopportune time or price, which could adversely affect our performance and our ability to grow our business. Moreover, conditions in the capital markets, including volatility and disruption in the capital and credit markets, may not permit a non-recourse securitization at any particular time or may make the issuance of any such securitization less attractive to us even when we do have sufficient eligible assets. We may also suffer losses if the value of the mortgage loans we acquire declines prior to securitization. Declines in the value of a mortgage loan can be due to, among other things, changes in interest rates and changes in the credit quality of the loan. In addition, transaction costs incurred in executing transactions impact any liability that we may incur, or may be required to reserve for, in connection with executing a transaction can cause a loss to us. To the extent that we incur a loss executing or participating in future securitizations for the reasons described above or for other reasons, it could materially and adversely impact our business and financial condition.

In addition, the securitization of investments in our portfolio might magnify our exposure to losses because any equity interest we retain in the issuing entity would be subordinate to the notes issued to investors and we would, therefore, absorb all of the losses sustained with respect to a securitized pool of assets before the owners of the notes experience any losses. The inability to securitize our portfolio may hurt our performance and our ability to grow our business. At the same time, the securitization of our loans or investments might expose us to losses, as the residual loans or investments in which we do not sell interests will tend to be riskier and more likely to generate losses. Moreover, the Dodd Frank Act contains a risk retention requirement for all asset-backed securities, which requires both public and private securitizers to retain not less than 5% of the credit risk of the assets collateralizing any asset-backed security issuance. Significant restrictions exist, and additional restrictions may be added in the future, regarding who may hold risk retention interests, the structure of the entities that hold risk retention interests and when and how such risk retention interests may be transferred. Therefore such risk retention interests will generally be illiquid. As a result of the risk retention requirements, we may be required to purchase and retain certain interests in a securitization into which we sell mortgage loans and/or when we act as issuer, may be required to sell certain interests in a securitization at prices below levels that such interests have historically yielded and/or may be required to enter into certain arrangements related to risk retention that we have not historically been required to enter into and, accordingly, the risk retention rules may increase our potential liabilities and/or reduce our potential profits in connection with securitization of mortgage loans. It is likely, therefore, that these risk retention rules will increase the administrative and operational costs of asset securitizations.

We may find it necessary or desirable to foreclose on certain of the loans or CMBS we acquire, and the foreclosure process may be lengthy and expensive.

We may find it necessary or desirable to foreclose on certain of the loans or CMBS we acquire, and the foreclosure process may be lengthy and expensive. The protection of the terms of the applicable loan, including the validity or enforceability of the loan and the maintenance of the anticipated priority and perfection of the applicable security interests may not be adequate. Furthermore, claims may be asserted by lenders or borrowers that might interfere with enforcement of our rights. Borrowers may resist foreclosure actions by asserting numerous claims, counterclaims and defenses against us, including, without limitation, lender liability claims and defenses, even when the assertions may have no basis in fact, in an effort to prolong the foreclosure action and seek to force the lender into a modification of the loan or a favorable buy-out of the borrower's position in the loan. In some states, foreclosure actions can take several years or more to litigate. At any time prior to or during the foreclosure proceedings, the borrower may file for bankruptcy or its equivalent, which would have the effect of staying the foreclosure actions and further delaying the foreclosure process and potentially result in a reduction or discharge of a borrower's debt. Foreclosure may create a negative public perception of the related property, resulting in a diminution of its value, and in the event of any such foreclosure or other similar real estate owned-proceeding, we would also become the subject to the various risks associated with direct ownership of real estate, including environmental liabilities. Even if we are successful in foreclosing on a loan, the liquidation proceeds upon sale of the underlying real estate may not be sufficient to recover our cost basis in the loan, resulting in a loss to us. Furthermore, any costs or delays involved in the foreclosure of the loan or a liquidation of the underlying property will further reduce the net proceeds and, thus, increase the loss.

Risks Related to Debt Financing

Our significant amount of debt may subject us to increased risk of loss and could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We currently have outstanding indebtedness and, subject to market conditions and availability, we may incur a significant amount of additional debt through bank credit facilities (including term loans and revolving facilities), warehouse facilities and structured financing arrangements, public and private debt or bond issuances (including through securitizations), repurchase agreements and derivative instruments, in addition to transaction or asset specific funding arrangements. We may also issue additional debt securities to fund our growth. The percentage of leverage we employ will vary depending on our available capital, our ability to obtain and access financing arrangements with lenders, the type of assets we are funding, whether the financing is recourse or non-recourse, debt restrictions contained in those financing arrangements and the lenders' and rating agencies' estimate of the stability of our investment portfolio's cash flow. We may significantly increase the amount of leverage we utilize at any time without approval of our board of directors. In addition, we may leverage individual assets at substantially higher levels. Incurring substantial debt could subject us to many risks that, if realized, would materially and adversely affect us, including the risk that:

- our cash flow from operations may be insufficient to make required payments of principal of and interest on our debt or we may fail to comply with covenants contained in our debt agreements, which is likely to result in (i) acceleration of such debt (and any other debt containing a cross-default or cross-acceleration provision), which we then may be unable to repay from internal funds or to refinance on favorable terms, or at all, (ii) our inability to borrow undrawn amounts under our financing arrangements, even if we are current in payments on borrowings under those arrangements, which would result in a decrease in our liquidity, and/or (iii) the loss of some or all of our collateral assets to foreclosure or sale;

- our debt may increase our vulnerability to adverse economic and industry conditions with no assurance that investment yields will increase in an amount sufficient to offset the higher financing costs;

- we may be required to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to payments on our debt, thereby reducing funds available for operations, future business opportunities, stockholder distributions or other purposes;

- we may be subject to financial covenants under the terms of our debt instruments that limit the flexibility of our operations and may therefore have a negative impact on our results of operations; and
- we may not be able to refinance any debt that matures prior to the maturity (or realization) of an underlying investment it was used to finance on favorable terms or at all.

There can be no assurance that a leveraging strategy will be successful, and such strategy may subject us to increased risk of loss and could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We may encounter adverse changes in the credit markets.

Any adverse changes, such as those experienced as a result of rising interest rates, in the global credit markets could make it more difficult for us to obtain favorable financing. Our ability to generate attractive investment returns for our stockholders will be adversely affected to the extent we are unable to obtain favorable financing terms. If we are unable to obtain favorable financing terms, we may not be able to adequately leverage our portfolio, may face increased financing expenses or may face increased restrictions on our investment activities, any of which would negatively impact our performance.

We will incur mortgage indebtedness and other borrowings, which may increase our business risks, could hinder our ability to make distributions and could decrease the value of your investment.

The acquisition of investment properties may be financed in substantial part by borrowing, which increases our exposure to loss. Under our charter, we have a limitation that precludes us from borrowing in excess of 300% of our net assets, which approximates borrowing 75% of the cost of our investments (unless a majority of our independent directors approves any borrowing in excess of the limit and we disclose the justification for doing so to our stockholders), but such restriction does not restrict the amount of indebtedness we may incur with respect to any single investment. Our target leverage ratio is in the range of 60%. Our leverage ratio is measured by dividing (i) consolidated property-level and entity-level debt net of cash and loan-related restricted cash, by (ii) the asset value of real estate investments (measured using the greater of fair market value and cost) plus the equity in our settled real estate debt investments. See "Investment Objectives and Strategies—Borrowing Policies." We may exceed our target leverage ratio, particularly during a market downturn or in connection with a large acquisition. The use of leverage involves a high degree of financial risk and will increase the exposure of the investments to adverse economic factors such as rising interest rates, downturns in the economy or deteriorations in the condition of the investments. Principal and interest payments on indebtedness (including mortgages having "balloon" payments) will have to be made regardless of the sufficiency of cash flow from the properties. Our investments will be impaired by a smaller decline in the value of the properties than is the case where properties are owned with a proportionately smaller amount of debt.

We may incur or increase our mortgage debt by obtaining loans secured by a portfolio of some or all of the real estate acquired and may borrow under mortgages on properties after they are acquired. Depending on the level of leverage and decline in value, if mortgage payments are not made when due, one or more of the properties may be lost (and our investment therein rendered valueless) as a result of foreclosure by the mortgagee(s). A foreclosure may also have substantial adverse tax consequences for us.

Many of these same issues also apply to credit facilities which are expected to be in place at various times as well. For example, the loan documents for such facilities may include various coverage ratios, the continued compliance with which may not be completely within our control. If such coverage ratios are not met, the lenders under such credit facilities may declare any unfunded commitments to be terminated and declare any amounts outstanding to be due and payable. We may also rely on short-term financing that would be especially exposed to changes in availability.

Although borrowings by us have the potential to enhance overall returns that exceed our cost of funds, they will further diminish returns (or increase losses on capital) to the extent overall returns are less than our cost of funds. As a result, the possibilities of profit and loss are increased. Borrowing money to purchase properties provides us with the advantages of leverage, but exposes us to greater market risks and higher current expenses.

Our inability to access funding could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and business.

Our results of operations, financial condition and business may be impacted by our ability to secure bank credit facilities (including term loans and revolving facilities), warehouse facilities and structured financing arrangements, public and private debt or bond issuances (including through securitizations), repurchase agreements and derivative instruments, in addition to transaction or asset specific funding arrangements and additional repurchase agreements on acceptable terms. We may also rely on short-term financing that would be especially exposed to changes in availability. Our access to sources of financing will depend upon a number of factors, over which we have little or no control, including:

- general economic or market conditions;
- the market's view of the quality of our assets;
- the market's perception of our growth potential; and
- our current and potential future earnings and cash distributions.

We will need to periodically access the capital markets to, among other things, raise cash to fund new investments. Unfavorable economic conditions, or capital market conditions, such as the volatility of the global credit markets, may increase our funding costs, limit our access to the capital markets or could result in a decision by our potential lenders not to extend credit. An inability to successfully access the capital markets could limit our ability to grow our business and fully execute our business strategy and could decrease our earnings and liquidity. In addition, any dislocation or weakness in the capital and credit markets could adversely affect our lenders and could cause one or more of our lenders to be unwilling or unable to provide us with financing or to increase the costs of that financing. In addition, as regulatory capital requirements imposed on our lenders are increased, they may be required to limit, or increase the cost of, financing they provide to us. In general, this could potentially increase our financing costs and reduce our liquidity or require us to sell assets at an inopportune time or price. We cannot make assurances that we will be able to obtain any additional financing on favorable terms or at all.

In certain cases, financings for our properties may be recourse to us.

Generally, commercial real estate financings are structured as non-recourse to the borrower, which limits a lender's recourse to the property pledged as collateral for the loan, and not the other assets of the borrower or to any parent of borrower, in the event of a loan default. However, lenders customarily will require that a creditworthy parent entity enter into so-called "recourse carveout" guarantees to protect the lender against certain bad-faith or other intentional acts of the borrower in violation of the loan documents. A "bad boy" guarantee typically provides that the lender can recover losses from the guarantors for certain bad acts, such as fraud or intentional misrepresentation, intentional waste, willful misconduct, criminal acts, misappropriation of funds, voluntary incurrence of prohibited debt and environmental losses sustained by lender. In addition, "bad boy" guarantees typically provide that the loan will be a full personal recourse obligation of the guarantor, for certain actions, such as prohibited transfers of the collateral or changes of control and voluntary bankruptcy of the borrower. These financing arrangements with respect to our investments generally require "bad boy" guarantees from us and/or the Operating Partnership and in the event that such a guarantee is called, our assets could be adversely affected. Moreover, our "bad boy" guarantees could apply to actions of the joint venture partners associated with our investments. While the Adviser expects to negotiate indemnities from such joint venture partners to protect against such risks, there remains the possibility that the acts of such joint venture partner could result in liability to us under such guarantees. We may provide "bad boy" guarantees on behalf of Other Blackstone Accounts investing alongside us and as such guarantees are not for borrowed money, they will typically not be included under our leverage limitations.

If we draw on a line of credit to fund repurchases or for any other reason, our financial leverage ratio could increase beyond our target.

We have lines of credit with financial institutions that are either unsecured or secured by certain of our assets as well as an uncommitted line of credit from an affiliate of Blackstone and we may seek to obtain additional lines of credit in an effort to provide for a ready source of liquidity for any business purpose, including to fund repurchases of shares of our common stock in the event that repurchase requests exceed our operating cash flow and/or net proceeds from our continuous offering. There can be no assurances that we will be able to borrow under or maintain our existing lines of credit or obtain additional lines of credit on financially reasonable terms. In addition, we may not be able to obtain lines of credit of an appropriate size for our business. If we borrow under a line of credit to fund repurchases of shares of our common stock, our financial leverage will increase and may exceed our target leverage ratio. Our leverage may remain at the higher level until we receive additional net proceeds from our continuous offering or generate sufficient operating cash flow or proceeds from asset sales to repay outstanding indebtedness. In connection with a line of credit, distributions may be subordinated to payments required in connection with any indebtedness contemplated thereby. We may utilize a line of credit for the benefit of Other Blackstone Accounts which may invest alongside us in one or more investments. In such circumstances, we generally intend to disclose such arrangements as part of our reporting and enter into arrangements to cause any Other Blackstone Accounts to bear (or reimburse us for) their pro rata share of any costs and expenses (including interest payments) allocable to such extensions of credit.

Volatility in the financial markets and challenging economic conditions could adversely affect our ability to secure debt financing on attractive terms and our ability to service or refinance any future indebtedness that we may incur.

The volatility of the current global credit markets could make it more difficult to obtain favorable financing for investments. During periods of volatility (including the current market environment), which often occur during economic downturns, generally credit spreads widen, interest rates rise, and investor demand for high yield debt declines. These trends result in reduced willingness by investment banks and other lenders to finance new investments and deterioration of available terms. If the overall cost of borrowing increases, either by increases in the index rates or by increases in lender spreads, the increased costs may result in future acquisitions generating lower overall economic returns and potentially reducing future cash flow available for distribution. Disruptions in the debt markets negatively impact our ability to borrow monies to finance the purchase of, or other activities related to, real estate assets. If we are unable to borrow monies on terms and conditions that we find acceptable, we likely will have to reduce the number of properties we can purchase, and the return on the properties we do purchase may be lower. In addition, we may find it difficult, costly or impossible to refinance indebtedness that is maturing. Moreover, to the extent that such marketplace events are not temporary, they could have an adverse impact on the availability of credit to businesses generally and could lead to an overall weakening of the U.S. economy.

Lenders may require us to enter into restrictive covenants relating to our operations, which could limit our ability to make distributions to our stockholders.

When providing financing, a lender may impose restrictions on us that affect our distribution and operating policies and our ability to obtain additional loans. Loan documents we enter into may contain covenants that limit our ability to further mortgage or dispose of the property or discontinue insurance coverage. In addition, loan documents may limit our ability to enter into or terminate certain operating or lease agreements related to the property. Loan documents may also require lender approval of certain actions and as a result of the lender's failure to grant such approval, we may not be able to take a course of action we deem most profitable. These or other limitations may adversely affect our flexibility and our ability to make distributions to you and the value of your investment.

If we enter into financing arrangements involving balloon payment obligations, it may adversely affect our ability to make distributions to our stockholders.

Some of our financing arrangements may require us to make a lump-sum or "balloon" payment at maturity. Our ability to make a balloon payment is uncertain and may depend upon our ability to obtain replacement financing or our ability to sell particular properties. At the time the balloon payment is due, we may or may not be able to refinance the balloon payment on terms as favorable as the original loan or sell the particular property at a price sufficient to make the balloon payment. Such a refinancing would be dependent upon interest rates and lenders' policies at the time of refinancing, economic conditions in general and the value of the underlying properties in particular. The effect of a refinancing or sale could affect the rate of return to stockholders and the projected time of disposition of our assets.

We use reverse repurchase agreements to finance our securities investments, which may expose us to risks that could result in losses.

We use reverse repurchase agreements as a form of leverage to finance our securities investments, and the proceeds from reverse repurchase agreements are generally invested in additional securities. There is a risk that the market value of the securities acquired from the proceeds received in connection with a reverse repurchase agreement may decline below the price of the securities underlying the reverse repurchase agreement that we have sold but remain obligated to repurchase. Reverse repurchase agreements also involve the risk that the counterparty liquidates the securities we delivered to it under the reverse repurchase agreements following the occurrence of an event of default under the applicable repurchase agreement by us. In addition, there is a risk that the market value of the securities we retain may decline. If the buyer of securities under a reverse repurchase agreement were to file for bankruptcy or experiences insolvency, we may be adversely affected. Furthermore, our counterparty may require us to provide additional margin in the form of cash, securities or other forms of collateral under the terms of the derivative contract. Also, in entering into reverse repurchase agreements, we bear the risk of loss to the extent that the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement are less than the value of the underlying securities. In addition, the interest costs associated with reverse repurchase agreements transactions may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition, and, in some cases, we may be worse off than if we had not used such instruments.

Failure to hedge effectively against interest rate changes may materially adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Subject to any limitations required to maintain qualification as a REIT, we may seek to manage our exposure to interest rate volatility by using interest rate hedging arrangements, such as interest rate cap or collar agreements and interest rate swap agreements. These agreements involve risks, such as the risk that counterparties may fail to honor their obligations under these arrangements and that these arrangements may not be effective in reducing our exposure to interest rate changes. These interest rate hedging arrangements may create additional assets or liabilities from time to time that may be held or liquidated separately from the underlying property or loan for which they were originally established. Hedging may reduce the overall returns on our investments. Failure to hedge effectively against interest rate changes may materially adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Increases in interest rates could increase the amount of our loan payments and adversely affect our ability to make distributions to our stockholders.

Interest we pay on our loan obligations will reduce cash available for distributions. We have and will likely in the future obtain variable rate loans, and as a result, increases in interest rates could increase our interest costs, which could reduce our cash flows and our ability to make distributions to you. In addition, if we need to repay existing loans during periods of rising interest rates, such as the current environment, we could be required to liquidate one or more of our investments at times that may not permit realization of the maximum return on such investments. While we cannot predict factors which may or may not affect interest rates, during the year ended December 31, 2025, an increase of 25 basis points in SOFR rate would have resulted in an increase to our interest expense of $16.2 million, net of the impact from our interest rate swaps and caps.

Our current or future credit ratings may not reflect all risks of an investment in our debt securities.

Any current or future credit ratings of us are an assessment by third parties of our ability to pay our obligations. Consequently, real or anticipated changes in our current or future credit ratings will generally affect the market value of any of our debt securities. Our current or future credit ratings, however, may not reflect the potential impact of risks related to market conditions generally or other factors discussed above on the market value of or trading market for the publicly issued debt securities.

Risks Related to our Relationship with the Adviser and the Dealer Manager

We depend on the Adviser to select our investments and otherwise conduct our business, and any material adverse change in its financial condition or our relationship with the Adviser could have a material adverse effect on our business and ability to achieve our investment objectives.

Our success is dependent upon our relationship with, and the performance of, the Adviser in the acquisition and management of our real estate portfolio and our corporate operations, as well as the persons and firms the Adviser retains to provide services on our behalf. The Adviser may suffer or become distracted by adverse financial or operational problems in connection with Blackstone's business and activities unrelated to us and over which we have no control. Should the Adviser fail to allocate sufficient resources to perform its responsibilities to us for any reason, we may be unable to achieve our investment objectives or to pay distributions to our stockholders.

The termination or replacement of the Adviser could trigger a repayment event under our mortgage loans for some of our properties, the credit agreement governing any of our lines of credit and our repurchase agreements.

Lenders for certain of our properties have requested in the past and may request in the future provisions in the mortgage loan documentation that would make the termination or replacement of the Adviser an event requiring the consent of the lender or immediate repayment of the full outstanding balance of the loan. The termination or replacement of the Adviser could trigger repayment of outstanding amounts under the credit agreements governing our lines of credit that we may obtain or under the repurchase agreements that we may enter into. If a repayment event is triggered with respect to any of our properties, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

The Adviser's inability to retain the services of key real estate professionals could hurt our performance.

The Adviser's power to approve the acquisition of a particular investment, finance or refinance any new or existing investment or dispose of an existing investment rests with the Investment Committee, sub-committees of the Investment Committee or particular professionals employed by the Adviser, depending on the size and type of the investment. Accordingly, our success depends to a significant degree upon the contributions of certain key real estate professionals employed by the Adviser, each of whom would be difficult to replace. There is ever increasing competition among alternative asset firms, financial institutions, private equity firms, investment advisors, investment managers, real estate investment companies, real estate investment trusts and other industry participants for hiring and retaining qualified investment professionals and there can be no assurance that such professionals will continue to be associated with us or the Adviser, particularly in light of our perpetual-life nature, or that replacements will perform well. Neither we nor the Adviser have employment agreements with these individuals and they may not remain associated with us. If any of these persons were to cease their association with us, our operating results could suffer. Although there are key real estate professionals employed by the Adviser, we believe the "key person" concept to be inapplicable to our structure as a perpetual-life REIT and do not maintain key person life insurance on any person. Our future success depends, in large part, upon the Adviser's ability to attract and retain highly skilled managerial, operational and marketing professionals. If the Adviser loses or is unable to obtain the services of highly skilled professionals, our ability to implement our investment strategies could be delayed or hindered.

Further, the time, dedication and scope of work of a professional varies considerably. There have been changes in the composition of the Investment Committee since our inception, and some professionals previously involved are no longer involved. Certain members of the investment team are new to the Blackstone organization, and additional investment professionals are expected to join the team. Our success will be dependent, in whole or in part, on the ability of new investment professionals to be successfully integrated into the Blackstone organization. In addition, the size of the investment committee or any applicable sub-committees of the investment committee including the number of investment professionals engaged for investment decisions could vary as determined in the sole discretion of Blackstone, depending on the size and type of the investment, among other factors. Moreover, discussion and debate among investment professionals are generally helpful to the investment decision making process but excessive disagreement could adversely impact us. Furthermore, the Adviser's investment professionals work on a variety of projects and funds, which will result in less than all of their time and attention being allocated to us, and the ability of the members of the investment team to access other professionals and resources within Blackstone for our benefit may be limited.

Any material adverse change to the Dealer Manager's ability to successfully build and maintain a network of licensed broker-dealers could have a material adverse effect on our business and this offering.

The dealer manager for this offering is Blackstone Securities Partners L.P. Any material adverse change to the ability of our Dealer Manager to build and maintain a network of licensed securities broker-dealers and other agents could have a material adverse effect on our business and this offering. If the Dealer Manager is unable to build and maintain a sufficient network of participating broker-dealers to distribute shares in this offering, our ability to raise proceeds through this offering and implement our investment strategy may be adversely affected. In addition, the Dealer Manager currently serves and may serve as dealer manager for other issuers. As a result, the Dealer Manager may experience conflicts of interest in allocating its time between this offering and such other issuers, which could adversely affect our ability to raise proceeds through this offering and implement our investment strategy. Further, the participating broker-dealers retained by the Dealer Manager may have numerous competing investment products, some with similar or identical investment strategies and areas of focus as us, which they may elect to emphasize to their retail clients.

You will not have the benefit of an independent due diligence review in connection with this offering and, if a conflict of interest arises between us and Blackstone, we may incur additional fees and expenses.

Because the Adviser and the Dealer Manager are affiliates of Blackstone Real Estate, our sponsor, you will not have the benefit of an independent due diligence review and investigation of the type normally performed by an unaffiliated, independent underwriter and its counsel in connection with a securities offering. If any situation arises in which our interests are in conflict with those of the Adviser, the Dealer Manager or its affiliates, and we are required to retain independent counsel, we will incur additional fees and expenses.

The fees we pay in connection with this offering and the agreements entered into with Blackstone and its affiliates were not determined on an arm's-length basis and therefore may not be on the same terms we could achieve from a third party.

The compensation paid to the Adviser, Dealer Manager and other Blackstone affiliates for services they provide us was not determined on an arm's-length basis. All service agreements, contracts or arrangements between or among Blackstone and its affiliates, including the Adviser and us, were not negotiated at arm's-length. Such agreements include our Advisory Agreement, the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, our dealer manager agreement (the "Dealer Manager Agreement"), and any property related corporate services and other agreements we may enter into with affiliates of the Adviser from time to time.

We do not own the Blackstone name, but we may use it as part of our corporate name pursuant to a trademark license agreement with an affiliate of Blackstone. Use of the name by other parties or the termination of our trademark license agreement may harm our business.

We have entered into a trademark license agreement ("Trademark License Agreement"), with Blackstone TM L.L.C. (the "Licensor"), an affiliate of Blackstone, pursuant to which it has granted us a fully paid-up, royalty-free, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the name "Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.". Under this agreement, we have a right to use this name for so long as the Adviser (or another affiliate of the Licensor) serves as our advisor (or another advisory entity) and the Adviser remains an affiliate of the Licensor under the Trademark License Agreement. The Trademark License Agreement may also be earlier terminated by either party as a result of certain breaches or for convenience upon 90 days' prior written notice, provided that upon notification of such termination by us, the Licensor may elect to effect termination of the Trademark License Agreement immediately at any time after 30 days from the date of such notification. The Licensor and its affiliates, such as Blackstone, will retain the right to continue using the "Blackstone" name. We will further be unable to preclude the Licensor from licensing or transferring the ownership of the "Blackstone" name to third parties, some of whom may compete with us. Consequently, we will be unable to prevent any damage to goodwill that may occur as a result of the activities of the Licensor, Blackstone or others. Furthermore, in the event that the Trademark License Agreement is terminated, we will be required to, among other things, change our name. Any of these events could disrupt our recognition in the market place, damage any goodwill we may have generated and otherwise harm our business.

Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest

Various potential and actual conflicts of interest will arise, and these conflicts may not be identified or resolved in a manner favorable to us.

Blackstone has conflicts of interest, or conflicting loyalties, as a result of the numerous activities and relationships of Blackstone, the Dealer Manager, the Adviser, Other Blackstone Accounts, our portfolio companies and the affiliates, partners, members, shareholders, officers, directors, family members and employees of the foregoing, some of which are described herein. However, not all potential, apparent and actual conflicts of interest are included herein, and additional conflicts of interest could arise as a result of new activities, transactions or relationships commenced in the future. If any matter arises that we and our relevant affiliates (including the Adviser) determine in our good faith judgment constitutes an actual and material conflict of interest, we and our affiliates (including the Adviser) will take such actions as we determine appropriate to mitigate the conflict, which will be deemed to fully satisfy any fiduciary duties they may have to us or the stockholders. Thereafter, the Adviser and relevant affiliates will be relieved of any liability related to the conflict to the fullest extent permitted by law. Transactions between us and Blackstone or its affiliates will require approval by our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors. There can be no assurance that our board of directors or Blackstone will identify or resolve all conflicts of interest in a manner that is favorable to us.

The Adviser faces a conflict of interest because the fees it receives for services performed are based in part on our NAV, which the Adviser is ultimately responsible for determining.

The Adviser is paid a management fee for its services based on the NAV of each class of shares of our common stock, which is calculated by State Street, based on valuations provided by the Adviser. In addition, the distributions to be received by the Special Limited Partner with respect to its performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership are based in part upon the Operating Partnership's net assets (which is a component of our NAV). The calculation of our NAV includes certain subjective judgments with respect to estimating, for example, the value of our portfolio and our accrued expenses, net portfolio income and liabilities, and therefore, our NAV may not correspond to realizable value upon a sale of those assets. The Adviser may benefit by us retaining ownership of our assets at times when our stockholders may be better served by the sale or disposition of our assets in order to avoid a reduction in our NAV. If our NAV is calculated in a way that is not reflective of our actual NAV, then the purchase price of shares of our common stock or the price paid for the repurchase of your shares of common stock on a given date may not accurately reflect the value of our portfolio, and your shares may be worth less than the purchase price or more than the repurchase price. The valuation of our investments will affect the amount and timing of the management fee paid to the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation. As a result, there may be circumstances where the Adviser is incentivized to determine valuations that are higher than the actual fair value of our investments.

The Adviser's management fee and the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation may not create proper incentives or may induce the Adviser and its affiliates to make certain investments, including speculative investments, that increase the risk of our real estate portfolio.

We pay the Adviser a management fee regardless of the performance of our portfolio. The Adviser's entitlement to a management fee, which is not based upon performance metrics or goals, might reduce its incentive to devote its time and effort to seeking investments that provide attractive risk-adjusted returns for our portfolio. We would be required to pay the Adviser a management fee in a particular period even if we experienced a net loss or a decline in the value of our portfolio during that period.

The existence of the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation in our Operating Partnership, which is based on our total distributions plus the change in NAV per share, may create an incentive for the Adviser to make riskier or more speculative investments on our behalf or cause us to use more leverage than it would otherwise make in the absence of such performance-based compensation. In addition, the change in NAV per share will be based on the value of our investments on the applicable measurement dates and not on realized gains or losses. As a result, the performance participation allocation may receive distributions based on unrealized gains in certain assets at the time of such distributions and such gains may not be realized when those assets are eventually disposed of. Except in limited circumstances, the Special Limited Partner will not be obligated to return any portion of performance participation allocation due to the subsequent negative performance.

Because the management fee and performance participation are based on our NAV, the Adviser may also be motivated to accelerate acquisitions in order to increase NAV or, similarly, delay or curtail repurchases to maintain a higher NAV, and the Dealer Manager may also be incentivized to sell more shares of our common stock to increase aggregate NAV, which would, in each case, increase amounts payable to the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner, but may make it more difficult for us to efficiently deploy new capital. In addition, we are required to reimburse the Adviser or its affiliates for documented costs and expenses incurred by it and its affiliates on our behalf, except those specifically required to be borne by the Adviser under our Advisory Agreement. Accordingly, to the extent that the Adviser retains other parties to provide services to us, expenses allocable to us will increase.

Blackstone personnel work on other projects and conflicts may arise in the allocation of personnel between us and other projects.

The Adviser and its affiliates will devote such time and attention to us as they determine to be necessary to conduct our business affairs in an appropriate manner. However, Blackstone personnel, including members of the Investment Committee, will work on other projects, serve on other committees (including boards of directors) and source potential investments for and otherwise assist the investment programs of Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities, including other investment programs to be developed in the future. Certain non-investment professionals are not dedicated solely to the Adviser but rather perform functions that benefit us as well as Other Blackstone Accounts, the Adviser and/or Blackstone, which is expected to detract from the time and attention such persons devote to the Adviser. Even some key personnel of the Adviser who devote substantially all of their time and attention to us do not devote their time and attention solely to us. Time spent on these other initiatives diverts attention from our activities, which could negatively impact us. Furthermore, Blackstone and Blackstone personnel derive financial benefit from these other activities, including fees and performance-based compensation. Blackstone personnel outside of Blackstone Real Estate share in fees and performance-based compensation from us; similarly, Blackstone Real Estate personnel share in the fees and performance-based compensation generated by Other Blackstone Accounts. These and other factors create conflicts of interest in the allocation of time and attention by Blackstone personnel. The Adviser's determination of the amount of time and attention necessary to conduct our activities will be conclusive, and we rely on the Adviser's judgment in this regard.

In addition, certain professionals employed by Blackstone or an affiliate are expected to participate in a Blackstone-sponsored program whereby any such professional would receive compensation from another business unit of Blackstone in connection with such professional's successful referral of a transaction to such other business unit of Blackstone or by virtue of other arrangements with Blackstone. Such compensation may include performance-based compensation generated by a vehicle managed by such other business unit of Blackstone (or potentially even in a third-party fund manager). The amount of any performance-based compensation or other compensation received in connection with any such program could ultimately be material and regardless, involves a variety of conflicts of interest relating to such professional's responsibilities with respect to us and our portfolio entities, the financial incentive they would have to refer transactions to other Blackstone business units, and the resulting financial interests they could have in Other Blackstone Accounts (including those that could invest in the same portfolio entities as us or could transact with us, for example in cross transactions) as a result of their participation in the aforementioned program.

Blackstone is subject to a number of conflicts of interest, regulatory oversight and legal and contractual restrictions due to its multiple business lines, which may reduce the benefits that Blackstone could otherwise expect to utilize for the Adviser for purposes of identifying and managing our investments.

Blackstone has multiple business lines, which Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities and third parties, will in certain circumstances, engage for debt and equity financings and to provide other investment banking, brokerage, investment advisory or other services. As a result of these activities, Blackstone is subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest, greater regulatory oversight and more legal and contractual restrictions than if it had one line of business. For example, from time to time, Blackstone could come into possession of information that limits our ability to engage in potential transactions. Similarly, other Blackstone businesses and their personnel could be prohibited by law or contract from sharing information with the Adviser or its affiliates that would be relevant to monitoring our investments and other activities. Additionally, Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts can be expected to enter into covenants that restrict, condition or otherwise limit our ability to make investments in, or otherwise engage in, certain businesses or activities. For example, Other Blackstone Accounts could have granted exclusivity to a joint venture partner that limits us and Other Blackstone Accounts from owning assets within a certain distance of any of the joint venture's assets, or Blackstone or an Other Blackstone Account could have entered into a non-compete agreement in connection with a sale or other transaction or agreed to other restrictions that could impact our ability to consummate transactions. These types of restrictions may negatively impact our ability to implement our investment program. Finally, Blackstone personnel who are members of the investment team or investment committee may be excluded from participating in certain investment decisions due to conflicts involving other businesses or for other reasons, including other personal or business activities, in which case we will not benefit from their experience. Our stockholders will not receive a benefit from any fees earned by Blackstone or its personnel from these other businesses.

Blackstone has implemented policies and procedures to address conflicts that arise as a result of its various activities, as well as regulatory and other legal considerations. Because Blackstone has many different asset management and advisory businesses, including, but not limited to, a private equity business, a growth equity business, a credit business, a secondary funds business, an infrastructure business, an insurance solutions business, a hedge fund business, a capital markets group, a life sciences business and a real estate business, it is subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest, greater regulatory oversight and more legal and contractual restrictions than that to which it would otherwise be subject to if it had just one line of business. In addressing these conflicts and regulatory, legal and contractual requirements across its various businesses and to protect against the inappropriate sharing and/or use of information between Blackstone Real Estate and the other business units at Blackstone, Blackstone has implemented certain policies and procedures (e.g., Blackstone's information wall policy) regarding the sharing of information which have the potential to reduce the positive synergies and collaborations that the Adviser could otherwise expect to utilize for purposes of identifying, pursuing and managing attractive investments. For example, Blackstone will from time to time come into possession of material nonpublic information with respect to companies in which Other Blackstone Accounts may be considering making an investment or companies that are clients of Blackstone. As a consequence, that information, which could be of benefit to us, might become restricted to those other respective businesses and otherwise be unavailable to us. However, certain business units will have access to form documents used by other business units; for example, when providing "seller financing" in connection with a sale, we may utilize form debt or credit agreements utilized or created by Other Blackstone Accounts with a strategy that focuses on debt investments and vice versa. There can be no assurance, however, that any such policies and/or procedures will be effective in accomplishing their stated purpose and/or that they will not otherwise adversely affect our ability to effectively achieve our investment objective by unduly limiting our investment flexibility and/or the flow of otherwise appropriate information between the Adviser and other business units at Blackstone. For example, in some instances, personnel of Blackstone would be unable to assist with our activities as a result of these walls. There can be no assurance that additional restrictions will not be imposed that would further limit the ability of Blackstone to share information internally. In addition, due to these restrictions, in some instances, we may not be able to initiate a transaction that we otherwise might have initiated and may not be able to purchase or dispose of all or any portion of an investment that we otherwise might have purchased or sold, which could negatively affect our operations or performance.

In addition, to the extent that Blackstone is in possession of material non-public information or is otherwise restricted from trading in certain securities, we and the Adviser may also be deemed to be in possession of such information or otherwise restricted. Additionally, the terms of confidentiality or other agreements with or related to companies in which any investment vehicle advised by Blackstone has or has considered making an investment or which is otherwise a client of Blackstone will from time to time restrict or otherwise limit the ability of us and our affiliates to make investments in or otherwise engage in businesses or activities competitive with such companies. Blackstone reserves the right to enter into one or more strategic relationships in certain regions or with respect to certain types of investments that, although intended to provide greater opportunities for us, may require us to share such opportunities or otherwise limit the amount of an opportunity we can otherwise take.

Blackstone is under no obligation to decline any engagements or investments in order to make an investment opportunity available to us. Blackstone and its employees have long-term relationships with a significant number of corporations and their senior management. In determining whether to invest in a particular transaction on our behalf, the Adviser and its affiliates will consider such relationships (including any incentives or disincentives as part of such relationships,) when evaluating an investment opportunity, and such relationships can be expected to influence the Adviser's decision to make or not make particular investments on our behalf (e.g., investments in a competitor of a client or any other person with whom Blackstone has a relationship). We could be required to sell or hold existing investments as a result of investment banking relationships or other relationships that Blackstone and its affiliates may have or transactions or investments that Blackstone may make or has made. Therefore, there can be no assurance that all potentially suitable investment opportunities that come to the attention of Blackstone will be made available to us. See "—Certain Other Blackstone Accounts have similar or overlapping investment objectives and guidelines, and we will not be allocated certain opportunities and may be allocated only opportunities with lower relative returns" below. We may also co-invest with clients of Blackstone or other persons with whom Blackstone has a relationship in particular investment opportunities, and other aspects of these Blackstone relationships could influence the decisions made by the Adviser and its affiliates with respect to our investments and otherwise result in a conflict.

Also, Blackstone or its affiliates will represent creditors or debtors in proceedings under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or prior to such proceedings and will serve as advisor to creditor and equity committees. This involvement, for which Blackstone will, from time to time, be compensated, could limit or preclude the flexibility that we would otherwise have to buy or sell certain real estate related assets, and may require that we dispose of an investment at an inopportune time.

Blackstone, its affiliates and their related parties and personnel participate in underwriting and lending syndicates and otherwise act as arrangers of financing, including with respect to the public offering and private placement of debt or equity securities issued by, and loan proceeds borrowed by us, our subsidiaries or portfolio companies or advise on such transactions (including, for the avoidance of doubt, from time to time as the primary lender (e.g., as lender responsible for over 50% of any applicable debt financing)). Underwritings and financings can be on a firm commitment basis or on an uncommitted, or "best efforts", basis, and the underwriting or financing parties are under no duty to provide any commitment unless specifically set forth in the relevant contract. Blackstone can also be expected to provide, either alone or alongside third parties performing similar services, placement, financial advisory or other similar services to purchasers or sellers of securities (including in connection with primary offerings, secondary transactions and/or transactions involving special purpose acquisition companies), including loans or instruments issued by portfolio entities of ours and Other Blackstone Accounts. Blackstone's compensation for such services is expected to be paid by the applicable seller (including us and portfolio companies), one or more underwriters or financing parties (including amounts paid by an issuer and reimbursed by one or more underwriters) and/or other transaction parties. A Blackstone broker-dealer will from time to time act as the managing underwriter, a member of the underwriting syndicate or broker for us or our subsidiaries, or as dealer, broker or advisor to a counterparty to us or our subsidiaries, and purchase securities from or sell securities to us, our subsidiaries, Other Blackstone Accounts or their portfolio entities, or advise on such transactions. Blackstone will also from time to time, on our behalf or on behalf of other parties to a transaction involving us, effect transactions, including transactions in the secondary markets, subject to applicable law that result in commissions or other compensation paid to Blackstone by us or the counterparty to the transaction, thereby creating a potential conflict of interest. This could include, by way of example, fees and/or commissions for equity syndications to co-investment vehicles. Subject to applicable law, Blackstone will from time to time receive underwriting fees, discounts, placement commissions, loan modification or restructuring fees, servicing fees, capital markets fees, advisory fees, lending arrangement fees, asset/property management fees, insurance fees (including title insurance fees), incentive fees, consulting fees, monitoring fees, commitment fees, syndication fees, origination fees, organizational fees, operational fees, loan servicing fees, and financing and divestment fees (or, in each case, rebates in lieu of any such fees, whether in the form of purchase price discounts or otherwise, even in cases where Blackstone, an Other Blackstone Account or their portfolio entities are purchasing debt) or other compensation with respect to the foregoing activities, which are not required to be shared with us or our stockholders and will not reduce the Adviser's management fee.

Our independent directors will approve any transactions in which a Blackstone broker-dealer acts as underwriter, as broker for us, or as dealer, broker or advisor, on the other side of a transaction with us only where such directors believe in good faith that such transactions are appropriate for us, and our stockholders, by executing a subscription agreement for our shares, consent to all such transactions, along with other transactions involving conflicts described herein, to the fullest extent permitted by law. Sales of securities for our account will from time to time be bunched or aggregated with orders for other accounts of Blackstone including Other Blackstone Accounts. It could be impossible, as determined by the Adviser and its affiliates in their sole discretion, to receive the same price or execution on the entire volume of securities sold, and the various prices will, in certain circumstances, therefore be averaged which may be disadvantageous to us. When Blackstone serves as underwriter with respect to securities held by us or any of our subsidiaries, we could be subject to a "lock-up" period following the offering under applicable regulations during which time we would be unable to sell any securities subject to the "lock-up". This may prejudice our ability to dispose of such securities at an opportune time. These conflicts related to securities and lending activities will not necessarily be resolved in our favor. Our stockholders will not receive any benefit from any such investments.

On October 1, 2015, Blackstone spun off its financial and strategic advisory services, restructuring and reorganization advisory services, and its Park Hill Group fund placement businesses and combined these businesses with PJT Partners Inc. ("PJT"), an independent financial advisory firm. While PJT operates independently from Blackstone and is not an affiliate thereof, there continues to be substantial overlapping ownership between Blackstone and PJT. Therefore, conflicts of interest can be expected to arise in connection with transactions between or involving us, on the one hand, and PJT, on the other. The pre-existing relationship between Blackstone and its former personnel, the overlapping ownership and co-investment and other continuing arrangements between PJT and Blackstone can be expected to influence the Adviser to select or recommend PJT to perform services for us (the cost of which will generally be borne directly or indirectly by us).

Blackstone receives, generates and/or obtains various kinds of data and information from us, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities and, subject to Blackstone's privacy notice and applicable law, investors in Other Blackstone Accounts, as well as related parties, service providers and other sources in connection with our activities, including, but not limited to, data and information relating to or created in connection with investment due diligence, business operations, financial results, trends, budgets, plans, suppliers, customers, employees, contractors, sustainability matters, energy usage, carbon emissions and related metrics, financial information, commercial and transactional information, customer and user data, employee and contractor data, supplier and cost data, and other related data and information (which could include, for the avoidance of doubt, any such data or information relating to or created in connection with, prospective Client investments that were not ultimately consummated), some of which is sometimes referred to as alternative data or "big data." Subject to applicable legal, regulatory, and contractual requirements, Blackstone can be expected to be better able to anticipate macroeconomic and other trends, and otherwise develop investment themes or identify specific investment, trading or business opportunities, as a result of its access to (and rights regarding, including, but not limited to, use of, ownership of, monetization of, development of software or code from, distribution and derived works rights over) this data and information from us, Other Blackstone Account and portfolio entities and limited partners in Other Blackstone Accounts, as well as related parties, service providers and other sources in connection with our activities. Blackstone has entered and will continue to enter into information sharing and use, measurement and other arrangements with us, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities and limited partners in Other Blackstone Accounts, as well as related parties, service providers and other sources in connection with our activities, which will give Blackstone access to (and rights regarding, including, but not limited to, use of, ownership of, monetization of, development of software or code from, distribution, and derived works rights over) data that it would not otherwise obtain in the ordinary course. Further, this alternative data is expected to be aggregated across us, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities. Such sharing or use of this data and information by Blackstone, including pursuant to the arrangements described above, could be expected to involve conflicts of interest between us and/or between one or more Other Blackstone Account and Blackstone or one or more Other Blackstone Account. Although Blackstone believes that these activities improve Blackstone's investment management and other business activities on our behalf and on behalf of Other Blackstone Accounts, information obtained from us and portfolio entities and limited partners in Other Blackstone Accounts, as well as related parties, service providers and other sources in connection with our activities, also provides material benefits to Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts. For example, information obtained from a portfolio entity can be expected to enable Blackstone to make more well-informed investment acquisition and disposition decisions (both on its own behalf or on behalf of us or Other Blackstone Accounts), make other business decisions (including those not directly related to Client activities) on a more well-informed basis, further advance its artificial intelligence systems and capabilities, better understand a particular industry, enhance Blackstone's ability to provide advice or direction on strategy or operations to, or inform business decisions being made by, the management team of portfolio entities owned by us and Other Blackstone Accounts and execute trading and investment strategies in reliance on that better understanding of an industry or advanced AI systems and capabilities, for Blackstone and Other Blackstone Accounts that do not own an interest in the portfolio entity. In addition, Blackstone can be expected to input data and other information, including data and information relating to and developed by portfolio entities, into data systems or platforms maintained or utilized by Blackstone, and can use and analyze such data and information, including through applications, platforms, or systems in which such data is incorporated and the development, and in certain circumstances, monetization of software and code derived from such applications, platforms, or systems. Blackstone is expected to serve as the repository for data and information described in this paragraph, including with ownership, use, monetization, development and distribution rights therein.

The benefits that Blackstone, any of its personnel or affiliates, Other Blackstone Accounts or their respective portfolio entities (or any related parties or service providers of the foregoing) receive from such sharing or use of data or information from us or our portfolio entities or investors, or from related parties, service providers or other sources in connection with our and our portfolio entities' activities (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any of the specific benefits discussed above) will not be subject to management fee offset or otherwise shared with us or our portfolio entities or investors, and no compensation will typically be provided to such parties in exchange for such benefits. In addition, our portfolio entities could incur incremental expenses in collecting and organizing data and information requested or required to be furnished to Blackstone and in connection with the aforementioned arrangements (e.g., legal expenses associated with negotiating such arrangements), which expenses are indirectly borne by us, with no share of such expenses being borne by Other Blackstone Accounts that benefit from such data and information.

Furthermore, except for contractual obligations to third parties to maintain confidentiality of certain information or otherwise limit the scope and purpose of its use or distribution, and regulatory limitations on the use of material nonpublic information, Blackstone is generally free to use and distribute data and information from our activities to assist in the pursuit of Blackstone's various other activities, including but not limited to, trading activities for the benefit of Blackstone or an Other Blackstone Account. For example, Blackstone's ability to trade in securities of an issuer relating to a specific industry may, subject to applicable law, be enhanced by information of a portfolio entity in the same or related industry. Such trading or other business activities is expected to provide a material benefit to Blackstone without compensation or other benefit to us or our stockholders.

Circumstances will arise where Blackstone is determining whether to cause the Company to continue holding or realize an investment in a portfolio entity, or to direct or encourage a portfolio entity to merge with, make a strategic acquisition of, or enter into another type of business arrangement with, another company, and where such portfolio entity or other company (as applicable) is expected to generate or provide data and information that could be used or shared in a manner that benefits Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or their respective portfolio entities. Blackstone faces a conflict of interest in making such determinations.

Moreover, there can be no assurance that the degree to which a particular Other Blackstone Account benefits from an information sharing arrangement will be proportionate to the value or import of the data and information received from or generated by such Other Blackstone Account's portfolio entities or to the relative share of expenses associated with such arrangement being borne by the Other Blackstone Account(either directly or indirectly through its portfolio entities).

Blackstone engages various advisors and operating partners who may co-invest alongside us, and there can be no assurance that such advisors and operating partners will continue to serve in such roles.

Blackstone, its affiliates and their personnel and related parties engage and retain strategic advisors, consultants, senior advisors, operating advisors, executive advisors, industry experts, investment banks, financial intermediaries, service providers, joint venture and other partners and professionals, and market participants, any of whom might be current or former executives or other personnel of the Adviser, its affiliates, portfolio entities or Other Blackstone Accounts (collectively, "Consultants"), to provide a variety of services. Similarly, we, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities retain and pay compensation to Consultants to provide services, or to undertake a new business line or a build-up strategy to originate, acquire and develop assets and businesses in a particular sector or involving a particular strategy, including as an investment in a "platform company." Any amounts paid by us or a portfolio entity to Consultants in connection with the above services, including performance-based compensation (e.g., promote), retainers, cash fees, profits, or equity interests in a portfolio entity, discretionary bonus awards, and expense reimbursements, will be treated as our expenses or expenses of the portfolio entity, as the case may be, and will not, even if they have the effect of reducing any retainers or minimum amounts otherwise payable by the Adviser, be chargeable to the Adviser or deemed paid to or received by the Adviser, or offset or reduce any management fees to the Adviser. Amounts charged by Consultants will not necessarily be confirmed as being comparable to market rates for such services. In certain cases, Consultants will receive intangible and other benefits resulting from their activities on behalf of us, including, potentially, access to privileged information regarding our portfolio entities and possible future deal origination to the extent applicable with us or Other Blackstone Accounts. For example, in the same way that executives from portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts could provide insight and/or deal origination for our benefit, the executives of our portfolio entities could benefit Consultants and/or Other Blackstone Accounts. Consultants can be expected to attend events and/or meetings sponsored by our portfolio entities and/or Other Blackstone Accounts or other members of the Blackstone network, and similarly, members of the Blackstone network could attend meetings and could be involved in fundraising activities on behalf of Blackstone. Also, Consultants may co-invest alongside us in investments, participate in long-term incentive plans of a portfolio entity, and invest directly in us or in vehicles controlled by us with reduced or waived management fees and performance allocation, including after the termination of their engagement or other relationship with Blackstone, and such co-investment participation, which generally will result in us being allocated a smaller share of an investment may or may not be considered part of Blackstone's side-by-side co-investment rights, as determined by the Adviser in its sole discretion. Consultants' benefits described in this paragraph may continue after termination of status as a Consultant.

The time, dedication, nature of the relationship and scope of work of a Consultant varies considerably. In some cases, a Consultant advises our sponsor on transactions, provides the Adviser with industry-specific insights and feedback on investment themes, assists in transaction due diligence, and makes introductions to, and provides reference checks on, management teams. In other cases, Consultants take on more extensive roles, including serving as executives or directors on the boards of portfolio entities and contributing to the identification and origination of new investment opportunities. We may rely on these Consultants to recommend the Adviser and us as a preferred investment partner and carry out our investment program, but there is no assurance that any Consultant will continue to be involved with us for any length of time. We, Blackstone, and/or portfolio companies in certain circumstances can be expected to have formal or informal arrangements with Consultants that may or may not have termination options and may include compensation, no compensation, or deferred compensation until occurrence of a future event, such as commencement of a formal engagement. Moreover, in negotiating and structuring transactions or arrangements with Consultants, the Adviser will generally not seek to maximize terms as if such transaction was taking place in isolation – it will be free to consider relationship, reputational and market considerations, which can in some circumstances result in a cost to us or otherwise make the terms of the transaction or arrangement less favorable for us than might be negotiated if those considerations were not taken into account. In certain cases, Consultants have certain attributes of Blackstone "employees" (e.g., they can be expected to make use of offices (and, potentially, have dedicated office space) at Blackstone, receive administrative support from Blackstone personnel, participate in general meetings and events for Blackstone personnel or work on Blackstone matters as their primary or sole business activity, have Blackstone-related e-mail addresses or business cards and participate in certain benefit arrangements (e.g., the side-by-side investment program) typically reserved for Blackstone employees), even though they are not Blackstone employees, affiliates or personnel for purposes of the Dealer Manager Agreement and the Advisory Agreement, and their salary and related expenses are paid by us or by portfolio entities without any reduction or offset to the Adviser's management fees. Some Consultants work only for us and/or portfolio entities, while other Consultants may have other clients, including Other Blackstone Accounts. In particular, in some cases, Consultants, including those with a "Senior Advisor," "Operating Advisor" or "Executive Advisor" title, have been and will be engaged with the responsibility to source, diligence and recommend transactions to the Adviser potentially on a full-time and/or exclusive basis and, notwithstanding any overlap with the responsibilities of the Adviser under the Advisory Agreement, the compensation to such Consultants may be borne fully by us (with no reduction or offset to the management fee paid to the Adviser) and not the Adviser. If such Senior Advisors generate investment opportunities on our behalf, such members may receive special additional fees or allocations comparable to those received by a third party in an arm's length transaction. Consultants could have conflicts of interest between their work for us and portfolio entities, on the one hand, and themselves or other clients, on the other hand, and the Adviser is limited in its ability to monitor and mitigate these conflicts. Additionally, Consultants could provide services on behalf of both us and Other Blackstone Accounts, and any work performed by Consultants retained on our behalf could benefit such Other Blackstone Accounts (and alternatively, work performed by Consultants on behalf of Other Blackstone Accounts could benefit us), and the Adviser shall have no obligation to allocate any portion of the costs to be borne by us in respect of such Consultant's work on behalf of us to such Other Blackstone Accounts. In addition, we will in certain circumstances, enter into an arrangement from time to time with one or more individuals (who may be former personnel of Blackstone or current or former personnel of portfolio entities of ours or Other Blackstone Accounts, may have experience or capability in sourcing or managing investments, and may form a management team) to undertake a new business line or a build-up strategy to acquire and develop assets and businesses in a particular sector or involving a particular strategy, including as an investment in a "platform company". The services provided by such individuals or relevant portfolio entity, as the case may be, could include: origination or sourcing, due diligence, evaluation, negotiation, servicing, development, management (including turnaround) and disposition. The individuals or relevant portfolio entity could be compensated with a salary and equity incentive plan, including a portion of profits derived from us or a portfolio entity or asset of ours (which may take the form of a management fee and/or profits allocation (whether paid directly to such individuals or to an affiliate entity controlled by such individuals)), or other long term incentive plans. Compensation could also be based on assets under management, or an economic mechanism similar to a waterfall for performance-based compensation and/or other similar metrics, which will not be subject to management fee offset. The professionals at such platform company, which in certain circumstances can be expected to include former employees of or current or former senior advisors or consultants to Blackstone, the Adviser, its affiliates and/or portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts, can be expected to undertake analysis and evaluation of potential investment and acquisition opportunities for such platform company. Although the Adviser is generally responsible certain overhead expenses and investment analysis associated with sourcing and managing investments, as well as compensation costs of the Adviser's investment professionals, we would, in such circumstances, invest capital to fund some or all of the costs of such platform companies, including costs related to overhead (including rent, utilities, benefits, salary or retainers for the individuals and/or their affiliated entities) and the sourcing, diligence and analysis of investments, as well as the compensation for the individuals and entity undertaking the build-up strategy. The activities performed by investment professionals at platform companies will in certain cases be similar to the investment management activities performed by the Adviser's investment professionals in respect of us. In such cases, we will both indirectly bear the compensation expenses for the platform companies' investment professionals and directly bear the management fees in respect of capital invested by us in such platform companies. The Adviser could have an incentive to cause us to invest in platform companies in circumstances where such investments have the effect of reducing (or avoiding a need to increase) the number of investment professionals that the Adviser needs to employ in respect of us. Such expenses could be borne directly by us (or broken deal expenses, if applicable) or indirectly through expenditures by a portfolio entity. None of the fees, costs or expenses described above will reduce or offset the management fee.

In addition, the Adviser will, in certain circumstances, engage third parties as Consultants (or another similar capacity) in order to advise it with respect to existing investments, specific investment opportunities, and economic and industry trends. Such Consultants from time to time are permitted to receive reimbursement of reasonable related expenses by portfolio entities or us and in certain circumstances have the opportunity to invest in a portion of the assets available to us for investment which could otherwise be allocated by the Adviser and its affiliates. If such Consultants generate investment opportunities on our behalf, such Consultants from time to time are permitted to receive special additional fees or allocations comparable to those received by a third party in an arm's length transaction and such additional fees or allocations would be borne fully by us and/or portfolio entities (with no reduction or offset to management fees) and not the Adviser.

Blackstone has developed a strong network of relationships with investment owners, leading financial institutions, senior business executives and government officials. These relationships provide market knowledge and form the backbone of its investment-sourcing network. Blackstone has, and expects to continue to have, a significant volume of deal flow. Primary sources of Blackstone transactions include, without limitation:

- Relationships of individual Blackstone Senior Managing Directors and professionals;
- Major corporations, investment owners and operators with which Blackstone has worked in the past and that wish to divest assets or partner with Blackstone;
- Investment/commercial banks;
- Brokers/dealers; and
- Borrowers.

We may source, sell and/or purchase assets either to or from the Adviser and its affiliates or issued by affiliates of the Adviser, and such transactions may cause conflicts of interest.

We have in the past purchased assets from affiliates of the Adviser and in the future may directly or indirectly source, sell and/or purchase all or any portion of an asset (or portfolio of assets/investments) to or from the Adviser and its affiliates or their respective related parties, including parties which such affiliates or related parties, or Other Blackstone Accounts, own or have invested in. Such transactions will be subject to the approval of a majority of our directors (including a majority of our independent directors) not otherwise interested in the transaction. We may also source, sell to and/or purchase from third parties interests in or assets issued by affiliates of the Adviser or their respective related parties and such transactions would not require approval by our independent directors or an offset of any fees we otherwise owe to the Adviser or its affiliates. The transactions referred to in this paragraph involve conflicts of interest, as our sponsor and its affiliates may receive fees and other benefits, directly or indirectly, from or otherwise have interests in both parties to the transaction.

Certain Other Blackstone Accounts have similar or overlapping investment objectives and guidelines, and we will not be allocated certain opportunities and may be allocated only opportunities with lower relative returns.

Blackstone invests its own capital and third-party capital on behalf of Other Blackstone Accounts in a wide variety of investment opportunities throughout the world. Not every opportunity suitable for us will be allocated to us in whole or in part. Certain exceptions exist that allow specified types of investment opportunities that fall within our investment objectives or strategy to be allocated in whole or in part to Blackstone itself or Other Blackstone Accounts, such as strategic investments made by Blackstone itself (whether in financial institutions or otherwise) and investments by Other Blackstone Accounts that have investment objectives or guidelines similar to or overlapping, in whole or in part, with ours, to some extent, or pursue similar returns as us but have a different investment strategy or objective. Therefore, there have been and may be circumstances where investments that are consistent with our investment objectives are required or permitted to be offered to, shared with or made by one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (and so, offered to, shared with or made thereby). For example, investments in data center assets and other real estate assets that may have infrastructure-like characteristics are expected from time to time to be shared by us with one or more Other Blackstone Accounts. It is expected that some activities of Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities will compete with us for one or more investment opportunities that are consistent with our investment objectives, and as a result such investment opportunities may only be available on a limited basis, or not at all, to us. The Adviser may have conflicting loyalties in determining whether an investment opportunity should be allocated to us or an Other Blackstone Account and these conflicts will not necessarily be resolved in our favor. Our sponsor has adopted guidelines and policies, which it can be expected to update from time to time, regarding allocation of investment opportunities. Additionally, investment opportunities sourced by Blackstone for Other Blackstone Accounts will, in certain circumstances, be allocated in accordance with Blackstone's and the Adviser's respective allocation policies, which may provide that investment opportunities, including those sourced with respect to such Other Blackstone Accounts, will be allocated in whole or in part to other business units of Blackstone on a basis that Blackstone and the Adviser believe in good faith to be fair and reasonable, based on various factors, including the involvement of the respective teams from Blackstone or the Adviser and such other business units, as set forth below. It should also be noted that investment opportunities sourced by other business units of Blackstone (outside of those managed by the Adviser) will be allocated in accordance with such business units' allocation policies, which will result in such investment opportunities being allocated, in whole or in part, away from us to Other Blackstone Accounts.

With respect to Other Blackstone Accounts with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours, in whole or in part, but that do not have priority over us (including the Private Core+ Accounts), the Adviser generally determines the relative allocation of investment opportunities (including follow-on investments) between or among such vehicles on fair and reasonable basis in good faith according to the guidelines and factors determined by it. However, the application of those guidelines and factors has, in limited circumstances, resulted and can be expected to result in us not participating, or not participating to the same, in investment opportunities in which it would have otherwise participated, or participated to a greater extent had the related allocations been determined without regard to such guidelines. The Adviser could also determine not to pursue opportunities inside our mandate or, alternatively, could later determine an opportunity is appropriate for us after initially reviewing such opportunity for or on behalf of an Other Blackstone Account.

Among the factors that the Adviser (and the particular investment professionals overseeing allocations with respect to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts) considers in making investment allocations among us and Other Blackstone Accounts are the following: (i) any applicable investment objectives, parameters, limitations and other contractual provisions relating to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, (ii) available capital of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, as determined by the Adviser in good faith (which may take into account relative portfolio composition, anticipated co-investment and other considerations in addition to buying power), (iii) legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and other considerations, (iv) primary and permitted investment strategies, focuses, guidelines, liquidity positions and requirements and objectives of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts, including, without limitation, with respect to Other Blackstone Accounts that expect to invest in or alongside other funds or across asset classes based on expected return, (v) sourcing of the investment (including by a particular Blackstone business unit), (vi) the sector and geography/location of the investment (including adjacency to existing assets of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts), (vii) the specific nature (including size, type, amount, liquidity, holding period, anticipated maturity and minimum investment criteria) of the investment, (viii) expected investment return, (ix) risk profile of the investment, (x) expected leverage on the investment, ability to leverage and underwritten leverage of a loan, (xi) expected cash characteristics (such as cash-on-cash yield, expected distribution rates, anticipated cash flows, expected stability or volatility of cash flows and other features of the applicable investment opportunity and its impact on portfolio concentration and diversification), (xii) capital expenditure required as part of the investment, (xiii) portfolio diversification/construction concerns (including, but not limited to, (A) allocations necessary for us or Other Blackstone Accounts to maintain a particular concentration in a certain type of investment (e.g., if an Other Blackstone Account follows a liquid strategy pursuant to which it sells a type of investment more or less frequently than us and we or such Other Blackstone Account needs a non pro rata additional allocation to maintain a particular concentration in that type of investment) and (B) whether a particular fund already has its desired exposure to the investment, sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question), (xiv) relation to existing investments in a fund, if applicable (e.g., "follow on" to existing investment, joint venture or other partner to existing investment, or same security as existing investment), (xv) maintaining structuring and financing flexibility for shared investments (which can result in sharing an investment opportunity equally to the extent each party has sufficient available capital to do so), (xvi) avoiding allocation that could result in de minimis or odd lot investments, or allocating to a single vehicle when investments are smaller in size, (xvii) timing expected to be necessary to execute an investment, (xviii) how governance will be shared between us and such Other Blackstone Account(s), and (xix) legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and other considerations deemed relevant by the Adviser and its affiliates (including, without limitation, maintaining our qualification as a REIT and our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act) in good faith.

Currently, Private Core+ Accounts invest in "Core+" real estate and real estate-related assets in the United States and Canada (which are generally substantially stabilized assets generating relatively stable cash flow), with a focus on office, multifamily, industrial, retail and life sciences assets in major cities and markets across the United States and Canada. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and the Private Core+ Accounts, such investment will be generally allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above. Certain Other Blackstone Accounts also invest in real estate debt with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours but do not have priority over us. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, such investment will be allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above.

Furthermore, the Select Opportunistic Blackstone Accounts invest in "opportunistic" real estate and real estate-related assets globally (which often are undermanaged assets and with higher potential for equity appreciation) and have priority over us with respect to such investment opportunities and select investments (e.g., certain private real estate loans, stabilized data center investments and European and infrastructure investments) will be first offered to certain Other Blackstone Accounts (which we generally expect to have investment strategies distinct from ours but can overlap to some extent). Other Blackstone Accounts having priority over us will result in fewer investment opportunities being made available to us.

The Adviser and its affiliates calculate available capital, weigh the factors described above (which will not be weighted equally) and make other investment allocation decisions in accordance with their prevailing policies and procedures in their sole discretion, taking into account a variety of considerations, which may include, without limitation, net asset value, any actual or anticipated allocations, expected future fundraising and uses of capital, expected investor and other third-party co-investment allocation (i.e., when additional capital is raised alongside a private fund for a single investment) of Other Blackstone Accounts, applicable investment guidelines, excuse rights and investor preferences, any or all reserves, vehicle sizes and stage of investment operations (e.g., early in a vehicle's investment operations, the vehicle may receive larger allocations than it otherwise would in connection with launching and ramping up), targeted amounts of securities as determined by the Adviser and its affiliates, geographic limitations and actual or anticipated capital needs or other factors determined by the Adviser and its affiliates. Preliminary investment allocation decisions will generally be made on or prior to the time we and such Other Blackstone Accounts commit to make the investment (which in many cases is when the purchase agreement (or equivalent) in respect of such investment opportunity is signed), and are expected to be updated from time to time prior to the time of consummation of the investment (including after deposits are made thereon) due to changes in the factors that Blackstone considers in making investment allocations among us and Other Blackstone Accounts, including, for example, due to changes in available capital (including as a result of investor subscriptions or withdrawals, deployment of capital for other investments or a reassessment of reserves), changes in portfolio composition or changes in actual or expected investor or third-party co-investment allocation, in each case between the time of committing to make the investment and the actual funding of the investment. Such adjustments in investment allocations could be material, could result in a reduced or increased allocation being made available to us and there can be no assurance that we will not be adversely affected thereby. The manner in which our available capital is determined may differ from, or subsequently change with respect to, Other Blackstone Accounts. The amounts and forms of leverage utilized for investments will also be determined by the Adviser and its affiliates in their sole discretion. Any differences or adjustments with respect to the manner in which available capital is determined with respect to us or Other Blackstone Accounts may adversely impact our allocation of particular investment opportunities. There is no assurance that any conflicts arising out of the foregoing will be resolved in our favor. Blackstone is entitled to amend its policies and procedures at any time without prior notice or our consent.

The amount of performance-based compensation charged and/or management fees paid by us may be less than or exceed the amount of performance-based compensation charged and/or management fees paid by Other Blackstone Accounts. Such variation may create an incentive for our sponsor to allocate a greater percentage of an investment opportunity to us or such Other Blackstone Accounts, as the case may be.

The Adviser is affiliated with the DST Dealer Manager and the DST Manager. These relationships create conflicts of interest with respect to decisions regarding whether to place properties into the DST Program. The Adviser, DST Dealer Manager and the DST Manager will receive fees and expense reimbursements in connection with their roles in the DST Program (certain of which costs are expected to be substantially paid by the private investors in the DST program).

We may coinvest with Regulated Funds and are subject to certain limitations therein.

Blackstone has received an exemptive order (the "Exemptive Order") that permits Other Blackstone Accounts that are closed-end management investment companies that have elected to be regulated as business development companies or are registered under the Investment Company Act and who intend to rely on the Exemptive Order ("Regulated Fund") to, among other things, co-invest with certain other persons, including other Regulated Funds, certain affiliates of Blackstone, Blackstone and certain funds managed and controlled by Blackstone and its affiliates, subject to certain terms and conditions.

For so long as any privately negotiated investment opportunity falls within certain established investment criteria of one or more Regulated Funds. such investment opportunity shall also be offered to such Regulated Funds. In the event that the aggregate targeted investment sizes of us, such Other Blackstone Accounts and such Regulated Funds that are allocated an investment opportunity exceed the amount of such investment opportunity, allocation of such investment opportunity to us, such Other Blackstone Account and Regulated Funds will be reduced proportionately based on our and their respective "available capital" as defined in the Exemptive Order, which could result in allocation to us in an amount less than what it would otherwise have been if such Other Blackstone Accounts and Regulated Funds did not participate in such investment opportunity. The Exemptive Order also restricts the ability of us (or any such Other Blackstone Account) from investing in any privately negotiated investment opportunity alongside a Regulated Fund except at the same time and on same terms, as described in the Exemptive Order. As a result, we risk being unable to make investments in different parts of the capital structure of the same issuer in which a Regulated Fund has invested or seeks to invest, and Regulated Funds risk being unable to make investments in different parts of the capital structure of the same issuer in which we have invested or seek to invest. Relevant Investment Company Act restrictions and related guidance from the SEC and/or the Exemptive Order, or other similar or related considerations, also could restrict our ability to participate in certain transactions or take certain actions relating to investments in portfolio entities in which a Regulated Fund has also invested (whether before or after our investment therein), including, but not limited to, declining to vote, declining to participate in a potential follow-on or co-investment opportunity (as such participation may not comply with the conditions of the Exemptive Order), or declining to exercise rights with respect to any such investment. There could be adverse effects to our interests in an investment as a result of the foregoing, including dilution of our investment in a portfolio entity, diminution of value of our investment and/or us being put in a disadvantageous position with respect to the investment as compared to Other Blackstone Accounts, including Regulated Funds. The determination as to whether we participate or decline to participate in any such action or transaction will be made by the Adviser in its sole discretion and will take into account the Adviser's fiduciary duties and applicable law, including the Investment Company Act, the related rules thereunder and/or, the Exemptive Order, and there can be no assurance that any such determination will be resolved in favor of our interests. Any determination relating to any such action or transaction (or any other determination relating to a vote, consent, approval or similar action in respect of any such investment) will, if the Adviser so determines in its sole discretion taking into account its and its affiliates' interests in compliance with the Investment Company Act, related rules thereunder and/or, the Exemptive Order, be made by an independent client representative (in lieu of the Adviser), and there can be no assurance that any such determination will be resolved in favor of our interests.

Under certain circumstances, our Adviser can be expected not to pursue some or all of an investment opportunity within our investment objectives and guidelines, including without limitation, as a result of our prior investments, business or other reasons applicable to us, Other Blackstone Accounts, Blackstone or its affiliates.

Under certain circumstances, our Adviser can be expected not to pursue some or all of an investment opportunity (including, for the avoidance of doubt, a follow-on opportunity) within our investment objectives and guidelines, including without limitation, as a result of business, reputational or other reasons applicable to us, Other Blackstone Accounts, their respective portfolio entities, Blackstone or its affiliates. In addition, the Adviser and its affiliates, will in certain circumstance, determine that we should not pursue some or all of an investment opportunity, including, by way of example and without limitation, because (i) we have insufficient available capital to pursue the investment opportunity (as determined by the Adviser in its good faith discretion taking into account not only capital that is actually available but considerations such as portfolio composition, anticipated co-investment and other factors), (ii) we have already invested sufficient capital in the investment, sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question, as determined by the Adviser and its affiliates in their good faith discretion, or (iii) the investment opportunity is not appropriate for us for other reasons as determined by the Adviser and its affiliates in their good faith reasonable sole discretion (which may include, but is not limited to, an Other Blackstone Account having an existing interest in a portfolio entity, or an Other Blackstone Account considering or pursuing acquiring such an interest). In any such case Blackstone can be expected to, thereafter, offer such opportunity, in whole or in part, to other parties, including Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities, joint venture partners of us or Other Blackstone Accounts, related parties or third parties. Such Other Blackstone Accounts will from time to time (i) make or receive priority allocations of certain investments that are appropriate for us and (ii) participate in investments alongside us, provided, that any such allocation may be subsequently adjusted at Blackstone's discretion. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing considerations shall also apply to follow-on opportunities and/or refinancings involving the same or similar collateral and/or investment terms, which will result from time to time in Other Blackstone Accounts participating in an investment opportunity in a portfolio entity in which we have a pre-existing investment, and us participating in such opportunity to a lesser extent than would otherwise be the case, or not at all, and our position therein being diluted. Any such Other Blackstone Accounts may be advised by a different Blackstone business group with a different investment committee, which could determine an investment opportunity to be more attractive than the Adviser believes to be the case. In any event, there can be no assurance that the Adviser's assessment will prove correct or that the performance of any investments actually pursued by us will be comparable to any investment opportunities that are not pursued by us. Blackstone, including its personnel, will, in certain circumstances, receive compensation from any such party that makes the investment, including an allocation of incentive allocation or referral fees or revenue share, and any such compensation could be greater than amounts paid by us to the Adviser. In some cases Blackstone earns greater fees when Other Blackstone Accounts participate alongside or instead of us in an investment.

Regulated Funds may be subject to a new exemptive order (or new provisions of the existing Exemptive Order), which includes restrictions, limitations and requirements affecting investment allocations that differ from or extend beyond those described in any existing or former Exemptive Order and could result in increased costs to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and any Regulated Funds. To the extent such future exemptive orders afford Blackstone greater discretion in allocating transactions among us, any Other Blackstone Accounts and any Regulated Fund, Blackstone will retain sole discretion in making such determinations in accordance with such exemptive orders, notwithstanding any associated conflicts. Additionally, the other terms and conditions of any such new or revised exemptive orders may be more or less restrictive than the existing Exemptive Order.

When the Adviser and its affiliates determine not to pursue some or all of an investment opportunity for us that would otherwise be within our investment objectives and strategies, and Blackstone provides or offers the opportunity to Other Blackstone Accounts, (or other parties, including portfolio entities or limited partners of Other Blackstone Accounts, joint venture partners, related parties or other third parties), Blackstone(including its personnel), could receive compensation from the Other Blackstone Accounts and/or other parties, whether or not in respect of a particular investment, including an allocation of performance-based compensation, referral fees or revenue share, and any such compensation could be greater than amounts paid by us to the Adviser. As a result, there could be an incentive for the Adviser (including its personnel who receive such compensation) to allocate investment opportunities away from us to or source investment opportunities for Other Blackstone Accounts or other parties, which could result in fewer opportunities (or reduced allocations) being made available to us. In addition, in some cases Blackstone can be expected to earn greater fees when Other Blackstone Accounts participate alongside or instead of us in an investment.

The Adviser and its affiliates make good faith determinations for allocation decisions based on expectations that will, in certain circumstances, prove inaccurate and such determinations require it to make subjective judgements regarding application of the guidelines and arrangements described herein. Information unavailable to the Adviser, or circumstances not foreseen by the Adviser at the time of allocation, may cause an investment opportunity to yield a different return than expected. For example, an investment opportunity that the Adviser and its affiliates determine to be consistent with the return objective of Other Blackstone Accounts rather than us may not match the expectations and underwriting of the Adviser and its affiliates and generate an actual return that would have been appropriate for us. Conversely, an investment that the Adviser and its affiliates expect to be consistent with our return objectives will, in certain circumstances, fail to achieve them. Furthermore, in certain circumstances where we are participating alongside one or more Other Blackstone Accounts in an investment opportunity, the Adviser is expected to be required to make preliminary investment allocation decisions at the time of the signing of the related purchase agreement (or equivalent) and/or funding of the deposit in respect thereof. Subject to our governing documents, the Adviser could change the applicable investment allocations as between us and such Other Blackstone Accounts between the funding of such deposit or signing of such agreement, on the one hand, and the closing of such investment opportunity, on the other hand, based on a number of factors, including (i) available capital (taking into account changes in capital commitment subscriptions, redemptions, transfers, deployment of capital, reserves for future investments among other factors), (ii) changes in concentration limits in respect of sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question or (iii) other reasons, in each case as determined by the Adviser in its good faith reasonable sole discretion, in which our and such Other Blackstone Accounts' respective obligations in respect of any applicable deposit and transaction costs and expenses (including broken deal fees and expenses) are expected to change correspondingly and we and the Other Blackstone Accounts are expected to reimburse each other for any over- or under-funding in respect thereof.

In addition and subject to our governing documents, the Adviser could determine at any point prior to the closing of an investment opportunity that any such investment opportunity that was initially allocated to us based on information available to us at the time the allocation decision is made should subsequently be reallocated in whole or in part to one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (and vice versa) based on subsequent information received by the Adviser in respect of such investment opportunity (e.g., an investment opportunity that the Adviser initially determines to be consistent with our return objectives could subsequently be determined to be consistent with the return objectives of an opportunistic "control-oriented" fund). In such circumstances, the Adviser could determine to reallocate all or any portion of any such investment opportunity from us to such Reallocating Account including in circumstances where such Reallocating Account has entered into an exclusivity arrangement or other binding agreement with one or more third parties. In such cases, if the non-Reallocating Account agrees to pursue the investment, then it will reimburse the Reallocating Account for such amount of any deferred acquisition costs (including non-refundable or refundable deposits, breakage fees, due diligence costs and other fees and expenses) as allocated to it by Blackstone, as Blackstone deems appropriate, in its sole discretion, incurred by the Reallocating Account relating to such Reallocated Investment, which may be so reallocated prior to closing and if the non-Reallocating Account chooses not to make the Reallocated Investment, then any such deferred acquisition costs incurred by the Reallocating Account will be borne by such Reallocating Account, provided that the non-Reallocating Fund will be responsible for any additional due diligence or acquisition costs incurred in the process of evaluating the investment for its own account. To the extent a non-Reallocating Account causes additional due diligence costs to be incurred for a Reallocating Investment it ultimately declines to pursue, such non-Reallocating Account(s) will reimburse such incurred costs, as deemed appropriate by Blackstone in its sole discretion. There is no assurance that any conflicts arising out of the foregoing will be resolved in our favor. Blackstone is entitled to amend its policies and procedures at any time without prior notice or our consent.

Our board of directors has adopted a resolution that renounces our interest or expectancy with respect to business opportunities and competitive activities.

Our board of directors has adopted a resolution that renounces our interest or expectancy in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, business opportunities, and provides that none of Blackstone or its affiliates, our directors or any person our directors control must refrain from competing with us or present to us such business opportunities. Under this resolution Blackstone and its affiliates and our directors or any person our directors control would not be obligated to present to us opportunities unless those opportunities are expressly offered to such person in his or her capacity as a director or officer and intended exclusively for us or any of our subsidiaries, and those persons will be able to engage in competing activities without any restriction imposed as a result of Blackstone's or its affiliates' status as a stockholder or Blackstone's affiliates' status as our officers or directors.

We co-invest with Blackstone affiliates and such investments are at times in different parts of the capital structure of an issuer and may otherwise involve conflicts of interest. When we hold investments in which Other Blackstone Accounts have a different principal investment, conflicts of interest arise between us and Other Blackstone Accounts, and the Adviser may take actions that are adverse to us.

We co-invest with Other Blackstone Accounts in investments that are suitable for both us and such Other Blackstone Accounts. We may hold an interest in a portfolio entity or other investment that is different (including with respect to relative seniority) than the interests held by Other Blackstone Accounts (and in certain circumstances, the Adviser will be unaware of an Other Blackstone Account's participation or the size of the Other Blackstone Account's investments, as a result of information walls or otherwise). Generally, there are no limitations with respect to such investments (including with respect to terms, price, quantity, frequency, percentage interest therein or otherwise), subject to our governing documents. In these situations, conflicts of interest will arise as Blackstone will receive fees and other benefits, directly or indirectly, from, or otherwise have interests in, both parties to the transaction, including different financial incentives Blackstone may have with respect to the parties to the transaction. In order to mitigate any such conflicts of interest, in certain circumstances we will likely recuse ourselves from participating in any decisions relating or with respect to such investment by us or the applicable investments by the Other Blackstone Accounts, or by establishing groups separated by information barriers (which can be expected to be temporary and limited purpose in nature) within Blackstone to act on behalf of each of the clients. Despite these, and any of the other actions described below that the Adviser may take to mitigate the conflict, Blackstone will, in certain circumstances, be required to take action when it will have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, or Blackstone, which will, in certain circumstances, adversely impact us. In that regard, actions may be taken for the Other Blackstone Accounts that are adverse to us (and vice versa). If the Other Blackstone Account maintains voting rights with respect to the securities it holds, or if we do not recuse ourselves, Blackstone may be required to take action where it will have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and such Other Blackstone Account, which may adversely impact us. If we recuse ourselves from decision-making, we will generally rely upon a third party to make the decisions, and the third party could have conflicts or otherwise make decisions that Blackstone would not have made. These transactions also involve conflicts of interest, as Blackstone will receive fees and other benefits, directly or indirectly, from or otherwise have interests in both parties to the transaction, including different financial incentives Blackstone may have with respect to the parties to the transaction. The stockholders will in no way receive any benefit from fees paid to the Adviser or its affiliates from a portfolio entity in which any Other Blackstone Account or Blackstone also has an interest (including, for greater certainty, any fees the Adviser or its affiliates received as a result of the provision of services by such affiliates). In addition, under certain circumstances, we may be prohibited (or refrain) from decision-making or exercising other rights it would otherwise have with respect to a portfolio entity, as a result of our affiliation or other relationship with Other Blackstone Accounts or Blackstone that own different interests in such portfolio entity. While the Adviser will seek, where applicable, to have a third party exercise rights on behalf of us for purposes of exercising voting rights and/or managing any conflicts of interest related to such investments (which may include third-party co-investors or independent representatives), in certain instances such investments may be made without any such third-party participation (for example, because we own or acquire the entirety of the relevant instrument or tranche) or with minority third-party participation, and in such circumstances the absence or size of any such third party could adversely affect us or our interest in the portfolio entity (or the applicable Other Blackstone Account(s)) or its ability to effectively mitigate such conflicts of interest.

There can be no assurance that any conflict will be resolved in our favor. Conflicts can also be expected to arise in determining the amount of an investment, if any, to be allocated among potential investors and the respective terms thereof. There can be no assurance that the return on our investment will be equivalent to or better than the returns obtained by the other Blackstone affiliates participating in the transaction. In addition, it is anticipated that in a bankruptcy proceeding our interest will likely be subordinated or otherwise adversely affected by virtue of such Other Blackstone Accounts' involvement and actions relating to such investment. For example, in circumstances where we hold a junior mezzanine interest in an issuer, holders of more senior classes of debt issued by such entity (which may include Other Blackstone Accounts) may take actions for their benefit (particularly in circumstances where such issuer faces financial difficulty or distress) that further subordinate or adversely impact the value of our investment in such issuer.

In connection with negotiating loans, bank or securitization financings in respect of our real estate-related transactions, Blackstone will generally obtain the right to participate on its own behalf (or on behalf of vehicles it manages) in a portion of the financings with respect to such Blackstone-sponsored transactions (including transactions where the underlying collateral includes property owned by Other Blackstone Accounts) upon an agreed upon set of terms. We do not believe that this arrangement has an effect on the overall terms and conditions negotiated with the arrangers of such senior loans other than as described in the preceding sentence. If we make or have an investment in a property in which an Other Blackstone Account has a mezzanine or other debt investment, or vice versa, Blackstone may have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and to other Blackstone affiliates. Such investments may inherently give rise to conflicts of interest or perceived conflicts of interest between or among the various classes of securities that may be held by such entities. Because of the affiliation with Blackstone, the Adviser may have a greater incentive to invest in Blackstone-sponsored financings (as compared to real estate-related financings sponsored by other real estate firms or financial sponsors), subject to our governing documents. In certain circumstances, we may be required to commit funds necessary for an investment prior to the time that all anticipated debt (senior and/or mezzanine) (subscription, NAV and other asset backed financing, as applicable) has been secured. In such circumstance, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or Blackstone itself (using, in whole or in part, its own balance sheet capital), could provide financing, commitments and/or other credit support arrangements, which at the time of establishment are intended to be replaced and/or syndicated with financing and/or credit support arrangements from other parties. Any such replacement and/or syndication that is not ultimately consummated or completed as anticipated could result in us, Blackstone, an Other Blackstone Account or the other parties bearing higher costs and fees and/or retaining a different share of the investment than initially intended. In any such circumstance, the Other Blackstone Accounts and/or Blackstone itself could receive compensation for providing such financing and/or commitment (including origination, ticking, warehousing, syndication and other fees and/or interest), which fees will not be shared with and/or otherwise result in an offset of the management fee paid to the Adviser. The conflicts applicable to Other Blackstone Accounts who invest in different securities of issuers will apply equally to Blackstone itself in such situations.

To the extent that we make or have an investment in, or through the purchase of debt obligations become a lender to, a company in which an Other Blackstone Account has a debt or equity investment (e.g., through investments in CMBS where the underlying properties are owned by Other Blackstone Accounts), or if an Other Blackstone Account participates in a separate tranche of a financing with respect to a portfolio entity, Blackstone will generally have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and to Other Blackstone Accounts. In that regard, actions may be taken for the Other Blackstone Accounts that are adverse to us (and vice versa). Moreover, we will generally "follow the vote" of other similarly situated third-party creditors (if any) in voting and governance matters where conflicts of interest exist and will have a limited ability to separately protect our investment and will be dependent upon such third parties' actions (which may not be as capable as the Adviser and may have other conflicts arising from their other relationships, both with Blackstone and other third parties that could impact their decisions). In addition, conflicts can also be expected to arise in determining the amount of an investment, if any, to be allocated among potential investors and the respective terms thereof.

We may seek to participate in investments relating to (i) the refinancing or modifications of loan investments or portfolios held or proposed to be acquired by certain Other Blackstone Accounts, and Other Blackstone Accounts may refinance a loan currently held by us and/or (ii) portfolio entities of one or more Other Blackstone Accounts, including primary or secondary issuances of loans or other interests by such portfolio entities. Subject to our governing documents, Blackstone or the Adviser may propose such a refinancing transaction to a borrower, including in respect of a loan currently held by us, whereby an Other Blackstone Account will provide the refinancing and we will exit the transaction. We may also make investments in, or collateralized by, assets in which Other Blackstone Accounts subsequently acquire an interest, in which case our investment may be paid off or otherwise extinguished. Although such transactions may result in us indirectly providing proceeds to an Other Blackstone Account (or vice versa), such transactions generally will require the consent of our board of directors and a majority of the affiliate transaction committee. In connection with any of the foregoing transactions, we may be required to pay pre-payment penalties to Other Blackstone Accounts or their portfolio entities (or vice versa). Such transactions will give rise to potential or actual conflicts of interest, in addition to the risks inherent to such transactions generally. There can be no assurance that any such conflict of interest will be resolved in a manner favorable to us. For example, if we refinance a loan held by an Other Blackstone Account (or vice versa) and thereafter the asset yields a different return than expected, the refinancing party (and/or the original party to the loan) may ultimately benefit from (or be harmed by) the refinancing. Additionally, in the event an Other Blackstone Account has committed to refinance a loan held by us but ultimately fails to consummate the transaction, it may be difficult for us to find another party to refinance the loan and we may need to hold the loan for a longer period than originally contemplated. While it is expected that our participation in connection with any such transactions will generally be negotiated by third parties, such transactions will give rise to potential or actual conflicts of interest.

We may invest in joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts or divide a pool of investments among us and Other Blackstone Accounts.

To the extent we acquire properties through joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts, such investments will be allocated as described above, and we may be allocated interests in such joint ventures that are smaller than the interests of the Other Blackstone Accounts. Generally, we expect the level of control we have with respect to any joint venture will correspond to our economic interest in such joint venture, but this may not always be the case. We may participate in follow-on investments in joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts in which the Other Blackstone Accounts may invest less than their pro rata share or may not participate at all or vice versa. We will not participate in joint ventures in which we do not have or share control to the extent that we believe such participation would potentially threaten our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act. This may prevent us from receiving an allocation with respect to certain investment opportunities that are suitable for both us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts. Such joint venture investments will involve risks and conflicts of interests. See "—Risks Related to Investments in Real Estate—We may make a substantial amount of joint venture investments, including with Blackstone affiliates. Joint venture investments could be adversely affected by our lack of sole decision-making authority, our reliance on the financial condition of our joint venture partners and disputes between us and our joint venture partners."

Blackstone will, in certain circumstances, have an opportunity to acquire a property, portfolio or pool of assets, securities and instruments that it determines should be divided and allocated among us and Other Blackstone Accounts. Such allocations generally would be based on Blackstone's assessment of the expected returns and risk profile of each of the assets. For example, some of the assets in a pool may have a lower return profile, while others may have an opportunistic return profile not appropriate for us. Also, a pool may contain both debt and equity instruments that Blackstone determines should be allocated to different funds. In certain circumstances, Blackstone may determine that for legal, tax, regulatory, accounting, administrative or other reasons such portfolio or pool should be held through a single holding entity even though such portfolio or pool is divided and allocated among us and such Other Blackstone Accounts. In such circumstances, it is expected that the economic rights, liabilities and obligations in respect of the portion of such portfolio or pool that is allocated to us would be specifically attributed to us through tracking interests in such holding entity or back-to-back or other similar contribution or reimbursement agreements or other similar arrangements entered into with such Other Blackstone Accounts, and that we would be deemed for purposes of our organizational documents to hold its portion of the portfolio or pool separately from, and not jointly with, such Other Blackstone Accounts (and vice versa in respect of the portion of such portfolio or pool allocated to such Other Blackstone Accounts). Similarly, there will likely be circumstances in which we and Other Blackstone Accounts will sell assets in a single transaction or related transactions to a buyer. In that regard, the contractual purchase price paid to a seller or received from a buyer would be allocated among the multiple assets, securities and instruments in the pool, and therefore among us and Other Blackstone Accounts acquiring or selling any of the assets, securities and instruments, in accordance with the allocation of value in respect of the transaction (e.g., accounting, tax or different manner), although Blackstone could, in certain circumstances, allocate value to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts on a different basis.

For example, a counterparty could utilize an allocation of value in the purchase or sale contract, though Blackstone could determine such allocation of value is not appropriate and should not be relied upon. Blackstone will generally rely upon internal analysis consistent with its valuation policies and procedures to determine the ultimate allocation of value, though it could also obtain third-party valuation reports. Regardless of the methodology for allocating value, Blackstone will have conflicting duties to us and Other Blackstone Accounts when they buy or sell assets together in a portfolio, including as a result of different financial incentives Blackstone has with respect to different vehicles, most clearly when the fees and compensation, including performance-based compensation, earned from the different vehicles differ. There can be no assurance that our investment will not be valued or allocated a purchase price that is higher or lower than it might otherwise have been allocated if such investment were acquired or sold independently rather than as a component of a portfolio shared with Other Blackstone Accounts. In certain cases, we could purchase the entire portfolio or pool from a third-party seller and promptly thereafter sell the portion of the portfolio or pool allocated to an Other Blackstone Account to that Other Blackstone Account pursuant to an agreement entered into between us and such Other Blackstone Account prior to closing of the transaction (or vice versa). These conflicts related to the allocation of portfolios will not necessarily be resolved in our favor, and stockholders will not be entitled to receive notice or disclosure of the occurrence of these conflicts.

We may participate in simultaneous transactions with Other Blackstone Accounts.

There may be instances where Blackstone negotiates transactions with counterparties that involve us, an Other Blackstone Account and/or Blackstone in different capacities. For example, we may sell or purchase an interest in a portfolio company to or from a counterparty (such as another sponsor's fund), while the same counterparty acquires or sells an interest in a portfolio company of an Other Blackstone Account or Blackstone. While these transactions may be separate or non-contingent, due to the simultaneous or closely related timing of these transactions, there may be actual or perceived conflicts of interest in connection with such transactions due to Blackstone's duties to us on one hand, and such Other Blackstone Account or Blackstone participating in the related transaction on the other, for example with respect to ensuring each transaction is separately in the best interests of the applicable Other Blackstone Account and us and that the valuations are fair and reasonable to each respective fund, among other things. To mitigate such conflicts, Blackstone could, for example, negotiate each such transaction independently and ensure there is not a cross-conditioned closing of the two transactions, to ensure that the terms of each such transaction stand on their own.

We may invest in companies or other entities in which Other Blackstone Accounts make an investment in a different part of the capital structure.

We can be expected to invest in companies or other entities in which Other Blackstone Accounts make an investment in a different part of the capital structure (and vice versa). The Adviser requests in the ordinary course proposals from lenders and other sources to provide financing to us and our portfolio entities. The Adviser takes into account various facts and circumstances it deems relevant in selecting financing sources, including whether a potential lender has expressed an interest in evaluating debt financing opportunities, whether a potential lender has a history of participating in debt financing opportunities generally and with Blackstone in particular, the size of the potential lender's loan amount, the timing of the relevant cash requirement, the availability of other sources of financing, the creditworthiness of the lender, whether the potential lender has demonstrated a long-term or continuing commitment to the success of Blackstone and its funds, and such other factors that Blackstone deems relevant under the circumstances. The cost of debt alone is not determinative.

Debt financing to us and our portfolio entities is expected to be provided, from time to time, by third parties, Other Blackstone Accounts and investors therein, their portfolio entities and other parties with material relationships with Blackstone, such as shareholders of and lenders to Blackstone and lenders to Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities. Blackstone could have incentives to cause us and our portfolio entities to accept less favorable financing terms from Other Blackstone Accounts, their portfolio entities and investors, Blackstone and other parties with material relationships with Blackstone than it would from a third party. To mitigate potential conflict of interest in such financing arrangements or syndicates, third-party pricing validation where available will generally be provided by the other, non-Blackstone lenders that participate in any applicable financing. The same concerns apply when any of these other parties invest in a more senior position in the capital structure of a portfolio entity than us, even if the form of the transaction is not a financing. Although less common, we or a portfolio entity could also occupy a more senior position in the capital structure than Other Blackstone Account, their portfolio entities and other parties with material relationships with Blackstone, in which case Blackstone could have an incentive to cause us or portfolio entity to offer more favorable financing terms to such parties. In the case of a related party financing between us or our portfolio entities, on the one hand, and Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts or their portfolio entities, on the other hand, the Adviser could, but is not obligated to, rely on a third-party agent to confirm the terms offered by the counterparty are consistent with market terms, or the Adviser could instead rely on its own internal analysis, which the Adviser believes is often superior to third-party analysis given Blackstone's scale in the market. If, however, any of Blackstone, us, an Other Blackstone Account or any of their portfolio entities delegates to a third party, such as another member of a financing syndicate or a joint venture partner, the negotiation of the terms of the financing, the transaction will be assumed to be conducted on an arms-length basis, even though the participation of the Blackstone related vehicle impacts the market terms and Blackstone may have influence on such third parties. For example, in the case of a loan extended to us or a portfolio entity by a financing syndicate in which an Other Blackstone Account has agreed to participate on terms negotiated by a third-party participant in the syndicate, it may have been necessary to offer better terms to the financing provider to fully subscribe the syndicate if the Other Blackstone Account had not participated; it is also possible that the frequent participation of Other Blackstone Accounts in such syndicates could dampen interest among other potential financing providers, thereby lowering demand to participate in the syndicate and increasing the financing costs to us. The Adviser does not believe either of these effects is significant, but no assurance can be given to stockholders that these effects will not be significant in any circumstance. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Adviser may be required to seek approval from our board of directors as set forth in our governing documents.

Blackstone could cause actions adverse to us to be taken for the benefit of Other Blackstone Accounts that have made an investment more senior in the capital structure of a portfolio entity than us (e.g., provide financing to a portfolio entity, the equity of which is owned by us) and, vice versa, actions will, in certain circumstances, be taken for the benefit of us and our portfolio entities that are adverse to Other Blackstone Accounts. Blackstone could seek to implement procedures to mitigate conflicts of interest in these situations such as (i) a forbearance of rights, including some or all non-economic rights, by us or relevant Other Blackstone Account (or their respective portfolio entities, as the case may be) by, for example, agreeing to follow the vote of a third party in the same tranche of the capital structure, or otherwise deciding to recuse itself with respect to decisions on defaults, foreclosures, workouts, restructurings and other similar matters, (ii) causing us or relevant Other Blackstone Account (or their respective portfolio entities, as the case may be) to hold only a non-controlling interest in any such portfolio entity, (iii) retaining a third-party loan servicer, administrative agent or other agent to make decisions on behalf of us or relevant Other Blackstone Account (or their respective portfolio entities, as the case may be), or (iv) creating groups of personnel within Blackstone separated by information barriers (which can be expected to be temporary and limited purpose in nature), each of which would advise one of the clients that has a conflicting position with other clients. As an example, to the extent an Other Blackstone Account holds an interest in a loan or security that is different (including with respect to relative seniority) than those held by us or our portfolio entities, Blackstone may decline to exercise, or delegate to a third party, certain control, foreclosure and other similar governance rights of the Other Blackstone Account. In these cases, Blackstone would generally act on behalf of one of its clients, though the other client would generally retain certain control rights, such as the right to consent to certain actions taken by the trustee or administrative or other agent of the investment, including a release, waiver, forgiveness or reduction of any claim for principal or interest; extension of maturity date or due date of any payment of any principal or interest; release or substitution of any material collateral; release, waiver, termination or modification of any material provision of any guaranty or indemnity; subordination of any lien; and release, waiver or permission with respect to any covenants.

In connection with negotiating loans and bank financings in respect of Blackstone-sponsored transactions, Blackstone will generally obtain the right to participate (for its own account or an Other Blackstone Account) in a portion of the financings with respect to such Blackstone-sponsored transactions (including transactions where the underlying collateral includes property owned by Other Blackstone Accounts) upon an agreed upon set of terms or on the same terms negotiated by third parties with Blackstone or other terms the Adviser determines to be consistent with the market. Although Blackstone could rely on third parties to verify market terms, Blackstone may nonetheless have influence on such third parties. No assurance can be given that negotiating with a third party, or verification of market terms by a third party, will ensure that we and our portfolio entities receive market terms.

In addition, it is anticipated that in a bankruptcy proceeding our interests will likely be subordinated or otherwise adverse to the interests of Other Blackstone Accounts with ownership positions that are more senior to those of ours. For example, an Other Blackstone Account that has provided debt financing to an investment of ours may take actions for its benefit, particularly if our investment is in financial distress, which adversely impact the value of our subordinated interests.

Although Other Blackstone Accounts can be expected to provide financing to us and our portfolio entities, subject to our governing documents, there can be no assurance that any Other Blackstone Account will indeed provide any such financing with respect to any particular investment. Participation by Other Blackstone Accounts such as the BREDS Funds in some but not all financings of ours and our portfolio entities may adversely impact the ability of us and our portfolio entities to obtain financing from third parties when Other Blackstone Accounts do not participate, as it may serve as a negative signal to market participants.

These conflicts related to financing counterparties will not necessarily be resolved in our favor.

Any expenses incurred by us for actual investments as described herein may also be incurred by us with respect to broken deals (i.e., proposed investments or dispositions that are not consummated). While the Adviser expects to generally allocate broken deal expenses pro rata among us and/or Other Blackstone Accounts that were expected to participate in the transaction, unless otherwise required by law, regulation or contract, the Adviser is not required to and in most circumstances will not seek reimbursement of broken deal expenses (i.e., expenses incurred in pursuit of an investment or disposition that is not consummated) from third parties, including counterparties to the potential transaction or potential co-investors (including standing co investment vehicles established to participate in co-investment opportunities alongside us on a regular or periodic basis and or as part of an overall co-investment program or arrangement ("Standing Co-Investment Vehicles")). Moreover, expenses related to the organization of (including the marketing) co-investment vehicles formed to invest in a transaction that was ultimately not consummated are expected to be borne by us, and not the proposed co-investors thereof. Examples of such broken deal expenses include, but are not limited to, reverse termination fees, extraordinary expenses such as litigation costs and judgments, meal, travel and entertainment expenses incurred, deposits or down payments which are forfeited in connection with unconsummated transactions, costs of negotiating co-investment documentation (including non-disclosure agreements with counterparties), costs from onboarding (i.e., KYC) investment entities with a financial institution, commitment fees that become payable in connection with a proposed investment, and legal, tax, accounting and consulting fees and expenses (including all expenses incurred in connection with any tax audit, investigation settlement or review of us, and any expenses of our partnership representative or its designated individual), printing and publishing expenses, and other due diligence and pursuit costs and expenses (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any Consultant expenses and including, in certain instances, broken deal expenses associated with services provided by portfolio entities, as detailed below). Any such broken deal expenses could, in the sole discretion of the Adviser, be allocated solely to us and not to Other Blackstone Accounts or co-investment vehicles (including Standing Co-Investment Vehicles) that could have made the investment (including any situation where an Other Blackstone Account was initially allocated an investment opportunity and incurred such expenses before such investment opportunity was reallocated to us) even when such Other Blackstone Accounts or co-investment vehicle commonly invests alongside us in our investments or Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts in their investments (including such Standing Co-Investment Vehicles). In such cases our, shares of expenses would increase. Until a potential investment of ours, including shared investments with Other Blackstone Accounts, is formally allocated to potential co-investors (it being understood that final allocation decisions are typically made shortly prior to closing an investment), we and certain Other Blackstone Accounts, if applicable, are expected to bear the broken deal expenses for such investment, (even if it was anticipated that such potential investment might be formally allocated to potential co-investors instead of us and certain Other Blackstone Accounts, if applicable), which can result in substantial amounts of broken deal expenses being borne by us. In the event broken deal expenses are allocated to an Other Blackstone Account or a co-investment vehicle, the Adviser or Partnership will, in certain circumstances, advance such fees and expenses without charging interest until paid by the Other Blackstone Account or co-investment vehicle, as applicable. Certain co-investment vehicles or certain potential co-investors, including Other Blackstone Accounts, who might have invested in a transaction had it been consummated, such as potential investors in co-investment structures relating to a specific investment where the legally binding agreements relating to such co-investment are not executed until the time of the deal closing, will not be allocated any share of any break-up or topping fees or broken deal expenses (and such expenses will be allocated to us), unless the Adviser determines otherwise in its discretion or as set forth in the relevant operative agreements or as required by applicable law. In addition, certain portfolio entities will provide transaction support and other services (including identifying potential investments) to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities in respect of certain investments that are not ultimately consummated. The Adviser will endeavor in good faith to allocate such broken deal-related costs to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts as it deems appropriate under the particular circumstances, including in certain instances the allocation of certain expenses pro rata among the vehicles that were expected to participate in an investment that was not consummated. Any methodology used to determine the allocation of such broken deal expenses to us and any Other Blackstone Accounts or co-investment vehicles (including the choice thereof) involves inherent conflicts and will not result in perfect attribution and allocation of such costs, and there can be no assurance that a different manner of allocation would result in us and our portfolio entities bearing less, more or the same amount of such costs. Further, any of the foregoing costs, although allocated in a particular period, could be allocated based on activities occurring outside such period. The allocation of any of the foregoing costs can be expected to be based on any of a number of different methodologies, including, without limitation, the aggregate value or number of, or invested capital in, transactions consummated in the applicable prior quarter, and therefore we could, to the extent permitted by applicable law and our organizational documents, pay more than our pro rata portion of such cost based on our actual usage of such services.

Blackstone may structure certain investments such that Blackstone will face conflicting fiduciary duties to us and certain debt funds.

It is expected that Blackstone will structure certain investments such that one or more mezzanine or other investment funds, structured vehicles or other collective investment vehicles primarily investing in senior secured loans, distressed debt, subordinated debt, high-yield securities, CMBS and other similar debt instruments managed by affiliates of Blackstone (collectively, "Debt Funds") are offered the opportunity to participate in the debt tranche of an investment allocated to us. The Adviser and its affiliates owe fiduciary duties to the Debt Funds as well as to us. If the Debt Funds purchase high-yield securities or other debt instruments related to a property or real estate company that we hold an investment in (or if we make or have an investment in or, through the purchase of debt obligations become a lender to, a company or property in which a Debt Fund or an Other Blackstone Account or another Blackstone real estate fund or vehicle has a mezzanine or other debt investment), the Adviser and its affiliates will face a conflict of interest in respect of the advice given to, or the decisions made with regard to, the Debt Funds, such Other Blackstone Accounts and us (e.g., with respect to the terms of such high-yield securities or other debt instruments, the enforcement of covenants, the terms of recapitalizations and the resolution of workouts or bankruptcies). Less commonly, we could hold an investment that is senior in the capital structure, such as a debt instrument, to an Other Blackstone Account. Although measures described above can mitigate these conflicts, they cannot completely eliminate them. These conflicts related to fiduciary duties to such Other Blackstone Accounts will not necessarily be resolved in favor of us, and stockholders may not be entitled to receive notice or disclosure of the occurrence of these conflicts. Similarly, certain Other Blackstone Accounts can be expected to invest in securities of publicly traded companies that are actual or potential investments of ours or our portfolio entities. The trading activities of Other Blackstone Accounts may differ from or be inconsistent with activities that are undertaken for our account in any such securities. In addition, we may not pursue an investment otherwise within our investment objectives and guidelines as a result of such trading activities by Other Blackstone Accounts.

Participating in investments alongside Other Blackstone Accounts will subject us to a number of risks and conflicts (and in certain circumstances the Adviser will be unaware of an Other Blackstone Account's participation, as a result of information walls or otherwise). At times, a transaction counterparty will, in certain circumstances, require facing only one fund entity, which can be expected to result in (i) if we are a direct counterparty to a transaction, us being solely liable with respect to its own share as well as Other Blackstone Accounts' shares of any applicable obligations, or (ii) if we are not the direct counterparty, us having a contribution obligation to the relevant Other Blackstone Accounts. Alternatively, a counterparty could agree to face multiple funds, which could result in us being jointly and severally liable alongside Other Blackstone Accounts for the full amount of the applicable obligations. Similarly, there may be transactions with respect to which, to address legal, tax, regulatory, administrative or other commercial considerations, Blackstone determines to utilize us to make an investment commitment for a proposed investment on behalf of itself and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (or vice versa) with the expectation that such Other Blackstone Account (or we, as applicable) assumes its share of the relevant funding obligation prior to closing. In cases in which we could be responsible for the liability of an Other Blackstone Account, or vice versa, the applicable parties would generally enter into a back-to-back or other similar contribution or reimbursement agreement. Likewise, for certain investment-related hedging transactions, it can be expected to be advantageous for counterparties to trade solely with us. For these transactions, it is anticipated that we would then enter into back-to-back trade confirmations or other similar arrangements with Other Blackstone Accounts. The party owing under such an arrangement may not have resources to pay its liability, however, in which case the other party will bear more than its pro rata share of the relevant loss. In certain circumstances where we participate in an investment alongside any Other Blackstone Account, to the extent permitted by law and our organizational documents, we may bear more than our pro rata share of relevant expenses related to such investment, including, but not limited to, as the result of such Other Blackstone Account's insufficient reserves or inability to call capital contributions to cover expenses. It is not expected that we or Other Blackstone Accounts will be compensated for agreeing to be primarily liable vis-à-vis a third-party counterparty. Moreover, in connection with the divestment of all or part of a portfolio entity (e.g., an IPO) and/or the wind-down of a portfolio entity, Blackstone will seek to track the ownership interests, liabilities and obligations of us and any Other Blackstone Accounts owning an interest in the portfolio entity comprising such operating business, but it is possible that we and applicable Other Blackstone Accounts will, in certain circumstances, incur shared, disproportionate or crossed liabilities. Furthermore, depending on various factors including the relative assets, expiration dates, investment objectives and return profiles of each of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, it is possible that one or more of them will have greater exposure to legal claims and that they will have conflicting goals with respect to the price, timing and manner of disposition opportunities. Finally, in certain circumstances, if we are participating in an investment alongside an Other Blackstone Account (including a co-investment vehicle), we could also bear more than our pro rata share of expenses relating to such investment if such Other Blackstone Account does not have resources to bear such expenses (including, but not limited to, as a result of insufficient reserves and/or the inability to call capital contributions to cover such expenses).

Blackstone may raise and/or manage Other Blackstone Accounts, which could result in the reallocation of Blackstone personnel and the direction of potential investments to such Other Blackstone Accounts.

Blackstone reserves the right to raise and/or manage Other Blackstone Accounts, including opportunistic and stabilized and substantially stabilized real estate funds or separate accounts, dedicated managed accounts, investments suitable for lower risk, lower return funds or higher risk, higher return funds, real estate debt obligation and trading investment vehicles, real estate funds primarily making investments globally, in a particular region outside of the United States and Canada, or in a single sector of the real estate investment space (e.g., office, industrial, retail or rental housing) or making non-controlling investments in public and private debt and equity securities and/or investment funds that may have the same or similar investment objectives or guidelines as us or investments, including those raised by us and one or more managed accounts (or other similar arrangements structured through an entity) for the benefit of one or more specific investors (or related group of investors) which, in each case, may have investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours. See "—Certain Other Blackstone Accounts have similar or overlapping investment objectives and guidelines, and we will not be allocated certain opportunities and may be allocated only opportunities with lower relative returns." In particular, we expect that there will be overlap of real estate and real estate debt investment opportunities with certain Other Blackstone Accounts that are actively investing and similar overlap with future Other Blackstone Accounts. The closing of an Other Blackstone Account could result in the reallocation of Blackstone personnel, including reallocation of existing real estate professionals, to such Other Blackstone Account. In addition, potential investments that may be suitable for us may be directed toward such Other Blackstone Account.

Blackstone's potential involvement in financing a third party's purchase of assets from us could lead to potential or actual conflicts of interest.

We may from time to time dispose of all or a portion of an investment by way of a third-party purchaser's bid where Blackstone or one or more Other Blackstone Accounts is providing financing as part of such bid or acquisition of the investment or underlying assets thereof. This may include the circumstance where Blackstone or one or more Other Blackstone Accounts is making commitments to provide financing at or prior to the time such third-party purchaser commits to purchase such investments or assets from us. Such involvement of Blackstone or one or more Other Blackstone Accounts as such a provider of debt financing in connection with the potential acquisition of portfolio investments by third parties from us may give rise to potential or actual conflicts of interest.

We may provide debt financing in connection with acquisitions by third parties of assets owned by Other Blackstone Accounts.

We may provide financing as part of a third-party purchaser's bid or acquisition of (or investment in) a portfolio entity (or the underlying assets of) owned by one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (or in connection with the acquisitions by one or more Other Blackstone Accounts or their affiliates of assets or interests (and/or portfolios thereof) owned by a third party). This may include making commitments to provide financing at, prior to or around the time that any such purchaser commits to or makes such investments. We may make investments and provide debt financing with respect to portfolio entities in which Other Blackstone Accounts and/or their affiliates hold or subsequently acquire an interest. While the terms and conditions of any such arrangements will generally be on market terms, the involvement of the Other Blackstone Accounts or their affiliates in such transactions may affect credit decisions and the terms of such transactions or arrangements and/or may otherwise influence the Adviser's decisions, which will give rise to potential or actual conflicts of interest and which may adversely impact us. For example, such transactions may involve the partial or complete payoff of such loans (with related proceeds being received by the applicable Other Blackstone Accounts) and/or otherwise result in restructurings of terms and pricing relating to such existing loans with the borrowers thereof in respect of which such Other Blackstone Accounts may receive refinancing proceeds and/or a retained interest in such loans in accordance with such restructuring arrangements. Additionally, in certain situations we may not commit to provide financing until a third party has committed to make a deposit in connection with the acquisition of an investment from an Other Blackstone Account, which may result in us being disadvantaged in the overall bid process or potentially not consummating the investment.

Disputes between Blackstone and our joint venture partners who have pre-existing investments with Blackstone may affect our investments relating thereto.

Some of the third-party operators and joint-venture partners with which the Adviser may elect to co-invest our capital may have pre-existing investments with Blackstone. The terms of these preexisting investments may differ from the terms upon which we invest with such operators and partners. To the extent a dispute arises between Blackstone and such operators and partners, our investments relating thereto may be affected.

Certain principals and employees will, in certain circumstances, be involved in and have a greater financial interest in the performance of Other Blackstone Accounts, and such activities may create conflicts of interest in making investment decisions on our behalf.

Certain Blackstone personnel will, in certain circumstances, be subject to a variety of conflicts of interest relating to their responsibilities to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities, and their outside personal or business activities, including as members of investment or advisory committees or boards of directors of or advisors to investment funds, corporations, foundations or other organizations. Such positions create a conflict if such other entities have interests that are adverse to those of us, including if such other entities compete with us for investment opportunities or other resources. The Blackstone personnel in question could have a greater financial interest in the performance of the other entities than our performance. This involvement would create conflicts of interest in making investments on our behalf and on behalf of such other funds, accounts and other entities. Also, Blackstone personnel are generally permitted to invest in alternative investment funds, private equity funds, venture capital funds, real estate funds, hedge funds and other investment vehicles, as well as engage in other personal trading activities relating to companies, assets, securities or instruments (subject to Blackstone's Code of Ethics requirements), some of which will involve conflicts of interests. Such personal securities transactions will, in certain circumstances, relate to securities or instruments, which can be expected to also be held or acquired by us or Other Blackstone Accounts, or otherwise relate to companies or issuers in which we have or acquire a different principal investment (including, for example, with respect to seniority). There can be no assurance that conflicts of interest arising out of such activities will be resolved in our favor. Investors will not receive any benefit from any such investments, and the financial incentives of Blackstone personnel in such other investments could be greater than their financial incentives in relation to us. Although the Adviser will generally seek to minimize the impact of any such conflicts, there can be no assurance they will be resolved favorably for us.

Additionally, certain personnel and other professionals of Blackstone have family members or relatives that are actively involved in industries and sectors in which we invest or have business, personal, financial or other relationships with companies in such industries and sectors (including the advisors and service providers described above) or other industries, which gives rise to potential or actual conflicts of interest. For example, such family members or relatives might be officers, directors, personnel or owners of companies or assets which are actual or potential investments or other counterparties. Moreover, in certain instances, we can be expected to purchase or sell companies or assets from or to, or otherwise transact with, companies that are owned by such family members or relatives or in respect of which such family members or relatives have other involvement. These relationships also have the potential to influence the Adviser, in deciding whether to select, recommend or create certain service providers to perform services for us (the cost of which will generally be borne directly or indirectly by us, as applicable) and to incentivize the Adviser to engage such service provider over another third-party. The fees for services provided by such service providers may or may not be at the same rate charged by other third parties and the Adviser undertakes no obligations to select service providers who may have lower rates. In most such circumstances, the charter will not preclude us from undertaking any of these investment activities or transactions. To the extent Blackstone determines appropriate, conflict mitigation strategies can be expected to be put in place with respect to a particular circumstance, such as internal information barriers or recusal, disclosure or other steps determined appropriate by the Adviser. In addition, Blackstone has entered, and it can be expected that Blackstone in the future will enter, into both (i) strategic relationships with investors (and/or one or more of their affiliates) that involve an overall relationship with Blackstone (which will afford such investor special rights and benefits) that could (but is not required to) incorporate one or more strategies (including, but not limited to, a different sector and/or geographical focus within the same or a different Blackstone business unit) in addition to our strategy and (ii) arrangements that involve an agreement or understanding to make an investment in or a capital commitment to (as applicable) us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (which may include a subscription or capital commitment, as applicable, already made recently to another Blackstone fund) (any such overall relationship and/or multi-fund arrangement in the foregoing (i) and (ii), a "Strategic Relationship"), with terms and conditions applicable solely to such investor and its investment in multiple Blackstone strategies that would not apply to any other investor's investment in us. Stockholders will not receive a copy of any agreement memorializing such a Strategic Relationship program (even if in the form of a side letter and even if the agreement provides for rights and benefits typically given in a side letter) or receive any other disclosure or reporting of the terms of or existence of any Strategic Relationship and will be unable to elect in the "most-favored-nations" election process (if any) any rights or benefits afforded through a Strategic Relationship (for the avoidance of doubt, it is not expected that the terms, or existence of, or other information about any Strategic Relationship will be shared with the stockholders). Specific examples of such additional rights and benefits have included, and can be expected to include, but are not limited to, specialized reporting, secondment arrangements, discounts on or reductions to and/or reimbursements or rebates of management fees or incentive allocation, contribution payments by Blackstone to support minimum performance thresholds, secondment of personnel from the investor to Blackstone (or vice versa), targeted amounts for co-investments alongside Blackstone vehicles (including, without limitation, preferential or favorable allocation of co-investment opportunities, and preferential terms and conditions related to co-investment or other participation in Blackstone vehicles (including any incentive allocation and/or management fees to be charged with respect thereto, as well as any additional discounts, reductions, reimbursements or rebates thereof or other penalties that would result if certain target co-investment allocations or other conditions under such arrangements are not achieved)). Any such additional rights and benefits offered in a Strategic Relationship could be more favorable than the terms applicable to shareholders making equal or greater capital commitments solely to us. For the avoidance of doubt, such examples are not exhaustive, and the specific terms of any such additional rights and benefits that are ultimately granted to one or more persons will vary from the rights and benefits offered to stockholders generally under the charter. The co-investment that is part of a Strategic Relationship may include co-investment in investments made by us. A Strategic Relationship may also involve Blackstone or its affiliate contributing cash or other assets to support certain return targets with respect to an investment in one or more Other Blackstone Accounts through a Strategic Relationship, which investment returns may also be subject to additional incentive or other fees payable to Blackstone if satisfied in accordance with the terms of the Strategic Relationship program. Blackstone, including its personnel (including Blackstone Real Estate personnel) can be expected to receive compensation from Strategic Relationships and be incentivized to allocate investment opportunities away from us or source investment opportunities for Strategic Relationships. In addition, from time to time, Blackstone may enter into economic and/or fee sharing arrangements with respect to us, one or more Other Blackstone Accounts and limited partners thereof, which rights will not generally be made available to other persons.

The Adviser may face conflicts of interests in choosing our service providers and certain service providers may provide services to the Dealer Manager, the Adviser or Blackstone on more favorable terms than those payable by us.

Pursuant to the terms of our Advisory Agreement, the Adviser may retain, for and on our behalf and at our expense, the services of certain other persons and firms as the Adviser deems necessary or advisable in connection with our management as operations. Certain third-party advisors and other service providers and vendors to us (including accountants, administrators, paying agents, depositaries, lenders, bankers, brokers, attorneys, consultants, title agents, loan servicing and administration providers, property managers and investment or commercial banking firms) or their affiliates are owned by Blackstone, us or Other Blackstone Accounts or provide goods or services to, or have other business, personal, financial or other relationships with, Blackstone, the Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities, the Dealer Manager, the Adviser and affiliates and personnel of the foregoing. Also, advisors, lenders, investors, commercial counterparties, vendors and service providers (including any of their affiliates or personnel) to us could have other commercial or personal relationships with Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities or any affiliates, personnel or family members of personnel of the foregoing.

The relationship of certain service providers and vendors with Blackstone may result in conflicts of interest, including the payment by us of higher fees or commissions than would be the case absent the relationship.

Although Blackstone selects service providers and vendors it believes are most appropriate in the circumstances based on its knowledge of such service providers and vendors (which knowledge is generally greater in the case of service providers and vendors that have other relationships to Blackstone), the relationship of service providers and vendors to Blackstone as described above will, in certain circumstances, influence Blackstone in deciding whether to select, recommend or form such an advisor or service provider to perform services for us, the cost of which will generally be borne directly or indirectly by us, and incentivize Blackstone to engage such service provider over a third party, utilize the services of such service providers and vendors more frequently than would be the case absent the conflict, or to cause us to pay such service providers and vendors higher fees or commissions than would be the case absent the conflict. The incentive could be created by current income and/or the generation of enterprise value in a service provider or vendor; Blackstone can be expected to have an incentive to invest in or create service providers and vendors to realize on these opportunities. In negotiating and structuring transactions or arrangements with service providers, vendors and counterparties of the Adviser, us or our portfolio entities will generally not seek to maximize terms as if such transaction was taking place in isolation – it will be free to consider relationship, reputational and market considerations, which can in some circumstances result in a cost to a us or our portfolio entities or otherwise make the terms of the transaction or arrangement less favorable for us or our portfolio entities than might be negotiated if those considerations were not taken into account. Furthermore, Blackstone will from time to time encourage third-party service providers to us and our portfolio entities to use other Blackstone affiliated service providers and vendors in connection with our business, the business of portfolio entities, and unaffiliated entities, and Blackstone has an incentive to use third-party service providers who do so as a result of the indirect benefit to Blackstone and additional business for the related service providers and vendors. Fees paid to or value created in these service providers and vendors do not offset or reduce the Adviser's management fee and are not otherwise shared with us.

In the case of brokers, Blackstone has a best execution policy that it updates from time to time to comply with regulatory requirements in applicable jurisdictions.

Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities, and personnel and related parties of the foregoing will benefit from the fees and compensation, including performance-based and other incentive fees, which could be substantial, for products and services provided to us.

Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities, and personnel and related parties of the foregoing will receive fees and compensation, including performance-based and other incentive fees, which could be substantial, for products and services provided to us, such as fees for asset management (including, without limitation, management fees and carried interest/incentive arrangements), development and property management; arranging; portfolio operations support (such as those provided by Blackstone's portfolio operations group); underwriting (including, without limitation, evaluation regarding value creation opportunities and sustainability risk mitigation); syndication or refinancing of a loan or investment (including acquisition fees, loan modification or restructuring fees); servicing; loan servicing; special servicing; administrative services; advisory services on purchase or sale of an asset or company; advisory services; investment banking and capital markets services; treasury and valuation services; placement agent services; fund administration; internal legal and tax planning services; information technology products and services (including the development and maintaining of AI Technology); insurance procurement; brokerage solutions and risk management services; data extraction and management products and services; BX Energy Services; Revantage acquisition and disposition program management; fees for monitoring and oversight of loans, property, title and/or other types of insurance provided to portfolio entities and/or third parties; and other products and services (including but not limited to restructuring, consulting, monitoring, commitment, syndication, origination, organization and financing, and divestment services). For example, Blackstone or an Other

Blackstone Account may, directly or indirectly through a portfolio entity, from time to time, acquire certain assets, loans or other interests for the purpose of syndicating some or all of such assets, loans or other interests to us and/or Other Blackstone Accounts, and may receive syndication or other fees in connection therewith. Such fees and compensation shall not be applied to offset management fees and stockholders will not share therein. Moreover, while fees and compensation for certain services provided by Blackstone are subject to management fee offset pursuant to the governing documents, fees and compensation for other services rendered by Blackstone are not subject to such offset. As a result, Blackstone has an economic incentive to classify the services it provides to us or a portfolio entity, or otherwise structure transactions involving us or a portfolio entity, in a manner that supports the determination that associated fees or compensation are not subject to management fee offset. Such parties will also provide products and services for fees to Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities, and their personnel and related parties, as well as third parties, including in circumstances where third-party service providers are concurrently providing similar services to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities. As a result, it is expected that the amount of expenses borne by us will be increased in proportion to the additional cost arising from having multiple third-party service providers providing similar services to us and/or our portfolio entities than if there was a single service provider engaged for such services. Through its innovations group, Blackstone incubates businesses that are expected to be introduced to, and therefore frequently provide goods and services to us, our portfolio properties, Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates, as well as other Blackstone related parties and third parties. By contracting for a product or service from a business related to Blackstone, we would provide not only current income to the business and its stakeholders, but could also create significant enterprise value in them, which would not be shared with us or our stockholders and could benefit Blackstone directly and indirectly. Also, Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and portfolio entities, and their personnel and related parties will, in certain circumstances, receive compensation or other benefits, such as through additional ownership interests or otherwise, directly related to the consumption of products and services by us. We will incur expense in negotiating for any such fees and services. In addition, the Adviser can be expected to receive fees associated with capital invested by co-investors relating to investments in which we participate or otherwise, in connection with a joint venture in which we participates or otherwise with respect to assets or other interests retained by a seller or other commercial counterparty with respect to which the Adviser performs services. Finally, Blackstone and its personnel and related parties will, in certain circumstances, also receive compensation for origination expenses and with respect to unconsummated transactions.

Blackstone and portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts are and will be counterparties or participants in agreements, transactions and other arrangements with us, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities and/or Blackstone affiliates for the provision of goods and services, purchase and sale of assets and other matters. In addition, certain of our portfolio entities can be expected to be counterparties or participants in agreements, transactions and other arrangements with Other Blackstone Accounts or portfolio entities for the provision of goods and services, purchase and sale of assets and other matters (including information sharing and/or consulting and employment relationships). The fees, compensation, other amounts and/or benefits that Blackstone, Blackstone affiliates and/or portfolio entities will receive under these agreements, transactions and/or arrangements will not offset the management fee or otherwise shared with stockholders unless required under our organizational documents. For example, from time to time, certain portfolio entities of ours or Other Blackstone Accounts will provide or recommend goods and services to Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts, or portfolio entities of ours and Other Blackstone Accounts or other Blackstone affiliates (or vice versa). As another example, it can also be expected that the management of one or more portfolio entities will consult with one another (or with one or more portfolio entities of an Other Blackstone Account) in respect of seeking its industry expertise, market view, or otherwise on a particular topic including but not limited to assets and/or the purchase and /or sale thereof (and vice versa). Moreover, we and/or an Other Blackstone Account could consult with a portfolio entity or a portfolio entity of an Other Blackstone Account as part of the investment diligence for a potential investment by us or such Other Blackstone Account (and vice versa). As a result of or as part of such interactions or otherwise, personnel at a portfolio entity of us or Other Blackstone Account will transfer to or become employed by another portfolio entity of us or an Other Blackstone Account, or Blackstone, the Adviser or their respective affiliates. Further, personnel of the Adviser, Blackstone or their respective affiliates will in certain cases transfer to or become employed by a portfolio entity (together with personnel departing a portfolio entity for employment at Blackstone, the Adviser, their affiliates or another portfolio entity, "Transferring Personnel"). The compensation earned and subsequently paid to such personnel may include arrangements designed to make such person whole for unvested equity or carried interest attributable to such personnel's entity of origin that was forfeited in connection with their departure therefrom. Transferring Personnel-agreements, transactions and other arrangements present a conflict of interest in that they will involve the payment of fees and other amounts, some of which compensation may be paid in connection with unvested equity in Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts or portfolio entities (which may be in the form of public stock, limited partnership interests or otherwise), none of which will result in any offset to the management fees we pay to the Adviser notwithstanding that some of the services provided by such portfolio entity are similar in nature to the services provided by the Adviser and its affiliates or that the role of the Transferring Personnel at the entity such personnel is departing from (including Blackstone and its affiliates) could be substantially similar to the entity to which such personnel is going (including Blackstone and its affiliates). Generally, we may engage Blackstone-affiliated portfolio entities or allow our portfolio entities to be engaged by Blackstone-affiliated entities only if a majority of our board of directors, and a majority of the affiliate transaction committee (which is comprised of each of our independent directors) not otherwise interested in the transaction approve the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on terms and conditions no less favorable to us than those available from unaffiliated third parties.

There can be no assurance that the terms of any such agreement, transaction or other arrangement will be as favorable to a portfolio entity or us as otherwise would be the case if the counterparty for the transfer were not related to Blackstone. As Transferring Personnel are, in certain instances, expected to comprise individuals who are currently compensated by Blackstone and whose associated costs (e.g., overhead) are not directly or indirectly borne by us or Other Blackstone Accounts, Blackstone has a conflict of interest in determining to arrange a transfer or employment arrangement for such Transferring Personnel such that their compensation and associated costs will be borne by portfolio entities of us or Other Blackstone Accounts instead of by the Adviser, Blackstone or their respective affiliates, and to facilitate the transfer of such Transferring Personnel rather than engage in the retention or full-time hiring of third-party candidates for such roles at portfolio entities, Blackstone, the Adviser or their affiliates. These conflicts related to portfolio entity relationships will not necessarily be resolved in our favor.

Furthermore, any such transfer or change in employment by Transferring Personnel will involve employees of different levels of experience, functional expertise and seniority (including, for avoidance of doubt, senior managing directors at Blackstone and members of the management team at the portfolio entity), and in certain instances is expected to be conducted on a programmatic basis involving a designated number of Transferring Personnel across one or a range of identified portfolio entities. Where Transferring Personnel are departing from a portfolio entity, Blackstone, the Adviser or their affiliates, it is not expected in all instances that such entity will hire new personnel, or transfer existing personnel, to fill such Transferring Personnel's prior role, and in certain cases the roles intended to be occupied by Transferring Personnel will be roles newly created for such Transferring Personnel. Moreover, the respective roles of the Transferring Personnel at the entities involved in such transfer could be substantially similar and involve functional responsibilities and activities (including as between Blackstone, the Adviser or their affiliates on the one hand, and our portfolio entities or an Other Blackstone Accounts on the other hand) that do not materially differ. While in certain cases a dedicated search could be conducted by Blackstone or a portfolio entity for the employment position that the Transferring Personnel will fill, a search is not required or expected to be performed in most instances.

Any such transfer will result in costs being transferred from the entity where such Transferring Personnel originated to the entity where such Transferring Personnel is going. The compensation earned and subsequently paid to such Transferring Personnel will in certain cases include arrangements designed to address Transferring Personnel's pre-existing compensation interests, including unvested equity or carried interest attributable to such Transferring Personnel's entity of origin (including but not limited to Blackstone or its respective affiliates) that was forfeited in connection with their departure therefrom, which is expected for certain Transferring Personnel to be material. For example, if a Blackstone employee transfers to or becomes employed by a portfolio entity, such portfolio entity could provide the Transferring Personnel equity of the portfolio entity or other similar incentive or cash compensation to the Transferring Personnel to compensate them for the unvested equity or carried interest they are forfeiting as a result of the transfer. This will result in additional costs to the portfolio entity that otherwise would have been borne by Blackstone or the Adviser. Further, in other cases, the Transferring Personnel is expected to retain compensation earned prior to the Transferring Personnel's departure, including deferred or performance-based compensation, such as, by way of example, promote, bonuses or installment payments, which are paid after the transfer when the Transferring Personnel is employed by the new employer. For example, if a portfolio entity employee transfers to or becomes employed by Blackstone, the relevant portfolio entity could continue to pay the Transferring Personnel compensation earned prior to the Transferring Personnel's departure from the portfolio entity, including, without limitation, in respect of promote, bonuses and installment payments, even though the Transferring Personnel is employed by the new employer at the time of payment. While in some cases benchmarking, verification or other analysis could be conducted in respect of the compensation package being offered to the Transferring Personnel (including any unvested equity or carried interest compensation), there is no requirement that benchmarking, verification or other analysis be conducted, and in some instances the compensation package could be above market rate and/or not verifiable. Such transfers can generate benefits for Blackstone and/or the Adviser (including cost savings) that are not shared with us and do not result in any offset to the management fee.

In addition, it is possible that certain portfolio entities, Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts will compete with us or our portfolio entity for one or more investment opportunities. It is also possible that we, Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts or portfolio entities of any of the foregoing will acquire portfolio entities that have or are expected to engage in activities that are direct competitors of our portfolio entities, or will otherwise have adverse consequences on us or our portfolio entities (including, by way of example only, as a result of such portfolio entities providing the same or similar products or services, or competing for customers, clients, tenants, employees, resources, acquisitions, development or dispositions). Where competing portfolio entities are both directly or indirectly controlled by the Adviser, conflicts of interest could arise when the Adviser makes decisions on behalf of both portfolio entities (such as, by way of example only, deciding which portfolio entity should pursue an acquisition or development).

In addition, Blackstone or portfolio entities of the Company, Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts could establish other investment products, vehicles and platforms focusing on specific asset classes or industry sectors that fall within the Company's or certain of its portfolio entities' investment strategies (such as data centers), which may compete with us or certain of our portfolio entities for investment opportunities.

We may engage portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts and Other Blackstone Accounts may engage our portfolio entities to provide services, including, without limitation: (a) corporate support services, including, without limitation, accounts payable, accounting/audit (e.g., valuation support services), account management (e.g., treasury, customer due diligence), administrative support, insurance, procurement, placement, brokerage, consulting, business intelligence and data science services, cash management and monitoring, consolidation, corporate secretarial and executive assistant services, domiciliation, data management (e.g., gathering, processing, aggregating, reconciling, and delivering relevant industry and asset class specific data), directorship services, entity dissolution process oversight, finance/budgeting and forecasting, financing management, fundraising support, human resources and recruiting (e.g., the onboarding and ongoing development of personnel), communications and public affairs, information and data security support (e.g., network operations and cybersecurity services), information technology and software systems support (e.g., implementation of property technology strategy), corporate governance and entity management (e.g., liquidation, dissolution and/or otherwise end of term services), risk management and internal compliance/know-your-client (KYC) reviews and refreshes, investment incentive payment documentation and recordkeeping, judicial processes, legal/business/finance optimization and innovation (e.g., legal invoice automation, legal document management and oversight, entity formation process standardization, management / team design, and identification of business efficiencies), legal support (e.g., claims, settlement and litigation oversight management and dispute resolution support, due diligence including, in each case, post-disposition of an investment, environmental and engineering due diligence, onboarding support of an acquisition post-closing and post-closing support, fundraising and investor reporting support, regulatory legal compliance, data privacy, lease and contract support (including drafting and reviewing NDAs), management agreement review and negotiation, and human resources and employment related support including legal and compliance training for personnel), lender financial reporting, lender relationship management (e.g., coordinating with lender on any ongoing obligations under any relevant borrowing, indebtedness or other credit support (including, any required consultation with or reporting to such lender)), mortgage servicing rights support services, environmental and/or sustainability due diligence support (e.g., review of property condition reports and clean energy consumption), climate accounting services, sustainability program management services, engineering services, services related to the sourcing, development and implementation of renewable energy, sustainability data collection and reporting services, capital planning services, payroll and benefits support, procurement, reporting (e.g., on tax, debt, portfolio or other similar topics), restructuring and work-out of performing, sub-performing and nonperforming loans, tax analysis and compliance (e.g., CIT and VAT compliance), trademark management, transfer pricing and internal risk control, treasury, valuation support services, vendor selection (e.g., training, due diligence and management support), whole loan servicing oversight (e.g., collateral management, due diligence and servicing oversight); (b) management services (including, without limitation, by a portfolio entity, Blackstone affiliate or third party (e.g., a third-party manager or operating partner) management of operational services (including personnel), operational coordination (e.g., coordination with joint venture partners, operating partners, and property managers), planning with respect to portfolio composition (e.g., hold / sell analysis support), sustainability-related planning (e.g., data collection, review, support and execution), revenue management support and portfolio and property reporting), monitoring, restructuring and work-out of performing, sub-performing and nonperforming loans, consolidation, cash management, financing management, administrative support; (c) construction and project management services including, without limitation, management of development projects (e.g., energy and infrastructure management), management of general contractors on capital projects, project design and execution, tenant improvements, tenant space build-outs, turnkey services (such as end-to-end execution for real estate projects) and insurance support, and vendor selection (including training, due diligence and management support); (d) leasing services (e.g., creating and implementing standard forms, leasing strategy, incorporation of green leases, leasing dispute and litigation assistance, management of third-party brokers, negotiation of major leases and negotiation of leases and income (including parking, advertising, and promotional space)); (e) property management services (including, without limitation, property-level management, cleaning, energy consumption, security (including, but not limited to, physical security), revenue management, contract management, expense management, capital expenditure projects, facility management, business plan execution, engineering, capital expenditure design and implementation, reporting, provision of on-site staff, rent collection, service charge accounting and operation, marketing and advertising, tenant and guest relations, maintenance of common space, selecting and engaging architects, contractors and other third parties involved in construction, supervision of on-site third-party contractors (including facilities maintenance, cleaning, and security), and provision of retail managers to oversee tenant merchandising, promotions, and inventory); (f) transaction support services (including, without limitation, assisting with the appropriate transition of investments from acquisition to asset management, disposition, financing support, identifying potential investments (including development sites) and conducting diligence and negotiation support during acquisition, site visits, assembling relevant information, identifying potential financing opportunities or transactions including different transaction structures, providing diligence and negotiation support during lender selection, loan document negotiation, loan closing process, coordinating with investors, coordinating with lenders, servicers, title companies, escrow agents, vendors, and third party report providers, deal teams and internal legal departments, coordinating lender due diligence, providing relationship management with brokers, banks and other potential sources of financing, preparing reporting packages (including financial statements) for lender review, assisting with underwriting, preparing pitchbooks and other marketing materials, preparing of project feasibility analysis, coordinating with potential sources of capital and management, assisting with customer due diligence and related on-boarding, assisting with due diligence, financial support, pricing, market analyses, modelling, sensitivity analyses, tracking guaranty exposure and counterparty exposure across financing platforms, preparing reporting on liquidity and overall capital structure, ordering third party reports, coordinating design and development works, assistance with due diligence, identifying potential investments, managing relationships with brokers and other potential sources of investments (e.g., recommending and implementing design decisions), coordinating and overseeing brokers, lawyers, accountants and other advisors, working with consultants and third parties to pursue entitlements and licensing, marketing and distribution technical analyses and review of (i) design and structural work, (ii) architectural, façade and external finishes, (iii) certifications, (iv) operations and maintenance manuals and (v) statutory documents), managing bank account opening / maintenance and relationships with banking partners, transaction consulting, providing in-house legal, sustainability and accounting and tax services, coordinating closing/post-closing procedures for acquisitions, dispositions, financings, and other transactions and assembling all and any relevant information related to any of the foregoing; and (g) services performed by technology enabled service providers (including providers of advanced data analytics, artificial intelligence, machine learning, automation, AI implementation, integration, and consulting services, and related software based tools, to support a wide range of business, investment and operational activities), which may include, without limitation, data analysis and aggregation, research and information synthesis, modeling and forecasting, operational and workflow automation, document and contract analysis, content generation, monitoring and reporting, compliance and risk management support, technology enablement, decision support tools, and other analytical or operational functions. Similarly, Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts, we and our portfolio entities can be expected to engage our portfolio entities to provide some or all of these services. Certain of our portfolio entities or an Other Blackstone Account are also expected to provide services to third parties (including for example, post-disposition of an investment). Some of the services performed by portfolio entity service providers could also be performed by the Adviser, from time to time, and vice versa. Fees paid by a us or our portfolio entities to, or value created by, other portfolio entity service providers or vendors (whether to us, Other Blackstone Accounts, Blackstone or any third parties engaging the services of such portfolio entity) do not offset or reduce the management fee payable by our investors and are not otherwise shared with us. The scope, nature and extent of these services can be expected to evolve over time as technologies develop and new use cases are identified.

In certain circumstances, the Adviser can be expected to play a substantial role in engaging the personnel of portfolio entities or third parties providing services to us and/or our portfolio entities on an ongoing basis, including in certain circumstances, with respect to the selection, hiring, retention and compensation of certain personnel. Such personnel or relevant portfolio entity could be compensated with a salary and equity incentive plan, including a portion of profits derived from us or a portfolio entity or asset, or other long term incentive plans, and the total compensation package is likely to differ from portfolio entity to portfolio entity, even where such portfolio entities service the same or similar pools of assets held by us, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or Blackstone or otherwise provides services to third parties, which may influence decisions by such personnel with respect to allocation of time and/or opportunities to the assets held by us and, in certain circumstances, encourage such personnel or portfolio entity to focus on assets or pools of assets they view as providing superior compensation and therefore present a potential conflict of interest (including, for example, when a potential tenant could be considered for multiple assets and/or investments). In addition, Blackstone has multiple business lines, which may result in competition with a portfolio entity for high performing executive talent and presents actual and potential conflicts of interest. For example, Blackstone may "poach" a portfolio entity executive, or such executive may interview with Blackstone during the applicable contractual period with respect to his or her existing position and later be hired by Blackstone after such period. A portfolio entity may want to retain such executives or other employees, and regardless, Blackstone is under no obligation to avoid interviewing or hiring such employees. For example, the Adviser expects that Revantage (as defined below), as described more fully below, with the Adviser's oversight, will establish a team of personnel to provide support services to us and our portfolio entities (and/or other investment funds or accounts managed or controlled by the Adviser), including with respect to diligence. Further, the Adviser may cause Revantage to establish new business lines and provide additional services than those described herein or to provide such services to more customers or clients than described herein. The establishment of such business lines and addition of services and/or customers and clients could give rises to conflicts of interest.

Such portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts that can be expected to provide services to us include, without limitation, the following, and may include additional portfolio entities that may be formed or acquired in the future:

Link. We have engaged Link Logistics Real Estate Holdco LLC ("Link"), a portfolio company owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our logistics properties.

Tricon. We have engaged TAH Operations LLC ("Tricon"), a portfolio company owned by certain Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our rental housing properties.

LivCor. We have engaged LivCor, LLC ("LivCor"), a portfolio company owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our multifamily properties.

Revantage. We have engaged Revantage Corporate Services, LLC and Revantage Global Services Europe S.à r.l. (collectively "Revantage"), portfolio companies owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, corporate support services (including, without limitation, accounting, legal, tax, treasury, valuation support services, information technology and data management) and transaction support services to certain of our investments directly.

Perform Properties. We have engaged Perform Properties LLC ("Perform Properties"), a portfolio company owned by a Blackstone-advised fund, to provide the services that ShopCore Properties TRS Management LLC and EQ Management, LLC had previously provided to our retail and office properties. Those services include management services, corporate support services and transaction support services.

BRE Hotels & Resorts. We have engaged BRE Hotels & Resorts LLC ("BRE Hotels & Resorts"), a portfolio company controlled (but not owned) by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our hospitality properties.

Apartment Income REIT, L.P. We have engaged Apartment Income REIT, L.P., a portfolio company owned by certain Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our rental housing properties.

Beam Living. We have engaged BPP MFNY Employer LLC ("Beam Living"), a portfolio company owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our multifamily properties in New York City.

Longview. We have engaged Longview Senior Housing, LLC ("Longview Senior Housing"), a portfolio company owned by Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our senior housing properties.

Brio. We have engaged Brio Real Estate, LLC. ("Brio"), a portfolio company owned by certain Blackstone-advised investment vehicles, to provide, as applicable, management services, corporate support services and transaction support services for our investments in real estate debt.

Fees and expenses incurred for services provided by Other Blackstone Accounts may result in conflicts of interest, including as a result of different compensation and expense reimbursement structures and allocation of expenses between us and/or the portfolio companies could result in us paying more than our pro rata portion of fees for services.

Fees. We compensate these service providers and vendors owned by the Other Blackstone Accounts for services rendered to us, including through promote or other incentive-based compensation payable to their management teams and other related parties. The incentive-based compensation paid with respect to a portfolio entity or property will vary from the incentive based compensation paid with respect to other portfolio entities and properties; as a result the management team or other related parties can be expected to have greater incentives with respect to certain assets and portfolio entities or third parties relative to others, and the performance of certain assets and portfolio entities may provide incentives to retain management that also service other properties and portfolio entities. Such service providers and vendors may charge for certain goods and services at rates generally consistent with those available in the market for similar goods and services. The discussion regarding the determination of market rates below applies equally in respect of the fees and expenses of the portfolio entity service providers, if charged at rates generally consistent with those available in the market.

Expense Reimbursement. Certain portfolio entity service providers and vendors provide services to us and Other Blackstone Accounts and in such cases, we, our portfolio entities and Other Blackstone Accounts will compensate one or more of these service providers and vendors owned by us or Other Blackstone Accounts, and we and our portfolio entities will be charged for services provided by such service providers and vendors based on a contractually determined rate or cost. As a general matter, captive portfolio entities of ours or Other Blackstone Accounts are not expected to generate profit for us or Other Blackstone Accounts by whom they are owned. Accordingly, our stockholders should have no expectation that such captive portfolio entities owned in whole or in part by us will generate any positive returns and such captive portfolio entities could instead result in a loss to us. The discussion regarding the determination of market rates herein applies equally in respect of the fees and expenses of the portfolio entity service providers, if charged at rates generally consistent with those available in the market. Costs and expenses for goods and services provided by service providers and vendors owned or controlled by us or Other Blackstone Accounts are passed through as expenses on a cost reimbursement, no-profit or break-even basis (even if third party customers or clients are charged on a different basis), which break-even point may occur over a period of time, including in certain circumstances over an extended period of time following engagement by us or such Other Blackstone Account, such that such service provider or vendor may realize a profit in a given year which would be expected to be applied towards the costs in subsequent periods. In certain circumstances, we will bear the start-up, wind-down and liquidation costs and expenses associated with work performed for the benefit of us and our portfolio entities, along with any related tax costs and an allocation of the service provider's overhead related to portfolio entity service providers owned by us or be allocated all or a portion of such costs and expenses related to portfolio entity service providers used by us and owned by Other Blackstone Accounts. Costs and expenses associated with goods and services provided by service providers and vendors owned by Other Blackstone Accounts (including for the avoidance of doubt, all overhead associated with such service providers and vendors owned by Other Blackstone Accounts) are allocated to us and/or the portfolio companies. Such costs and expenses will not reduce the Adviser's management fees and are expected to include any of the following: (i) salaries, wages, benefits and travel expenses; (ii) marketing and advertising fees and expenses; (iii) legal, compliance, accounting and other professional fees and disbursements; (iv) office space, furniture and fixtures (including, without limitation, rent, refurbishment costs and office space in Luxembourg), and equipment; (v) insurance premiums; (vi) technology expenditures, including hardware and software costs, and servicing costs and upgrades related thereto; (vii) costs to engage recruitment firms to hire employees; (viii) due diligence expenses; (ix) one-time costs, including costs related to building-out, expanding and winding-down a portfolio property costs that are of a limited duration or non-recurring (such as startup or technology buildup costs, technology and systems implementation costs, employee on-boarding, ongoing training and severance payments, and IPO-readiness and other infrastructure costs); (x) related tax and accounting costs and/or liabilities determined by Blackstone based on applicable marginal tax rates; and (xi) other operating, establishment, expansion and capital expenditures (including financing and interest thereon). Any of the foregoing costs, although allocated in a particular period, will, in certain circumstances, relate to activities occurring outside the period (including in prior periods, such as where any such costs are amortized over an extended period), and further will, in certain circumstances, be of a general and administrative nature that is not specifically related to particular services, and therefore we could, to the extent permitted by applicable law and our organizational documents, pay more than our pro rata portion of fees for services.

Expense Allocation. Similarly, certain portfolio entities can be expected to incur costs and expenses in connection with broken deals or transactions that are not consummated. In such circumstances, there will be portfolio entities that allocate such broken deal expenses to successful or signed transactions of us or an Other Blackstone Account. As a result, portfolio entities will at times incur significant costs or expenses without recouping such expenses and there can be no assurances that any such broken deal expenses will in fact be recouped, which will impact us, directly or indirectly. The foregoing costs and expenses may thus result in increased expenses for successful or signed transactions of us or an Other Blackstone Account, or lower returns from portfolio entities that are unable to recoup such expenses. In addition, the Adviser generally relies on the management team of a portfolio entity with respect to the determination of costs and expenses and allocation thereof and does not oversee or participate in such determinations or allocations. Moreover, to the extent a portfolio entity uses an allocated cost model with respect to fees, costs and expenses, such fees, costs and expenses are typically estimated and/or accrued quarterly (or on another regular periodic basis) but not finalized until year-end and as a result, such year-end true-up is subject to fluctuation and increases such that for a given year, the year-end cumulative amount with respect to fees, costs and expenses may be greater than the sum of the quarterly estimates (or other periodic estimates where applicable) and/or accruals and therefore we could bear more fees, costs and expenses at year-end than had been anticipated throughout the year. The allocation of costs and expenses (including for the avoidance of doubt all overhead) among the entities and assets to which services are provided can be expected to be based on any of a number of different methodologies, including, without limitation, on the basis of "cost" as described above, "time-allocation", "per unit", "spend," "revenue," "number of units," "per square footage," "assets under management" or "fixed percentage," gross asset value or purchase or sale price and the particular methodology used to allocate such costs among the entities and assets to which services are provided is expected to vary depending on the types of services provided and the applicable asset class involved and could, in certain circumstances, change from one period to another. There can be no assurance that a different manner of allocation would result in our bearing less or more or the same amount costs and expenses. In addition, a portfolio entity that passes through costs and expenses on a cost reimbursement, no-profit or break-even basis may, in certain circumstances, change its allocation methodology (including with respect to one and not all of its customers or clients, including us and our portfolio entities), for example, another methodology for the allocation of costs and expenses (including for the avoidance of doubt all overhead) described herein or otherwise, to charging (A) a flat fee for a particular service or instance, (B) a rate as contractually agreed between the parties, or (C) fees based on current market rates and any such changes may increase or reduce the amounts received by such portfolio entities for the same services and stockholders will not receive notice or disclosure of such changes in allocation methodology. In certain circumstances, particularly where such service providers and vendors are located in Europe or Asia, such service providers and vendors will charge us and our portfolio entities for goods and services at cost plus a percentage of cost for transfer pricing or other tax, legal, regulatory, accounting or other reasons or even decide to amortize any costs or expenses to address accounting or operational considerations. Further, we and our portfolio entities will compensate one or more of these service providers and vendors owned by us or Other Blackstone Accounts through incentive-based compensation payable to their management teams and other related parties. The incentive-based compensation paid with respect to a portfolio entity or asset of ours or Other Blackstone Accounts will vary from the incentive-based compensation paid with respect to other portfolio entities and assets of ours and Other Blackstone Accounts and is expected to vary from those charged to third-party customers or clients of such service provider or vendor; as a result the management team or other related parties can be expected to have greater incentives with respect to certain assets and portfolio entities or third parties relative to others, and the performance of certain assets and portfolio entities or third parties may provide incentives to retain management that also service other assets and portfolio entities. Blackstone is not required to perform or obtain benchmarking analysis or third-party verification of expenses with respect to services provided on a cost reimbursement, no profit, or break-even basis, or in respect of incentive-based compensation. There can be no assurance that amounts charged by portfolio entity service providers that are not controlled by the us or Other Blackstone Accounts will be consistent with market rates or that any benchmarking, verification or other analysis will be performed with respect to such charges. In addition, while it is expected that we or Other Blackstone Accounts will engage in long-term or recurring contracts with portfolio entity service providers, it can be expected that the Adviser will not seek to benchmark or otherwise renegotiate the original fee arrangement for a significant period of time. In addition, neither the Adviser nor Blackstone is required to perform or obtain benchmarking analysis of expenses with respect to non-recurring contracts or services with portfolio entity service providers and will exclude non-recurring costs from benchmarking analysis when such analysis is required, and the determination of whether or not a contract or service is recurring or non-recurring will be made in the applicable portfolio entity management team's sole and subjective determination and can vary from portfolio entity to portfolio entity. With respect to any benchmarking performed, the related benchmarking expenses will be borne by us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities and will not offset the management fee.

In certain circumstances, we and Other Blackstone Accounts will enter into fee arrangements with portfolio entity service providers (including instances where the fee is structured as a cost-plus fee, i.e., the cost of services plus a fixed percentage). Where portfolio entity service providers have entered into such fee arrangements, there may be situations where the portfolio entity service providers' tax liabilities that are associated with the income received from us and/or Other Blackstone Accounts could be passed along to us such that we would ultimately be responsible for bearing such expenses. Accordingly, the Adviser may have an incentive to structure its fee arrangements with portfolio entity service providers in such a manner where we or an Other Blackstone Account may bear all or a portion of such portfolio entity service providers tax liabilities. No fees charged by these service providers and vendors in the fee arrangement discussed in this paragraph will offset or reduce management fees.

Additional Information. A service provider will, in certain circumstances, subcontract certain of its responsibilities to other portfolio entities of us and Other Blackstone Accounts. In such circumstances, the relevant subcontractor could invoice the portfolio entity for fees (or in the case of a cost reimbursement arrangement, for allocable costs and expenses) in respect of the services provided by the subcontractor. The portfolio entity, if charging on a cost reimbursement, no-profit or break-even basis, would in turn allocate those costs and expenses as it allocates other fees and expenses as described above. Similarly, Other Blackstone Accounts, their portfolio entities and Blackstone can be expected to engage our portfolio entities, including QTS Realty Trust, Tricon Residential Inc. ("Tricon"), American Campus Communities, April Housing and any of our future portfolio entities, to provide services, and these portfolio entities will generally charge for services in the same manner described above, but we generally will not be reimbursed for any costs (such as startup costs or technology build-up costs) relating to such portfolio entity incurred prior to such engagement.

Relationships with Portfolio Entities. Portfolio entities are or will be counterparties or participants in agreements, transactions or other arrangements with portfolio entities of Other Blackstone Accounts or Blackstone for the arranging, underwriting, syndication or refinancing of an Investment or other services provided by such portfolio entities or Blackstone (including without limitation, loan modification or restructuring services, loan servicing, administrative services, loan/asset management fees, fees for monitoring and oversight of loans, advisory services, property/asset management services, and title insurance services), that, although Blackstone determines to be consistent with the requirements of our organizational documents, would not have otherwise been entered into but for the affiliation with Blackstone, and which involve fees and/or servicing payments to Blackstone-affiliated entities which are not subject to management fee offset provisions. In connection with such relationships, Blackstone will, in certain circumstances, also make referrals and/or introductions to certain borrowers and/or issuers (which can be expected to result in financial incentives (including additional equity ownership) and/or milestones benefitting Blackstone that are tied or related to participation by such borrowers and/or issuers). We and our investors will not share in any fees or economics accruing to Blackstone as a result of these relationships and/or participation by such borrowers and/or issuers.

In addition, it is possible that certain portfolio entities of the Other Blackstone Accounts or companies in which the Other Blackstone Accounts have an interest will compete with us for one or more investment opportunities.

To the extent we enter into joint ventures with third parties which engage service providers and vendors as discussed herein, we may be allocated more fees, costs and expenses than our pro rata share.

We, Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates are expected to enter into joint ventures with third parties to which the service providers and vendors described above will provide services. In some of these cases, the joint venture partner may negotiate to not pay its pro rata share of fees, costs and expenses to be allocated as described above, in which case we, Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates that also use the services of the portfolio entity service provider will, directly or indirectly, pay the difference, or the portfolio entity service provider will bear a loss equal to the difference. Moreover, in certain circumstances, the joint venture partner may be allocated fees, costs and expenses pursuant to a different methodology than a portfolio entity's standard allocation methodology, which could result in us or the portfolio entities being allocated more fees, costs and expenses than we or they would otherwise be allocated solely pursuant to such standard allocation methodology. Portfolio entity service providers described in this section are generally owned and controlled by one or more Blackstone funds such as Other Blackstone Accounts. In certain instances, a similar company could be owned or controlled by Blackstone directly. Service providers described in this section are generally owned and controlled by a Blackstone fund, such as the Other Blackstone Accounts.

In addition, in the event of the disposition of an investment or a portfolio entity (whether by way of transfer to us, an Other Blackstone Account, a portfolio entity of the foregoing or Blackstone (as described below) or by way of a sale to a third party), such portfolio entity may continue to provide some or all of the services described herein to us, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities of the foregoing, joint venture partners or Blackstone, as applicable, even for a substantial period of time following such disposition. For example, a joint venture partner may retain or continue to retain Revantage (including with respect to fees for services described herein) or continue to work with Blackstone in connection with certain arrangements when and after we exited its investment therein. As such, Blackstone or a portfolio entity of ours may begin to earn fees or continue to earn fees from such investment for providing services to such investment, which will not offset or reduce the management fee or be shared with the stockholders in any way, and such fees may be the same or different compared to those charged to us or a portfolio entity of ours for the same or similar services as described above.

Portfolio entity service providers described in this section are generally owned and controlled by one or more Blackstone vehicles, such as us and Other Blackstone Accounts. In certain instances a similar company could be owned and controlled by Blackstone directly. Blackstone could cause a transfer of ownership of one of these service providers (or the employees, leases, contracts, a business unit or office assets of one service provider to another service provider) from us to an Other Blackstone Account, or from an Other Blackstone Account to us. The transfer of a portfolio entity service provider (or employees, leases, contracts, business units or office assets of such service provider) between us and an Other Blackstone Account (where we may be, directly or indirectly, a seller or a buyer in any such transfer) will generally be consummated for minimal or no consideration, and without obtaining any consent from the stockholders but only if a majority of our board of directors, and a majority of the affiliate transaction committee (which is composed of each of our independent directors), not otherwise interested in the transaction approve the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on terms and conditions no less favorable to us than those available from unaffiliated third parties.

Blackstone has a practice of not entering into any arrangements with advisors, vendors or service providers that provide lower rates or discounts to Blackstone itself compared to those available to us for the same services. However, legal fees for unconsummated transactions are often charged at a discounted rate, such that if we consummate a higher percentage of transactions with a particular law firm than Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates, we could indirectly pay a higher net effective rate for the services of that law firm than Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts or their affiliates. Also, advisors, vendors and service providers often charge different rates or have different arrangements for different types of services. For example, advisors, vendors and service providers often charge fees based on the complexity of the matter as well as the expertise and time required to handle it. Therefore, to the extent the types of services used by us are different from those used by Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates and personnel, we can be expected to pay different amounts or rates than those paid by such other persons. Similarly, Blackstone, the Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates and we can be expected to enter into agreements or other arrangements with vendors and other similar counterparties (whether such counterparties are affiliated or unaffiliated with Blackstone) from time to time whereby such counterparty will, in certain circumstances, charge lower rates (or no fees) or provide discounts or rebates for such counterparty's products or services depending on certain factors, including without limitation, the volume of transactions entered into with such counterparty by Blackstone, Other Blackstone Account and our portfolio entities and their affiliates in the aggregate or other factors.

The Adviser is expected to outsource to third parties several of the services performed for us and/or our portfolio entities, including services (such as administrative, legal, accounting, tax, investment diligence (including sourcing), modeling and ongoing monitoring, preparing internal templates, memos, and similar materials in connection with the Adviser's analysis of investment opportunities, or other related services) that can be and/or historically have been performed in-house by the Adviser and its personnel. The fees, costs and expenses of such third-party service providers will be borne us, even if the Adviser would have borne such amounts if such services had been performed in-house (which, for the avoidance of doubt, would be in addition to any fees borne by us for similar services performed by the Adviser in-house in lieu of or alongside (and/or to supplement or monitor) such third parties). Outsourced services also include certain services (such as fund administration, transactional legal advice, tax advice, tax planning and other related services) that will, in the case of some services, or could, in the case of other services, be provided by the Adviser in-house at our expense. The Adviser reserves the right to, and will, from time to time, provide such services alongside (or supplement or use to monitor) a third-party service provider on the same matter or engagement and, in such cases, to the extent the expenses of the Adviser's services are borne by us, the overall amount of expenses borne directly or indirectly by the stockholders will likely be greater than would be the case if only the Adviser or such third-party provided such services.

The decision to engage a third-party service provider, including the timing of such engagement, which, for the avoidance of doubt, could be at any time, and the terms (including economic terms) of such engagement will be made by the Adviser in its discretion, taking into account such factors as it deems relevant under the circumstances. In certain instances, outsourcing (including with respect to sourcing investments) can allow us to pursue transactions and activities that would otherwise not be feasible (because, for example, such transactions are too small in size). Certain third-party service providers and/or their employees (and/or teams thereof) will dedicate substantially all of their business time to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or their respective portfolio entities, while others will have other clients. In certain cases, third-party service providers and/or their employees (including part-time or full-time secondees to Blackstone) will spend some or all of their time at Blackstone offices, have dedicated office space at Blackstone, have Blackstone-related e-mail addresses, receive administrative support from Blackstone personnel or participate in meetings and events for Blackstone personnel, even though they are not Blackstone employees or affiliates. Blackstone could also lease, sublet, or otherwise share its premises with third-party service providers and receive overhead, rent, or other fees, costs, and expenses in return. Any of these arrangements create conflicts of interest, as Blackstone will have incentives to engage, or cause or encourage us and/or portfolio entities to engage, third-party service providers due to a number of factors, including the expectation that the fees, costs and expenses of such service providers will be borne by us (with no reduction or offset to management fees), the fact that retaining certain third parties will reduce the Adviser's internal overhead, compensation, benefits and costs for employees who would otherwise perform such services in-house, and where applicable, the potential for Blackstone to receive additional compensation or cost recovery through leasing or subleasing of office space or similar arrangements with these service providers. Such incentives likely exist even with respect to services where internal overhead, compensation and benefits are borne by us.

In general, the involvement of third-party service providers presents a number of risks due to, among other factors, the Adviser's reduced control over the functions that are outsourced. In some cases, and subject to applicable law and contractual restrictions, third-party service providers are permitted to delegate all or a portion of their responsibilities relating to us and/or our portfolio entities to other third parties (including to their affiliates). Any such delegation could further reduce the Adviser's control over the outsourced functions, and the Adviser would lack direct oversight over the party to whom the responsibilities are delegated.

A third-party service provider could face conflicts of interest in carrying out its responsibilities relating to the Adviser, us and/or our portfolio entities, including (without limitation) in relation to the delegation of such responsibilities to other parties and the allocation of time, attention and resources to the Adviser, us and/or our portfolio entities as compared to the service provider's other clients. Third-party service providers could have incentives to carry out their responsibilities in a manner that does not advance the interests of us and/or our portfolio entities and generally have no fiduciary obligation to act in the best interest of the Adviser, us and/or our portfolio entities. The Adviser has limited visibility into what conflicts of interest a third-party service provider might face and the extent to which any such conflicts impact the service provider's decision-making.

There can be no assurances that the Adviser will be able to identify, prevent or mitigate the risks of engaging third-party service providers (including the risk that such third-party service provider or its delegatees will not perform the outsourced function with the same degree of skill, competence and efficiency as the Adviser would in the absence of an outsourcing arrangement). We could suffer adverse consequences from actions, errors or failures to act by such third parties or their delegatees, and will have obligations, including indemnity obligations, to such third parties or their delegatees, and limited recourse against them. Outsourcing and the use of internal service providers will not occur uniformly for all Blackstone managed vehicles and accounts and the expenses borne by such vehicles and accounts will vary. Accordingly, certain costs could be incurred by (or allocated to) us through the use of third-party (or internal) service providers that are not incurred by (or allocated to) certain Other Blackstone Accounts for similar services.

The Adviser could similarly determine, subject to applicable law, to outsource certain services to Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities of ours and/or Other Blackstone Accounts, stockholders, limited partners of Other Blackstone Accounts and affiliates of Blackstone, or to any of their respective related parties. The risks and conflicts described above would similarly apply in such circumstances, and such circumstances would raise additional conflicts.

In addition to the service providers (including portfolio entity service providers) and vendors described above, we will engage in transactions with one or more businesses that are owned or controlled by Blackstone directly (not through or in certain cases, not only through one of its funds) including the businesses described below. These businesses will, in certain circumstances, also enter into transactions with other counterparties of ours, portfolio entities as well as service providers and vendors. Blackstone could benefit from these transactions and activities through current income and creation of enterprise value in these businesses. No fees charged by these service providers and vendors will offset or reduce the Adviser's management fees. Furthermore, Blackstone, the Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates and related parties will use the services of these Blackstone affiliates, including at different rates. Although Blackstone believes the services provided by its affiliates are equal to or better than those of third parties, Blackstone directly benefits from the engagement of these affiliates, including from any profits generated by such affiliates as described in the following sentence, and there is therefore an inherent conflict of interest. As a result of services provided to us and our portfolio entities, affiliated service providers are permitted and could be expected to from time to time generate profits, including incidental profits from services provided to us and our portfolio entities. In addition, the engagement of Blackstone-affiliated service providers to perform services for us or our portfolio entities could, in certain circumstances, reduce Blackstone's internal overhead and compensation costs for employees who would otherwise be performing such services. In light of all of the foregoing, Blackstone can be expected to have an incentive to cause or encourage us or our portfolio entities to engage Blackstone-affiliated service providers or to pursue the types of investments or transactions in connection with which these service providers could possibly render services and earn fees, compensation or other amounts.

Blackstone-affiliated service providers and vendors, include, without limitation:

LNLS. Lexington National Land Services ("LNLS") is a Blackstone affiliate that (i) acts as a title agent in facilitating and issuing title insurance, (ii) provides title support services for title insurance underwriters, (iii) in certain circumstances, provides courtesy title settlement services, and (iv) acts as escrow agent in connection with investments by us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their affiliates and related parties, and third parties, including, in certain cases, Blackstone's borrowers. In exchange for such services LNLS earns fees, which would have otherwise been paid to third parties. Blackstone generally will periodically benchmark relevant costs (including on a portfolio-wide basis in certain cases) unless market data is unavailable in the context of such transaction or is impractical or unduly burdensome to obtain or when LNLS is providing such services in a state where the insurance premium or escrow fee, as applicable, is regulated by the state or when LNLS is part of a syndicate of title insurance companies where the insurance premium is negotiated by other title insurance underwriters or their agents on an arm's-length basis. Such benchmarking, where conducted, will assess where LNLS rates are within a range that Blackstone has determined is reflective of a title agency rates in the applicable and comparable markets. LNLS rates will not necessarily be equal to or lower than the median within such range.

We and/or portfolio entities are expected to engage, subject to our governing documents, in the future with relevant businesses owned by Blackstone and/or Other Blackstone Accounts that will provide energy procurement, advisory, consulting and/or other services related to sustainability activities (including without limitation those related to establishment, implementation, assessment, attestation, monitoring and measurement of sustainability-related programs, processes, initiatives and improvements) (such businesses, collectively, "BX Energy Services"). We may make use of BX Energy Services in order to support our investment objectives. In particular, BX Energy Services is expected to provide (i) energy advisory services, including energy procurement strategy and contract support; (ii) energy brokering, procurement and power marketing, including purchases of energy on behalf of portfolio entities through a retail energy marketer or as a broker; (iii) renewable or other low-carbon energy procurement, including purchases of renewable energy and/or investment in renewable energy projects; (iv) bill management, including bill pay support, which may include paying of bills, checking for billing errors and tariff negotiation and (v) data and emissions inventories, including managing energy data and calculating emissions from energy purchases.

Blackstone and Other Blackstone Accounts could benefit from these transactions and activities through current income and creation of enterprise value in BX Energy Services' businesses. Furthermore, Blackstone, the Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities and their affiliates and related parties will use the services of BX Energy Services, including at different rates as further described below. Although Blackstone believes the services provided by BX Energy Services are equal or better than those of third parties, Blackstone directly benefits from the engagement of BX Energy Services, and there is therefore an inherent conflict of interest.

We could acquire from or sell to Blackstone a service provider as an investment or participate alongside Blackstone in the acquisition of a service provider. Blackstone is expected to establish a valuation methodology in relation to any such sale or acquisition by us of a service provider. In addition, before entering into any transaction with respect to any such service provider, it is anticipated that Blackstone will obtain any consents that may be required under the Advisers Act or other applicable laws or regulations and our governing documents.

Certain Blackstone-affiliated service providers and their respective personnel will receive a management promote, an incentive fee and other performance-based compensation in respect of our investments, which fees and compensation are expected to be substantial in some cases and in the form of shares of our common stock. Furthermore, Blackstone-affiliated service providers can be expected to charge costs and expenses based on allocable overhead associated with personnel working on relevant matters (including salaries, benefits and other similar expenses), provided that these amounts will not exceed market rates as determined to be appropriate under the circumstances. We may engage Blackstone-affiliated service providers only if a majority of our board of directors, and a majority of the affiliate transaction committee (which is composed of each of our independent directors), not otherwise interested in the transaction approve the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on terms and conditions no less favorable to us than those available from unaffiliated third parties.

The Adviser and its affiliates, except in those instances where a market comparable cannot be determined, will make determinations of certain market rates (i.e., rates that fall within a range that the Adviser and its affiliates has determined is reflective of rates in the applicable market and certain similar markets, though not necessarily equal to or lower than the median rate of comparable firms and in certain circumstances, is expected to be in the top of the range) based on its consideration of a number of factors, which are generally expected to include the experience of the Adviser and its affiliates with non-affiliated service providers as well as benchmarking data and other methodologies determined by the Adviser and its affiliates to be appropriate under the circumstances. In respect of benchmarking, Blackstone undertakes no minimum amount of benchmarking and to the extent Blackstone does engage in benchmarking, it cannot be assured that such benchmarking will be accurate, comparable, or relate specifically to the assets or services to which such rates or terms relate. Whether or not Blackstone has a relationship with, or receives financial or other benefit from recommending a particular service provider, there can be no assurance that no other service provider is more qualified to provide the applicable services or could provide such services at lesser cost. While Blackstone often obtains benchmarking data regarding the rates charged or quoted by third parties for services similar to those provided by Blackstone affiliates in the applicable market or certain similar markets, relevant comparisons may not be available for a number of reasons, including, without limitation, as a result of a lack of a substantial market of providers or users of such services or the confidential or bespoke nature of such services (e.g., within property management services, different assets may receive different property management services). In addition, benchmarking data is based on general market and broad industry overviews, rather than determined on an asset-by-asset basis. As a result, benchmarking data does not take into account specific characteristics of individual assets then owned or to be acquired (such as location or size), or the particular characteristics of services provided. Further, it could be difficult to identify comparable third-party service providers that provide services of a similar scope and scale as the Blackstone-affiliated service providers that are the subject of the benchmarking analysis. For these reasons, such market comparisons may not result in precise market terms for comparable services. To the extent we or an Other Blackstone Account engages in a long term or recurring contract with a Blackstone affiliated service provider, the Adviser may not seek to benchmark or otherwise renegotiate the original fee arrangement for a significant period of time. Expenses to obtain benchmarking data will be borne by us or by Other Blackstone Accounts and will not offset the management fee we pay to the Adviser. Finally, in certain circumstances, the Adviser can be expected to determine that third-party benchmarking is unnecessary, including in circumstances where the price for a particular good or service is mandated by law (e.g., title insurance in rate-regulated states) or because Blackstone has access to adequate market data (including from third-party clients of the Blackstone-affiliated service provider that is the subject of the benchmarking analysis) to make the determination without reference to third-party benchmarking. For example, in certain circumstances a Blackstone-affiliated service provider or a portfolio entity service provider could provide services to third parties, in which case if the rates charged to such third parties are consistent with the rates charged to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities, then a separate benchmarking analysis of such rates is not expected to be prepared. Some of the services performed by Blackstone-affiliated service providers could also be performed by our sponsor from time to time and vice versa. Fees paid by us to, or value created by, other portfolio entity services providers or vendors do not offset or reduce the management fee we pay to the Adviser and are not otherwise shared with us.

For more information regarding our relationships with Blackstone entities providing services to us or our subsidiaries, see “Selected Information Regarding our Operations—Related Party Transactions” in this prospectus. Blackstone and Other Blackstone Accounts operate in multiple industries, including the real estate related information technology industry, and provide products and services to or otherwise contract with us, among others. In connection with any such investment, Blackstone and Other Blackstone Accounts (or their respective portfolio entities and personnel and related parties) can be expected to make referrals or introductions to us or other portfolio entities in an effort, in part, to increase the customer base of such companies or businesses or because such referrals or introductions will, in certain circumstances, result in financial benefits, such as cash payments, tax credits, additional equity ownership, participation in revenue share, accruing to the party making the introduction. Furthermore, such introductions or referrals may involve the transfer of certain personnel or employees among Blackstone and portfolio entities of ours and Other Blackstone Accounts which may result in a termination fee or similar payments being due and payable from one such entity to another. In the alternative, Blackstone may form a joint venture (or other business relationship) with such a portfolio entity to implement such arrangements, pursuant to which the joint venture or business provides services (including, without limitation, corporate support services, loan management services, management services, operational services, ongoing account services (e.g., interacting and coordinating with banks generally and with regard to any related "know your client" requirements), risk management services, data management services, consulting services (including AI Technologies), brokerage services, sustainability and clean energy consulting services, insurance procurement, placement, brokerage and consulting services, and other services to such portfolio entities) that are referred to the joint venture or business by Blackstone. Such referrals can be expected to be made by Blackstone in an effort, in part, to increase the customer base of such companies or businesses (and therefore the value of the investment held by us or Other Blackstone Accounts) or because such referrals or introductions will, in certain circumstances, result in financial benefits, such as cash payments, tax credits, additional equity ownership, or participation in revenue share and/or milestones benefitting the referring or introducing party that are tied or related to participation by the portfolio entities of ours and/or of Other Blackstone Accounts, accruing to the party making the introduction (e.g., personnel of Blackstone, including the Adviser's investment professionals). Such joint venture or business could use data obtained from such portfolio entities. We typically will not share in any fees, economics, equity or other benefits accruing to Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities as a result of such introduction. There may, however, be instances in which the applicable arrangements provide that we or our portfolio entities share in some or all of any resulting financial incentives (including, in some cases, cash payments, tax credits, additional equity ownership, participation in revenue share and/or milestones) based on structures and allocation methodologies determined in the sole discretion of Blackstone. Conversely, where we or one of our portfolio entities is the referring or introducing party, rather than receiving all of the financial incentives (including, in some cases, cash payments, tax credits, additional equity ownership, participation in revenue share and/or milestones) for similar types of referrals and/or introductions, such financial incentives (including, in some cases, cash payments, additional equity ownership, participation in revenue share and/or milestones) may be similarly shared with the participating Other Blackstone Accounts or their respective portfolio entities.

Blackstone has also entered into certain investment management arrangements whereby it provides investment management services for compensation to insurance companies including (i) FGL Holdings, which was formerly known as Fidelity & Guaranty Life Insurance Company and was acquired by Fidelity National Financial Inc., and certain of its affiliates ("FGL"), (ii) Everlake Life Insurance Company and certain of its affiliates ("Everlake"), (iii) the insurance companies comprising Corebridge Financial, Inc.'s life and retirement business ("Corebridge") and (iv) certain subsidiaries of Resolution Life Group Holdings Ltd. As of the date hereof, Blackstone owns an indirect minority equity interest in the parent company of Everlake and Other Blackstone Accounts own the remaining equity interests in the parent company of Everlake, and Blackstone owns a minority equity interest in the parent company of Corebridge. The foregoing insurance company investment management arrangements will involve investments by such insurance company clients across a variety of asset classes (including investments that may otherwise be appropriate for us). As a result, in addition to the compensation Blackstone receives for providing investment management services to insurance companies in which Blackstone or an Other Blackstone Account owns an interest, in certain instances Blackstone receives additional compensation in its capacity as an indirect owner of such insurance companies and/or Other Blackstone Accounts. In the future, Blackstone will likely enter into similar arrangements with other portfolio entities of ours, Other Blackstone Accounts or other insurance companies. Such arrangements may reduce the allocations of investments to us, and Blackstone may be incentivized to allocate investments away from us to such insurance company client under such investment management arrangements or other vehicles/accounts to the extent the economic arrangements related thereto are more favorable to Blackstone relative to our terms.

With respect to transactions or agreements with portfolio entities (including, for the avoidance of doubt, long-term incentive plans) occurring at times when unrelated officers of a portfolio entity are not appointed, Blackstone can be expected to negotiate and execute agreements on behalf of the portfolio entity with Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities and affiliates and other related parties. These negotiations would not be arm's length and would entail conflicts of interest. Among the measures Blackstone can be expected to use to mitigate such conflicts is to involve outside counsel to review and advise on such agreements and provide insights into commercially reasonable terms, or establish separate groups with information barriers within Blackstone to advise on each side of the negotiation.

These conflicts related to portfolio entity transactions will not necessarily be resolved in our favor, and stockholders may not be entitled to receive notice or disclosure of the occurrence of these conflicts.

Certain assets related to our investments, owned by us, our portfolio companies and/or an Other Blackstone Account will, in certain circumstances, lease or permit temporary use of property by way of a lease or license, to or from Blackstone, Other Blackstone Account.

Certain assets related to our investments, owned by us, our portfolio companies and/or an Other Blackstone Account will, in certain circumstances, lease or permit temporary use of property by way of a lease or license, to or from Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities and affiliates and other related parties and service providers, including their suppliers, vendors, contractors and other advisors (including, but not limited to, law firms, accounting firms and other professional service providers). There can be no guarantee that any such leases or licenses will be made at or near market rates, subject to our governing documents. Further, Blackstone is generally expected to, but may not always, confirm market rates by reference to other leases or licenses it is aware of in the market (including those in the same building), which Blackstone expects to be generally indicative of the market given the scale of Blackstone's real estate business. Blackstone can be expected to nonetheless have conflicts of interest in making these determinations, and with regard to other decisions related to such assets and investments. For example, we may have consent rights over or be asked to approve leases or licenses, sales or evictions related to Other Blackstone Accounts, their portfolio entities and affiliates and other related parties and service providers, including their suppliers, vendors, contractors and other advisors (including, but not limited to, law firms, accounting firms and other professional service providers). There can be no assurance that we and our portfolio entities will lease to or from any such other related parties and service providers on terms as favorable to us and our portfolio entities as would apply if the counterparties were unrelated or lacked a pre-existing relationship with the Adviser and/or us.

We may enter into cross-collateralization or cross-guarantee or similar arrangements with Other Blackstone Accounts.

We and our portfolio entities may, subject to our governing documents, enter into cross-collateralization or cross-guarantee or similar arrangements with Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities, particularly in circumstances in which more attractive financing terms are available through a cross-collateralized or cross-guarantee arrangement, particularly in circumstances where the assets of each portfolio entity are similar in nature. It is often better (or commercially required) for a counterparty to view the various entities as one single "Blackstone" party and therefore appropriate for these obligations to be addressed among Other Blackstone Accounts by way of a back-to-back or reimbursement type agreement. Also, it is expected that cross-collateralization will generally occur at portfolio entities rather than us for obligations that are not recourse to us except in limited circumstances such as "bad boy" events. We also expect to form certain alternative investment vehicles, special purpose vehicles and holding vehicles, which may involve cross-guarantees or other cross-collateralization arrangements. While cross-collateralization of investments may enable us to obtain more favorable terms in respect of certain indebtedness across certain investments (for example, such as where investments of different but overlapping classes are located in the same region or are a part of a larger portfolio) on a modest scale, any cross-collateralization arrangements with Other Blackstone Accounts could result in us losing its interests in otherwise performing investments or other assets due to poorly performing or non-performing investments or other assets of Other Blackstone Accounts in the collateral pool or such persons otherwise defaulting on their obligations under the terms of such arrangements (and, for the avoidance of doubt, our obligations under such cross-collateralization arrangements are expected to apply to investments in which we have not participated). We can, in certain circumstances, be exposed to risks associated with borrowings or other indebtedness of Other Blackstone Accounts when such other entities are not in turn exposed to risks associated with our borrowing for a similar purpose if, for example, such other entities or the partners thereof are excused from cross-collateralizing certain partnership expenses, management fees or other obligations of us and Other Blackstone Accounts. Through cross-collateralization, cross-guarantees or similar arrangements, we may nevertheless be indirectly exposed to risks associated with leverage on fees, expenses and/or other obligations of us.

Similarly, a lender could require that it face only one portfolio entity, even though multiple portfolio entities benefit from the lending, which will typically result in (i) the portfolio entity facing the lender being solely liable with respect to the entire obligation, and therefore being required to contribute amounts in respect of the shortfall attributable to other portfolio entities, and (ii) portfolio entities being jointly and severally liable for the full amount of the obligation, liable on a cross-collateralized basis or liable for an equity cushion (which cushion amount may vary depending upon the type of financing or refinancing (e.g., cushions for refinancings may be smaller)). Portfolio entities benefiting from a financing can be expected to enter into a back-to-back or other similar reimbursement agreements to ensure no portfolio entity bears more than its pro rata portion of the debt and related obligations. It is not expected that portfolio entities would be compensated (or provide compensation to other portfolio entities) for being primarily liable, or jointly liable, for other portfolio entities pro rata share of any financing.

Agreements we enter with respect to service and products purchased on a group basis may result in conflicts of interest due to the allocation of the costs and benefits of these agreements.

We will enter into agreements, transactions or arrangements regarding group procurement (such as CoreTrust Purchasing Group LLC, a group purchasing organization currently owned by an Other Blackstone Account), benefits management and purchase of title and other insurance policies (which can be expected to include brokerage and placement thereof), and such agreements, transactions, or arrangements will from time to time be discounted due to scale or pooled across portfolio entities. This could include sharing of deductibles and other forms of shared risk retention from a third party or a Blackstone affiliate, and other operational, administrative or management related initiatives. For example, it is anticipated that Blackstone will encourage portfolio entities of ours or of Other Blackstone Accounts to participate in, or engage a specific vendor (which could itself be a portfolio entity or an affiliate thereof) as part of, a program or arrangement (such as a group procurement organization) designed to help such portfolio entities obtain volume-based (or similar) discounts or benefits in connection with goods and/or services they purchase from, through or with the assistance of such vendor, program or arrangement (including, without limitation, benefits received in connection with insurance policies provided, procured, introduced, brokered or sourced by, through or with the assistance of such vendor, program or arrangement). Some of these programs or arrangements result in commissions, discounts, rebates, revenue shares, or similar payments or benefits received (including from the vendor) by Blackstone, its personnel or Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities, including as a result of transactions entered into by us, and those payments or benefits could be calculated based on the amount of payments made by portfolio entities for the goods and services they purchase through or with the assistance of such program or arrangement (or calculated using a different methodology). Any such payments or benefits received by Blackstone, its personnel, us, Other Blackstone Accounts or their respective portfolio entities will not offset the management fee payable to the Adviser. Blackstone also participates in such programs and arrangements or engages the same vendor as portfolio entities, and potentially realizes better pricing or discounts as a result of the participation of, or the engagement of that vendor by, portfolio entities. Blackstone can be expected to also receive consulting, usage or other fees from the parties to these group procurement arrangements. To the extent that a portfolio entity of an Other Blackstone Account is providing such a service, the benefits received by the particular portfolio entity providing the service will, in certain circumstances, be greater than those received by us in receiving the service. Moreover, Blackstone will allocate the cost of these programs or arrangements, including of the various services and products purchased on a group basis, among us, Other Blackstone Accounts, and their portfolio entities. In addition, certain services and products (including, but not limited to the provision of electronic subscription documents) are expected to be provided to us and Other Blackstone Accounts across Blackstone business units and the allocation of related costs and expenses between us and Other Blackstone Accounts could be determined, among other factors, by the timing and extent to which us and Other Blackstone Accounts are to engage or receive such services or products. For example, we may be required to pay an additional or higher fee as compared with Other Blackstone Accounts if onboarded with a service provider at a different time than Other Blackstone Accounts, including due to volume-based (or similar) discounts resulting from its participation and the participation of Other Blackstone Accounts. Conflicts exist in the allocation of the costs and benefits of these arrangements.

We will purchase or bear premiums, fees, costs and expenses (including any expenses or fees of insurance brokers) to insure us, our portfolio properties, the Adviser, Blackstone and their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives and other indemnified parties (and in certain circumstances, such person's agents and representatives), against liability in connection with our activities. This includes a portion of any premiums, fees, costs and expenses for one or more "umbrella", group or other insurance policies maintained by Blackstone that cover one or more of us and Other Blackstone Accounts, the Adviser and Blackstone (including their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives and other indemnified parties). The Adviser and its affiliates will make judgments about the allocation of premiums, fees, costs and expenses for such "umbrella", group or other insurance policies among one or more of us and Other Blackstone Accounts, the Adviser and Blackstone on a fair and reasonable basis, in their discretion, and may make corrective allocations should they determine subsequently that such corrections are necessary or advisable. For example, some property insurance could be allocated on a property-by-property basis in accordance with the relative values of the respective assets that are insured by such policies.

Similarly, we and our portfolio entities may enter into arrangements with Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities whereby insurance is procured as a group where the insurance provider may charge lower premiums to the group than it would on an individual basis. In such event, the obligation to pay the premiums on such group policies may be allocated in accordance with the relative values of the respective entities that are insured by such policies (or other factors that Blackstone may reasonably determine). Additionally, we and Other Blackstone Accounts (and their portfolio entities) will, in certain circumstances, jointly contribute to a pool of funds that can be expected to be used to pay losses that are subject to the deductibles on any group insurance policies, which contributions may similarly be allocated in accordance with the relative values of the respective assets that are insured by such policies (or other factors that Blackstone may reasonably determine).

In respect of such insurance arrangements, Blackstone can be expected to make corrective allocations from time to time should it determine subsequently that such adjustments are necessary or advisable. There can be no assurance that different allocations or arrangements than those implemented by Blackstone as provided above would not result in us bearing less (or more) premiums, deductibles, fees, costs and expenses for insurance policies.

We and Other Blackstone Accounts (and their portfolio entities) will also, in certain circumstance (including with respect to property insurance and terrorism insurance), self-insure through a captive insurance company (the "Captive") owned entirely by its participants (including us and such Other Blackstone Accounts). This arrangement is expected to provide us with greater control over our insurance program and reduce overall costs of insurance through lower premiums and reduction or elimination of insurance brokerage costs. An affiliate of our sponsor provides oversight of the Captive's management, sits on the boards of the Captive's cells, provides a guarantee for a letter of credit to help capitalize the Captive and receives a fixed fee based on a percentage of the gross premiums (subject to the benchmarking process described above). A third-party insurance services firm provides brokerage, risk management, claims oversight, credit support, administration and insurer management services to the Captive. In addition, it is expected that an affiliate of the Adviser will provide investment management and treasury services (including other cash management related services) in respect of all or a portion of the insurance premiums held by the Captive and will receive a fee in respect of such services. The fees and expenses of the Captive, including insurance premiums, the fees described above and fees paid to its manager, are borne by us and Other Blackstone Accounts pro rata based on estimates of insurance premiums that would have been payable for each party's respective properties in each respective asset class, as benchmarked by third parties, and will be paid by each participant annually. While we do not expect to provide any funding in addition to such annual contribution, it is possible that each member of the Captive, including us, is required to make additional capital contributions in certain circumstances. We may, however, be negatively affected to the extent there are disproportionate losses incurred on properties held by Other Blackstone Accounts participating in the Captive, including through increased future premiums or the lost ability to recoup capital contributions, and there can be no assurance that the arrangement will not result in under- or over-allocation of costs to us relative to Other Blackstone Accounts or that different allocations or arrangements than those provided above would not result in us and our portfolio companies bearing less (or more) premiums, deductibles, fees, costs and expenses for insurance policies.

Further, we, Other Blackstone Accounts or our respective portfolio companies may enter into arrangements with insurance carriers whereby properties are subject to deductibles that are less than the deductibles shown on the insurance policy declarations provided to third parties, such as lenders. In such situations, we and Other Blackstone Accounts may enter into deductible indemnity endorsements whereby we, Other Blackstone Accounts and our respective portfolio entities agree to pay the insurance carrier the difference between the higher deductible policy and lower contractual deductible in the event of a loss under the insurance policy. The Captive currently engages, and is expected to continue to engage, one or more portfolio companies of us and Other Blackstone Accounts (including Revantage) to provide corporate support services in respect of its activities (including assisting with Captive structuring, related insurance placement and oversight and administration of claims). In connection therewith, Revantage is expected to earn commissions for such services related to the Captive property program placement, terrorism insurance, casualty program and other lines of coverage and may earn additional commissions during each such policy year. Such commissions will initially be used to offset costs of the Captive (which may include fees to Blackstone and allocated costs associated with Revantage's account payroll, professional services, travel and entertainment, employee development, technology costs and facilities and office services), with any excess funds being returned to or used for the benefit of participating funds in a reasonable manner, which may include reserving for (or advance payment of) additional anticipated costs or direct reimbursement in accordance with a reasonable allocation. Any such services and fees are in addition to the services provided and fees received by Blackstone.

The potential receipt of compensation by Blackstone related to data management services provided to portfolio properties, us and Other Blackstone Accounts may cause us to invest in portfolio entities that we may not otherwise have invested in or on terms and conditions less favorable to us than we would have otherwise sought to obtain.

Revantage provides data management services to portfolio properties and may also provide such services directly to us and Other Blackstone Accounts (collectively, "Data Holders") and Blackstone or an affiliate of Blackstone formed in the future may also provide data management services in relation to data and other information they hold, possess, acquire, generate, distribute, or sell. Such services can be expected to include assistance with obtaining, analyzing, curating, processing, packaging, distributing, organizing, mapping, holding, transforming, enhancing, marketing and selling such data and other information (among other related data management and consulting, including artificial intelligence, services) and/or the development of software or code therefrom, for monetization through licensing or sale arrangements with third parties and, subject to the requirements under our charter (including any necessary approval of by our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors not interested in the transaction) and any other applicable contractual legal, or regulatory restrictions or limitations, with us, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio properties and other Blackstone affiliates and associated entities (including funds in which Blackstone and Other Blackstone Accounts make investments, and portfolio entities thereof). If Blackstone enters into data services arrangements with portfolio entities and receives compensation from such portfolio entities for such data services, we will indirectly bear its share of such compensation based on its pro rata ownership of such portfolio entities. Where Blackstone believes appropriate, data and other information from one Data Holder will be aggregated or pooled with data and other information from other Data Holders. Any revenues arising from such aggregated or pooled data sets would be allocated between applicable Data Holders on a fair and reasonable basis as determined by Blackstone in its discretion, with Blackstone being able to make corrective allocations should it determine subsequently that such corrections were necessary or advisable. If Blackstone in the future enters into data services arrangements with portfolio entities and such portfolio entities pay Blackstone compensation for such data services, we will indirectly bear its share of the cost of such compensation based on its ownership of such portfolio entities, which would be in addition to any annual flat fee paid as part of the expenses for data science-related services. To the extent Blackstone receives compensation for such data services (including data management and consulting, including artificial intelligence services), or as a result of the development of software or code, such compensation can be expected to include a percentage of the revenues generated through any licensing or sale arrangements with respect to the relevant data as well as fees, royalties and cost and expense reimbursement (including start-up costs and allocable overhead associated with personnel working on relevant matters (including salaries, benefits and other similar expenses)). Such compensation will not offset or reduce the management fee or any other fees or expenses borne by us and will not otherwise be shared with us. Additionally, Blackstone is also expected to share and distribute the products from such data management services within Blackstone or its affiliates (including Other Blackstone Accounts or their portfolio entities) at no charge and, in such cases, the Data Holders will not receive any financial or other benefit from having provided such data to Blackstone. The potential receipt of such compensation by Blackstone creates incentives for the Adviser to cause us to invest in portfolio entities with a significant amount of data that it might not otherwise have invested in or on terms less favorable than it otherwise would have sought to obtain.

Blackstone has implemented policies and procedures to address conflicts that arise as a result of its various activities, as well as regulatory and other legal considerations. Because Blackstone has many different asset management and advisory businesses, it is subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest, greater regulatory oversight and more legal and contractual restrictions than that to which it would otherwise be subject to if it had just one line of business.

We may be subject to potential conflicts of interest as a consequence of family relationships that Blackstone employees have with other real estate professionals.

Additionally, certain personnel and other professionals of Blackstone have family members or relatives that are actively involved in industries and sectors in which we invest and/or have business, personal, financial or other relationships with companies in such industries and sectors (including the advisors and service providers described above) or other industries, which gives rise to potential or actual conflicts of interest. For example, such family members or relatives might be officers, directors, personnel or owners of companies or assets which are actual or potential investments of us or our other counterparties and portfolio properties. Moreover, in certain instances, we can be expected to purchase or sell companies or assets from or to, or otherwise transact with, companies that are owned by such family members or relatives or in respect of which such family members or relatives have other involvement. These relationships also have the potential to influence Blackstone, in deciding whether to select, recommend or create certain service providers to perform services for us or a portfolio entity (the cost of which will generally be borne directly or indirectly by us or such portfolio entity, as applicable) and to incentivize Blackstone to engage such service provider over another third-party. The fees for services provided by such service providers may or may not be at the same rate charged by other third parties and Blackstone undertakes no obligations to select service providers who may have lower rates. In most such circumstances, we will not be precluded from undertaking any of these investment activities or transactions. To the extent Blackstone determines appropriate, conflict mitigation strategies may be put in place with respect to a particular circumstance, such as internal information barriers or recusal, disclosure or other steps determined appropriate by the Adviser.

We may be subject to potential conflicts of interest as a consequence of secondments and internships.

Certain personnel of Blackstone and its affiliates, and the Consultants, will, in certain circumstances, be seconded to serve internships at, receive trainings from or otherwise provide consulting services to one or more portfolio entities, vendors, service providers, or limited partners, of Other Blackstone Accounts to provide finance, accounting, operational support, property management, legal, technology, data management (including artificial intelligence) and other similar services, including the sourcing of investments for us or other parties. The salaries, benefits, overhead and other expenses for such personnel or otherwise related to such arrangements are expected to be borne by Blackstone and its affiliates or such portfolio entities, vendors and service providers or investors in the Other Blackstone Accounts, or in certain circumstances, both (in each case depending upon the facts and circumstances associated with such arrangements). In addition, personnel of portfolio entities, vendors, service providers (including law firms and accounting firms) and limited partners of Other Blackstone Accounts will, in certain circumstances, be seconded to, serve internships at, receive training from or otherwise provide consulting services to, Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts and the portfolio entities of ours and Other Blackstone Accounts. While often we, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities are the beneficiaries of these types of arrangements, Blackstone is from time to time a beneficiary of these arrangements as well, including in circumstances where the vendor, personnel or service provider or otherwise also provides services to us, the Adviser, Other Blackstone Accounts, their portfolio entities or Blackstone in the ordinary course.

Knowledge and skills gained by personnel during secondment and internship arrangements, including where the costs of such arrangements are borne by us and/or our portfolio entities, are expected to benefit Other Blackstone Accounts, their portfolio entities, Blackstone and/or the Adviser (in addition to us and/or our portfolio entities) upon the secondee's or intern's return to their employer. We or our portfolio entities can be expected to pay compensation or cover fees or expenses associated with such secondees and interns. If Blackstone or its affiliates pay compensation or cover expenses associated with such secondees and interns, Blackstone or such affiliates can, in certain circumstances, be expected to seek reimbursement from us for such amounts. If a portfolio entity of ours pays fees or expenses associated with such secondees or interns (including by means of reimbursing Blackstone or the Adviser for such fees or expenses), those fees and/or expenses will be borne indirectly by us. Additionally, the Adviser, Blackstone, Other Blackstone Accounts or their respective portfolio entities could receive benefits from arrangements, including arrangements at no or reduced cost, that they have with secondees or interns employed by service providers or vendors (or affiliates thereof) that provide services to, or whose employees serve as secondees or interns to, Other Blackstone Accounts (or its portfolio entities) that bears the compensation, fees or expenses associated with such services, secondees or interns. Furthermore, such arrangements, including at no or reduced cost, could include secondees or interns who perform services for the benefit of Blackstone Other Blackstone Accounts or their respective portfolio entities that do not benefit us, an Other Blackstone Account or its portfolio entities. Such arrangements could give Blackstone or the Adviser an incentive to favor the company that employs the secondees or interns (including in connection with determining whether an Other Blackstone Account should engage, or continue to engage, such company for services). To the extent such secondee or intern compensation, fees, or other expenses are borne by us, including indirectly through its portfolio entities or reimbursement to Blackstone for such costs, the management fee fee will not be offset or reduced as a result of these arrangements or any fees, expense reimbursements or other costs related thereto. The personnel described above can be expected to provide services in respect of multiple matters, including in respect of matters related to Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities, each of their respective affiliates and related parties, and any costs of such personnel can be expected to be allocated accordingly. Blackstone will endeavor in good faith to allocate the costs of these arrangements, if any, to Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts, portfolio entities and other parties based on time spent by the personnel or another methodology Blackstone deems appropriate in a particular circumstance (including, without limitation, taking into account historical or anticipated utilization of such services by us and such Other Blackstone Accounts).

In addition, there may be instances where current and former employees of Other Blackstone Accounts' portfolio entities are seconded to, or temporarily hired by, our portfolio entities or, at times, our investments directly. Such secondments or temporary hiring of current and former employees of Other Blackstone Accounts' portfolio entities by our portfolio entities (or its investments) may result in a potential conflict of interest between our portfolio entities and those of such Other Blackstone Accounts. The costs of such employees are expected to be borne by us or its relevant portfolio entities, as applicable, and the fees paid by us or such portfolio entities to, other portfolio entity service providers or vendors do not offset or reduce the management fee.

The Adviser, its affiliates and their personnel and related parties will receive intangible and other benefits, discounts and perquisites arising or resulting from their activities on behalf of us, the value of which will not offset or reduce management fees or otherwise be shared with us, our portfolio companies or the stockholders. Examples include, airline travel or hotel stays resulting in "miles" or "points" or credit in loyalty or status programs; certain purchases made by credit card resulting in "credit card points", "cash back" or rebates in addition to loyalty or status program miles or points; and, in connection with any investments by us in entertainment or sports-related assets, receipt of event tickets, premium seating, discounted merchandise, and/or similar benefits. Such benefits will, whether or not de minimis or difficult to value, inure exclusively to the benefit of the Adviser, its affiliates or their personnel or related parties receiving them, even though the cost of the underlying service is borne by us and/or by our portfolio entities. Similarly, the Adviser, its affiliates and their personnel and related parties, and third parties designated by the foregoing, also receive discounts on products and services provided by portfolio entities and customers or suppliers of such portfolio entities.

We are subject to conflicts of interest related to tenants.

Certain properties owned by us and/or an Other Blackstone Account will, in certain circumstances, be leased out to tenants that are affiliates of Blackstone, including but not limited to Other Blackstone Accounts and/or their respective portfolio companies, which would give rise to a conflict of interest. In such events, the Adviser will endeavor to ensure that such conflicts are resolved in a fair and equitable manner, subject to applicable oversight of the board of directors.

We are party to an uncommitted line of credit with an affiliate of Blackstone.

We have entered into an uncommitted line of credit with Blackstone Holdings Finance Co. L.L.C., an affiliate of Blackstone, pursuant to which we may borrow up to $75.0 million at an interest rate equal to the then-current interest rate offered by an unaffiliated third-party lender or, if no such rate is available, the SOFR rate applicable to such loan plus 2.50%. Because this line of credit is with an affiliate of Blackstone, the terms of the agreement were not negotiated at arm's-length. Blackstone may face conflicts of interest in connection with any borrowings or disputes under this uncommitted line of credit.

The personnel of the Dealer Manager and the Adviser may trade in securities for their own accounts, subject to restrictions applicable to Blackstone personnel.

The officers, directors, members, managers and employees of the Dealer Manager and the Adviser can be expected to trade in securities, including the securities of our portfolio companies and portfolio companies of Other Blackstone Accounts, and make personal investments for their own accounts, subject to restrictions and reporting requirements as may be required by law and Blackstone policies, or otherwise determined from time to time by the Dealer Manager or the Adviser. Such personal securities transactions and investments will, in certain circumstances, result in conflicts of interest, including to the extent they relate to (i) a company in which we hold or acquire an interest (either directly through a privately negotiated investment or indirectly through the purchase of securities or other traded instruments related thereto) and (ii) entities that have interests which are adverse to ours or pursue similar investment opportunities as us.

We have and expect to continue to have a diverse stockholder group and the interests of our stockholders may conflict with one another and may conflict with the interests of investors in other vehicles that we co-invest with.

Our stockholders may have conflicting investment, tax and other interests with respect to their investments in us and with respect to the interests of investors in other investment vehicles managed or advised by the Adviser or its affiliates that participate in the same investments as us. The conflicting interests of individual stockholders with respect to other stockholders and relative to investors in other investment vehicles and investors relate to, among other things, the nature, structuring, financing, tax profile and timing of disposition of investments. In certain circumstances, we may provide financing, guarantees, enter into currency or derivative transactions or other similar arrangements for access funds primarily created to hold shares of our common stock, including in order to support currency hedging programs at such access funds. These arrangements may cause us to use our funds for such arrangements as opposed to alternative uses and could expose us to certain risks. In addition, certain investors may also be limited partners in Other Blackstone Accounts, including supplemental capital vehicles and co-investment vehicles that invest alongside us in one or more investments, which could create conflicts for the Adviser in the treatment of different investors.

Stockholders may also include affiliates of Blackstone, such as Other Blackstone Accounts, affiliates of portfolio entities, charities or foundations associated with Blackstone personnel and current or former Blackstone personnel, Blackstone's senior advisors and operating partners, and any such Blackstone affiliates, funds or persons may also invest in us. Except as provided in our charter, all of these Blackstone-related stockholders will have equivalent rights to vote and withhold consents as nonrelated stockholders. Nonetheless, Blackstone may have the ability to influence, directly or indirectly, these Blackstone-related stockholders.

We may be subject to additional potential conflicts of interests as a consequence of Blackstone's status as a public company.

As a consequence of Blackstone's status as a public company, our officers, directors, members, managers and employees and those of the Adviser may take into account certain considerations and other factors in connection with the management of the business and affairs of us and our affiliates that would not necessarily be taken into account if Blackstone were not a public company.

We may make contributions to charitable initiatives, certain communities and/or related organizations or other non-profit organizations that the Adviser believes could be beneficial to us.

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Adviser may, from time to time, require, cause or invite us and/or a portfolio entity to make contributions to charitable initiatives, certain communities and/or related organizations or other non-profit organizations that the Adviser believes could, directly or indirectly, enhance the value of our investments, assist in completing an acquisition of a portfolio entity or other transaction (whether or not documented at the time of such acquisition or transaction) or otherwise serve a business purpose for, or be beneficial to, us or our portfolio entities. Such contributions could be designed to benefit employees of a portfolio entity, the community in which a portfolio entity operates or a charitable cause essential to, or consistent with, the business purpose of a portfolio entity. In certain instances, such charitable initiatives could be sponsored by, affiliated with or related to current or former employees of Blackstone, portfolio entity management teams, advisors, service providers, vendors, joint venture partners, and/or other persons or organizations associated with Blackstone, us, Other Blackstone Accounts or the portfolio entities. These relationships could influence the Adviser's decision whether to require, cause or invite us or portfolio entities to make charitable contributions. Further, from time to time, such charitable contributions by us or the portfolio entities could supplement or replace charitable contributions that Blackstone would have otherwise made. Also, in certain instances, the Adviser may, from time to time, select a service provider or other counterparty to us or its investments based, in part, on the charitable initiatives of such person where the Adviser believes such charitable initiatives could, directly or indirectly, enhance the value of our investments or otherwise be beneficial to the portfolio entities.

We, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities may engage in permissible political activities with the intent of furthering our or their business interests or otherwise.

We, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities may, in the ordinary course of our or their respective businesses, make political contributions to elected officials, candidates for elected office or political organizations, hire lobbyists or engage in other permissible political activities with the intent of furthering our or their business interests or otherwise. In certain circumstances, there may be initiatives where such activities are coordinated by Blackstone for the benefit of us, Other Blackstone Accounts and/or their portfolio entities. The interests advanced by a portfolio entity through such activities may, in certain circumstances, not align with or be adverse to our interests, the interests of our stockholders or the interests of Other Blackstone Accounts or their other portfolio entities. The costs of such activities may be allocated among us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their portfolio entities (and borne indirectly by our stockholders). While the costs of such activities will typically be borne by the entity undertaking such activities, such activities may also directly or indirectly benefit us, Other Blackstone Accounts, their portfolio entities or Blackstone (it being understood that to the extent the Adviser determines that such activities are in the best interests of an investment, us and/or Other Blackstone Accounts, then such vehicle, as applicable, is expected to bear its pro rata share of such costs). There can be no assurance that any such activities will be successful in advancing our interests or the interests of Other Blackstone Accounts or a portfolio entity or otherwise benefit such entities.

Any such charitable contributions or political contributions made by us or the portfolio entities, if material, could affect our performance in respect of the relevant investment and will not offset management fees payable by us. There can be no assurance that any such activities will actually be beneficial to or enhance the value of us or the portfolio entities, or that the Adviser will be able to resolve any associated conflict of interest in favor of us.

Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles (as defined below) may seek to invest a material portion of their assets alongside, and in certain cases in, Other Blackstone Accounts (including us) as part of their investment programs.

Certain funds, vehicles, clients, accounts and other similar arrangements (including one or more vehicles for retail investors), are or will be part of a series of multi-strategy investment programs designed to provide investors with exposure to a broad mix of, and leverage the talent and investment capabilities of, Blackstone's key investment programs (e.g., private equity, real estate, credit, tactical opportunities, secondaries, life sciences, infrastructure and growth) (the "Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles"). Blackstone intends to establish additional Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles in the future. Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles will seek to invest a material portion (and potentially substantially all) of their assets in or alongside Other Blackstone Accounts (including us) as part of their investment programs.

Potential investors should note that the terms upon which such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles may invest in Other Blackstone Accounts (including us), and the terms of such investments can be expected to materially differ, and will in certain circumstances, be materially more favorable to such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles (and its investors) as compared to other investors in such Other Blackstone Accounts. This can be expected to include, but is not limited to (and subject in all cases, to the circumstances at the relevant time) specialized reporting or information rights, different subscription and redemption timelines, liquidity rights, discounts or reductions on and/or reimbursement or rebates of management fees, carried interest or incentive allocation, targeted amounts for co-investments alongside Blackstone vehicles (including, without limitation, preferential or favorable allocation of co-investment, and preferential terms and conditions related to co-investment or other participation in Blackstone vehicles (including any carried interest and/or management fees to be charged with respect thereto, as well as any additional discounts, reductions, reimbursements or rebates thereof)). Such different terms will from time to time create potential conflicts of interests for the Adviser or its affiliates, where the interests of such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles do not align with those of other investors in us, including with respect to the allocation of co-investment opportunities. Subject to applicable law, such different terms, particularly any specialized reporting or information rights, and/or the access to information that Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles that invest in Other Blackstone Accounts (including us) and those vehicles' respective advisers have by virtue of being within the Blackstone organization (including, where applicable, as a result of shared personnel performing overlapping functions (which could include investment decision-making functions) for such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles and us) can, in certain circumstances, provide such vehicles and their respective advisers with information relevant to determining whether, when, and to what extent to redeem from us that is not provided, or is not provided as promptly, to other investors in us.

Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles that invest in us could grow significantly in size over time, and could allocate a substantial portion of their assets into us, which, if accepted by us, could affect our portfolio management processes, as we may not be able to deploy larger amounts of capital quickly because we may have difficulty identifying and purchasing suitable investments on attractive terms, or at an opportune time. Large or irregular capital inflows may accelerate our investment pacing beyond what would otherwise be pursued, potentially limiting our ability to be as selective in our deployment of capital in investments. If we are unable to find suitable investments on a timely basis, we can, in certain circumstances, be required to hold cash or other liquid investments for longer periods, which would be dilutive to overall investment returns. In addition, where we accept large amounts of subscription proceeds from such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles that exceed the amount it requires to make its investments, we will, in certain circumstances, be more inclined to deploy such additional sums into money market accounts or other similar temporary investments, resulting in less efficient deployment of capital relative to such capital being invested in appropriate investments.

If capital contributed by Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles constitutes a disproportionately large percentage of the funds raised by us, we could become overly dependent or exposed to the subscription and/or repurchase decisions of such vehicles. Material shifts in capital contributions and redemptions (including stemming from Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles) could materially affect our portfolio construction, liquidity management and diversification profile, among other things.

Similarly, as Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles that invest in us increase in size, for the purposes of their liquidity management or other purposes deemed appropriate by their respective advisers, such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles can be expected to, in certain circumstances, submit repurchase requests to us in which the Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicle invests (which may be significant relative to our assets). Such results can generally be expected to result in additional stress on our share repurchase plan and, when coupled with any preferential liquidity rights offered to such a Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicle, subject to applicable law and our governing documents, can, in certain circumstances, increase the likelihood of us reaching our repurchase limits under our share repurchase plan quicker than we would otherwise. Furthermore, substantial repurchases by one or more Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles that invest in us could also significantly restrict our ability to obtain financing or transact with derivatives counterparties needed for our investment strategies or otherwise to consummate future investments, or to hold onto existing Investments, and if we decide to satisfy all resulting repurchase requests, our cash flow could be materially adversely affected. In addition, if we determine to sell investments to satisfy repurchase requests, we may not be able to realize the return on such investments that we may have been able to achieve had we sold at a more favorable time, and our results of operations and financial condition, including, without limitation, the diversification of our portfolio by investment type, geographic location and/other factors, could be materially adversely affected. Finally, substantial repurchase (including from such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles) could hinder our ability to attract new subscriptions from prospective or existing investors, particularly as a result of legal, tax, regulatory or other similar considerations resulting from such withdrawals, which could further adversely affect our portfolio construction, liquidity management and diversification profile.

As Blackstone Multi Strategy Vehicles that invest in us can, in certain instances, be subject to different regulatory frameworks, reporting obligations and disclosure/notice requirements, actions required to satisfy those obligations may indirectly impose additional reporting or timing requirements on us in which the Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles invest, which could be expected to increase the amount of expenses incurred by us. Moreover, if any such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles make subscriptions to us in an amount which is significantly greater than that of any other investor in us, then the outcome of such investor votes in respect of us (to the extent such Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicles are not otherwise restricted from voting) will in practice be determined or, at least, significantly influenced by the Blackstone Multi-Strategy Vehicle's voting decision.

Risks Related to our REIT Status and Certain Other Tax Items

If we do not maintain our qualification as a REIT, we will be subject to tax as a regular corporation and could face a substantial tax liability.

We expect to continue to operate so as to qualify as a REIT under the Code. However, qualification as a REIT involves the application of highly technical and complex Code provisions for which only a limited number of judicial or administrative interpretations exist. Notwithstanding the availability of cure provisions in the Code, various compliance requirements could be failed, which could jeopardize our REIT status. Furthermore, new tax legislation, administrative guidance or court decisions, in each instance potentially with retroactive effect, could make it more difficult or impossible for us to qualify as a REIT. If we fail to qualify as a REIT in any tax year, then:

- we would be taxed as a regular domestic corporation, which under current laws, among other things, means being unable to deduct distributions to stockholders in computing taxable income and being subject to U.S. federal income tax on our taxable income at regular corporate income tax rates;
- any resulting tax liability could be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on our book value;
- unless we were entitled to relief under applicable statutory provisions, we would be required to pay taxes, and therefore, our cash available for distribution to stockholders would be reduced for each of the years during which we did not qualify as a REIT and for which we had taxable income; and
- we generally would not be eligible to requalify as a REIT for the subsequent four full taxable years.

To maintain our REIT status, we may have to borrow funds on a short-term basis during unfavorable market conditions.

To qualify as a REIT, we generally must distribute annually to our stockholders a minimum of 90% of our net taxable income, determined without regard to the dividends-paid deduction and excluding net capital gains. We will be subject to regular corporate income taxes on any undistributed REIT taxable income each year. Additionally, we will be subject to a 4% nondeductible excise tax on any amount by which distributions paid by us in any calendar year are less than the sum of 85% of our ordinary income, 95% of our capital gain net income and 100% of our undistributed income from previous years. Payments we make to our stockholders under our share repurchase plan will not be taken into account for purposes of these distribution requirements. If we do not have sufficient cash to make distributions necessary to preserve our REIT status for any year or to avoid taxation, we may be forced to borrow funds or sell assets even if the market conditions at that time are not favorable for these borrowings or sales. These options could increase our costs or reduce our equity.

Compliance with REIT requirements may cause us to forego otherwise attractive opportunities, which may hinder or delay our ability to meet our investment objectives and reduce your overall return.

To qualify as a REIT, we are required at all times to satisfy tests relating to, among other things, the sources of our income, the nature and diversification of our assets, the ownership of our stock and the amounts we distribute to our stockholders. Compliance with the REIT requirements may impair our ability to operate solely on the basis of maximizing profits. For example, we may be required to make distributions to stockholders at disadvantageous times or when we do not have funds readily available for distribution.

Compliance with REIT requirements may force us to liquidate or restructure otherwise attractive investments.

To qualify as a REIT, at the end of each calendar quarter, at least 75% of the value of our assets must consist of cash, cash items, government securities and qualified real estate assets. The remainder of our investments in securities (other than qualified real estate assets and government securities) generally cannot include more than 10% of the voting securities (other than securities that qualify for the straight debt safe harbor) of any one issuer or more than 10% of the value of the outstanding securities of more than any one issuer unless we and such issuer jointly elect for such issuer to be treated as a "taxable REIT subsidiary" under the Code. Debt will generally meet the "straight debt" safe harbor if the debt is a written unconditional promise to pay on demand or on a specified date a certain sum of money, the debt is not convertible, directly or indirectly, into stock, and the interest rate and the interest payment dates of the debt are not contingent on the profits, the borrower's discretion, or similar factors. Additionally, no more than 5% of the value of our assets (other than government securities and qualified real estate assets) can consist of the securities of any one issuer, and no more than 25% may be represented by securities of one or more taxable REIT subsidiaries. If we fail to comply with these requirements at the end of any calendar quarter, we must dispose of a portion of our assets within 30 days after the end of the calendar quarter or qualify for certain statutory relief provisions in order to avoid losing our REIT qualification and suffering adverse tax consequences. In order to satisfy these requirements and maintain our qualification as a REIT, we may be forced to liquidate assets from our portfolio or not make otherwise attractive investments. These actions could have the effect of reducing our income and amounts available for distribution to our stockholders.

Our charter does not permit any person or group to own more than 9.9% in value or number of shares, whichever is more restrictive, of our outstanding common stock or of the aggregate of our outstanding capital stock of all classes or series, and attempts to acquire our common stock or our capital stock of all classes or series in excess of these 9.9% limits would not be effective without an exemption (prospectively or retroactively) from these limits by our board of directors.

For us to qualify as a REIT under the Code, not more than 50% of the value of our outstanding stock may be owned, directly or indirectly, by five or fewer individuals (including certain entities treated as individuals for this purpose) during the last half of a taxable year. For the purpose of assisting our qualification as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes, among other purposes, our charter prohibits beneficial or constructive ownership by any person or group of more than 9.9%, in value or number of shares, whichever is more restrictive, of the shares of our outstanding common stock, or 9.9% in value or number of shares, whichever is more restrictive, of the aggregate of our outstanding capital stock of all classes or series, which we refer to as the "Ownership Limit." The constructive ownership rules under the Code and our charter are complex and may cause shares of the outstanding common stock owned by a group of related persons to be deemed to be constructively owned by one person. As a result, the acquisition of less than 9.9% of our outstanding common stock or our capital stock by a person could cause another person to constructively own in excess of 9.9% of our outstanding common stock or our capital stock, respectively, and thus violate the Ownership Limit. There can be no assurance that our board of directors, as permitted in the charter, will not decrease this Ownership Limit in the future. Any attempt to own or transfer shares of our common stock or capital stock in excess of the Ownership Limit without the consent of our board of directors will result either in the shares in excess of the limit being transferred by operation of our charter to a charitable trust, and the person who attempted to acquire such excess shares not having any rights in such excess shares, or in the transfer being void.

The Ownership Limit may have the effect of precluding a change in control of us by a third party, even if such change in control would be in the best interests of our stockholders or would result in receipt of a premium to the price of our common stock (and even if such change in control would not reasonably jeopardize our REIT status). The exemptions to the Ownership Limit granted to date may limit our board of directors' power to increase the Ownership Limit or grant further exemptions in the future.

Non-U.S. holders may be subject to U.S. federal income tax upon their disposition of shares of our common stock or upon their receipt of certain distributions from us.

In addition to any potential withholding tax on ordinary dividends, a non-U.S. holder (as such term is defined below under "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations—Taxation of U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock"), other than a "qualified shareholder" or a "withholding qualified holder," that disposes of a "U.S. real property interest" ("USRPI") (which includes shares of stock of a U.S. corporation whose assets consist principally of USRPIs), is generally subject to U.S. federal income tax under the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980, as amended ("FIRPTA"), on the amount received from such disposition. Such tax does not apply, however, to the disposition of stock in a REIT that is "domestically controlled." Generally, a REIT is domestically controlled if less than 50% of its stock, by value, has been owned directly or indirectly by non-U.S. persons during a continuous five-year period ending on the date of disposition or, if shorter, during the entire period of the REIT's existence. We cannot assure you that we qualify or will qualify as a domestically controlled REIT at any time. If we were to fail to so qualify, amounts received by a non-U.S. holder on certain dispositions of shares of our common stock (including a redemption) would be subject to tax under FIRPTA, unless (i) our shares of common stock were regularly traded on an established securities market and (ii) the non-U.S. holder did not, at any time during a specified testing period, hold more than 10% of our common stock. See "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations—Taxation of Non-U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock—Sales of Our Common Stock."

A non-U.S. holder other than a "qualified shareholder" or a "withholding qualified holder," that receives a distribution from a REIT that is attributable to gains from the disposition of a USRPI as described above, including in connection with a repurchase of our common stock, is generally subject to U.S. federal income tax under FIRPTA to the extent such distribution is attributable to gains from such disposition, regardless of whether the difference between the fair market value and the tax basis of the USRPI giving rise to such gains is attributable to periods prior to or during such non-U.S. holder's ownership of our common stock. In addition, a repurchase of our common stock, to the extent not treated as a sale or exchange, may be subject to withholding as an ordinary dividend. See "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations – Taxation of Non-U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock – Distributions, and – Repurchases of our Common Stock."

We seek to act in our best interests as a whole and not in consideration of the particular tax consequences to any specific holder of our stock. Potential non-U.S. holders should inform themselves as to the U.S. tax consequences, and the tax consequences within the countries of their citizenship, residence, domicile, and place of business, with respect to the purchase, ownership and disposition of shares of our common stock.

Investments outside the United States may subject us to additional taxes and could present additional complications to our ability to satisfy the REIT qualification requirements.

Non-U.S. investments may subject us to various non-U.S. tax liabilities, including withholding taxes. In addition, operating in functional currencies other than the U.S. dollar and in environments in which real estate transactions are typically structured differently than they are in the United States or are subject to different legal rules may present complications to our ability to structure non-U.S. investments in a manner that enables us to satisfy the REIT qualification requirements.

We may incur tax liabilities that would reduce our cash available for distribution to you.

Even if we qualify and maintain our status as a REIT, we may become subject to U.S. federal income taxes and related state and local taxes. For example, net income from the sale of properties that are "dealer" properties sold by a REIT (a "prohibited transaction" under the Code) will be subject to a 100% tax. We may not make sufficient distributions to avoid excise taxes applicable to REITs. Similarly, if we were to fail an income test (and did not lose our REIT status because such failure was due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect) we would be subject to tax on the income that does not meet the income test requirements. We also may decide to retain net capital gain we earn from the sale or other disposition of our investments and pay income tax directly on such income. In that event, our stockholders would be treated as if they earned that income and paid the tax on it directly. However, stockholders that are tax-exempt, such as charities or qualified pension plans, would have no benefit from their deemed payment of such tax liability unless they file U.S. federal income tax returns and thereon seek a refund of such tax. We also may be subject to state and local taxes on our income or property, including franchise, payroll, mortgage recording and transfer taxes, either directly or at the level of the other companies through which we indirectly own our assets, such as our taxable REIT subsidiaries, which are subject to full U.S. federal, state, local and foreign corporate-level income taxes. Any taxes we pay directly or indirectly will reduce our cash available for distribution to you.

Our board of directors is authorized to revoke our REIT election without stockholder approval, which may cause adverse consequences to our stockholders.

Our charter authorizes our board of directors to revoke or otherwise terminate our REIT election, without the approval of our stockholders, if it determines that changes to U.S. federal income tax laws and regulations or other considerations mean it is no longer in our best interests to qualify as a REIT. Our board of directors has fiduciary duties to us and our stockholders and could only cause such changes in our tax treatment if it determines in good faith that such changes are in our best interests and in the best interests of our stockholders. In this event, we would become subject to U.S. federal income tax on our taxable income and we would no longer be required to distribute most of our net income to our stockholders, which may cause a reduction in the total return to our stockholders.

You may have current tax liability on distributions you elect to reinvest in our common stock.

If you participate in our distribution reinvestment plan, you will be deemed to have received, and for U.S. federal income tax purposes will be taxed on, the amount reinvested in shares of our common stock to the extent the amount reinvested was not a tax-free return of capital. Therefore, unless you are a tax-exempt entity, you may be forced to use funds from other sources to pay your tax liability on the reinvested dividends.

Generally, ordinary dividends payable by REITs do not qualify for reduced U.S. federal income tax rates.

Currently, the maximum tax rate applicable to qualified dividend income payable to certain non-corporate U.S. stockholders is 20% (excluding the 3.8% net investment income tax). Dividends payable by REITs, however, generally are not eligible for the reduced rate. Although this does not adversely affect the taxation of REITs or dividends payable by REITs, the more favorable rates applicable to regular corporate qualified dividends could cause certain non-corporate investors to perceive investments in REITs to be relatively less attractive than investments in the stocks of non-REIT corporations that pay dividends, which could adversely affect the value of the shares of REITs, including our common stock. However, individual taxpayers may be entitled to claim a deduction in determining their taxable income of 20% of ordinary REIT dividends (dividends other than capital gain dividends and dividends attributable to certain qualified dividend income received by us), which reduces the effective tax rate on such dividends. See "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations—Taxation of U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock—Distributions Generally." You are urged to consult with your tax advisor regarding the effect of this change on your effective tax rate with respect to REIT dividends.

We may be subject to adverse legislative or regulatory tax changes that could increase our tax liability, reduce our operating flexibility and reduce the price of our common stock.

In recent years, numerous legislative, judicial and administrative changes have been made in the provisions of U.S. federal income tax laws applicable to investments similar to an investment in shares of our common stock.

Legislation has been previously proposed that includes, among other changes, increases in the corporate and capital gains rates and an overhaul of the international tax rules. It is unclear whether any legislation will be enacted into law or, if enacted, what form it would take, and it is also unclear whether there could be regulatory or administrative action that could affect U.S. tax rules. The current U.S. presidential administration recently signed into law the "One Big Beautiful Bill Act" (the "OBBBA") which includes several new provisions (and other amendments) to the Code (including with respect to the LIHTC program). How the OBBBA will be implemented will depend on future administrative guidance and court rulings. The U.S. Congress may also pass additional tax reform legislation in the future. The timing and details of any such guidance, ruling and legislation, and the impact of the OBBBA and any other potential tax changes on us is uncertain.

Additional changes to the tax laws are likely to continue to occur, and we cannot assure you that any such changes will not adversely affect the taxation of our stockholders. Any such changes could have an adverse effect on an investment in our shares or on the market value or the resale potential of our assets. You are urged to consult with your tax advisor with respect to the impact of the recent legislation on your investment in our shares and the status of legislative, regulatory or administrative developments and proposals and their potential effect on an investment in our shares. Although REITs generally receive certain tax advantages compared to entities taxed as regular corporations, it is possible that future legislation would result in a REIT having fewer tax advantages, and it could become more advantageous for a company that invests in real estate to elect to be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a corporation. As a result, our charter authorizes our board of directors to revoke or otherwise terminate our REIT election, without the approval of our stockholders, if it determines that changes to U.S. federal income tax laws and regulations or other considerations mean it is no longer in our best interests to qualify as a REIT. The impact of tax reform and any potential tax changes on an investment in our shares is uncertain. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors regarding changes in tax laws.

The failure of a mezzanine loan to qualify as a real estate asset could adversely affect our ability to qualify as a REIT.

We may acquire mezzanine loans, for which the IRS has provided a safe harbor but not rules of substantive law. Pursuant to the safe harbor, if a mezzanine loan meets certain requirements, it will be treated by the IRS as a real estate asset for purposes of the REIT asset tests, and interest derived from the mezzanine loan will be treated as qualifying mortgage interest for purposes of the REIT 75% income test. We may acquire mezzanine loans that do not meet all of the requirements of this safe harbor. In the event we own a mezzanine loan that does not meet the safe harbor, the IRS could challenge such loan's treatment as a real estate asset for purposes of the REIT asset and income tests and, if such a challenge were sustained, we could fail to qualify as a REIT.

If our Operating Partnership failed to qualify as a partnership or is not otherwise disregarded for U.S. federal income tax purposes, we would cease to qualify as a REIT.

If the IRS were to successfully challenge the status of our Operating Partnership as a partnership or disregarded entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes, it would be taxable as a corporation. In the event that this occurs, it would reduce the amount of distributions that our Operating Partnership could make to us. This would also result in our failing to qualify as a REIT and becoming subject to a corporate-level tax on our income, which would substantially reduce our cash available to pay distributions and the yield on your investment.

Tax protection agreements could limit our ability to sell or otherwise dispose of property contributed to our Operating Partnership.

In connection with a contribution of property to our Operating Partnership, our Operating Partnership may enter into a tax protection agreement with the contributor of such property that provides that if we dispose of any interest in the contributed property in a taxable transaction within a certain time period, subject to certain exceptions, we may be required to indemnify the contributor for its tax liabilities attributable to the built-in gain that exists with respect to such property interests, and the tax liabilities incurred as a result of such tax protection payment. Therefore, although it may be in our stockholders' best interests that we sell the contributed property, it may be economically prohibitive for us to do so because of these obligations.

Tax protection agreements may require our Operating Partnership to maintain certain debt levels that otherwise would not be required to operate our business.

Under a tax protection agreement, our Operating Partnership may provide the contributor of property the opportunity to guarantee debt or enter into a deficit restoration obligation. If we fail to make such opportunities available, we may be required to deliver to such contributor a cash payment intended to approximate the contributor's tax liability resulting from our failure to make such opportunities available to that contributor and the tax liabilities incurred as a result of such tax protection payment. These obligations may require our Operating Partnership to maintain more or different indebtedness than we would otherwise require for our business.

Retirement Plan Risks

If the fiduciary of an employee benefit plan or a plan, account or other similar retirement arrangement which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or ERISA, or Section 4975 of the Code fails to meet the fiduciary and other standards under ERISA, the Code or common law as a result of an investment in shares of our common stock, the fiduciary could be subject to civil penalties.

There are special considerations that apply to investing in our shares on behalf of a trust, pension, profit sharing or 401(k) plans, health or welfare plans, trusts, individual retirement accounts, or IRAs, or Keogh plans. If you are investing the assets of any of the entities identified in the prior sentence in our common stock, you should satisfy yourself that among other matters:

- the investment is consistent with your fiduciary obligations under applicable law, including common law, ERISA and the Code;
- the investment is made in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the trust, plan or IRA, including a plan's investment policy;
- the investment satisfies the prudence and diversification requirements of Sections 404(a)(1)(B) and 404(a)(1)(C) of ERISA and other applicable provisions of ERISA and the Code;
- the investment will not impair the liquidity of the trust, plan or IRA;
- the investment will not produce "unrelated business taxable income" for the plan or IRA;
- our stockholders will be able to value the assets of the plan annually in accordance with ERISA requirements and applicable provisions of the plan or IRA; and
- the investment will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code.

Failure to satisfy the fiduciary standards of conduct and other applicable requirements of ERISA, the Code, or other applicable statutory or common law may result in the imposition of civil penalties, and can subject the fiduciary to equitable remedies. In addition, if an investment in our shares constitutes a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, the fiduciary that authorized or directed the investment may be subject to the imposition of excise taxes with respect to the amount invested.

If our assets at any time are deemed to constitute "plan assets" under ERISA, that may lead to the rescission of certain transactions, tax or fiduciary liability and our being held in violation of certain ERISA and Code requirements.

Stockholders that are "benefit plan investors" (within the meaning of ERISA and the regulations promulgated thereunder by the U.S. Department of Labor, as modified by Section 3(42) of ERISA (the "Plan Assets Regulation")) (a "Benefit Plan Investor") should consult their own advisors as to the effect of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code on an investment in the shares. As discussed under "Certain ERISA Considerations," of this prospectus, if our assets are deemed to constitute "plan assets" of one or more stockholders that are Benefit Plan Investors this would result, among other things, in (i) the possibility that certain transactions that we have entered into in the ordinary course of our business constitute non-exempt "prohibited transactions" under Title I of ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code, may have to be rescinded and may give rise to certain excise taxes and fiduciary liability under Title I of ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code; (ii) our management, as well as various providers of fiduciary or other services to us (including the Adviser), and any other parties with authority or control with respect to us or our assets, may be considered fiduciaries or otherwise "parties in interest" (within the meaning of ERISA) or "disqualified persons" (within the meaning of Section 4975 of the Code) for purposes of the fiduciary responsibility and prohibited transaction provisions of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code; and (iii) the fiduciaries of stockholders that are Benefit Plan Investors would not be protected from "co-fiduciary liability" resulting from our decisions and could be in violation of certain ERISA requirements.

If a prohibited transaction occurs for which no exemption is available, the Adviser and/or any other fiduciary that has engaged in the prohibited transaction could be required to (i) restore to the Benefit Plan Investor any profit realized on the transaction and (ii) reimburse the Benefit Plan Investor for any losses suffered by the Benefit Plan Investor as a result of the investment. In addition, each "disqualified person" involved could be subject to an excise tax equal to 15% of the amount involved in the prohibited transaction for each year the transaction continues and, unless the transaction is corrected within statutorily required periods, to an additional tax of 100%. The fiduciary of a Benefit Plan Investor who decides to invest in us could, under certain circumstances, be liable for prohibited transactions or other violations as a result of their investment in us or as co-fiduciaries for actions taken by or on behalf of us or the Adviser. With respect to a Benefit Plan Investor that is an IRA that invests in us, the occurrence of a prohibited transaction involving the individual who established the IRA, or his or her beneficiaries, could cause the IRA to lose its tax-exempt status.

We may face risks arising from potential control group liability.

Under ERISA and the Code, all members of a group of commonly controlled trades or businesses may be jointly and severally liable for each other's obligations to any defined benefit pension plans maintained by an entity in the controlled group or to which such entity is obligated to contribute. These obligations may include the obligation to make required pension contributions, the obligation to fund any deficit amount upon pension plan termination and the obligation to pay withdrawal liability owed to a multi-employer (union) plan to which such entity makes contributions if the entity withdraws from an underfunded multi-employer pension plan. A 2013 U.S. Federal Appeals court decision found that certain supervisory and portfolio management activities of a private equity fund could cause a fund to be considered a trade or business for these purposes, and thus, liable for withdrawal liability owed by a fund's portfolio company to an underfunded multi-employer plan which covered the employees of the portfolio company. Accordingly, if we invested in a control type investment and if we were found to be engaged in a "trade or business" for ERISA purposes, we and the various entities in which we have a control type investment could be held liable for the defined benefit pension obligations of one or more of such investments.

We may face risks arising from our operation as a VCOC or REOC.

As discussed under "Certain ERISA Considerations" below, we may operate in a manner intended to qualify as a "venture capital operating company" (a "VCOC") or "real estate operating company" ("REOC") (each within the meaning of the Plan Assets Regulations), in order to avoid holding "plan assets" of any Benefit Plan Investors subject to ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code. Operating as a VCOC would require that we obtain rights to substantially participate in or influence the conduct of the management of a number of our investments and, in the case of operating as a REOC, participating in the management and development activities of the underlying real estate. In this regard, we may designate a director to serve on the board of directors of one or more portfolio entities. The designation of directors and other measures contemplated could expose our assets to claims by a portfolio entity, its security holders, and its creditors. While we intend to minimize exposure to these risks, the possibility of successful claims cannot be precluded. Because we may operate in a manner intended to qualify as a VCOC or REOC in order to avoid holding "plan assets" within the meaning of ERISA, we may be restricted or precluded from making certain investments. In addition, such operation could require us to liquidate investments at a disadvantageous time, resulting in lower proceeds than might have been the case without the need for such compliance.

General Risk Factors

We depend on the availability of public utilities and services, especially for water and electric power. Any reduction, interruption or cancellation of these services may adversely affect us.

Public utilities, especially those that provide water and electric power, are fundamental for the sound operation of our assets. The delayed delivery or any material reduction or prolonged interruption of these services could allow tenants to terminate their leases or result in an increase in our costs, as we may be forced to use backup generators or other replacements for the reduced or interrupted utilities, which also could be insufficient to fully operate our facilities and could result in our inability to provide services.

Certain properties may require permits or licenses.

A license, approval or permit may be required to acquire certain investments (including making an additional investment in an existing investment) and their direct or indirect holding companies or registration may be required before an acquisition can be completed. Examples of permits, approvals and licenses necessary or advisable to make an investment (including additional investment(s) in an existing investment) include antitrust approvals, environmental licenses, foreign investment approvals and registrations, and other similar matters. We may require some or all of these licenses, approvals and permits to acquire an asset, which may result in significant costs and expenses, and counterparties may also require some or all of these licenses, approvals and permits to acquire assets from us. There can be no guarantee of when and if such a license, approval or permit will be obtained or if the registration will be effected, which may adversely affect our ability to acquire and sell assets and the ability to proceed with an identified investment.

We face certain documentation and legal risks when making investments.

We, our portfolio entities and the investments are governed by a complex series of legal documents and contracts. The intent of the legal documents and contracts might not be clear, and even clear drafting can be misconstrued by counterparties and judges. A dispute over interpretation of any of these documents or contracts could arise, which may result in unenforceability of the contract or other outcome that is adverse to us.

In addition, it is not uncommon for investments to be exposed to a variety of other legal risks. These can include, but are not limited to, environmental issues, land expropriation and other property-related claims, industrial action and legal action from special interest groups.

We may face risks associated with short sales.

Our use of short sales for investment and/or risk management purposes subjects us to risks associated with selling short. We may engage in short sales where we do not own or have the right to acquire the security sold short at no additional cost. Our loss on a short sale theoretically could be unlimited in a case where we are unable, for whatever reason, to close out a short position.

Our short selling strategies may limit our ability to benefit from increases in the markets. Short selling also involves a form of financial leverage that may exaggerate any losses. Also, there is the risk that the counterparty to a short sale may fail to honor its contractual terms, causing a loss to us. Finally, SEC, FINRA or other regulations relating to short selling may restrict our ability to engage in short selling.

We may incur contingent liabilities in connection with the disposition of investments.

In connection with the disposition of an investment, we may be required to make certain representations about the business, financial affairs and other aspects, such as environmental, property, tax, insurance, and litigation. We also may be required to indemnify the purchasers of an investment for losses related to the inaccuracy of any representations and warranties and other agreed upon liabilities (including outstanding or potential future litigation), and such indemnification obligations could be uncapped. Buyers of our assets may sue us under various theories, including breach of contract and tort, for losses they suffer. In addition to claims of purchasers, dispositions of investments will generally not result in a complete release of liability for certain matters, such as pre-existing environmental matters or personal injury claims relating to our period of ownership and we and/or our affiliates may retain liabilities (including in respect of litigation) following the disposition of investments, and there is no assurance that any matter giving rise to such liabilities will be resolved in favor of us. We may book contingent liabilities on its financial statements, or create cash reserves, at the time of sale to account for any potential liabilities, but these may be insufficient. In addition, at the time of disposition of an individual asset, a potential buyer that does not win the auction may claim that it should have been afforded the opportunity to purchase the asset or alternatively that such potential buyer should be awarded damages.

We will face risks associated with hedging transactions.

We may utilize a wide variety of derivative financial instruments for risk management purposes, including but not limited to interest rate and foreign exchange derivatives. The successful utilization of hedging and risk management strategies requires different skills than used in selecting and monitoring investments and such transactions may entail greater than ordinary investment risks. Additionally, costs related to derivatives and other hedging arrangements (including legal expenses) will be borne by us and/or the relevant subsidiary or subsidiaries including costs incurred in connection with transactions that are not consummated. There can be no assurance that any derivatives and other hedging transactions will be effective in mitigating risk in all market conditions or against all types of risk (including unidentified or unanticipated risks or where the Adviser does not regard the probability of the risk occurring to be sufficiently high as to justify the cost of a derivative or other hedging arrangement), thereby resulting in losses to us. Engaging in derivatives and other hedging transactions may result in a poorer overall performance for us than if it had not engaged in any such transaction. The Adviser may not be able to effectively hedge against or adequately anticipate, or choose not to hedge or mitigate, certain risks that may adversely affect our investment portfolio. In addition, our investment portfolio will always be exposed to certain risks that cannot be fully or effectively hedged, such as credit risk relating both to particular securities and counterparties as well as interest rate and foreign exchange risks. Counterparties to derivative contracts may seek assurances that the special purpose or other vehicle executing the derivative contract have recourse to us, which recourse liability can create significant additional risk to us and our investments. Derivative contracts entered into by us and/or its subsidiaries also may have cross-default and/or cross-acceleration provisions such that a default under our credit facilities would also trigger a notice or payment obligation under the relevant derivative contracts, which could create cascading liabilities and additional burdens on us. We and/or our subsidiaries will utilize derivatives and other hedging transactions only as determined by the Adviser in its sole discretion. See "—We invest in derivatives, which involve numerous risks" above.

We face risks associated with foreign currencies and exchange rates.

Our assets generally will be denominated in the currency of the jurisdiction where the assets are located. Consequently, the return realized on any investment by investors whose functional currency is not the currency of the jurisdiction in which the investments are located may be adversely affected by movements in currency exchange rates, costs of conversion and exchange control regulations, in addition to the performance of such investment itself. Moreover, we may incur costs when converting one currency into another. The value of an investment may fall substantially as a result of fluctuations in the currency of the country in which the investment is made as against the value of the U.S. dollar. The Adviser may in certain circumstances (but is not obliged to) attempt to manage currency exposures using hedging techniques where available and appropriate. We are therefore expected to incur costs related to currency hedging arrangements. There can be no assurance that adequate hedging arrangements will be available on an economically viable basis or that any particular currency exposure will be hedged or that any executed hedging will improve the performance of any investment. In addition, we can in certain cases be expected to borrow for the purposes of acquiring or funding the operation of one or more assets in the currency of a jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction(s) in which such assets are located. Consequently, movements in currency exchange rates, costs of conversion and exchange control regulations may adversely affect the returns realized on such investments and our ability to repay such borrowings.

Changes in laws or regulations governing our operations may adversely affect our business or cause us to alter our business strategy.

We are subject to regulation at the local, state and federal level. New legislation may be enacted or new interpretations, ruling or regulations could be adopted, including those governing the types of investments we are permitted to make, any of which could harm us and our stockholders, potentially with retroactive effect. Anticipating policy changes and reforms may be particularly difficult during periods of heightened partisanship at the federal, state and local levels, including due to the divisiveness surrounding populist movements, political disputes and socioeconomic issues. The failure to accurately anticipate the possible outcome of such changes and/or reforms could have a material adverse effect on our returns.

In recent years, there has been increased regulatory enforcement activity and rulemaking impacting the financial services industry. Under the prior U.S. presidential administration, including at the SEC and certain other regulatory bodies, policy changes could have imposed additional costs on us and our investments, required significant attention of senior management or resulted in limitations on the manner in which we or the companies in which we invest conduct business. We cannot predict at this time whether and the extent to which the current U.S. presidential administration and newly-appointed senior officials at the SEC and other federal agencies will pursue these or other policy changes. In addition, uncertainty regarding legislation and regulations affecting the financial services industry or taxation could also adversely impact our business or the business of our tenants and our portfolio companies.

Additionally, any changes to or repeal of the laws and regulations governing our operations relating to permitted investments may cause us to alter our investment strategy to avail ourselves of new or different opportunities. Such changes could result in material differences to our strategies and plans as set forth in this prospectus and may result in our investment focus shifting from the areas of expertise of the Adviser to other types of investments in which the Adviser may have less expertise or little or no experience. Thus, any such changes, if they occur, could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations and the value of a stockholder's investment.

ESTIMATED USE OF PROCEEDS

The following tables present information about the net proceeds raised in this offering for each class, assuming that we sell the maximum primary offering amount of $48,000,000,000 and no shares under our distribution reinvestment plan. The tables assume that 5% of our gross offering proceeds are from the sale of Class T-2 shares, 35% of our gross offering proceeds are from the sale of Class S-2 shares, 10% of our gross offering proceeds are from the sale of Class D-2 shares and 50% of our gross offering proceeds are from the sale of Class I shares, which are estimated based on the proportion of Class T, Class S, Class D and Class I shares issued to date in our public offerings. The number of shares of each class sold and the relative proportions in which the classes of shares are sold are uncertain and may differ significantly from what is shown in the tables below. We may reallocate the shares of our common stock we are offering between the primary offering and our distribution reinvestment plan. We will only use the proceeds raised in this offering for the purposes set forth in this prospectus and in a manner within the investment guidelines approved by our board of directors, who serve as fiduciaries to our stockholders.

The actual amount of upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees, however, will vary from the estimated amounts shown because (1) our Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares are sold at a price that varies monthly generally based on our prior month's NAV per share for that class of shares and actual upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees per Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 share are a percentage of the transaction price and (2) the upfront selling commission and dealer manager fees may be reduced in connection with certain categories of sales of Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares. Any reduction in upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees will be accompanied by a corresponding reduction in the Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 per share purchase price to the applicable stockholder, but will not affect the amounts available to us for investment. Because amounts in this table are estimates, they may not accurately reflect the actual receipt or use of the offering proceeds.

We intend to use the net proceeds from this offering to (1) make investments in accordance with our investment strategy and policies, (2) reduce borrowings and repay indebtedness incurred under various financing agreements we may enter into and (3) fund repurchases under our share repurchase plan. Generally, our policy will be to pay distributions from cash flow from operations. However, subject to Maryland law and the discretion of our board of directors, we may choose to use cash flows from borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses to fund distributions to our stockholders.

The following table presents information regarding the use of proceeds raised in this offering with respect to Class T-2 shares.

	Maximum Offering of $2,400,000,000 in Class T-2 Shares

(1) Gross offering proceeds include upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees that the Dealer Manager is entitled to receive (including any amounts that may be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers). We intend to conduct a continuous offering of an unlimited number of shares of our common stock over an unlimited time period by filing a new registration statement prior to the end of the three-year period described in Rule 415 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); however, in certain states this offering is subject to annual extensions.

(2) For Class T-2 shares, includes upfront selling commissions of 3.0% of the transaction price and upfront dealer manager fees of 0.5% of the transaction price, however such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price. For Class S-2 shares, includes upfront selling commissions of 3.5% of the transaction price. For Class D-2 shares, includes upfront selling commissions of 1.5% of the transaction price. Amounts presented in the tables are less than 3.5% and 1.5%, as applicable, of gross proceeds because upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees are calculated as 3.5% and 1.5%, as applicable, of the transaction price (which excludes upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees), which means that upfront selling commissions expressed as a percentage of the total investment (including upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees) are less than 3.5% and 1.5%, as applicable. We will also pay the following selling commissions over time as stockholder servicing fees to the Dealer Manager, subject to FINRA limitations on underwriting compensation: (a) for Class T-2 shares only, a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum, and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV for the Class T-2 shares, however, with respect to Class T-2 shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the

NAV of such shares, (b) for Class S-2 shares only, a stockholder servicing fee equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class S-2 shares and (c) for Class D-2 shares only, a stockholder servicing fee equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class D-2 shares, in each case, payable monthly. The stockholder servicing fees are selling commissions paid over time. The stockholder servicing expenses borne by the participating brokers may be different from and substantially less than the amount of stockholder servicing fees charged. The total amount that will be paid over time for stockholder servicing fees depends on the average length of time for which shares remain outstanding, the term over which such amount is measured, the Fee Limit (if any) and the performance of our investments, and is not expected to be paid from sources other than cash flow from operating activities. See "Plan of Distribution—Underwriting Compensation—Selling Commissions and Dealer Manager Fees" and "Compensation—Stockholder Servicing Fees."

(3) The organization and offering expense numbers shown above represent our estimates of expenses to be incurred by us in connection with this offering and include estimated wholesaling expenses reimbursable by us. See "Compensation—Organization and Offering Expense Reimbursement" for examples of the types of organization and offering expenses we may incur.

(4) The Adviser currently pays wholesaling compensation expenses and certain related expenses of persons associated with the Dealer Manager without reimbursement from us.

In the aggregate, underwriting compensation from all sources, including upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees, stockholder servicing fees and other underwriting compensation, will not exceed 10% of the gross proceeds from our primary offering.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND STRATEGIES

Investment Objectives

Our investment objectives are to invest in assets that will enable us to:

- provide attractive current income in the form of regular, stable cash distributions;
- preserve and protect invested capital;
- realize appreciation in NAV from proactive investment management and asset management; and
- provide an investment alternative for stockholders seeking to allocate a portion of their long-term investment portfolios to private markets, including private commercial real estate which offers lower observed volatility than public real estate companies.

We cannot assure you that we will achieve our investment objectives. In particular, we note that the NAV of non-traded REITs may be subject to volatility related to the values of their underlying assets. See the "Risk Factors" section of this prospectus.

Investment Strategy

Through its affiliation with Blackstone Real Estate, the Adviser acquires, manages and sells properties in our portfolio on our behalf, subject to the supervision and oversight of our board of directors. Blackstone Real Estate is the world's largest owner of commercial real estate[3] with $319 billion of investor capital under management as of December 31, 2025, representing approximately $618 billion of debt and equity as of December 31, 2025. Our objective is to bring Blackstone's leading institutional-quality real estate investment platform to income-focused investors.

Our investment strategy is to acquire primarily stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate across asset classes in the United States and, to a lesser extent, outside of the United States. These investments may include real estate-related operating companies. We also selectively invest in real estate debt investments to provide current income and, alongside our credit facilities and operating cash flow, serve as an additional source of liquidity for cash management, satisfying stock repurchases under our share repurchase plan and other purposes.

Our investment strategy seeks to capitalize on Blackstone's scale and the real-time information provided by its real estate holdings to identify and acquire our target investments at attractive pricing. We also seek to benefit from Blackstone's reputation and ability to transact at scale with speed and certainty, and its long-standing and extensive relationships in the real estate industry.

Our investments in primarily stabilized, income-generating U.S. commercial real estate focus on a range of asset types. These may include rental housing, industrial, data centers, net lease, hospitality, self storage, retail and office assets, as well as more targeted sectors. As of the date of this prospectus, our real estate portfolio consists of rental housing (which includes multifamily, affordable housing, student housing, single family rental housing, manufactured housing and senior housing), industrial, net lease, data centers, hospitality, self storage, retail and office assets. For additional information on the sectors in which we invest, see "Investments in Real Estate and Real Estate Debt."

Our real estate debt strategy is focused on generating current income and contributing to our overall net returns. Alongside our credit facilities and operating cash flow, our real estate debt investments may provide an additional source of liquidity. These liquidity sources are collectively used for cash management, satisfying any stock repurchases under our share repurchase plan and other purposes. We use the Blackstone Real Estate Debt Strategies team to assist in this portion of the portfolio. The Blackstone Real Estate Debt Strategies team leverages the competitive advantages of the broader Blackstone Real Estate platform and its own proprietary investment models to seek attractive real estate debt investment opportunities throughout the capital structure.

We believe that our structure as a perpetual-life REIT will allow us to acquire and manage our investment portfolio in a more active and flexible manner. We expect the structure to be beneficial to your investment, as we are not limited by a pre-determined operational period and the need to provide a "liquidity event" at the end of that period.

Potential Competitive Strengths

We believe our most powerful competitive strength is our affiliation with Blackstone, which is the largest buyer, seller and owner of commercial real estate in the world.[4] Blackstone Real Estate has been investing since 1991, and has total investor capital under management of $319 billion representing approximately $618 billion of debt and equity as of December 31, 2025. Blackstone is the world's largest owner of commercial real estate, with 787 real estate professionals as of December 31, 2025 located in 12 cities, including New York, London, Hong Kong, Mumbai, Sydney and Singapore. We believe our long-term success in executing our investment strategy will be supported by Blackstone Real Estate's competitive strengths, which include:

Extensive market and asset knowledge. Blackstone has been an extremely active investor in the U.S. real estate market for 30+ years in a variety of market conditions. The breadth of the portfolio provides valuable real-time, proprietary market data that we expect will enable us to identify and act on market conditions and trends more rapidly than our competitors. The proprietary data generated by Blackstone Real Estate's portfolio is expected to enable us to target specific themes with conviction and deploy significant amounts of discretionary capital.

A systematic and disciplined approach to acquiring and managing its real estate portfolio. Throughout its over 30-year history, Blackstone Real Estate has relied on consistent processes to limit risks and take advantage of intellectual capital across the firm. Blackstone Real Estate has one centralized Investment Committee that meets weekly to review large new investments around the world. The committee discussions are led by Blackstone's President and Chief Operating Officer, Blackstone's Co-Chief Investment Officer and Blackstone Real Estate's Global Co-Heads. The Investment Committee includes all other Senior Managing Directors in Blackstone Real Estate, as well as select senior executives of Blackstone. Smaller real estate investments are reviewed by a subset of the Investment Committee. The high level of interaction between the Investment Committee and investment professionals from the inception of a transaction to closing helps identify potential issues early and enables the team to more effectively streamline resources and workflows. Post-acquisition Blackstone Real Estate manages its real estate investments through proactive asset management, as well as periodic global asset reviews and valuation meetings.

Unparalleled relationships within the industry. The resources, relationships, and proprietary information of the Blackstone organization provide a deep sourcing network for new opportunities. We believe Blackstone Real Estate sees significantly more deal flow than most of its competitors as a result of its scale, its strong ties to major financial institutions, real estate brokers, and other institutional real estate investors, and its reputation for closing with speed and certainty.

Broad experience and tenure of its senior management. The 49 Senior Managing Directors in Blackstone Real Estate have been at the firm an average of 14 years and have between 14 and 34 years of experience as of December 31, 2025. The Senior Managing Directors have a long history of working together and oversee a deeply integrated global business that relies on regular communication, regular asset and strategy reviews with the entire global team and relocations of professionals among its offices in order to effectively instill Blackstone Real Estate's process and culture worldwide.

A reputation for executing large, complicated transactions with speed and certainty. Historically Blackstone Real Estate has faced less competition in large-scale transactions with multiple layers of complexity, due to the small number of real estate firms that are able to manage such transactions. This has enabled Blackstone to acquire assets and portfolios at attractive valuations. We believe Blackstone has earned a reputation in the market as the preeminent buyer of large, complex transactions because it is decisive and can close quickly. We believe this capability has benefited us in our acquisitions to date.

Intense focus on asset management and value creation. Blackstone Real Estate aims to unlock value during its ownership through proactive asset management. Blackstone Real Estate recruits talented onsite managers for its investments, optimizes pricing strategies, controls costs, executes capital management projects, and seeks regulatory and zoning approvals needed to position assets for their highest and best use.

Investment Guidelines and Portfolio Allocation

Our board of directors, including our independent directors, reviews our investment portfolio not less than quarterly. In addition, our board of directors has adopted investment guidelines which set forth, among other things, guidelines for investing in our targeted property types and certain investment policies restricting certain types of investments which we describe in more detail below. Our board of directors, including our independent directors, will review the investment guidelines on an annual basis or more frequently as it deems appropriate. Changes to our investment guidelines must be approved by our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors. Our board of directors may revise our investment guidelines without the concurrence of our stockholders. However, our board of directors will not amend our charter, including any investment policies that are provided in our charter and described under "Charter-Imposed Investment Limitations" below, without the concurrence of holders of a majority of the outstanding shares entitled to vote, except for amendments that do not adversely affect the rights, preferences and privileges of our stockholders and do not require stockholder approval under Maryland law.

Our investment guidelines delegate to the Adviser authority to execute acquisitions and dispositions of investments in real estate and real estate debt, in each case so long as such acquisitions and dispositions are consistent with the investment guidelines adopted by our board of directors. Our board of directors will at all times have oversight over our investments and may change from time to time the scope of authority delegated to the Adviser with respect to acquisition and disposition transactions. In addition, under our investment guidelines our board of directors is required to approve any acquisition of a single property or portfolio of properties with a purchase price exceeding 10% of our most recent month-end total asset value (as measured under generally accepted accounting principles) plus the proceeds expected in good faith to be raised in our registered offering over the next twelve months. A majority of our board of directors will periodically determine that the consideration paid for property we acquire will ordinarily be based on the fair market value of the property. If a majority of our independent directors determines, or if the property is acquired from the Adviser, a director, Blackstone or any of their affiliates, such fair market value shall be determined by a qualified independent appraiser selected by our independent directors.

We will seek to invest:

- at least 80% of our assets in real estate; and
- up to 20% of our assets in real estate debt.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the actual percentage of our portfolio that is invested in each investment type may from time to time be outside the levels provided above due to factors such as a large inflow of capital over a short period of time, the Adviser's assessment of the relative attractiveness of opportunities, or an increase in anticipated cash requirements or repurchase requests and subject to any limitations or requirements relating to our intention to be treated as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Certain investments, such as preferred equity investments, could be characterized as either real estate or real estate debt depending on the terms and characteristics of such investments.

Identification of Investments

Blackstone believes it sees significantly more deal flow than most of its competitors as a result of its strong ties to major real estate owners and brokers, its track record of closing on investments to which it commits, and its fair and honest treatment of counterparties. Blackstone believes it has earned a reputation as the preeminent investor in the real estate market because of its capacity to underwrite and source large, complex transactions across multiple property sectors.

In addition, Blackstone Real Estate has developed a strong network of relationships with real estate owners, leading financial institutions, operating partners, senior business executives and government officials. These relationships provide market knowledge and form the backbone of its investment-sourcing network. Blackstone has, and expects to continue to have, a significant volume of deal flow. Primary sources of Blackstone Real Estate transactions include:

- Relationships of individual Blackstone Senior Managing Directors and professionals;
- Major corporations, real estate owners and real estate operators with which Blackstone has worked in the past and that wish to divest assets or partner with Blackstone;
- Investment/commercial banks;
- Brokers/dealers; and
- Borrowers.

In Blackstone's opinion, its strong market position makes it attractive to potential sellers, which sometimes approach Blackstone on an off-market basis because Blackstone is one of the few firms that can manage large and complex property acquisitions. This market recognition gives Blackstone leverage to achieve better pricing when negotiating such transactions.

Investments in Real Estate

To execute our investment strategy, we invest primarily in stabilized, income-generating commercial real estate across asset classes in the United States and, to a lesser extent, outside the United States We may also invest in equity of public and private real estate-related companies, including real estate-related operating companies. We may also acquire assets that require some amount of capital investment in order to be renovated or repositioned as well as develop properties and make investments in other real assets such as infrastructure.

We do not designate specific geography or sector allocations for the portfolio; rather we intend to invest in regions or asset classes where we see the best opportunities that support our investment objectives.

We may only invest in equity securities if a majority of our directors, including a majority of the independent directors, not otherwise interested in the transaction approve such investment as being fair, competitive and commercially reasonable.

Ownership Interests

Our Operating Partnership or one or more subsidiary entities controlled by our Operating Partnership will acquire properties on our behalf. In many cases, we will acquire the entire equity ownership interest in properties and exercise control over such properties. However, we may also enter into joint ventures, general partnerships, co-tenancies and other participation arrangements with other investors, including affiliates of the Adviser, to acquire properties. We generally will acquire fee simple interests for the properties (in which we own both the land and the building improvements), but will from time to time invest in leased fee and leasehold interests if we believe the investment is consistent with our investment strategy and objectives.

Joint Ventures and Other Co-Ownership Arrangements

Subject to limitations in our charter, we have and expect to enter into additional joint ventures, partnerships, tenant-in-common investments or other co-ownership arrangements with entities affiliated with the Adviser as well as third parties for the acquisition or improvement of properties. In certain cases, we may not control the management of the affairs of the joint venture. A joint venture creates an alignment of interest with a private source of capital for the benefit of our stockholders. In determining whether to invest in a particular joint venture, the Adviser will evaluate the real property that such joint venture owns or is being formed to own under the same criteria described elsewhere in this prospectus for our selection of real property investments.

The terms of any particular joint venture will be established on a case-by-case basis considering all relevant facts, including the nature and attributes of the potential joint venture partner, the proposed structure of the joint venture, the nature of the operations, the liabilities and assets associated with the proposed joint venture and the size of our interest in the venture. Other factors we will consider include: (1) our ability to manage and control the joint venture; (2) our ability to exit the joint venture; and (3) our ability to control transfers of interests held by other partners to the venture. Our interests may not be totally aligned with those of our partner. See "Risks Related to This Offering and Our Organizational Structure—We may make a substantial amount of joint venture investments, including with Blackstone affiliates. Joint venture investments could be adversely affected by our lack of sole decision-making authority, our reliance on the financial condition of joint venture partners and disputes between us and our joint venture partners."

In the event that the joint venture partner elects to sell property held in any such joint venture, we may not have sufficient funds to exercise any right of first refusal or other purchase right that we may have. Entering into joint ventures with other Blackstone-sponsored programs will result in certain conflicts of interest. See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest" and "Conflicts of Interest—Transactions with Other Blackstone Accounts and Other Affiliates."

We may enter into joint ventures with Blackstone, the Adviser, one or more of our directors or any of their affiliates, including other Blackstone-sponsored programs, only if a majority of our directors, including a majority of the independent directors, not otherwise interested in the transaction approve the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on substantially the same, or more favorable, terms and conditions as those received by other affiliate joint venture partners.

Co-Investments

We co-invest with third parties or Other Blackstone Accounts, including by dividing a portfolio of assets among us and such co-investor.

Due Diligence

Comprehensive due diligence is conducted on each property that the Adviser proposes to purchase on our behalf, including these four primary types:

- Financial Due Diligence. A preliminary review of each opportunity is conducted in order to screen the attractiveness of each transaction. The preliminary review is followed by an initial projection based on macro- and micro-economic analyses. Projection assumptions generally are developed from analysis of historical operating performance, discussions with local real estate contacts or sector experts and a review of published sources and data from Blackstone's other portfolios. If the Adviser deems appropriate, further due diligence will be conducted, as described below, to confirm the initial financial review. The Adviser will forecast expected cash flows and analyze various scenarios and exit strategies utilizing its proprietary models and the financial information received. Blackstone believes that the speed and sophistication of its analysis provides a competitive advantage in the market.

- Books and Records. Third-party accounting consultants will be used as deemed necessary to review relevant books and records (for example, comparing rent rolls to leases for office buildings), confirm cash flow information provided by the seller and conduct other similar types of analysis.

- Physical Due Diligence. This primarily will involve an analysis of environmental and engineering matters by third-party consultants. Conclusions will be incorporated from environmental/engineering reports into the financial projection analysis. Additionally, the Adviser will investigate each potential investment and comparable properties to assess relative market position, functionality and obsolescence.

- Legal and Tax Due Diligence. The Adviser will work closely with outside counsel to review, diligence and negotiate applicable legal and property specific documents pertaining to an investment (e.g., loan documents, leases, management agreements, purchase contracts, etc.). Additionally, the Adviser will work with internal and external tax advisors to structure investments in an efficient manner.

The Adviser would not move forward on an investment if it does not satisfy its investment criteria.

Exit Strategies

We anticipate that we will hold most of our properties for 7-10 years. One of the Adviser's primary considerations in evaluating any potential investment opportunity is the likely exit strategy. When determining whether to sell a particular asset, the Adviser will take the following steps:

- Evaluate Condition of the Property. Evaluate whether the asset is in the appropriate condition for a successful sale.
- Monitor Market Conditions. Monitor the markets to identify favorable conditions for asset sales.
- Assess Returns from the Property. Assess the returns from each investment to determine whether the expected sale price exceeds the net present value of the projected cash flows of the property.
- Evaluate Status of Business Plan. Evaluate whether it has successfully completed the value creation plan that was established at acquisition.

We believe that holding our target assets for a long period of time will enable us to execute our business plan, generate favorable cash-on-cash returns and drive long-term cash flow and NAV growth.

Generally, we will reinvest proceeds from the sale, financing or disposition of properties in a manner consistent with our investment strategy, although we may be required to distribute such proceeds to the stockholders in order to comply with REIT requirements.

Investments in Real Estate Debt

Our real estate debt investments focus on non-distressed public and private real estate debt, including, but not limited to, CMBS, RMBS and other residential credit, real estate-related corporate credit, mortgages, mezzanine and other loans, interests of collateralized debt obligation and collateralized loan obligation vehicles and equity interests in public and private entities that invest in real estate debt as one of their core businesses, and may also include derivatives. Our investments in real estate debt will be focused in the United States, but also include investments issued or backed by real estate in countries outside the United States.

As part of our real estate debt investment strategy, we invest in CMBS. CMBS may include multi-issuer CMBS, single-issuer CMBS and "rake bonds," in each case, relating to real estate-related companies or assets. In a typical multi-issuer CMBS issuance, one or more mortgage loans of varying size, asset type (including, but not limited to, office, retail, multifamily, hospitality, industrial and single family rental), and geography are pooled and transferred to a trust. The trust then issues a series of bonds that vary in duration, payment priority and yield. Then rating agencies (such as Moody's, S&P or Fitch) assign credit ratings to the various bond classes ranging from investment grade to below investment grade.

The Company also invests in RMBS and other residential credit. In a typical RMBS issuance, residential mortgages of varying size and geographic location are pooled and transferred to a trust. The trust then issues a series of bonds that vary in duration, payment priority, and yield. Then rating agencies (such as S&P's, Moody's, or Fitch) assign credit ratings to the various bond classes ranging from investment grade to below investment grade.

We may also invest in loans, which may include commercial mortgage loans, bank loans, mezzanine loans, other interests relating to real estate and debt of companies in the business of owning and/or operating real estate-related businesses. Commercial mortgage loans are typically secured by single family, multifamily or commercial property and are subject to risks of delinquency and foreclosure. The ability of a borrower to repay a loan secured by an income-generating property typically is dependent primarily upon the successful operation of such property rather than upon the existence of independent income or assets of the borrower.

We may also invest in real estate-related derivatives, including, without limitation, total return swaps and credit default swaps that have real estate debt as reference assets. See "—Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities."

We do not intend to make loans to other persons or to engage in the purchase and sale of any types of investments other than those related to real estate and other real assets.

Mezzanine loans may take the form of subordinated loans secured by a pledge of the ownership interests of either the entity owning the real property or an entity that owns (directly or indirectly) the interest in the entity owning the real property. These types of investments may involve a higher degree of risk than mortgage lending because the investment may become unsecured as a result of foreclosure by the senior lender.

Although our investments in real estate debt investments will be primarily in non-distressed CMBS and other debt investments (based on our belief that there is not a low likelihood of repayment), we may nonetheless invest in instruments of any credit quality at various levels of an issuer's capital structure. Debt securities of below investment grade quality are regarded as having predominantly speculative characteristics with respect to capacity to pay interest and to repay principal, and are commonly referred to as "high yield" securities. Securities rated Caa or below and CCC or below are considered vulnerable to nonpayment and their issuers to be dependent on favorable business, financial and economic conditions to meet their financial commitments. Securities rated below Caa/CCC may include obligations already in default. Debt securities in the lowest investment grade category will likely possess speculative characteristics. Additionally, some of our investments may be structured as investments in real estate debt securities or loans but are intended to provide us with returns based on the performance of the related real estate. As such, these debt securities or loans may have risks that are similar to that which a real estate equity investment would possess.

We may also invest, without limit, in securities that are unregistered (but are eligible for purchase and sale by certain qualified institutional buyers) or are held by control persons of the issuer and securities that are subject to contractual restrictions on their resale.

Issuing Securities for Property

Subject to limitations contained in our charter, we have issued and may in the future issue, or cause to be issued, shares of our stock or limited partnership units in our Operating Partnership in any manner (and on such terms and for such consideration) in exchange for real estate. Our existing stockholders have no preemptive rights to purchase any such shares of our stock or limited partnership units, and any such issuance might cause a dilution of a stockholder's initial investment. We may enter into additional contractual arrangements with contributors of property under which we would agree to repurchase a contributor's units for shares of our common stock or cash, at the option of the contributor, at specified times.

Investment Process for Real Estate Debt

The following is a brief summary of certain key aspects of the real estate debt investment process the Adviser expects to generally utilize:

- Fundamental Analysis. The Adviser expects to utilize an asset-by-asset valuation approach to evaluate potential investments with a focus on underlying cash flow projections, replacement costs and market-by-market supply/demand trends.
- Disciplined Investment Approach. The Adviser expects to employ conservative underwriting and rigorous due diligence with respect to each investment while carefully assessing the impact of certain potential downside scenarios.
- Leverage Proprietary Knowledge and Relationships. The Adviser expects to utilize the knowledge, relationships and expertise of the existing Blackstone Real Estate operating team to evaluate the sponsorship and collateral of potential investments.

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities

We may use derivatives for hedging purposes and, subject to maintaining our status as a REIT and compliance with any applicable exemption from being regulated as a commodity pool operator, we may also use derivatives for investment purposes and as a form of effective leverage. Our principal investments in derivative instruments may include investments in interest rate swaps, total return swaps, credit default swaps and indices thereon, and short sales (typically related to treasuries), but we may also invest in futures transactions, options and options on futures. See "Risk Factors—We invest in derivatives, which involve numerous risks."

Cash, Cash Equivalents and Other Short-Term Investments

We hold cash, cash equivalents and other short-term investments. These types of investments may include the following, to the extent consistent with our intended qualification as a REIT:

- money market instruments, cash and other cash equivalents (such as high-quality short-term debt instruments, including commercial paper, certificates of deposit, bankers' acceptances, repurchase agreements, interest-bearing time deposits and credit rated corporate debt securities);
- U.S. government or government agency securities; and
- Credit-rated corporate debt or asset-backed securities of U.S. or foreign entities, or credit-rated debt securities of foreign governments or multi-national organizations.

Other Investments

We may, subject to any required approvals from our board of directors, make investments other than as described above. At all times, we intend to make investments in such a manner consistent with maintaining our qualification as a REIT under the Code and maintaining our status as a non-investment company under the Investment Company Act. We do not intend to underwrite securities of other issuers.

DST Program

We and the Operating Partnership operate the DST Program to issue and sell DST Interests in specific DSTs holding the DST Properties. These DST Interests will be issued and sold to "accredited investors," as that term is defined under Regulation D promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act, in DST Offerings.

Under the DST Program, each DST Property may be sourced from our real properties or acquired from third parties, will be held in a separate DST, and will be leased by the DST to a wholly owned subsidiary of the Operating Partnership under a master lease agreement. In accordance with the master lease, we are responsible for subleasing the DST Properties and for covering all costs associated with operating the underlying DST Properties. To the extent that we choose to source a DST Property from one or our real properties, the value of such DST Property will continue to be included in the calculation of our NAV at its fair market value as described in "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines," and the management fee payable to the Adviser will be the same as it would be had such contribution not occurred. As described below, the Adviser, through an indirect wholly owned subsidiary, and its affiliates will earn other fees with respect to the DST Properties. For each DST Offering, including those related to DST Properties purchased from third parties, the offering price of the DST Interests will be based on the then-current fair market value of the applicable DST Property or DST Properties determined by reference to the most recently available valuations prepared by the Adviser that have been reviewed for reasonableness by an independent third-party valuation advisor and which are used in the calculation of our NAV. Each master lease agreement will be guaranteed by the Operating Partnership, which will retain a FMV Option giving the Operating Partnership the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests in the applicable DST from the DST investors any time during a defined period in exchange for Operating Partnership units or, in certain cases, a combination of Operating Partnership units and cash. After a one-year holding period, investors who acquire Operating Partnership units pursuant to the FMV Option have a right to cause the Operating Partnership to redeem all or a portion of their Operating Partnership units for, at our sole discretion, shares of our common stock, cash, or a combination of both.

DST Dealer Manager

In connection with the DST Program, Blackstone Real Estate Exchange LLC, an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of the Operating Partnership, has entered into a dealer manager agreement with our Dealer Manager (in its capacity as the dealer manager for the DST Program, the "DST Dealer Manager"). Pursuant to the DST dealer manager agreement, the DST Dealer Manager agreed to act as dealer manager for the DST Offerings on a "best efforts" basis.

Under the DST Dealer Manager Agreement, the DST Dealer Manager may receive an ongoing investor servicing fee of up to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate value of the DST Property underlying certain DST Interests in the applicable DST Offering.

The Operating Partnership will pay the DST Dealer Manager, solely with respect to Operating Partnership units issued in connection with the FMV Option in exchange for DST Interests and only until the fee limit (if any) set forth in the applicable agreement between the Dealer Manager and the participating distribution agent that sold such DST Interests in a DST Offering has been reached, ongoing investor servicing fees in amounts up to: 0.85% per annum of the NAV of any such Class T-1 units, consisting of a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum; up to 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such Class S-1 units; and up to 0.25% per annum of the NAV of such Class D-1 units. No investor servicing fee will be paid for Class I units. All or a portion of the investor servicing fee may be reallowed to participating broker-dealers, as set forth in the applicable agreement between the DST Dealer Manager and such participating distribution agent.

DST Manager

All material management authority with respect to each DST will be exercised by such DST's trust manager (the "DST Manager"), which in each case will be an indirect subsidiary of the Adviser.

The DST Manager has the power and authority to manage substantially all of the affairs and limited investment activities of the DSTs, the primary responsibility for performing administrative actions in connection with the DSTs, and the sole power to determine when it is appropriate to sell the DST Properties, all of such power and authority is limited to the extent such powers and authority are materially consistent with those conferred upon the trustee in Revenue Ruling 2004-86. The DST Manager will be managed by personnel associated with Blackstone Real Estate.

The DST Manager or its affiliates will receive management and other fees and reimbursements of certain expenses associated with the establishment, management and operation of the DST and DST Properties.

Borrowing Policies

We use financial leverage to provide additional funds to support our investment activities. This allows us to make more investments than would otherwise be possible, resulting in a broader portfolio and enhances the return on our equity capital. Subject to the limitation on indebtedness for money borrowed in our charter described below, our target leverage ratio is approximately 60%. Our leverage ratio is measured by dividing (i) consolidated property-level and entity-level debt net of cash and loan-related restricted cash, by (ii) the asset value of real estate investments (measured using the greater of fair market value and cost) plus the equity in our settled real estate debt investments. Indebtedness incurred (i) in connection with funding a deposit in advance of the closing of an investment or (ii) as other working capital advances, will not be included as part of the calculation above. Our leverage ratio would be higher if the indebtedness on our real estate debt investments and pro rata share of debt within our unconsolidated investment were taken into account.

Our real estate debt portfolio has embedded leverage through the use of reverse repurchase agreements and similar financings and may also have embedded leverage through the use of derivatives, including, but not limited to, total return swaps, securities lending arrangements and credit default swaps. During times of increased investment and capital markets activity, but subject to the limitation on indebtedness for money borrowed in our charter described below, we may employ greater leverage in order to quickly build a broader portfolio of assets. We may leverage our portfolio by assuming or incurring secured or unsecured property-level or entity-level debt. An example of property-level debt is a mortgage loan secured by an individual property or portfolio of properties incurred or assumed in connection with our acquisition of such property or portfolio of properties. An example of entity-level debt is a line of credit obtained by us or our Operating Partnership. We currently have secured and unsecured lines of credit from third parties and an uncommitted line of credit from an affiliate of Blackstone. We may decide to seek to obtain additional lines of credit under which we would reserve borrowing capacity. Borrowings under current or any future lines of credit may be used not only to repurchase shares, but also to fund acquisitions or for any other corporate purpose.

Our actual leverage level will be affected by a number of factors, some of which are outside our control. Significant inflows of proceeds from the sale of shares of our common stock generally will cause our leverage as a percentage of our net assets, or our leverage ratio, to decrease, at least temporarily. Significant outflows of equity as a result of repurchases of shares of our common stock generally will cause our leverage ratio to increase, at least temporarily. Our leverage ratio will also increase or decrease with decreases or increases, respectively, in the value of our portfolio. If we borrow under a line of credit to fund repurchases of shares of our common stock or for other purposes, our leverage would increase and may exceed our target leverage. In such cases, our leverage may remain at the higher level until we receive additional net proceeds from our continuous offering or sell some of our assets to repay outstanding indebtedness.

Our board of directors reviews our aggregate borrowings at least quarterly. In connection with such review, our board of directors may determine to modify our target leverage ratio in light of then-current economic conditions, relative costs of debt and equity capital, fair values of our properties, general conditions in the market for debt and equity securities, growth and investment opportunities or other factors. We may exceed our targeted leverage ratio at times if the Adviser deems it advisable for us. For example, if we fund a repurchase under a line of credit, we will consider actual borrowings when determining whether we are at our leverage target, but not unused borrowing capacity. If, therefore, we are at a leverage ratio in the range of 60% and we borrow additional amounts under a line of credit, or if the value of our portfolio decreases, our leverage could exceed the range of 60% of our gross real estate assets. In the event that our leverage ratio exceeds our target, regardless of the reason, we will thereafter endeavor to manage our leverage back down to our target.

There is no limit on the amount we may borrow with respect to any individual property or portfolio. However, under our charter we may not incur indebtedness for money borrowed in an amount exceeding 300% of the cost of our net assets, which approximates borrowing 75% of the cost of our investments, unless any excess over this limit is approved by a majority of our independent directors, and disclosed to stockholders in our next quarterly report, along with justification for such excess. This limitation includes indebtedness for money borrowed with respect to our real estate debt portfolio. “Net assets” is defined as our total assets other than intangibles valued at cost (prior to deducting depreciation, reserves for bad debts and other non-cash reserves) less total liabilities.

Our charter prohibits us from obtaining loans from any of our directors, Blackstone or any of their affiliates, unless approved by a majority of our board of directors (including a majority of our independent directors) not otherwise interested in the transaction as fair, competitive and commercially reasonable and on terms and conditions not less favorable than comparable loans between unaffiliated parties under the same or similar circumstances.

Temporary Strategies

During periods in which the Adviser determines that economic or market conditions are unfavorable to investors and a defensive strategy would benefit us, we may temporarily depart from our investment strategy. During these periods, subject to compliance with the Investment Company Act, we may deviate from our investment guideline of investing at least 80% of our assets in real estate and/or up to 20% of our assets in real estate debt, or invest all or any portion of our assets in U.S. government securities, including bills, notes and bonds differing as to maturity and rates of interest that are either issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury or by U.S. government agencies or instrumentalities; non-U.S. government securities that have received the highest investment grade credit rating; certificates of deposit issued against funds deposited in a bank or a savings and loan association; commercial paper; bankers’ acceptances; fixed time deposits; shares of money market funds; credit-linked notes; repurchase agreements with respect to any of the foregoing; or any other fixed income securities that the Adviser considers consistent with this strategy. During these periods, we may also determine to pay down certain of our indebtedness and have indebtedness below our target leverage or we may borrow more to provide for additional liquidity causing us to exceed our target leverage. It is impossible to predict when, or for how long, the Adviser will use these alternative strategies. There can be no assurance that such strategies will be successful.

Charter-Imposed Investment Limitations

Our charter places numerous limitations on us with respect to the manner in which we may invest our funds. In addition, our board of directors has adopted a policy to act in manner consistent with certain amendments to our charter proposed at the 2019 annual meeting of stockholders. See " —Board Policy with Respect to Certain Charter Provisions."

- We will not make investments in unimproved real property or indebtedness secured by a deed of trust or mortgage loans on unimproved real property in excess of 10% of our total assets. Unimproved real property means a property in which we have an equity interest that was not acquired for the purpose of producing rental or other operating income, that has no development or construction in process and for which no development or construction is planned, in good faith, to commence within one year;

- We will not invest in commodities or commodity futures contracts (which term does not include derivatives related to non-commodity investments, including futures contracts when used solely for the purpose of hedging in connection with our ordinary business of investing in real estate assets, mortgages and real estate-related securities);

- We will not invest in real estate contracts of sale, otherwise known as land sale contracts, unless the contract is in recordable form and is appropriately recorded in the chain of title;

- We will not make or invest in individual mortgage loans unless an appraisal is obtained concerning the underlying property except for mortgage loans insured or guaranteed by a government or government agency. In cases where a majority of our independent directors determines and in all cases in which a mortgage loan transaction is with the Adviser, our sponsor, any of our directors or any of their affiliates, the appraisal shall be obtained from an independent appraiser. We will maintain the appraisal in our records for at least five years and it will be available for inspection and duplication by our common stockholders. We will also obtain a mortgagee's or owner's title insurance policy as to the priority of the mortgage or condition of the title;

- We will not make or invest in mortgage loans, including construction loans, on any one real property if the aggregate amount of all mortgage loans on such real property would exceed an amount equal to 85% of the appraised value of such real property as determined by appraisal unless substantial justification exists because of the presence of other underwriting criteria;

- We will not make or invest in mortgage loans that are subordinate to any lien or other indebtedness or equity interest of any of our directors, our sponsor, the Adviser or their affiliates;

- We will not issue (1) equity securities redeemable solely at the option of the holder (except that stockholders may offer their shares of our common stock to us pursuant to our share repurchase plan), (2) debt securities unless the historical debt service coverage (in the most recently completed fiscal year) as adjusted for known changes is anticipated to be sufficient to properly service that higher level of debt, (3) equity securities on a deferred payment basis or under similar arrangements or (4) options or warrants to the directors, our sponsor, the Adviser, or any of their affiliates, except on the same terms as such options or warrants, if any, are sold to the general public. Options or warrants may be issued to persons other than the directors, our sponsor, the Adviser, or any of their affiliates, but not at exercise prices less than the fair value of the underlying securities on the date of grant and not for consideration (which may include services) that in the judgment of the independent directors has a fair market value less than the value of the option or warrant on the date of grant;

- We will not engage in the business of underwriting or the agency distribution of securities issued by other persons;

- We will not acquire interests or equity securities in any entity holding investments or engaging in activities prohibited by our charter except for investments in which we hold a non-controlling interest or investments in any entity having securities listed on a national securities exchange or included for quotation on an interdealer quotation system;

- We will not acquire equity securities unless a majority of the board of directors (including a majority of the independent directors) not otherwise interested in the transaction approves such investment as being fair, competitive and commercially reasonable;
- We will not violate any provisions of our charter in connection with any purchase, sale, lease, loan or other transaction involving us and one or more of Blackstone, the Adviser, our directors, or any of their affiliates;
- We will not make any investment that we believe will cause us to be classified as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act or which would be inconsistent with our objective of qualifying and remaining to qualify as a REIT, unless our board of directors determines that REIT qualification is no longer in our best interests; or
- We will not violate any provisions of our charter in connection with any roll-up transaction, which are described under "Description of Capital Stock—Restrictions on Roll-Up Transactions."

In addition, our charter includes many other investment limitations in connection with transactions with affiliated entities or persons.

Board Policy with Respect to Certain Charter Provisions

As a condition to the renewal of the registration of this offering in certain states, our board of directors adopted a policy to act in a manner consistent with the exact wording of the NASAA REIT Guidelines as agreed upon with such state regulators. Some of the changes the board policy makes to language in our charter pertains to: (i) the definition of "Independent Director," (ii) anti-dilution voting rights of stockholders, (iii) Independent Director requirements upon a listing and (iv) roll-up transaction provisions. The above is only a summary of the modifications to our charter language implemented by our board policy with respect to certain provisions. A copy of this policy is filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part.

Investment Company Act Considerations

We intend to engage primarily in the business of investing in real estate and to conduct our operations so that neither we nor any of our subsidiaries is required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act. Under the Investment Company Act, in relevant part, a company is an "investment company" if:

- under Section 3(a)(1)(A), it is, or holds itself out as being, engaged primarily, or proposes to engage primarily, in the business of investing, reinvesting or trading in securities; or
- under Section 3(a)(1)(C), it is engaged, or proposes to engage, in the business of investing, reinvesting, owning, holding or trading in securities and owns, or proposes to acquire, "investment securities" having a value exceeding 40% of the value of its total assets (exclusive of government securities and cash items) on an unconsolidated basis, which we refer to as the "40% test." The term "investment securities" generally includes all securities except U.S. government securities and securities of majority-owned subsidiaries that are not themselves investment companies and are not relying on the exemption from the definition of investment company under Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act.

We intend to acquire real estate and real estate-related assets directly, primarily by acquiring fee interests in real property. We may also invest in real property indirectly through investments in joint venture entities, including joint venture entities in which we do not own a controlling interest. We anticipate that our assets generally will be held in our wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries, each formed to hold a particular asset. A smaller portion of our assets are anticipated to be real estate debt.

We intend to conduct our operations so that we and most of our wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries will comply with the 40% test. We will continuously monitor our holdings on an ongoing basis to determine compliance with this test. We expect that most, if not all, of our wholly owned and majority-owned subsidiaries will not be relying on exemptions under either Section 3(c)(1) or 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act. Consequently, interests in these subsidiaries (which are expected to constitute a substantial majority of our assets) generally will not constitute "investment securities." Accordingly, we believe that we and most, if not all, of our wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries will not be considered investment companies under Section 3(a)(1)(C) of the Investment Company Act.

In addition, we believe that neither we nor any of our wholly or majority-owned subsidiaries will be considered an investment company under Section 3(a)(1)(A) of the Investment Company Act because they will not engage primarily or hold themselves out as being engaged primarily in the business of investing, reinvesting or trading in securities. Rather, we and our subsidiaries will be primarily engaged in non-investment company businesses related to real estate. Consequently, we and our subsidiaries expect to be able to conduct their respective operations such that none of them will be required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

We will determine whether an entity is a majority-owned subsidiary of our Company. The Investment Company Act defines a majority-owned subsidiary of a person as a company 50% or more of the outstanding voting securities of which are owned by such person, or by another company which is a majority-owned subsidiary of such person. The Investment Company Act defines voting securities as any security presently entitling the owner or holder thereof to vote for the election of directors of a company. We treat entities in which we own at least a majority of the outstanding voting securities as majority-owned subsidiaries for purposes of the 40% test. We have not requested that the SEC or its staff approve our treatment of any entity as a majority-owned subsidiary, and neither has done so. If the SEC or its staff was to disagree with our treatment of one or more subsidiary entities as majority-owned subsidiaries, we would need to adjust our strategy and our assets in order to continue to pass the 40% test. Any adjustment in our strategy could have a material adverse effect on us.

If we or any of our wholly or majority-owned subsidiaries would ever inadvertently fall within one of the definitions of "investment company," we intend to rely on the exemption provided by Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the Investment Company Act, which is available for entities "primarily engaged in the business of purchasing or otherwise acquiring mortgages and other liens on and interests in real estate." The SEC staff has taken the position that this exemption, in addition to prohibiting the issuance of certain types of securities, generally requires that at least 55% of an entity's assets must be comprised of mortgages and other liens on and interests in real estate, also known as "qualifying assets," and at least another 25% of the entity's assets must be comprised of additional qualifying assets or a broader category of assets that we refer to as "real estate-related assets" under the Investment Company Act (and no more than 20% of the entity's assets may be comprised of miscellaneous assets).

We will classify our assets for purposes of our 3(c)(5)(C) exemption based upon no-action positions taken by the SEC staff and interpretive guidance provided by the SEC and its staff. These no-action positions are based on specific factual situations that may be substantially different from the factual situations we may face, and a number of these no-action positions were issued more than twenty years ago. No assurance can be given that the SEC or its staff will concur with our classification of our assets. In addition, the SEC or its staff may, in the future, issue further guidance that may require us to re-classify our assets for purposes of the Investment Company Act. If we are required to re-classify our assets, we may no longer be in compliance with the exemption from the definition of an investment company provided by Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the Investment Company Act.

For purposes of determining whether we satisfy the 55%/25% test, based on the no-action letters issued by the SEC staff, we intend to classify our fee interests in real property, held by us directly or through our wholly owned subsidiaries or controlled subsidiaries as qualifying assets. In addition, based on no-action letters issued by the SEC staff, we will treat our investments in joint ventures, which in turn invest in qualifying assets such as real property, as qualifying assets only if we have the right to approve major decisions by the joint venture; otherwise, they will be classified as real estate-related assets. We will not participate in joint ventures in which we do not have or share control to the extent that we believe such participation would potentially threaten our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act. This may prevent us from receiving an allocation with respect to certain investment opportunities that are suitable for both us and one or more Other Blackstone Accounts. We expect that no less than 55% of our assets will consist of investments in real property, including any joint ventures that we control.

Qualifying for an exemption from registration under the Investment Company Act will limit our ability to make certain investments. For example, these restrictions may limit our and our subsidiaries' ability to invest directly in mortgage-backed securities that represent less than the entire ownership in a pool of mortgage loans, debt and equity tranches of securitizations and certain asset-backed securities, non-controlling equity interests in real estate companies or in assets not related to real estate, however, we and our subsidiaries may invest in such securities to a certain extent.

Although we intend to monitor our portfolio, there can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain this exemption from registration.

A change in the value of any of our assets could negatively affect our ability to maintain our exemption from regulation under the Investment Company Act. To maintain compliance with the Section 3(c)(5)(C) exemption, we may be unable to sell assets we would otherwise want to sell and may need to sell assets we would otherwise wish to retain. In addition, we may have to acquire additional assets that we might not otherwise have acquired or may have to forego opportunities to acquire assets that we would otherwise want to acquire and would be important to our investment strategy.

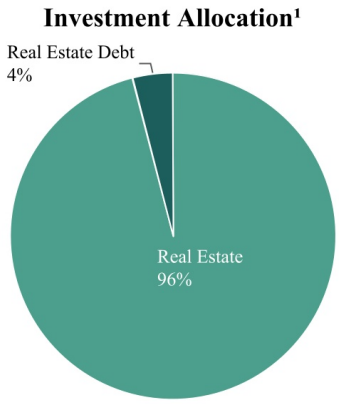

To the extent that the SEC or its staff provide more specific guidance regarding any of the matters bearing upon the definition of investment company and the exemptions to that definition, we may be required to adjust our strategy accordingly. On August 31, 2011, the SEC issued a concept release and request for comments regarding the Section 3(c)(5)(C) exemption (Release No. IC-29778) in which it contemplated the possibility of issuing new rules or providing new interpretations of the exemption that might, among other things, define the phrase "liens on and other interests in real estate" or consider sources of income in determining a company's "primary business." Any additional guidance from the SEC or its staff could provide additional flexibility to us, or it could further inhibit our ability to pursue the strategies we have chosen.

If we are required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act, we would become subject to substantial regulation with respect to our capital structure (including our ability to use borrowings), management, operations, transactions with affiliated persons (as defined in the Investment Company Act) and portfolio composition, including disclosure requirements and restrictions with respect to diversification and industry concentration and other matters. Compliance with the Investment Company Act would, accordingly, limit our ability to make certain investments and require us to significantly restructure our business plan. For additional discussion of the risks that we would face if we were required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act, see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to This Offering and Our Organizational Structure—Your investment return may be reduced if we are required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act."

INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE AND REAL ESTATE DEBT

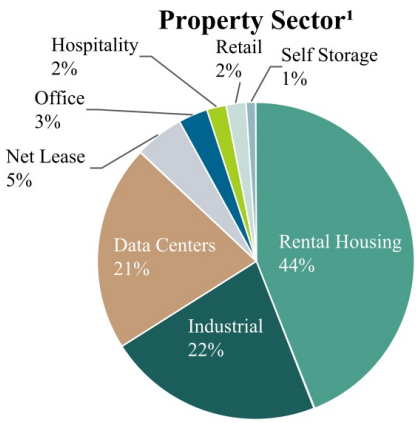

Portfolio Summary

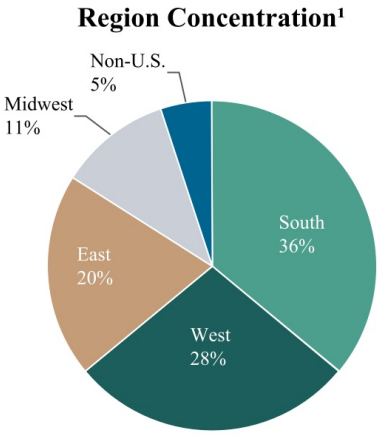

The following chart allocates our investments in real estate and real estate debt based on fair value as of December 31, 2025:

Real Estate Investments

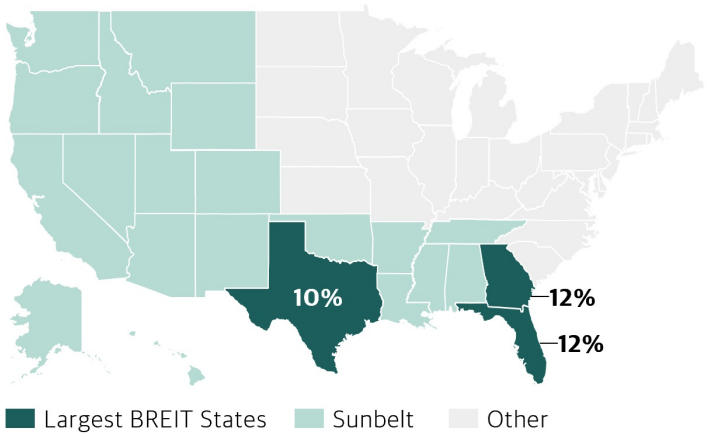

The following charts further describe the diversification of our investments in real estate based on fair value as of December 31, 2025:

(1) "Real estate investments" include wholly-owned property investments, our share of property investments held through joint ventures and equity in public and private real estate-related companies. "Real estate debt" includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage and mezzanine loans, and other debt secured by real estate and real estate related assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") Balance Sheets. "Property Sector" weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate investments for each sector category divided by the asset value of all real estate investments, excluding the value of any third-party interests in such real estate investments. "Region Concentration" represents regions as defined by the National Council of Real Estate Investment Fiduciaries ("NCREIF") and the weighting is measured as the asset value of our real estate properties for each regional category divided by the asset value of all real estate properties, excluding the value of any third-party interests in such real estate properties. "Non-U.S." reflects investments in Europe and Canada.

The following map identifies the top markets of our real estate portfolio composition based on fair value as of December 31, 2025:

The select states highlighted represent our top three states by portfolio weighting. Portfolio weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate properties for each state divided by the total asset value of all real estate properties, excluding the value of any third-party interests in such real estate investments. Sunbelt refers to ~65% concentration in the South and West regions of the U.S. as defined by NCREIF. We are invested in additional states that are not highlighted above.

As of December 31, 2025, we owned, in whole or in part, a diversified portfolio of income producing assets comprising 4,483 properties and 63,918 single family rental homes concentrated in growth markets primarily focused in Rental Housing, Industrial, Data Centers properties, and to a lesser extent Net Lease, Office, Hospitality, Retail, and Self Storage properties.

The following table provides a summary of our portfolio by property sector as of December 31, 2025:

Property Sector	Number of Properties[1][2]	Sq. Feet (in thousands)/ Units/Keys[1][2][3]	Occupancy Rate[3][4]	Average Effective Annual Base Rent Per Leased Square Foot/ Units/Keys[3][5]	Gross Asset Value[6] ($ in thousands)	Property Sector Revenue[7] ($ in thousands)	Percentage of Total Revenues
Rental Housing[8]	837	257,811 units	93 %	$ 23,465	$ 53,274,571	$ 4,491,519	50 %
Industrial	2,940	398,315 sq. ft.	92 %	$ 6.84	27,128,072	1,715,627	19 %
Data Centers	133	19,735 sq. ft.	100 %	$ 15.43	25,865,675	1,099,503	12 %
Net Lease	179	16,614 sq. ft.	100 %	N/A	6,209,518	519,180	6 %
Office	14	5,177 sq. ft.	96 %	$ 43.12	3,257,254	271,357	3 %
Hospitality	240	33,056 keys	72 %	$189.95/$136.54	2,628,371	626,358	7 %
Retail	61	8,535 sq. ft.	96 %	$ 22.06	2,608,878	225,834	2 %
Self Storage	79	5,046 sq. ft.	83 %	$ 14.23	841,327	75,138	1 %
Total	4,483		94 %		$ 121,813,666	$ 9,024,516	100 %

(1) Single family rental homes are included in rental housing units and are not reflected in the number of properties.

(2) Includes properties owned by unconsolidated entities.

(3) Excludes land under development related to our rental housing, industrial and data center investments.

(4) For our industrial, data centers, net lease, retail and office investments, occupancy includes all leased square footage as of December 31, 2025. For our multifamily, student housing and affordable housing investments, occupancy is defined as the percentage of actual rent divided by gross potential rent (defined as actual rent for occupied units and market rent for vacant units) for the three months ended December 31, 2025. For our single family rental housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied homes for the month ended December 31, 2025. For our self storage, manufactured housing and senior living investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied square footage, occupied sites and occupied units, respectively, as of December 31, 2025. The average occupancy rate for our hospitality investments includes paid occupied rooms for the 12 months ended December 31, 2025. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the average occupancy rate calculation. Total occupancy is weighted by the total value of all consolidated real estate properties, excluding our hospitality investments, and any third party interests in such properties. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from occupancy rate calculations.

(5) For multifamily and rental housing properties other than manufactured housing and senior living, average effective annual base rent represents the base rent for the year ended December 31, 2025 per leased unit, and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization. For manufactured housing, senior living, industrial, data centers, net lease, self storage, office, and retail properties, average effective annual base rent represents the annualized December 31, 2025 base rent per leased square foot or unit and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization. For hospitality properties, average effective annual base rent represents average daily rate ("ADR") and revenue per available Room ("RevPAR"), respectively, for the 12 months ended December 31, 2025. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the ADR and RevPAR calculations. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from average effective annual base rent calculations.

(6) Gross Asset Value consists of our $85.1 billion allocable share of consolidated real estate properties and our $36.7 billion allocable share of the gross real estate value held by unconsolidated entities, in each case excluding the value of any third-party interests in such real estate investments. Such amounts are measured on a fair value basis.

(7) Includes the revenues from our consolidated real estate properties and our allocable share of revenues from properties held by unconsolidated entities. The prior period has been recast to exclude the non-controlling interest's allocable share of revenue to be consistent with the current period presentation. See the Property Sector Revenue disclosure immediately following this table for certain Non-GAAP disclosures and reconciliations.

(8) Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured and single family rental housing, as well as senior living. Rental Housing units include multifamily units, student housing units, affordable housing units, manufactured housing sites, single family rental homes and senior living units.

Property Sector Revenue

Property Sector Revenue is a supplemental non-GAAP measure of revenue that includes our allocable share of the revenues from all consolidated and unconsolidated properties in our portfolio, which we believe is meaningful for management, investors, and other users of our financial statements to assess the scale of our exposure to different property sectors. We define Property Sector Revenue as our allocable share of the revenues from our consolidated properties plus our allocable share of revenues from unconsolidated entities. Property Sector Revenue may not be comparable to that of other companies and should not be considered to be more relevant or accurate in evaluating our operating performance than GAAP total revenues.

The following table provides a reconciliation of GAAP total revenues to Property Sector Revenue ($ in thousands):

	Year Ended December 31, 2025
Total revenues[1]	$ 7,962,272
Less: revenues allocable to non-controlling interests	(824,340)
Allocable share of revenues from unconsolidated entities	1,886,584
Property Sector Revenue	$ 9,024,516

(1) Reflects total revenues determined in accordance with GAAP. See Consolidated Statements of Operations for details of revenue components.

(1) Rental Housing includes multifamily and other types of rental housing such as student, affordable, manufactured, and single family rental housing, as well as senior living. Rental Housing units include multifamily units, student housing units, affordable housing units, manufactured housing sites, single family rental homes and senior living units. Single family rental homes are accounted for in rental housing units and are not reflected in the number of properties.
(2) Includes properties owned by unconsolidated entities.
(3) Certain of our joint venture agreements provide the seller or the other partner a profits interest based on achieving certain internal rate of return hurdles. Such investments are consolidated by us and any profits interest due to the other partners is reported within non-controlling interests.
(4) Excludes land under development related to our rental housing, industrial and data centers investments.
(5) For our industrial, data centers, net lease, retail and office investments, occupancy includes all leased square footage as of December 31, 2025. For our multifamily, student housing and affordable housing investments, occupancy is defined as the percentage of actual rent divided by gross potential rent (defined as actual rent for occupied units and market rent for vacant units) for the three months ended December 31, 2025. For our single family rental housing investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied homes for the month ended December 31, 2025. For our self storage, manufactured housing and senior living investments, the occupancy rate includes occupied square footage, occupied sites and occupied units, respectively, as of December 31, 2025. The average occupancy rate for our hospitality investments includes paid occupied rooms for the 12 months ended December 31, 2025. Hospitality investments owned less than 12 months are excluded from the average occupancy rate calculation. Unconsolidated investments are excluded from occupancy rate calculations.
(6) Represents acquisition of Preferred Apartment Communities.
(7) Includes various ownership interests in 10 unconsolidated multifamily properties.
(8) Includes a 100% interest in 13,783 consolidated single family rental homes, a 44% interest in 8,230 unconsolidated single family rental homes, and a 12% interest in 1,436 unconsolidated single family rental homes.
(9) Includes various ownership interests in 40,469 unconsolidated single family rental homes.
(10) Includes various ownership interests in 337 consolidated affordable housing properties and four unconsolidated affordable housing properties.
(11) Investment is unconsolidated.
(12) Includes various ownership interests in 87 consolidated industrial properties and 19 unconsolidated industrial properties.
(13) Includes 29 wholly owned retail properties and a 50% interest in one unconsolidated retail property.
(14) Includes properties held by DSTs as of December 31, 2025.

Lease Expirations

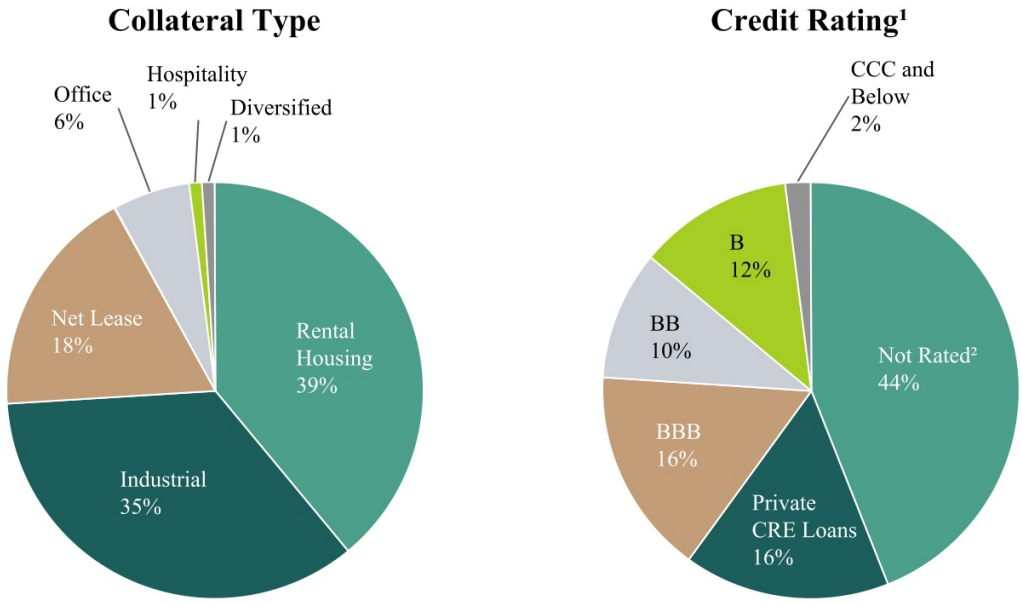

The following schedule details the expiring leases at our consolidated industrial, data centers, net lease, retail, and office properties by annualized base rent and square footage as of December 31, 2025 ($ and square feet data in thousands). The table below excludes our rental housing and self storage properties as substantially all leases at such properties expire within 12 months:

Year	Number of Expiring Leases	Annualized Base Rent[1]	% of Total Annualized Base Rent Expiring	Square Feet	% of Total Square Feet Expiring

(1) Annualized base rent is determined from the annualized base rent per leased square foot as of December 31, 2025 and excludes tenant recoveries, straight-line rent, and above-market and below-market lease amortization.

Investments in Real Estate Debt

The following charts further describe the diversification of our investments in real estate debt by credit rating and collateral type, and includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage loans, and other debt secured by real estate assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated GAAP Balance Sheets, based on fair value as of December 31, 2025:

(1) BBB represents credit ratings of BBB+, BBB, and BBB-, BB represents credit ratings of BB+, BB, and BB-, B represents credit ratings of B+, B, and B-, and CCC and below represents credit ratings of CCC+ and below.
(2) Not rated positions have a weighted-average LTV at origination of 58% and are primarily composed of rental housing (42)% and industrial (56)% assets.

The following table details our investments in real estate debt as of December 31, 2025 ($ in thousands):

	December 31, 2025
Type of Security/Loan[1]	Weighted Average Coupon[2]	Weighted Average Maturity Date[3]	Face Amount	Cost Basis	Fair Value
CMBS[4]	+4.4%	10/26/2033	$ 4,008,480	$ 3,994,929	$ 3,804,583

Total real estate securities	7.8 %	3/26/2034	4,157,953	4,141,415	3,934,352
Commercial real estate loans	+4.6 %	12/18/2027	795,157	782,348	794,147
Other investments[5]	N/A	N/A	88,847	88,847	96,619
Total investments in real estate debt	7.9 %	7/7/2030	$ 5,041,957	$ 5,012,610	$ 4,825,118

(1) Includes our investments in CMBS, RMBS, mortgage loans, and other debt secured by real estate assets, and excludes the impact of consolidating the loans that serve as collateral for certain of our debt securities on our Consolidated GAAP Balance Sheets.
(2) The symbol "+" means that the figure represents a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates, which include Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Sterling Overnight Index Average ("SONIA"), and Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("EURIBOR"), as applicable to each security and loan. Fixed rate CMBS and commercial real estate loans are reflected as a spread over the relevant floating benchmark rates as of December 31, 2025 for purposes of the weighted-averages. Weighted average coupon for CMBS does not include zero-coupon securities. As of December 31, 2025, we have interest rate swaps outstanding with a notional value of $0.3 billion that effectively convert a portion of our fixed rate investments in real estate debt to floating rates. Total weighted average coupon does not include the impact of such interest rate swaps or other derivatives.
(3) Weighted average maturity date is based on the fully extended maturity date of the instrument.
(4) Face amount excludes interest-only securities with a notional amount of $0.2 billion as of December 31, 2025. In addition, CMBS includes zero-coupon securities of $0.1 billion as of December 31, 2025.
(5) Represents an investment in an unconsolidated joint venture with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation that holds investments in real estate debt. Weighted average coupon and weighted average maturity date excludes this joint venture.

MANAGEMENT

Board of Directors

We operate under the direction of our board of directors, the members of which are accountable to us and our stockholders as fiduciaries. Our board of directors has retained the Adviser to manage the acquisition and dispositions of our investments, subject to the board of directors' supervision.

We have a nine-member board. Our board of directors may change the number of directors, but not to fewer than three directors nor, unless we amend our bylaws, more than 15. Our charter provides that a majority of our directors must be independent directors, except for a period of up to 60 days after the death, removal or resignation of an independent director pending the election of a successor independent director. Our charter defines an independent director as a director who is not and has not for the last two years been associated, directly or indirectly, with Blackstone Real Estate or the Adviser. Pursuant to our charter and the policy adopted by our board of directors with respect to certain charter provisions, a director is deemed to be associated with Blackstone Real Estate or the Adviser if he or she owns, or has owned in the last two years, any interest (other than ownership of an interest that was (a) divested before the appointment to our board of directors and (b) de minimis relative to its owner's net worth) in, is employed by, is an officer or director of, or has any material business or professional relationship with Blackstone Real Estate, the Adviser or any of their affiliates, performs services (other than as a director) for us, or serves as a director or trustee for more than three REITs sponsored by Blackstone Real Estate or advised by the Adviser. A business or professional relationship will be deemed material per se if the aggregate gross income derived by the director from Blackstone Real Estate, the Adviser or any of their affiliates exceeds 5% of (1) the director's annual gross income derived from all sources during either of the last two years or (2) the director's net worth on a fair market value basis. An indirect association is defined to include circumstances in which the director's spouse, parents, children, siblings, mothers- or fathers-in-law, sons- or daughters-in-law or brothers- or sisters-in-law is or has been associated with us, Blackstone Real Estate, the Adviser or any of their affiliates. Our charter requires that a director have at least three years of relevant experience demonstrating the knowledge required to successfully acquire and manage the type of assets that we intend to acquire. Our charter also requires that at all times at least one of our independent directors must have at least three years of relevant real estate experience. Our charter and bylaws have been ratified by our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors.

Each director will serve until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until his or her successor is duly elected and qualifies. Although the number of directors may be increased or decreased, a decrease may not shorten the term of any incumbent director. Any director may resign at any time or may be removed with or without cause by the stockholders upon the affirmative vote of stockholders entitled to cast at least a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast generally in the election of directors. The notice of a special meeting called to remove a director must indicate that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to determine if the director shall be removed. A vacancy on our board of directors may be filled only by a vote of a majority of the remaining directors, or in the case of election of an independent director, after nomination by a majority of the remaining independent directors (if any remaining directors are independent directors). Any director elected to fill a vacancy will serve for the remainder of the full term of the directorship in which the vacancy occurred.

Our board of directors generally meets quarterly or more frequently if necessary, in addition to meetings of any committees of the board of directors described below. Our directors are not required to devote all of their time to our business and are only required to devote the time to our business as their duties may require. Consequently, in the exercise of their fiduciary responsibilities, our directors will rely heavily on the Adviser and on information provided by the Adviser. Our directors have a fiduciary duty to our stockholders to supervise the relationship between us and the Adviser. Our board of directors is empowered to fix the compensation of all officers and approve the payment of compensation to directors for services rendered to us.

Our board of directors has adopted written policies on investments and borrowings, the general terms of which are set forth in this prospectus. The board of directors may revise these policies or establish further written policies on investments and borrowings and will monitor our administrative procedures, investment operations and performance to ensure that the policies are fulfilled and are in the best interests of our stockholders. Our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, will review our investment policies with sufficient frequency, and at least annually, to determine that they are in the best interest of our stockholders.

Frank Cohen has been the Chairman of our board of directors since July 2016 and previously served as Chief Executive Officer of the Company from July 2016 to December 2024. He was previously a Senior Managing Director in Blackstone Real Estate, the Global Chairman of Blackstone's Global Core+ real estate business and a member of Blackstone Real Estate's Investment Committee. Mr. Cohen joined Blackstone in 1996 and played an integral role in the growth of the real estate business. He previously held multiple leadership positions, overseeing Blackstone Real Estate's Americas Acquisitions and later the Core+ real estate business from its early days. Mr. Cohen was involved in over $100 billion of real estate transactions, including many of Blackstone's notable investments, including Equity Office, CarrAmerica Realty, Trizec and IndCor Properties. Mr. Cohen received a BA from Northwestern University, where he graduated from the Honors Program in Mathematical Methods in the Social Sciences, with a double major in political science. Mr. Cohen served as a director for Tricon Residential Inc. (TSX: TCN) from September 2020 until its privatization in May 2024 and for Hudson Pacific Properties (NYSE: HPP) from 2015 until 2017. He also previously served on the boards of multiple Blackstone portfolio companies. He currently serves on the board of trustees for Northwestern University and as a Trustee of the Urban Land Institute. Mr. Cohen is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive real estate experience and his history with Blackstone.

Raymond J. Beier has been a director and Audit Committee Chairperson of the Company since July 2016. Mr. Beier also serves as a director and audit committee chairperson of Blackstone Private Equity Strategies Fund. Before then, he was a partner in the financial services practice at PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, having been with the firm from 1993 to 2016. Mr. Beier has extensive experience in financial reporting matters relating to mergers, acquisitions and corporate finance transactions. Mr. Beier served in a variety of roles at PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, including as a member of the National Office leadership team responsible for its strategic policy and analysis group and as a senior partner in the transaction services group. Mr. Beier also served on various PricewaterhouseCoopers committees, including the Global Private Equity Committee and the Extended Leadership Committee. Mr. Beier also currently serves on the board of trustees of the Student Partner Alliance. Mr. Beier received a BS in Accounting, summa cum laude, from the University of Minnesota—Duluth and an MBA from the University of Minnesota—Carlson School of Management. Mr. Beier is a valuable member of our Board of Directors because of his extensive experience with accounting and financial reporting matters, especially relating to mergers, acquisitions and corporate finance transactions.

Susan Carras has been a director of the Company since January 2021. She is a Senior Managing Director in the Washington, DC office of JLL Capital Markets, America. Ms. Carras served as Co-Head of HFF's Washington, DC office from 2011 to 2019 and she joined JLL as part of JLL's 2019 acquisition of HFF. Prior to HFF, she was a Principal and Managing Director at Sonnenblick Goldman where she served on the operating committee and headed offices in Washington, DC and Tampa, FL. Earlier in her career, she was with the Real Estate Finance Division of Chase Manhattan Bank. Ms. Carras received a BA, magna cum laude with departmental honors, from Lafayette College and a Diploma in Real Estate Analysis and Appraisal from New York University. She is a trustee emerita of Lafayette College and previously chaired the Development and Alumni Relations Committee, served on the Executive Committee and was a member of the search committee for Lafayette's 16th president. Together with a fellow trustee, Ms. Carras started the First Women of Lafayette Scholarship Fund. Ms. Carras is a past chair of the board of trustees of the McLean School of Maryland. In September 2023, Ms. Carras was appointed as an independent director to the board of trustees of Elme Communities (NYSE: ELME). She is a past recipient of the Greater Washington Commercial Association of Realtors Top Financing Award and Top Sales Award for the Washington, DC Metro and has been recognized by Real Estate Forum's Women of Influence, by Bisnow's Women of Influence in Commercial Real Estate and by Connect Media's Women in Real Estate. Ms. Carras is a valuable member of our board of directors because of her significant experience in the real estate industry.

Richard I. Gilchrist has been a director of the Company since July 2016. He served as Senior Advisor for acquisitions and investments at The Irvine Company, a privately-held real estate investment company, a position he held from July 2011 until July 2018, after having served as President of its Investment Properties Group from 2006 to 2011. He served as President and Co-Chief Executive Officer and on the board of directors of Maguire Properties, Inc., a publicly-held REIT, from 2002 to 2006. From 1997 to 2001, Mr. Gilchrist served as Chief Executive Officer, President and member of the board of directors of Commonwealth Atlantic Properties, a privately-held REIT. From 1995 to 1997, he served as the Co-Chairman and Managing Partner of CommonWealth Partners, a private real estate company he co-founded. He served as chairman of the board and on the compensation committee of Spirit Realty Capital, Inc. (NYSE: SRC) from 2012 to January 2024, when Spirit was acquired by Realty Income (NYSE: O). He has previously served as a director of Ventas (NYSE: VTR) from 2011 to August 2021 and was a chairman of both its compensation and investment committees. He has also previously served as a director of BioMed Realty Trust, Inc. (NYSE: BMR) from 2007 to 2014, Nationwide Health Properties, Inc. from 2008 to 2011, and TIER REIT, Inc. (NYSE: TIER) from 2013 to August 2019, and as chairman from 2016 to August 2019 until TIER REIT, Inc. was acquired by Cousins Properties Inc. (NYSE: CUZ). Mr. Gilchrist is a member of the Whittier College board of trustees, where he earned his BA in 1968. He rejoined the board in May 2023 and previously served as chairman from 2003 to 2011. He is also a member of the advisory board of the University of California, Los Angeles Law School, where he earned a JD in 1971. Mr. Gilchrist is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive experience in the real estate industry, including having served as an executive officer of several REITs, his knowledge and experience in internal and external risk oversight, and his experience as a member of the board of directors of five public REITs, including as chairman of two.

Field Griffith has been a director of the Company since July 2016. He also currently serves as a non-executive director for the Prime Property Fund LLC, a position he has held since February 2018. Mr. Griffith was most recently employed full time as the Director of Real Assets Investments for the Virginia Retirement System from 2004 to 2016 where he was responsible for managing all aspects of the System's global real estate, infrastructure and natural resource portfolios. The global real estate portfolio consisted of publicly- and privately-traded equity and debt investments in the form of separate accounts, joint ventures, closed-end funds and open-end funds. Mr. Griffith was also a member of the management committee of the Virginia Retirement System. From 1999 to 2004, he was a senior executive at Gemini Rosemont Commercial Real Estate where he was engaged in real estate portfolio management activities. From 1985 to 1999, Mr. Griffith was employed in the real estate investment group for UNUM Life Insurance Company engaged in mortgage and equity underwriting, structuring, property acquisitions/ dispositions and portfolio management of the commercial real estate equity group. From 1983 to 1985, he worked in the real estate investment group at Phoenix Home Life Insurance Company. Mr. Griffith is a Chartered Financial Analyst and received a BA from Beloit College and an MBA from the University of Washington. From 2007 to 2013, he served as a board member of the Pension Real Estate Association. From August 2017 to March 2021, he served on the board of directors of Tedford Housing, Inc., a non-profit organization focused on serving the regional homeless population. From March 2017 through December 2025, he served as a non-executive director for The Forest Company (registered in Guernsey, UK). Mr. Griffith is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive experience with real estate investments.

Edward Lewis has been a director of the Company since July 2016. From 2000 until February 2017, he was Senior Advisor to Solera Capital, a private equity firm. In 1969, he co-founded Essence Communications Partners, a multimedia company targeting African American women, serving as Chief Executive Officer, publisher and chairman for 35 years. Previously, he served on the boards of Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. (NYSE: GAP), the Apollo Theater Foundation, the Boys and Girls Clubs of America and the Economic Club of New York. He also served as chairman of the Magazine Publishers of America from 1997 to 1999, becoming the first African American to hold this position in the 75-year history of the organization. Mr. Lewis received a BA and MA in Political Science and International Affairs from the University of New Mexico. Mr. Lewis is a valuable member of our board of directors because of his extensive business experience as founder and chairman of Essence Communications, as well as the skills he gained during his active board service to a number of diverse organizations.

Although most of the services provided to us by the individuals who are executive officers are in their respective roles as executive officers of the Adviser, they have certain duties as executive officers of our company arising from Maryland law, our charter and our bylaws. These duties include executing contracts and other instruments in our name and on our behalf and such other duties as may be prescribed by our board of directors from time to time.

Our executive officers will act as our agents, execute contracts and other instruments in our name and on our behalf, and in general perform all duties incident to their offices and such other duties as may be prescribed by our board of directors from time to time. Our officers will devote such portion of their time to our affairs as is required for the performance of their duties, but they are not required to devote all of their time to us.

Committees of the Board of Directors

Our entire board of directors is responsible for supervising our business. However, pursuant to our charter, our board of directors may delegate some of its powers to one or more committees as deemed appropriate by the board of directors, provided that each committee consists of at least a majority of independent directors. Members of each of the committees discussed below are appointed by our board of directors.

Audit Committee. Our board of directors has established an audit committee, which is currently comprised of Messrs. Beier, Gilchrist and Lewis and Ms. Carras. All audit committee members are "independent," consistent with the qualifications set forth in the listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"), our charter and Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act, applicable to boards of directors in general and audit committees in particular. Mr. Beier serves as the chairperson of the audit committee and qualifies as an "audit committee financial expert" within the meaning of Item 407(d)(5) of Regulation S-K under the Exchange Act. The SEC has determined that the audit committee financial expert designation does not impose on a person with that designation any duties, obligations or liability that are greater than the duties, obligations or liability imposed on such person as a member of the audit committee of the board of directors in the absence of such designation. The audit committee's primary duties include:

- appointing, retaining, determining the compensation of, overseeing, evaluating and, where appropriate, replacing our independent registered public accounting firm, including overseeing the qualifications and independence of our independent registered public accounting firm;
- assisting the board of directors in overseeing our accounting and financial reporting processes;
- overseeing the quality and integrity of our financial statements and internal controls, including audits of our financial statements;
- assisting the board of directors in overseeing the performance of our internal and independent auditors;
- assisting with our compliance with legal and regulatory requirements applicable to financial statements and accounting and financial reporting and overall risk management profile, including with respect to sustainability and climate change risks as they relate to financial risk exposures;
- overseeing our information technology security program;
- administering our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics; and
- preparing the report of the audit committee required by the rules of the SEC to be included in our annual stockholders' meeting proxy statement.

In addition, the audit committee selects the independent registered public accounting firm to audit our annual financial statements and reviews with the independent registered public accounting firm the plans and results of the audit engagement. The audit committee also approves the audit and non-audit services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm and the fees we pay for these services.

The audit committee has adopted procedures for the processing of complaints relating to accounting, internal control and auditing matters. The audit committee oversees the review and handling of any complaints submitted pursuant to the forgoing procedures and of any whistleblower complaints subject to Section 21F of the Exchange Act.

Affiliate Transaction Committee. The affiliate transaction committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Beier, Gilchrist, Griffith and Lewis and Ms. Carras. Mr. Gilchrist serves as the chairperson of the affiliate transaction committee. All affiliate transaction committee members are "independent," consistent with the qualifications set forth in our charter and the listing standards of the NYSE applicable to boards of directors. The primary purpose of the affiliate transaction committee is to review transactions between us and Blackstone or its affiliates (including the Adviser) or with related persons and to determine if the resolution of the conflict of interest is fair and reasonable to us and our stockholders. However, we cannot assure you that this committee will successfully eliminate the conflicts of interest that will exist between us and Blackstone, or reduce the risks related thereto.

The affiliate transaction committee is responsible for reviewing and approving the terms of all transactions between us and Blackstone or its affiliates (including the Adviser) or any member of our board of directors, including (when applicable) the economic, structural and other terms of all acquisitions and dispositions. Generally, we may enter into a transaction with Blackstone, the Adviser, our directors, and their respective affiliates only if a majority of our board of directors, and a majority of the affiliate transaction committee (which is comprised of each of our independent directors), not otherwise interested in the transaction approve the transaction as being fair and reasonable to us and on terms and conditions no less favorable to us than those available from unaffiliated third parties. The affiliate transaction committee is also responsible for reviewing the Adviser's performance and the fees and expenses paid by us to the Adviser and any of its affiliates. See "—The Advisory Agreement—Management Fee, Performance Participation and Expense Reimbursement."

Compensation Committee. The compensation committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Beier, Griffith and Lewis. Mr. Griffith serves as the committee's chairperson. All compensation committee members are "independent," consistent with the qualifications set forth in our charter and the listing standards of the NYSE applicable to boards of directors in general and compensation committees in particular. The primary purpose of the compensation committee is to oversee our compensation programs. The committee reviews the compensation and benefits paid by us to our directors and, in the event we hire employees, the compensation paid to our executive officers as well as any employment, severance and termination agreements or arrangements made with any executive officer and, if required, produces the report to be included in our annual proxy statement. We are externally managed by the Adviser pursuant to the Advisory Agreement.

The compensation committee may, in its discretion, delegate all or a portion of its duties and responsibilities to a subcommittee of the committee. In particular, the committee may delegate the approval of certain transactions to a subcommittee consisting solely of members of the compensation committee who are (i) "Non-Employee Directors" for the purposes of Rule 16b-3 under the Exchange Act, and (ii) "outside directors" for the purposes of Section 162(m) of the Code.

Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. The nominating and corporate governance committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Gilchrist, Griffith and Lewis and Ms. Carras. Mr. Lewis serves as the chairperson of the nominating and corporate governance committee. All nominating and corporate governance committee members are "independent," consistent with the qualifications set forth in our charter and the listing standards of the NYSE. The nominating and corporate governance committee's primary duties are described in its charter and include:

- assisting our board of directors in identifying individuals qualified to become members of our board of directors;
- recommending candidates to our board of directors to fill vacancies on the board;
- recommending committee assignments for directors to the full board;
- periodically assessesing the performance of our board of directors;
- overseeing and approving the management continuity planning process;

- reviewing and monitoring the board of directors' oversight of our sustainability-related reporting and disclosures and related processes and controls;
- monitoring and overseeing the board of directors' oversight of the internal and external communications regarding our position or approach to sustainability matters;
- reviewing and recommending appropriate corporate governance policies and procedures to our board of directors;
- overseeing the orientation of newly elected members of our board of directors and any continuing education requirements set forth in our corporate governance guidelines (the "Corporate Governance Guidelines"); and
- reviewing and assessing our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, and any other corporate governance policies and procedures we may have from time to time.

Corporate Governance

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics. We have adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics that applies to all of our directors, officers and employees (if any), and to all of the officers and employees of the Adviser, including our principal executive officer, principal financial officer, principal accounting officer or controller, or persons performing similar functions. Our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, as it relates to those also covered by Blackstone's code of conduct, operates in conjunction with, and in addition to, Blackstone's code of conduct. Our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics is designed to comply with SEC regulations relating to codes of conduct and ethics.

Corporate Governance Guidelines. We have also adopted corporate governance guidelines to advance the functioning of our board of directors and its committees and to set forth our board of directors' expectations as to how it and they should perform its and their respective functions. Our Corporate Governance Guidelines are available on our website, www.breit.com.

Compensation of Directors

We compensate each of our non-employee directors who are not affiliated with the Adviser or Blackstone with an annual retainer of $290,000, consisting of $90,000 cash and a $200,000 grant of restricted stock. Additionally, the audit committee chairperson will receive an additional retainer of $25,000 and each chairperson of our other committees will receive an additional retainer of $15,000. The chairman of the board will receive an additional cash retainer of $100,000. The annual grant of restricted stock will be based on the then-current per share transaction price of our Class I shares at the time of grant and generally vest one year from the date of grant. We do not intend to pay our directors additional fees for attending board meetings, but we intend to reimburse each of our directors for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending board and committee meetings (including, but not limited to, airfare, hotel and food). Our directors who are affiliated with the Adviser or Blackstone will not receive additional compensation for serving on the board of directors or committees thereof.

Non-Employee Director Stock Ownership Policy

The board of directors adopted has a stock ownership policy for our non-employee directors in order to better align our non-employee directors' financial interests with those of our stockholders by requiring such directors to own a minimum level of our stock. Each of our non-employee directors (other than a non-employee director who is employed by one of our stockholders (or any affiliate thereof) that meets the ownership requirements for a non-employee director) is required to own shares in an amount equal to five times his or her annual cash retainer within five years of becoming subject to the policy.

Executive Compensation

We are externally managed and, as of December 31, 2025, have no employees other than the employees that are employed by certain of our portfolio entities, and none of whom are executive officers of the Company. We have and may in the future compensate employees of certain of our portfolio entities, including by means of grant of stock options, restricted stock, performance bonuses, dividend equivalents, stock payments, restricted stock units, performance shares and other incentive awards. Our executive officers serve as officers of the Adviser and are employees of the Adviser or one or more of its affiliates. Our Advisory Agreement provides that the Adviser is responsible for managing our investment activities, as such our executive officers do not receive any cash compensation from us or any of our subsidiaries for serving as our executive officers but, instead, receive compensation from the Adviser. In addition, we do not reimburse the Adviser for compensation it pays to our executive officers. The Advisory Agreement does not require our executive officers to dedicate a specific amount of time to fulfilling the Adviser's obligations to us under the Advisory Agreement. Accordingly, the Adviser has informed us that it cannot identify the portion of the compensation it awards to our executive officers that relates solely to such executives' services to us, as the Adviser does not compensate its employees specifically for such services. Furthermore, we do not have employment agreements with our executive officers, we do not provide pension or retirement benefits, perquisites or other personal benefits to our executive officers, our executive officers have not received any nonqualified deferred compensation and we do not have arrangements to make payments to our executive officers upon their termination or in the event of a change in control of us.

Although we do not pay our executive officers any cash compensation, we pay the Adviser the fees described under the heading "—The Advisory Agreement."

The Adviser and Blackstone

We are externally managed by our adviser, BX REIT Advisors L.L.C., a Delaware limited liability company. The Adviser is an affiliate of Blackstone Real Estate, our sponsor.

Blackstone is a leading global investment manager with total assets under management of nearly $1.3 trillion. Blackstone's alternative asset management businesses include investment vehicles focused on real estate, private equity, hedge fund solutions, credit, secondary funds, opportunistic growth, infrastructure, insurance solutions and life sciences. Blackstone also provides capital markets services.

Blackstone Real Estate was founded in 1991 and is the world's largest owner of commercial real estate[5], with $319 billion of investor capital under management as of December 31, 2025, representing approximately $618 billion of debt and equity as of December 31, 2025. Blackstone Real Estate operates as one globally integrated business with 787 real estate professionals globally as of December 31, 2025 and investments in North America, Europe, Asia and Latin America. In the United States, Blackstone Real Estate is one of the largest owners of rental housing, industrial, office, hospitality and retail assets. Our objective is to bring Blackstone's leading institutional-quality real estate investment platform to income-focused investors. During the ten year period ended December 31, 2025, the sponsor sponsored two public real estate programs other than us, consisting of one NYSE listed public REIT and one registered investment company master-feeder complex. Neither of these two prior public programs sponsored by the sponsor included a date or time period in its offering materials at which the program might be liquidated. The registered investment company master-feeder complex was liquidated in December 2021. See "Investment Objectives and Strategies—Potential Competitive Strengths."

Pursuant to the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser has contractual and fiduciary responsibilities to us and our stockholders and is responsible for sourcing, evaluating and monitoring our investment opportunities and making decisions related to the acquisition, management, financing and disposition of our assets, in accordance with our investment objectives, guidelines, policies and limitations, subject to oversight by our board of directors. We or the Adviser may retain other service providers in connection with our operations, including, without limitation, administration, legal and accounting support. The Adviser will leverage the global resources of Blackstone Real Estate to achieve our investment goals and objectives.

Significant investment opportunities are generally approved by the Investment Committee. Smaller property acquisitions are reviewed by a subset of the Investment Committee. The Advisory Agreement

Our board of directors at all times has oversight and policy-making authority, including responsibility for governance, financial controls, compliance and disclosure with respect to our company and our Operating Partnership. Pursuant to the Advisory Agreement, our board of directors has delegated to the Adviser the authority to source, evaluate and monitor our investment opportunities and make decisions related to the acquisition, management, financing and disposition of our assets, in accordance with our investment objectives, guidelines, policies and limitations, subject to oversight by our board of directors. We believe that the Adviser currently has sufficient staff and resources so as to be capable of fulfilling the duties set forth in the Advisory Agreement.

Services

Pursuant to the terms of the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser is responsible for, among other things:

- serving as an advisor to us and the Operating Partnership with respect to the establishment and periodic review of our investment guidelines and our and the Operating Partnership's investments, financing activities and operations;
- sourcing, evaluating and monitoring our and Operating Partnership's investment opportunities and executing the acquisition, management, financing and disposition of our and Operating Partnership's assets, in accordance with our investment guidelines, policies and objectives and limitations, subject to oversight by our board of directors;
- with respect to prospective acquisitions, purchases, sales, exchanges or other dispositions of investments, conducting negotiations on our and Operating Partnership's behalf with sellers, purchasers, and other counterparties and, if applicable, their respective agents, advisors and representatives, and determining the structure and terms of such transactions;
- providing us with portfolio management and other related services;
- serving as our advisor with respect to decisions regarding any of our financings, hedging activities or borrowings;
- engaging and supervising, on our and Operating Partnership's behalf and at our and the Operating Partnership's expense, various service providers;
- managing the DST Program.

The above summary is provided to illustrate the material functions which the Adviser will perform for us and it is not intended to include all of the services which may be provided to us by the Adviser or third parties.

Term and Termination Rights

Our Advisory Agreement was most recently renewed on February 26, 2026, and has a one-year term expiring March 31, 2027, subject to renewals by our board of directors for an unlimited number of successive one-year periods. Our independent directors will evaluate the performance of the Adviser before renewing the Advisory Agreement. The Advisory Agreement may be terminated:

- immediately by us (1) for "cause," (2) upon the bankruptcy of the Adviser or (3) upon a material breach of the Advisory Agreement by the Adviser;

- upon 60 days' written notice by us without cause or penalty upon the vote of a majority of our independent directors; or
- upon 60 days' written notice by the Adviser.

"Cause" is defined in the Advisory Agreement to mean fraud, criminal conduct, willful misconduct or willful or negligent breach of fiduciary duty by the Adviser under the Advisory Agreement.

Although the Advisory Agreement may be terminated upon 60 days' written notice by us without cause or penalty upon the vote of a majority of our independent directors, third parties with whom we may contract, such as lenders, may impose restrictions on our ability to terminate the Adviser which would require us to obtain their consent in order to replace the Adviser or otherwise default on our loan.

In the event the Advisory Agreement is terminated, the Adviser will be entitled to receive its prorated management fee through the date of termination. In addition, upon the termination or expiration of the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser will cooperate with us and take all reasonable steps requested to assist our board of directors in making an orderly transition of the advisory function.

Management Fee, Performance Participation and Expense Reimbursements

Management Fee. As compensation for its services provided pursuant to the Advisory Agreement, we pay the Adviser a management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D and Class C shares, (ii) 1.00% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L shares and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L-2 shares, in each case, per annum payable monthly. Additionally, to the extent that our Operating Partnership issues Operating Partnership units to parties other than us, our Operating Partnership will pay the Adviser a management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B Operating Partnership units, (ii) 1.00% of the NAV of the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class L Operating Partnership units and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class L-2 Operating Partnership units, in each case, per annum payable monthly. We do not pay the Adviser a management fee with respect to Class F shares or Class F units. We pay different management fees on certain classes of our common stock, and as a result, it is a class-specific expense. In calculating our management fee, we will use our NAV before giving effect to accruals for the management fee, performance participation allocation, stockholder servicing fees or distributions payable on our shares.

The management fee may be paid, at the Adviser's election, in cash, certain classes of shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units, or any combination thereof. The Adviser generally elects to receive shares or Operating Partnership units for, among other reasons, alignment of interest. Any repurchase requests by the Adviser will be consistent with the Adviser's fiduciary duties to us and our stockholders.

Performance Participation. So long as the Advisory Agreement has not been terminated, the Special Limited Partner will hold a performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership that entitles it to receive an allocation from our Operating Partnership equal to (i) 12.5% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B units and (ii) 10% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class L and Class L-2 units (each term as defined under "Summary of our Operating Partnership Agreement—Special Limited Partner Interest").

Expense Reimbursement. Under the Advisory Agreement, and subject to the limitations described below under "—Reimbursement by the Adviser," our Adviser is entitled to reimbursement of all costs and expenses incurred by it or its affiliates on our behalf, provided that the Adviser is responsible for the expenses related to any and all personnel of the Adviser who provide investment advisory services to us pursuant to the Advisory Agreement (including, without limitation, each of our executive officers and any directors who are also directors, officers or employees of the Adviser or any of its affiliates), including, without limitation, salaries, bonus and other wages, payroll taxes and the cost of employee benefit plans of such personnel, and costs of insurance with respect to such personnel. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, costs eligible for reimbursement include out-of-pocket costs and expenses the Adviser incurs in connection with the services it provides to us related to (1) the actual amount paid to third parties for goods and services, including fees paid to administrators, consultants, attorneys, technology providers and other service providers, and brokerage fees paid in connection with the purchase and sale of investments and securities or charitable donations, such as in connection with our annual stockholder meetings, (2) expenses of managing and operating our properties, whether payable to an affiliate or a non-affiliated person, (3) out-of-pocket expenses in connection with the selection and acquisition of properties and real estate debt, whether or not such investments are acquired and (4) any organization and offering expenses related to the DST Program. Such out-of-pocket costs and expenses also will include expenses relating to compliance-related matters and regulatory filings, in each case, relating to our activities (including, without limitation, expenses relating to requests for information, examinations and inquiries or any regulatory proceedings against us, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager and any of their respective affiliates, expenses relating to requests for information and inquiries from press or other news sources, and expenses relating to the preparation and filing of Form PF, Form ADV, reports to be filed with the CFTC, reports, disclosures, and/or other regulatory filings of the Adviser and its affiliates relating to our activities (including our pro rata share of the costs of the Adviser and its affiliates of regulatory expenses that relate to us and Other Blackstone Accounts)).

We reimburse the Adviser for any organization and offering expenses associated with our public and private offerings, including this offering and offerings by feeder vehicles (which are primarily created to hold our shares and in turn offer interests in such feeder vehicles to other investors), that the Adviser incurs on our behalf (including organizational, legal, accounting, printing, mailing, subscription processing and filing fees and expenses, expenses incurred in connection with the provision of administrative or similar services by intermediary platforms or participating broker-dealers for their clients and reasonable bona fide due diligence expenses of participating broker-dealers supported by detailed and itemized invoices, costs in connection with preparing sales materials, design and website expenses, fees and expenses of our transfer agent, formation, distribution, administrative, regulatory or similar expenses related to the management and operation of feeder vehicles or related entities and expense reimbursements for actual costs incurred by employees of the Dealer Manager in the performance of wholesaling activities, but excluding upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and the stockholder servicing fee) as and when incurred. The Adviser currently pays wholesaling compensation expenses and certain related expenses of persons associated with the Dealer Manager without reimbursement from us. After the termination of the primary offering and again after termination of the offering under our distribution reinvestment plan, the Adviser has agreed to reimburse us to the extent that the organization and offering expenses that we incur exceed 15% of our gross proceeds from the applicable offering.

Reimbursement by the Adviser. The Adviser will reimburse us for any expenses that cause our Total Operating Expenses in any four consecutive fiscal quarters to exceed the greater of: (1) 2% of our Average Invested Assets or (2) 25% of our Net Income.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that our Total Operating Expenses exceed these limits and the independent directors determine that the excess expenses were justified based on unusual and nonrecurring factors that they deem sufficient, the Adviser would not be required to reimburse us. Within 60 days after the end of any fiscal quarter for which our Total Operating Expenses for the four consecutive fiscal quarters then ended exceed these limits and our independent directors approve such excess amount, we will send our stockholders a written disclosure of such fact, or will include such information in our next quarterly report on Form 10-Q or in a current report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC, together with an explanation of the factors our independent directors considered in arriving at the conclusion that such excess expenses were justified. In addition, our independent directors will review at least annually the total fees and expense reimbursements for operating expenses paid to the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner to determine if they are reasonable in light of our performance, our net assets and our net income and the fees and expenses of other comparable unaffiliated REITs. Each such determination will be recorded in the minutes of a meeting of the independent directors.

Independent Directors' Review of Compensation. Our independent directors evaluate at least annually whether the compensation that we contract to pay to the Adviser is reasonable in relation to the nature and quality of services performed and that such compensation is within the limits prescribed by our charter. Our independent directors will supervise the performance of the Adviser and the compensation we pay to it to determine that the provisions of the Advisory Agreement are being carried out. This evaluation is based on the factors set forth below, as well as any other factors deemed relevant by the independent directors:

- the amount of fees paid to the Adviser in relation to the size, composition and performance of our investments;
- the success of the Adviser in generating investments that meet our investment objectives;
- rates charged to other externally advised REITs and other similar investment entities by advisors performing similar services;
- additional revenues realized by the Adviser and its affiliates through their advisory relationship with us (including the performance participation allocation paid to the Special Limited Partner);
- the quality and extent of the services and advice furnished by the Adviser;
- the performance of our assets, including income, conservation or appreciation of capital, frequency of problem investments and competence in dealing with distress situations; and
- the quality of our portfolio in relationship to the investments generated by the Adviser for its own account.

In addition to the management fee, performance participation and expense reimbursements, we have agreed to indemnify and hold harmless the Adviser and its affiliates performing services for us from specific claims and liabilities arising out of the performance of their obligations under the Advisory Agreement, subject to certain limitations. See "—Limited Liability and Indemnification of Directors, Officers, the Adviser and Other Agents" below.

Limited Liability and Indemnification of Directors, Officers, the Adviser and Other Agents

Our organizational documents generally limit the personal liability of our stockholders, directors and officers for monetary damages and require us to indemnify and advance expenses to our directors, officers and the Adviser and any of its affiliates acting as our agents subject to the limitations of the NASAA REIT Guidelines and Maryland law. Maryland law permits a corporation to include in its charter a provision limiting the liability of directors and officers to the corporation and its stockholders for money damages, except for liability resulting from actual receipt of an improper benefit or profit in money, property or services or active and deliberate dishonesty established by a final judgment and which is material to the cause of action. The MGCL requires a corporation (unless its charter provides otherwise, which our charter does not) to indemnify a director or officer who has been successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she is made or threatened to be made a party by reason of his or her service in that capacity. The MGCL allows directors and officers to be indemnified against judgments, penalties, fines, settlements and reasonable expenses actually incurred in connection with a proceeding unless the following can be established:

- an act or omission of the director or officer was material to the cause of action adjudicated in the proceeding, and was committed in bad faith or was the result of active and deliberate dishonesty;
- the director or officer actually received an improper personal benefit in money, property or services; or
- with respect to any criminal proceeding, the director or officer had reasonable cause to believe his or her act or omission was unlawful.

A court may order indemnification if it determines that the director or officer is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnification, even though the director or officer did not meet the prescribed standard of conduct or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received. However, indemnification for an adverse judgment in a suit by the corporation or in its right, or for a judgment of liability on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received, is limited to expenses. The MGCL permits a corporation to advance reasonable expenses to a director or officer upon receipt of a written affirmation by the director or officer of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification and a written undertaking by him or her or on his or her behalf to repay the amount paid or reimbursed if it is ultimately determined that the standard of conduct was not met.

In addition to the above limitations of the MGCL, our charter provides that our directors, the Adviser and its affiliates may be indemnified for losses or liability suffered by them or held harmless for losses or liability suffered by us only if all of the following conditions are met:

- the indemnitee determined, in good faith, that the course of conduct which caused the loss or liability was in our best interest;
- the indemnitee was acting on our behalf or performing services for us;
- in the case of affiliated directors, the Adviser or its affiliates, the liability or loss was not the result of negligence or misconduct by the party seeking indemnification; and
- in the case of our independent directors, the liability or loss was not the result of gross negligence or willful misconduct by the party seeking indemnification.

In addition, any indemnification or any agreement to hold harmless is recoverable only out of our net assets and not from our stockholders.

Our charter also provides that we may not provide indemnification to a director, the Adviser or any affiliate of the Adviser for any loss, liability or expense arising from or out of an alleged violation of federal or state securities laws by such party unless one or more of the following conditions are met:

- there has been a successful adjudication on the merits of each count involving alleged securities law violations as to the party seeking indemnification;
- such claims have been dismissed with prejudice on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction as to such party; or
- a court of competent jurisdiction approves a settlement of the claims against such party and finds that indemnification of the settlement and the related costs should be made, and the court considering the request for indemnification has been advised of the position of the SEC and of the published position of any state securities regulatory authority in which our securities were offered or sold as to indemnification for violations of securities laws.

Finally, our charter provides that we may pay or reimburse reasonable legal expenses and other costs incurred by our directors, the Adviser and its affiliates in advance of final disposition of a proceeding only if all of the following are satisfied:

- the proceeding relates to acts or omissions with respect to the performance of duties or services on our behalf;
- the indemnitee provides us with written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification;
- the legal proceeding was initiated by a third party who is not a stockholder or, if by a stockholder acting in his or her capacity as such, a court of competent jurisdiction approves such advancement; and
- the indemnitee provides us with a written agreement to repay the amount paid or reimbursed, together with the applicable legal rate of interest thereon, if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not comply with the requisite standard of conduct and is not entitled to indemnification.

We have entered into indemnification agreements with each of our directors and executive officers. Pursuant to the terms of these indemnification agreements, we would indemnify and advance expenses and costs incurred by our directors and executive officers in connection with any claims, suits or proceedings brought against such directors and executive officers as a result of his or her service. However, our indemnification obligation is subject to the limitations set forth in the indemnification agreements and in our charter. We also maintain a directors and officers insurance policy.

The general effect to investors of any arrangement under which any of our controlling persons, directors or officers are insured or indemnified against liability is a potential reduction in distributions resulting from our payment of premiums, deductibles and other costs associated with such insurance or, to the extent any such loss is not covered by insurance, our payment of indemnified losses. In addition, indemnification could reduce the legal remedies available to us and our stockholders against the indemnified individuals; however, this provision does not reduce the exposure of our directors and officers to liability under federal or state securities laws, nor does it limit our stockholder's ability to obtain injunctive relief or other equitable remedies for a violation of a director's or an officer's duties to us or our stockholders, although the equitable remedies may not be an effective remedy in some circumstances.

The SEC and certain state securities regulators take the position that indemnification against liabilities arising under the Securities Act and state securities laws is against public policy and unenforceable.

Our Operating Partnership must also indemnify us and our directors and officers and other persons we may designate against damages and other liabilities in our capacity as general partner.

Legal Proceedings

Neither we nor the Adviser is currently involved in any material litigation. As a registered investment advisor, the Adviser may be examined periodically by the SEC.

COMPENSATION

We pay the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner, the Dealer Manager and their affiliates the fees and expense reimbursements described below in connection with performing services for us.

We do not intend to pay the Adviser or its affiliates any separate fees for property acquisitions, dispositions, financings (except interest and other payments to the lender in cases where the lender is an affiliate of the Adviser) or development, or adopt a long-term incentive plan for the Adviser or its employees, although our charter permits us to do so, subject to certain limitations. We do, however, reimburse the Adviser and its affiliates for out-of-pocket and other expenses related to the foregoing activities to the extent such expenses are paid by the Adviser.

	Organization and Offering Activities
Upfront Selling Commissions and Dealer Manager Fees[1][2] —The Dealer Manager	The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 3.0%, and upfront dealer manager fees of 0.5%, of the transaction price of each Class T-2 share sold in the primary offering, however such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price. The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 3.5% of the transaction price of each Class S-2 share sold in the primary offering. The Dealer Manager may be entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 1.5% of the transaction price of each Class D-2 share sold in the primary offering. The Dealer Manager anticipates that all or a portion of the upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers. No upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees are paid with respect to purchases of Class I shares or shares of any class sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan.	The actual amount will depend on the number of Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares sold and the transaction price of each Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 share. Aggregate upfront selling commissions will equal approximately $708.6 million if we sell the maximum amount in our primary offering, and aggregate dealer manager fees will equal approximately $11.6 million if we sell the maximum amount in our primary offering, assuming payment of the full upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees (with a split for Class T-2 shares of 3.0% and 0.5%, respectively), that 5%, 35% and 10% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of each of Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares, respectively, and that the transaction prices of our Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares remain constant from when this offering commenced.

Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
Stockholder Servicing Fees[2][3]—The Dealer Manager	Subject to FINRA limitations on underwriting compensation, we pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as stockholder servicing fees for ongoing services rendered to stockholders by participating broker-dealers or broker-dealers servicing investors' accounts, referred to as servicing broker-dealers: • with respect to our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares, consisting of a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum, and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares, however, with respect to Class T-2 and Class T shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such shares; • with respect to our outstanding Class S-2 and Class S shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class S-2 and Class S shares; and • with respect to our outstanding Class D-2 and Class D shares equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class D-2 and Class D shares. We do not pay a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class I shares. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services. Because the stockholder servicing fees are calculated based on our NAV for our Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D shares, they will reduce the NAV or, alternatively, the distributions payable, with respect to the shares of each such class, including shares issued under our distribution reinvestment plan.	Actual amounts depend upon the per share NAVs of our Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares, the number of Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares purchased and when such shares are purchased. For Class T-2 shares, the stockholder servicing fees will equal approximately $19.7 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount. For Class S-2 shares, the stockholder servicing fees will equal approximately $138.0 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount. For Class D-2 shares, the stockholder servicing fees will equal approximately $11.8 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount. In each case, we are assuming that, in our primary offering, 5% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of Class T-2 shares, 35% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of Class S-2 shares and 10% of our offering proceeds are from the sale of Class D-2 shares, that the NAV per share of our Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares remains constant from when this offering commenced and none of our stockholders participate in our distribution reinvestment plan or share repurchase plan.

	We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share or Class D share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit, if any. At the end of such month, each such Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share or Class D share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share. In addition, we will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee on the Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares on the earlier to occur of the following: (i) a listing of Class I shares, (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity, or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets or (iii) the date following the completion of the primary portion of this public offering on which, in the aggregate, underwriting compensation from all sources in connection with this public offering, including upfront selling commissions, the stockholder servicing fee and other underwriting compensation, is equal to 10% of the gross proceeds from the primary portion of this public offering. For a description of the services required from the participating broker-dealer or servicing broker-dealer, see the "Plan of Distribution—Underwriting Compensation—Stockholder Servicing Fees—Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D Shares."

Organization and Offering Expense Reimbursement[2][4] —The Adviser	We reimburse the Adviser for any organization and offering expenses associated with our public and private offerings, including this offering and offerings by feeder vehicles (which are primarily created to hold our shares and in turn offer interests in such feeder vehicles to other investors), that the Adviser incurs on our behalf (including organizational, legal, accounting, printing, mailing, subscription processing and filing fees and expenses, expenses incurred in connection with the provision of administrative or similar services by intermediary platforms or participating broker-dealers for their clients and reasonable bona fide due diligence expenses of participating broker-dealers supported by detailed and itemized invoices, costs in connection with preparing sales materials, design and website expenses, fees and expenses of our transfer agent, formation, distribution, administrative, regulatory or similar expenses related to the management and operation of feeder vehicles or related entities and expense reimbursements for actual costs incurred by employees of the Dealer Manager in the performance of wholesaling activities, but excluding upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and the stockholder servicing fee) as and when incurred. The Adviser currently pays wholesaling compensation expenses and certain related expenses of persons associated with the Dealer Manager without reimbursement from us.	We estimate our organization and offering expenses of this offering to be approximately $68.4 million if we sell the maximum offering amount.
	Investment Activities
Acquisition Expense Reimbursement[5]—The Adviser	We do not intend to pay the Adviser any acquisition, financing (except interest payments to the lender in cases where the lender is an affiliate of the Adviser) or other similar fees in connection with making investments. We will, however, reimburse the Adviser for out-of-pocket expenses in connection with the selection and acquisition of properties and real estate debt, whether or not such investments are acquired, and make payments to third parties or certain of the Adviser's affiliates in connection with making investments as described in "—Fees from Other Services" below.	Actual amounts are dependent upon actual expenses incurred and, therefore, cannot be determined at this time.

	Operational Activities
Management Fee—The Adviser[6]	We pay the Adviser a management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D and Class C shares, (ii) 1.00% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L shares and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV of the Company attributable to Class L-2 shares, in each case, per annum payable monthly. Additionally, to the extent that our Operating Partnership issues Operating Partnership units to parties other than us, our Operating Partnership will pay the Adviser a management fee equal to (i) 1.25% of the NAV of the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B Operating Partnership units, (ii) 1.00% of the NAV of the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class L Operating Partnership units and (iii) 0.85% of the NAV the Operating Partnership attributable to such Class L-2 Operating Partnership units, in each case, per annum payable monthly. We do not pay the Adviser a management fee with respect to Class F shares or Class F units. We pay different management fees on certain classes of our common stock, and as a result, it is a class-specific expense. The management fee may be paid, at the Adviser's election, in cash, certain classes of shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units, or any combination thereof. To the extent that the Adviser elects to receive any portion of its management fee in shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units, we may repurchase such shares of our common stock or Operating Partnership units from the Adviser at a later date. Such shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units will not be subject to our share repurchase plan, including with respect to any repurchase limits the Early Repurchase Deduction, or the calculation of NAV. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we have adopted a policy in which the affiliate transaction committee must approve repurchase requests submitted by the Adviser or its affiliates that when combined with any shareholder repurchase requests would cause us to exceed the 2% monthly or 5% quarterly limitations on repurchases (or any other limitations then in effect under our share repurchase plan). Such approval must find that the repurchase will not impair our capital or operations and be consistent with the fiduciary duties of our directors. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Adviser or its affiliates acquired as payment of the management fee will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended.	Actual amounts of the management fee depend upon our aggregate NAV. The management fee attributed to the shares sold in this offering will equal approximately $591.0 million per annum if we sell the maximum amount in our primary offering, assuming that the NAV per share of our Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class I shares remains constant from when this offering commenced and before giving effect to any shares issued under our distribution reinvestment plan, shares issued in our private or offshore offerings and share repurchases. Actual amounts of out-of-pocket expenses paid by the Adviser that we reimburse are dependent upon actual expenses incurred and, therefore, cannot be determined at this time.

	The Operating Partnership will repurchase any such Operating Partnership units for cash unless our board of directors determines that any such repurchase for cash would be prohibited by applicable law or the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, in which case such Operating Partnership units will be repurchased for shares of our common stock with an equivalent aggregate NAV. The Adviser and the Special Limited Partner will have the option of exchanging such shares of our common stock for an equivalent aggregate NAV amount of certain other classes of shares of our common stock and will have registration rights with respect to shares of our common stock.
	In addition to the organization and offering expense and acquisition expense reimbursements described above, we will reimburse the Adviser for out-of-pocket costs and expenses it incurs in connection with the services it provides to us, including, but not limited to, (1) the actual amount paid to third parties for goods and services, including fees paid to administrators, consultants, attorneys, technology providers and other services providers, and brokerage fees paid in connection with the purchase and sale of investments and securities or charitable donations, such as in connection with our annual stockholder meetings, (2) expenses of managing and operating our properties, whether payable to an affiliate or a non-affiliated person, (3) out-of-pocket expenses in connection with the selection and acquisition of properties and real estate debt, whether or not such investments are acquired and (4) any organization and offering expenses related to the DST Program. Such out-of-pocket costs and expenses also will include expenses relating to compliance-related matters and regulatory filings, in each case, relating to our activities (including, without limitation, expenses relating to requests for information, examinations and inquiries or any regulatory proceedings against us, the Adviser, the Dealer Manager and any of their respective affiliates, expenses relating to requests for information and inquiries from press or other news sources, and expenses relating to the preparation and filing of Form PF, Form ADV, reports to be filed with the CFTC, reports, disclosures, and/or other regulatory filings of the Adviser and its affiliates relating to our activities (including our pro rata share of the costs of the Adviser and its affiliates of regulatory expenses that relate to us and Other Blackstone Accounts)). Type of Compensation and Recipient	Determination of Amount	Estimated Amount
Performance Participation Allocation—The Special Limited Partner	So long as the Advisory Agreement has not been terminated (including by means of non-renewal), the Special Limited Partner will hold a performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership that entitles it to receive an allocation from our Operating Partnership equal to (i) 12.5% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B units and (ii) 10% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class L and Class L-2 units (each term as defined herein) (each term as defined below). Such allocation will be measured on a calendar year basis, made quarterly and accrued monthly. The performance participation allocation is not paid on the Class F units. We pay different performance participation allocation on certain classes of the Operating Partnership's units, and as a result, it is a class-specific expense. Promptly following the end of each calendar quarter that is not also the end of a calendar year, the Special Limited Partner will be entitled to a Quarterly Allocation. The performance participation allocation that the Special Limited Partner is entitled to receive at the end of each calendar year will be reduced by the cumulative amount of Quarterly Allocations that year.	Actual amounts of the performance participation depend upon the Operating Partnership's actual annual total return and, therefore, cannot be calculated at this time.

	Specifically, the Special Limited Partner will be allocated a performance participation in an amount equal to: • With respect to Class T-2 units, Class S-2 units, Class D-2 units, Class T-1 units, Class S-1 units, Class D-1 units, Class I units, Class T units, Class S units, Class D units, Class C units and Class B units: • First, if the Total Return for the applicable period exceeds the sum, with respect to such classes of Operating Partnership units, of (x) the Hurdle Amount for that period and (y) the Loss Carryforward Amount, 100% of such Excess Profits until the total amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner with respect to such classes of Operating Partnership units equals 12.5% of the sum of (A) the Hurdle Amount with respect to such classes of Operating Partnership units for that period and (B) any amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner with respect to such classes of Operating Partnership units pursuant to this clause; and • Second, to the extent there are remaining Excess Profits with respect to such classes of Operating Partnership units, 12.5% of such remaining Excess Profits. • With respect to Class L units and Class L-2 units: • First, if the Total Return for the applicable period exceeds the sum, with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units, of (x) the Hurdle Amount for that period and (y) the Loss Carryforward Amount, 100% of such Excess Profits until the total amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units

	equals 10% of the sum of (A) the Hurdle Amount with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units for that period and (B) any amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units pursuant to this clause; and • Second, to the extent there are remaining Excess Profits such relevant class of Operating Partnership units, 10% of such remaining Excess Profits. For the avoidance of doubt, the calculation of Total Return will (i) include any appreciation or depreciation in the NAV of any relevant Operating Partnership units issued during the then-current calendar year but (ii) exclude the proceeds from the initial issuance of such Operating Partnership units. To the extent a class of Operating Partnership units has a different management fee than Class I units, the corresponding Total Return will be calculated separately. Except as described in Loss Carryforward below, any amount by which Total Return falls below the Hurdle Amount will not be carried forward to subsequent periods.

	The Special Limited Partner will also be allocated a performance participation with respect to all relevant Operating Partnership units that are repurchased at the end of any month (in connection with repurchases of our shares in our share repurchase plan) in an amount calculated as described above with the relevant period being the portion of the year for which such Operating Partnership units were outstanding, and proceeds for any such Operating Partnership unit repurchase will be reduced by the amount of any such performance participation. If a Quarterly Allocation is made and at the end of a subsequent calendar quarter in the same calendar year the Special Limited Partner is entitled to less than the previously received Quarterly Allocation(s), then subsequent distributions of any Quarterly Allocations or year-end Performance Allocations in that calendar year will be reduced by an amount equal to such Quarterly Shortfall, until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall remains. If all or any portion of a Quarterly Shortfall remains at the end of a calendar year following the application described in the previous sentence, distributions of any Quarterly Allocations and year-end Performance Allocations in the subsequent four calendar years will be reduced by (i) the remaining Quarterly Shortfall plus (ii) an annual rate of 5% on the remaining Quarterly Shortfall measured from the first day of the calendar year following the year in which the Quarterly Shortfall arose and compounded quarterly until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains; provided, that the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) may make a full or partial cash payment to reduce the Quarterly Shortfall Obligation at any time; provided, further, that if any Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains following such subsequent four calendar years, then the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) will promptly pay the Operating Partnership the remaining Quarterly Shortfall Obligation in cash.

	Distributions on the performance participation allocation may be payable in cash, SLP Performance Units or any combination thereof, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. If the Special Limited Partner elects to receive such distributions in SLP Performance Units, the Special Limited Partner may request the Operating Partnership to repurchase such Operating Partnership units (including any units received in exchange for any SLP Performance Units) from the Special Limited Partner at a later date. The Operating Partnership will repurchase any such Operating Partnership units for the corresponding class of shares of our common stock or cash (at the Special Limited Partner's election) unless our board of directors determines that any such repurchase for cash would be prohibited by applicable law or the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, in which case such Operating Partnership units will be repurchased for the corresponding class of shares of our common stock. Any such repurchase requests will not be subject to the Early Repurchase Deduction but will be subject to similar repurchase limits that exist under our share repurchase plan. The Operating Partnership will repurchase any such Class B units for cash subject to the applicable repurchase limits. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Special Limited Partner or its affiliates acquired as payment of the performance participation allocation will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended. See "Summary of Our Operating Partnership Agreement—Special Limited Partner Interest."

Fees from Other Services—Affiliates of the Adviser	We retain certain of the Adviser's affiliates, from time to time, for services relating to our investments or our operations, which may include accounting and audit services (including valuation support services), account management services, corporate secretarial services, data management services, directorship services, information technology services, finance/budget services, human resources, judicial processes, legal services, operational services, risk management services, tax services, treasury services, loan management services, construction management services, property management services, leasing services, property, title and/or other types of insurance and related services, transaction support services, transaction consulting services and other similar operational matters. We have adopted a long-term incentive plan which we use to attract and retain qualified employees of certain of our portfolio entities and other affiliated service providers. Our Operating Partnership or its subsidiary may also issue equity incentive compensation to certain employees of such affiliates for services provided. Any compensation paid to the Adviser's affiliates for any such services will not reduce the management fee or performance participation allocation. Any such arrangements will be at or below market rates. For more information about such services, please see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest—The Adviser may face conflicts of interests in choosing our service providers and certain service providers may provide services to the Dealer Manager, the Adviser or Blackstone on more favorable terms than those payable by us."	Actual amounts depend on to what extent affiliates of the Adviser are actually engaged to perform such services.

(1) Upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees for sales of Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares may be reduced or waived in connection with volume or other discounts, other fee arrangements or for sales to certain categories of purchasers. See "Plan of Distribution—Underwriting Compensation—Selling Commissions and Dealer Manager Fees."

(2) We will cease paying stockholder servicing fees with respect to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D shares at the date following the completion of the primary portion of this public offering at which total underwriting compensation from any source in connection with this public offering equals 10% of the gross proceeds from the primary portion of this public offering (i.e., excluding proceeds from sales pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan). This limitation is intended to ensure that we satisfy the FINRA requirement that total underwriting compensation paid in connection with this offering does not exceed 10% of the gross proceeds of our primary offering (the "FINRA 10% Limit").

(3) In calculating our stockholder servicing fee, we will use our NAV before giving effect to accruals for the stockholder servicing fee or distributions payable on our shares.

(4) These amounts represent estimated expenses incurred in connection with our organization and this offering, including legal, accounting, printing, mailing, subscription processing and filing fees and expenses, reasonable bona fide due diligence expenses of participating broker-dealers supported by detailed and itemized invoices, costs in connection with preparing sales materials, design and website expenses, fees and expenses of our escrow agent and transfer agent and certain wholesaling reimbursements. These amounts do not include wholesaling compensation and certain related expenses of persons associated with the Dealer Manager, which the Adviser currently pays without reimbursement from us. Under no circumstances may our total organization and offering expenses (including upfront selling commissions, stockholder servicing fees and due diligence expenses) exceed 15% of the gross proceeds from this offering.

(5) We will pay all expenses incurred in connection with the acquisition of our investments, including legal and accounting fees and expenses, brokerage commissions payable to unaffiliated third parties, travel expenses, costs of appraisals (including appraisals performed by independent third-party appraisal firms), nonrefundable option payments on property not acquired, engineering, due diligence, transaction support services, title insurance and other expenses related to the selection and acquisition of investments, whether or not acquired. While most of the acquisition expenses are expected to be paid to third parties, a portion of the out-of-pocket acquisition expenses may be paid or reimbursed to the Adviser or its affiliates. Acquisition expenses, together with any acquisition fees for a particular real estate-related asset, will in no event exceed 6% of the gross purchase price of the property.

(6) In calculating our management fee, we will use our NAV and the NAV of our Operating Partnership before giving effect to accruals for the management fee, performance participation allocation, stockholder servicing fees or distributions payable on our shares.

Our Total Operating Expenses, including any performance participation allocation made to the Special Limited Partner with respect to its performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership, will be limited during any four fiscal quarters to the greater of (a) 2.0% of our Average Invested Assets or (b) 25.0% of our Net Income. This limit may be exceeded only if our independent directors have made a finding that, based on such unusual and non-recurring factors as they deem sufficient, a higher level of expenses is justified, and such finding is recorded in the minutes of a meeting of the independent directors. For purposes of these limits:

- "Total Operating Expenses" are all costs and expenses paid or incurred by us, as determined under GAAP, including the management fee and the performance participation, but excluding: (i) the expenses of raising capital such as organization and offering expenses, legal, audit, accounting, underwriting, brokerage, listing, registration and other fees, printing, and other such expenses and taxes incurred in connection with the issuance, distribution, transfer, registration and listing of our capital stock, (ii) property-level expenses incurred at each property, (iii) interest payments, (iv) taxes, (v) non-cash expenditures such as depreciation, amortization and bad debt reserves, (vi) incentive fees paid in compliance with our charter, (vii) acquisition fees and acquisition expenses related to the selection and acquisition of assets, whether or not a property is actually acquired, (viii) real estate commissions on the sale of property and (ix) other fees and expenses connected with the acquisition, disposition and ownership of real estate interests, mortgage loans or other property (including the costs of foreclosure, insurance premiums, legal services, maintenance, repair and improvement of property).

- "Average Invested Assets" means, for any period, the average of the aggregate book value of our assets, invested, directly or indirectly, in equity interests in and loans secured by real estate, including all properties, mortgages and real estate-related securities and consolidated and unconsolidated joint ventures or other partnerships, before deducting depreciation, amortization, impairments, bad debt reserves or other non-cash reserves, computed by taking the average of such values at the end of each month during such period.

- "Net Income" means, for any period, total revenues applicable to such period, less the total expenses applicable to such period other than additions to, or allowances for, non-cash charges such as depreciation, amortization, impairments and reserves for bad debt or other similar non-cash reserves.

See "Management—The Advisory Agreement—Management Fee, Performance Participation and Expense Reimbursements."

Performance Participation Allocation Example

The following example illustrates how we would calculate our Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation with respect to Class T-2 units, Class S-2 units, Class D-2 units, Class T-1 units, Class S-1 units, Class D-1 units, Class I units, Class T units, Class S units, Class D units, Class C units and Class B units at the end of the year based on the assumptions set forth in rows A through E of the table below. All amounts are with respect to the units outstanding at the end of the year. Actual results may differ materially from the following example. Please refer to "Selected Information Regarding our Operations—Related Party Transactions—Performance Participation Allocation" for a discussion on the actual amounts recognized by the Company.

A.	Beginning NAV	$40,000,000,000
B.	Loss Carryforward Amount	—
C.	Net proceeds from new issuances	—
D.	Distributions paid (in twelve equal monthly installments)	$ 1,600,000,000
E.	Change in NAV required to meet 5% annualized internal rate of return[(1)]	$ 357,800,000
F.	Hurdle Amount[(1)] (D plus E)	$ 1,957,800,000
G.	Actual change in NAV	$ 2,000,000,000
H.	Annual Total Return prior to performance participation allocation (D plus G)	$ 3,600,000,000
I.	Excess Profits (H minus the sum of B and F)	$ 1,642,200,000
J.	Performance participation allocation is equal to 12.5% of annual Total Return (H) because the annual Total Return exceeds the Hurdle Rate (F) plus loss carryforward account balance (B) with enough Excess Profits (I) to achieve the full Catch-Up	$ 450,000,000

(1) Amounts rounded to the nearest $100,000. The Hurdle Amount for any period is that amount that results in a 5% annualized internal rate of return on the NAV of the units outstanding at the end of the period. An internal rate of return reflects the timing and amount of all distributions accrued or paid (without duplication) and any issuances or repurchases of such units during the period. Internal rate of return is a metric used in business and asset management to measure the profitability of an investment, and is calculated according to a standard formula that determines the total return provided by gains on an investment over time. We believe our fee structure described herein, including the requirement that a minimum internal rate of return be achieved before the Adviser is entitled to any performance allocation, aligns the interests of our stockholders with the Adviser in a manner that is typically offered to institutional investors.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

We pay the Adviser a management fee regardless of the performance of our portfolio. The Adviser's entitlement to a management fee, which is not based upon performance metrics or goals, might reduce its incentive to devote its time and effort to seeking investments that provide attractive risk-adjusted returns for our portfolio. We will be required to pay the Adviser a management fee in a particular period despite experiencing a net loss or a decline in the value of our portfolio during that period.

In addition, the Special Limited Partner has the ability to earn distributions on its performance participation allocation each year based on the total return of our Operating Partnership, which may create an incentive for the Adviser to invest in assets with higher yield potential, which are generally riskier or more speculative, or sell an asset prematurely for a gain, in an effort to increase short-term net income and thereby increase the distributions on performance participation allocation to which the Special Limited Partner is entitled. If our interests and those of the Adviser are not aligned, the execution of our business plan and our results of operations could be adversely affected, which could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We are subject to conflicts of interest arising out of our relationship with Blackstone, including the Adviser and its affiliates. Certain members of our board of directors and each of our executive officers are also executives of Blackstone and/or one or more of its affiliates. There is no guarantee that the policies and procedures adopted by us, the terms of our charter, the terms and conditions of the Advisory Agreement or the policies and procedures adopted by the Adviser, Blackstone and their affiliates, will enable us to identify, adequately address or mitigate these conflicts of interest. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we expect our directors, officers, and the Adviser's personnel will devote a sufficient amount of time to our business to fulfill their responsibilities to us. Transactions between us and the Adviser or its affiliates will be subject to approval by our Affiliate Transaction Committee.

See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Conflicts of Interest."

Some examples of conflicts of interest that may arise by virtue of our relationship with the Adviser and Blackstone include:

- Broad and Wide-Ranging Activities. The Adviser, Blackstone and their affiliates engage in a broad spectrum of activities, including a broad range of activities relating to investments in the real estate industry, and have invested or committed billions of dollars in capital through various investment funds, managed accounts and other vehicles affiliated with Blackstone. In the ordinary course of their business activities, the Adviser, Blackstone and their affiliates may engage in activities where the interests of certain divisions of Blackstone and its affiliates, including the Adviser, or the interests of their clients may conflict with the interests of our stockholders. Certain of these divisions and entities affiliated with the Adviser have or may have investment objectives or guidelines similar to our investment guidelines and therefore may compete with us. In particular, Blackstone Real Estate invests in a broad range of real estate and real estate debt investments via numerous different investment funds, managed accounts and other vehicles.

- Blackstone's Policies and Procedures. Blackstone has implemented policies and procedures to address conflicts that arise as a result of its various activities, as well as regulatory and other legal considerations. Because Blackstone has many different asset management and advisory businesses, including, but not limited to, a private equity business, a growth equity business, a credit business, a secondary funds business, an infrastructure business, an insurance solutions business, a hedge fund business, a capital markets group, a life sciences business and a real estate business, it is subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest, greater regulatory oversight and more legal and contractual restrictions than that to which it would otherwise be subject to if it had just one line of business. In addressing these conflicts and regulatory, legal and contractual requirements across its various businesses and to protect against the inappropriate sharing and/or use of information between the Blackstone Real Estate Group and the other business units at Blackstone, Blackstone has implemented certain policies and procedures (e.g., Blackstone's information wall policy) regarding the sharing of information which have the potential to reduce the positive synergies and collaborations that the Adviser could otherwise expect to utilize for purposes of identifying, pursuing and managing attractive investments. For example, Blackstone will from time to time come into possession of material nonpublic information with respect to companies in which Other Blackstone Accounts may be considering making an investment or companies that are clients of Blackstone. As a consequence, that information, which could be of benefit to us, might become restricted to those other respective businesses and otherwise be unavailable to us. However, certain business units will have access to form documents used by other business units; for example, when providing "seller financing" in connection with a sale, we may utilize form debt or credit agreements utilized or created by Other Blackstone Accounts with a strategy that focuses on debt investments and vice versa. There can be no assurance, however, that any such policies and/or procedures will be effective in accomplishing their stated purpose and/or that they will not otherwise adversely affect our ability to effectively achieve our investment objective by unduly limiting our investment flexibility and/or the flow of otherwise appropriate information between the Adviser and other business units at Blackstone. For example, in some instances, personnel of Blackstone would be unable to assist with our activities as a result of these walls. There can be no assurance that additional restrictions will not be imposed that would further limit the ability of Blackstone to share information internally. In addition, due to these restrictions, we may not be able to initiate a transaction that we otherwise might have initiated and may not be able to purchase or dispose of all or any portion of an investment that we otherwise might have purchased or sold, which could negatively affect our operations or performance.

In addition, to the extent that Blackstone is in possession of material non-public information or is otherwise restricted from trading in certain securities, we and the Adviser may also be deemed to be in possession of such information or otherwise restricted. Additionally, the terms of confidentiality or other agreements with or related to companies in which any investment vehicle advised by Blackstone has or has considered making an investment or which is otherwise a client of Blackstone will from time to time restrict or otherwise limit the ability of us and our affiliates to make investments in or otherwise engage in businesses or activities competitive with such companies. Blackstone reserves the right to enter into one or more strategic relationships in certain regions or with respect to certain types of investments that, although intended to provide greater opportunities for us, may require us to share such opportunities or otherwise limit the amount of an opportunity we can otherwise take.

- Allocation of Investment Opportunities. Certain inherent conflicts of interest arise from the fact that Blackstone and its affiliates, including the Adviser, will provide investment management and other services to us and to other persons or entities, whether or not the investment objectives or guidelines of any such other person or entity are similar to ours, including, without limitation, the sponsoring, closing and/or managing of Other Blackstone Accounts. In particular, there will be overlap of real estate and real estate debt investment opportunities with certain Other Blackstone Accounts that are actively investing and similar overlap with future Other Blackstone Accounts. This overlap will from time to time create conflicts of interest. Additionally, in certain circumstances investment opportunities suitable for us will not be presented to us and there will be investment opportunities where our participation is restricted.

  With respect to Other Blackstone Accounts with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours, in whole or in part, but that do not have priority over us (including the Private Core+ Accounts), the Adviser generally determines the relative allocation of investment opportunities among such vehicles on fair and reasonable basis in good faith according to the guidelines and factors determined by it. However, the application of those guidelines and factors has, in limited circumstances, resulted and can be expected to result in us not participating, or not participating to the same or greater extent, in investment opportunities in which it would have otherwise participated, or participated to such greater extent had the related allocations been determined without regard to such guidelines. The Adviser could also determine not to pursue opportunities inside our mandate or, alternatively, could later determine an opportunity is appropriate for us after initially reviewing such opportunity for or on behalf of an Other Blackstone Account. Among the factors that the Adviser (and the particular investment professionals overseeing allocations with respect to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts) considers in making investment allocations among us and Other Blackstone Accounts are the following: (i) any applicable investment objectives, parameters, limitations and other contractual provisions relating to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, (ii) available capital of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, as determined by the Adviser in good faith (which may take into account relative portfolio composition, anticipated co-investment and other considerations in addition to buying power), (iii) legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and other considerations, (iv) primary and permitted investment strategies and objectives of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts, including, without limitation, with respect to Other Blackstone Accounts that expect to invest in or alongside other funds or across asset classes based on expected return, (v) sourcing of the investment (including by a particular Blackstone business unit), (vi) the sector and geography/location of the investment (including adjacency to existing assets of us and the Other Blackstone Accounts), (vii) the specific nature (including size, type, amount, liquidity, holding period, anticipated maturity and minimum investment criteria) of the investment, (viii) expected investment return, (ix) risk profile of the investment, (x) expected leverage on the investment, (xi) expected cash characteristics (such as cash-on-cash yield, expected distribution rates or volatility of cash flows), (xii) capital expenditure required as part of the investment, (xiii) portfolio diversification/construction concerns (including, but not limited to, (A) allocations necessary for us or Other Blackstone Accounts to maintain a particular concentration in a certain type of investment (e.g., if an Other Blackstone Account follows a liquid strategy pursuant to which it sells a type of investment more or less frequently than us and we or such Other Blackstone Account needs a non pro rata additional allocation to maintain a particular concentration in that type of investment) and (B) whether a particular fund already has its desired exposure to the investment, sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question), (xiv) relation to existing investments in a fund, if applicable (e.g., "follow on" to existing investment, joint venture or other partner to existing investment, or same security as existing investment), (xv) maintaining structuring and financing flexibility for shared investments (which can result in sharing an investment opportunity equally to the extent each party has sufficient available capital to do so), (xvi) avoiding allocation that could result in de minimis or odd lot investments, or allocating to a single vehicle when investments are smaller in size, (xvii) timing expected to be necessary to execute an investment, (xviii) how governance will be shared between us and such Other Blackstone Account(s), and (xix) legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and other considerations deemed relevant by the Adviser and its affiliates (including, without limitation, maintaining our qualification as a REIT and our status as a non-investment company exempt from the Investment Company Act) in good faith.

Currently, Private Core+ Accounts invest in "Core+" real estate and real estate-related assets in the United States and Canada (which are generally substantially stabilized assets generating relatively stable cash flow), with a focus on office, multifamily, industrial, retail and life sciences assets in major cities and markets across the United States and Canada. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and the Private Core+ Accounts, such investment will be generally allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above. Certain Other Blackstone Accounts also invest in real estate debt with investment objectives or guidelines that overlap with ours but do not have priority over us. To the extent an investment is determined by Blackstone to satisfy the investment objectives of us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, such investment will be allocated in accordance with Blackstone's prevailing policies and procedures described above.

Furthermore, the Select Opportunistic Blackstone Accounts invest in "opportunistic" real estate and real estate-related assets globally (which often are undermanaged assets and with higher potential for equity appreciation) and have priority over us with respect to such investment opportunities and select investments (e.g., certain private real estate loans, stabilized data center investments and European and infrastructure investments) will be first offered to certain Other Blackstone Accounts (which we generally expect to have investment strategies distinct from ours but can overlap to some extent). Other Blackstone Accounts having priority over us will result in fewer investment opportunities being made available to us.

The Adviser and its affiliates calculate available capital, weigh the factors described above (which will not be weighted equally) and make other investment allocation decisions in accordance with their prevailing policies and procedures in their sole discretion, taking into account a variety of considerations, which may include, without limitation, net asset value, any actual or anticipated allocations, expected future fundraising and uses of capital, expected investor and other third-party co-investment allocation (i.e., when additional capital is raised alongside a private fund for a single investment) of Other Blackstone Accounts, applicable investment guidelines, excuse rights and investor preferences, any or all reserves, vehicle sizes and stage of investment operations (e.g., early in a vehicle's investment operations, the vehicle may receive larger allocations than it otherwise would in connection with launching and ramping up), targeted amounts of securities as determined by the Adviser and its affiliates, geographic limitations and actual or anticipated capital needs or other factors determined by the Adviser and its affiliates. Preliminary investment allocation decisions will generally be made on or prior to the time we and such Other Blackstone Accounts commit to make the investment (which in many cases is when the purchase agreement (or equivalent) in respect of such investment opportunity is signed), and are expected to be updated from time to time prior to the time of consummation of the investment (including after deposits are made thereon) due to changes in the factors that Blackstone considers in making investment allocations among us and Other Blackstone Accounts, including, for example, due to changes in available capital (including as a result of investor subscriptions or withdrawals, deployment of capital for other investments or a reassessment of reserves), changes in portfolio composition or changes in actual or expected investor or third-party co-investment allocation, in each case between the time of committing to make the investment and the actual funding of the investment. Such adjustments in investment allocations could be material, could result in a reduced or increased allocation being made available to us and there can be no assurance that we will not be adversely affected thereby. The manner in which our available capital is determined may differ from, or subsequently change with respect to, Other Blackstone Accounts. The amounts and forms of leverage utilized for investments will also be determined by the Adviser and its affiliates in their sole discretion. Any differences or adjustments with respect to the manner in which available capital is determined with respect to us or Other Blackstone Accounts may adversely impact our allocation of particular investment opportunities. There is no assurance that any conflicts arising out of the foregoing will be resolved in our favor. Blackstone is entitled to amend its policies and procedures at any time without prior notice or our consent.

The Adviser and its affiliates make good faith determinations for allocation decisions based on expectations that will, in certain circumstances, prove inaccurate and such determinations require it to make subjective judgements regarding application of the guidelines and arrangements described herein. Information unavailable to the Adviser, or circumstances not foreseen by the Adviser at the time of allocation, may cause an investment opportunity to yield a different return than expected. For example, an investment opportunity that the Adviser and its affiliates determine to be consistent with the return objective of Other Blackstone Accounts rather than us may not match the expectations and underwriting of the Adviser and its affiliates and generate an actual return that would have been appropriate for us. Conversely, an investment that the Adviser and its affiliates expect to be consistent with our return objectives will, in certain circumstances, fail to achieve them. Furthermore, in certain circumstances where we are participating alongside one or more Other Blackstone Accounts in an investment opportunity, the Adviser is expected to be required to make preliminary investment allocation decisions at the time of the signing of the related purchase agreement (or equivalent) and/or funding of the deposit in respect thereof. Subject to our governing documents, the Adviser could change the applicable investment allocations as between us and such Other Blackstone Accounts between the funding of such deposit or signing of such agreement, on the one hand, and the closing of such investment opportunity, on the other hand, based on a number of factors, including (i) available capital (taking into account changes in capital commitment subscriptions, redemptions, transfers, deployment of capital, reserves for future investments among other factors), (ii) changes in concentration limits in respect of sector, industry, geographic region or markets in question or (iii) other reasons, in each case as determined by the Adviser in its good faith reasonable sole discretion, in which our and such Other Blackstone Accounts' respective obligations in respect of any applicable deposit and transaction costs and expenses (including broken deal fees and expenses) are expected to change correspondingly and we and the Other Blackstone Accounts are expected to reimburse each other for any over- or under-funding in respect thereof.

In addition and subject to our governing documents, the Adviser could determine at any point prior to the closing of an investment opportunity that any such investment opportunity that was initially allocated to us based on information available to us at the time the allocation decision is made should subsequently be reallocated in whole or in part to one or more Other Blackstone Accounts (and vice versa) based on subsequent information received by the Adviser in respect of such investment opportunity (e.g., an investment opportunity that the Adviser initially determines to be consistent with our return objectives could subsequently be determined to be consistent with the return objectives of an opportunistic "control-oriented" fund). In such circumstances, the Adviser could determine to reallocate all or any portion of any such investment opportunity from us to such Reallocating Account, including in circumstances where such Reallocating Account has entered into an exclusivity arrangement or other binding agreement with one or more third parties. In such cases, if the non-Reallocating Account agrees to pursue the investment, then it will reimburse the Reallocating Account for such amount of any deferred acquisition costs (including non-refundable or refundable deposits, breakage fees, due diligence costs and other fees and expenses) as allocated to it by Blackstone, as Blackstone deems appropriate, in its sole discretion, incurred by the Reallocating Account relating to such Reallocated Investment, which may be so reallocated prior to closing and if the non-Reallocating Account chooses not to make the Reallocated Investment, then any such deferred acquisition costs incurred by the Reallocating Account will be borne by such Reallocating Account, provided that the non-Reallocating Fund will be responsible for any additional due diligence or acquisition costs incurred in the process of evaluating the investment for its own account. To the extent a non-Reallocating Account causes additional due diligence costs to be incurred for a Reallocating Investment it ultimately declines to pursue, such non-Reallocating Account(s) will reimburse such incurred costs, as deemed appropriate by Blackstone in its sole discretion. There is no assurance that any conflicts arising out of the foregoing will be resolved in our favor. Blackstone is entitled to amend its policies and procedures at any time without prior notice or our consent.

While the Adviser will seek to manage potential conflicts of interest in a fair and reasonable manner (subject to any priorities of Other Blackstone Accounts) as required pursuant to our charter and the Advisory Agreement, the portfolio strategies employed by the Adviser, Blackstone or their affiliates in managing the Other Blackstone Accounts could conflict with the strategies employed by the Adviser in managing our business and may adversely affect the marketability, exit strategy, prices and availability of the properties, securities and instruments in which we invest. The Adviser, Blackstone or their affiliates may also give advice to the Other Blackstone Accounts that may differ from advice given to us even though their investment objectives or guidelines may be the same as or similar to ours.

- Corporate Opportunities. Our board of directors has adopted a resolution that renounces our interest or expectancy in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, business opportunities, and provides that none of Blackstone or its affiliates, our directors or any person our directors control must refrain from competing with us or present to us such business opportunities. Under this resolution Blackstone and its affiliates and our directors or any person our directors control would not be obligated to present to us opportunities unless those opportunities are expressly offered to such person in his or her capacity as a director or officer and intended exclusively for us or any of our subsidiaries, and those persons will be able to engage in competing activities without any restriction imposed as a result of Blackstone's or its affiliates' status as a stockholder or Blackstone's affiliates' status as our officers or directors.

- Investments in Different Levels or Classes of an Issuer's Securities. We co-invest with Other Blackstone Accounts in investments that are suitable for both us and such Other Blackstone Accounts. We may hold an interest in a portfolio entity or other investment that is different (including with respect to relative seniority) than the interests held by Other Blackstone Accounts (and in certain circumstances, the Adviser will be unaware of an Other Blackstone Account's participation or the size of the Other Blackstone Account's investments, as a result of information walls or otherwise). Generally, there are no limitations with respect to such investments (including with respect to terms, price, quantity, frequency, percentage interest therein or otherwise), subject to our governing documents. In these situations, conflicts of interest will arise as Blackstone will receive fees and other benefits, directly or indirectly, from, or otherwise have interests in, both parties to the transaction, including different financial incentives Blackstone may have with respect to the parties to the transaction. In order to mitigate any such conflicts of interest, in certain circumstances we will likely recuse ourselves from participating in any decisions relating or with respect to such investment by us or the applicable investments by the Other Blackstone Accounts, or by establishing groups separated by information barriers (which can be expected to be temporary and limited purpose in nature) within Blackstone to act on behalf of each of the clients. Despite these, and any of the other actions described below that the Adviser may take to mitigate the conflict, Blackstone will, in certain circumstances, be required to take action when it will have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts, or Blackstone, which will, in certain circumstances, adversely impact us. In that regard, actions may be taken for the Other Blackstone Accounts that are adverse to us (and vice versa). If the Other Blackstone Account maintains voting rights with respect to the securities it holds, or if we do not recuse ourselves, Blackstone may be required to take action where it will have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and such Other Blackstone Account, which may adversely impact us. If we recuse ourselves from decision-making, we will generally rely upon a third party to make the decisions, and the third party could have conflicts or otherwise make decisions that Blackstone would not have made. These transactions also involve conflicts of interest, as Blackstone will receive fees and other benefits, directly or indirectly, from or otherwise have interests in both parties to the transaction, including different financial incentives Blackstone may have with respect to the parties to the transaction. The stockholders will in no way receive any benefit from fees paid to the Adviser or its affiliates from a portfolio entity in which any Other Blackstone Account or Blackstone also has an interest (including, for greater certainty, any fees the Adviser or its affiliates received as a result of the provision of services by such affiliates). In addition, under certain circumstances, we may be prohibited (or refrain) from decision-making or exercising other rights it would otherwise have with respect to a portfolio entity, as a result of our affiliation or other relationship with Other Blackstone Accounts or Blackstone that own different interests in such portfolio entity. While the Adviser will seek, where applicable, to have a third party exercise rights on behalf of us for purposes of exercising voting rights and/or managing any conflicts of interest related to such investments (which may include third-party co-investors or independent representatives), in certain instances such investments may be made without any such third-party participation (for example, because we own or acquire the entirety of the relevant instrument or tranche) or with minority third-party participation, and in such circumstances the absence or size of any such third party could adversely affect us or our interest in the portfolio entity (or the applicable Other Blackstone Account(s)) or its ability to effectively mitigate such conflicts of interest.

- Minority Investments of Other Blackstone Accounts. Certain Other Blackstone Accounts may also make minority investments in third-party investment managers or their investment vehicles with which we may engage in various transactions from time to time, including purchases or sales of assets or borrowing or lending transactions. Although these third-party investees may not be deemed to be affiliates of Blackstone due to the limited voting rights or other terms of the investments made by such Other Blackstone Accounts, such Other Blackstone Accounts would have an indirect economic interest in any transactions between us and such third-party investees. Our stockholders will not share in any of the economic interest of such Other Blackstone Accounts in such transactions. There can be no assurance that any conflict will be resolved in our favor and Blackstone may be required to take action where it will have conflicting loyalties between its duties to us and to Other Blackstone Accounts, which may adversely impact us.

- Pursuit of Differing Strategies. At times, the investment professionals employed by the Adviser or its affiliates and other investment vehicles affiliated with the Adviser and/or Blackstone may determine that an investment opportunity may be appropriate for only some of the Other Blackstone Accounts for which he or she exercises investment responsibility, or may decide that certain of Other Blackstone Accounts should take differing positions with respect to a particular security. In these cases, the investment professionals may place separate transactions for one or more Other Blackstone Accounts which may affect the market price of the security or the execution of the transaction, or both, to the detriment or benefit of one or more Other Blackstone Accounts. For example, an investment professional may determine that it would be in the interest of Other Blackstone Accounts to sell a security that we hold long, potentially resulting in a decrease in the market value of the security held by us.

- Variation in Financial and Other Benefits. A conflict of interest arises where the financial or other benefits available to the Adviser or its affiliates differ among the Other Blackstone Accounts that they manage. If the amount or structure of the management fee, the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation and/or the Adviser's or its affiliates' compensation differs among Other Blackstone Accounts (such as where certain funds or accounts pay higher base management fees, incentive fees, performance-based management fees or other fees), the Adviser might be motivated to help certain Other Blackstone Accounts over others. Similarly, the desire to maintain assets under management or to enhance the Adviser's performance record or to derive other rewards, financial or otherwise, could influence the Adviser or its affiliates in affording preferential treatment to those Other Blackstone Accounts that could most significantly benefit the Adviser or its affiliates. The Adviser may, for example, have an incentive to allocate favorable or limited opportunity investments or structure the timing of investments to favor such Other Blackstone Accounts. Additionally, the Adviser or its affiliates might be motivated to favor Other Blackstone Accounts in which it has an ownership interest or in which Blackstone and/or its affiliates have ownership interests. Conversely, if an investment professional at the Adviser or its affiliates does not personally hold an investment in us but holds investments in Other Blackstone Accounts, such investment professional's conflicts of interest with respect to us may be more acute.

- Underwriting, Advisory and Other Relationships. As part of its regular business, Blackstone provides a broad range of underwriting, investment banking, placement agent services and other services and may come into possession of information that limits its ability to engage in potential transactions. Our activities may be constrained as a result of the inability of Blackstone personnel to use such information. For example, employees of Blackstone not serving as employees of the Adviser or its affiliates may be prohibited by law or contract from sharing information with members of Blackstone Real Estate. We may be forced to sell or hold existing investments as a result of investment banking relationships or other relationships that Blackstone may have or transactions or investments that Blackstone may make or has made. Additionally, there may be circumstances in which one or more individuals associated with Blackstone will be precluded from providing services to the Adviser because of certain confidential information available to those individuals or to other parts of Blackstone. Further, in connection with selling investments by way of a public offering, a Blackstone broker-dealer has acted and may in the future act as the managing underwriter or a member of the underwriting syndicate on a firm commitment basis and has purchased and may in the future purchase securities on that basis. Blackstone may retain any commissions, remuneration, or other profits and receive compensation from such underwriting activities, which have the potential to create conflicts of interest. Blackstone may also participate in underwriting syndicates from time to time with respect to us or portfolio companies of Other Blackstone Accounts, or may otherwise be involved in the private placement of debt or equity securities issued by us or such portfolio companies, or otherwise in arranging financings with respect thereto or advising on such transactions. Subject to applicable law, Blackstone may receive underwriting fees, placement commissions, or other compensation with respect to such activities, which will not be shared with us or our stockholders. Where Blackstone serves as underwriter with respect to the securities of a portfolio, we or the applicable Other Blackstone Account holding such securities may be subject to a "lock-up" period following the offering under applicable regulations during which time our ability to sell any securities that we continue to hold is restricted. This may prejudice our ability to dispose of such securities at an opportune time.

  In the regular course of its investment banking business, Blackstone represents potential purchasers, sellers and other involved parties, including corporations, financial buyers, management, shareholders and institutions, with respect to assets that are suitable for investment by us. In such case, Blackstone's client would typically require Blackstone to act exclusively on its behalf, thereby precluding us from acquiring such assets. Blackstone is under no obligation to decline any such engagement to make the investment opportunity available to us.

  Blackstone has long-term relationships with a significant number of corporations and their senior management. In determining whether to invest in a particular transaction on our behalf, the Adviser may consider those relationships (subject to its obligations under our charter and the Advisory Agreement), which may result in certain transactions that the Adviser will not undertake on our behalf in view of such relationships.

- Service Providers. Certain of our service providers (including lenders, brokers, attorneys, loan servicing and administration providers, investment banking firms and property managers) may be sources of investment opportunities, counterparties therein or advisors with respect thereto. This may influence the Adviser in deciding whether to select such a service provider. In addition, in instances where multiple Blackstone businesses may be exploring a potential individual investment, certain of these service providers may choose to be engaged by other Blackstone affiliates rather than us.

- Material, Nonpublic Information. We, directly or through Blackstone, the Adviser or certain of their respective affiliates may come into possession of material nonpublic information with respect to an issuer or borrower in which we have invested or may invest. Should this occur, the Adviser may be restricted from buying or selling securities, derivatives or loans of the issuer or borrower on our behalf until such time as the information becomes public or is no longer deemed material. Disclosure of such information to the personnel responsible for management of our business may be on a need-to-know basis only, and we may not be free to act upon any such information. Therefore, we and/or the Adviser may not have access to material nonpublic information in the possession of Blackstone which might be relevant to an investment decision to be made by the Adviser on our behalf, and the Adviser may initiate a transaction or purchase or sell an investment that, if such information had been known to it, may not have been undertaken. Due to these restrictions, in some instances, the Adviser may not be able to initiate a transaction on our behalf that it otherwise might have initiated and may not be able to purchase or sell an investment that it otherwise might have purchased or sold, which could negatively affect our operations.

- Possible Future Activities. The Adviser and its affiliates may expand the range of services that they provide over time. Except as and to the extent expressly provided in the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser and its affiliates will not be restricted in the scope of its business or in the performance of any such services (whether now offered or undertaken in the future) even if such activities could give rise to conflicts of interest, and whether or not such conflicts are described herein. The Adviser, Blackstone and their affiliates continue to develop relationships with a significant number of companies, financial sponsors and their senior managers, including relationships with clients who may hold or may have held investments similar to those intended to be made by us. These clients may themselves represent appropriate investment opportunities for us or may compete with us for investment opportunities.

- Transactions with Other Blackstone Accounts and Other Affiliates. From time to time, we may enter into purchase and sale transactions and joint ventures with Other Blackstone Accounts. Such transactions will be conducted in accordance with, and subject to, our charter (including the requirement that such transaction be approved by a majority of our independent directors as being fair and reasonable to us), the terms and conditions of the Advisory Agreement, and our code of business conduct and ethics and applicable laws and regulations. These requirements will also apply to transactions with Blackstone, any of our directors or any affiliates thereof.

- Other Affiliate Transactions. In connection with investments in which we participate alongside Other Blackstone Accounts, we may from time to time share certain rights with such Other Blackstone Accounts relating to such investments for legal, tax, regulatory or other similar reasons, including, in certain instances, certain control-related rights with respect to jointly held investments. When making any decisions related to such investments, there may be conflicting interests. There can be no assurance that the return on our investment will be equivalent to or better than the returns obtained by Blackstone or its other affiliates. Further conflicts could arise once we and Blackstone or its affiliates have made our respective investments. For example, if we enter into a joint venture with an Other Blackstone Account, our interests and the interests of such Other Blackstone Account may conflict, for example when one joint venture partner seeks to sell the property in the joint venture but the other joint venture partner does not. In such situations, the ability of the Adviser to recommend actions in our best interests might be impaired.

- Broken Deal Expenses. Any expenses incurred by us for actual investments as described herein may also be incurred by us with respect to broken deals (i.e., proposed investments or dispositions that are not consummated). While the Adviser expects to generally allocate broken deal expenses pro rata among us and/or Other Blackstone Accounts that were expected to participate in the transaction, unless otherwise required by law, regulation or contract, the Adviser is not required to and in most circumstances will not seek reimbursement of broken deal expenses (i.e., expenses incurred in pursuit of an investment or disposition that is not consummated) from third parties, including counterparties to the potential transaction or potential co-investors (including standing co investment vehicles established to participate in co-investment opportunities alongside us on a regular or periodic basis and or as part of an overall co-investment program or arrangement ("Standing Co-Investment Vehicles")). Moreover, expenses related to the organization (including the marketing) of co-investment vehicles formed to invest in a transaction that was ultimately not consummated are expected to be borne by us, and not the proposed co-investors thereof. Examples of such broken deal expenses include, but are not limited to, reverse termination fees, extraordinary expenses such as litigation costs and judgments, meal, travel and entertainment expenses incurred, deposits or down payments which are forfeited in connection with unconsummated transactions, costs of negotiating co-investment documentation (including non-disclosure agreements with counterparties), costs from onboarding (i.e., KYC) investment entities with a financial institution, commitment fees that become payable in connection with a proposed investment, and legal, tax, accounting and consulting fees and expenses (including all expenses incurred in connection with any tax audit, investigation settlement or review of us, and any expenses of our partnership representative or its designated individual), printing and publishing expenses, and other due diligence and pursuit costs and expenses (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any Consultant expenses and including, in certain instances, broken deal expenses associated with services provided by portfolio entities, as detailed below). Any such broken deal expenses could, in the sole discretion of the Adviser, be allocated solely to us and not to Other Blackstone Accounts or co-investment vehicles (including Standing Co-Investment Vehicles) that could have made the investment even when such Other Blackstone Account or co-investment vehicle commonly invests alongside us in our investments or Blackstone or Other Blackstone Accounts in their investments. In such cases our, share of expenses would increase. Such determinations will be made on a case-by-case basis by the Adviser and could result in differing treatment of co-investors or co-investment vehicles under certain circumstances. Until a potential investment of ours is formally allocated to potential co-investors or other co-investment vehicles (it being understood that final allocation decisions are typically made shortly prior to closing an investment), we and certain Other Blackstone Accounts, if applicable, are expected to bear the broken deal expenses for such investment, (even if it was anticipated that such potential investment might be formally allocated, in whole or in part, to potential co-investors instead of us and certain Other Blackstone Accounts, if applicable), which can result in substantial amounts of broken deal expenses being borne by us. Furthermore, expenses arising from co-investors that do not ultimately participate in a consummated transaction (including in any situation where the co-investors were initially allocated the investment opportunity before such opportunity was reallocated to us or an Other Blackstone Account) can be expected to be borne among the participating investors, including us, as applicable, rather than by such proposed co-investors. In the event broken deal expenses are allocated to Other Blackstone Accounts, Standing Co-Investment Vehicles and/or other co-investors or other co-investment vehicles, the Adviser or Partnership will, in certain circumstances, advance such fees and expenses without charging interest until paid by the Other Blackstone Accounts, Standing Co-Investment Vehicles and/or other co-investors or other co-investment vehicles, as applicable. In addition, certain portfolio entities will provide transaction support and other support services (including identifying potential investments) to us, Other Blackstone Accounts and their respective portfolio entities in respect of certain investments that are not ultimately consummated. The Adviser will endeavor in good faith to allocate such broken deal-related costs to us and such Other Blackstone Accounts as it deems appropriate under the particular circumstances, including in certain instances the allocation of certain expenses pro rata among the vehicles that were expected to participate in an investment that was not consummated. Any methodology used to determine the allocation of such broken deal expenses to us and any Other Blackstone Accounts, Standing Co-Investment Vehicles and/or other co-investors or other co-investment vehicles (including the choice thereof) involves inherent conflicts and will not result in perfect attribution and allocation of such costs, and there can be no assurance that a different manner of allocation would result in us and our portfolio entities bearing less, more or the same amount of such costs. Further, any of the foregoing costs, although allocated in a particular period, could be allocated based on activities occurring outside such period. The allocation of any of the foregoing costs can be expected to be based on any of a number of different methodologies, including, without limitation, the aggregate value or number of, or invested capital in, transactions consummated in the applicable prior quarter, and therefore we could, to the extent permitted by applicable law and our organizational documents, pay more than our pro rata portion of such cost based on our actual usage of such services.

- Determination of Net Asset Value and Compensation to Affiliates. Certain of the compensation we pay to the Adviser and its affiliates is based on our NAV, which is calculated by State Street, based on valuations provided by the Adviser. In particular, the Adviser receives a management fee based on our NAV; distributions to be received by the Special Limited Partner with respect to its performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership are based in part upon the Operating Partnership's net assets (which is a component of our NAV); underwriting compensation for this offering to be paid to our Dealer Manager, of which all or a portion is reallowed to participating broker dealers, is based on our NAV. The calculation of our NAV includes certain subjective judgments with respect to estimating, for example, the value of our portfolio and our accrued expenses, net portfolio income and liabilities, and therefore, our NAV may not correspond to realizable value upon a sale of those assets. The Adviser and its affiliates, including the Special Limited Partner, may benefit by us retaining ownership of our assets at times when our stockholders may be better served by the sale or disposition of our assets in order to avoid a reduction in our NAV. If our NAV is calculated in a way that is not reflective of our actual NAV, then the purchase price of shares of our common stock or the price paid for the repurchase of a stockholder's shares of common stock on a given date may not accurately reflect the value of our portfolio, and such stockholder's shares may be worth less than the purchase price or more than the repurchase price. The valuation of our investments will affect the amount and timing of the management fee paid to the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation. As a result, there may be circumstances where the Adviser is incentivized to determine valuations that are higher than the actual fair value of our investments.

- DST Program. The Adviser is affiliated with the DST Dealer Manager and the DST Manager. These relationships create conflicts of interest with respect to decisions regarding whether to place properties into the DST Program. The Adviser, DST Dealer Manager and the DST Manager will receive fees and expense reimbursements in connection with their roles in the DST Program (certain of which costs are expected to be substantially paid by the private investors in the DST program). For more information, see "Investment Objectives and Strategies—DST Program."

NET ASSET VALUE CALCULATION AND VALUATION GUIDELINES

Our NAV for each class of shares is determined by the Adviser based on the net asset values of our investments (including real estate debt and other securities), the addition of any other assets (such as cash on hand), and the deduction of any liabilities, and will also include the deduction of management fees, the allocation/accrual of any performance participation to the Special Limited Partner and stockholder servicing fees specifically applicable to such class of shares, in all cases as described below.

General

Our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, has adopted valuation guidelines that contain a comprehensive set of methodologies to be used by the Adviser in connection with our NAV calculation. These guidelines are designed to produce a fair and accurate estimate of the price that would be received for our investments in an arm's-length transaction between a willing buyer and a willing seller in possession of all material information about our investments. An independent valuation advisor will review our valuation guidelines and methodologies related to investments in real property and certain real estate debt and other securities (as described below) with the Adviser and our board of directors at least annually. From time to time, our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, may adopt changes to the valuation guidelines if it (1) determines that such changes are likely to result in a more accurate reflection of NAV or a more efficient or less costly procedure for the determination of NAV without having a material adverse effect on the accuracy of such determination or (2) otherwise reasonably believes a change is appropriate for the determination of NAV. While the independent valuation advisor is responsible for reviewing our property and certain real estate debt and other securities valuations as set forth herein, the independent valuation advisor is not responsible for, and does not calculate, our NAV. The Adviser is ultimately and solely responsible for the determination of our NAV.

The calculation of our NAV is intended to be a calculation of the fair value of our assets less our outstanding liabilities as described below and will likely differ from the book value of our equity reflected in our financial statements. As a public company, we are required to issue financial statements based on historical cost in accordance with GAAP. To calculate our NAV for the purpose of establishing a purchase and repurchase price for our shares, we have adopted a model, as explained below, that adjusts the value of our assets and liabilities from historical cost to fair value generally in accordance with the GAAP principles set forth in FASB Accounting Standards Codification Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements. The Adviser will calculate the fair value of our real estate properties monthly based in part on values provided by third-party independent appraisers and such calculation will be reviewed by an independent valuation advisor as further discussed below. The Adviser may retain additional third-parties to assist with our valuations of certain investments. Because these fair value calculations will involve significant professional judgment in the application of both observable and unobservable attributes, the calculated fair value of our assets may differ from their actual realizable value or future fair value. While we believe our NAV calculation methodologies are consistent with standard industry practices, there is no rule or regulation that requires we calculate NAV in a certain way. As a result, other public REITs may use different methodologies or assumptions to determine NAV. In addition, NAV is not a measure used under GAAP and the valuations of and certain adjustments made to our assets and liabilities used in the determination of NAV will differ from GAAP. You should not consider NAV to be equivalent to stockholders' equity or any other GAAP measure.

Our Independent Valuation Advisor

Since we began calculating our NAV, a market-leading, unaffiliated third-party valuation firm selected by the Adviser and approved by our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, has served as the independent valuation advisor with respect to the Adviser's property valuations in accordance with our valuation guidelines. With the approval of our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, we may in the future engage one or more additional independent valuation advisors to review for reasonableness internal valuations prepared by the Adviser with respect to our real properties (including the DST Properties) and certain real estate debt and other securities. All references herein to "independent valuation advisor" refer to any independent valuation advisors then-currently engaged by us, unless the context requires otherwise.

Any independent valuation advisor may be replaced at any time, in accordance with agreed-upon notice requirements, by a majority vote of our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors.

Our independent valuation advisor will discharge its responsibilities in accordance with our valuation guidelines. Our board of directors will not be involved in the monthly valuation of our assets and liabilities, but will periodically receive and review such information about the valuation of our assets and liabilities prepared by the Adviser as it deems necessary to exercise its oversight responsibility. Our NAV per share for each class of shares will be calculated by State Street, and such calculation will be reviewed and confirmed by the Adviser. The Adviser will receive appraisal reports for our property investments from third-party appraisal firms, and based in part on these appraisals, will render a final internal valuation in order for State Street to calculate our NAV. The appraisals for our property investments performed by independent third-party appraisal firms will be one of several components considered by the Adviser in determining the value of our properties that will be used when State Street calculates our NAV per share for each class of shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Adviser may exclude from the final internal valuation rendered for use by State Street, any outstanding appraisals or reviews by an independent valuation advisor that in the aggregate would be expected to have a de minimis effect on the NAV per share, as reasonably determined by the Adviser.

We have agreed to pay fees to our independent valuation advisor upon its delivery to us of its review reports. We have also agreed to indemnify our independent valuation advisor against certain liabilities arising out of this engagement. The compensation we pay to our independent valuation advisor will not be based on the estimated values of our properties.

Our independent valuation advisor and certain of the independent third-party appraisers have provided, and are expected to continue to provide, real estate appraisal, appraisal management and real estate valuation advisory services to Blackstone and its affiliates and have received, and are expected to continue to receive, fees in connection with such services. Our independent valuation advisor and certain of the independent third-party appraisers and their respective affiliates may from time to time in the future perform other commercial real estate and financial advisory services for Blackstone and its affiliates, or in transactions related to the properties that are the subjects of the valuations being performed for us, or otherwise, so long as such other services do not adversely affect the independence of the independent valuation advisor or the applicable appraiser as certified in the applicable appraisal report.

Valuation of Investments

Consolidated Properties

For the purposes of calculating our monthly NAV, our properties will initially be valued at cost, which we expect to represent fair value at that time, subject to any variation pursuant to our valuation guidelines. In accordance with GAAP, we determine whether the acquisition of a property qualifies as an asset acquisition or business combination. We capitalize acquisition-related costs associated with asset acquisitions and expense such costs associated with business combinations.

Each property will be valued by an independent third-party appraisal firm annually. Annual appraisals may be delayed for a short period in exceptional circumstances. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each of the Company's single family rental portfolios will be appraised at the same time on an annual basis. Homes purchased after the annual single family rental appraisal will be appraised as part of the subsequent year's single family rental appraisal. Properties purchased or treated as a portfolio may be valued as a single asset. In certain cases, such as single family rental, homes may be valued as portfolios determined by the Adviser based on the characteristics and geographical basis of the underlying properties. Each third-party appraisal is performed in accordance with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice, or the similar industry standard for the country where the property appraisal is conducted. Upon conclusion of the appraisal, the independent third-party appraisal firm prepares a written report with an estimated range of gross market value of the property. Concurrent with the appraisal process, the Adviser values each property and, taking into account the appraisal, among other factors, determines the appropriate valuation within the range provided by the independent third-party appraisal firm. Each appraisal must be reviewed, approved and signed by an individual with the professional designation of MAI (a Designated Member of the Appraisal Institute) or similar designation or, for international appraisals, a public or other certified expert for real estate valuations. We believe our policy of obtaining appraisals by independent third parties will meaningfully enhance the accuracy of our NAV calculation. Any appraisal provided by an independent third-party appraisal firm will be performed in accordance with our valuation guidelines.

The Adviser will value our properties monthly, based on current material market data and other information deemed relevant, with review for reasonableness by our independent valuation advisor. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Adviser will value certain investments quarterly in limited circumstances where a monthly valuation is not practicable, including, without limitation, circumstances in which monthly valuation information is not available. When an annual appraisal by an independent third-party appraisal firm is received, our valuations will fall within range of such appraisal; however, updates to valuations thereafter may be outside of the range of values provided in the most recent third-party appraisal. Although monthly reviews of each of our real property valuations will be performed by our independent valuation advisor, such reviews are based on asset and portfolio level information provided by the Adviser, including historical or forecasted operating revenues and expenses of the properties, lease agreements on the properties, revenues and expenses of the properties, information regarding recent or planned estimated capital expenditures, the then-most recent annual third-party appraisals, and any other information relevant to valuing the real estate property, which information will not be independently verified by our independent valuation advisor. In cases in which our net equity interests in certain properties have no net asset value due to factors such as cash flow performance or marketability, as reasonably determined by the Adviser, the Adviser may exclude such properties from the review by our independent valuation advisor.

The Adviser will monitor our properties for significant events that the Adviser believes may be expected to have a material impact on the most recent estimated values of such property, and will notify the applicable independent valuation advisor of such events. If, in the opinion of the Adviser, an event becomes known to the Adviser (including through communication with our independent valuation advisor) that is likely to have any material impact on previously provided estimated values of the affected properties, the Adviser will adjust the valuation of such properties. If deemed appropriate by the Adviser, any necessary adjustment will be determined as soon as practicable. Annual appraisals may also trigger an adjustment in the value of a property when received.

For example, a valuation adjustment may be appropriate to reflect the occurrence of an unexpected property-specific event such as a termination or renewal of a material lease, a material change in vacancies, an unanticipated structural or environmental event at a property or a significant capital market event that may cause the value of a wholly-owned property to change materially. Valuation adjustments may also be appropriate to reflect the occurrence of broader market-driven events identified by the Adviser or our independent valuation advisor which may impact more than a specific property. Any such adjustments will be estimates of the market impact of specific events as they occur, based on assumptions and judgments that may or may not prove to be correct, and may also be based on the limited information readily available at that time.

In general, we expect that any adjustments to values will be calculated promptly after a determination that a material change has occurred and the financial effects of such change are quantifiable by the Adviser. However, rapidly changing market conditions or material events may not be immediately reflected in our monthly NAV. The resulting potential disparity in our NAV may be detrimental to stockholders whose shares are repurchased or new purchasers of our common stock, depending on whether our published NAV per share for such class is overstated or understated.

Real estate valuations will be reported on a free and clear basis (for example, without taking into consideration any mortgage on the property), irrespective of any property level financing that may be in place. We expect to use the discounted cash flow methodology (income approach) as the primary methodology to value properties, whereby a property's value is calculated by discounting the estimated cash flows and the anticipated terminal value of the subject property by the assumed new buyer's normalized weighted average cost of capital for the subject property. Consistent with industry practices, the income approach also incorporates subjective judgments regarding comparable rental and operating expense data, capitalization or discount rate, and projections of future rent and expenses based on appropriate evidence as well as the residual value of the asset as components in determining value. Other methodologies that may also be used to value properties include sales comparisons and replacement cost approaches. Under the sales comparison approach, an estimate of value is made by comparing the subject property to similar, recently sold properties in the surrounding or competing area.

The replacement cost approach relies on the principle of substitution, which holds that when a property is replaceable in the market, its value tends to be set at the cost of acquiring an equally desirable substitute property, assuming that no costly delay is encountered in making the substitution. Because the appraisals performed by the independent third-party appraisal firms and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor, the Adviser's determination of the appropriate valuations for our properties based on the range of values provided in such reports and any subsequent updates to the valuation of our properties made by the Adviser involve subjective judgments, the estimated fair value of our assets that will be included in our NAV may not reflect the liquidation value or net realizable value of our properties.

In conducting their investigations and analyses, our independent valuation advisor and our independent third-party appraisal firms will take into account customary and accepted financial and commercial procedures and considerations as they deem relevant, which may include, without limitation, the review of documents, materials and information relevant to valuing the property that are provided by us, such as (i) historical or forecasted operating revenues and expenses of the property; (ii) lease agreements on the property; (iii) the revenues and expenses of the property; (iv) information regarding recent or planned estimated capital expenditures; and (v) any other information relevant to valuing the real estate property. Although our independent valuation advisor may review information supplied or otherwise made available by us for reasonableness, it will assume and rely upon the accuracy and completeness of all such information and of all information supplied or otherwise made available to it by any other party, and will not undertake any duty or responsibility to verify independently any of such information. With respect to operating or financial forecasts and other information and data to be provided to or otherwise to be reviewed by or discussed with our independent valuation advisor, our independent valuation advisor will assume that such forecasts and other information and data were reasonably prepared in good faith on bases reflecting currently available estimates and judgments of our management and the Adviser, and will rely upon the Adviser to advise our independent valuation advisor promptly if any material information previously provided becomes inaccurate or was required to be updated during the period of review.

In performing their analyses, the Adviser, our independent valuation advisor and other independent third-party appraisal firms will make numerous other assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic and regulatory conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond its control and our control, as well as certain factual matters. For example, our independent valuation advisor and other independent third-party appraisal firms will assume that we have clear and marketable title to each real estate property valued, that no title defects exist unless specifically informed to the contrary, that improvements were made in accordance with law, that no hazardous materials are present or were present previously, that no deed restrictions exist, and that no changes to zoning ordinances or regulations governing use, density or shape are pending or being considered. Furthermore, our independent valuation advisor's review, opinions and conclusions will necessarily be based upon market, economic, financial and other circumstances and conditions existing prior to the valuation, and any material change in such circumstances and conditions may affect our independent valuation advisor's review and conclusions. Our independent valuation advisor's review reports may contain other assumptions, qualifications and limitations set forth in the respective appraisal reports that qualify the review, opinions and conclusions set forth therein. As such, the carrying values of our real properties may not reflect the price at which the properties could be sold in the market, and the difference between carrying values and the ultimate sales prices could be material. In addition, accurate valuations are more difficult to obtain in times of low transaction volume because there are fewer market transactions that can be considered in the context of the appraisal.

Each individual appraisal report for our assets will be addressed solely to us to assist the Adviser in calculating our NAV. The appraisal reports relating to our properties will not be addressed to the public, will not contain any conclusion regarding our NAV and may not be relied upon by any other person to establish an estimated value of our common stock and will not constitute a recommendation to any person to purchase or sell any shares of our common stock. In preparing appraisal reports, independent third-party appraisal firms will not, and will not be requested to, solicit third-party indications of interest for our common stock or any of our properties in connection with possible purchases thereof or the acquisition of all or any part of us.

The Adviser's valuation of each investment's liabilities, including any third-party incentive fee payments or investment level debt, deal terms and structure will not be reviewed by our independent valuation advisor or appraised. State Street will then incorporate such adjusted valuations as provided by the Adviser into our NAV, which will then be reviewed and confirmed by the Adviser.

Unconsolidated Properties Held Through Joint Ventures

Unconsolidated properties held through joint ventures generally will be valued in a manner that is consistent with the guidelines described above for consolidated properties. Once the value of a property held by the joint venture is determined and we determine the fair value of any other assets and liabilities of the joint venture, the value of our interest in the joint venture would then be determined by the Adviser using a hypothetical liquidation calculation to value our interest in the joint venture, which would be a percentage of the joint venture's NAV. Unconsolidated properties held in a joint venture that acquires multiple properties over time may be valued as a single investment.

Valuation of Real Estate Debt and Other Securities

In general, real estate debt and other securities will be valued by the Adviser based on market quotations or at fair value determined in accordance with GAAP. GAAP defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or be paid to transfer a liability (i.e., the exit price) in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

Readily available market quotations

Market quotations may be obtained from third-party pricing service providers or, if not available from third-party pricing service providers, broker-dealers for certain of our real estate debt and other securities. When reliable market quotations for real estate debt and other securities are available from multiple sources, the Adviser will use commercially reasonable efforts to use two or more quotations and will value such investments based on the average of the quotations obtained. However, to the extent that one or more of the quotations received is determined in good faith by the Adviser to not be reliable, the Adviser may disregard such quotation if the average of the remaining quotations is determined in good faith to be reliable by the Adviser. Securities that are traded publicly on an exchange or other public market (stocks, exchange traded derivatives and securities convertible into publicly-traded securities, such as warrants) will be valued at the closing price of such securities in the principal market in which the security trades.

No readily available market quotations

If market quotations are not readily available (or are otherwise not reliable for a particular investment), the fair value will be determined in good faith by the Adviser. Due to the inherent uncertainty of these estimates, estimates of fair value may differ from the values that would have been used had a ready market for these investments existed and the differences could be material. Market quotes are considered not readily available in circumstances where there is an absence of current or reliable market-based data (e.g., trade information, bid/ask information, or broker-dealer quotations).

Certain investments, such as mortgages, mezzanine loans, preferred equity or private company investments, are unlikely to have market quotations.

In the case of loans acquired by us, such initial value will generally be the acquisition price of such loan. In the case of loans originated by us, such initial value will generally be the par value of such loan. Each such investment will then be valued by the Adviser within the first three full months after we make such investment and no less frequently than quarterly thereafter in accordance with the procedures set forth in the immediately following paragraph.

To conduct its initial quarterly valuation and subsequent quarterly revaluations of such loan investments, the Adviser will initially determine if there is adequate collateral real estate value supporting such investments and whether the investment's yield approximates market yield. If the market yield is estimated to approximate the investment's yield, then such investment is valued at its par value. If the market yield is not estimated to approximate the investment's yield, the Adviser will project the expected cash flows of the investment based on its contractual terms and discount such cash flows back to the valuation date based on an estimated market yield.

Market yield is estimated as of each quarterly valuation date based on a variety of inputs regarding the collateral asset(s) performance, local/macro real estate performance, and capital market conditions, in each case as determined in good faith by the Adviser. These factors may include, but are not limited to: purchase price/par value of such real estate debt or other difficult to value securities; debt yield, capitalization rates, loan-to-value ratio, and replacement cost of the collateral asset(s); borrower financial condition, reputation, and indications of intent (e.g., pending repayments, extensions, defaults, etc.); and known transactions or other price discovery for comparable debt investments. In the absence of collateral real estate value supporting such securities, the Adviser will consider the residual value to its securities, following repayment of any senior debt or other obligations of the collateral asset(s). For each month that the Adviser does not perform a valuation of such investments, it will review such investment to confirm that there have been no significant events that would cause a material change in value of such investment. Our independent valuation advisor will generally review the reasonableness of the valuation of our real estate debt investments without readily available market quotations upon the Adviser's initial quarterly valuation of such investment and each month thereafter. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Adviser may engage a third-party valuation service provider to provide valuations of loan investments, which valuations will not be reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. State Street will incorporate such valuations into our NAV, which will be reviewed and confirmed by the Adviser.

Our board of directors has delegated to the Adviser the responsibility for monitoring significant events that may materially affect the values of our real estate debt and other securities investments and for determining whether the value of the applicable investments should be re-evaluated in light of such significant events. Except as otherwise provided in our valuation guidelines, the valuation of our real estate debt and other securities will not be reviewed by our independent valuation advisor or appraised.

The initial value of preferred equity and private company investments will generally be the acquisition price of such investment. Each such investment will then be valued by the Adviser within the first three full months after we make such investment and no less frequently than quarterly thereafter. The Adviser may utilize generally accepted valuation methodologies, which may include, but are not limited to, the market approach, cost approach and income approach, to value such preferred equity or private company investments. These methodologies generally include inputs such as the multiples of comparable companies, the value and performance of underlying assets, select financial statement metrics, the stock price of the investment, volatility, strike price, risk-free interest rate, dividend yield and expected term, as applicable. For each month that the Adviser does not perform a valuation of such investments, it will review such investment to confirm that there have been no significant events that would cause a material change in value of such investment. Our independent valuation advisor will generally review the reasonableness of the valuation of our private company investments without readily available market quotations upon the Adviser's initial quarterly valuation of such investment and each month thereafter. However, such reviews by the independent valuation adviser of the valuation of our real estate debt investments without readily available market quotations described above and our private company investments are based on information provided by the Adviser, which information will not be verified by the independent valuation advisor.

Valuation of Real Estate Debt and Other Securities Held Through Unconsolidated Joint Ventures

In general, real estate debt and other securities held through unconsolidated joint ventures will initially be valued at the cost of the investment in the joint venture, which we expect to represent fair value at that time, subject to any variation pursuant to these valuation guidelines. Each such investment will then be valued by the Adviser within the first three full months after we make such investment and no less frequently than quarterly thereafter in accordance with the procedures set forth in the immediately following paragraph.

To conduct its initial quarterly valuation and subsequent quarterly revaluations, investments in real estate debt and other securities held through investments in unconsolidated joint ventures are generally measured at fair value using the NAV per share of the joint venture, as determined by the underlying joint venture.

Liabilities

We will generally include the fair value of our liabilities as part of our NAV calculation. We expect that these liabilities will include the fees payable to the Adviser and the Dealer Manager, accounts payable, accrued operating expenses, property-level mortgages, any portfolio-level credit facilities and other liabilities. All liabilities will be valued using widely accepted methodologies specific to each type of liability. Liabilities allocable to a specific class of shares, including stockholder servicing fees, the management fee payable to the Adviser and the performance participation payable to the Special Limited Partner, are only included in the NAV calculation for that class. Our debt will generally be valued at fair value in accordance with GAAP. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, our Adviser will value certain debt quarterly in limited circumstances where a monthly valuation is not practicable, including, without limitation, circumstances in which monthly valuation information is not available. For purposes of NAV, we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under GAAP, we accrue (i) the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation, for Class S, Class D and Class T shares and (ii) the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders for Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 as an offering cost, in each case, at the time we sell the applicable shares. For purposes of calculating a monthly NAV, the stockholder servicing fee for each applicable class of shares will be calculated by multiplying the accrued monthly stockholder servicing fee rate (pro rata of the total annual stockholder servicing fee rate, based on the number of days in each month for each applicable class of shares) by the aggregate NAV of such class of shares for that month, after adjustment for any net portfolio income or loss, unrealized/realized gains or losses on assets and liabilities, management fee expense and performance participation accrual. The Adviser's valuation of each investment's liabilities, including any third-party incentive fee payments or investment level debt, deal terms and structure will not be reviewed by our independent valuation advisor or appraised.

Valuation of Assets and Liabilities Associated with the DST Program

We intend to conduct the DST Program to raise capital in private placements through the sale of beneficial interests in DSTs that own specific DST Properties in which the Company, through a subsidiary of the Operating Partnership, will hold a long-term leasehold interest in each DST Property pursuant to a master lease that will be guaranteed by the Operating Partnership. In accordance with the applicable master lease, such subsidiary of the Operating Partnership or applicable master tenant will make rental payments to the applicable DST (as landlord and owner of such DST Property) and such subsidiary of the Operating Partnership or applicable master tenant will be responsible for subleasing the applicable DST Property to various end-user tenants. This master lease arrangement means that the Company will bear the risk that the underlying cash flow received from the DST Property may be less than the master lease payments. Additionally, the Operating Partnership will retain a "FMV Option" giving it the right, but not the obligation, to acquire the DST Interests from the investors at a later date in exchange for cash or units in the Operating Partnership, at the Operating Partnership's discretion.

For purposes of calculating our NAV, the Adviser will value the DST Properties monthly subject to the master lease utilizing the discounted cash flow approach. This calculation will be multiplied by the DST investors' ownership in the DST and placed as a non-controlling interest in such DST Properties. Due to our continuing involvement and ownership of the DST Properties, we will continue to calculate the fair market value of the underlying real estate, unencumbered by the master lease, in accordance with "Valuation of Investments – Consolidated Properties". DST Properties will be reviewed for reasonableness by our Independent Valuation Adviser monthly upon execution of the master lease agreement, and subject to annual appraisals (in accordance with "Valuation of Investments – Consolidated Properties").

NAV and NAV Per Share Calculation

Our NAV will be calculated for each of our share classes by State Street. Our board of directors, including a majority of our independent directors, may replace State Street with another party, including our Adviser, if it is deemed appropriate to do so. The Adviser is solely responsible for reviewing and confirming our NAV, and overseeing the process around the calculation of our NAV, in each case, as performed by State Street.

Each class will have an undivided interest in our assets and liabilities, other than class-specific liabilities (including the management fee paid to the Adviser, stockholder servicing fees paid to the Dealer Manager and the performance participation paid to the Special Limited Partner). In accordance with the valuation guidelines, State Street calculates our NAV per share for each class as of the last calendar day of each month using a process that reflects several components (each as described above), including the estimated fair value of (1) each of our properties (including the DST Properties) based in part upon individual appraisal reports provided periodically by third-party independent valuation firms, as finally determined and updated monthly by the Adviser, with review for reasonableness by our independent valuation advisor, (2) our real estate debt and other securities for which third-party market quotes are available, (3) our other real estate debt and other securities, if any, and (4) our other assets (such as cash on hand) and liabilities (including the allocation or deduction of class-specific expenses). Because stockholder servicing fees allocable to a specific class of shares will only be included in the NAV calculation for that class, the NAV per share for our share classes may differ. Operating Partnership units will be valued in the same fashion.

Our valuation procedures include the following methodology to determine the monthly NAV of our Operating Partnership and the units. Our Operating Partnership has classes of Operating Partnership units that are each economically equivalent to our corresponding classes of shares. Accordingly, on the last day of each month, the NAV per Operating Partnership unit of such Operating Partnership units equals the NAV per share of the corresponding class. To the extent our Operating Partnership has classes of Operating Partnership units that do not correspond to a class of our shares, such Operating Partnership units will be valued in a manner consistent with these guidelines. The NAV of our Operating Partnership on the last day of each month equals the sum of the NAVs of each outstanding Operating Partnership unit on such day.

Our NAV for each class of shares is based on the net asset values of our investments (including real estate debt and other securities), the addition of any other assets (such as cash on hand), and the deduction of any liabilities (including the deduction of any expenses specifically applicable to such class of shares). At the end of each month, any change in our aggregate NAV (whether an increase or decrease) is allocated among each class of shares based on each class's relative percentage of the previous aggregate NAV adjusted for issuances of shares that were effective on the first calendar day of such month and repurchases that were effective on the last calendar day of such month. For the purposes of allocating any change in our aggregate NAV, Class S will be combined with Class S-2, Class T will be combined with T-2, and Class D will be combined with D-2 when allocating changes on a relative percentage of the aggregate NAV. The NAV calculation is available generally within 15 calendar days after the end of the applicable month. Changes in our monthly NAV include, without limitation, accruals of our net portfolio income, interest expense, distributions, unrealized/realized gains and losses on assets, any applicable organization and offering costs and any expense reimbursements. Changes in our monthly NAV also include material non-recurring events, such as capital expenditures and material property acquisitions and dispositions occurring during the month. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Adviser may in its discretion consider material market data and other information that becomes available after the end of the applicable month in valuing our assets and liabilities and calculating our NAV for a particular month. On an ongoing basis, the Adviser will adjust the accruals to reflect actual operating results and the outstanding receivable, payable and other account balances resulting from the accumulation of monthly accruals for which financial information is available.

Following the aggregation of the net asset values of our investments, the addition of any other assets (such as cash on hand), and the deduction of any other liabilities (including any accrued distributions to our stockholders), State Street incorporates any class-specific adjustments to our NAV, including accruals of declared dividends and class-specific stockholder servicing fees, management fees and any accrued performance participation. For each applicable class of shares, the stockholder servicing fee and management fee are calculated as a percentage of the aggregate NAV for such class of shares and any accrued performance participation is calculated as a percentage of the Total Return, subject to a Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up, for such class of shares.

NAV per share for each class is calculated by dividing such class's NAV at the end of each month by the number of shares outstanding for that class at the end of such month.

The combination of the Class T-2 NAV, Class S-2 NAV, Class D-2 NAV, Class I NAV, Class T NAV, Class S NAV, Class D NAV, Class C NAV, Class F NAV, Class L NAV and Class L-2 NAV equals the aggregate net asset value of our assets, which will consist almost entirely of the value of our interest in the Operating Partnership, less our liabilities, including liabilities related to class-specific fees. The value of our interest in the Operating Partnership is equal to the excess of the aggregate NAV of the Operating Partnership over the portion thereof that would be distributed to any limited partners other than us if the Operating Partnership were liquidated. The aggregate NAV of the Operating Partnership is the excess of the value of the Operating Partnership's assets (including the fair value of its properties, real estate debt and other securities, cash and other investments) over its liabilities (including the fair value of its debt, any declared and accrued unpaid distributions, any accrued performance participation allocation and the expenses attributable to its operations). The Adviser calculates the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Operating Partnership as directed by our valuation guidelines based upon values received from various sources, as described in more detail above.

Relationship between NAV and Our Transaction Price

Purchases and repurchases of shares of our common stock are not made based on the current NAV per share of our common stock at the time of purchase or repurchase. Generally, our transaction price will equal our prior month's NAV. The transaction price will be the price at which we repurchase shares and the price, together with applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees, at which we offer shares. Although the transaction price will generally be based on our prior month's NAV per share, such prior month's NAV may be significantly different from the current NAV per share of the applicable class of stock as of the date on which your purchase or repurchase occurs.

In addition, we generally do not expect to change the transaction price from the prior month's NAV, but may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share (including by updating a previously disclosed offering price) or suspend our offering and/or our share repurchase plan in exceptional cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month due to the aggregate impact of factors such as general significant market events or disruptions or force majeure events. In cases where our transaction price is not based on the prior month's NAV per share, the offering price and repurchase price will not equal our NAV per share as of any time. The Adviser may determine whether a material change has occurred to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month and whether to set a transaction price that differs from the previous month's NAV per share, and in such cases, has discretion over what such transaction price will be.

Our transaction price will be made publicly available by posting it on our website at www.breit.com and filing a prospectus supplement with the SEC and in certain cases delivered directly to subscribers. Please see the "How to Subscribe" section of this prospectus for additional information on how we communicate a change in our transaction price and the timing of when we accept subscription requests.

As our upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees are a percentage of the transaction price, any increase or decrease in our transaction price will have a corresponding impact on the absolute amount of fees paid in connection with your purchase and thus the number of shares you would be able to purchase for the same aggregate amount. For example, an increase in the transaction price after your subscription was submitted would result in fewer shares purchased for the same aggregate amount (inclusive of upfront costs).

Limits on the Calculation of Our NAV Per Share

The overarching principle of our valuation guidelines is to produce reasonable estimated values for each of our investments (and other assets and liabilities), or the price that would be received for that investment in orderly transactions between market participants. However, the majority of our assets will consist of real estate properties and, as with any real estate valuation protocol and as described above, the valuation of our properties (and other assets and liabilities) is based on a number of judgments, assumptions and opinions about future events that may or may not prove to be correct. The use of different judgments, assumptions or opinions would likely result in a different estimate of the value of our real estate properties (and other assets and liabilities). Any resulting potential disparity in our NAV per share may be in favor of stockholders whose shares are repurchased, existing stockholders or new purchasers of our common stock, as the case may be, depending on the circumstances at the time (for cases in which our transaction price is based on NAV). See "Risk Factors—Valuations and appraisals of our real estate and real estate debt are estimates of fair value and may not necessarily correspond to realizable value," "—Our NAV per share amounts may change materially if the appraised values of our properties materially change from prior appraisals or the actual operating results for a particular month differ from what we originally budgeted for that month" and "—It may be difficult to reflect, fully and accurately, material events that may impact our monthly NAV."

Additionally, while the methodologies contained in our valuation guidelines are designed to operate reliably within a wide variety of circumstances, it is possible that in certain unanticipated situations or after the occurrence of certain extraordinary events (such as a significant disruption in relevant markets, a terrorist attack or an act of nature), our ability to calculate NAV may be impaired or delayed, including, without limitation, circumstances where there is a delay in accessing or receiving information from vendors or other reporting agents upon which we may rely upon in determining the monthly value of our NAV. In these circumstances, a more accurate valuation of our NAV could be obtained by using different assumptions or methodologies. Accordingly, in special situations when, in the Adviser's reasonable judgment, the administration of the valuation guidelines would result in a valuation that does not represent a fair and accurate estimate of the value of our investment, alternative methodologies may be applied, provided that the Adviser must notify our board of directors at the next scheduled board meeting of any alternative methodologies utilized and their impact on the overall valuation of our investment. Notwithstanding the foregoing, our board of directors may suspend the offering and/or our share repurchase plan if it determines that the calculation of our NAV is materially incorrect or unreliable or there is a condition that restricts the valuation of a material portion of our assets.

We include no discounts to our NAV for the illiquid nature of our shares, including the limitations on your ability to sell shares under our share repurchase plan and our ability to modify or suspend our share repurchase plan at any time. Our NAV generally does not consider exit costs (e.g., selling costs and commissions and debt prepayment penalties related to the sale of a property) that would likely be incurred if our assets and liabilities were liquidated or sold. While we may use market pricing concepts to value individual components of our NAV, our per share NAV is not derived from the market pricing information of open-end real estate funds listed on stock exchanges.

Our NAV per share does not represent the amount of our assets less our liabilities in accordance with GAAP. We do not represent, warrant or guarantee that:

- a stockholder would be able to realize the NAV per share for the class of shares a stockholder owns if the stockholder attempts to sell its shares;
- a stockholder would ultimately realize distributions per share equal to the NAV per share for the class of shares it owns upon liquidation of our assets and settlement of our liabilities or a sale of our company;
- shares of our common stock would trade at their NAV per share on a national securities exchange;
- a third party would offer the NAV per share for each class of shares in an arm's-length transaction to purchase all or substantially all of our shares; or
- the NAV per share would equate to a market price of an open-ended real estate fund.

February 28, 2026 NAV Per Share

Components of NAV	February 28, 2026
Investments in real estate[1]	$ 95,323,110
Investments in real estate debt	4,476,242
Investments in unconsolidated entities[2]	18,053,546
Cash and cash equivalents	1,205,909
Restricted cash	815,257
Other assets	3,021,242
Mortgage notes, term loans, and revolving credit facilities, net	(56,846,937)
Secured financings on investments in real estate debt	(2,575,445)
Subscriptions received in advance	(273,356)
Other liabilities	(2,435,408)
Accrued performance participation allocation	(116,727)
Management fee payable	(57,410)
Accrued stockholder servicing fees[3]	(11,787)
Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,833,489)
Net asset value	$ 54,744,747
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,843,615

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $84.3 billion allocable to us and $11.0 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of February 28, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of February 28, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $39.4 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of February 28, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of February 28, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net Asset Value	Number of Outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/Unit as of February 28, 2026
Class I Shares	$ 30,403,889	2,135,642	$ 14.2364
Class S Shares	16,774,485	1,179,205	14.2252
Class S-2 Shares	369,927	26,005	14.2252
Class D Shares	1,352,640	97,469	13.8776
Class D-2 Shares	54,291	3,912	13.8776
Class T Shares	447,634	32,015	13.9820
Class T-2 Shares	2,289	164	13.9820
Class C Shares	615,070	37,345	16.4701
Class L Shares	61,506	4,317	14.2482
Third Party Operating Partnership Units[(1)]	4,663,016	327,541	14.2364
Total	$ 54,744,747	3,843,615

(1) Includes the partnership interests of the Operating Partnership held by the Special Limited Partner, Class B unitholders, and other Operating Partnership interests held by parties other than us.

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the February 28, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.4%
Net Lease	6.5%	5.4%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.4%	6.1%
Self Storage	8.5%	6.5%
Office	7.8%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Center Investment Values	Self Storage Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.9%	+1.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.7)%	(1.7)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+3.0%	+3.5%	+2.8%	+1.5%	+1.1%	+2.2%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.7)%	(3.2)%	(2.6)%	(1.4)%	(0.9)%	(2.2)%	(2.9)%	(2.3)%

January 31, 2026 NAV Per Share

Components of NAV	January 31, 2026

Non-controlling interests in consolidated subsidiaries	(5,781,880)
Net asset value	$ 54,554,653
Number of outstanding shares/units	3,838,018

(1) Investments in real estate reflects the entire value of our consolidated real estate properties, including the $84.8 billion allocable to us and $10.9 billion allocable to third-party joint venture interests in such investments as of January 31, 2026.

(2) Investments in unconsolidated entities reflects the value of our net equity investment in entities we do not consolidate. As of January 31, 2026, our allocable share of the gross real estate asset value held by such entities was $37.2 billion.

(3) Stockholder servicing fees only apply to Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. For purposes of NAV we recognize the stockholder servicing fee as a reduction of NAV on a monthly basis as such fee is paid. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), we accrue an estimate of the future cost of the stockholder servicing fee as an offering cost at the time we sell Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares. As of January 31, 2026, the Company has accrued under GAAP $0.7 billion of stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager related to the Class S, Class S-2, Class D, Class D-2, Class T, and Class T-2 shares sold. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

The following table provides a breakdown of our total NAV and NAV per share/unit by class as of January 31, 2026 ($ and shares/units in thousands, except per share/unit data):

Share Class/Unit	Net Asset Value	Number of Outstanding shares/units	NAV Per Share/ Unit as of January 31, 2026

Set forth below are the weighted averages of the key assumptions in the discounted cash flow methodology used in the January 31, 2026 valuations, based on property types.

Property Type	Discount Rate	Exit Capitalization Rate
Rental Housing	7.2%	5.4%
Industrial	7.5%	5.5%
Net Lease	6.6%	5.6%
Hospitality	10.8%	9.0%
Data Centers	8.4%	6.1%
Self Storage	8.5%	6.5%
Office	7.8%	5.6%
Retail	7.9%	6.3%

These assumptions are determined by the Adviser, and reviewed by our independent valuation advisor. A change in these assumptions or factors would impact the calculation of the value of our property investments. For example, assuming all other factors remain unchanged, the changes listed below would result in the following effects on our investment values:

Input	Hypothetical Change	Rental Housing Investment Values	Industrial Investment Values	Net Lease Investment Values	Hospitality Investment Values	Data Center Investment Values	Self Storage Investment Values	Office Investment Values	Retail Investment Values
Discount Rate	0.25% decrease	+1.8%	+2.0%	+1.8%	+1.7%	+0.9%	+1.8%	+1.9%	+1.9%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(1.8)%	(1.9)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%	(0.7)%	(1.7)%	(1.8)%	(1.7)%
Exit Capitalization Rate	0.25% decrease	+3.0%	+3.4%	+2.7%	+1.5%	+1.1%	+2.2%	+3.2%	+2.4%
(weighted average)	0.25% increase	(2.7)%	(3.1)%	(2.5)%	(1.4)%	(1.0)%	(2.1)%	(2.9)%	(2.3)%

We believe FFO is a meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. Our consolidated financial statements are presented using historical cost accounting which, among other things, requires depreciation of real estate investments. As a result, our operating results imply that the value of our real estate investments have decreased over time. However, we believe that the value of our real estate investments will fluctuate over time based on market conditions and, as such, depreciation under historical cost accounting may be less informative as a measure of our performance. FFO is an operating measure defined by the NAREIT that is broadly used in the REIT industry. FFO, as defined by NAREIT and presented below, is calculated as net income or loss (computed in accordance with GAAP), excluding (i) depreciation and amortization, (ii) impairment of investments in real estate, (iii) net gains or losses from sales of real estate, (iv) net gains or losses from change in control, and (v) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We also believe that AFFO is an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. AFFO further adjusts FFO to reflect the performance of our portfolio by adjusting for items we believe are not directly attributable to our operations. Our adjustments to FFO to arrive at AFFO include removing the impact of (i) the performance participation allocation to our Special Limited Partner or other incentive compensation awards that are based on our Net Asset Value, which includes unrealized gains and losses not recorded in GAAP net income (loss), and that are paid in shares or Operating Partnership units, even if subsequently repurchased by us, (ii) gains or losses on extinguishment of debt, (iii) unrealized gains or losses in fair value of financial instruments, (iv) amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income, (v) straight-line rental income and expense, (vi) amortization of deferred financing costs, (vii) amortization of restricted stock awards, (viii) amortization of mortgage premium/discount, (ix) organization costs, (x) severance costs, (xi) buyout costs (xii) net forfeited investment deposits, (xiii) amortization of above- and below-market lease intangibles, (xiv) gain or loss on involuntary conversion, (xv) settlement costs (xvi) amortization of non-real estate assets, and adding (xvii) proceeds from interest rate contract receivables, and (xviii) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities.

We also believe that FAD is an additional meaningful non-GAAP supplemental measure of our operating results. FAD provides useful information for considering our operating results and certain other items relative to the amount of our distributions, and we believe is therefore meaningful to stockholders. FAD is calculated as AFFO adjusted for (i) management fees paid in shares or Operating Partnership units, even if subsequently repurchased by us, (ii) recurring tenant improvements, leasing commissions, and other capital expenditures, (iii) stockholder servicing fees paid during the period, (iv) realized gains or losses on financial instruments, and (v) similar adjustments for non-controlling interests and unconsolidated entities. FAD is not indicative of cash available to fund our cash needs and does not represent cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP, as FAD is adjusted for stockholder servicing fees and recurring tenant improvements, leasing commission, and other capital expenditures, which are not considered when determining cash flows from operations. Furthermore, FAD excludes (i) adjustments for working capital items and (ii) amortization of discounts and premiums on investments in real estate debt. Cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP would generally be adjusted for such items.

FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered more relevant or accurate than GAAP net income (loss) in evaluating our operating performance. In addition, FFO, AFFO, and FAD should not be considered as alternatives to net income (loss) as indications of our performance or as alternatives to cash flows from operating activities as indications of our liquidity, but rather should be reviewed in conjunction with these and other GAAP measurements. Further, FFO, AFFO, and FAD are not intended to be used as liquidity measures indicative of cash flow available to fund our cash needs, including our ability to make distributions to our stockholders. In addition, our methodology for calculating AFFO and FAD may differ from the methodologies employed by other companies to calculate the same or similar supplemental performance measures, and accordingly, our reported AFFO and FAD may not be comparable to the AFFO and FAD reported by other companies.

The following table presents a reconciliation of net loss attributable to our stockholders and OP unitholders to FFO, AFFO and FAD attributable to our stockholders and OP unitholders ($ in thousands):

	Year Ended December 31,

Amount attributable to non-controlling interests for above adjustments	45,377	33,653
FAD attributable to BREIT stockholders and OP unitholders	$ 1,089,735	$ 1,214,847

(1) The prior period has been recast to present our unconsolidated entities in a consistent manner with the current period presentation.

(2) Other adjustments to arrive at AFFO for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024 primarily include severance costs, organization costs, amortization of above-and-below market lease intangible, and amortization of mortgage premium/discount, and to a lesser extent amortization of accumulated unrealized gains on derivatives previously recognized in other comprehensive income.

(3) Recurring tenant improvements and leasing commissions are generally related to second-generation leases and other capital expenditures required to maintain our investments. Other capital expenditures exclude projects that we believe will enhance the value of our investments.

Our Indebtedness

(1) "+" refers to the relevant floating benchmark rates, primarily SOFR and similar indices for non-USD facilities, as applicable to each loan or secured financing. As of December 31, 2025, we had outstanding interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional balance of $33.1 billion and interest rate caps with an aggregate notional balance of $19.8 billion that mitigate our exposure to potential future interest rate increases under our floating-rate debt.

(2) Weighted average maturity assumes maximum maturity date, including any extensions, where we, at our sole discretion, has one or more extension options.

(3) Includes $201.9 million and $261.6 million of loans related to investments in affordable housing properties as of December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively. Such loans are generally from municipalities, housing authorities, and other third parties administered through government sponsored affordable housing programs. Certain of these loans may be forgiven if specific affordable housing conditions are maintained.

(4) Additional borrowings under the Company's variable rate warehouse facilities require additional collateral, which are subject to lender approval.

The following table is a summary of the impact of derivatives on our weighted average interest rate as of December 31, 2025:

Weighted average interest rate of loans secured by our properties	5.2 %
Impact of interest rate swaps, caps and other derivatives	(1.1)%
Net weighted average interest rate of loans secured by our properties	4.1 %

Our Distributions

The following table summarizes the net distributions per share for each class and each record date declared by us since our inception through March 2025. Class C shares currently have no distribution amount presented as the class is generally an accumulating share class whereby its share of income will accrete into its NAV.

Accrued Stockholder Servicing Fee

We accrue the future stockholder servicing fees payable to the Dealer Manager, a registered broker-dealer affiliated with the Adviser, at the time such shares are sold. For Class S-2, Class D-2, and Class T-2 shares, we accrue the future stockholder servicing fees based on the estimated life of the shares held by stockholders of such share classes. For Class S, Class T, and Class D shares, we accrue the full amount, up to the applicable 8.75% fee limitation. The Dealer Manager has entered, and may in the future enter, into agreements with the selected dealers distributing our shares as part of its continuous public and private offerings, that provide, among other things, for the payment of the full amount of the selling commissions and dealer manager fee, and all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees received by the Dealer Manager to such selected dealers.

Performance Participation Allocation

The Special Limited Partner holds a performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership that entitles it to receive an allocation of the Operating Partnership's total return. Total return is defined as distributions paid or accrued plus the change in the Company's NAV, adjusted for subscriptions and repurchases. Under the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, the annual total return will be allocated solely to the Special Limited Partner only after the other unitholders have received a total return of 5% (after recouping any loss carryforward amount) and such allocation will continue until the allocation between the Special Limited Partner and all other Operating Partnership unitholders is equal to 12.5% and 87.5%, respectively. Thereafter, the Special Limited Partner will receive an allocation of 12.5% of the annual total return. The allocation of the performance participation allocation is ultimately measured on a calendar year basis and will be paid quarterly in certain classes of Operating Partnership units or cash, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. To date, the Special Limited Partner has always elected to be paid in Operating Partnership units, resulting in a non-cash expense.

At the end of each calendar quarter that is not also the end of a calendar year, the Special Limited Partner is entitled to a performance participation allocation as described above calculated in respect of the portion of the year to date, less any performance participation allocation received with respect to prior quarters in that year (the "Quarterly Allocation"). The performance participation allocation that the Special Limited Partner is entitled to receive at the end of each calendar year will be reduced by the cumulative amount of Quarterly Allocations that year. If a Quarterly Allocation is made and at the end of a subsequent calendar quarter in the same calendar year the Special Limited Partner is entitled to less than the previously received Quarterly Allocation(s) (a "Quarterly Shortfall"), then subsequent distributions of any Quarterly Allocations or year-end performance allocations in that calendar year will be reduced by an amount equal to such Quarterly Shortfall, until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall remains. If all or any portion of a Quarterly Shortfall remains at the end of a calendar year following the application described in the previous sentence, distributions of any Quarterly Allocations and year-end performance allocations in the subsequent four calendar years will be reduced by (i) the remaining Quarterly Shortfall plus (ii) an annual rate of 5% on the remaining Quarterly Shortfall measured from the first day of the calendar year following the year in which the Quarterly Shortfall arose and compounded quarterly (collectively, the "Quarterly Shortfall Obligation") until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains; provided, that the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) may make a full or partial cash payment to reduce the Quarterly Shortfall Obligation at any time; provided, further, that if any Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains following such subsequent four calendar years, then the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) will promptly pay the Operating Partnership the remaining Quarterly Shortfall Obligation in cash.

During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company's total return exceeded the current period hurdle amount, resulting in $592.9 million of performance participation allocation expense in the Company's Consolidated Statements of Operations.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company's total return did not exceed the year-to-date hurdle amount, resulting in a Quarterly Shortfall with respect to the $105.0 million performance participation allocation recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2024 (the "2024 Shortfall Obligation"). Beginning January 1, 2025, interest on the 2024 Shortfall Obligation, net of $9.9 million of performance participation allocation previously earned by the Special Limited Partner but not paid by the Company, began accruing at a 5% annual rate, compounded quarterly.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Company's total return did not exceed the hurdle amount and, as a result, no performance participation allocation expense was recognized.

During the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024, and 2023, the Company accrued interest income of $1.1 million, $1.0 million and $3.8 million, respectively, related to the Shortfall Obligations for each respective year.

The net 2024 Shortfall Obligation of $95.1 million and related $1.1 million of interest accrued were satisfied with the $592.9 million performance participation accrual for the year ended December 31, 2025. During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company issued 32.2 million Operating Partnership units to the Special Limited Partner as payment for the remaining $496.7 million of net performance participation allocation. Blackstone did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for the performance participation allocation during the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

As of February 27, 2026, Blackstone owned shares of the Company and Operating Partnership units valued at an aggregate $4.7 billion. In addition, Blackstone employees, including the Company's executive officers, owned shares of the Company and units of BREIT OP valued at an aggregate $1.3 billion.

Accrued Management Fee

The Adviser is entitled to an annual management fee equal to 1.25% of the Company's NAV, payable monthly, as compensation for the services it provides to the Company. The management fee can be paid, at the Adviser's election, in cash, certain classes of shares of the Company's common stock, or certain classes of Operating Partnership units. To date, the Adviser has always elected to be paid the management fee in shares of the Company's common stock and Operating Partnership units, resulting in a non-cash expense. During the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024, and 2023, the Company incurred management fees of $671.0 million, $713.6 million and $839.2 million, respectively.

During the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company issued Operating Partnership units of 48.5 million and 51.2 million, respectively, to the Adviser as payment for management fees. The Company also had a payable of $56.8 million and $56.4 million related to the management fees as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. During January 2026, the Adviser was issued 4.0 million Operating Partnership units as payment for the management fees accrued as of December 31, 2025. The shares and units issued to the Adviser for payment of the management fee were issued at the applicable NAV per share/unit at the end of each month for which the fee was earned. The Adviser did not submit any repurchase requests for shares or units previously issued as payment for management fees during the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Other

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company had an outstanding balance due to the Adviser of $10.2 million (representing 0.0187% of our NAV as of such date) and $1.8 million (representing 0.0033% of our NAV as of such date), respectively, primarily related to general corporate expenses provided by unaffiliated third parties that the Adviser paid on the Company's behalf. Such expenses are reimbursed by the Company to the Adviser in the ordinary course of business.

DST Program

The Adviser provides asset management services to the DSTs and is entitled to an asset management fee equal to 1.0% of the gross rents received by the DSTs under their respective master lease agreements. During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company incurred asset management fees of $12 thousand, which are included in Other Expense on the Company's Consolidated Statements of Operations.

The Dealer Manager is entitled to receive an investor servicing fee from the DST Investors, equal to up to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate net asset value of the DST Properties underlying certain DST Interests in the applicable DST Offering. The Company accrues the future investor servicing fee payable to the Dealer Manager based on the estimated life of the DST Interests at the time such DST Interests are sold. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had accrued $15 thousand of investor servicing fees related to DST Interests sold and recorded such amount as a component of Due to Affiliates on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets.

The Dealer Manager is also entitled to receive an upfront selling commission of up to 3.5% of the amount of gross proceeds paid for DST Interests. As of December 31, 2025, the Company recorded $29 thousand of upfront selling commissions. The upfront selling commissions are included as a reduction to offering proceeds in Contributions from Non-controlling Interests Attributable to Consolidated Subsidiaries on the Company's Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity. As of December 31, 2025, $15 thousand was outstanding and included as a component of Due to Affiliates on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets. The Dealer Manager does not retain any of these fees, all of which are retained by, or re-allowed (paid), to participating broker-dealers.

Affiliate Title Service Provider

Blackstone owns LNLS, a title agent company. LNLS acts as an agent for one or more underwriters in issuing title policies and/or providing support services in connection with investments by us, Blackstone and their affiliates and related parties, and third parties. LNLS focuses on transactions in rate-regulated states where the cost of title insurance is non-negotiable. LNLS will not perform services in non-regulated states for us, except (i) in the context of a portfolio transaction that includes properties in rate-regulated states, (ii) as part of a syndicate of title insurance companies where the rate is negotiated by other insurers or their agents, (iii) when a third party is paying all or a material portion of the premium, or (iv) when providing only support services to the underwriter. LNLS earns fees, which would have otherwise been paid to third parties, by providing title agency services and facilitating placement of title insurance with underwriters. Blackstone receives distributions from LNLS in connection with investments by us based on its equity interest in LNLS. In each case, there will be no related expense offset to us.

During the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we paid LNLS $26.9 million, $26.5 million and $7.7 million, respectively, for title services related to certain investments. Amounts paid to LNLS were either (i) included in calculating Net Gain on Dispositions of Real Estate on the Consolidated Statements of Operations, or (ii) recorded as deferred financing costs, which is a reduction to Mortgage Loans, Secured Term Loans, and Secured Revolving Credit Facilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Captive Insurance Company

On July 28, 2020, the Company became a member of the Captive owned by the Company and other investment vehicles managed by Blackstone. A Blackstone affiliate provides oversight and management services to the Captive and receives fees based on a percentage of premiums paid for such policies. The fees and expenses of the Captive, including insurance premiums and fees paid to the Blackstone affiliate to manage it, are borne by the Company and the other Blackstone-managed investment vehicles pro rata based on insurance premiums paid for each party's respective properties.

During the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024, and 2023, the Company contributed $93.3 million, $124.6 million and $166.2 million, respectively, of capital to the captive insurance for premiums and its pro rata share of other expenses. Of these amounts, $1.8 million, $2.4 million, and $3.2 million, respectively, was attributable to the fee paid to a Blackstone affiliate to provide oversight and management services of the Captive. The capital contributed and fees paid to the captive insurance company are in lieu of insurance premiums and fees that would otherwise be paid to third party insurance companies.

Such amount is included in Other Assets on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

We were formed under the laws of the State of Maryland. The rights of our stockholders are governed by Maryland law as well as our charter, bylaws and the policy adopted by our board of directors with respect to certain charter provisions. The following is a summary of all material provisions concerning our stock and you should refer to the MGCL and our charter, bylaws and the policy adopted by our board of directors with respect to certain charter provisions for a full description. The following summary is qualified in its entirety by the more detailed information contained in our charter, bylaws and the policy adopted by our board of directors with respect to certain charter provisions. Copies of our charter, bylaws and the policy adopted by our board of directors with respect to certain charter provisions are filed as exhibits to the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part. Copies of our charter, bylaws, the policy adopted by our board of directors with respect to certain charter provisions and the other exhibits to our registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part are available on the SEC's website. See the "Where You Can Find More Information; Incorporation by Reference" section below.

Under our charter, we have authority to issue a total of 17,400,000,000 shares of capital stock. Of the total shares of stock authorized, 17,300,000,000 shares are classified as common stock with a par value of $0.01 per share, 500,000,000 of which are classified as Class T shares, 400,000,000 of which are classified as Class T-2 shares, 3,000,000,000 of which are classified as Class S shares, 2,500,000,000 of which are classified as Class S-2 shares, 1,500,000,000 of which are classified as Class D shares, 1,400,000,000 of which are classified as Class D-2 shares, 6,000,000,000 of which are classified as Class I shares, 500,000,000 of which are classified as Class C shares, 500,000,000 of which are classified as Class F shares, 500,000,000 of which are classified as Class L shares and 500,000,000 of which are classified as Class L-2 shares, and 100,000,000 shares are classified as preferred stock with a par value $0.01 per share. In addition, our board of directors may amend our charter from time to time, without stockholder approval, to increase or decrease the aggregate number of shares of stock or the number of shares of stock of any class or series that we have authority to issue.

Common Stock

Subject to the restrictions on ownership and transfer of stock set forth in our charter and except as may otherwise be specified in our charter, the holders of common stock are entitled to one vote per share on all matters voted on by stockholders, including the election of our directors. Our charter does not provide for cumulative voting in the election of our directors. Therefore, the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of our common stock can elect our entire board of directors. Subject to any preferential rights of any outstanding class or series of shares of stock and to the provisions in our charter regarding the restrictions on ownership and transfer of stock, the holders of common stock are entitled to such distributions as may be authorized from time to time by our board of directors (or a committee of the board of directors) and declared by us out of legally available funds and, upon liquidation, are entitled to receive all assets available for distribution to our stockholders. See "Distribution Policy" below. Upon issuance for full payment in accordance with the terms of this offering, all shares of our common stock issued in the offering will be fully paid and non-assessable. Holders of common stock will not have preemptive rights, which means that you will not have an automatic option to purchase any new shares of stock that we issue.

Our charter also contains a provision permitting our board of directors, without any action by our stockholders, to classify or reclassify any unissued common stock into one or more classes or series by setting or changing the preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends and other distributions, qualifications and terms or conditions of redemption of any new class or series of shares of stock.

We will generally not issue certificates for shares of our common stock. Shares of our common stock will be held in "uncertificated" form, which will eliminate the physical handling and safekeeping responsibilities inherent in owning transferable stock certificates and eliminate the need to return a duly executed stock certificate to effect a transfer. SS&C GIDS, Inc. acts as our registrar and as the transfer agent for our shares. Transfers can be effected simply by mailing to our transfer agent a transfer and assignment form, which we will provide to you at no charge upon written request.

Class T-2 Shares

Each Class T-2 share issued in the primary offering is subject to an upfront selling commission of up to 3.0%, and an upfront dealer manager fee of 0.5%, of the transaction price of each Class T-2 share sold in the offering on the date of the purchase, however such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price. The Dealer Manager anticipates that all or a portion of the upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

We pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class T-2 shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T-2 shares. For each Class T-2 share, this stockholder servicing fee consists of a representative stockholder servicing fee and a dealer stockholder servicing fee. We expect that generally the representative stockholder servicing fee will equal 0.65% per annum and the dealer stockholder servicing fee will equal 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV for each Class T-2 share. However, with respect to Class T-2 shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such shares. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

The upfront selling commission and dealer manager fee are each not payable in respect of any Class T-2 shares sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan, but such shares will be charged the stockholder servicing fee payable with respect to all our outstanding Class T-2 shares.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class T-2 share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit, if any. At the end of such month, each such Class T-2 share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Class S-2 Shares

Each Class S-2 share issued in the primary offering is subject to an upfront selling commission of up to 3.5% of the transaction price of each Class S-2 share sold in the offering on the date of the purchase. The Dealer Manager anticipates that all or a portion of the upfront selling commissions will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

We pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class S-2 shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class S-2 shares. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

The upfront selling commission is not payable in respect of any Class S-2 shares sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan, but such shares will be charged the stockholder servicing fee payable with respect to all our outstanding Class S-2 shares.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class S-2 share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit, if any. At the end of such month, each such Class S-2 share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Class D-2 Shares

Each Class D-2 share issued in the primary offering is subject to an upfront selling commission of up to 1.5% of the transaction price of each Class D-2 share sold in the offering on the date of the purchase. The Dealer Manager anticipates that all or a portion of the upfront selling commissions will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

We pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class D-2 shares equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV of all our outstanding Class D-2 shares, including any Class D-2 shares sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

Class D-2 shares are generally available for purchase in this offering only (1) through fee-based programs, also known as wrap accounts, that provide access to Class D-2 shares, (2) through participating broker-dealers that have alternative fee arrangements with their clients to provide access to Class D-2 shares, (3) through transaction/ brokerage platforms at participating broker-dealers, (4) through certain registered investment advisers, (5) through bank trust departments or any other organization or person authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity for its clients or customers or (6) by other categories of investors that we name in an amendment or supplement to this prospectus.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class D-2 share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit, if any. At the end of such month, each such Class D-2 share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Class I Shares

No upfront selling commissions or stockholder servicing fees are paid for sales of any Class I shares.

Class I shares are generally available for purchase in this offering only (1) through fee-based programs, also known as wrap accounts, that provide access to Class I shares, (2) by endowments, foundations, pension funds and other institutional investors, (3) through participating broker-dealers that have alternative fee arrangements with their clients to provide access to Class I shares, (4) through certain registered investment advisers, (5) through bank trust departments or any other organization or person authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity for its clients or customers, (6) by our executive officers and directors and their immediate family members, as well as officers and employees of the Adviser, Blackstone or other affiliates and their immediate family members, and joint venture partners, consultants and other service providers or (7) other categories of investors that we name in an amendment or supplement to this prospectus. In certain cases, if (i) a participating broker-dealer no longer offers Class T, Class S or Class D shares or (ii) a holder of Class S, Class T or Class D shares exits a relationship with a participating broker-dealer for this offering and does not enter into a new relationship with a participating broker-dealer for this offering, such holder's shares may be exchanged into an equivalent NAV amount of Class I shares.

Class T Shares

Class T shares are only available to existing holders of such class pursuant to the distribution reinvestment plan.

We pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class T shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T shares. For each Class T share, this stockholder servicing fee consists of a representative stockholder servicing fee and a dealer stockholder servicing fee. We expect that generally the representative stockholder servicing fee will equal 0.65% per annum and the dealer stockholder servicing fee will equal 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV for each Class T share. However, with respect to Class T shares serviced through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such shares. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class T share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit. At the end of such month, each such Class T share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Class S Shares

Class S shares are only available to existing holders of such class pursuant to the distribution reinvestment plan.

We pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class S shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class S shares. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class S share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit. At the end of such month, each such Class S share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Class D Shares

Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such class pursuant to the distribution reinvestment plan.

We pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class D shares equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV of all our outstanding Class D shares, including any Class D shares sold pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class D share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit. At the end of such month, each such Class D share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Class C Shares

The Class C shares are not being offered pursuant to this prospectus. Holders of the Class C shares are entitled to the same voting rights as holders of other classes of our common stock.

We may conduct one or more private offerings of Class C shares to (i) a feeder vehicle primarily created to hold our Class C and Class I shares, which in turn will offer interests in itself to investors, (ii) the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner and affiliates, including pursuant to the Advisory Agreement and (iii) other persons in other limited circumstances. Any such offerings will be conducted pursuant to an exemption to registration under the Securities Act and not as a part of this offering.

Each Class C share will automatically and without any action on the part of the holder thereof convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share on the earliest of (i) a listing of Class I shares and (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets. In addition, immediately before any liquidation, dissolution or winding up, each Class C share will automatically convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share.

Class F Shares

The Class F shares are not being offered pursuant to this prospectus. Holders of the Class F shares are entitled to the same voting rights as holders of other classes of our common stock.

We may conduct one or more private offerings of our Class F shares to (i) certain feeder or other vehicles created to hold our shares and other assets, which in turn will sell interests in itself to other investors, (ii) our officers and directors, (iii) the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner and affiliates or employees of Blackstone, including pursuant to the Advisory Agreement and (iv) Other Blackstone Accounts. Any such offerings will be conducted pursuant to an exemption to registration under the Securities Act and not as a part of this offering.

Each Class F share will automatically and without any action on the part of the holder thereof convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share on the earliest of (i) a listing of Class I shares and (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets. In addition, immediately before any liquidation, dissolution or winding up, each Class F share will automatically convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share.

Class L Shares

The Class L shares are not being offered pursuant to this prospectus. Holders of the Class L shares are entitled to the same voting rights as holders of other classes of our common stock.

We may conduct one or more private offerings of Class L shares to certain accredited investors (as defined in Regulation D of the Securities Act). Any such offerings will be conducted pursuant to an exemption to registration under the Securities Act and not as a part of this offering.

Each Class L share will automatically and without any action on the part of the holder thereof convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share on the earliest of (i) a listing of Class I shares and (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity in which we are not the surviving entity or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets. In addition, immediately before any liquidation, dissolution or winding up, each Class L share will automatically convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share.

Class L-2 Shares

The Class L-2 shares are not being offered pursuant to this prospectus. Holders of the Class L-2 shares are entitled to the same voting rights as holders of other classes of our common stock.

We may conduct one or more private offerings of Class L-2 shares to certain accredited investors (as defined in Regulation D of the Securities Act). Any such offerings will be conducted pursuant to an exemption to registration under the Securities Act and not as a part of this offering.

Each Class L-2 share will automatically and without any action on the part of the holder thereof convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share on the earliest of (i) a listing of Class I shares and (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity in which we are not the surviving entity or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets. In addition, immediately before any liquidation, dissolution or winding up, each Class L-2 share will automatically convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share.

Other Terms of Common Stock

If not already converted into Class I shares upon a determination that total upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to such shares would exceed the applicable Fee Limit as described in the "—Class T-2 Shares," "—Class S-2 Shares," "—Class D-2 Shares," "—Class T Shares," "—Class S Shares" and "—Class D Shares" sections above, each Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share and Class D share held in a stockholder's account will automatically and without any action on the part of the holder thereof convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share on the earliest of (i) a listing of Class I shares, (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets or (iii) after termination of the primary portion of this public offering in which such Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares were sold, the end of the month in which we, with the assistance of the Dealer Manager, determine that all underwriting compensation from all sources in connection with this public offering, including upfront selling commissions, the stockholder servicing fee and other underwriting compensation, is equal to 10% of the gross proceeds of the primary portion of this public offering. In addition, immediately before any liquidation, dissolution or winding up, each Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share and Class D share will automatically convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent NAV as such share.

Preferred Stock

Our charter authorizes our board of directors to designate and issue one or more classes or series of preferred stock without stockholder approval, and to establish the preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends and other distributions, qualifications and terms or conditions of redemption of each class or series of preferred stock so issued. Because our board of directors has the power to establish the preferences and rights of each class or series of preferred stock, it may afford the holders of any series or class of preferred stock preferences, powers and rights senior to the rights of holders of common stock.

However, the voting rights per share of any series or class of preferred stock sold in a private offering may not exceed voting rights which bear the same relationship to the voting rights of a publicly held share as the consideration paid to us for each privately-held preferred share bears to the book value of each outstanding publicly held share. If we ever designated and issued preferred stock with a distribution preference over common stock, payment of any distribution preferences of such outstanding preferred stock would reduce the amount of funds available for the payment of distributions on the common stock. Further, holders of preferred stock are normally entitled to receive a liquidation preference in the event we liquidate, dissolve or wind up before any payment is made to the common stockholders, likely reducing the amount common stockholders would otherwise receive upon such an occurrence. In addition, under certain circumstances, the issuance of preferred stock may render more difficult or tend to discourage a merger, offer or proxy contest, the assumption of control by a holder of a large block of our securities, or the removal of incumbent management. Our board of directors has no present plans to issue any preferred stock, but may do so at any time in the future without stockholder approval.

Meetings and Special Voting Requirements

An annual meeting of the stockholders will be held each year, upon reasonable notice to our stockholders, but no sooner than 30 days after delivery of our annual report to stockholders. Special meetings of stockholders may be called only upon the request of a majority of our directors, a majority of our independent directors or our chief executive officer, president or chairperson of the board of directors and must be called by our secretary to act on any matter that may properly be considered at a meeting of stockholders upon the written request of stockholders entitled to cast at least 10% of the votes entitled to be cast on such matter at the meeting. Upon receipt of a written request stating the purpose of any such special meeting, our secretary shall provide a written notice to our stockholders within 10 days of receipt of such written request, stating the purpose of the meeting. The meeting must be held not less than 15 nor more than 60 days after the delivery of such notice. The presence either in person or by proxy of stockholders entitled to cast at least 50% of all the votes entitled to be cast at the meeting on any matter will constitute a quorum. Generally, the affirmative vote of a majority of all votes cast is necessary to take stockholder action, except as described in the next paragraph and except that the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares entitled to be voted that are represented in person or by proxy at a meeting at which a quorum is present is required to elect a director.

Under the MGCL and our charter, stockholders generally are entitled to vote at a duly held meeting at which a quorum is present on (1) amendments to our charter, (2) our liquidation and dissolution, (3) a merger, consolidation, conversion, statutory share exchange or sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets, (4) election or removal of our directors, and (5) such other matters that our board of directors has declared advisable and directed be submitted to our stockholders for approval or ratification. Except with respect to the election of directors or as otherwise provided in the MGCL or our charter, the vote of stockholders holding a majority of the outstanding shares of our stock entitled to vote is required to approve any such action, and no such action can be taken by our board of directors without such majority vote of our stockholders. In addition, although the NASAA REIT Guidelines indicate that stockholders are permitted to amend our charter or dissolve us without the necessity for concurrence by our board of directors, we are required to comply with the MGCL, which provides that any amendment to our charter or any dissolution of our company must first be declared advisable by our board of directors. Therefore, except with respect to the election or removal of our directors, prior to a stockholder vote, our board of directors must first adopt a resolution that the proposed action is advisable and directing the matter to be submitted to the stockholders. Accordingly, the only proposals to amend our charter or to dissolve our company that will be presented to our stockholders will be those that have been declared advisable by our board of directors. Stockholders are not entitled to exercise any of the rights of an objecting stockholder provided for in Title 3, Subtitle 2 of the MGCL unless our board of directors determines that such rights apply, with respect to all or any classes or series of stock, to one or more transactions occurring after the date of the determination in connection with which stockholders would otherwise be entitled to exercise such rights. Stockholders have the power, without the concurrence of the directors, to remove a director from our board of directors with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock entitled to vote generally in the election of directors.

Stockholders are entitled to receive a copy of our stockholder list upon request. The list provided by us will include each stockholder's name, address and telephone number and number of shares of stock owned by each stockholder and will be sent within 10 days of our receipt of the request. The stockholder list shall be maintained as part of our books and records and shall be available for inspection by any stockholder or the stockholder's designated agent at our corporate offices upon the request of a stockholder. The stockholder list will be updated at least quarterly to reflect changes in the information contained therein. The copy of the stockholder list will be printed in alphabetical order, on white paper, and in a readily readable type size (in no event smaller than ten-point type). A stockholder requesting a list will be required to pay reasonable costs of postage and duplication. The purposes for which a stockholder may request a copy of the stockholder list include, but are not limited to, matters relating to stockholders' voting rights, the exercise of stockholder rights under federal proxy laws and any other proper purpose. If the Adviser or our board of directors neglects or refuses to exhibit, produce or mail a copy of our stockholder list as requested, the Adviser and/or our board of directors, as the case may be, shall be liable to any stockholder requesting our stockholder list for the costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred by that stockholder for compelling the production of our stockholder list, and for actual damages suffered by any such stockholder by reason of such refusal or neglect. It shall be a defense that the actual purpose and reason for the requests for inspection or for a copy of our stockholder list is to secure such list or other information for the purpose of selling our stockholder list or copies thereof, or of using the same for a commercial purpose other than in the interest of the applicant as a stockholder relative to our affairs. We have the right to request that a requesting stockholder represent to us that the list will not be used to pursue commercial interests unrelated to such stockholder's interest in us. The remedies provided by our charter to stockholders requesting copies of our stockholder list are in addition to, and shall not in any way limit, other remedies available to stockholders under federal law, or the laws of any state.

In addition to the foregoing, stockholders have rights under Rule 14a-7 under the Exchange Act, which provides that, upon the request of a stockholder and the payment of the expenses of the distribution, we are required to distribute specific materials to stockholders in the context of the solicitation of proxies by a stockholder for voting on matters presented to stockholders or, at our option, provide requesting stockholders with a copy of the list of stockholders so that the requesting stockholder may make the distribution of such materials.

Furthermore, pursuant to our charter, any stockholder and any designated representative thereof shall be permitted access to our corporate records to which such stockholder is entitled under applicable law at all reasonable times, and may inspect and copy any of them for a reasonable charge. Under Maryland law, stockholders are entitled to inspect and copy only our bylaws, minutes of stockholder proceedings, annual statements of affairs, voting trust agreements and statements of stock and securities issued by us during the period specified by the requesting stockholder, which period may not be longer than 12 months prior to the date of the stockholder's request. One or more persons who together hold at least 5% of the outstanding shares of any class or series of stock and who have been stockholders of record for at least six months have the additional right to inspect and copy our books of account and stock ledger and to request a statement of affairs. Because our stockholders are entitled to inspect only those corporate records that stockholders are entitled to inspect and copy under Maryland law, our stockholders will not be entitled to inspect and copy the minutes of the meetings of our board of directors, which are records that certain states other than Maryland allow corporate stockholders to inspect and copy. Requests to inspect and/or copy our corporate records must be made in writing to: Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., 345 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10154. It is the policy of our board of directors to comply with all proper requests for access to our corporate records in conformity with our charter and Maryland law.

Restrictions on Ownership and Transfer

Our charter contains restrictions on the number of shares of our stock that a person or group may own. No person or group may acquire or hold, directly or indirectly through application of constructive ownership rules, in excess of 9.9% in value or number of shares, whichever is more restrictive, of our outstanding common stock or 9.9% in value or number of shares, whichever is more restrictive, of the aggregate of our outstanding stock of all classes or series unless they receive an exemption (prospectively or retroactively) from our board of directors.

Subject to certain limitations, our board of directors, in its sole discretion, may exempt a person prospectively or retroactively from, or modify, these limits, subject to such terms, conditions, representations and undertakings as required by our charter and as our board of directors may determine. Our board of directors has granted limited exemptions to certain persons who directly or indirectly own our stock, including directors, officers and stockholders controlled by them or trusts for the benefit of their families.

Our charter further prohibits any person from beneficially or constructively owning shares of our stock that would result in our being "closely held" under Section 856(h) of the Code or otherwise cause us to fail to qualify as a REIT and any person from transferring shares of our stock if the transfer would result in our stock being beneficially owned by fewer than 100 persons. Any person who acquires or intends to acquire shares of our stock that may violate any of these restrictions, or who is the intended transferee of shares of our stock which are transferred to the trust, as described below, is required to give us immediate written notice, or in the case of a proposed or attempted transaction, give at least 15 days prior written notice, and provide us with such information as we may request in order to determine the effect of the transfer on our status as a REIT. The above restrictions will not apply if our board of directors determines that it is no longer in our best interests to continue to qualify as a REIT or that compliance with such restrictions is no longer required for us to qualify as a REIT.

Any attempted transfer of our stock which, if effective, would result in a violation of the above limitations, except for a transfer which results in shares being beneficially owned by fewer than 100 persons, in which case such transfer will be void and of no force and effect and the intended transferee shall acquire no rights in such shares, will cause the number of shares causing the violation, rounded to the nearest whole share, to be automatically transferred to a trust for the exclusive benefit of one or more charitable beneficiaries designated by us and the proposed transferee will not acquire any rights in the shares. The automatic transfer will be deemed to be effective as of the close of business on the business day, as defined in our charter, prior to the date of the transfer. Shares of our stock held in the trust will be issued and outstanding shares. The proposed transferee will not benefit economically from ownership of any shares of stock held in the trust, will have no rights to dividends or other distributions and no rights to vote or other rights attributable to the shares of stock held in the trust. The trustee of the trust will have all voting rights and rights to dividends or other distributions with respect to shares held in the trust. These rights will be exercised for the exclusive benefit of the charitable beneficiaries. Any dividend or other distribution paid prior to our discovery that shares of stock have been transferred to the trust will be paid by the recipient to the trustee upon demand. Any dividend or other distribution authorized but unpaid will be paid when due to the trustee. Any dividend or distribution paid to the trustee will be held in trust for the charitable beneficiaries. Subject to Maryland law, the trustee will have the authority to rescind as void any vote cast by the proposed transferee prior to our discovery that the shares have been transferred to the trust and to recast the vote in accordance with the desires of the trustee acting for the benefit of the charitable beneficiaries. However, if we have already taken irreversible corporate action, then the trustee will not have the authority to rescind and recast the vote.

Within 20 days of receiving notice from us that shares of our stock have been transferred to the trust, the trustee will sell the shares to a person designated by the trustee, whose ownership of the shares will not violate the above ownership limitations. Upon the sale, the interest of the charitable beneficiaries in the shares sold will terminate and the trustee will distribute the net proceeds of the sale to the proposed transferee and to the charitable beneficiaries as follows. The proposed transferee will receive the lesser of (i) the price paid by the proposed transferee for the shares or, if the proposed transferee did not give value for the shares in connection with the event causing the shares to be held in the trust, such as a gift, devise or other similar transaction, the market price, as defined in our charter, of the shares on the day of the event causing the shares to be held in the trust and (ii) the price per share received by the trustee (net of any commissions and other expenses of sale) from the sale or other disposition of the shares. The trustee may reduce the amount payable to the proposed transferee by the amount of dividends and other distributions which have been paid to the proposed transferee and are owed by the proposed transferor to the transferee. Any net sale proceeds in excess of the amount payable per share to the proposed transferee will be paid immediately to the charitable beneficiaries. If, prior to our discovery that shares of our stock have been transferred to the trust, the shares are sold by the proposed transferee, then the shares shall be deemed to have been sold on behalf of the trust and, to the extent that the proposed transferee received an amount for the shares that exceeds the amount such proposed transferee was entitled to receive, the excess shall be paid to the trustee upon demand.

In addition, shares of our stock held in the trust will be deemed to have been offered for sale to us, or our designee, at a price per share equal to the lesser of (i) the price per share in the transaction that resulted in the transfer to the trust, or, in the case of a devise or gift, the market price at the time of the devise or gift and (ii) the market price on the date we, or our designee, accept the offer. We will have the right to accept the offer until the trustee has sold the shares. Upon a sale to us, the interest of the charitable beneficiaries in the shares sold will terminate and the trustee will distribute the net proceeds of the sale to the proposed transferee. We may reduce the amount payable to the proposed transferee by the amount of dividends and other distributions which have been paid to the proposed transferor and are owed to the proposed transferor to the trustee. We may pay the amount of such reduction to the trustee for the benefit of the charitable beneficiaries.

If the transfer to the trust as described above is not automatically effective for any reason to prevent violation of the above limitations or our failing to qualify as a REIT, then the transfer of the number of shares that otherwise cause any person to violate the above limitations will be void and the intended transferee shall acquire no rights in such shares.

All certificates, if any, representing shares of our stock issued in the future will bear a legend referring to the restrictions described above.

Every owner of more than 5% of the outstanding shares of our stock during any taxable year, or such lower percentage as required by the Code or the regulations promulgated thereunder or as otherwise required by our board of directors, within 30 days after the end of each taxable year, is required to give us written notice, stating his or her name and address, the number of shares of each class and series of our stock which he or she beneficially owns and a description of the manner in which the shares are held. Each such owner shall provide us with such additional information as we may request in order to determine the effect, if any, of its beneficial ownership on our status as a REIT and to ensure compliance with the ownership limits. In addition, each stockholder shall, upon demand, be required to provide us with such information as we may request in good faith in order to determine our status as a REIT and to comply with the requirements of any taxing authority or governmental authority or to determine such compliance.

Any subsequent transferee to whom you transfer any of your shares of our stock must also comply with the suitability standards we have established for our stockholders. See the "Suitability Standards" section of this prospectus.

Distribution Policy

We have declared, and intend to continue to declare, monthly distributions as authorized by our board of directors (or a committee of the board of directors) and have paid, and intend to continue to pay, such distributions on a monthly basis. We commenced paying distributions in April 2017 and have paid distributions each month since such date. Our distribution policy is set by our board of directors and is subject to change based on available cash flows. We cannot guarantee the amount of distributions paid, if any. You will not be entitled to receive a distribution if your shares are repurchased prior to the applicable time of the record date. In connection with a distribution to our stockholders, our board of directors approves a monthly distribution for a certain dollar amount per share for each class of our common stock.

Distributions are made on all classes of our common stock at the same time. The per share amount of distributions on Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class F, Class L and Class L-2 shares will likely differ because of different class-specific fees that are deducted from the gross distributions for each share class. We currently expect that our board of directors will generally authorize and declare minimal distributions, if any, with respect to the Class C shares and instead its share of income will accrete into its NAV. We expect to use the "record share" method of determining the per share amount of distributions on Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class I shares, Class T shares, Class S shares, Class D shares, Class C shares, Class F shares, Class L shares and Class L-2 shares, although our board of directors may choose any other method. The "record share" method is one of several distribution calculation methods for multiple-class funds recommended, but not required, by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Under this method, the amount to be distributed on our common stock will be increased by the sum of all class-specific fees for such period. Such amount will be divided by the number of our common shares outstanding on the record date. Such per share amount will be reduced for each class of common stock by the per share amount of any class-specific fees allocable to such class. We currently expect that our board of directors will generally authorize and declare minimal distributions, if any, with respect to the Class C shares and instead its share of income will accrete into its NAV.

To qualify as a REIT, we are required to pay distributions sufficient to satisfy the requirements for qualification as a REIT for tax purposes. We intend to distribute sufficient income so that we satisfy the requirements for qualification as a REIT. In order to qualify as a REIT, we are required to distribute 90% of our annual REIT taxable income, determined without regard to the dividends-paid deduction and excluding net capital gains, to our stockholders. See the "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations—Taxation of REITs in General—Requirements for Qualification as a REIT" and "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations—Annual Distribution Requirements Applicable to REITs" sections of this prospectus. Generally, income distributed to stockholders will not be taxable to us under the Code if we distribute at least 90% of our REIT taxable income, determined without regard to the dividends-paid deduction and excluding net capital gains.

Distributions are authorized at the discretion of our board of directors, in accordance with our earnings, cash flows and general financial condition. Our board of directors' discretion is directed, in substantial part, by its obligation to cause us to comply with the REIT requirements. Because we may receive income from interest or rents at various times during our fiscal year, distributions may not reflect our income earned in that particular distribution period but may be made in anticipation of cash flows which we expect to receive during a later quarter and may be made in advance of actual receipt of funds in an attempt to make distributions relatively uniform. Due to these timing differences, we may be required to borrow money, use proceeds from the issuance of securities (in this offering or subsequent offerings, if any) or sell assets in order to distribute amounts sufficient to satisfy the requirement that we distribute at least 90% of our REIT taxable income in order to qualify as a REIT. We have not established any limit on the amount of proceeds from this offering that may be used to fund distributions other than those limits imposed by our organizational documents and Maryland law. See the "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations" section of this prospectus for information concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences of distributions paid by us.

There is no assurance we will pay distributions in any particular amount, if at all. We may fund any distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses, and we have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources. The extent to which we fund distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations will depend on various factors, including the level of participation in our distribution reinvestment plan, the extent to which the Adviser elects to receive its management fee in certain classes of shares of our common stock and/or Operating Partnership units and the Special Limited Partner elects to receive distributions on its performance participation allocation in certain classes of shares of our common and/or Operating Partnership units, how quickly we invest the proceeds from this and any future offering and the performance of our investments, including our real estate debt portfolio. Funding distributions from borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses will result in us having less funds available to acquire properties or other real estate-related investments. As a result, the return you realize on your investment may be reduced. Doing so may also negatively impact our ability to generate cash flows. Likewise, funding distributions from the sale of additional securities will dilute your interest in us on a percentage basis and may impact the value of your investment especially if we sell these securities at prices less than the price you paid for your shares.

Under the MGCL, our board of directors may delegate to a committee of directors the power to fix the amount and other terms of a distribution. In addition, if our board of directors gives general authorization for a distribution and provides for or establishes a method or procedure for determining the maximum amount of the distribution, our board of directors may delegate to one of our officers the power, in accordance with the general authorization, to fix the amount and other terms of the distribution.

Distributions in kind shall not be permitted, except for distributions of readily marketable securities, distributions of beneficial interests in a liquidating trust established for our dissolution and the liquidation of our assets in accordance with the terms of our charter or distributions in which (i) our board of directors advises each stockholder of the risks associated with direct ownership of the property, (ii) our board of directors offers each stockholder the election of receiving such in-kind distributions, and (iii) in-kind distributions are made only to those stockholders that accept such offer. Our stockholders who receive distributions in kind of marketable securities may incur transaction expenses in liquidating the securities.

Distribution Reinvestment Plan

We have adopted a distribution reinvestment plan whereby stockholders (other than Alabama, Arkansas, California, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee, Vermont and Washington investors and clients of certain participating broker-dealers that do not permit automatic enrollment in our distribution reinvestment plan) will have their cash distributions automatically reinvested in additional shares of our common stock unless they elect to receive their distributions in cash. Alabama, Arkansas, California, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee, Vermont and Washington investors and clients of certain participating broker-dealers that do not permit automatic enrollment in our distribution reinvestment plan will automatically receive their distributions in cash unless they elect to have their cash distributions reinvested in additional shares of our common stock. Any cash distributions attributable to the class or classes of shares owned by participants in the distribution reinvestment plan will be immediately reinvested in our shares on behalf of the participants on the business day such distribution would have been paid to such stockholder. Class T, Class S and Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. See the “Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations” section of this prospectus for information concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences of participating in the distribution reinvestment plan.

The per share purchase price for shares purchased pursuant to the distribution reinvestment plan will be equal to the transaction price at the time the distribution is payable. Stockholders will not pay upfront selling commissions when purchasing shares pursuant to the distribution reinvestment plan. The stockholder servicing fees with respect to shares of our Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares are calculated based on our NAV for those shares and may reduce the NAV or, alternatively, the distributions payable with respect to shares of each such class, including shares issued in respect of distributions on such shares under the distribution reinvestment plan. Shares acquired under the distribution reinvestment plan will entitle the participant to the same rights and be treated in the same manner as shares of that class purchased in this offering.

We reserve the right to amend any aspect of our distribution reinvestment plan without the consent of our stockholders, provided that notice of any material amendment is sent to participants at least ten business days prior to the effective date of that amendment. In addition, we may suspend or terminate the distribution reinvestment plan for any reason at any time upon ten business days' prior written notice to participants. A stockholder's participation in the plan will be terminated to the extent that a reinvestment of such stockholder's distributions in our shares would cause the percentage ownership or other limitations contained in our charter to be violated. Participants may terminate their participation in the distribution reinvestment plan with ten business days' prior written notice to us.

Account Statements

Our transfer agent will provide on a quarterly basis to each participant in the distribution reinvestment plan a statement of account describing, as to such participant, (1) the distributions reinvested during the quarter, (2) the number of shares purchased during the quarter, (3) the per share purchase price for such shares and (4) the total number of shares purchased on behalf of the participant under the plan. On an annual basis, tax information with respect to income earned on shares under the plan for the calendar year will be provided to each applicable participant.

Restrictions on Roll-Up Transactions

In connection with any proposed transaction considered a "Roll-up Transaction" involving us and the issuance of securities of an entity that would be created or would survive after the successful completion of the Roll-up Transaction, an appraisal of all of our assets must be obtained from a competent independent appraiser. If the appraisal will be included in a prospectus used to offer the securities of the roll-up entity, the appraisal shall be filed with the SEC and the states. The assets will be appraised on a consistent basis, and the appraisal will be based on the evaluation of all relevant information and shall indicate the value of the assets as of a date immediately prior to the announcement of the proposed Roll-up Transaction. The appraisal will assume an orderly liquidation of assets over a 12-month period. The terms of the engagement of the independent appraiser shall clearly state that the engagement is for our benefit and the benefit of our stockholders. A summary of the appraisal, indicating all material assumptions underlying the appraisal, will be included in a report to stockholders in connection with any proposed Roll-up Transaction.

A "Roll-up Transaction" is a transaction involving the acquisition, merger, conversion or consolidation, directly or indirectly, of us and the issuance of securities of another entity, or a "Roll-up Entity," that would be created or would survive after the successful completion of such transaction. The term Roll-up Transaction does not include:

- a transaction involving our securities that have been for at least 12 months listed on a national securities exchange; or
- a transaction involving our conversion to a corporate, trust, or association form if, as a consequence of the transaction, there will be no significant adverse change in any of the following: common stockholder voting rights; the term of our existence; compensation to the Adviser or the sponsor; or our investment objectives.

In connection with a proposed Roll-up Transaction, the person sponsoring the Roll-up Transaction must offer to common stockholders who vote "against" the Roll-up Transaction the choice of:

- accepting the securities of a Roll-up Entity offered in the proposed Roll-up Transaction; or
- one of the following:
- remaining as holders of our stock and preserving their interests therein on the same terms and conditions as existed previously; or

- receiving cash in an amount equal to the stockholder's pro rata share of the appraised value of our net assets.

We are prohibited from participating in any proposed Roll-up Transaction:

- that would result in the common stockholders having democracy rights in a Roll-up Entity that are less than those provided in our charter and bylaws and described elsewhere in this prospectus, including rights with respect to the election of directors, the removal of the Adviser, the directors or any of their affiliates, any transaction between the Company and the Adviser, the directors or any of their affiliates, annual reports, annual and special meetings, amendments of our charter, our dissolution, our merger or consolidation with or into another entity or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets, and the limitation on stockholder liability;

- that includes provisions that would operate to materially impede or frustrate the accumulation of shares of stock by any purchaser of the securities of the Roll-up Entity, except to the minimum extent necessary to preserve the tax status of the Roll-up Entity, or which would limit the ability of an investor to exercise the voting rights of its securities of the Roll-up Entity on the basis of the number of shares of stock held by that investor;

- in which investor's rights to access of records of the Roll-up Entity will be less than those provided in the "—Meetings and Special Voting Requirements" section above; or

- in which any of the costs of the Roll-up Transaction would be borne by us if the Roll-up Transaction is rejected by our common stockholders.

Registration Rights Agreements

We entered into a registration rights agreement with the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner, pursuant to which the Adviser or the Special Limited Partner may require us to prepare and file, at our expense, a shelf registration statement relating to the resale of all shares of our common stock currently held or later acquired by them or their permitted transferees and under certain circumstances they may require us to file resale registration statements on demand and provide unlimited "piggyback" rights with respect to the resale of such shares (subject to certain cutback and other provisions).

CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF MARYLAND LAW AND OUR CHARTER AND BYLAWS

The following description of the terms of certain provisions of Maryland law and our charter and bylaws is only a summary. For a complete description, we refer you to the MGCL, our charter and our bylaws. We have filed our charter and bylaws as exhibits to the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part.

Business Combinations

Under the MGCL, business combinations between a Maryland corporation and an interested stockholder or an affiliate of an interested stockholder are prohibited for five years after the most recent date on which the interested stockholder becomes an interested stockholder. These business combinations include a merger, consolidation, statutory share exchange, or, in circumstances specified in the statute, an asset transfer or issuance or reclassification of equity securities. An interested stockholder is defined as:

- any person who beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 10.0% or more of the voting power of the corporation's outstanding voting stock; or
- an affiliate or associate of the corporation who, at any time within the two-year period prior to the date in question, was the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of 10.0% or more of the voting power of the then outstanding stock of the corporation.

A person is not an interested stockholder under the statute if the board of directors approved in advance the transaction by which such person otherwise would have become an interested stockholder. However, in approving a transaction, the board of directors may provide that its approval is subject to compliance, at or after the time of approval, with any terms and conditions determined by the board of directors.

After the five-year prohibition, any business combination between the Maryland corporation and an interested stockholder generally must be recommended by the board of directors of the corporation and approved by the affirmative vote of at least:

- 80.0% of the votes entitled to be cast by holders of outstanding shares of voting stock of the corporation; and
- two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast by holders of voting stock of the corporation other than shares of stock held by the interested stockholder with whom or with whose affiliate the business combination is to be effected or held by an affiliate or associate of the interested stockholder.

These super-majority vote requirements do not apply if, among other things, the corporation's common stockholders receive a minimum price, as defined under the MGCL, for their shares of our common stock and the consideration is received in cash or in the same form as previously paid by the interested stockholder.

The statute permits various exemptions from its provisions, including business combinations that are exempted by the board of directors before the time that the interested stockholder becomes an interested stockholder. Our board of directors has adopted a resolution providing that any business combination between us and any other person is exempted from this statute, provided that such business combination is first approved by our board of directors. This resolution, however, may be altered or repealed in whole or in part at any time. If this resolution is repealed or our board of directors fails to first approve the business combination, the statute may discourage others from trying to acquire control of us and increase the difficulty of consummating any offer.

Control Share Acquisitions

The MGCL provides that a holder of control shares of a Maryland corporation acquired in a control share acquisition has no voting rights except to the extent approved by a vote of stockholders entitled to cast two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter. Shares of stock owned by the acquiror, by officers or by employees who are directors of the corporation are excluded from shares of stock entitled to vote on the matter. Control shares are voting shares of stock which, if aggregated with all other shares of stock owned by the acquiror or in respect of which the acquiror is able to exercise or direct the exercise of voting power (except solely by virtue of a revocable proxy), would entitle the acquiror to exercise voting power in electing directors within one of the following ranges of voting power:

- one-tenth or more but less than one-third;
- one-third or more but less than a majority; or
- a majority or more of all voting power.

Control shares do not include shares of stock the acquiring person is then entitled to vote as a result of having previously obtained stockholder approval or shares acquired directly from the corporation. A control share acquisition means the acquisition of issued and outstanding control shares, subject to certain exceptions.

A person who has made or proposes to make a control share acquisition may compel our board of directors to call a special meeting of stockholders to be held within 50 days of demand to consider the voting rights of the shares of stock. The right to compel the calling of a special meeting is subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, including an undertaking to pay the expenses of the meeting. If no request for a meeting is made, the corporation may itself present the question at any stockholders' meeting.

If voting rights are not approved at the meeting or if the acquiring person does not deliver an acquiring person statement as required by the statute, then the corporation may redeem for fair value any or all of the control shares, except those for which voting rights have previously been approved. The right of the corporation to redeem control shares is subject to certain conditions and limitations. Fair value is determined, without regard to the absence of voting rights for the control shares, as of the date of any meeting of stockholders at which the voting rights of the shares of stock are considered and not approved or, if no such meeting is held, as of the date of the last control share acquisition by the acquiror. If voting rights for control shares are approved at a stockholders' meeting and the acquiror becomes entitled to vote a majority of the shares of stock entitled to vote, all other stockholders may exercise appraisal rights. The fair value of the shares of stock as determined for purposes of appraisal rights may not be less than the highest price per share paid by the acquiror in the control share acquisition.

The control share acquisition statute does not apply to (1) shares of stock acquired in a merger, consolidation or statutory share exchange if the corporation is a party to the transaction, or (2) acquisitions approved or exempted by the charter or bylaws of the corporation.

Our bylaws contain a provision exempting from the Control Share Acquisition Act any and all acquisitions of our stock by any person. There can be no assurance that this provision will not be amended or eliminated at any time in the future.

Subtitle 8

Subtitle 8 of Title 3 of the MGCL permits a Maryland corporation with a class of equity securities registered under the Exchange Act, and at least three independent directors to elect to be subject, by provision in its charter or bylaws or a resolution of its board of directors and notwithstanding any contrary provision in the charter or bylaws, to any or all of five provisions:

- a classified board of directors;
- a two-thirds vote requirement for removing a director;
- a requirement that the number of directors be fixed only by vote of the directors;
- a requirement that a vacancy on the board of directors be filled only by the remaining directors, even if the remaining directors do not constitute a quorum, and for the remainder of the full term of the class of directors in which the vacancy occurred; and
- a majority requirement for the calling of a stockholder-requested special meeting of stockholders.

In our charter, we have elected to be subject to the provision of Subtitle 8 which provides that vacancies on our board of directors be filled only by the remaining directors, even if the remaining directors do not constitute a quorum, and for the remainder of the full term of the directorship in which the vacancy occurred. Through provisions in our charter and bylaws unrelated to Subtitle 8, we vest in our board of directors the exclusive power to fix the number of directorships, provided that the number is not less than three nor more than fifteen. We have not elected to be subject to any of the other provisions of Subtitle 8.

Vacancies on Board of Directors; Removal of Directors

Any vacancy on our board of directors may be filled only by a vote of a majority of the remaining directors, even if the remaining directors do not constitute a quorum. Any director elected to fill a vacancy will serve for the remainder of the full term of the directorship in which the vacancy occurred and until a successor is duly elected and qualifies. Our independent directors will choose the nominees to fill vacancies in our independent director positions.

Any director may resign at any time and may be removed with or without cause by our stockholders upon the affirmative vote of stockholders entitled to cast at least a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast generally in the election of directors. The notice of any special meeting called for the purpose of the proposed removal shall indicate that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to determine if the director shall be removed.

Advance Notice of Director Nominations and New Business

Our bylaws provide that with respect to an annual meeting of stockholders, nominations of individuals for election to the board of directors and the proposal of business to be considered by our stockholders may be made only (1) pursuant to our notice of the meeting, (2) by or at the direction of our board of directors or (3) by a stockholder who is a stockholder of record at the record date set by our board of directors for the purpose of determining stockholders entitled to vote at the annual meeting, at the time of giving the advance notice required by the bylaws and at the time of the meeting (and any postponement or adjournment thereof), who is entitled to vote at the meeting in the election of each individual nominated or on such other business and who has complied with the advance notice procedures of the bylaws. With respect to special meetings of stockholders, only the business specified in our notice of the meeting may be brought before the meeting. Nominations of individuals for election to our board of directors at a special meeting may be made only (1) by or at the direction of our board of directors or (2) provided that the meeting has been called for the purpose of electing directors, by a stockholder who is a stockholder of record at the record date set by our board of directors for the purpose of determining stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting, at the time of giving the advance notice required by the bylaws and at the time of the meeting (and any postponement or adjournment thereof), who is entitled to vote at the meeting in the election of each individual nominated and who has complied with the advance notice provisions of the bylaws.

Tender Offers

Our charter provides that any tender offer made by any person, including any “mini-tender” offer, must comply with the provisions of Regulation 14D of the Exchange Act, including the notice and disclosure requirements. Among other things, the offeror must provide us notice of such tender offer at least ten business days before initiating the tender offer. If a person makes a tender offer that does not comply with such provisions, we may elect to grant tendering stockholders a rescission right with respect to their tendered shares. In addition, the non-complying offeror will be responsible for all of our expenses in connection with that offeror’s noncompliance.

Effect of Certain Provisions of Maryland Law and of our Charter and Bylaws

The business combination provisions and the control share acquisition provisions of Maryland law, the provision of our charter electing to be subject to a provision of Subtitle 8, and the advance notice provisions of our bylaws could delay, defer or prevent a transaction or a change in control of our company that might involve a premium price for stockholders or otherwise be in their best interest.

Determinations by Our Board of Directors

Our charter contains a provision that codifies the authority of our board of directors to manage our business and affairs. This provision enumerates certain matters and states that the determination as to any such enumerated matters made by or pursuant to the direction of our board of directors (consistent with our charter) is final and conclusive and binding upon us and our stockholders. This provision does not alter the duties our board of directors owes to us or our stockholders pursuant to our charter and under Maryland law. Further, it would not restrict the ability of a stockholder to challenge an action by our board of directors which was taken in a manner that is inconsistent with our charter or the board of directors' duties under Maryland law or which did not comply with the requirements of the provision.

SUMMARY OF OUR OPERATING PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

We have summarized the material terms and provisions of the Limited Partnership Agreement of BREIT Operating Partnership L.P., which we refer to as the "partnership agreement."

Management of Our Operating Partnership

BREIT Operating Partnership L.P. was formed on August 5, 2016 to acquire and hold assets on our behalf.

We intend to hold substantially all of our assets in the Operating Partnership or in subsidiary entities in which the Operating Partnership owns an interest. For purposes of satisfying the asset and gross income tests for qualification as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes, our proportionate share of the assets and income of the Operating Partnership will be deemed to be our assets and income.

We are and expect to continue to be the sole general partner of the Operating Partnership. As of December 31, 2025, we held a 92% limited partnership interest in the Operating Partnership, with the remaining limited partnership interests held by the Special Limited Partner, Blackstone, certain Senior Managing Directors of Blackstone and certain investors who have exchanged property or cash for limited partnership units.

As the sole general partner of the Operating Partnership, we have the exclusive power to manage and conduct the business of the Operating Partnership. A general partner is accountable to a limited partnership as a fiduciary and consequently must exercise good faith and integrity in handling partnership affairs. No limited partner of the Operating Partnership may transact business for the Operating Partnership, or participate in management activities or decisions, except as provided in the partnership agreement and as required by applicable law. We may not be removed as general partner by the limited partners. Our board of directors will at all times have oversight and policy-making authority, including responsibility for governance, financial controls, compliance and disclosure with respect to the Operating Partnership. However, pursuant to the Advisory Agreement, we have delegated to the Adviser authority to make decisions related to the management of our and the Operating Partnership's assets, including sourcing, evaluating and monitoring our investment opportunities and making decisions related to the acquisition, management, financing and disposition of our assets, in accordance with our investment objectives, guidelines, policies and limitations, subject to oversight by our board of directors.

The Special Limited Partner has expressly acknowledged and any future limited partners of the Operating Partnership will expressly acknowledge that we, as general partner, are acting on behalf of the Operating Partnership, ourselves and our stockholders collectively. Neither we nor our board of directors is under any obligation to give priority to the separate interests of the limited partners of the Operating Partnership or our stockholders in deciding whether to cause the Operating Partnership to take or decline to take any actions. If there is a conflict between the interests of our stockholders on the one hand and the Operating Partnership's limited partners on the other, we will endeavor in good faith to resolve the conflict in a manner not adverse to either our stockholders or the Operating Partnership's limited partners, provided, however, that for so long as we own a controlling interest in the Operating Partnership, any conflict that cannot be resolved in a manner not adverse to either our stockholders or the Operating Partnership's limited partners may be resolved in favor of our stockholders. We are not liable under the partnership agreement to the Operating Partnership or to any of its limited partners for monetary damages for losses sustained, liabilities incurred or benefits not derived by such limited partners in connection with such decisions, provided that we have acted in good faith.

The partnership agreement requires that the Operating Partnership be operated in a manner that will enable us to (1) satisfy the requirements for qualification as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes, unless we otherwise cease to qualify as a REIT, (2) avoid any U.S. federal income or excise tax liability and (3) ensure that the Operating Partnership will not be classified as a "publicly traded partnership" that is taxable as a corporation. See "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations."

Capital Contributions

We intend to contribute the net proceeds from this offering, after payment of fees and expenses attributable to our offering and operations, to the Operating Partnership as capital contributions. However, we will be deemed to have made capital contributions in the amount of the gross offering proceeds received from investors, and the Operating Partnership will be deemed to have simultaneously paid the fees, commissions and other costs associated with this offering and our operations.

If the Operating Partnership requires additional funds at any time in excess of capital contributions made by us, the Operating Partnership may borrow funds from a financial institution or other lenders or we or any of our affiliates may provide such additional funds through loans, purchase of additional partnership interests or otherwise (which we or such affiliates will have the option, but not the obligation, of providing). In addition, the Operating Partnership may admit additional limited partners whose investments may be subject to a different management fee and repurchase limitations if our board of directors concludes in good faith that such admittance is in our best interest.

Limited Partnership Units Generally

Limited partnership units represent an interest as a limited partner in the Operating Partnership. The Operating Partnership may issue additional partnership units and classes of partnership units with rights different from, and superior to, those of limited partnership units of any class, without the consent of the limited partners or our stockholders. Holders of limited partnership units do not have any preemptive rights with respect to the issuance of additional units.

Limited partners of any class do not have the right to participate in the management of the Operating Partnership. Limited partners of any class who do not participate in the management of the Operating Partnership, by virtue of their status as limited partners, generally are not liable for the debts and liabilities of the Operating Partnership beyond the amount of their capital contributions. The voting rights of the limited partners of any class are generally limited to approval of specific types of amendments to the Operating Partnership agreement.

OP Unit Classes

In general, the Class T units, Class T-1 units, Class T-2 units, Class S units, Class S-1 units, Class S-2 units, Class D units, Class D-1 units, Class D-2 units, Class I units, Class C units, Class F units, Class L units and Class L-2 units are intended to correspond on a one-for-one basis with our Class T shares, Class T-2 shares, Class S shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D shares, Class D-2 shares, Class I shares, Class C shares, Class F shares, Class L shares and Class L-2 shares (with and Class T-1 units corresponding on a one-for-one basis with our Class T-2 shares, Class S-1 units corresponding on a one-for-one basis with our Class S-2 shares and Class D-1 units corresponding on a one-for-one basis with our Class D-2 shares). When we receive proceeds from the sale of shares of our common stock, we will contribute such proceeds to the Operating Partnership and receive Operating Partnership units that correspond to the classes of our shares sold.

In general, each Operating Partnership unit will share in distributions from the Operating Partnership when such distributions are declared by us, the general partner, which decision will be made in our sole discretion. Upon the Operating Partnership's liquidation, each class of units (other than Class I units) will automatically convert to Class I units, in each case in proportion to the NAV per unit of each class, and the resulting Class I units will share on a unit-by-unit basis in the assets of the Operating Partnership that are available for distribution, after payment of all liabilities, establishment of reserves and after payment of any preferred return owed to holders of any limited partnership preferred units and payment of the portion distributable to the holder of the special limited partner interest. In addition, a portion of the items of income, gain, loss and deduction of the Operating Partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes will be allocated to each Operating Partnership unit, regardless of whether any distributions are made by the Operating Partnership.

The investor servicing fee payable with respect to a particular class of Operating Partnership units will be specially allocated to that class of Operating Partnership units. The amount of the ongoing investor servicing fee for a Class T-1 unit shall equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such outstanding Class T-1 unit, consisting of a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum, Class S-1 unit shall equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such outstanding Class S-1 unit, and the amount of the ongoing investor servicing fee for a Class D-1 unit shall equal 0.25% per annum of the NAV of such outstanding Class D-1 unit. Class T-1 units, Class S-1 units and Class D-1 units received in exchange for DST Interests in connection with the exercise of the FMV Option will automatically convert to Class I units in the event the aggregate selling commissions, dealer manager fees, and the investor servicing fee paid with respect to such Class T-1 units, Class S-1 units or Class D-1 units and the DST Interests for which such Operating Partnership units were exchanged reach a fee limit (if any) set forth in the applicable agreement between the DST Dealer Manager and the participating distribution agent that sold such DST Interests in a DST Offering.

For each Operating Partnership unit, investors generally are required to contribute money or property, with a net equity value determined by the general partner. Holders of Operating Partnership units are not obligated to make additional capital contributions to the Operating Partnership. Further, these holders do not have the right to make additional capital contributions to the Operating Partnership or to purchase additional Operating Partnership units without our consent as general partner.

The Adviser may elect to receive its management fee in cash, certain classes of shares of our common stock and Operating Partnership units, or any combination thereof, and distributions on the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation may be payable in cash, certain classes of Operating Partnership units, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. See "Compensation—Management Fee" and "—Special Limited Partner Interest" below.

The Adviser and the Special Limited Partner may exchange units for a corresponding number of certain classes of shares at any time. The Adviser and the Special Limited Partner will have the option of exchanging shares for an equivalent aggregate NAV amount of certain other classes of our shares and will have registration rights with respect to shares of our common stock. See "Description of Capital Stock—Registration Rights."

Class B Units

Class B units are available to certain suitable investors in private placements generally utilizing a "draw-down" structure. Class B Units are sold at their NAV per unit, which is equal to the NAV per Class I unit and generally corresponds to the NAV per share of our Class I shares of common stock. Each investor that subscribes with a commitment to purchase Class B units will purchase such units pursuant to capital call notices delivered by the Operating Partnership up to the maximum amount of the investor's capital commitment and, upon the purchase of any Class B units, will become a limited partner of the Operating Partnership.

Class B units are subject to the same fees and expenses of Class I units and do not have any preferential rights relative to our interest in the Operating Partnership, nor will they be exchangeable for any shares of our common stock. Holders of the Class B units have a right to redeem their units for cash in a manner similar to the ability of our stockholders to have their shares repurchased under our share repurchase plan. Class B unit redemptions are subject to the same limitations as share repurchases under our share repurchase plan, namely the Early Repurchase Deduction and limitations on monthly and quarterly repurchases (calculated on an aggregate basis with shares of our common stock submitted for repurchase for the applicable period). The redemption rights of the Class B unitholders do not affect the terms of the Company's share repurchase plan. Class B units have the same limited voting rights as the other Operating Partnership units and such rights do not affect the Company's exclusive power, as general partner of the Operating Partnership, to manage and conduct the business of the Operating Partnership.

Distributions on the Special Limited Partner's performance participation allocation may be payable in cash, Class I units or Class B units at the election of the Special Limited Partner. See "—Special Limited Partner Interest."

Class B units are not being offered to the public as part of this offering.

Special Limited Partner Interest

So long as the Advisory Agreement has not been terminated (including by means of non-renewal), the Special Limited Partner will hold a performance participation allocation in the Operating Partnership that entitles it to receive an allocation from our Operating Partnership equal to (i) 12.5% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T-1, Class S-1, Class D-1, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C and Class B units and (ii) 10% of the Total Return, subject to a 5% Hurdle Amount and a High Water Mark, with a Catch-Up with respect to Class L and Class L-2 units (each term as defined herein). Such allocation will be measured on a calendar year basis, made quarterly and accrued monthly. The performance participation allocation is not paid on the Class F units. We pay different performance participation allocation on certain classes of the Operating Partnership's units, and as a result, it is a class-specific expense.

Promptly following the end of each calendar quarter that is not also the end of a calendar year, the Special Limited Partner will be entitled to a performance participation allocation as described above calculated in respect of the portion of the year to date, less any performance participation allocation received with respect to prior quarters in that year (the "Quarterly Allocation"). The performance participation allocation that the Special Limited Partner is entitled to receive at the end of each calendar year will be reduced by the cumulative amount of Quarterly Allocations that year.

Specifically, the Special Limited Partner will be allocated a performance participation in an amount equal to:

- With respect to Class T-2 units, Class S-2 units, Class D-2 units, Class T-1 units, Class S-1 units, Class D-1 units, Class I units, Class T units, Class S units, Class D units, Class C units and Class B units:
    - First, if the Total Return for the applicable period exceeds the sum of (i) the Hurdle Amount for that period and (ii) the Loss Carryforward Amount (any such excess, "Excess Profits"), 100% of such Excess Profits until the total amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner equals 12.5% of the sum of (x) the Hurdle Amount for that period and (y) any amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner pursuant to this clause (this is commonly referred to as a "Catch-Up"); and
    - Second, to the extent there are remaining Excess Profits, 12.5% of such remaining Excess Profits.
- With respect to Class L units and Class L-2 units:
    - First, if the Total Return for the applicable period exceeds the sum, with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units, of (x) the Hurdle Amount for that period and (y) the Loss Carryforward Amount (any such excess, "Excess Profits"), 100% of such Excess Profits until the total amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units equals 10% of the sum of (A) the Hurdle Amount with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units for that period and (B) any amount allocated to the Special Limited Partner with respect to such relevant class of Operating Partnership units pursuant to this clause (this is commonly referred to as a "Catch-Up"); and
    - Second, to the extent there are remaining Excess Profits such relevant class of Operating Partnership units, 10% of such remaining Excess Profits.

"Total Return" for any period since the end of the prior calendar year shall equal the sum of:

(i) all distributions accrued or paid (without duplication) on the relevant Operating Partnership units outstanding at the end of such period since the beginning of the then-current calendar year, plus

(ii) the change in aggregate NAV of such Operating Partnership units since the beginning of the year, before giving effect to (x) changes resulting solely from the proceeds of issuances of additional Operating Partnership units, (y) any allocation/accrual to the performance participation allocation and (z) applicable stockholder servicing fee expenses (including any payments made to us for payment of such expenses) allocable to such Operating Partnership units.

For the avoidance of doubt, the calculation of Total Return will (i) include any appreciation or depreciation in the NAV of any relevant Operating Partnership units issued during the then-current calendar year but (ii) exclude the proceeds from the initial issuance of such Operating Partnership units. To the extent a class of Operating Partnership units has a different management fee than Class I units, the corresponding Total Return will be calculated separately.

"Hurdle Amount" for any period during a calendar year means that amount that results in a 5% annualized internal rate of return on the NAV of the relevant Operating Partnership units outstanding at the beginning of the then-current calendar year and all relevant Operating Partnership units issued since the beginning of the then-current calendar year, taking into account the timing and amount of all distributions accrued or paid (without duplication) on all such Operating Partnership units and all issuances of such Operating Partnership units over the period and calculated in accordance with recognized industry practices. The ending NAV of the such Operating Partnership units used in calculating the internal rate of return will be calculated before giving effect to any allocation/accrual to the performance participation allocation and applicable stockholder servicing fee expenses, provided that the calculation of the Hurdle Amount for any period will exclude any relevant Operating Partnership units repurchased during such period, which such Operating Partnership units will be subject to the performance participation allocation upon repurchase as described below. To the extent a class of Operating Partnership units has a different management fee than Class I units, the corresponding Hurdle Amount will be calculated separately.

Except as described in Loss Carryforward below, any amount by which Total Return falls below the Hurdle Amount will not be carried forward to subsequent periods.

"Loss Carryforward Amount" shall initially equal zero and shall cumulatively increase by the absolute value of any negative annual Total Return and decrease by any positive annual Total Return, provided that the Loss Carryforward Amount shall at no time be less than zero and provided further that the calculation of the Loss Carryforward Amount will exclude the Total Return related to any relevant Operating Partnership units repurchased during such year, which such Operating Partnership units will be subject to the performance participation allocation upon repurchase as described below. To the extent a class of Operating Partnership units has a different management fee than Class I units, the corresponding Loss Carryforward Amount will be calculated separately. The effect of the Loss Carryforward Amount is that the recoupment of past annual Total Return losses will offset the positive annual Total Return for purposes of the calculation of the Special Limited Partner's performance participation. This is referred to as a "High Water Mark."

The Special Limited Partner will also be allocated a performance participation with respect to all relevant Operating Partnership units that are repurchased at the end of any month (in connection with repurchases of our shares in our share repurchase plan) in an amount calculated as described above with the relevant period being the portion of the year for which such Operating Partnership units were outstanding, and proceeds for any such Operating Partnership unit repurchase will be reduced by the amount of any such performance participation.

If a Quarterly Allocation is made and at the end of a subsequent calendar quarter in the same calendar year the Special Limited Partner is entitled to less than the previously received Quarterly Allocation(s) (a "Quarterly Shortfall"), then subsequent distributions of any Quarterly Allocations or year-end Performance Allocations in that calendar year will be reduced by an amount equal to such Quarterly Shortfall, until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall remains. If all or any portion of a Quarterly Shortfall remains at the end of a calendar year following the application described in the previous sentence, distributions of any Quarterly Allocations and year-end Performance Allocations in the subsequent four calendar years will be reduced by (i) the remaining Quarterly Shortfall plus (ii) an annual rate of 5% on the remaining Quarterly Shortfall measured from the first day of the calendar year following the year in which the Quarterly Shortfall arose and compounded quarterly (collectively, the "Quarterly Shortfall Obligation") until such time as no Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains; provided, that the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) may make a full or partial cash payment to reduce the Quarterly Shortfall Obligation at any time; provided, further, that if any Quarterly Shortfall Obligation remains following such subsequent four calendar years, then the Special Limited Partner (or its affiliate) will promptly pay the Operating Partnership the remaining Quarterly Shortfall Obligation in cash.

Distributions on the performance participation allocation may be payable in cash, Class I units, Class C units, Class B units or Class F units (collectively, "SLP Performance Units") or any combination thereof, at the election of the Special Limited Partner. If the Special Limited Partner elects to receive such distributions in SLP Performance Units, the Special Limited Partner may request the Operating Partnership to repurchase such Operating Partnership units (including any units received in exchange for any SLP Performance Units) from the Special Limited Partner at a later date. The Operating Partnership will repurchase any such Operating Partnership units for the corresponding class of shares of our common stock or cash (at the Special Limited Partner's election) unless our board of directors determines that any such repurchase for cash would be prohibited by applicable law or the Operating Partnership's partnership agreement, in which case such Operating Partnership units will be repurchased for the corresponding class of shares of our common stock. Any such repurchase requests will not be subject to the Early Repurchase Deduction but will be subject to similar repurchase limits that exist under our share repurchase plan. The Operating Partnership will repurchase any such Class B units for cash subject to the applicable repurchase limits. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Special Limited Partner or its affiliates acquired as payment of the performance participation allocation will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended.

The NAV of the Operating Partnership calculated on the last trading day of a calendar year shall be the amount against which changes in NAV is measured during the subsequent calendar year. In our first calendar year of operations, the performance participation will be prorated for the portion of the calendar year.

The measurement of the foregoing net assets change is also subject to adjustment by our board of directors to account for any unit dividend, unit split, recapitalization or any other similar change in the Operating Partnership's capital structure or any distributions made after the commencement of this offering that the board of directors deems to be a return of capital (if such changes are not already reflected in the Operating Partnership's net assets).

Except as noted above with respect to Quarterly Allocations, the Special Limited Partner will not be obligated to return any portion of performance participation paid based on our subsequent performance.

Changes in our Operating Partnership's NAV per unit of each class will generally correspond to changes in our NAV per share of the corresponding class of our common stock. Distributions with respect to the performance participation allocation are calculated from the Operating Partnership's Total Return over a calendar year. As a result, the Special Limited Partner may be entitled to receive compensation under the performance participation for a given year even if some of our stockholders who purchased shares during such year experienced a decline in NAV per share. Similarly, stockholders whose shares are repurchased during a given year may have their shares repurchased at a lower NAV per share as a result of an accrual for the estimated performance participation at such time, even if no performance participation allocation for such year are ultimately payable to the Special Limited Partner at the end of such calendar year.

In the event the Advisory Agreement is terminated, the Special Limited Partner will be allocated any accrued performance participation with respect to all Operating Partnership units as of the date of such termination.

Issuance of Additional Limited Partnership Interests

As sole general partner of the Operating Partnership, we will have the ability to cause the Operating Partnership to issue additional limited partnership interests (including Operating Partnership units), preferred partnership interests or convertible securities. We have issued Operating Partnership units, and may issue more in the future.

Our Operating Partnership allows us to be organized as an UPREIT. A sale of property directly to a REIT is generally a taxable transaction to the selling property owner. In an UPREIT structure, a seller of appreciated property who desires to defer taxable gain on the transfer of such property may, subject to meeting applicable tax requirements, transfer the property to the Operating Partnership in exchange for limited partnership interests (including Operating Partnership units) on a tax-free basis. Being able to offer a seller the opportunity to defer taxation of gain until the seller disposes of its interest in the Operating Partnership may give us a competitive advantage in acquiring desired properties relative to buyers who cannot offer this opportunity.

Pursuant to the terms of the partnership agreement, the Operating Partnership may issue Operating Partnership units in exchange for DST Interests pursuant to the DST Program (in the event the Operating Partnership exercises the FMV Option in the future). Such Operating Partnership units may participate in the distribution reinvestment plan.

In addition, investing in the Operating Partnership, rather than in shares of our common stock, may be more attractive to certain institutional or other investors due to their business or tax structure.

Transferability of Interests

Without the consent of a majority in interest of the limited partners of the Operating Partnership, other than interests held by us, we may not voluntarily withdraw as the general partner of the Operating Partnership, engage in any merger, consolidation or other business combination or transfer our general partnership interest in the Operating Partnership (except to a wholly owned subsidiary), unless: (1) the transaction in which such withdrawal, business combination or transfer occurs results in the limited partners of the Operating Partnership receiving or having the right to receive an amount of cash, securities or other property equal in value to the amount they would have received if they had exercised their exchange rights immediately prior to such transaction or (2) in the case of a merger or other business combination, the successor entity contributes substantially all of its assets to the Operating Partnership in return for an interest in the Operating Partnership and agrees to assume all obligations of the general partner of the Operating Partnership.

With certain exceptions, the limited partners may not transfer their interests in the Operating Partnership, in whole or in part, without our written consent, as general partner.

Exculpation

We, as general partner, will not be liable to the Operating Partnership or limited partners for errors in judgment or other acts or omissions not amounting to willful misconduct or gross negligence since provision has been made in the partnership agreement for exculpation of the general partner. Therefore, purchasers of interests in the Operating Partnership have a more limited right of action than they would have absent the limitation in the partnership agreement.

Indemnification

The partnership agreement provides for the indemnification of us, as general partner, by the Operating Partnership for liabilities we incur in dealings with third parties on behalf of the Operating Partnership. To the extent that the indemnification provisions purport to include indemnification of liabilities arising under the Securities Act, in the opinion of the SEC, such indemnification is contrary to public policy and therefore unenforceable.

Tax Matters

We are the Operating Partnership's tax matters partner (and partnership representative, as applicable) and have the authority to make tax elections under the Code on the Operating Partnership's behalf.

Redemption Rights of Holders of Operating Partnership Units

The holders of Operating Partnership units of any class generally have the right (subject to certain terms and conditions) to exchange all or a portion of their Operating Partnership units. We, in our sole discretion, will choose to satisfy such redemption request with shares of the corresponding class of our common stock or cash. If we elect to redeem Operating Partnership units for shares of our common stock, we will generally deliver one share of our common stock for each such Operating Partnership unit redeemed (subject to any redemption fee withheld, if any), and such shares may, subsequently, only be redeemed for cash in accordance with the terms of our share repurchase plan. If we elect to redeem Operating Partnership units for cash, the cash delivered will equal the then-current NAV per unit of the applicable class of Operating Partnership units (subject to any redemption fee withheld, if any), which will equal the then-current NAV per share of our corresponding class of shares. In connection with the exercise of these redemption rights, a limited partner must make certain representations, including that the delivery of shares of our common stock upon redemption would not result in such limited partner owning shares in excess of the ownership limits in our charter.

Subject to the foregoing, holders of Operating Partnership units (other than us, the Adviser and the Special Limited Partner) may exercise their redemption rights at any time after one year; provided, however, that a holder of OP Unit Operating Partnership units may not exercise a redemption right for less than 1,000 Operating Partnership units, unless such holder holds less than 1,000 Operating Partnership units, in which case, it must exercise its redemption right for all of its Operating Partnership units.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following summary describes the material U.S. federal income tax considerations relating to the ownership of our common stock as of the date hereof by U.S. holders and non-U.S. holders, each as defined below. Except where noted, this summary deals only with common stock held as a capital asset and does not deal with special situations, such as those of dealers in securities or currencies, financial institutions, regulated investment companies, tax-exempt entities (except as described in "—Taxation of Tax-Exempt Holders of Our Common Stock" below), insurance companies, persons holding common stock as a part of a hedging, integrated, conversion or constructive sale transaction or a straddle, traders in securities that elect to use a mark-to-market method of accounting for their securities holdings, persons liable for alternative minimum tax, persons who are "foreign governments" within the meaning of Section 892 of the Internal Revenue Code, investors in pass-through entities or U.S. holders of common stock whose "functional currency" is not the U.S. dollar. Furthermore, the discussion below is based upon the provisions of the Code and regulations, rulings and judicial decisions thereunder as of the date hereof, and such authorities may be repealed, revoked or modified, possibly with retroactive effect, so as to result in U.S. federal income tax consequences different from those discussed below. No ruling on the U.S. federal, state, or local tax considerations relevant to our operation or to the purchase, ownership or disposition of our common stock has been requested from the IRS or other tax authority. No assurance can be given that the IRS would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the tax consequences described below. The summary is also based upon the assumption that we and our subsidiaries and affiliated entities will operate in accordance with our and their applicable organizational documents.

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of holders of our common stock depends in some instances on determinations of fact and interpretations of complex provisions of U.S. federal income tax law for which no clear precedent or authority may be available. In addition, the tax consequences to any particular stockholder of holding our common stock will depend on the stockholder's particular tax circumstances. You are urged to consult your own tax advisors concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences in light of your particular situation as well as consequences arising under the laws of any other taxing jurisdiction.

Our Taxation as a REIT

We elected to be taxed as a REIT under the Code commencing with our taxable year ended December 31, 2017. We believe that we have been organized and have operated and will continue to operate in such a manner as to qualify for taxation as a REIT under the applicable provisions of the Code so long as our board of directors determines that REIT qualification remains in our best interest.

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP rendered an opinion, dated July 18, 2025, that, commencing with our initial taxable year ended December 31, 2017, we had organized in conformity with the requirements for qualification as a REIT under the Code, and our actual and proposed method of operation had enabled and would enable us to meet the requirements for qualification and taxation as a REIT under the Code. Investors should be aware that the opinion of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP was based upon customary assumptions, is conditioned upon certain representations made by us as to factual matters, including representations regarding the nature of our assets, income, organizational documents, stockholder ownership, and the present and future conduct of our business and is not binding upon the IRS or any court. We have not received, and do not intend to seek, any rulings from the IRS regarding our status as a REIT or our satisfaction of the REIT requirements. The IRS may challenge our status as a REIT, and a court could sustain any such challenge. In addition, the opinion of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP was based on U.S. federal income tax law governing qualification as a REIT in effect as of the date thereof, which is subject to change either prospectively or retroactively. Moreover, our qualification and taxation as a REIT depend upon our ability to meet on a continuing basis, through actual annual operating results, certain qualification tests set forth in the U.S. federal tax laws. Those qualification tests involve the percentage of income that we earn from specified sources, the percentage of our assets that falls within specified categories, the diversity of the ownership of our shares, and the percentage of our taxable income that we distribute. Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP will not review our compliance with those tests on a continuing basis. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that our actual results of operations for any particular taxable year will satisfy such requirements. For a discussion of the tax consequences of our failure to qualify as a REIT, see "—Failure to Qualify."

The sections of the Code and the corresponding regulations that govern the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a REIT and its stockholders are highly technical and complex. The following discussion is qualified in its entirety by the applicable Code provisions, rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and administrative interpretations thereof.

Taxation of REITs in General

As indicated above, our qualification and taxation as a REIT depends upon our ability to meet, on a continuing basis, various qualification requirements imposed upon REITs by the Code. The material qualification requirements are summarized below under "—Requirements for Qualification as a REIT." While we intend to operate so that we qualify as a REIT, no assurance can be given that the IRS will not challenge our qualification, or that we will be able to operate in accordance with the REIT requirements in the future. See "—Failure to Qualify."

Provided that we qualify as a REIT, generally we will be entitled to a deduction for dividends that we pay and therefore will not be subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax on our net taxable income that is currently distributed to our stockholders. This treatment substantially eliminates the "double taxation" at the corporate and stockholder levels that generally results from an investment in a C corporation (i.e., a corporation generally subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax). Double taxation means taxation once at the corporate level when income is earned and once again at the stockholder level when the income is distributed. In general, the income that we generate, to the extent declared as a dividend and subsequently paid to our stockholders, is taxed only at the stockholder level.

If we qualify as a REIT, we will nonetheless be subject to U.S. federal tax in the following circumstances:

- We will pay U.S. federal income tax on our taxable income, including net capital gain, that we do not distribute to stockholders during, or within a specified time after, the calendar year in which the income is earned.

- If we have net income from "prohibited transactions," which are, in general, sales or other dispositions of property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, other than foreclosure property, such income will be subject to a 100% tax.

- If we elect to treat property that we acquire in connection with a foreclosure of a mortgage loan or from certain leasehold terminations as "foreclosure property," we may thereby avoid (a) the 100% tax on gain from a resale of that property (if the sale would otherwise constitute a prohibited transaction) and (b) the inclusion of any income from such property not qualifying for purposes of the REIT gross income tests discussed below, but the income from the sale or operation of the property may be subject to U.S. corporate income tax at the highest applicable rate.

- If due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect we fail to satisfy either the 75% gross income test or the 95% gross income test discussed below, but nonetheless maintain our qualification as a REIT because other requirements are met, we will be subject to a 100% tax on the greater of the amount by which we fail the 75% gross income test or the 95% gross income test, multiplied in either case by a fraction intended to reflect our profitability.

- If (i) we fail to satisfy the asset tests (other than a de minimis failure of the 5% asset test or the 10% vote or value test, as described below under "—Asset Tests") due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, (ii) we dispose of the assets or otherwise comply with such asset tests within six months after the last day of the quarter in which we identify such failure and (iii) we file a schedule with the IRS describing the assets that caused such failure, we will pay a tax equal to the greater of $50,000 or the net income from the nonqualifying assets during the period in which we failed to satisfy such asset tests multiplied by the highest corporate tax rate.

- If we fail to satisfy one or more requirements for REIT qualification, other than the gross income tests and the asset tests, and the failure was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, we will be required to pay a penalty of $50,000 for each such failure.

- We may be required to pay monetary penalties to the IRS in certain circumstances, including if we fail to meet recordkeeping requirements intended to monitor our compliance with rules relating to the composition of a REIT's stockholders, as described below in "—Requirements for Qualification as a REIT."
- If we fail to distribute during each calendar year at least the sum of:
  - 85% of our ordinary income for such calendar year;
  - 95% of our capital gain net income for such calendar year; and
  - any undistributed taxable income from prior taxable years, we will pay a 4% nondeductible excise tax on the excess of the required distribution over the amount we actually distributed, plus any retained amounts on which income tax has been paid at the corporate level.

- We may elect to retain and pay income tax on our net long-term capital gain. In that case, a U.S. holder would include its proportionate share of our undistributed long-term capital gain (to the extent we make a timely designation of such gain to the stockholder) in its income, and would receive a credit or a refund for its proportionate share of the tax we paid.
- We will be subject to a 100% excise tax on amounts received by us from a taxable REIT subsidiary (or on certain expenses deducted by a taxable REIT subsidiary) if certain arrangements between us and a taxable REIT subsidiary of ours, as further described below, are not comparable to similar arrangements among unrelated parties.
- If we acquire any assets from a non-REIT C corporation in a carry-over basis transaction, we could be liable for specified tax liabilities inherited from that non-REIT C corporation with respect to that corporation's "built-in gain" in its assets. Built-in gain is the amount by which an asset's fair market value exceeds its adjusted tax basis at the time we acquire the asset. Applicable Treasury regulations, however, allow us to avoid the recognition of gain and the imposition of corporate-level tax with respect to a built-in gain asset acquired in a carry-over basis transaction from a non-REIT C corporation unless and until we dispose of that built-in gain asset during the 5-year period following its acquisition, at which time we would recognize, and would be subject to tax at the highest regular corporate rate on, the built-in gain.

In addition, notwithstanding our status as a REIT, we may also have to pay certain state and local income taxes, because not all states and localities treat REITs in the same manner that they are treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Moreover, as further described below, any domestic taxable REIT subsidiary in which we own an interest will be subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax on its net income.

Requirements for Qualification as a REIT. The Code defines a REIT as a corporation, trust or association:

(1) that is managed by one or more trustees or directors;

(2) the beneficial ownership of which is evidenced by transferable shares, or by transferable certificates of beneficial interest;

(3) that would be taxable as a domestic corporation, but for its election to be subject to tax as a REIT;

(4) that is neither a financial institution nor an insurance company subject to certain provisions of the Code;

(5) the beneficial ownership of which is held by 100 or more persons;

(6) of which not more than 50% in value of the outstanding shares are owned, directly or indirectly, by five or fewer individuals (as defined in the Code to include certain entities) after applying certain attribution rules;

(7) that makes an election to be a REIT for the current taxable year or has made such an election for a previous taxable year, which has not been terminated or revoked; and

(8) that meets other tests described below regarding the nature of its income and assets.

Conditions (1) through (4), inclusive, must be met during the entire taxable year. Condition (5) must be met during at least 335 days of a taxable year of 12 months, or during a proportionate part of a taxable year of less than 12 months other than the first taxable year for which an election to become a REIT is made. Condition (6) must be met during the last half of each taxable year, but neither conditions (5) nor (6) apply to the first taxable year for which an election to become a REIT is made. We believe that we will maintain sufficient diversity of ownership to allow us to satisfy conditions (5) and (6) above. In addition, our charter contains restrictions regarding the ownership and transfer of our stock that are intended to assist us in continuing to satisfy the share ownership requirements described in (5) and (6) above. The provisions of our charter restricting the ownership and transfer of our stock are described in "Description of Capital Stock—Restrictions on Ownership and Transfer." These restrictions, however, may not ensure that we will be able to satisfy these share ownership requirements. If we fail to satisfy these share ownership requirements, we will fail to qualify as a REIT.

If we comply with regulatory rules pursuant to which we are required to send annual letters to holders of our stock requesting information regarding the actual ownership of our stock (as discussed below), and we do not know, or exercising reasonable diligence would not have known, whether we failed to meet requirement (6) above, we will be treated as having met the requirement.

To monitor compliance with the share ownership requirements, we generally are required to maintain records regarding the actual ownership of our shares. To do so, we must demand written statements each year from the record holders of significant percentages of our stock pursuant to which the record holders must disclose the actual owners of the shares (i.e., the persons required to include our dividends in their gross income). We must maintain a list of those persons failing or refusing to comply with this demand as part of our records. We could be subject to monetary penalties if we fail to comply with these record-keeping requirements. If you fail or refuse to comply with the demands, you will be required by Treasury regulations to submit a statement with your tax return disclosing your actual ownership of our shares and other information. In addition, we must satisfy all relevant filing and other administrative requirements established by the IRS to elect and maintain REIT status, use a calendar year for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and comply with the record keeping requirements of the Code and regulations promulgated thereunder.

Ownership of Partnership Interests. In the case of a REIT that is a partner in an entity that is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, Treasury regulations provide that the REIT is deemed to own its proportionate share of the partnership's assets and to earn its proportionate share of the partnership's gross income based on its pro rata share of capital interests in the partnership for purposes of the asset and gross income tests applicable to REITs, as described below. However, solely for purposes of the 10% value test described below (see "—Asset Tests"), the determination of a REIT's interest in a partnership's assets will be based on the REIT's proportionate interest in any securities issued by the partnership, excluding for these purposes, certain excluded securities as described in the Code. In addition, the assets and gross income of the partnership generally are deemed to retain the same character in the hands of the REIT. Thus, our proportionate share of the assets and items of income of partnerships in which we own an equity interest is treated as assets and items of income of our company for purposes of applying the REIT requirements described below. Consequently, to the extent that we directly or indirectly hold a preferred or other equity interest in a partnership, the partnership's assets and operations may affect our ability to qualify as a REIT, even though we may have no control or only limited influence over the partnership.

Disregarded Subsidiaries. If a REIT owns a corporate subsidiary that is a "qualified REIT subsidiary," the separate existence of that subsidiary is disregarded for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Generally, a qualified REIT subsidiary is a corporation, other than a taxable REIT subsidiary, all of the stock of which is owned directly or indirectly by the REIT. Other entities that are wholly-owned by us, including single member limited liability companies that have not elected to be taxed as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes, are also generally disregarded as separate entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, including for purposes of the REIT income and asset tests. All assets, liabilities and items of income, deduction and credit of qualified REIT subsidiaries and disregarded subsidiaries will be treated as assets, liabilities and items of income, deduction and credit of the REIT itself. A qualified REIT subsidiary of ours is not subject to U.S. federal corporate income taxation, although it may be subject to state and local taxation in some states.

In the event that a qualified REIT subsidiary or a disregarded subsidiary ceases to be wholly owned by us (for example, if any equity interest in the subsidiary is acquired by a person other than us or another disregarded subsidiary of us), the subsidiary's separate existence would no longer be disregarded for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Instead, it would have multiple owners and would be treated as either a partnership or a taxable corporation. Such an event could, depending on the circumstances, adversely affect our ability to satisfy the various asset and gross income tests applicable to REITs, including the requirement that REITs generally may not own, directly or indirectly, more than 10% of the value or voting power of the outstanding securities of another corporation. See "—Asset Tests" and "—Income Tests."

Taxable REIT Subsidiaries. A "taxable REIT subsidiary" is an entity that is taxable as a corporation in which we directly or indirectly own stock and that elects with us to be treated as a taxable REIT subsidiary. The separate existence of a taxable REIT subsidiary is not ignored for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, a domestic taxable REIT subsidiary generally is subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax on its earnings, which may reduce the cash flow that we and our subsidiaries generate in the aggregate, and may reduce our ability to make distributions to our stockholders. In addition, if a taxable REIT subsidiary owns, directly or indirectly, securities representing 35% or more of the vote or value of a subsidiary corporation, that subsidiary will also be treated as a taxable REIT subsidiary. However, an entity will not qualify as a taxable REIT subsidiary if it directly or indirectly operates or manages a lodging or health care facility or, generally, provides to another person, under a franchise, license or otherwise, rights to any brand name under which any lodging facility or health care facility is operated. We generally may not own more than 10%, as measured by voting power or value, of the securities of a corporation that is not a qualified REIT subsidiary unless we and such corporation elect to treat such corporation as a taxable REIT subsidiary. Overall, no more than 25% of the value of a REIT's assets may consist of stock or securities of one or more taxable REIT subsidiaries.

Income earned by a taxable REIT subsidiary is not attributable to the REIT. Rather, the stock issued by a taxable REIT subsidiary to us is an asset in our hands, and we treat dividends paid to us from such taxable REIT subsidiary, if any, as income. This income can affect our income and asset tests calculations, as described below. As a result, income that might not be qualifying income for purposes of the income tests applicable to REITs could be earned by a taxable REIT subsidiary without affecting our status as a REIT. For example, we may use taxable REIT subsidiaries to perform services or conduct activities that give rise to certain categories of income such as management fees, or to conduct activities that, if conducted by us directly, would be treated in our hands as prohibited transactions.

Several provisions of the Code regarding the arrangements between a REIT and its taxable REIT subsidiaries ensure that a taxable REIT subsidiary will be subject to an appropriate level of U.S. federal income taxation. For example, a taxable REIT subsidiary is limited in its ability to deduct interest payments made to affiliated REITs. In addition, we would be obligated to pay a 100% penalty tax on some payments that we receive from, or on certain expenses deducted by, a taxable REIT subsidiary if the IRS were to assert successfully that the economic arrangements between us and a taxable REIT subsidiary are not comparable to similar arrangements among unrelated parties.

Deductions are disallowed for business interest expense (even if paid to third parties) in excess of the sum of a taxpayer's business interest income and 30% of the adjusted taxable income of the business, which is its taxable income computed without regard to business interest income or expense, depreciation, amortization, depletion, net operating losses or the pass-through income deduction. Such limitations may also impact the amount of U.S. federal income tax paid by any of our taxable REIT subsidiaries.

Income Tests

To qualify as a REIT, we must satisfy two gross income requirements, each of which is applied on an annual basis. First, at least 75% of our gross income, excluding gross income from prohibited transactions and certain hedging and foreign currency transactions, for each taxable year generally must be derived directly or indirectly from:

- rents from real property;
- interest on debt secured by mortgages on real property or on interests in real property;

- dividends or other distributions on, and gain from the sale of, stock in other REITs;
- gain from the sale of real property or mortgage loans;
- abatements and refunds of taxes on real property;
- income and gain derived from foreclosure property (as described below);
- amounts (other than amounts the determination of which depends in whole or in part on the income or profits of any person) received or accrued as consideration for entering into agreements (i) to make loans secured by mortgages on real property or on interests in real property or (ii) to purchase or lease real property (including interests in real property and interests in mortgages on real property); and
- interest or dividend income from investments in stock or debt instruments attributable to the temporary investment of new capital during the one-year period following our receipt of new capital that we raise through equity offerings or public offerings of debt obligations with at least a five-year term.

Second, at least 95% of our gross income, excluding gross income from prohibited transactions and certain hedging transactions, for each taxable year must be derived from sources that qualify for purposes of the 75% test, and from (i) dividends, (ii) interest and (iii) gain from the sale or disposition of stock or securities, which need not have any relation to real property.

If we fail to satisfy one or both of the 75% and 95% gross income tests for any taxable year, we may nevertheless qualify as a REIT for that year if we are entitled to relief under the Code. These relief provisions generally will be available if our failure to meet the tests is due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect, and we attach a schedule of the sources of our income to our U.S. federal income tax return. It is not possible, however, to state whether in all circumstances we would be entitled to the benefit of these relief provisions. For example, if we fail to satisfy the gross income tests because nonqualifying income that we intentionally recognize exceeds the limits on nonqualifying income, the IRS could conclude that the failure to satisfy the tests was not due to reasonable cause. If these relief provisions are inapplicable to a particular set of circumstances, we will fail to qualify as a REIT. Even if these relief provisions apply, a penalty tax would be imposed based on the amount of nonqualifying income. See "— Taxation of REITs in General."

Gross income from our sale of property that we hold primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business is excluded from both the numerator and the denominator in both gross income tests. In addition, certain foreign currency gains will be excluded from gross income for purposes of one or both of the gross income tests. We will monitor the amount of our nonqualifying income, and we will manage our portfolio to comply at all times with the gross income tests. The following paragraphs discuss some of the specific applications of the gross income tests to us.

Dividends. We may directly or indirectly receive distributions from taxable REIT subsidiaries or other corporations that are not REITs or qualified REIT subsidiaries. These distributions generally are treated as dividend income to the extent of earnings and profits of the distributing corporation. Our dividend income from stock in any corporation (other than any REIT), including any taxable REIT subsidiary, will be qualifying income for purposes of the 95% gross income test, but not the 75% gross income test. Dividends that we receive from any REITs in which we own stock and our gain on the sale of the stock in those REITs will be qualifying income for purposes of both gross income tests. However, if a REIT in which we own stock fails to qualify as a REIT in any year, our income from such REIT would be qualifying income for purposes of the 95% gross income test, but not the 75% gross income test.

Interest. The term "interest," as defined for purposes of both gross income tests, generally excludes any amount that is based in whole or in part on the income or profits of any person; however, it generally includes the following: (i) an amount that is received or accrued based on a fixed percentage or percentages of receipts or sales, and (ii) an amount that is based on the income or profits of a debtor, as long as the debtor derives substantially all of its income from the real property securing the debt by leasing substantially all of its interest in the property, and only to the extent that the amounts received by the debtor would be qualifying "rents from real property" if received directly by a REIT.

Interest on debt secured by mortgages on real property or on interests in real property (including, for this purpose, prepayment penalties, loan assumption fees and late payment charges that are not compensation for services) generally is qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test. However, if the highest principal amount of a loan outstanding during a taxable year exceeds the fair market value of the real property securing the loan as of the date we agreed to originate or acquire the loan, a portion of the interest income from such loan will not be qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test but will be qualifying income for purposes of the 95% gross income test. The portion of the interest income that will not be qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test will be equal to the portion of the principal amount of the loan that is not secured by real property —that is, the amount by which the loan exceeds the value of the real estate that is security for the loan.

We expect that the CMBS and RMBS in which we invest generally will be treated either as interests in a grantor trust or as interests in a real estate mortgage investment conduit ("REMIC") for U.S. federal income tax purposes and that all interest income from such CMBS and RMBS will be qualifying income for the 95% gross income test. In the case of CMBS and RMBS treated as interests in grantor trusts, we would be treated as owning an undivided beneficial ownership interest in the mortgage loans held by the grantor trust. The interest on such mortgage loans would be qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test to the extent that the obligation is secured by real property, as discussed above. In the case of CMBS and RMBS treated as interests in a REMIC, income derived from REMIC interests will generally be treated as qualifying income for purposes of the 75% and 95% gross income tests. If less than 95% of the assets of the REMIC are real estate assets, however, then only a proportionate part of our interest in the REMIC and income derived from the interest will qualify for purposes of the 75% gross income test. In addition, some REMIC securitizations include imbedded interest swap or cap contracts or other derivative instruments that potentially could produce nonqualifying income for the holder of the related REMIC securities.

Interest, original issue discount and market discount income that we receive or accrue from mortgage-related assets generally will be qualifying income for purposes of both gross income tests.

Hedging Transactions. We and our subsidiaries may enter into hedging transactions with respect to one or more of our assets or liabilities. Hedging transactions could take a variety of forms, including interest rate swap agreements, interest rate cap agreements, options, futures contracts, forward rate agreements or similar financial instruments. Except to the extent provided by Treasury regulations, any income from a hedging transaction we enter into (i) in the normal course of our business primarily to manage risk of interest rate or price changes or currency fluctuations with respect to borrowings made or to be made, or ordinary obligations incurred or to be incurred, to acquire or carry real estate assets, which is clearly identified as a hedge along with the risk that it hedges within prescribed time periods specified in Treasury regulations, (ii) primarily to manage risk of currency fluctuations with respect to any item of income or gain that would be qualifying income under the 75% or 95% income tests which is clearly identified as a hedge along with the risk that it hedges within prescribed time periods, or (iii) in connection with the effective termination of certain hedging transactions described above will be excluded from gross income for purposes of both the 75% or 95% gross income tests. To the extent that we enter into other types of hedging transactions, the income from those transactions is likely to be treated as nonqualifying income for purposes of both of the 75% and 95% gross income tests. Moreover, to the extent that a position in a hedging transaction has positive value at any particular point in time, it may be treated as an asset that does not qualify for purposes of the asset tests described below. We intend to structure any hedging transactions in a manner that does not jeopardize our qualification as a REIT. No assurance can be given, however, that our hedging activities will not give rise to income or assets that do not qualify for purposes of the REIT tests, or that our hedging will not adversely affect our ability to satisfy the REIT qualification requirements.

We may conduct some or all of our hedging activities through a taxable REIT subsidiary or other corporate entity, the income of which may be subject to U.S. federal income tax, rather than by participating in the arrangements directly or through pass-through subsidiaries.

Fee Income. Any fee income that we earn will generally not be qualifying income for purposes of either gross income test. Any fees earned by a taxable REIT subsidiary will not be included for purposes of the gross income tests.

Rents from Real Property. Rents we receive will qualify as "rents from real property" in satisfying the gross income requirements for a REIT described above only if several conditions described below are met. These conditions relate to the identity of the tenant, the computation of the rent payable, and the nature of the property leased and any services provided in connection with the property. First, the amount of rent must not be based in whole or in part on the income or profits of any person. However, an amount received or accrued generally will not be excluded from rents from real property solely by reason of being based on a fixed percentage or percentages of receipts or sales. Second, rents we receive from a "related party tenant" will not qualify as rents from real property in satisfying the gross income tests unless the tenant is a taxable REIT subsidiary, at least 90% of the property is leased to unrelated tenants, the rent paid by the taxable REIT subsidiary is substantially comparable to the rent paid by the unrelated tenants for comparable space and the rent is not attributable to an increase in rent due to a modification of a lease with a "controlled taxable REIT subsidiary" (i.e., a taxable REIT subsidiary in which we own directly or indirectly more than 50% of the voting power or value of the stock). A tenant is a related party tenant if the REIT, or an actual or constructive owner of 10% or more of the REIT, actually or constructively owns 10% or more of the tenant. Whether rents paid by a taxable REIT subsidiary are substantially comparable to rents paid by other tenants is determined at the time the lease with the taxable REIT subsidiary is entered into, extended, or modified, if such modification increases the rents due under such lease. Third, if rent attributable to personal property leased in connection with a lease of real property is greater than 15% of the total rent received under the lease, then the portion of rent attributable to the personal property will not qualify as rents from real property. Finally, for rents to qualify as "rents from real property" for purposes of the gross income tests, we are only allowed to provide services that are both usually or "customarily rendered" in connection with the rental of real property and not otherwise considered "rendered to the occupant" of the property. Examples of these permitted services include the provision of light, heat, or other utilities, trash removal and general maintenance of common areas. We may, however, render services to our tenants through an "independent contractor" who is adequately compensated and from whom we do not derive revenue if certain requirements are satisfied. We may also own an interest in a taxable REIT subsidiary which provides non-customary services to tenants without tainting our rental income from the related properties.

Even if a REIT furnishes or renders services that are non-customary with respect to a property, if the greater of (i) the amounts received or accrued, directly or indirectly, or deemed received by the REIT with respect to such services, or (ii) 150% of our direct cost in furnishing or rendering the services during a taxable year is not more than 1% of all amounts received or accrued, directly or indirectly, by the REIT with respect to the property during the same taxable year, then only the amounts with respect to such non-customary services are not treated as rent for purposes of the REIT gross income tests.

We intend to cause any services that are not usually or "customarily rendered," or that are for the benefit of a particular tenant in connection with the rental of real property, to be provided through a taxable REIT subsidiary or through an "independent contractor" who is adequately compensated and from which we do not derive revenue, and which meets certain other requirements. However, no assurance can be given that the IRS will concur with our determination as to whether a particular service is usual or customary, or otherwise in this regard.

Prohibited Transactions Tax. A REIT will incur a 100% tax on the net income derived from any sale or other disposition of property, other than foreclosure property, that the REIT holds primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business. Whether a REIT holds an asset primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business depends, however, on the facts and circumstances in effect from time to time, including those related to a particular asset. Nevertheless, we intend to conduct our operations so that no asset that we own (or are treated as owning) will be treated as, or as having been, held for sale to customers, and that a sale of any such asset will not be treated as having been in the ordinary course of our business. We cannot assure you that we will comply with certain safe harbor provisions or that we will avoid owning property that may be characterized as property that we hold primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business. The 100% tax will not apply to gains from the sale of property that is held through a taxable REIT subsidiary or other taxable corporation, although such income will be subject to tax in the hands of such corporation at regular corporate income tax rates. We intend to structure our activities to avoid prohibited transaction characterization.

Foreclosure Property. Foreclosure property is any real property, including interests in real property, and any personal property incident to such real property:

- that is acquired by a REIT as the result of the REIT having bid in such property at foreclosure, or having otherwise reduced such property to ownership or possession by agreement or process of law, after there was a default or default was imminent on a lease of such property or on indebtedness that such property secured;
- for which the related loan was acquired by the REIT at a time when the default was not imminent or anticipated; and
- for which the REIT makes a proper election to treat the property as foreclosure property.

However, a REIT will not be considered to have foreclosed on a property where the REIT takes control of the property as a mortgagee-in-possession and cannot receive any profit or sustain any loss except as a creditor of the mortgagor.

Property generally ceases to be foreclosure property at the end of the third taxable year following the taxable year in which the REIT acquired the property, or longer if an extension is granted by the Secretary of the Treasury. This grace period terminates and foreclosure property ceases to be foreclosure property on the first day:

- on which a lease is entered into for the property that, by its terms, will give rise to income that does not qualify for purposes of the 75% gross income test, or any amount is received or accrued, directly or indirectly, pursuant to a lease entered into on or after such day that will give rise to income that does not qualify for purposes of the 75% gross income test;
- on which any construction takes place on the property, other than completion of a building or any other improvement, if more than 10% of the construction was completed before default became imminent; or
- which is more than 90 days after the day on which the REIT acquired the property and the property is used in a trade or business that is conducted by the REIT, other than through an independent contractor from whom the REIT itself does not derive or receive any income.

We will be subject to tax at the maximum corporate rate on any income from foreclosure property, including gain from the disposition of the foreclosure property, other than income that otherwise would be qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test, less expenses directly connected with the production of that income. However, net income from foreclosure property, including gain from the sale of foreclosure property held for sale in the ordinary course of a trade or business, will qualify for purposes of the 75% and 95% gross income tests. Any gain from the sale of property for which a foreclosure property election has been made will not be subject to the 100% tax on gains from prohibited transactions described above, even if the property would otherwise constitute inventory or dealer property.

Phantom Income. Due to the nature of the assets in which we will invest, we may be required to recognize taxable income from certain assets in advance of our receipt of cash flow from or proceeds from disposition of such assets, and may be required to report taxable income that exceeds the economic income ultimately realized on such assets.

We may acquire debt instruments in the secondary market for less than their face amount. The amount of such discount generally will be treated as "market discount" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accrued market discount is reported as income when, and to the extent that, any payment of principal of the debt instrument is made, unless we elect to include accrued market discount in income as it accrues. Principal payments on certain debt instruments may be made monthly, and consequently accrued market discount may have to be included in income each month as if the debt instrument were assured of ultimately being collected in full. If we collect less on the debt instrument than our purchase price plus the market discount we had previously reported as income, we may not be able to benefit from any offsetting loss deductions.

The terms of the debt instruments that we hold may be modified under certain circumstances. These modifications may be considered "significant modifications" for U.S. federal income tax purposes that give rise to a deemed debt-for-debt exchange upon which we may recognize taxable income or gain without a corresponding receipt of cash.

Some of the debt securities that we acquire may have been issued with original issue discount. In general, we will be required to accrue non-de minimis original issue discount based on the constant yield to maturity of such debt securities, and to treat it as taxable income in accordance with applicable U.S. federal income tax rules even though such yield may exceed cash payments, if any, received on such debt instrument.

In addition, in the event that any debt instruments or debt securities acquired by us are delinquent as to mandatory principal and interest payments, or in the event payments with respect to a particular debt instrument are not made when due, we may nonetheless be required to continue to recognize the unpaid interest as taxable income. Similarly, we may be required to accrue interest income with respect to subordinated mortgage-backed securities at the stated rate regardless of whether corresponding cash payments are received.

Finally, we may be required under the terms of indebtedness that we incur to use cash received from interest payments to make principal payments on that indebtedness, with the effect of recognizing income but not having a corresponding amount of cash available for distribution to our stockholders.

As a result of each of these potential timing differences between income recognition or expense deduction and cash receipts or disbursements, there is a risk that we may have taxable income in excess of cash available for distribution. In that event, we may need to borrow funds or take other action to satisfy the REIT distribution requirements for the taxable year in which this "phantom income" is recognized. See "—Annual Distribution Requirements Applicable to REITs."

Asset Tests

At the close of each quarter of our taxable year, we must satisfy the following tests relating to the nature of our assets:

- At least 75% of the value of our total assets must be represented by the following:
    - interests in real property, including leaseholds and options to acquire real property and leaseholds;
    - interests in mortgages on real property;
    - stock in other REITs and debt instruments issued by publicly offered REITs;
    - cash and cash items (including certain receivables);
    - government securities;
    - investments in stock or debt instruments attributable to the temporary investment of new capital during the one-year period following our receipt of new capital that we raise through equity offerings or public offerings of debt obligations with at least a five-year term; and
    - regular or residual interests in a REMIC. However, if less than 95% of the assets of a REMIC consists of assets that are qualifying real estate-related assets under U.S. federal income tax laws, determined as if we held such assets directly, we will be treated as holding directly our proportionate share of the assets of such REMIC.
- Not more than 25% of our total assets may be represented by securities, other than those in the 75% asset class described above.
- Except for securities in taxable REIT subsidiaries and the securities in the 75% asset class described in the first bullet point above, the value of any one issuer's securities owned by us may not exceed 5% of the value of our total assets.

- Except for securities in taxable REIT subsidiaries and the securities in the 75% asset class described in the first bullet point above, we may not own more than 10% of any one issuer's outstanding voting securities.
- Except for securities of taxable REIT subsidiaries and the securities in the 75% asset class described in the first bullet point above, we may not own more than 10% of the total value of the outstanding securities of any one issuer, other than securities that qualify for the "straight debt" exception or other exceptions discussed below.
- Not more than 25% of the value of our total assets may be represented by the securities of one or more taxable REIT subsidiaries.
- Not more than 25% of the value of our total assets may be represented by nonqualified publicly offered REIT debt instruments.

Notwithstanding the general rule, as noted above, that for purposes of the REIT income and asset tests we are treated as owning our proportionate share of the underlying assets of a subsidiary partnership, if we hold indebtedness issued by a partnership, the indebtedness will be subject to, and may cause a violation of, the asset tests unless the indebtedness is a qualifying mortgage asset or other conditions are met. Similarly, although stock of another REIT is a qualifying asset for purposes of the REIT asset tests, any non-mortgage debt that is issued by another REIT may not so qualify (although such debt will not be treated as "securities" for purposes of the 10% value test, as explained below).

Securities, for purposes of the asset tests, may include debt we hold from other issuers. However, debt we hold in an issuer that does not qualify for purposes of the 75% asset test will not be taken into account for purposes of the 10% value test if the debt securities meet the straight debt safe harbor. Subject to certain exceptions, debt will meet the "straight debt" safe harbor if the debt is a written unconditional promise to pay on demand or on a specified date a sum certain in money, the debt is not convertible, directly or indirectly, into stock, and the interest rate and the interest payment dates of the debt are not contingent on the profits of any person, the borrower's discretion or similar factors. In the case of an issuer that is a corporation or a partnership, securities that otherwise would be considered straight debt will not be so considered if we, and any of our "controlled taxable REIT subsidiaries" as defined in the Code, hold any securities of the corporate or partnership issuer that (a) are not straight debt or other excluded securities (prior to the application of this rule), and (b) have an aggregate value greater than 1% of the issuer's outstanding securities (including, in the case of a partnership issuer, our interest as a partner in the partnership).

In addition to straight debt, the Code provides that certain other securities will not violate the 10% asset test. Such securities include (i) any loan made to an individual or an estate, (ii) certain rental agreements pursuant to which one or more payments are to be made in subsequent years (other than agreements between a REIT and certain persons related to the REIT under attribution rules), (iii) any obligation to pay rents from real property, (iv) securities issued by governmental entities that are not dependent in whole or in part on the profits of (or payments made by) a non-governmental entity, (v) any security (including debt securities) issued by another REIT and (vi) any debt instrument issued by a partnership if the partnership's income is of such a nature that the partnership would satisfy the 75% gross income test described above under "—Income Tests." In applying the 10% asset test, a debt security issued by a partnership (other than straight debt or any other excluded security) is not taken into account to the extent, if any, of the REIT's proportionate interest as a partner in that partnership.

Any stock that we hold or acquire in other REITs will be a qualifying asset for purposes of the 75% asset test. However, if a REIT in which we own stock fails to qualify as a REIT in any year, the stock in such REIT will not be a qualifying asset for purposes of the 75% asset test. Instead, we would be subject to the second, third, fourth, and fifth asset tests described above with respect to our investment in such a disqualified REIT. We will also be subject to those assets tests with respect to our investments in any non-REIT C corporations for which we do not make a taxable REIT subsidiary election.

We will monitor the status of our assets for purposes of the various asset tests and will seek to manage our portfolio to comply at all times with such tests. There can be no assurances, however, that we will be successful in this effort. Appraisals performed by independent third-party appraisal firms may not have been obtained to support our conclusions as to the value of our total assets or the value of any particular security or securities. Moreover, the values of some assets may not be susceptible to a precise determination, and values are subject to change in the future. Furthermore, the proper classification of an instrument as debt or equity for U.S. federal income tax purposes may be uncertain in some circumstances, which could affect the application of the REIT asset requirements. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the IRS will not contend that our interests in our subsidiaries or in the securities of other issuers will not cause a violation of the REIT asset tests.

However, certain relief provisions are available to allow REITs to satisfy the asset requirements or to maintain REIT qualification notwithstanding certain violations of the asset and other requirements. For example, if we failed to satisfy the asset tests at the end of a calendar quarter, such a failure would not cause us to lose our REIT qualification if (i) we satisfied the asset tests at the close of the preceding calendar quarter and (ii) the discrepancy between the value of our assets and the asset requirements was not wholly or partly caused by an acquisition of nonqualifying assets, but instead arose from changes in the relative market values of our assets. If the condition described in (ii) were not satisfied, we could nevertheless avoid disqualification by eliminating any discrepancy within 30 days after the close of the calendar quarter in which it arose or by making use of the relief provisions described above.

In the case of de minimis violations of the 10% and 5% asset tests, a REIT may maintain its qualification despite a violation of such requirements if (i) the value of the assets causing the violation does not exceed the lesser of 1% of the REIT's total assets and $10,000,000 and (ii) the REIT either disposes of the assets causing the failure within six months after the last day of the quarter in which it identifies the failure, or the relevant tests are otherwise satisfied within that time frame.

Even if we did not qualify for the foregoing relief provisions, one additional provision allows a REIT which fails one or more of the asset requirements for a particular tax quarter to nevertheless maintain its REIT qualification if (i) the REIT provides the IRS with a description of each asset causing the failure, (ii) the failure is due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect, (iii) the REIT pays a tax equal to the greater of (a) $50,000 per failure and (b) the product of the net income generated by the assets that caused the failure multiplied by the highest applicable corporate tax rate and (iv) the REIT either disposes of the assets causing the failure within six months after the last day of the quarter in which it identifies the failure, or otherwise satisfies the relevant asset tests within that time frame.

Annual Distribution Requirements Applicable to REITs

To qualify for taxation as a REIT, we generally must distribute dividends (other than capital gain dividends) to our stockholders in an amount at least equal to:

- the sum of (i) 90% of our REIT taxable income, computed without regard to the dividends paid deduction and our net capital gain and (ii) 90% of our net income after tax, if any, from foreclosure property; minus
- the excess of the sum of specified items of non-cash income (including original issue discount on our mortgage loans) over 5% of our REIT taxable income, computed without regard to the dividends paid deduction and our net capital gain.

Distributions generally must be made during the taxable year to which they relate. Distributions may be made in the following year in two circumstances. First, if we declare a dividend in October, November or December of any year with a record date in one of these months and pay the dividend on or before January 31 of the following year, we will be treated as having paid the dividend on December 31 of the year in which the dividend was declared. Second, distributions may be made in the following year if the dividends are declared before we timely file our tax return for the year and if made before the first regular dividend payment made after such declaration. These distributions are taxable to our stockholders in the year in which paid, even though the distributions relate to our prior taxable year for purposes of the 90% distribution requirement. To the extent that we do not distribute all of our net capital gain or we distribute at least 90%, but less than 100% of our REIT taxable income, as adjusted, we will be subject to tax on the undistributed amount at regular corporate tax rates.

To the extent that in the future we may have available net operating losses carried forward from prior tax years, such losses may reduce the amount of distributions that we must make in order to comply with the REIT distribution requirements. Such losses, however, will generally not affect the tax treatment to our stockholders of any distributions that are actually made.

If we fail to distribute during a calendar year (or, in the case of distributions with declaration and record dates falling in the last three months of the calendar year, by the end of January following such calendar year) at least the sum of (i) 85% of our ordinary income for such year, (ii) 95% of our capital gain net income for such year and (iii) any undistributed taxable income from prior years, we will be subject to a 4% excise tax on the excess of such required distribution over the sum of (x) the amounts actually distributed (taking into account excess distributions from prior years) and (y) the amounts of income retained on which we have paid corporate income tax.

Although several types of non-cash income are excluded in determining the annual distribution requirement, we will incur corporate income tax and the 4% nondeductible excise tax with respect to those non-cash income items if we do not distribute those items on a current basis. As a result of the foregoing, we may not have sufficient cash to distribute all of our taxable income and thereby avoid corporate income tax and the excise tax imposed on certain undistributed income. In such a situation, we may need to borrow funds or issue additional stock.

We may elect to retain rather than distribute all or a portion of our net capital gains and pay the tax on the gains. In that case, we may elect to have our stockholders include their proportionate share of the undistributed net capital gains in income as long-term capital gains and receive a credit for their share of the tax paid by us. Our stockholders would then increase the adjusted basis of their stock by the difference between (i) the amounts of capital gain dividends that we designated and that they include in their taxable income, minus (ii) the tax that we paid on their behalf with respect to that income. For purposes of the 4% excise tax described above, any retained amounts for which we elect this treatment would be treated as having been distributed.

We intend to make timely distributions sufficient to satisfy the distribution requirements. However, it is possible that, from time to time, we may not have sufficient cash or other liquid assets to meet the distribution requirements due to timing differences between the actual receipt of income and actual payment of deductible expenses, and the inclusion of items of income and deduction of expenses by us for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In addition, we may decide to retain our cash, rather than distribute it, in order to repay debt, acquire assets or for other reasons. In the event that such timing differences occur, and in other circumstances, it may be necessary in order to satisfy the distribution requirements to arrange for short-term, or possibly long-term, borrowings, or to pay the dividends in the form of other property (including, for example, shares of our own stock).

If our taxable income for a particular year is subsequently determined to have been understated, under some circumstances we may be able to rectify a failure to meet the distribution requirement for a year by paying deficiency dividends to stockholders in a later year, which may be included in our deduction for dividends paid for the earlier year. Thus, we may be able to avoid being taxed on amounts distributed as deficiency dividends. However, we will be required to pay interest based upon the amount of any deduction taken for deficiency dividends.

Like-Kind Exchanges

We may dispose of properties in transactions intended to qualify as like-kind exchanges under the Code. Such like-kind exchanges are intended to result in the deferral of gain for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The failure of any such transaction to qualify as a like-kind exchange could require us to pay U.S. federal income tax, possibly including the 100% prohibited transaction tax, depending on the facts and circumstances surrounding the particular transaction.

Penalty Tax

Any redetermined rents, redetermined deductions, excess interest or redetermined taxable REIT subsidiary service income we generate will be subject to a 100% penalty tax. In general, redetermined rents are rents from real property that are overstated as a result of any services furnished to any of our tenants by a taxable REIT subsidiary, and redetermined deductions and excess interest represent any amounts that are deducted by a taxable REIT subsidiary for amounts paid to us that are in excess of the amounts that would have been deducted based on arm's-length negotiations. Rents that we receive will not constitute redetermined rents if they qualify for certain safe harbor provisions contained in the Code. Redetermined taxable REIT subsidiary service income is income earned by a taxable REIT subsidiary that is attributable to services provided to us, or on our behalf to any of our tenants, that is less than the amounts that would have been charged based upon arms' length negotiations.

Record Keeping Requirements

We are required to comply with applicable record keeping requirements. Failure to comply could result in monetary fines. For example, we must request on an annual basis information from our stockholders designed to disclose the actual ownership of our outstanding common stock.

Failure to Qualify

If we fail to satisfy one or more requirements of REIT qualification, other than the income tests or asset requirements, then we may still retain REIT qualification if the failure is due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect, and we pay a penalty of $50,000 for each failure.

If we fail to qualify for taxation as a REIT in any taxable year and the relief provisions do not apply, we will be subject to tax on our taxable income as a corporation. This would significantly reduce both our cash available for distribution to our stockholders and our earnings. If we fail to qualify as a REIT, we will not be required to make any distributions to stockholders and any distributions that are made will not be deductible by us. Moreover, all distributions to stockholders would be taxable as dividends to the extent of our current and accumulated earnings and profits, whether or not attributable to capital gains of ours. Furthermore, subject to certain limitations in the Code, corporate distributees may be eligible for the dividends received deduction with respect to those distributions, and individual, trust and estate distributees may be eligible for reduced U.S. federal income tax rates on such dividends. Unless we are entitled to relief under specific statutory provisions, we also will be disqualified from taxation as a REIT for the four taxable years following the year during which qualification was lost.

Tax Aspects of Our Operating Partnership and any Subsidiary Partnerships

General. Substantially all of our assets will be held through our Operating Partnership. In addition, our Operating Partnership may hold certain investments indirectly through subsidiary partnerships and limited liability companies which are treated as partnerships or disregarded entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In general, entities that are treated as partnerships or disregarded entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes are "pass-through" entities which are not required to pay U.S. federal income tax. Rather, partners or members of such entities are allocated their shares of the items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit of the partnership or limited liability company, and are potentially required to pay tax on this income, without regard to whether they receive a distribution from the partnership or limited liability company. A partner in such entities that is a REIT will include in its income its share of these partnership and limited liability company items for purposes of the various gross income tests, the computation of its REIT taxable income, and the REIT distribution requirements. Pursuant to these rules, for purposes of the asset tests, we will include our pro rata share of assets held by our Operating Partnership, including our share of its subsidiary partnerships and limited liability companies, based on its capital interest in each such entity.

Entity Classification. Our interests in the Operating Partnership and the subsidiary partnerships and limited liability companies involve special tax considerations, including the possibility that the IRS might challenge the status of these entities as partnerships (or disregarded entities), as opposed to associations taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes. For example, an entity that would otherwise be classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes may nonetheless be taxable as a corporation if it is a "publicly traded partnership" and certain other requirements are met. A partnership or limited liability company would be treated as a publicly traded partnership if its interests are traded on an established securities market or are readily tradable on a secondary market or a substantial equivalent thereof, within the meaning of applicable Treasury regulations. If our Operating Partnership or a subsidiary partnership or limited liability company were treated as an association rather than as a partnership, it would be taxable as a corporation and would be required to pay an entity-level tax on its income. In this situation, the character of our assets and items of gross income would change and could prevent us from qualifying as a REIT. See "—Failure to Qualify" for a discussion of the effects of our failure to meet the REIT asset and income tests. In addition, a change in the tax status of our Operating Partnership, a subsidiary partnership or limited liability company might be treated as a taxable event. If so, we might incur a tax liability without any related cash distributions. We do not anticipate that our Operating Partnership or any subsidiary partnership or limited liability company will be treated as a publicly traded partnership which is taxable as a corporation.

Under the rules for U.S. federal income tax audits of partnerships, such as our Operating Partnership or any subsidiary partnerships or limited liability companies treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes, audits will continue to be conducted at the entity level, but unless such entity qualifies for and affirmatively elects an alternative procedure, any adjustments to the amount of tax due (including interest and penalties) will be payable by the entity itself. Under an alternative procedure, if elected, a partnership would issue information returns to persons who were partners in the audited year, who would then be required to take such adjustments into account in calculating their own tax liability, and the partnership would not be liable for the adjustments. If any of the Operating Partnership or our subsidiary partnerships or limited liability companies is able to and in fact elects the alternative procedure for a given adjustment, the amount of taxes for which such persons will be liable will be increased by any applicable penalties and a special interest charge. There can be no assurance that any such entities will be eligible to make such an election or will, in fact, make such an election for any given adjustment.

Allocations of Income, Gain, Loss and Deduction. A partnership agreement (or, in the case of a limited liability company treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the limited liability company agreement) will generally determine the allocation of partnership income and loss among partners. Generally, Section 704(b) of the Code and the Treasury regulations thereunder require that partnership allocations respect the economic arrangement of the partners. If an allocation of partnership income or loss does not comply with the requirements of Section 704(b) of the Code and the Treasury regulations thereunder, the item subject to the allocation will be reallocated in accordance with the partners' interests in the partnership. This reallocation will be determined by taking into account all of the facts and circumstances relating to the economic arrangement of the partners with respect to such item. Our Operating Partnership's allocations of taxable income and loss are intended to comply with the requirements of Section 704(b) of the Code and the Treasury regulations thereunder.

Tax Allocations with Respect to the Properties. Under Section 704(c) of the Code, income, gain, loss and deduction attributable to appreciated or depreciated property that is contributed to a partnership (including a limited liability company treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) in exchange for an interest in the partnership must be allocated in a manner so that the contributing partner is charged with the unrealized gain, or benefits from the unrealized loss, associated with the property at the time of the contribution, as adjusted from time to time. The amount of the unrealized gain or unrealized loss generally is equal to the difference between the fair market value or book value and the adjusted tax basis of the contributed property at the time of contribution (this difference is referred to as a book-tax difference), as adjusted from time to time. These allocations are solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes and do not affect the book capital accounts or other economic or legal arrangements among the partners.

Appreciated property may be contributed to our Operating Partnership in exchange for Operating Partnership units in connection with future acquisitions. The partnership agreement requires that allocations be made in a manner consistent with Section 704(c) of the Code. Treasury regulations issued under Section 704(c) of the Code provide partnerships with a choice of several methods of accounting for book-tax differences. Any book-tax differences will be accounted for using any method approved under Section 704(c) of the Code and the applicable Treasury regulations as chosen by the general partner under the partnership agreement. Any property acquired by our Operating Partnership in a taxable transaction will initially have a tax basis equal to its fair market value, and Section 704(c) of the Code will not apply.

Taxation of U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock

U.S. Holder. As used in the remainder of this discussion, the term "U.S. holder" means a beneficial owner of our common stock that is for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- a citizen or resident of the United States;

- a corporation (or an entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any State thereof or the District of Columbia;
- an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or
- a trust if it (i) is subject to the primary supervision of a court within the United States and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (ii) has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person.

If a partnership (or an entity treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) holds our common stock, the tax treatment of a partner will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. If you are a partner of a partnership holding common stock, you should consult your advisors. A "non-U.S. holder" is a beneficial owner of our common stock that is neither a U.S. holder nor a partnership (or an entity treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes).

Distributions Generally. As long as we qualify as a REIT, distributions made by us to our taxable U.S. holders out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits that are not designated as capital gain dividends or "qualified dividend income" will be taken into account by them as ordinary income taxable at ordinary income tax rates and will not qualify for the reduced capital gains rates that currently generally apply to distributions by non-REIT C corporations to certain non-corporate U.S. holders. In determining the extent to which a distribution constitutes a dividend for tax purposes, our earnings and profits will be allocated first to distributions with respect to our preferred stock, if any, and then to our common stock. Corporate stockholders will not be eligible for the dividends received deduction with respect to these distributions. U.S. holders that are individuals, trusts and estates generally may deduct 20% of "qualified REIT dividends" (i.e., REIT dividends other than capital gain dividends and portions of REIT dividends designated as qualified dividend income eligible for capital gain tax rates). The overall deduction is limited to 20% of the sum of the taxpayer's taxable income (less net capital gain) and certain cooperative dividends, subject to further limitations based on taxable income. The deduction, if allowed in full, equates to a maximum effective U.S. federal income tax rate on ordinary REIT dividends of 29.6%.

Distributions in excess of both current and accumulated earnings and profits will not be taxable to a U.S. holder to the extent that the distributions do not exceed the adjusted basis of the holder's stock. Rather, such distributions will reduce the adjusted basis of the stock. To the extent that distributions exceed the adjusted basis of a U.S. holder's stock, the U.S. holder generally must include such distributions in income as long-term capital gain if the shares have been held for more than one year, or short-term capital gain if the shares have been held for one year or less.

Distributions will generally be taxable, if at all, in the year of the distribution. However, if we declare a dividend in October, November or December of any year with a record date in one of these months and pay the dividend on or before January 31 of the following year, we will be treated as having paid the dividend, and the stockholder will be treated as having received the dividend, on December 31 of the year in which the dividend was declared.

We will be treated as having sufficient earnings and profits to treat as a dividend any distribution we pay up to the amount required to be distributed in order to avoid imposition of the 4% excise tax discussed above. Moreover, any "deficiency dividend" will be treated as an ordinary or capital gain dividend, as the case may be, regardless of our earnings and profits. As a result, U.S. holders may be required to treat certain distributions that would otherwise result in a tax-free return of capital as taxable dividends.

Capital Gain Dividends. We may elect to designate distributions of our net capital gain as "capital gain dividends" to the extent that such distributions do not exceed our actual net capital gain for the taxable year. Capital gain dividends are taxed to U.S. holders of our stock as gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than one year. This tax treatment applies regardless of the period during which the stockholders have held their stock. If we designate any portion of a dividend as a capital gain dividend, the amount that will be taxable to the stockholder as capital gain will be indicated to U.S. holders on IRS Form 1099-DIV. Corporate stockholders, however, may be required to treat up to 20% of capital gain dividends as ordinary income. Capital gain dividends are not eligible for the dividends received deduction for corporations.

Instead of paying capital gain dividends, we may elect to require stockholders to include our undistributed net capital gains in their income. If we make such an election, U.S. holders (i) will include in their income as long-term capital gains their proportionate share of such undistributed capital gains and (ii) will be deemed to have paid their proportionate share of the tax paid by us on such undistributed capital gains and thereby receive a credit or refund to the extent that the tax paid by us exceeds the U.S. holder's tax liability on the undistributed capital gain. A U.S. holder of our stock will increase the basis in its stock by the difference between the amount of capital gain included in its income and the amount of tax it is deemed to have paid. A U.S. holder that is a corporation will appropriately adjust its earnings and profits for the retained capital gain in accordance with Treasury regulations to be prescribed by the IRS. Our earnings and profits will be adjusted appropriately.

We must classify portions of our designated capital gain dividend into the following categories:

- a 20% gain distribution, which would be taxable to non-corporate U.S. holders of our stock at a federal rate of up to 20%; or
- an unrecaptured Section 1250 gain distribution, which would be taxable to non-corporate U.S. holders of our stock at a maximum rate of 25%.

We must determine the maximum amounts that we may designate as 20% and 25% capital gain dividends by performing the computation required by the Code as if the REIT were an individual whose ordinary income were subject to a marginal tax rate of at least 28%. The IRS currently requires that distributions made to different classes of stock be comprised proportionately of dividends of a particular type.

Passive Activity Loss and Investment Interest Limitation. Distributions that we make and gains arising from the disposition of our common stock by a U.S. holder will not be treated as passive activity income, and therefore U.S. holders will not be able to apply any "passive activity losses" against such income. Dividends paid by us, to the extent they do not constitute a return of capital, will generally be treated as investment income for purposes of the investment income limitation on the deduction of the investment interest.

Qualified Dividend Income. Distributions that are treated as dividends may be taxed at capital gains rates, rather than ordinary income rates, if they are distributed to an individual, trust or estate, are properly designated by us as qualified dividend income and certain other requirements are satisfied. Dividends are eligible to be designated by us as qualified dividend income up to an amount equal to the sum of the qualified dividend income received by us during the year of the distribution from other C corporations such as taxable REIT subsidiaries, our "undistributed" REIT taxable income from the immediately preceding year, and any income attributable to the sale of a built-in gain asset from the immediately preceding year (reduced by any U.S. federal income taxes that we paid with respect to such REIT taxable income and built-in gain).

Dividends that we receive will be treated as qualified dividend income to us if certain criteria are met. The dividends must be received from a domestic corporation (other than a REIT or a regulated investment company) or a qualifying foreign corporation. A foreign corporation generally will be a qualifying foreign corporation if it is incorporated in a possession of the United States, the corporation is eligible for benefits of an income tax treaty with the United States which the Secretary of Treasury determines is satisfactory, or the stock on which the dividend is paid is readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States. However, if a foreign corporation is a passive foreign investment company, then it will not be treated as a qualifying foreign corporation, and the dividends we receive from such an entity would not constitute qualified dividend income.

Furthermore, certain exceptions and special rules apply to determine whether dividends may be treated as qualified dividend income to us. These rules include certain holding requirements that we would have to satisfy with respect to the stock on which the dividend is paid, and special rules with regard to dividends received from regulated investment companies and other REITs.

In addition, even if we designate certain dividends as qualified dividend income to our stockholders, the stockholder will have to meet certain other requirements for the dividend to qualify for taxation at capital gains rates. For example, the stockholder will only be eligible to treat the dividend as qualifying dividend income if the stockholder is taxed at individual rates and meets certain holding requirements. In general, in order to treat a particular dividend as qualified dividend income, a stockholder will be required to hold our stock for more than 60 days during the 121-day period beginning on the date which is 60 days before the date on which the stock becomes ex-dividend.

Other Tax Considerations. To the extent that we have available net operating losses and capital losses carried forward from prior tax years, such losses may reduce the amount of distributions that we must make in order to comply with the REIT distribution requirements. Such losses, however, are not passed through to stockholders and do not offset income of stockholders from other sources, nor would such losses affect the character of any distributions that we make, which are generally subject to tax in the hands of stockholders to the extent that we have current or accumulated earnings and profits.

Sales of Our Common Stock. Upon any taxable sale or other disposition of our common stock (except pursuant to a repurchase by us, as described below), a U.S. holder of our common stock will recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the difference between:

- the amount of cash and the fair market value of any property received on such disposition; and
- the U.S. holder's adjusted basis in such common stock for tax purposes.

Gain or loss will be capital gain or loss if the common stock has been held by the U.S. holder as a capital asset. The applicable tax rate will depend on the holder's holding period in the asset (generally, if an asset has been held for more than one year, it will produce long-term capital gain) and the holder's tax bracket.

In general, any loss upon a sale or exchange of our common stock by a U.S. holder who has held such stock for six months or less (after applying certain holding period rules) will be treated as a long-term capital loss, but only to the extent of distributions from us received by such U.S. holder that are required to be treated by such U.S. holder as long-term capital gains.

Repurchases of Our Common Stock. A repurchase of our common stock will be treated as a distribution in exchange for the repurchased shares and taxed in the same manner as any other taxable sale or other disposition of our common stock discussed above, provided that the repurchase satisfies one of the tests enabling the repurchase to be treated as a sale or exchange. A repurchase will generally be treated as a sale or exchange if it (i) results in a complete termination of the holder's interest in our common stock, (ii) results in a substantially disproportionate redemption with respect to the holder, or (iii) is not essentially equivalent to a dividend with respect to the holder. In determining whether any of these tests has been met, common stock actually owned, as well as common stock considered to be owned by the holder by reason of certain constructive ownership rules set forth in Section 318 of the Code, generally must be taken into account. The sale of common stock pursuant to a repurchase generally will result in a "substantially disproportionate" redemption with respect to a holder if the percentage of our then outstanding voting stock owned by the holder immediately after the sale is less than 80% of the percentage of our voting stock owned by the holder determined immediately before the sale. The sale of common stock pursuant to a repurchase generally will be treated as not "essentially equivalent to a dividend" with respect to a holder if the reduction in the holder's proportionate interest in our stock as a result of our repurchase constitutes a "meaningful reduction" of such holder's interest.

A repurchase that does not qualify as an exchange under such tests will constitute a dividend equivalent repurchase that is treated as a taxable distribution and taxed in the same manner as regular distributions, as described above under "—Distributions Generally." In addition, although guidance is sparse, the IRS could take the position that a holder who does not participate in any repurchase treated as a dividend should be treated as receiving a constructive distribution of our common stock taxable as a dividend in the amount of their increased percentage ownership of our common stock as a result of the repurchase, even though the holder did not actually receive cash or other property as a result of the repurchase.

Medicare Tax. Certain U.S. holders, including individuals and estates and trusts, are subject to an additional 3.8% Medicare tax on all or a portion of their "net investment income," which includes net gain from a sale or exchange of common stock and income from dividends paid on common stock. U.S. holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the Medicare tax.

Taxation of Non-U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock

The rules governing the U.S. federal income taxation of non-U.S. holders are complex. This section is only a summary of such rules. We urge non-U.S. holders to consult their own tax advisors to determine the impact of federal, state and local income tax laws on ownership of the common stock, including any reporting requirements.

Distributions. Distributions by us to a non-U.S. holder on our common stock that are neither attributable to gain from sales or exchanges by us of "U.S. real property interests" nor designated by us as capital gains dividends will be treated as dividends of ordinary income to the extent that they are made out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits. These distributions generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on a gross basis at a rate of 30%, or a lower rate as may be specified under an applicable income tax treaty, unless the dividends are treated as effectively connected with the conduct by the non-U.S. holder of a trade or business within the United States. Under some treaties, however, lower rates generally applicable to dividends do not apply to dividends from REITs. Further, reduced treaty rates are not available to the extent the income allocated to the non-U.S. holder is excess inclusion income. Dividends that are effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business within the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, are attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment) will be subject to tax on a net basis, that is, after allowance for deductions, at graduated rates, in the same manner as U.S. holders are taxed with respect to these dividends, and are generally not subject to withholding. Applicable certification and disclosure requirements must be satisfied to be exempt from withholding under the effectively connected income exception. Any dividends received by a corporate non-U.S. holder that is engaged in a trade or business within the United States may also be subject to an additional branch profits tax at a 30% rate, or lower applicable treaty rate.

A non-U.S. holder of our common stock who wishes to claim the benefit of an applicable treaty rate and avoid backup withholding, as discussed below, for our ordinary dividends will be required (i) to complete the applicable IRS Form W-8 and certify under penalty of perjury that such holder is not a U.S. person as defined under the Code and is eligible for treaty benefits or (ii) if our common stock is held through certain foreign intermediaries, to satisfy the relevant certification requirements of applicable Treasury regulations. Special certification and other requirements apply to certain non-U.S. holders that are pass-through entities rather than corporations or individuals.

A non-U.S. holder of our common stock eligible for a reduced rate of U.S. withholding tax pursuant to an income tax treaty may obtain a refund of any excess amounts withheld by timely filing an appropriate claim for refund with the IRS.

Distributions that are neither attributable to gain from sales or exchanges of "U.S. real property interests" nor designated as capital gains dividends and that are in excess of our current or accumulated earnings and profits that do not exceed the adjusted basis of the non-U.S. holder in its common stock will reduce the non-U.S. holder's adjusted basis in its common stock and will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax. Distributions that are neither attributable to gain from sales or exchanges of "U.S. real property interests" nor designated as capital gains dividends and that are in excess of current and accumulated earnings and profits that do exceed the adjusted basis of the non-U.S. holder in its common stock will be treated as gain from the sale of its stock, the tax treatment of which is described below under "—Sales of Our Common Stock." Because we generally cannot determine at the time we make a distribution whether or not the distribution will exceed our current and accumulated earnings and profits, we normally will withhold tax on the entire amount of any distribution at the same rate as we would withhold on a dividend.

We would be required to withhold at least 15% of any distribution to a non-U.S. holder in excess of our current and accumulated earnings and profits if our common stock constitutes a U.S. real property interest with respect to such non-U.S. holder, as described below under "—Sales of Our Common Stock." This withholding would apply even if a lower treaty rate otherwise applies or the non-U.S. holder is not liable for tax on the receipt of that distribution. However, a non-U.S. holder may seek a refund of these amounts from the IRS if the non-U.S. holder's U.S. tax liability with respect to the distribution is less than the amount withheld.

Distributions to a non-U.S. holder that are designated by us at the time of the distribution as capital gain dividends, other than those arising from the disposition of a U.S. real property interest, generally should not be subject to U.S. federal income taxation unless:

- The investment in the common stock is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business in the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment of the non-U.S. holder), in which case the non-U.S. holder will generally be subject to the same treatment as U.S. holders with respect to any gain, except that a holder that is a foreign corporation also may be subject to the 30% branch profits tax, as discussed above; or

- The non-U.S. holder is an individual who is present in the United States for 183 days or more during the taxable year of the distribution and has a "tax home" in the United States, in which case the individual will be subject to a 30% tax on the individual's capital gains.

Under the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980 ("FIRPTA"), distributions to a non-U.S. holder that are attributable to gain from sales or exchanges by us of U.S. real property interests, whether or not designated as capital gain dividends, will cause the non-U.S. holder to be treated as recognizing gain that is income effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. Non-U.S. holders will be taxed on this gain at the same rates applicable to U.S. holders, subject to a special alternative minimum tax in the case of nonresident alien individuals. Also, this gain may be subject to a 30% (or lower applicable treaty rate) branch profits tax in the hands of a non-U.S. holder that is a corporation. A distribution is not attributable to a U.S. real property interest if we held an interest in the underlying asset solely as a creditor.

We will be required to withhold and remit to the IRS the highest rate of U.S. federal income tax applicable to each non-U.S. holder, based on the status of such holder, of any distributions to non-U.S. holders that are designated as capital gain dividends, or, if greater, the highest rate of U.S. federal income tax applicable to each non-U.S. holder, based on the status of such holder, of a distribution that could have been designated as a capital gain dividend, whether or not attributable to sales of U.S. real property interests. Distributions can be designated as capital gain dividends to the extent of our net capital gain for the taxable year of the distribution. The amount withheld, which for individual non-U.S. holders may exceed the actual tax liability, is creditable against the non-U.S. holder's U.S. federal income tax liability.

However, the above withholding tax will not apply to any capital gain dividend with respect to (i) any class of our stock which is "regularly traded" on an established securities market located in the United States if the non-U.S. holder did not own more than 10% of such class of stock at any time during the one-year period ending on the date of such dividend or (ii) a "qualified shareholder" or a "withholding qualified holder." Instead, any capital gain dividend will be treated as a distribution subject to the rules discussed above under "—Distributions." Also, the branch profits tax would not apply to such a distribution. However, it is not anticipated that our common stock will be "regularly traded" on an established securities market.

Although the law is not clear on the matter, it appears that amounts we designate as undistributed capital gains in respect of the stock held by U.S. holders generally should be treated with respect to non-U.S. holders in the same manner as actual distributions by us of capital gain dividends. Under that approach, the non-U.S. holders would be able to offset as a credit against their U.S. federal income tax liability resulting therefrom their proportionate share of the tax paid by us on the undistributed capital gains, and to receive from the IRS a refund to the extent that their proportionate share of this tax paid by us were to exceed their actual U.S. federal income tax liability. If we were to designate a portion of our net capital gain as undistributed capital gain, a non-U.S. holder is urged to consult its tax advisor regarding the taxation of such undistributed capital gain.

Sales of Our Common Stock. Subject to the discussion below under "—Repurchases of Our Common Stock," gain recognized by a non-U.S. holder upon the sale or exchange of our stock generally would not be subject to U.S. taxation unless:

- the investment in our common stock is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business in the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a U.S.

permanent establishment of the non-U.S. holder), in which case the non-U.S. holder will be subject to the same treatment as domestic holders with respect to any gain;

- the non-U.S. holder is a nonresident alien individual who is present in the United States for 183 days or more during the taxable year and has a tax home in the United States, in which case the nonresident alien individual will be subject to a 30% tax on the individual's net capital gains for the taxable year; or
- the non-U.S. holder is not a qualified shareholder or a withholding qualified holder (each as defined below) and our common stock constitutes a U.S. real property interest within the meaning of FIRPTA, as described below.

We anticipate that our common stock will constitute a U.S. real property interest within the meaning of FIRPTA unless we are a domestically controlled REIT. We will be a domestically controlled REIT if, at all times during a specified testing period, less than 50% in value of our stock is held directly or indirectly by non-U.S. holders. No assurance can be given, however, that we are or will be a domestically controlled REIT at any time. You are urged to consult with your tax advisor regarding the application and impact of these rules.

Even if we were not a domestically controlled REIT, a sale of common stock by a non-U.S. holder would nevertheless not be subject to taxation under FIRPTA as a sale of a U.S. real property interest if:

- our common stock were "regularly traded" on an established securities market within the meaning of applicable Treasury regulations; and
- the non-U.S. holder did not actually, or constructively under specified attribution rules under the Code, own more than 10% of our common stock at any time during the shorter of the five-year period preceding the disposition or the holder's holding period.

However, it is not anticipated that our common stock will be "regularly traded" on an established securities market. If gain on the sale or exchange of our common stock were subject to taxation under FIRPTA, the non-U.S. holder would be subject to regular U.S. income tax with respect to any gain in the same manner as a taxable U.S. holder, subject to any applicable alternative minimum tax and special alternative minimum tax in the case of nonresident alien individuals. In such a case, under FIRPTA the purchaser of common stock may be required to withhold 15% of the purchase price and remit this amount to the IRS.

Qualified Shareholders. Subject to the exception discussed below, a qualified shareholder who holds our common stock directly or indirectly (through one or more partnerships) will not be subject to FIRPTA withholding on distributions by us or dispositions of our common stock. While a qualified shareholder will not be subject to FIRPTA withholding on distributions by us or dispositions of our common stock, certain investors of a qualified shareholder (i.e., non-U.S. persons who hold interests in the qualified shareholder (other than interests solely as a creditor), and hold more than 10% of our common stock (whether or not by reason of the investor's ownership in the qualified shareholder)) may be subject to FIRPTA withholding.

A qualified shareholder is a non-U.S. person that (i) either is eligible for the benefits of a comprehensive income tax treaty which includes an exchange of information program and whose principal class of interests is listed and regularly traded on one or more recognized stock exchanges (as defined in such comprehensive income tax treaty), or is a foreign partnership that is created or organized under foreign law as a limited partnership in a jurisdiction that has an agreement for the exchange of information with respect to taxes with the United States and has a class of limited partnership units representing greater than 50% of the value of all the partnership units that is regularly traded on the NYSE or NASDAQ markets, (ii) is a "qualified collective investment vehicle" (within the meaning of Section 897(k)(3)(B) of the Code), and (iii) maintains records on the identity of each person who, at any time during the foreign person's taxable year, is the direct owner of 5% or more of the class of interests or units (as applicable) described in (i), above.

Withholding Qualified Holders. Any distribution to a withholding qualified holder who holds our common stock directly or indirectly (through one or more partnerships) will not be subject to FIRPTA withholding on distributions by us or dispositions of our common stock.

Withholding qualified holders are not "foreign persons" for purposes of FIRPTA and are thus exempt from FIRPTA on their disposition of U.S. real property interests. Withholding qualified holders include (i) qualified holders and (ii) foreign partnerships all of the interests of which are held by qualified holders, including through one or more partnerships. Qualified holders include "qualified foreign pension funds" and "qualified controlled entities." Generally, a qualified foreign pension fund is a trust, corporation, or other organization or arrangement (i) which is created or organized under the law of a country other than the United States, (ii) which is established (a) by such country (or one or more political subdivisions thereof) to provide retirement or pension benefits to participants or beneficiaries that are current or former employees (including self-employed individuals) or persons designated by such employees, as a result of services rendered by such employees to their employers or (b) by one or more employers to provide retirement or pension benefits to participants or beneficiaries that are current or former employees (including self-employed individuals) or persons designated by such employees in consideration for services rendered by such employees to such employers, (iii) which does not have a single participant or beneficiary with a right to more than 5% of its assets or income, (iv) which is subject to government regulation and with respect to which annual information reporting about its beneficiaries is provided, or is otherwise available, to the relevant tax authorities in the country in which it is established or operates, and (v) with respect to which, under the laws of the country in which it is established or operates, (a) contributions to such organization or arrangement that would otherwise be subject to tax under such laws are deductible or excluded from the gross income of such entity or arrangement or taxed at a reduced rate, or (b) taxation of any investment income of such organization or arrangement is deferred or such income is excluded from the gross income of such entity or arrangement or is taxed at a reduced rate. Generally, a "qualified controlled entity" is a trust or corporation created or organized under the laws of a foreign jurisdiction all of the interests of which are held by one or more qualified foreign pension funds directly or indirectly through one or more qualified controlled entities.

We urge non-U.S. holders to consult their own tax advisers to determine their eligibility for exemption from FIRPTA withholding and their qualification as a qualified shareholder or a withholding qualified holder.

Repurchases of Our Common Stock. A repurchase of our common stock that is not treated as a sale or exchange will be taxed in the same manner as regular distributions under the rules described above. See "—Taxation of U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock—Repurchases of Our Common Stock" for a discussion of when a redemption will be treated as a sale or exchange and related matters.

A repurchase of our common stock generally will be subject to tax under FIRPTA to the extent the distribution in the repurchase is attributable to gains from our dispositions of U.S. real property interests. To the extent the distribution is not attributable to gains from our dispositions of U.S. real property interests, the excess of the amount of money received in the repurchase over the non-U.S. holder's basis in the repurchased shares will be treated in the manner described above under "—Sales of Our Common Stock." The IRS has released an official notice stating that repurchase payments may be attributable to gains from dispositions of U.S. real property interests (except when the 10% publicly traded exception would apply), but has not provided any guidance to determine when and what portion of a repurchase payment is a distribution that is attributable to gains from our dispositions of U.S. real property interests. Due to the uncertainty, we may withhold at the highest rate of U.S. federal income tax applicable to each non-U.S. holder, based on the status of such holder, from all or a portion of repurchase payments to non-U.S. holders other than qualified shareholders or qualified foreign pension funds. To the extent the amount of tax we withhold exceeds the amount of a non-U.S. holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, the non-U.S. holder may file a U.S. federal income tax return and claim a refund.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Returns. If a non-U.S. holder is subject to taxation under FIRPTA on proceeds from the sale of our common stock or on distributions we make, the non-U.S. holder will be required to file a U.S. federal income tax return. Prospective non-U.S. holders are urged to consult their tax advisors to determine the impact of U.S. federal, state, local and foreign income tax laws on their ownership of our common stock, including any reporting requirements.

Taxation of Tax-Exempt Holders of Our Common Stock

Provided that a tax-exempt holder has not held its common stock as "debt-financed property" within the meaning of the Code and our shares of stock are not being used in an unrelated trade or business, dividend income from us generally will not be unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") to a tax-exempt holder. Similarly, income from the sale of our common stock will not constitute UBTI unless the tax-exempt holder has held its common stock as debt-financed property within the meaning of the Code or has used the common stock in a trade or business.

Further, for a tax-exempt holder that is a social club, voluntary employee benefit association, or supplemental unemployment benefit trust exempt from U.S. federal income taxation under Sections 501(c)(7), (c)(9) and (c)(17) of the Code, respectively, or a single parent title-holding corporation exempt under Section 501(c)(2) the income of which is payable to any of the aforementioned tax-exempt organizations, income from an investment in our common stock will constitute UBTI unless the organization properly sets aside or reserves such amounts for purposes specified in the Code. These tax-exempt holders should consult their own tax advisors concerning these "set aside" and reserve requirements.

Notwithstanding the above, however, a portion of the dividends paid by a "pension-held REIT" are treated as UBTI as to any trust which is described in Section 401(a) of the Code, is tax-exempt under Section 501(a) of the Code, and holds more than 10%, by value, of the interests in the REIT. Tax-exempt pension funds that are described in Section 401(a) of the Code are referred to below as "pension trusts."

A REIT is a "pension-held REIT" if it meets the following two tests:

- it would not have qualified as a REIT but for Section 856(h)(3) of the Code, which provides that stock owned by pension trusts will be treated, for purposes of determining whether the REIT is closely held, as owned by the beneficiaries of the trust rather than by the trust itself; and
- either (i) at least one pension trust holds more than 25% of the value of the interests in the REIT, or (ii) a group of pension trusts each individually holding more than 10% of the value of the REIT's stock, collectively owns more than 50% of the value of the REIT's stock.

The percentage of any REIT dividend from a "pension-held REIT" that is treated as UBTI is equal to the ratio of the UBTI earned by the REIT, treating the REIT as if it were a pension trust and therefore subject to tax on UBTI, to the total gross income of the REIT. An exception applies where the percentage is less than 5% for any year, in which case none of the dividends would be treated as UBTI. The provisions requiring pension trusts to treat a portion of REIT distributions as UBTI will not apply if the REIT is not a "pension-held REIT" (for example, if the REIT is able to satisfy the "not closely held requirement" without relying on the "look through" exception with respect to pension trusts). Because of our charter's restrictions on the number of shares of our stock that a person may own, we do not anticipate that we will become a "pension-held REIT."

Distribution Reinvestment Plan

Holders who participate in the distribution reinvestment plan will recognize taxable income in the amount they would have received had they elected not to participate, even though they receive no cash. These deemed distributions will be treated as actual distributions from us to the participating holders and will retain the character and U.S. federal income tax effects applicable to all distributions. Stock received under the plan will have a holding period beginning with the day after purchase, and a U.S. federal income tax basis equal to its cost, which is the gross amount of the deemed distribution.

Backup Withholding Tax and Information Reporting

U.S. Holders of Common Stock. In general, information-reporting requirements will apply to payments of dividends and proceeds of the sale of our common stock held by U.S. holders, unless such U.S. holder is an exempt recipient. A backup withholding tax may apply to such payments if such U.S. holder fails to provide a taxpayer identification number or certification of other exempt status or fails to report in full dividend or interest income. In addition, we may be required to withhold a portion of capital gain distributions to any U.S. holders who fail to certify their U.S. status to us. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules will be allowed as a credit against your U.S. federal income tax liability, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Brokers that are required to report the gross proceeds from a sale of our common stock on IRS Form 1099-B will also be required to report the customer's adjusted basis in the common stock sold and whether any gain or loss with respect to such stock is long-term or short-term. In some cases, there may be alternative methods of determining the basis in the common stock sold, in which case your broker will apply a default method of its choosing if you do not indicate which method you choose to have applied. U.S. holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding these reporting requirements and their election options.

Non-U.S. Holders of Our Common Stock. We must report annually to the IRS and to each non-U.S. holder the amount of dividends paid to such holder and the tax withheld with respect to such dividends, regardless of whether withholding was required. Copies of the information returns reporting such dividends and withholding may also be made available to the tax authorities in the country in which the non-U.S. holder resides under the provisions of an applicable income tax treaty.

A non-U.S. holder will be subject to backup withholding for dividends paid to such holder unless such holder certifies under penalty of perjury that it is a non-U.S. holder (and the payor does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that such holder is a "United States person" as defined under the Code), or such holder otherwise establishes an exemption.

Information reporting and, depending on the circumstances, backup withholding will apply to the proceeds of a sale of our common stock within the United States or conducted through certain U.S.-related financial intermediaries, unless the beneficial owner certifies under penalty of perjury that it is a non-U.S. holder (and the payor does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the beneficial owner is a "United States person" as defined under the Code), or such owner otherwise establishes an exemption.

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules may be allowed as a refund or a credit against a non-U.S. holder's U.S. federal income tax liability provided the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Legislative or Other Actions Affecting REITs

The present U.S. federal income tax treatment of REITs may be modified, possibly with retroactive effect, by legislative, judicial or administrative action at any time. The REIT rules are constantly under review by persons involved in the legislative process and by the IRS and the Treasury, which may result in statutory changes as well as revisions to regulations and interpretations. Changes to the U.S. federal tax laws and interpretations thereof could adversely affect an investment in our common stock.

State and Local Taxes

We and our stockholders may be subject to state or local taxation in various state or local jurisdictions, including those in which we or they transact business or reside. Our state and local tax treatment and that of our stockholders may not conform to the U.S. federal income tax treatment discussed above. Consequently, prospective stockholders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the effect of state and local tax laws on an investment in our common stock.

Tax Shelter Reporting

If a stockholder recognizes a loss with respect to stock of $2 million or more for an individual stockholder or $10 million or more for a corporate stockholder, the stockholder must file a disclosure statement with the IRS on Form 8886. Direct stockholders of portfolio securities are in many cases exempt from this reporting requirement, but stockholders of a REIT currently are not excepted. The fact that a loss is reportable under these regulations does not affect the legal determination of whether the taxpayer's treatment of the loss is proper. Stockholders should consult their tax advisors to determine the applicability of these regulations in light of their individual circumstances.

Additional Withholding Requirements

Under Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (such Sections commonly referred to as "FATCA"), a 30% U.S. federal withholding tax may apply to any ordinary dividends and other distributions that we pay to (i) a "foreign financial institution" (as specifically defined in the Code) which does not provide sufficient documentation, typically on IRS Form W-8BEN-E, evidencing either (x) an exemption from FATCA, or (y) its compliance (or deemed compliance) with FATCA (which may alternatively be in the form of compliance with an intergovernmental agreement with the United States) in a manner that avoids withholding, or (ii) a "non-financial foreign entity" (as specifically defined in the Code) which does not provide sufficient documentation, typically on IRS Form W-8BEN-E, evidencing either (x) an exemption from FATCA, or (y) adequate information regarding certain substantial U.S. beneficial owners of such entity (if any). If a dividend payment is both subject to withholding under FATCA and subject to withholding tax discussed above, the withholding under FATCA may be credited against, and therefore reduce, such other withholding tax. Non-U.S. holders should consult their tax advisors to determine the applicability of this legislation in light of their individual circumstances.

CERTAIN ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of certain considerations associated with the purchase and holding of any class of our shares of common stock by a Plan.

General Fiduciary Matters

ERISA and the Code impose certain duties on persons who are fiduciaries of a Plan which is a Benefit Plan Investor and prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of a Benefit Plan Investor and its fiduciaries or other interested parties. Under ERISA and the Code, any person who exercises any discretionary authority or control over the administration of such a Benefit Plan Investor or the management or disposition of the assets of a Benefit Plan Investor, or who renders investment advice for a fee or other compensation to a Benefit Plan Investor, is generally considered to be a fiduciary of the Benefit Plan Investor. The term Benefit Plan Investor is generally defined to include (i) "employee benefit plans" within the meaning of Section 3(3) of ERISA that are subject to Title I of ERISA, (ii) "plans" within the meaning of Section 4975 of the Code to which Section 4975 of the Code applies (including, without limitation, "Keogh" plans and IRAs), and (iii) entities whose underlying assets include plan assets by reason of such an employee benefit plan or a plan's investment in such entity (e.g., an entity of which 25% or more of the total value of any class of equity interests is held by Benefit Plan Investors and which does not satisfy another exception under ERISA).

In considering an investment in any class of our shares of common stock of a portion of the assets of any Plan, a fiduciary should consider whether an investment in the shares is appropriate for the Plan, taking into account the provisions of the Plan documents, the overall investment policy of the Plan and the composition of the Plan's investment portfolio, as there are imposed on Plan fiduciaries certain fiduciary requirements, including those of investment prudence and diversification and the requirement that a Plan's investments be made in accordance with the documents governing the Plan. Further, a fiduciary should consider that in the future there may be no market in which such Plan would be able to sell or otherwise dispose of the shares.

Prohibited Transaction Issues

Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code prohibit Benefit Plan Investors from engaging in specified transactions involving plan assets with persons or entities who are "parties in interest," within the meaning of ERISA, or "disqualified persons," within the meaning of Section 4975 of the Code, unless an exemption is available. A party in interest or disqualified person who engaged in a non-exempt prohibited transaction may be subject to excise taxes and other penalties and liabilities under ERISA and the Code. In addition, the fiduciary of a Benefit Plan Investor that engaged in such a non-exempt prohibited transaction may be subject to penalties and liabilities under ERISA and the Code. The fiduciary of a Benefit Plan Investor that proposes to purchase or hold any shares should consider, among other things, whether such purchase and holding may involve the sale or exchange of any property between a Benefit Plan Investor and a party in interest or disqualified person, or the transfer to, or use by or for the benefit of, a party in interest or disqualified person, of any plan assets. Depending on the satisfaction of certain conditions which may include the identity of the Benefit Plan Investor fiduciary making the decision to acquire or hold the shares on behalf of a Benefit Plan Investor, Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption ("PTCE") 91-38 (relating to investments by bank collective investment funds), PTCE 84-14 (relating to transactions effected by a "qualified professional asset manager"), PTCE 95-60 (relating to investments by an insurance company general account), PTCE 96-23 (relating to transactions directed by an in-house asset manager) or PTCE 90-1 (relating to investments by insurance company pooled separate accounts) could provide an exemption from the prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code. However, there can be no assurance that any of the foregoing exemptions or any other class, administrative or statutory exemption will be available with respect to any particular transaction involving the shares. It is also possible that one of these exemptions could apply to some aspect of the acquisition or holding of such shares, but not apply to some other aspect of such acquisition or holding. Each of the above-noted exemptions contains conditions and limitations on its application. Fiduciaries of Benefit Plan Investors considering acquiring and/or holding our shares in reliance on these or any other exemption should carefully review the exemption in consultation with their legal advisors to assure it is applicable. There can be no assurance that all of the conditions of any such exemptions will be satisfied.

Plan Assets Issues

An additional issue concerns the extent to which we or all or a portion of our assets could themselves be treated as subject to the fiduciary responsibility and/or prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and the Code. ERISA and the Plan Assets Regulation concerns the definition of what constitutes the assets of a Benefit Plan Investor for purposes of the fiduciary responsibility and prohibited transaction provisions of Title I of ERISA and the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code.

Under ERISA and the Plan Assets Regulation, generally when a Benefit Plan Investor acquires an "equity interest" in an entity that is neither a "publicly offered security" (within the meaning of the Plan Assets Regulation) nor a security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act, the Benefit Plan Investor's assets include both the equity interest and an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the entity, unless it is established either that less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by Benefit Plan Investors (the "25% Test") or that the entity is an "operating company," each as defined in the Plan Assets Regulation. For purposes of the 25% Test, the assets of an entity will not be treated as "plan assets" if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of any equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by Benefit Plan Investors, excluding equity interests held by persons (other than Benefit Plan Investors) with discretionary authority or control over the assets of the entity or who provide investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, and any affiliates thereof.

We will not be an investment company under the Investment Company Act and there can be no assurance that Benefit Plan Investors will hold less than 25% of the total value of each class of our common stock at the completion of this offering or thereafter, and no monitoring or other measures will be undertaken with respect to the level of such ownership with respect to any class of our shares of common stock.

Publicly Offered Securities Exception

For purposes of the Plan Assets Regulation, a "publicly offered security" is defined as a security that is (a) "freely transferable," (b) part of a class of securities that is "widely held," and (c) (i) sold to the plan as part of an offering of securities to the public pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act and is part of a class of securities that is registered under the Exchange Act within 120 days after the end of the fiscal year of the issuer during which the offering of such securities to the public has occurred, or (ii) is part of a class of securities that is registered under Section 12(b) or 12(g) of the Exchange Act.

Operating Company Exception

The definition of an "operating company" in the Plan Assets Regulation includes, among other things, a VCOC. Generally, in order to qualify as a VCOC, an entity must demonstrate on its "initial valuation date" and on at least one day within each "annual valuation period," at least 50% of its assets, valued at cost (other than short-term investments pending long-term commitment or distribution to investors), are invested in operating companies (other than VCOCs) (i.e., operating entities that (x) are primarily engaged directly, or through a majority owned subsidiary or subsidiaries, in the production or sale of a product or service other than the investment of capital, or (y) qualify as "real estate operating companies," as defined in the Plan Assets Regulation) in which such entity has direct contractual management rights. In addition, to qualify as a VCOC, an entity must, in the ordinary course of its business, actually exercise such management rights with respect to at least one of the operating companies in which it invests. Similarly, the term "operating company" in the Plan Assets Regulation includes an entity that qualifies as a REOC. An entity should qualify as a REOC if (i) on its "initial valuation date" and on at least one day within each "annual valuation period," at least 50% of the entity's assets, valued at cost (other than short-term investments pending long-term commitment or distribution to investors) are invested in real estate that is managed or developed and with respect to which such entity has the right to substantially participate directly in management or development activities; and (ii) such entity in the ordinary course of its business is engaged directly in the management and development of real estate. The "initial valuation date" is the date on which the entity first makes an investment that is not a short-term investment of funds pending long-term commitment. The Plan Assets Regulation does not provide specific guidance regarding what rights will qualify as management rights, and the U.S. Department of Labor has consistently taken the position that such determination can only be made in light of the surrounding facts and circumstances of each particular case, substantially limiting the degree to which it can be determined with certainty whether particular rights will satisfy this requirement.

To the extent any class our shares of common stock does not qualify for the exception for a "publicly offered security," we intend to satisfy another exception to the Plan Assets Regulation, including by reliance on the VCOC or REOC exception or by limiting investment by, or prohibiting investment from, Benefit Plan Investors in our shares. However, no assurance can be given that this will be the case.

If our assets are deemed to constitute "plan assets" within the meaning of ERISA and the Plan Assets Regulation (e.g., if one or more of our classes of common stock fail to qualify as a "publicly offered security" and no other exception under ERISA applies), this would result, among other matters, in certain transactions that we might enter into, or may have entered into, in the ordinary course of our business may constitute non-exempt "prohibited transactions" under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, may have to be rescinded and may give rise to prohibited transaction excise taxes and fiduciary liability, as described above. In addition, if our assets are deemed to be "plan assets" of a Benefit Plan Investor, our management, as well as various providers of fiduciary or other services to us, and any other parties with authority or control with respect to us or our assets, may be considered fiduciaries under ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code, or otherwise parties in interest or disqualified persons by virtue of their provision of such services (and there could be an improper delegation of authority to such providers).

In addition, ERISA generally provides that discretionary authority with respect to the management and disposition of the assets of a Benefit Plan Investor may be delegated to certain "investment managers" who acknowledge that they are fiduciaries of the Benefit Plan Investor. In such case, a Benefit Plan Investor fiduciary who has appointed an investment manager will generally not be liable for the acts of such investment manager. We do not expect to be an "investment manager" within the meaning of ERISA. Consequently, if our assets are deemed to constitute "plan assets" of any stockholder which is a Benefit Plan Investor, the fiduciary of any such Benefit Plan Investor would not be protected from liability resulting from our decisions.

Other Plans

Plans that are governmental plans (as defined in Section 3(32) of ERISA), certain church plans (as defined in Section 3(33) of ERISA) and non-U.S. plans (as described in Section 4(b)(4) of ERISA) may not be subject to the fiduciary responsibility or prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, but may be subject to Similar Laws which may affect their investment in our shares of common stock. Fiduciaries of any such Plans should consult with counsel in connection with an investment in any class of our shares.

Representation

By acceptance of any class of shares of our common stock, each stockholder of a share will be deemed to have represented and warranted that either (i) no portion of the assets used by such stockholder to acquire or hold the shares constitutes assets of any Plan or (ii) the purchase and holding of the shares by such stockholder will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code or similar violation under any applicable Similar Laws.

Reporting of Indirect Compensation

ERISA's general reporting and disclosure rules, certain Benefit Plan Investors subject to Title I of ERISA are required to file annual reports (Form 5500) with the U.S. Department of Labor regarding their assets, liabilities and expenses. To facilitate compliance with these requirements it is noted that the descriptions contained in this prospectus of fees and compensation, including the management fee payable to the Adviser and the performance participation allocation to the Special Limited Partner are intended to satisfy the disclosure requirements for "eligible indirect compensation" for which the alternative reporting option on Schedule C of Form 5500 may be available.

This prospectus does not constitute an undertaking to provide impartial investment advice and it is not our intention to act in a fiduciary capacity with respect to any Plan. The Adviser, the Special Limited Partner, the Dealer Manager, Blackstone Real Estate, Blackstone, and our and their respective affiliates (the "Relevant Entities") have a financial interest in stockholders' investment in our shares on account of the fees and other compensation they expect to receive (as the case may be) from us and their other relationships with us as contemplated in this prospectus. Any such fees and compensation do not constitute fees or compensation rendered for the provision of investment advice to any Plan. Each stockholder that is, or is investing (directly or indirectly) in us with the assets of, a Plan will be deemed to represent and warrant that it is advised by a fiduciary that is (a) independent of the Relevant Entities; (b) capable of evaluating investment risks independently, both in general and with respect to particular transactions and investment strategies contemplated in this prospectus; and (c) a fiduciary (under ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code or applicable Similar Law) with respect to the Plan's investment in the shares, who is responsible for exercising independent judgment in evaluating the Plan's investment in the shares and any related transactions.

The sale of shares of our common stock to a Plan is in no respect a representation by us or any other person associated with the offering of our common stock that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirements with respect to investments by Plans generally or any particular Plan, or that such an investment is appropriate for Plans generally or any particular Plan.

Each Plan investor is advised to contact its own financial advisor or other fiduciary unrelated to the Adviser, the Special Limited Partner, the Dealer Manager, Blackstone Real Estate, Blackstone, or any of our or their respective affiliates about whether an investment in our shares of common stock, or any decision to continue to hold, transfer, vote or provide any consent with respect to any such shares, may be appropriate for the Plan's circumstances.

The preceding discussion is only a summary of certain ERISA implications of an investment in the securities and does not purport to be complete. Prospective investors should consult with their own legal, tax, financial and other advisors prior to investing to review these implications in light of such investor's particular circumstances.

Each purchaser or transferee that is or is acting on behalf of a Plan should consult with its legal advisor concerning the potential consequences to the Plan under ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code or applicable Similar Law of an investment in any class of our shares.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

We are offering up to $60,000,000,000 in shares of our common stock pursuant to this prospectus on a "best efforts" basis through Blackstone Securities Partners L.P., the Dealer Manager, a registered broker-dealer affiliated with the Adviser. Because this is a "best efforts" offering, the Dealer Manager must only use its best efforts to sell the shares, which means that no underwriter, broker-dealer or other person will be obligated to purchase any shares. Our offering consists of up to $48,000,000,000 in shares in our primary offering and up to $12,000,000,000 in shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. We reserve the right to reallocate shares of common stock between our primary offering and our distribution reinvestment plan.

We are offering to the public four classes of shares of our common stock: Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares and Class I shares in our primary offering and seven classes of shares of our common stock: Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class I shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. We are offering to sell any combination of share classes with a dollar value up to the maximum offering amount. For the avoidance of doubt, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan. All investors must meet the suitability standards discussed in the section of this prospectus entitled "Suitability Standards." The share classes have different upfront selling commissions and different ongoing stockholder servicing fees.

In our primary offering, Class T-2 and Class S-2 shares are available through brokerage and transactional-based accounts. Class D-2 shares are generally available for purchase in this offering only (1) through fee-based programs, also known as wrap accounts, that provide access to Class D-2 shares, (2) through participating broker-dealers that have alternative fee arrangements with their clients to provide access to Class D-2 shares, (3) through transaction/ brokerage platforms at participating broker-dealers, (4) through certain registered investment advisers, (5) through bank trust departments or any other organization or person authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity for its clients or customers or (6) other categories of investors that we name in an amendment or supplement to this prospectus. Class I shares are generally available for purchase in this offering only (1) through fee-based programs, also known as wrap accounts, that provide access to Class I shares, (2) by endowments, foundations, pension funds and other institutional investors, (3) through participating broker-dealers that have alternative fee arrangements with their clients to provide access to Class I shares, (4) through certain registered investment advisers, (5) through bank trust departments or any other organization or person authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity for its clients or customers, (6) by our executive officers and directors and their immediate family members, as well as officers and employees of the Adviser, Blackstone or other affiliates and their immediate family members, and joint venture partners, consultants and other service providers or (7) other categories of investors that we name in an amendment or supplement to this prospectus. In certain cases, if (i) a participating broker-dealer no longer offers Class T, Class S or Class D shares or (ii) a holder of Class S-2, Class T-2 or Class D-2 shares exits a relationship with a participating broker-dealer for this offering and does not enter into a new relationship with a participating broker-dealer for this offering, such holder's shares may be exchanged into an equivalent NAV amount of Class I shares. We also may offer shares of our common stock to (1) certain feeder vehicles primarily created to hold our shares, which in turn offer interests in themselves to investors, and (2) other investment vehicles. We may conduct such offerings pursuant to exemptions to registration under the Securities Act or as a part of this offering. Such feeder vehicles may have additional costs and expenses, which would be disclosed in connection with the offering of their interests. We may also offer our shares in other private offerings from time to time. The minimum initial investment for Class I shares is $1,000,000, unless waived by the Dealer Manager. If you are eligible to purchase all four classes of shares, you should consider, among other things, the amount of your investment, the length of time you intend to hold the shares and the upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees attributable to the Class T-2, Class S-2 or Class D-2 shares. Before making your investment decision, please consult with your investment adviser regarding your account type and the classes of common stock you may be eligible to purchase. Neither the Dealer Manager nor its affiliates will directly or indirectly compensate any person engaged as an investment advisor or bank trust department by a potential investor as an inducement for such investment advisor or bank trust department to advise favorably for an investment in us.

The number of shares we have registered pursuant to the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part is the number that we reasonably expect to be offered and sold within two years from the initial effective date of the registration statement. Under applicable SEC rules, we may extend this offering one additional year if all of the shares we have registered are not yet sold within two years. With the filing of a registration statement for a subsequent offering, we may also be able to extend this offering beyond three years until the follow-on registration statement is declared effective. Pursuant to this prospectus, we are offering to the public all of the shares that we have registered. Although we have registered a fixed dollar amount of our shares, we intend effectively to conduct a continuous offering of an unlimited number of shares of our common stock over an unlimited time period by filing a new registration statement prior to the end of the three-year period described in Rule 415. In certain states, the registration of our offering may continue for only one year following the initial clearance by applicable state authorities, after which we will renew the offering period for additional one-year periods (or longer, if permitted by the laws of each particular state).

We reserve the right to terminate this offering at any time and to extend our offering term to the extent permissible under applicable law.

Purchase Price

Shares will generally be sold at the prior month's NAV per share of the class of share being purchased, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. Although the price you pay for shares of our common stock will generally be based on the prior month's NAV per share, the NAV per share of such stock as of the date on which your purchase is settled may be significantly different. We may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share (including by updating a previously disclosed offering price) or suspend our offering and/or our share repurchase plan in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month. Each class of shares may have a different NAV per share because stockholder servicing fees differ with respect to each class. See "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" for more information about the calculation of NAV per share.

If you participate in our distribution reinvestment plan, the cash distributions attributable to the class of shares that you purchase in our primary offering will be automatically invested in additional shares of the same class. The per share purchase price for shares purchased pursuant to the distribution reinvestment plan will be equal to the transaction price at the time the distribution is payable, which will generally be equal to our prior month's NAV per share for that share class.

Underwriting Compensation

We entered into a Dealer Manager Agreement with the Dealer Manager, pursuant to which the Dealer Manager agreed to, among other things, manage our relationships with third-party broker-dealers engaged by the Dealer Manager to participate in the distribution of shares of our common stock, which we refer to as "participating broker-dealers," and financial advisors. The Dealer Manager also coordinates our marketing and distribution efforts with participating broker-dealers and their registered representatives with respect to communications related to the terms of the offering, our investment strategies, material aspects of our operations and subscription procedures. We will not pay referral or similar fees to any accountants, attorneys or other persons in connection with the distribution of our shares.

Summary

The following table shows the upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees payable at the time you subscribe for shares for Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2 or Class I shares in our primary offering. Class T, Class S and Class D shares are only available to existing holders of such classes pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan and therefore are not subject to upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees.

	Maximum Upfront Selling Commissions as a % of Transaction Price	Maximum Upfront Dealer Manager Fees as a % of Transaction Price
Class T-2 shares[1]	up to 3.0%	0.5%
Class S-2 shares	up to 3.5%	None
Class D-2 shares	up to 1.5%	None
Class I shares	None	None

(1) Such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers, provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price.

The following table shows the stockholder servicing fees we pay the Dealer Manager with respect to the Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2 and Class I on an annualized basis as a percentage of our NAV for such class. The stockholder servicing fees will be paid monthly in arrears.

	Stockholder Servicing Fee as a % of NAV
Class T-2 shares	0.85%[1]
Class S-2 shares	0.85%
Class D-2 shares	0.25%
Class I shares	None
Class T shares	0.85%[1]
Class S shares	0.85%
Class D shares	0.25%

(1) Consists of a representative stockholder servicing fee and a dealer stockholder servicing fee.

Upfront Selling Commissions and Dealer Manager Fees

Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 Shares. Subject to any discounts described below, the Dealer Manager is entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 3.0%, and upfront dealer manager fees of 0.5%, of the transaction price of each Class T-2 share sold in the primary offering, however such amounts may vary at certain participating broker-dealers provided that the sum will not exceed 3.5% of the transaction price. Subject to any discounts described below, the Dealer Manager is entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 3.5% of the transaction price of each Class S-2 share sold in the primary offering. Subject to any discounts described below, the Dealer Manager may be entitled to receive upfront selling commissions of up to 1.5% of the transaction price of each Class D-2 share sold in the primary offering. The Dealer Manager anticipates that all or a portion of the upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating broker-dealers.

Investors who purchase $150,000 or more in Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares from the same broker-dealer, whether in a single purchase or as the result of multiple purchases, may be eligible, subject to the Company's discretion and depending on the policies of their participating broker-dealer, for volume discounts on the upfront selling commissions. For any participating broker-dealers, amounts previously invested by an investor in Class T or Class S shares may be aggregated with such investor's purchase of Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares, respectively, when determining whether such investor qualifies for a volume discount. The Dealer Manager and any participating broker-dealers that offer volume discounts to their clients and their registered representatives will be responsible for implementing the volume discounts. The net offering proceeds we receive will not be affected by any reduction of upfront selling commissions. Certain participating broker-dealers may elect not to offer volume discounts to their clients.

The following table illustrates the various discount levels that may be offered for Class T-2 and Class S-2 shares purchased in the primary offering:

Your Investment	Upfront Selling Commissions as a % of Transaction Price of Class S-2 Share	Upfront Selling Commissions as a % of Transaction Price of Class T-2 Share
Up to $149,999.99	3.50%	3.00%
$150,000 to $499,999.99	3.00%	2.50%
$500,000 to $999,999.99	2.50%	2.00%
$1,000,000 and up	2.00%	1.50%

If you qualify for a volume discount as the result of multiple purchases of our Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares, you will receive the benefit of the applicable volume discount for the individual purchase which qualified you for the volume discount, but you will not be entitled to the benefit for prior purchases. Additionally, once you qualify for a volume discount, you will receive the benefit for subsequent purchases through the same participating broker-dealer in eligible accounts. For this purpose, if you purchase Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares issued and sold in this offering you will receive the benefit of such Class T-2 or Class S-2 share purchases in connection with qualifying for volume discounts in our subsequent offerings through the same participating broker-dealer.

For purposes of qualifying for a volume discount as the result of multiple purchases of shares, only an individual or entity with the same social security number or taxpayer identification number, as applicable may combine their purchases as a "single purchaser" provided that, certain participating broker-dealers may also combine purchases by an individual investor and his or her spouse, subject to the purchase being made in the same account, for purposes of determining the applicable volume discount.

Further, requests to combine purchase orders of Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares as a part of a combined order for the purpose of qualifying for discounts or fee waivers must be submitted to the Company in writing by the broker-dealer, and any resulting reduction in upfront selling commissions will be prorated among the separate subscribers. As with discounts provided to other purchasers, the net proceeds we receive from the sale of shares will not be affected by discounts provided as a result of a combined order.

Your ability to receive a discount or fee waiver based on combining orders or otherwise may depend on the financial advisor or broker-dealer through which you purchase your Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares. An investor qualifying for a discount will receive a higher percentage return on his or her investment than investors who do not qualify for such discount. Accordingly, you should consult with your financial advisor about the ability to receive such discounts or fee waivers before purchasing Class T-2 or Class S-2 shares.

Class I Shares. No upfront selling commissions will be paid with respect Class I shares sold in this offering.

Stockholder Servicing Fees—Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D Shares

Subject to FINRA limitations on underwriting compensation and certain other limitations described below, we pay the Dealer Manager selling commissions over time as stockholder servicing fees (i) with respect to our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class T-2 and Class T shares, consisting of a representative stockholder servicing fee of 0.65% per annum, and a dealer stockholder servicing fee of 0.20% per annum, of the aggregate NAV for the Class T-2 and Class T shares, however, with respect to Class T-2 and Class T shares sold through certain participating broker-dealers, the representative stockholder servicing fee and the dealer stockholder servicing fee may be other amounts, provided that the sum of such fees will always equal 0.85% per annum of the NAV of such shares, (ii) with respect to our outstanding Class S-2 and Class S shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class S-2 and Class S shares and (iii) with respect to our outstanding Class D-2 and Class D shares equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class D-2 and Class D shares. We do not pay a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class I shares. The stockholder servicing fees are selling commissions paid over time. The stockholder servicing expenses borne by the participating brokers may be different from and substantially less than the amount of stockholder servicing fees charged.

The stockholder servicing fees are paid monthly in arrears. The Dealer Manager reallows (pays) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fees to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services. Because the stockholder servicing fees with respect to Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares are calculated based on the aggregate NAV for all of the outstanding shares of each such class, it reduces the NAV with respect to all shares of each such class, including shares issued under our distribution reinvestment plan.

We will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee with respect to any Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share or Class D share held in a stockholder's account at the end of the month in which the Dealer Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total upfront selling commissions, dealer manager fees and stockholder servicing fees paid with respect to the shares held by such stockholder within such account would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the Fee Limit, if any. The Fee Limit, if any, with respect to Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares and Class D-2 shares provides broker dealers participating in this offering the flexibility to determine whether to impose a limit on underwriting compensation for its clients lower than the FINRA 10% Limit and the appropriate limit for such compensation. At the end of such month, each such Class T-2 share, Class S-2 share, Class D-2 share, Class T share, Class S share or Class D share will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares) with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such share.

Eligibility to receive the stockholder servicing fee is conditioned on a broker-dealer providing the following ongoing services with respect to the Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S or Class D shares: assistance with recordkeeping, answering investor inquiries regarding us, including regarding distribution payments and reinvestments, helping investors understand their investments upon their request, and assistance with share repurchase requests. Holders of our Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D shares will receive the same services as described above regardless of the level of the stockholder servicing fee paid. For Class T-2 shares, representative stockholder services are answering investor inquiries regarding us, including regarding distribution payments and reinvestments, helping investors understand their investments upon their request, and assistance with share repurchase requests and dealer stockholder services are assistance with recordkeeping. If the applicable broker-dealer is not eligible to receive the stockholder servicing fee due to failure to provide these services, the Dealer Manager will waive the stockholder servicing fee that broker-dealer would have otherwise been eligible to receive. The stockholder servicing fees are ongoing fees that are not paid at the time of purchase and are similar to a commission in that the amount of fees is fixed regardless of the specific services provided.

The stockholder services described above do not include account monitoring. Broker-dealers separately may offer account monitoring services to their clients but are not required to do so. Your broker-dealer's Client Relationship Summary discloses whether it offers account monitoring services, and if so, you may contact your broker-dealer for more information.

Other Compensation

We or the Adviser may also pay directly, or reimburse the Dealer Manager if the Dealer Manager pays on our behalf, any organization and offering expenses (other than upfront selling commissions and stockholder servicing fees). The Adviser and its affiliates, out of its own resources and without additional cost to the Company or its stockholders, may provide additional cash payments to certain financial intermediaries in connection with the sale and servicing of shares of common stock.

Limitations on Underwriting Compensation

In addition to the conversion feature described above in "—Stockholder Servicing Fees—Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D Shares," we will cease paying the stockholder servicing fee on the Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares, Class T shares, Class S shares and Class D shares on the earlier to occur of the following: (i) a listing of Class I shares, (ii) our merger or consolidation with or into another entity, or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets or (iii) the date following the completion of the primary portion of this public offering on which, in the aggregate, underwriting compensation from all sources in connection with this public offering, including upfront selling commissions, the stockholder servicing fee and other underwriting compensation, is equal to 10% of the gross proceeds from the primary portion of this offering. The Dealer Manager will monitor the aggregate amount of underwriting compensation that we and the Adviser pay in connection with this offering in order to ensure we comply with the underwriting compensation limits of applicable FINRA rules. FINRA rules and the NASAA REIT Guidelines also limit our total organization and offering expenses (including upfront selling commissions, reasonable bona fide due diligence expenses of participating broker-dealers supported by detailed and itemized invoices and other underwriting compensation) to 15% of our gross offering proceeds from this offering. After the termination of the primary offering and again after termination of the offering under our distribution reinvestment plan, the Adviser has agreed to reimburse us to the extent that organization and offering expenses that we incur exceed 15% of our gross proceeds from the applicable offering.

In order to show the maximum amount of compensation that may be paid in connection with this offering, the following table assumes that (1) we sell all of the shares offered by this prospectus, (2) all shares sold in the offering are Class S-2 shares, (3) no shares are reallocated between the primary offering and the distribution reinvestment plan, (4) all Class S-2 shares are sold with the highest possible upfront selling commissions and (5) NAV per share remains $10.00. The table does not give effect to any shares issued pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan.

Maximum Estimated Underwriting Fees and Expenses
At Maximum Primary Offering of $48,000,000,000

Upfront selling commissions	$1,623,188,406	3.38%
Stockholder servicing fees[1]	3,121,811,594	6.50%
Other costs and reimbursements[2]	55,000,000	0.12%
Total[2]	$4,800,000,000	10.00%

(1) We will pay the Dealer Manager a stockholder servicing fee with respect to our outstanding Class S-2 shares equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV of our outstanding Class S-2 shares. The numbers presented reflect that stockholder servicing fees are paid over a number of years, and as a result, will cumulatively increase above 0.85% over time. The Dealer Manager will reallow (pay) all or a portion of the stockholder servicing fee to participating broker-dealers and servicing broker-dealers for ongoing stockholder services performed by such broker-dealers, and will waive stockholder servicing fees to the extent a broker-dealer is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services.

(2) Other costs and reimbursements consist primarily of (a) actual costs incurred for fees to attend retail seminars sponsored by participating broker-dealers, (b) amounts used to reimburse participating broker-dealers for the actual costs incurred by registered representatives for travel, meals and lodging in connection with attending bona fide training and education meetings, (c) non-transaction based compensation, including cash bonuses and Blackstone Inc. equity awards, paid to registered persons associated with the Dealer Manager in connection with the wholesaling of our offering, (d) expense reimbursements for actual costs incurred by employees of the Dealer Manager in the performance of wholesaling activities, (e) legal fees incurred by the Dealer Manager in connection with this offering and (f) other fees, if any, to broker-dealers described above. The Adviser currently pays wholesaling compensation expenses and certain related expenses of persons associated with the Dealer Manager and may pay certain other fees to broker-dealers described above without reimbursement from us.

Term of the Dealer Manager Agreement

Either party may terminate the Dealer Manager Agreement upon 60 days' written notice to the other party or immediately upon notice to the other party in the event such other party failed to comply with a material provision of the Dealer Manager Agreement. Our obligations under the Dealer Manager Agreement to pay the stockholder servicing fees with respect to the Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D shares distributed in this offering as described therein shall survive termination of the agreement until such shares are no longer outstanding (including such shares that have been converted into Class I shares, as described above in "— Stockholder Servicing Fees—Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class T, Class S and Class D Shares").

Indemnification

To the extent permitted by law and our charter, we will indemnify the participating broker-dealers and the Dealer Manager against some civil liabilities, including certain liabilities under the Securities Act, and liabilities arising from an untrue statement of material fact contained in, or omission to state a material fact in, this prospectus or the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part, blue sky applications or approved sales literature.

Role of the Dealer Manager

The Dealer Manager is a broker-dealer whose purpose is to distribute Blackstone managed or affiliated products. The Dealer Manager provides services to its Blackstone affiliates, not to investors in its funds, strategies or other products. The Dealer Manager has not and will not make any recommendation regarding, and will not monitor, any investment. As such, when the Dealer Manager presents an investment strategy or product to an investor or a prospective investor, the Dealer Manager does not collect the information necessary to determine-and the Dealer Manager does not engage in a determination regarding-whether an investment in the strategy or product is in the best interests of, or is suitable for, the investor. You should exercise your own judgment and/or consult with your own professional advisor to determine whether it is advisable for you to invest in any Blackstone strategy or product. Please note that the Dealer Manager will not provide the kinds of financial services that you might expect from another financial intermediary, such as overseeing any brokerage or similar account. For financial advice relating to an investment in any Blackstone strategy or product, contact your own professional advisor.

COUNTRY-SPECIFIC LEGENDS

Notice to Prospective Investors in the European Economic Area ("EEA")

Following implementation of the EU Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (2011/61/EU) ("AIFMD" which shall include all similar, implementing or supplementary measures, laws and regulations in each member state of the EEA), (an "EEA Member State"), the offering or placement of shares to or with investors domiciled or with a registered office in an EEA Member State (collectively, "European Investors") may be restricted or prohibited under national law in that EEA Member State, or may be permitted only if the Adviser complies with certain procedural and substantive obligations, where applicable, including compliance with the conditions to register for marketing as provided for under Article 42 of the AIFMD. The inclusion of an offering legend in respect of any EEA Member State does not imply that an offering or placement of shares has been or will be made to or with European Investors; any such offering or placement will be made only where: (i) this is permitted under national law; and (ii) the Adviser, if applicable, complies with all relevant procedural and substantive obligations relating to the offering or placement of shares.

European Investors should be aware that the Adviser will not be required to comply with all of the requirements of the AIFMD with which an EEA Alternative Investment Fund Manager ("AIFM") is otherwise required to comply. And such investors may not receive all the protections or benefits available under the AIFMD which would be afforded to an investor investing in a fund managed by an EEA AIFM.

AIFMD does not restrict a European Investor from investing in the Company on its own initiative. The Adviser may accept any such investor into the Company only if it is satisfied that it would not be in breach of any applicable law or regulation and that such investor is otherwise eligible under the laws of such EEA Member State to invest in the Company. If European Investors invest in the Company on their own initiative, they will not receive the protections or benefits available under the AIFMD.

This prospectus is only made available to a European Investor which qualifies as a "Professional Client" under the EU Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (2014/65/EU). Accordingly, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 for offering or selling shares in the Company or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared.

Notice to Prospective Investors in the United Kingdom

The Company is an unregulated collective investment scheme as defined in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 ("FSMA 2000")of the United Kingdom ("UK"). The Company has not been authorized, or otherwise recognized or approved by the UK Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA") and, as an unregulated scheme, it accordingly cannot be promoted in the UK to the general public.

In the UK, the contents of this prospectus have not been approved by an authorized person within the meaning of Section 21 of FSMA 2000. Approval is required unless an exemption applies under Section 21 of FSMA 2000. Reliance on this prospectus for the purpose of engaging in any investment activity may expose an individual to a significant risk of losing all the property or other assets invested. This prospectus is exempt from the general restriction in Section 21 of FSMA 2000 on the communication of invitations or inducements to engage in investment activity on the grounds that it is communicated in the UK only to restricted categories of recipients, namely: (i) persons believed on reasonable grounds to fall within one of the categories of "investment professionals" as defined in article 19(5) of the FSMA 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2005 (the "Promotion Order"); (ii) persons believed on reasonable grounds to be "High Net Worth Companies, Unincorporated Associations, etc." within the meaning of Article 49 of the Promotion Order; (iii) persons who are "Certified Sophisticated Investors" as described in Article 50 of the Promotion Order, namely persons who hold a current certificate signed by an authorized person to the effect that the person is sufficiently knowledgeable to understand the risks associated with that description of investment and who have signed a statement in the form prescribed by the Promotion Order not more than twelve months prior to the date of this prospectus; (iv) persons to whom this prospectus may otherwise lawfully be provided in accordance with FSMA 2000, and the Promotion Order (as amended); and (v) if communicated by a firm authorized by the FCA, to persons who fall within the exemptions set out in rule 4.12B.7(5) of the FCA's Conduct of Business Sourcebook . Any person who is in any doubt about the investment to which this prospectus relates should consult an authorized person specialized in advising on investments of the kind in question. Transmission of this prospectus to any other person in the UK is unauthorized and may contravene FSMA 2000.

This prospectus is only made available to a UK investor which qualifies as a "Professional Client" under the UK Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation (600/2014). Accordingly, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as retained into UK law by the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018) for offering or selling shares in the Company or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Switzerland

The Company has not been and will not be approved by or registered with the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA") as a non-swiss collective investment scheme pursuant to article 120 of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act of 23 June 2006, as amended ("CISA"). This prospectus (including any accompanying supplement) and any other offering or marketing material relating to the Company or the shares has been prepared without regard to the disclosure standards for prospectuses under the Swiss Financial Services Act of 15 June 2018, as amended ("FINSA") and therefore does not constitute a prospectus within the meaning of the CISA or the FINSA. The shares will not be listed or admitted to trading on any trading venue in Switzerland.

The shares will be marketed and offered in or into Switzerland exclusively to qualified investors within the meaning of article 10(3) and (3ter) CISA ("Qualified Investors"). This prospectus (including any accompanying supplement) and any other offering or marketing material relating to the Company or the shares may be distributed or made available in or into Switzerland only to Qualified Investors. Acquirers of the shares (investors) do not benefit from the investor protection afforded to investors in interests in collective investment schemes under the CISA or supervision by FINMA.

Neither this prospectus (including any accompanying supplement) nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the Company or the shares has been or will be filed with or approved by any Swiss regulatory authority. In particular, this prospectus has not been and will not be reviewed or approved by a Swiss Review Body pursuant to article 51 FINSA.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Hong Kong

The contents of this prospectus have not been reviewed by any regulatory authority in Hong Kong. You are advised to exercise caution in relation to the offer. If you are in any doubt about any of the contents of this prospectus, you should obtain independent professional advice. The Company or the issue of this prospectus has not been authorized by the Securities and Futures Commission in Hong Kong pursuant to the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571 of the laws of Hong Kong) (the "SFO"). The shares have not been and will not be offered or sold in Hong Kong by means of any prospectus, other than (a) to "Professional Investors" as defined in the SFO and any rules made under that Ordinance; or (b) in other circumstances which do not constitute an offer or invitation to the public within the meaning of the SFO.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Singapore

The offer or invitation of the shares, which is the subject of this prospectus, does not relate to a collective investment scheme which is authorized under Section 286 of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 of Singapore (the "SFA") or recognized under Section 287 of the SFA. The Company is not authorized or recognized by the Monetary Authority of Singapore (the "MAS"), and the shares are not allowed to be offered to the retail public.

This prospectus and any other document or material issued in connection with the offer or sale is not a prospectus as defined in the SFA. Accordingly, statutory liability under the SFA in relation to the content of prospectuses does not apply, and you should consider carefully whether the investment is suitable for you.

This prospectus has not been registered as a prospectus with the MAS. Accordingly, this prospectus and any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase, of shares may not be circulated or distributed, nor may the shares be offered or sold, or be made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, whether directly or indirectly, to persons in Singapore other than (i) to an institutional investor (as defined in Section 4A(1)(c) of the SFA) under Section 304 of the SFA, (ii) to a relevant person (which includes an "accredited investor") pursuant to Section 305(1), or any person pursuant to Section 305(2), and in accordance with the conditions specified in Section 305 of the SFA, and, where applicable, the conditions specified in Regulation 3 of the Securities and Futures (Classes of Investors) Regulations 2018, or (iii) otherwise pursuant to, and in accordance with the conditions of, any other applicable provision of the SFA.

Where the shares are subscribed or purchased under Section 305 of the SFA by a relevant person which is:

a) a corporation (which is not an accredited investor (as defined in Section 4A of the SFA)) the sole business of which is to hold investments and the entire share capital of which is owned by one or more individuals, each of whom is an accredited investor; or

b) a trust (where the trustee is not an accredited investor) whose sole purpose is to hold investments and each beneficiary of the trust is an individual who is an accredited investor, securities (as defined in Section 2(1) of the SFA) of that corporation or the beneficiaries' rights and interest (howsoever described) in that trust shall not be transferred within six months after that corporation or that trust has acquired the shares pursuant to an offer made under Section 305 of the SFA except:

a) to an institutional investor or to a relevant person defined in Section 305(5) of the SFA, or to any person arising from an offer referred to in Section 275(1A) or Section 305A(3)(c)(ii) of the SFA;

b) where no consideration is or will be given for the transfer;

c) where the transfer is by operation of law;

d) as specified in Section 305A(5) of the SFA; or

e) as specified in Regulation 36A of the Securities and Futures (Offers of Investments) (Collective Investment Schemes) Regulations 2005 of Singapore.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Israel

This prospectus is directed at and intended for investors that fall within at least one category of the first schedule of the Israeli Securities Law, 1968 ("Israeli Securities Law" and "Sophisticated Investors", respectively). The shares described in this prospectus have not been registered and are not expected to be registered under the Israeli Securities Law or under the Israeli Joint Investment Trust Law, 1994.

No action has been or will be taken in Israel that would permit a public offering of the shares in Israel and this prospectus has not been approved by the Israel Securities Authority. Accordingly, the shares will only be sold in Israel to Sophisticated Investors and to no more than 35 Non-Sophisticated Investors during any given 12-month period, and will only be offered and sold in Israel pursuant to applicable private placement exemption.

Without derogation from the above, this prospectus is not intended to serve, and should not be treated as Investment Advice as defined under the Regulation of Investment Advice, Investment Marketing and Investment Portfolio Management Law, 1995 ("Investment Advice Law"). Accordingly, the content of this prospectus does not replace and should not serve as substitution for investment advice services that take into account the special characteristics and needs of each investor. None of the Company, the Adviser, or the Dealer Manager is licensed under the Investment Advice Law and neither of them maintain an insurance as required under such law.

It is the responsibility of any prospective investor wishing to purchase shares to satisfy himself as to the full observance of the laws of Israel in connection with any such purchase, including obtaining any governmental or other consent, if required.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Mexico

The offering of shares made pursuant to this prospectus does not constitute a public offering of securities under Mexican law and therefore is not subject to obtaining the prior authorization of the Mexican National Banking and Securities Commission (Comisión Nacional Bancaria y de Valores, "CNBV") or the registration of shares of the Company with the Mexican National Registry of Securities (Registro Nacional de Valores). Notice to Prospective Investors in the People's Republic of China

This prospectus and the related subscription agreement documents do not and are not intended to constitute a sale, an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy, directly or indirectly, any securities in the People's Republic of China (excluding Taiwan, the Special Administrative Region of Hong Kong and the Special Administrative Region of Macao, the "PRC").

This prospectus or any invitation or related subscription agreement documents have not been and will not be filed with or approved by the China Securities Regulatory Commission or any other regulatory authorities or agencies of the PRC pursuant to relevant securities-related or other laws and regulations and may not be distributed, transmitted or used in connection with any offer for subscription or sale of shares of the Company within the PRC through a public offering or in circumstances which require an examination or approval of or registration with any securities or other regulatory authorities or agencies in the PRC unless otherwise in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC. The shares in the Company shall not be distributed, offered, delivered or sold, directly or indirectly, within the territory of the PRC, to any person or entity, unless such person or entity has obtained the necessary and appropriate approvals and/or has filed with the relevant PRC authorities in accordance with applicable PRC laws and regulations.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Taiwan

The Company has not been and will not be registered with the Financial Supervisory Commission of Taiwan, R.O.C. ("Taiwan") pursuant to applicable securities laws and regulations and any sale of the shares of the Company in Taiwan shall be in compliance with the local legal requirements and restrictions. There are restrictions on the offering, issue, distribution, transfer, sale or resale of the shares in Taiwan, either through a public offering or private placement. The shares cannot be sold, issued or publicly offered in Taiwan without prior approval from or registration with the Financial Supervisory Commission of Taiwan pursuant to applicable laws. No person or entity in Taiwan has been authorized to offer, sell, give advice regarding or otherwise intermediate the offering and sale of the shares.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Argentina

This prospectus does not constitute an invitation to buy or a solicitation of an offer to sell securities or any other products or services in Argentina and shares in the Company are not and will not be offered or sold in Argentina, by means of a public offer of securities, as such term is defined under Section 2 and 83 of Argentine Securities Law 26,831. No application has been or will be made the Argentine Comisión Nacional de Valores, the Argentine securities governmental authority, to publicly offer the Company or the shares thereof in Argentina. This prospectus is being supplied or made available only to those investors who have expressly requested them in Argentina or used in connection with an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy in Argentina except in circumstances that do not constitute a public offering or distribution under Argentinean laws and regulations. This prospectus is strictly confidential and may not be distributed to any legal or natural person or entity other than the intended recipients thereof.

HOW TO SUBSCRIBE

The section describes how to subscribe for Class T-2 shares, Class S-2 shares, Class D-2 shares or Class I shares in our primary offering. If you are an existing Class T, Class S, Class D or Class I stockholder and you wish to enroll in our distribution reinvestment plan, you must complete an account maintenance form, which is available through your financial advisor. For investors already enrolled in our distribution reinvestment plan, no further action is required.

You may buy or request that we repurchase shares of our common stock in our primary offering through your financial advisor, a participating broker-dealer or other financial intermediary that has a selling agreement with the Dealer Manager. Because an investment in our common stock involves many considerations, your financial advisor or other financial intermediary may help you with this decision. Due to the illiquid nature of investments in real estate, our shares of common stock are only suitable as a long-term investment. Because there is no public market for our shares, stockholders may have difficulty selling their shares if our board of directors determines to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in its discretion, or if our board of directors modifies or suspends our share repurchase plan.

Investors who meet the suitability standards described herein may purchase shares of our common stock. See "Suitability Standards" in this prospectus. Before investing, investors should carefully read this entire prospectus and any appendices and supplements accompanying this prospectus. Investors seeking to purchase shares of our common stock must proceed as follows:

- Complete the execution copy of the subscription agreement. A specimen copy of the subscription agreement, including instructions for completing it, is included in this prospectus as Appendix B. Subscription agreements may be executed manually or by electronic signature except where the use of such electronic signature has not been approved by the Dealer Manager. Should you execute the subscription agreement electronically, your electronic signature, whether digital or encrypted, included in the subscription agreement is intended to authenticate the subscription agreement and to have the same force and effect as a manual signature.

- Deliver a check, submit a wire transfer, instruct your broker-dealer to make payment from your brokerage account or otherwise deliver funds for the full purchase price of the shares of our common stock being subscribed for along with the completed subscription agreement to the participating broker-dealer. Checks should be made payable, or wire transfers directed, to "Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc." or "BREIT." For Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares, after you have satisfied the applicable minimum purchase requirement of $2,500, additional purchases must be in increments of $500. For Class I shares, after you have satisfied the applicable minimum purchase requirement of $1,000,000, additional purchases must be in increments of $500, unless such minimums are waived by the Dealer Manager. The minimum subsequent investment does not apply to purchases made under our distribution reinvestment plan.

- By executing the subscription agreement and paying the total purchase price for the shares of our common stock subscribed for, each investor attests that he or she meets the suitability standards as stated in the subscription agreement and agrees to be bound by all of its terms. Certain participating broker-dealers may require additional documentation.

A sale of the shares to a subscriber may not be completed until at least five business days after the subscriber receives our final prospectus. Subscriptions to purchase our common stock may be made on an ongoing basis, but investors may only purchase our common stock pursuant to accepted subscription orders as of the first calendar day of each month (based on the prior month's transaction price), and to be accepted, a subscription request must be made with a completed and executed subscription agreement in good order, including satisfying any additional requirements imposed by the subscriber's broker-dealer, and payment of the full purchase price of our common stock being subscribed at least five business days prior to the first calendar day of the month (unless waived by the Dealer Manager or otherwise agreed to between the Dealer Manager and the applicable participating broker-dealer).

For example, if you wish to subscribe for shares of our common stock in October, your subscription request must be received in good order at least five business days before November 1. Generally, the offering price will equal the NAV per share of the applicable class as of the last calendar day of September, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. If accepted, your subscription will be effective on the first calendar day of November.

Investors are required to provide certain personal information to us in order to establish or maintain an account. If (i) an investor does not provide such information, (ii) we are unable to confirm any such information is true and correct including, without limitation, verification of your identity (or that of another person(s) authorized to act on your behalf), or (iii) we believe we have identified potential criminal activity, we reserve the right to take certain action, including not opening an account or closing the account and repurchasing the shares under our share repurchase plan.

Completed subscription requests will not be accepted by us before the later of (i) two business days before the first calendar day of each month and (ii) three business days after we make the transaction price (including any subsequent revised transaction price in the circumstances described below) publicly available by posting it on our website at www.breit.com and filing a prospectus supplement with the SEC (or in certain cases after we have delivered notice of such price directly to subscribers as discussed below). Subscribers are not committed to purchase shares at the time their subscription orders are submitted and any subscription may be canceled at any time before the time it has been accepted as described in the previous sentence. As a result, you will have a minimum of three business days after the transaction price for that month has been disclosed to withdraw your request before you are committed to purchase the shares. Generally, you will not be provided with direct notice of the transaction price when it becomes available. Therefore, if you wish to know the transaction price prior to your subscription being accepted you must check our website or our filings with the SEC prior to the time your subscription is accepted.

However, if the transaction price is not made available on or before the eighth business day before the first calendar day of the month (which is six business days before the earliest date we may accept subscriptions), or a previously disclosed transaction price for that month is changed, then we will provide notice of such transaction price (and the first day on which we may accept subscriptions) directly to subscribing investors when such transaction price is made available. In such cases, you will have at least three business days from delivery of such notice before your subscription is accepted.

If for any reason we reject the subscription, or if the subscription request is canceled before it is accepted or withdrawn as described below, we will return the subscription agreement and the related funds, without interest or deduction, within ten business days after such rejection, cancellation or withdrawal.

Shares of our common stock purchased by a fiduciary or custodial account will be registered in the name of the fiduciary account and not in the name of the beneficiary. If you place an order to buy shares and your payment is not received and collected, your purchase may be canceled and you could be liable for any losses or fees we have incurred.

You have the option of placing a transfer on death (TOD), designation on your shares purchased in this offering. A TOD designation transfers the ownership of the shares to your designated beneficiary upon your death. This designation may only be made by individuals, not entities, who are the sole or joint owners with right to survivorship of the shares. If you would like to place a TOD designation on your shares, you must check the TOD box on the subscription agreement and you must complete and return a TOD form, which you may obtain from your financial advisor, in order to effect the designation.

Purchase Price

Shares will generally be sold at the prior month's NAV per share of the class of share being purchased, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. Although the price you pay for shares of our common stock will generally be based on the prior month's NAV per share, the NAV per share of such stock for the month in which you make your purchase may be significantly different. We may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share (including by updating a previously disclosed offering price) or suspend our offering in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month. Each class of shares may have a different NAV per share because stockholder servicing fees are charged differently with respect to each class. See "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" for more information about the calculation of NAV per share.

If you participate in our distribution reinvestment plan, the cash distributions attributable to the class of shares that you purchase in our primary offering will be automatically invested in additional shares of the same class. Shares are offered pursuant to our distribution reinvestment plan at the transaction price at the time the distribution is payable, which will generally be equal to our prior month's NAV per share for that share class.

We will generally adhere to the following procedures relating to purchases of shares of our common stock in this continuous offering:

- On each business day, our transfer agent will collect purchase orders. Notwithstanding the submission of an initial purchase order, we can reject purchase orders for any reason, even if a prospective investor meets the minimum suitability requirements outlined in our prospectus. Investors may only purchase our common stock pursuant to accepted subscription orders as of the first calendar day of each month (based on the prior month's transaction price), and to be accepted, a subscription request must be made with a completed and executed subscription agreement in good order and payment of the full purchase price of our common stock being subscribed at least five business days prior to the first calendar day of the month. If a purchase order is received less than five business days prior to the first calendar day of the month, unless waived by the Dealer Manager, the purchase order will be executed in the next month's closing at the transaction price applicable to that month, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. As a result of this process, the price per share at which your order is executed may be different than the price per share for the month in which you submitted your purchase order.

- Generally, within 15 calendar days after the last calendar day of each month, we will determine our NAV per share for each share class as of the last calendar day of the prior month, which will generally be the transaction price for the then-current month for such share class.

- Completed subscription requests will not be accepted by us before the later of (i) two business days before the first calendar day of each month and (ii) three business days after we make the transaction price (including any subsequent revised transaction price in the circumstances described below) publicly available by posting it on our website and filing a prospectus supplement with the SEC.

- Subscribers are not committed to purchase shares at the time their subscription orders are submitted and any subscription may be canceled at any time before the time it has been accepted as described in the previous sentence. You may withdraw your purchase request by notifying the transfer agent, through your financial intermediary or directly on our toll-free, automated telephone line, 844-702-1299.

- You will receive a confirmation statement of each new transaction in your account as soon as practicable but generally not later than seven business days after the stockholder transactions are settled. The confirmation statement will include information on how to obtain information we have filed with the SEC and made publicly available on our website, www.breit.com, including supplements to the prospectus.

Our transaction price will generally be based on our prior month's NAV. Our NAV may vary significantly from one month to the next. Through our website at www.breit.com and prospectus supplement filings, you will have information about the transaction price and NAV per share. We may set a transaction price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of our stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share (including by updating a previously disclosed offering price) or suspend our offering in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month. If the transaction price is not made available on or before the eighth business day before the first calendar day of the month (which is six business days before the earliest date we may accept subscriptions), or a previously disclosed transaction price for that month is changed, then we will provide notice of such transaction price (and the first day on which we may accept subscriptions) directly to subscribing investors when such transaction price is made available.

In contrast to securities traded on an exchange or over-the-counter, where the price often fluctuates as a result of, among other things, the supply and demand of securities in the trading market, our NAV will be calculated once monthly using our valuation methodology, and the price at which we sell new shares and repurchase outstanding shares will not change depending on the level of demand by investors or the volume of requests for repurchases.

SHARE REPURCHASES

General

While you should view your investment as long term with limited liquidity, we have adopted a share repurchase plan, whereby on a monthly basis, stockholders may request that we repurchase all or any portion of their shares. Due to the illiquid nature of investments in real estate, we may not have sufficient liquid resources to fund repurchase requests. In addition, we have established limitations on the amount of funds we may use for repurchases during any calendar month and quarter. See "—Repurchase Limitations" below.

You may request that we repurchase shares of our common stock through your financial advisor or directly with our transfer agent. The procedures relating to the repurchase of shares of our common stock are as follows:

- Certain broker-dealers require that their clients process repurchases through their broker-dealer, which may impact the time necessary to process such repurchase request, impose more restrictive deadlines than described under our share repurchase plan, impact the timing of a stockholder receiving repurchase proceeds and require different paperwork or process than described in our share repurchase plan. Please contact your broker-dealer first if you want to request the repurchase of your shares.

- Under our share repurchase plan, to the extent we choose to repurchase shares in any particular month we will only repurchase shares as of the opening of the last calendar day of that month (a "Repurchase Date"). To have your shares repurchased, your repurchase request and required documentation must be received in good order by 4:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the second to last business day of the applicable month. Settlements of share repurchases will generally be made within three business days of the Repurchase Date. Repurchase requests received and processed by our transfer agent will be effected at a repurchase price equal to the transaction price on the applicable Repurchase Date (which will generally be equal to our prior month's NAV per share), subject to any Early Repurchase Deduction.

- A stockholder may withdraw his or her repurchase request by notifying the transfer agent, directly or through the stockholder's financial intermediary, on our toll-free, automated telephone line, 844-702-1299. The line is open on each business day between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. (Eastern time). Repurchase requests must be cancelled before 4:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the last business day of the applicable month.

- If a repurchase request is received after 4:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the second to last business day of the applicable month, the repurchase request will be executed, if at all, on the next month's Repurchase Date at the transaction price applicable to that month (subject to any Early Repurchase Deduction), unless such request is withdrawn prior to the repurchase. Repurchase requests received and processed by our transfer agent on a business day, but after the close of business on that day or on a day that is not a business day, will be deemed received on the next business day. All questions as to the form and validity (including time of receipt) of repurchase requests and notices of withdrawal will be determined by us, in our sole discretion, and such determination shall be final and binding.

- Repurchase requests may be made by mail or by contacting your financial intermediary, both subject to certain conditions described in this prospectus. If making a repurchase request by contacting your financial intermediary, your financial intermediary may require you to provide certain documentation or information. If making a repurchase request by mail to the transfer agent, you must complete and sign a repurchase authorization form, which can be found in our share repurchase plan filed as an exhibit to this registration of which this prospectus forms a part and which is available on our website, www.breit.com. Written requests should be sent to the transfer agent at the following address:

SS&C GIDS, Inc.
PO Box 219349
Kansas City, MO 64121-9349

Overnight Address:
SS&C GIDS, Inc.
801 Pennsylvania Ave. Suite 219349
Kansas City, MO 64105

Toll Free Number: 844-702-1299

Corporate investors and other non-individual entities must have an appropriate certification on file authorizing repurchases. A signature guarantee may be required.

- For processed repurchases, stockholders may request that repurchase proceeds are to be paid by mailed check provided that the check is mailed to an address on file with the transfer agent for at least 30 days. Please check with your broker-dealer that such payment may be made via check or wire transfer, as further described below.

- Stockholders may also receive repurchase proceeds via wire transfer, provided that wiring instructions for their brokerage account or designated U.S. bank account are provided. For all repurchases paid via wire transfer, the funds will be wired to the account on file with the transfer agent or, upon instruction, to another financial institution provided that the stockholder has made the necessary funds transfer arrangements. The customer service representative can provide detailed instructions on establishing funding arrangements and designating a bank or brokerage account on file. Funds will be wired only to U.S. financial institutions (ACH network members).

- A medallion signature guarantee will be required in certain circumstances. The medallion signature process protects stockholders by verifying the authenticity of a signature and limiting unauthorized fraudulent transactions. A medallion signature guarantee may be obtained from a domestic bank or trust company, broker-dealer, clearing agency, savings association or other financial institution which participates in a medallion program recognized by the Securities Transfer Association. The three recognized medallion programs are the Securities Transfer Agents Medallion Program, the Stock Exchanges Medallion Program and the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. Medallion Signature Program. Signature guarantees from financial institutions that are not participating in any of these medallion programs will not be accepted. A notary public cannot provide signature guarantees. We reserve the right to amend, waive or discontinue this policy at any time and establish other criteria for verifying the authenticity of any repurchase or transaction request. We may require a medallion signature guarantee if, among other reasons: (1) the amount of the repurchase request is over $500,000; (2) you wish to have repurchase proceeds transferred by wire to an account other than the designated bank or brokerage account on file for at least 30 days or sent to an address other than your address of record for the past 30 days; or (3) our transfer agent cannot confirm your identity or suspects fraudulent activity.

- If a stockholder has made multiple purchases of shares of our common stock, any repurchase request will be processed on a first in/first out basis unless otherwise requested in the repurchase request.

Minimum Account Repurchases

In the event that any stockholder fails to maintain the minimum balance of $500 of shares of our common stock, we may repurchase all of the shares held by that stockholder at the repurchase price in effect on the date we determine that the stockholder has failed to meet the minimum balance, less any Early Repurchase Deduction. Minimum account repurchases will apply even in the event that the failure to meet the minimum balance is caused solely by a decline in our NAV. Minimum account repurchases are subject to Early Repurchase Deduction.

Sources of Funds for Repurchases

We may fund repurchase requests from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, the sale of our assets, repayments of our real estate debt investments, return of capital or offering proceeds, and advances or the deferral of fees and expenses, and we have no limits on the amounts we may fund from such sources. We do not intend to use proceeds from this offering to fund repurchase requests from our prior offering.

In an effort to have adequate cash available to support our share repurchase plan, we may reserve borrowing capacity under a line of credit. We could then elect to borrow against this line of credit in part to repurchase shares presented for repurchase during periods when we do not have sufficient proceeds from operating cash flows or the sale of shares in this continuous offering to fund all repurchase requests. If we determine to obtain a line of credit, we would expect that it would afford us borrowing availability to fund repurchases.

Repurchase Limitations

We may determine to repurchase fewer shares than have been requested in any particular month to be repurchased under our share repurchase plan, which is approved and administered by our board of directors, or none at all, in our discretion at any time. In addition, the aggregate NAV of total repurchases of Class T-2, Class S-2, Class D-2, Class I, Class T, Class S, Class D, Class C, Class F, Class L and Class L-2 shares (including repurchases at certain non-U.S. investor access funds primarily created to hold shares of our common stock but excluding any Early Repurchase Deduction applicable to the repurchased shares) will be limited to no more than 2% of our aggregate NAV per month (measured using the aggregate NAV attributable to stockholders as of the end of the immediately preceding month) and no more than 5% of our aggregate NAV per calendar quarter (measured using the average aggregate NAV attributable to stockholders as of the end of the immediately preceding three months). For the avoidance of doubt, both of these limits are assessed each month in a calendar quarter. We have in the past received, and may in the future receive, repurchase requests that exceed the limits under our share repurchase plan, and we have in the past repurchased less than the full amount of shares requested, resulting in the repurchase of shares on a pro rata basis.

In the event that we determine to repurchase some but not all of the shares submitted for repurchase during any month, shares submitted for repurchase during such month will be repurchased on a pro rata basis after we have repurchased all shares for which repurchase has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions. All unsatisfied repurchase requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next month or quarter, or upon the recommencement of our share repurchase plan, as applicable.

If the transaction price for the applicable month is not made available by the tenth business day prior to the last business day of the month (or is changed after such date), then no repurchase requests will be accepted for such month and stockholders who wish to have their shares repurchased the following month must resubmit their repurchase requests. The transaction price for each month will be available on our website at www.breit.com and in prospectus supplements filed with the SEC.

Should repurchase requests, in our board of directors' judgment, place an undue burden on our liquidity, adversely affect our operations or impose an adverse impact on the Company as a whole, or should our board of directors otherwise determine that investing our liquid assets in real properties or other investments rather than repurchasing our shares is in the best interests of the Company as a whole, our board of directors may determine to repurchase fewer shares in any particular month than have been requested to be repurchased (including relative to the 2% monthly limit and 5% quarterly limit under our share repurchase plan), or none at all. Further, our board of directors has in the past made exceptions to the limitations in our share repurchase plan and may in the future, in certain circumstances, make exceptions to such repurchase limitations (or repurchase fewer shares than such repurchase limitations), or modify or suspend our share repurchase plan if, in its reasonable judgment, it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. Material modifications, including any amendment to the 2% monthly or 5% quarterly limitations on repurchases, to and suspensions of our share repurchase plan will be promptly disclosed to stockholders in a prospectus supplement (or post-effective amendment if required by the Securities Act) or special or periodic report filed by us. Material modifications will also be disclosed on our website.

In addition, we may determine to suspend our share repurchase plan due to regulatory changes, changes in law or if we become aware of undisclosed material information that we believe should be publicly disclosed before shares are repurchased. Upon a determination by our board of directors to (i) suspend our share repurchase plan or (ii) materially modify our share repurchase plan in a manner that reduces liquidity available to our stockholders, our share repurchase plan requires our board of directors to consider, at least quarterly, whether continuing to restrict repurchases or resuming repurchases at the original repurchase limits set forth in our share repurchase plan would be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. Continued suspension of our share repurchase plan would only be permitted under the plan if our board of directors determines that the continued suspension of our share repurchase plan is in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. Our board of directors must affirmatively authorize the recommencement of the plan before stockholder requests will be considered again. Our board of directors cannot terminate our share repurchase plan absent a liquidity event which results in our stockholders receiving cash or securities listed on a national securities exchange or where otherwise required by law.

Shares held by the Adviser acquired as payment of the Adviser's management fee will not be subject to our share repurchase plan, including with respect to any repurchase limits, the Early Repurchase Deduction or the calculation of NAV. In addition, any repurchases of shares in respect of distributions on the performance participation allocation will not be subject to the Early Repurchase Deduction. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we have adopted a policy in which the affiliate transaction committee must approve repurchase requests submitted by the Adviser or its affiliates that when combined with any shareholder repurchase requests would cause us to exceed the 2% monthly or 5% quarterly limitations on repurchases (or any other limitations then in effect under our share repurchase plan). Such approval must find that the repurchase will not impair our capital or operations and be consistent with the fiduciary duties of our directors. Shares or Operating Partnership units held by the Adviser or its affiliates acquired as payment of the management fee or performance participation allocation will not be entitled to be repurchased during any period in which our share repurchase plan is suspended. Stockholders who are exchanging a class of shares of our common stock for an equivalent aggregate NAV of another class of our shares will not be subject to, and will not be treated as repurchases for the calculation of, the 2% monthly or 5% quarterly limitations on repurchases and will not be subject to the Early Repurchase Deduction.

Early Repurchase Deduction

There is no minimum holding period for shares of our common stock and stockholders can request that we repurchase their shares at any time. However, subject to limited exceptions, shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of the transaction price. The one-year holding period is measured as of first calendar day immediately following the prospective repurchase date. Additionally, stockholders who have received shares of our common stock in exchange for their Operating Partnership units may include the period of time such stockholder held such Operating Partnership units for purposes of calculating the holding period for such shares of our common stock. This Early Repurchase Deduction will also generally apply to minimum account repurchases. The Early Repurchase Deduction will not apply to shares acquired through our distribution reinvestment plan.

The Early Repurchase Deduction will inure indirectly to the benefit of our remaining stockholders and is intended to offset the trading costs, market impact and other costs associated with short-term trading in our common stock. We may, from time to time, waive the Early Repurchase Deduction in the following circumstances (subject to the conditions described below):

- repurchases resulting from death, qualifying disability or divorce;
- in the event that a stockholder's shares are repurchased because the stockholder has failed to maintain the $500 minimum account balance; or
- due to trade or operational error.

As set forth above, we may waive the Early Repurchase Deduction in respect of repurchase of shares resulting from the death, qualifying disability (as such term is defined in Section 72(m)(7) of the Code) or divorce of a stockholder who is a natural person, including shares held by such stockholder through a trust or an IRA or other retirement or profit-sharing plan, after (i) in the case of death, receiving written notice from the estate of the stockholder, the recipient of the shares through bequest or inheritance, or, in the case of a trust, the trustee of such trust, who shall have the sole ability to request repurchase on behalf of the trust, (ii) in the case of qualified disability, receiving written notice from such stockholder, provided that the condition causing the qualifying disability was not pre-existing on the date that the stockholder became a stockholder or (iii) in the case of divorce, receiving written notice from the stockholder of the divorce and the stockholder's instructions to effect a transfer of the shares (through the repurchase of the shares by us and the subsequent purchase by the stockholder) to a different account held by the stockholder (including trust or an individual retirement account or other retirement or profit-sharing plan). We must receive the written repurchase request within 12 months after the death of the stockholder, the initial determination of the stockholder's disability or divorce in order for the requesting party to rely on any of the special treatment described above that may be afforded in the event of the death, disability or divorce of a stockholder. In the case of death, such a written request must be accompanied by a certified copy of the official death certificate of the stockholder. If spouses are joint registered holders of shares, the request to have the shares repurchased may be made if either of the registered holders dies or acquires a qualified disability. If the stockholder is not a natural person, such as certain trusts or a partnership, corporation or other similar entity, the right to waiver of the Early Repurchase Deduction upon death, disability or divorce does not apply.

In addition, shares of the Company's common stock are sold to certain feeder vehicles primarily created to hold the Company's shares that in turn offer interests in such feeder vehicles to non-U.S. persons. For such feeder vehicles and similar arrangements in certain markets, the Company will not apply the Early Repurchase Deduction to the feeder vehicles or underlying investors, often because of administrative or systems limitations. Further, the Company will not apply the Early Repurchase Deduction on repurchases of the Company's common stock submitted by discretionary model portfolio management programs (and similar arrangements) as approved by the Company.

Restrictions on Certain Stockholders

Certain stockholders have agreed, and in the future may agree, to certain terms in their subscription agreement with the Company, including a minimum holding period before seeking to participate in our share repurchase plan and additional limitations.

Items of Note

When you make a request to have shares repurchased, you should note the following:

- if you are requesting that some but not all of your shares be repurchased, keep your balance above $500 to avoid minimum account repurchase, if applicable;
- you will not receive interest on amounts represented by uncashed repurchase checks;
- under applicable anti-money laundering regulations and other federal regulations, repurchase requests may be suspended, restricted or canceled and the proceeds may be withheld; and
- all shares of our common stock requested to be repurchased must be beneficially owned by the stockholder of record making the request or his or her estate, heir or beneficiary, or the party requesting the repurchase must be authorized to do so by the stockholder of record of the shares or his or her estate, heir or beneficiary, and such shares of common stock must be fully transferable and not subject to any liens or encumbrances. In certain cases, we may ask the requesting party to provide evidence satisfactory to us that the shares requested for repurchase are not subject to any liens or encumbrances. If we determine that a lien exists against the shares, we will not be obligated to repurchase any shares subject to the lien.

IRS regulations require us to determine and disclose on Form 1099-B the adjusted cost basis for shares of our stock sold or repurchased. Although there are several available methods for determining the adjusted cost basis, unless you elect otherwise by checking the appropriate box on the repurchase authorization form or calling our customer service number at 844-702-1299, or your broker-dealer elects otherwise on your behalf, we will utilize the first-in-first-out method.

Frequent Trading and Other Policies

We may reject for any reason, or cancel as permitted or required by law, any purchase orders for shares of our common stock. For example, we may reject any purchase orders from market timers or investors that, in our opinion, may be disruptive to our operations. Frequent purchases and sales of our shares can harm stockholders in various ways, including reducing the returns to long-term stockholders by increasing our costs, disrupting portfolio management strategies and diluting the value of the shares of long-term stockholders.

In general, stockholders may request that we repurchase their shares of our common stock once every 30 days. However, we prohibit frequent trading. We define frequent trading as follows:

- any stockholder who requests that we repurchase its shares of our common stock within 30 calendar days of the purchase of such shares;
- transactions deemed harmful or excessive by us (including, but not limited to, patterns of purchases and repurchases), in our sole discretion; and
- transactions initiated by financial advisors, among multiple stockholder accounts, that in the aggregate are deemed harmful or excessive.

The following are excluded when determining whether transactions are excessive:

- purchases and requests for repurchase of our shares in the amount of $2,500 or less;
- purchases or repurchases initiated by us; and
- transactions subject to the trading policy of an intermediary that we deem materially similar to our policy.

At the Dealer Manager's discretion, upon the first violation of the policy in a calendar year, purchase and repurchase privileges may be suspended for 90 days. Upon a second violation in a calendar year, purchase and repurchase privileges may be suspended for 180 days. On the next business day following the end of the 90 or 180 day suspension, any transaction restrictions placed on a stockholder may be removed.

Mail and Telephone Instructions

We and our transfer agent will not be responsible for the authenticity of mail or phone instructions or losses, if any, resulting from unauthorized stockholder transactions if they reasonably believe that such instructions were genuine. Our transfer agent has established reasonable procedures to confirm that instructions are genuine including requiring the stockholder to provide certain specific identifying information on file and sending written confirmation to stockholders of record. Stockholders, or their designated custodian or fiduciary, should carefully review such correspondence to ensure that the instructions were properly acted upon. If any discrepancies are noted, the stockholder, or its agent, should contact his, her or its financial advisor as well as our transfer agent in a timely manner, but in no event more than 60 days from receipt of such correspondence. Failure to notify such entities in a timely manner will relieve us, our transfer agent and the financial advisor of any liability with respect to the discrepancy.

Status of our Share Repurchases

During the year ended December 31, 2025, we repurchased shares of our common stock in the following amounts at the then-applicable transaction price (reduced as applicable by the Early Repurchase Deduction):

Month of:	Total Number of Shares Repurchased	Repurchases as a Percentage of BREIT's NAV[1]	Average Price Paid per Share	Total Number of Shares Repurchased as Part of Publicly Announced Plans or Programs	Maximum Number of Shares Pending Repurchase Pursuant to Publicly Announced Plans or Programs[2]

(1) Represents aggregate NAV of the shares repurchased under our Share Repurchase Plan over aggregate NAV of all shares outstanding, in each case, based on the NAV as of the last calendar day of the prior month.

(2) All repurchase requests under our share repurchase plan were satisfied.

SUPPLEMENTAL SALES MATERIAL

In addition to this prospectus, we will use sales material in connection with the offering of shares, although only when accompanied by or preceded by the delivery of this prospectus. Some or all of the sales material may not be available in certain jurisdictions. This sales material may include information relating to this offering, the past performance of the Adviser and its affiliates, property brochures and articles and publications concerning real estate. In addition, the sales material may contain quotes from various publications without obtaining the consent of the author or the publication for use of the quoted material in the sales material.

We are offering shares only by means of this prospectus. Although the information contained in the sales material will not conflict with any of the information contained in this prospectus, the sales material does not purport to be complete and should not be considered as a part of this prospectus or the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part, or as incorporated by reference in this prospectus or the registration statement, or as forming the basis of the offering of the shares of our common stock.

REPORTS TO STOCKHOLDERS

We will cause to be prepared and mailed or delivered to each stockholder, as of a record date after the end of the fiscal year, and to each holder of our other publicly held securities, within 120 days after the end of the fiscal year to which it relates, an annual report for each fiscal year. The annual reports will contain the following:

- financial statements that are prepared in accordance with GAAP and are audited by our independent registered public accounting firm;
- the ratio of the costs of raising capital during the year to the capital raised;
- the aggregate amount of the management fee and the aggregate amount of any other fees paid to the Adviser and any affiliate of the Adviser by us or third parties doing business with us during the year;
- our Total Operating Expenses for the year, stated as a percentage of our Average Invested Assets and as a percentage of our Net Income;
- a report from the independent directors that our policies are in the best interest of our stockholders and the basis for such determination; and
- a separate report containing full disclosure of all material terms, factors and circumstances surrounding any and all transactions involving us and the Adviser, a director or any affiliate thereof during the year, which report the independent directors are specifically charged with a duty to examine and to comment on regarding the fairness of the transactions.

Alternatively, such information may be provided in a proxy statement delivered with the annual report. We will make available to you on our website, www.breit.com, or, at our discretion, via email, our quarterly and annual reports, proxy statements and other reports and documents concerning your investment. To the extent required by law or regulation, or, in our discretion, we may also make certain of this information available to you via U.S. mail or other courier. You may always receive a paper copy upon request.

Our tax accountants will prepare our federal tax return (and any applicable state income tax returns). Generally we will provide appropriate tax information to our stockholders within 31 days following the end of each fiscal year. Our fiscal year is the calendar year.

LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the shares of our common stock being offered hereby will be passed upon for us by Venable LLP, Baltimore, Maryland. Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP has reviewed the statements relating to certain U.S. federal income tax matters that are likely to be material to U.S. holders and non-U.S. holders of our common stock under the caption "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations" and will pass upon the accuracy of those statements as well as our qualification as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Certain legal matters relating to this offering have been reviewed for the Dealer Manager by Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP.

EXPERTS

The financial statements of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2025, incorporated by reference in this prospectus by reference to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.'s annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 have been audited by Deloitte & Touche LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report. Such financial statements are incorporated by reference in reliance upon the report of such firm given their authority as experts in accounting and auditing.

PRIVACY POLICY NOTICE

Prospective investors should be aware that, in making an investment in BREIT, and interacting with BREIT, its affiliates and/or delegates by:

i. submitting a subscription agreement;

ii. communicating through telephone calls, online investor platforms (including bxaccess.com), written correspondence, and emails (all of which may be recorded); or

iii. providing Personal Data (as defined below) concerning individuals connected with the investor (such as directors, officers, trustees, employees, representatives, shareholders, investors, clients, beneficial owners and/or agents), they may be providing BREIT, its affiliates and/or delegates with Personal Data.

We have prepared a data privacy notice ("DPN") detailing how we will collect Personal Data, where we collect it from, and the purposes for which the Personal Data is used. This DPN explains what rights are given to individuals, how long Personal Data will be retained, who it will be shared with, the purposes of the processing, safeguards put in place where Personal Data is transferred internationally, and relevant contacts. The DPN and the Privacy Policy for Non-U.S. Investors, are included in this prospectus as Appendix C and Appendix D, respectively. For purposes of the foregoing, "Personal Data" has the meaning given to it under data protection laws that apply to our processing of personal data, and includes any information that relates to, describes, identifies or can be used, directly or indirectly, to identify an individual (such as name, address, date of birth, personal identification numbers, sensitive personal information, passport information, financial information, and economic information).

WHERE YOU CAN FIND MORE INFORMATION; INCORPORATION BY REFERENCE

We have filed a registration statement on Form S-11 with the SEC with respect to the shares of our common stock to be issued in this offering. This prospectus is a part of that registration statement and, as permitted by SEC rules, does not include all of the information you can find in the registration statement or the exhibits to the registration statement. For additional information relating to us, we refer you to the registration statement and the exhibits to the registration statement. Statements contained in this prospectus as to the contents of any contract or document are necessarily summaries of such contract or document and in each instance, if we have filed the contract or document as an exhibit to the registration statement, we refer you to the copy of the contract or document filed as an exhibit to the registration statement.

The SEC allows us to "incorporate by reference" certain information we have filed with the SEC, which means that we can disclose important information to you by referring you to those filed documents. The information incorporated by reference is considered to be part of this prospectus. The following documents, which have been filed with the SEC, are incorporated by reference:

- our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 filed on February 27, 2026;
- our Current Reports on Form 8-K filed January 8, 2026, January 20, 2026, February 5, 2026, March 6, 2026, March 19, 2026 and April 7, 2026;
- our definitive Proxy Statement on Schedule 14A filed on March 27, 2026.

We will file annual, quarterly and special reports, proxy statements and other information with the SEC. The registration statement is, and any of these future filings with the SEC will be, available to the public over the internet at the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.

Website Disclosure

Our website at www.breit.com will contain additional information about our business, but the contents of the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this prospectus. From time to time, we may use our website as a distribution channel for material company information. Financial and other important information regarding us will be routinely accessible thorough and posted on our website at www.breit.com.

APPENDIX A: DISTRIBUTION REINVESTMENT PLAN

This Second Amended and Restated Distribution Reinvestment Plan (the "Plan") has been adopted by Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. (the "Company") pursuant to its Articles of Amendment and Restatement (as amended, restated or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Charter"). The Plan supersedes and replaces the amended and restated distribution reinvestment plan previously adopted by the Company and effective as of May 12, 2023. Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms shall have the same meaning as set forth in the Charter.

1. Distribution Reinvestment. As agent for the stockholders (the "Stockholders") of the Company who purchase shares of common stock of the Company, whether designated as of the date hereof or hereinafter designated in the Charter (collectively the "Shares"), pursuant to (i) one or more unregistered private offerings of the Company's Shares, pursuant to the applicable exemption from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") (the "Private Placement") or (ii) the Company's continuous public offering or any future public offering (the "Public Offering", and together with the Private Placement, the "Offering"), and who do not opt out of participating in the Plan (or who affirmatively elect to participate in the Plan, as applicable, as set forth in Section 3 below) (the "Participants"), the Company will apply all cash dividends and other distributions declared and paid in respect of the Shares held by each Participant and attributable to the class of Shares held by such Participant (the "Distributions"), including Distributions paid with respect to any full or fractional Shares acquired under the Plan, to the purchase of additional Shares of the same class for such Participant.

2. Effective Date. The effective date of this Plan shall be July 18, 2025.

3. Procedure for Participation. Any Stockholder who has received (i) a private placement memorandum with respect to the Private Placement (a "Memorandum") or (ii) the Company's prospectus (as amended and/or supplemented from time to time, the "Prospectus"), as contained in the Company's registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), with respect to the Public Offering, will automatically become a Participant unless they elect not to become a Participant by noting such election on their subscription agreement; provided, however, that any Stockholder who (a) participates in the Public Offering and resides in a state or jurisdiction that requires affirmative enrollment in the Plan, as described in the Prospectus or (b) or is a client of a participating broker-dealer that requires affirmative enrollment in the Plan will only become a Participant if they elect to become a Participant by noting such election on their subscription agreement. If any Stockholder initially elects not to be a Participant, they may later become a Participant by subsequently completing and executing an enrollment form or any appropriate authorization form as may be available from the Company, the Company's transfer agent, the dealer manager for the Offering or any soliciting dealer participating in the distribution of Shares for the Offering. Participation in the Plan will begin with the next Distribution payable after acceptance of a Participant's subscription, enrollment or authorization. Shares will be purchased under the Plan on the date that Distributions are paid by the Company.

4. Suitability. Each Participant is requested to promptly notify the Company in writing if the Participant experiences a material change in his or her financial condition, including the failure to meet the income, net worth, investment concentration, status as an "accredited investor" as defined by Regulation D of the Securities Act (solely with respect to purchasers in a Private Placement) or other investment suitability standards imposed by such Participant's state of residence and set forth in the Company's Memorandum or the most recent Prospectus. For the avoidance of doubt, this request in no way shifts to the Participant the responsibility of the Company's sponsor, or any other person selling Shares on behalf of the Company to the Participant, to make every reasonable effort to determine that the purchase of Shares is a suitable and appropriate investment based on information provided by such Participant.

5. Purchase of Shares.

A. Participants will acquire Shares from the Company (including Shares purchased by the Company for the Plan in a secondary market (if available) or on a stock exchange (if listed)) under the Plan at a price equal to the most recently disclosed transaction price per Share applicable to the class of Shares held by the Participant on the date that the Distribution is payable (calculated as of the most recent month end). No upfront selling commissions will be payable with respect to Shares purchased pursuant to the Plan, but such Shares will be subject to ongoing stockholder servicing fees. Participants in the Plan may purchase fractional Shares so that 100% of the Distributions will be used to acquire Shares. However, a Participant will not be able to acquire Shares and such Participant's participation in the Plan will be terminated to the extent that a reinvestment of such Participant's Distributions in Shares would cause the percentage ownership or other limitations contained in the Charter to be violated.

B. Shares to be distributed by the Company in connection with the Plan may (but are not required to) be supplied from: (i) Shares that will be issued by the Company in a Private Placement pursuant to an applicable exemption from registration under the Securities Act or (ii) Shares that will be registered with the SEC in connection with the Public Offering.

6. Taxes. THE REINVESTMENT OF DISTRIBUTIONS DOES NOT RELIEVE A PARTICIPANT OF ANY INCOME TAX LIABILITY THAT MAY BE PAYABLE ON THE DISTRIBUTIONS. INFORMATION REGARDING POTENTIAL TAX INCOME LIABILITY OF PARTICIPANTS MAY BE FOUND IN THE PUBLIC FILINGS MADE BY THE COMPANY WITH THE SEC.

7. Share Certificates. The ownership of the Shares purchased through the Plan will be in book-entry form unless and until the Company issues certificates for its outstanding Shares.

8. Reports. On a quarterly basis, the Company shall provide each Participant a statement of account describing, as to such Participant: (i) the Distributions reinvested during the quarter; (ii) the number and class of Shares purchased pursuant to the Plan during the quarter; (iii) the per share purchase price for such Shares; and (iv) the total number of Shares purchased on behalf of the Participant under the Plan. On an annual basis, tax information with respect to income earned on Shares under the Plan for the calendar year will be provided to each applicable participant.

9. Termination by Participant. A Participant may terminate participation in the Plan at any time, without penalty, by delivering 10 business days' prior written notice to the Company. This notice must be received by the Company prior to the last day of a quarter in order for a Participant's termination to be effective for such quarter (i.e., a timely termination notice will be effective as of the last day of a quarter in which it is timely received and will not affect participation in the Plan for any prior quarter). Any transfer of Shares by a Participant to a non-Participant will terminate participation in the Plan with respect to the transferred Shares. If a Participant requests that the Company repurchase all or any portion of the Participant's Shares, the Participant's participation in the Plan with respect to the Participant's Shares for which repurchase was requested but that were not repurchased will be terminated. If a Participant terminates Plan participation, the Company may, at its option, ensure that the terminating Participant's account will reflect the whole number of Shares in such Participant's account and provide a check for the cash value of any fractional Share in such account. Upon termination of Plan participation for any reason, future Distributions will be distributed to the Stockholder in cash.

10. Amendment, Suspension or Termination by the Company. The Board of Directors may by majority vote amend any aspect of the Plan; provided that the Plan cannot be amended to eliminate a Participant's right to terminate participation in the Plan and that notice of any material amendment must be provided to Participants at least 10 business days prior to the effective date of that amendment. The Board of Directors may by majority vote suspend or terminate the Plan for any reason upon 10 business days' written notice to the Participants.

11. Liability of the Company. The Company shall not be liable for any act done in good faith, or for any good faith omission to act, including, without limitation, any claims or liability (i) arising out of failure to terminate a Participant's account upon such Participant's death prior to timely receipt of notice in writing of such death or (ii) with respect to the time and the prices at which Shares are purchased or sold for a Participant's account. To the extent that indemnification may apply to liabilities arising under the Securities Act, or the securities laws of a particular state, the Company has been advised that, in the opinion of the SEC and certain state securities commissioners, such indemnification is contrary to public policy and, therefore, unenforceable.

If (i) you do not provide the information, (ii) we are unable to confirm that this information is true and correct including, without limitation, verification of your identity (or that of another person(s) authorized to act on your behalf), or (iii) we believe we have identified potential criminal activity, in each case we reserve the right to take action as we deem appropriate which may include not opening your account or closing your account and repurchasing your shares under the Share Repurchase Plan.

Please separately initial each of the representations below. A power of attorney to make representations on behalf of an investor can only be granted for fiduciary accounts; if applicable, by signing the Subscription Agreement you represent and warrant that you have the requisite authority. In order to induce Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. to accept this subscription, I hereby represent and warrant to you as follows:

8.a. Please note: all items in section 8.a. must be read and initialed

	Primary Investor Initials	Co-Investor Initials
I have received a copy of the Final Prospectus.
I/We have (i) a minimum net worth (not including home, home furnishings and personal automobiles) of at least $250,000, or (ii) a minimum net worth (as previously described) of at least $70,000 and a minimum annual gross income of at least $70,000.
In addition to the general suitability requirements described in the representation above, I/we meet the higher suitability requirements, if any, imposed by my state of primary residence as set forth in the Prospectus under "SUITABILITY STANDARDS".
I am (i) an entity that was formed for the purpose of purchasing Shares, in which each individual that owns an interest in such entity meets the general suitability requirements described above OR (ii) I am an individual or entity not formed for such purpose.
I acknowledge that there is no public market for the Shares, and thus, there is no liquid market in which I can dispose of my investment in the Shares.
I acknowledge that the Shares have not been registered and are not expected to be registered under the laws of any country or jurisdiction outside of the United States except as otherwise described in the Prospectus.
I am purchasing the Shares for my own account for investment purposes only and not with a view to resale or distribution.
I understand that the transaction price per Share at which my investment will be executed will be made available at www.breit.com and in a prospectus supplement filed with the SEC, available at www.sec.gov.
I understand that my subscription request will not be accepted before the later of (i) two business days before the first calendar day of the month and (ii) three business days after the transaction price is made available. I understand that I am not committed to purchase Shares at the time my subscription order is submitted and I may cancel my subscription at any time before the time it has been accepted as described in the previous sentence. I understand that I may withdraw my purchase request by notifying the transfer agent, through my financial intermediary or directly on Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.'s toll-free, automated telephone line, 844-702-1299.

8.b. If you live in any of the following states, please read Section 8.b. carefully: Alabama, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New Mexico, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, Tennessee, Vermont and Washington.

	Primary Investor Initials	Co-Investor Initials
If I am an Alabama resident, I have either (a) a minimum of $100,000 annual gross income and a net worth of $100,000, or (b) a net worth of at least $350,000. In addition, my aggregate investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and other non-traded direct participation programs shall not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth at the time of my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. This concentration limit does not apply to investments made as a result of participation in a distribution reinvestment program nor to an investor who is an "accredited investor" as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth consisting of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities
If I am an Idaho resident, I have either (a) a net worth of $85,000 and annual income of $85,000 or (b) a liquid net worth of $300,000. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.
If I am an Iowa resident, I have either (a) an annual gross income of at least $100,000 and a net worth of at least $100,000, or (b) a net worth of at least $350,000. In addition, if I am not an accredited investor as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, my aggregate investment in this offering and in the securities of other non-publicly traded real estate investment trusts (REITs) does not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.
If I am a Kansas resident, I understand that the Securities Commissioner of Kansas recommends that Kansas investors limit their aggregate investment in our securities and other similar investments to not more than 10% of their liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.
If I am a Kentucky resident, my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and its affiliated non-publicly traded real estate investment trusts may not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments. Purchasers who are accredited investors as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are not subject to the foregoing concentration limit.
If I am a Maine resident, I acknowledge that it is recommended by the Maine Office of Securities that my aggregate investment in this offering and other similar direct participation investments not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.
If I am a Massachusetts resident, I have either (a) a minimum liquid net worth of at least $100,000 and a minimum annual gross income of not less than $85,000; or (b) a minimum liquid net worth of $350,000. In addition, the total investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., its affiliates and other non-publicly traded direct investment programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs and commodity pools, but excluding unregistered, federally and state exempt private offerings) may not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For purposes of the Massachusetts suitability standard, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities.
If I am a Missouri resident, in addition to the suitability standards set forth above, no more than 10% of my liquid net worth shall be invested in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.
If I am a Nebraska resident, and I do not meet the definition of "accredited investor" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, my aggregate investment in this offering and in the securities of other non-publicly traded direct participation programs may not exceed 10% of my net worth.

	Primary Investor Initials	Co-Investor Initials
If I am a New Jersey resident, I have either (a) a minimum liquid net worth of at least $100,000 and a minimum annual gross income of not less than $100,000, or (b) a minimum liquid net worth of $350,000. In addition, my total investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., its affiliates and other non-publicly traded direct investment programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs and commodity pools (each a "DIP Category"), but excluding unregistered, federally and state exempt private offerings) may not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. However, New Jersey investors who are accredited investors, as defined at N.J.S.A. 49:3-49(p), may not invest more than ten percent (10%) of their liquid net worth in each DIP Category. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles, minus total liabilities) that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities. New Jersey investors are advised that the Class T-2, Class S-2, and Class D-2 shares may be subject to transaction or other fees charged by certain financial intermediaries. Such fees include upfront selling commissions as a percentage of the transaction price of up to (i) 3.0% for Class T-2 shares, (ii) 3.5% for Class S-2 shares, and (iii) 1.5% for Class D-2 shares. The Class T-2 shares are also subject to upfront dealer manager fees of 0.5% of the transaction price of the Class T-2 shares. The Class T-2, Class S-2 and Class D-2 shares are subject to ongoing stockholder servicing fees in an annual amount equal to a percentage of the aggregate NAV of the outstanding shares per class of up to (i) 0.85% for the Class T-2 and Class S-2 shares and (ii) 0.25% for the Class D-2. These upfront commissions and fees will cause the per share purchase price to be greater than the initial per share NAV that will be reflected on an account statement and will reduce the amount of the purchase price that is available for investment and other capital needs. The stockholder servicing fees will reduce the NAV or distributions for the Class T-2, S-2 and D-2 shares relative to classes which do not pay a stockholder servicing fee or pay a reduced stockholder servicing fee.
If I am a New Mexico resident, and I do not meet the definition of "accredited investor" as defined by Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, I must limit my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., its affiliates and other non-traded real estate investment trusts to 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.
If I am an Ohio resident, my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., its affiliates and other non-traded real estate investment programs may not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) that is comprised of cash, cash equivalents, and readily marketable securities. This condition does not apply, directly or indirectly, to federally covered securities. The condition also does not apply to purchasers who meet the definition of an accredited investor as defined in rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C.A. 77a, as amended.
If I am an Oregon resident, and I am not an accredited investor, I may not invest more than 10% of my liquid net worth in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as an investor's total assets (excluding home, home furnishings, and automobiles) minus total liabilities. Oregon investors who meet the definition of "accredited investor" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are not subject to the limitation described in this paragraph.
If I am a Pennsylvania resident, my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. may not exceed 10% of my net worth (exclusive of home, home furnishings, and automobiles).
If I am a Puerto Rico resident, my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., its affiliates, and other non-traded REITs, may not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth (total assets exclusive of primary residence, home furnishings, and automobiles minus total liabilities) consisting of cash, cash equivalents, and readily marketable securities.
If I am a Tennessee resident, who is not an "accredited investor" as defined in 17 C.F.R. § 230.501, my investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. may not be more than 10% of my net worth.
If I am a Vermont resident, and I am not an "accredited investor" as defined in 17 C.F.R. § 230.501, my investment in this offering may not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth. For these purposes, "liquid net worth" is defined as an investor's total assets (not including home, home furnishings, or automobiles) minus total liabilities.
If I am a Washington resident, I have either (a) a minimum of $100,000 annual gross income and a net worth of $100,000, or (b) a net worth of at least $350,000. In addition, if I am not an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D of the Securities Act, as amended, my investment in this offering and other non-traded direct participation programs (including REITs, business development companies, oil and gas programs, equipment leasing programs, and commodity pools, but excluding federal and state exempt private offerings and any investment company registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940) does not exceed 10% of my liquid net worth at the time of my investment.

For purposes of determining whether you satisfy the standards below, your net worth is calculated excluding the value of your home, home furnishings and automobiles, and unless otherwise indicated, "liquid net worth" is defined as that portion of net worth that consists of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable investments.

For purposes of the acknowledgments above, an affiliate of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. ("BREIT" or the "Company") shall mean (i) any person or entity directly or indirectly owning, controlling or holding, with the power to vote, 10% or more of the outstanding voting securities of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; (ii) any person or entity 10% or more of whose outstanding voting securities are directly or indirectly owned, controlled or held, with the power to vote, by Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; (iii) any person or entity directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by or under common control with Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., including any partnership in which Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. is a general partner; and (iv) any executive officer, director, trustee or general partner of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. In the case of sales to fiduciary accounts, the minimum standards above shall be met by the beneficiary, the fiduciary, account, or by the donor or grantor, who directly or indirectly supplies the funds to purchase the shares if the donor or grantor is the fiduciary.

I declare that the information supplied above is true and correct and may be relied upon by Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. I acknowledge that the Broker-Dealer / Financial Advisor (of record) indicated in section 6 of this Subscription Agreement and its designated clearing agent, if any, will have full access to my account information, including the number of Shares I own, tax information (including the Form 1099) and redemption information. Investors may change the Broker-Dealer / Financial Advisor of record at any time by contacting Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. at the number indicated below. Further, by signing below, you acknowledge that BREIT and Blackstone Securities Partners L.P. (the "Dealer Manager") have not acted in a fiduciary capacity under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 to you or your Financial Advisor, and any communications made by Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust Inc., and the Dealer Manager are not intended to be, and should not be considered as, impartial investment advice. Please consult your Financial Advisor if you have had any changes that might affect your ability to meet the applicable suitability requirements.

SUBSTITUTE IRS FORM W-9 CERTIFICATIONS (Required for US investors):

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this Subscription Agreement is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me); and

2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding; and

3. I am a US citizen or other US person (including a resident alien) (defined in IRS Form W-9); and

4. The FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that I am exempt from FATCA reporting is correct.

Certification Instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return.

The Internal Revenue Service does not require your consent to any provision of this document other than the certifications required to avoid backup withholding.

9. Miscellaneous

If investors participating in the Distribution Reinvestment Plan or making subsequent purchases of Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. experience a material adverse change in their financial condition or can no longer make the representations or warranties set forth in section 8 above, they are asked to promptly notify Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. and the Dealer Manager in writing. The Broker-Dealer may notify Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. if an investor participating in the Distribution Reinvestment Plan can no longer make the representations or warranties set forth in section 8 above, and Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. may rely on such notification to terminate such investor's participation in the Distribution Reinvestment Plan. Class T-2, S-2, and D-2 Common Shares shall convert to Class I Common Shares upon certain events as set forth in the Prospectus and the Company's charter, including, but not limited to, when total Selling Commissions and Class 2 Stockholder Servicing Fees (as such terms are defined in the Company's charter) paid with respect to such Shares would be equal to or exceed, in the aggregate, the limit, if any, set forth in the applicable agreement between the Dealer Manager and a participating broker-dealer with respect to that broker-dealer's clients at the time such shares were issued.

No sale of Shares may be completed until at least five business days after you receive the final Prospectus. To be accepted, a subscription request must be made with a completed and executed subscription agreement in good order and payment of the full purchase price at least five business days prior to the first calendar day of the month (unless waived). You will receive a written confirmation of your purchase.

All items on the Subscription Agreement must be completed in order for your subscription to be processed. Subscribers are encouraged to read the Prospectus in its entirety for a complete explanation of an investment in the Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.

In connection with the investor's investment in Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., the Shares will be held in the investor's name on the books of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. While the Dealer Manager acts as dealer-manager in connection with the offering, it will not act as an agent for any investor for any purpose. The Dealer Manager provides services to Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., not to investors in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. The Dealer Manager will not provide the kinds of financial services that an investor might expect from a broker-dealer that acts as its agent, such as holding securities in an account. In particular, the Dealer Manager will not monitor an investor's investments, and has not and will not provide any advice nor make any recommendation regarding an investor's investments, including any recommendation to purchase Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. Further, the Dealer Manager and/or its affiliates are not: (i) making any inquiry into the characteristics of any investor, or the suitability of any investor for an investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; (ii) providing any tax, legal or accounting advice to any investors with respect to an investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc., (iii) providing any custody services to any investors who purchase or hold Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; (iv) executing sales for any investors who purchase or hold Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; (v) acting as broker of record for any investors who purchase or hold Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; (vi) providing any distribution services or any stockholder and account maintenance services or other non-distribution services to any investors who purchase or hold Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc.; and (vii) owing any duty to any investors who purchase or hold Shares of Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. The Dealer Manager and its affiliates will rely on the representations of the Investor and/or financial advisor or qualified intermediary, as applicable, set forth herein for its own regulatory and compliance obligations. For the avoidance of doubt, the Dealer Manager has not made an investigation of the investor's financial circumstances beyond the eligibility criteria for this offering. An investor should contact its broker or other financial intermediary to receive financial advice regarding a prospective investment in Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust, Inc

APPENDIX C: INVESTOR DATA PRIVACY NOTICE

Investor Data Privacy Notice

Why are you seeing this notice?

- You may need to provide Personal Data to us as part of your investment into a fund or other investment vehicle (as applicable, the Fund) managed or advised by investment advisers or management companies that are subsidiaries of Blackstone Inc. or its affiliates (and, where applicable, the general partner of the relevant Fund) (collectively, Blackstone).

- We want you to understand how and why we use, store and otherwise process your Personal Data when you deal with us or our relevant affiliates (including under applicable data protection laws). If this notice (the Data Privacy Notice) has been made available to you, you may have certain rights with respect to your Personal Data under applicable data protection laws (including as described in this Data Privacy Notice).

- "Personal Data" has the meaning given to it under data protection laws that apply to our processing of your personal information, and includes any information relating to an identified or identifiable individual (such as name, address, date of birth, personal identification numbers, sensitive personal information, and economic information).

- We ask that investors promptly provide the information contained in this Data Privacy Notice to any individuals whose Personal Data they provide to the Fund or its affiliates in connection with 'know your client'/anti-money laundering requests or otherwise.

Please read the information below carefully. It explains how and why Personal Data is processed by us.

Who is providing this notice?

Blackstone is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. Blackstone is a global financial services firm with offices, branches, operations and entities globally, including as described at this link: https://privacy.blackstone.com/visitors-online-privacy-notice/#appendixA

- For transparency, the Blackstone entities on whose behalf this privacy statement is made are: (i) the Fund; and (ii) where applicable, the Blackstone general partner, manager and/or investment adviser of the relevant Fund, in each case, with which you contract, transact or otherwise share Personal Data (together, the Fund Parties).

- Where we use the terms "we", "us" and "our" in this Data Privacy Notice, we are referring to the Fund and the Fund Parties.

- Please consult your subscription documents, private placement memorandum or other offering documentation provided to you by or on behalf of the Fund Parties which will further specify the entities and contact details of the Fund Parties relevant to our relationship with you.

- We welcome investors and their representatives to contact us if they have any queries with respect to the Fund Parties (in particular, which Fund Parties are relevant to their relationship with Blackstone). If you have any queries, please see the 'Contact Us' section.

When you provide us with your Personal Data, each Fund Party that decides how and why Personal Data is processed acts as a "data controller". In simple terms, this means that the Fund Party makes certain decisions on how to use and protect your Personal Data – but only to the extent that we have informed you about the use or are otherwise permitted by law.

Where your Personal Data is processed by an entity controlled by, or under common control with, the Blackstone entity/ies managing a Fund for its own purposes, this entity will also be a data controller.

What personal data do we collect about you?

The types of Personal Data that we collect and share depends on the product or service you have with us and the nature of your investment. The Personal Data we collect about you may include:

- Contact information, such as name, e-mail and postal address, and phone number;
- Demographic information, such as date and country of birth, gender, country of residence, nationality, and citizenship;
- Government-issued identification numbers provided in connection with a subscription to Funds, such as Social Security number, driver's license number, passport number, national identification number, and tax identification number;
- Professional or employment-related information, such as the name of your employer or the organization you represent and your position;
- Financial information, such as information related to your transactions with us or others, bank account details (e.g., account and routing number), financial account history, information concerning the source of funds used for investments, and details regarding your investment history (e.g., types and amounts of investments) assets, income, and financial returns and positions;
- Investment preferences;
- Information related to background checks (e.g., "know your client", anti-money laundering and sanctions checks) and any information related to applicable restrictions on your investments, such as political exposure or sanctions;
- Information collected in the context of monitoring and surveillance where permitted or required by applicable law, including recordings of telephone and video calls and CCTV; and
- Other information you or the organization you represent choose to provide, such as through eligibility questionnaires and ongoing investor relations communications.

We may combine Personal Data that you provide to us with Personal Data that we collect from you, or about you from other sources, in some circumstances. This will include Personal Data collected in an online or offline context.

Where do we obtain your personal data?

We collect Personal Data about you from a number of sources, including:

What	How
Personal Data that you give us	• From the forms and any associated documentation that you complete when subscribing for an investment, shares, interests, and/or opening an account with us. This can include information about your name, address, date of birth, passport details or other national identifier, driving license, your national insurance or Social Security number and income, employment information and details about your investment or retirement portfolio(s), and financial-related data (such as returns and financial positions) • When you provide it to us in correspondence and conversations, including electronic communications such as e-mail and telephone calls • When you make transactions with respect to the Fund • When you interact with our online platforms and websites (such as bxaccess.com) • When you purchase securities from us and/or tell us where to send money • From cookies, web beacons, and similar interactions when you or your devices access our sites • When we need to identify you and/or complete necessary security checks, where you visit one of our buildings or attend meetings. This can include form of ID, and your image for CCTV purposes.
Personal Data that we obtain from others	We obtain Personal Data from: • Publicly available and accessible directories and sources • Bankruptcy registers • Tax authorities, including those that are based outside the territory in which you are located or domiciled, including the Cayman Islands, the United Kingdom (UK) and the European Economic Area (EEA), if you are subject to tax in another jurisdiction • Governmental and competent regulatory authorities to whom we have regulatory obligations • Credit agencies • Fraud prevention and detection agencies / organizations • Transaction counterparties

Why do we process your personal data?

We may process your Personal Data for the following reasons:

Why	How
Contract	It is necessary to perform our contract with you to: • Administer, manage and set up your investor account(s) to allow you to purchase your holding (of shares or interests) in our Funds • Meet the resulting contractual obligations we have to you • Facilitate the continuation or termination of the contractual relationship between you and the Fund • Facilitate the transfer of funds, and administering and facilitating any other transaction, between you and the Fund

Why	How
Compliance with law	It is necessary for compliance with an applicable legal or regulatory obligation to which we are subject, in order to: • Undertake our client and investor due diligence, and on-boarding checks • Carry out verification, "know your client," terrorist financing, sanctions, and anti-money laundering checks • Verify the identity and addresses of our investors (and, if applicable, their beneficial owners) • Comply with requests from regulatory, governmental, tax and law enforcement authorities • Carry out surveillance and investigations • Carry out audit checks • Maintain statutory registers • Prevent and detect fraud • Comply with sanctions requirements

Why	How
Legitimate Interests	For our legitimate interests or those of a third party (such as a transaction counterparty or lender) to: • Manage and administer your holding in any Funds in which you are invested, and any related accounts on an ongoing basis • Assess and process any applications or requests made by you • Open, maintain or close accounts in connection with your investment in, or withdrawal from, the Fund scheme • Send updates, information and notices or otherwise correspond with you in connection with your investment in the Fund scheme • Address or investigate any complaints, claims, proceedings or disputes • Provide you with, and inform you about, our investment products and services • Monitor and improve our relationships with investors • Comply with applicable prudential and regulatory obligations, including anti-money laundering, sanctions and "know your client" checks • Assist our transaction counterparties to comply with their regulatory and legal obligations (including anti-money laundering, "know your client", terrorist financing, and sanctions checks) • Manage our risk and operations • Comply with our accounting and tax-reporting requirements • Comply with our audit requirements • Assist with internal compliance with our policies and processes • Ensure appropriate group management and governance • Keep our internal records • Prepare reports on incidents/accidents • Protect our business against fraud, breach of confidence, theft of proprietary materials, and other financial or business crimes (to the extent that this is not required of us by law) • Analyze and manage commercial risks • Seek professional advice, including legal advice • Enable any actual or proposed assignee or transferee, participant or sub-participant of the partnership's or Fund vehicles' rights or obligations to evaluate proposed transactions • Facilitate business asset transactions involving the Fund partnership or Fund-related vehicles • Monitor communications to/from us using our systems • Protect the security and integrity of our information technology systems • Protect the security and safety of our buildings and locations where we operate • Operate, run and schedule online meetings, webinars and conferences (for example, using Zoom and other online meeting platforms) • Manage our financing arrangements with our financiers and financing transaction counterparties, including payment providers, intermediaries, and correspondent/ agent banks • Monitor the operation of Fund distribution platforms, where these are operated by third parties or service providers We only rely on these interests where we have considered that, on balance, the legitimate interests are not overridden by your interests, fundamental rights or freedoms.

Monitoring as described in 'Legitimate Interests' above

We monitor communications where the law requires us to do so. We will also monitor where we are required to do so to comply with regulatory rules and practices and, where we are permitted to do so, to protect our business and the security of our systems.

Who we share your personal data With

We may share your Personal Data as follows:

Who	Why
Fund Associates	We share your Personal Data with our associates, related parties and members of our group. This is: • To manage our relationship with you • For the legitimate interests of a third party in carrying out anti-money laundering, 'know your client', and other compliance checks required of them under applicable laws and regulations • For the purposes set out in this Data Privacy Notice
Fund Managers, Depositories, Administrators, Custodians, Distributors, Investment Advisers	• Delivering the services you require • Managing your investment • Supporting and administering investment-related activities • Complying with applicable investment, anti-money laundering and other laws and regulations

Service Providers	• Delivering and facilitating the services needed to support our business relationship with you (including cloud services) • Supporting and administering investment-related activities • Where disclosure to the service provider is considered necessary to support Blackstone with the purposes described in section 5 of this Data Privacy Notice
Financing Counterparties, Lenders, Correspondent and Agent Banks	• Assisting these transaction counterparties with regulatory checks, such as 'know your client', and anti-money laundering procedures • Sourcing credit for Fund-related entities in the course of our transactions and fund life cycles
Our Lawyers, Auditors and other Professional Advisers	• Providing you with investment-related services • To comply with applicable legal and regulatory requirements • Supporting Blackstone with the purposes described in section 5 of this Data Privacy Notice

In exceptional circumstances, we will share your Personal Data with:

- Competent regulatory, prosecuting and other governmental agencies or litigation counterparties, in a country or territory; and
- Other organizations and agencies – where we are required to do so by law.

Do you have to provide us with this personal data?

Where we collect Personal Data from you, we will indicate if:

- Provision of the Personal Data is necessary for our compliance with a legal obligation; or
- It is purely voluntary and there are no implications for you if you do not wish to provide us with it.

Unless otherwise indicated, you should assume that we require the Personal Data for business and/or compliance purposes.

Some of the Personal Data that we request is necessary for us to perform our contract with you and if you do not wish to provide us with this Personal Data, it will affect our ability to provide our services to you and manage your investment.

Sending your personal data internationally

We may transfer your Personal Data between different countries to recipients in countries other than the country in which the information was originally collected (including to our affiliates and group members, members of the Fund's partnership, transaction counterparties, and third-party service providers). Where you are based in the UK, the EU, or another country which imposes data transfer restrictions outside of its territory, this includes transfers outside of the UK and the European Economic Area ("EEA") or that geographical area, to those countries in which our affiliates, group members, service providers and business partners operate. Those countries may not have the same data protection laws as the country in which you initially provided the information.

Where we transfer Personal Data outside of the UK, the EEA, or other territories subject to data transfer restrictions to other members of our group, our service providers or another third party recipient, we will ensure that our arrangements with them are governed by data transfer agreements or appropriate safeguards, designed to ensure that your Personal Data is protected as required under applicable data protection law (including, where appropriate, under an agreement on terms approved for this purpose by the European Commission or by obtaining your consent).

Please contact us if you would like to know more about these agreements or receive a copy of them. Please see the 'Contact Us' section for details.

Consent – and your right to withdraw it

Except as may otherwise be required by local law, we do not generally rely on obtaining your consent to process your Personal Data. In particular, we do not generally rely on obtaining your consent where our processing of your Personal Data is subject only to the data protection laws of the UK/EEA (in these circumstances we will usually rely on another legal basis more appropriate in the circumstances, including those set out in "Why do we process your Personal Data?" above). If we do rely on consent for processing of your Personal Data, you have the right to withdraw this consent at any time. Please contact us or send us an e-mail at PrivacyQueries@Blackstone.com at any time if you wish to do so.

Where required by applicable law, we will obtain your consent for the processing of your Personal Data for direct marketing purposes. If you do receive direct marketing communications from us (for example, by post, e-mail, fax or telephone), you may opt-out by clicking the link in the relevant communication, completing the forms provided to you (where relevant), or by contacting us (see the 'Contact Us' section for details).

Retention and deletion of your personal data

We keep your Personal Data for as long as it is required by us for our legitimate business purposes, to perform our contractual obligations or, where longer, such longer period as is required or permitted by law or regulatory obligations which apply to us. We will generally:

- Retain Personal Data about you throughout the life cycle of any investment you are involved in; and
- Retain some Personal Data after your relationship with us ends.

As a general principle, we do not retain your Personal Data for longer than we need it.

We will usually delete your Personal Data (at the latest) after you cease to be an investor in any fund and there is no longer any legal / regulatory requirement, or business purpose, for retaining your Personal Data.

Your rights

You may, subject to certain limitations, have data protection rights depending on the data protection laws that apply to our processing of your Personal Data, including the right to:

- Access your Personal Data
- Restrict the use of your Personal Data in certain circumstances
- Have incomplete or inaccurate Personal Data corrected
- Ask us to stop processing your Personal Data
- Require us to delete your Personal Data in some limited circumstances

You also have the right in some circumstances to request us to "port" your Personal Data in a portable, re-usable format to other organizations (where this is possible).

We review and verify requests to protect your Personal Data, and will action data protection requests fairly and in accordance with applicable data protection laws and principles.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights, please see the 'Contact Us' section for details.

Concerns or queries

We take your concerns very seriously. We encourage you to bring to our attention any concerns you have about our processing of your Personal Data. This Data Privacy Notice was drafted with simplicity and clarity in mind. We are, of course, happy to provide any further information or explanation needed. Please see the 'Contact Us' section for details.

Please also contact us via any of the contact methods listed below if you have a disability and require an alternative format of this Data Privacy Notice.
